Labour Conditions In Peterborough Satisfactory

Ald. W. J. Johnston Presents a Favourable Report on Conditions in This City During Month Of September

ALL TRADES ARE BUSY

Labour conditions in Peterborough during September are described by the local correspondent to the Labour Gazette, Ald. W J Johnston, as follows: "Labour during September was well employed, especially toward the latter part of the month. Outside work is being rapidly completed before cold weather sets in. Some work has been laid over until next spring on account of the lateness of the season. A $12,000 surgical ward was being added to St. Joseph's Hospital. A large bakery was under way, and the staff of bakers will be increased to meet increasing trade. A large force of men was employed repairing the Auburn dam. The Sand and Lime Brick Company was very busy. It received an order for 1,000,000 brick to be used in the construction of the new armouries. A contract for the large power house dam at Campbellford, Ont., to cost about $60,000, was secured by a Peterborough firm. Extensive repairs were being made to the spur line bridge on the Canadian Pacific Railway line, and a large number of men were employed. The Machine Telephone Company was installing its plant in Lindsay; 16 carloads of poles had arrived, and a large staff of men were employed. Large shipments of merchandise for the fall trade were made. Wholesale and retail trade was good. The labour market was free from unrest. The harvesting of wild rice by the Indians at Rice Lake was under way; a good crop was reported. A contract for section five, of the canal at Campbellford has been awarded and the work started. The amount of the contract was $600,000 for a three-mile section, and with two years in which to complete it. The nine oldest street railway employees have received an increase of one cent per hour. After having served three years for the company, wages will in future be 17 cents per hour. A horseshoe, called the Diamond calk horseshoe, has been patened by Mr. G. H. P. Kennedy, of Peterborough. A company has been formed with a capital of $100,000 to manufacture the shoe and place it on the market.

Steamboats were busy towing 100 tons of stone from Stony Lake, to be used in the construction of the new Catholic church, also freighting 700 cords of wood from the north country. Six miles of new gas mains have been laid this year. The gas company has sold 250 new stoves. Postal delivery started in Peterborough on September 28. This will give employment to seven men, the city having been divided into seven districts. Parker's large laundry works were badly damaged by fire; loss $5,000. The work of reconstruction had begun.

Condition of Local Industries

Agriculture.—The farmers were very busy harvesting, threshing and preparing for all ploughing. The Lindsay cheese board sold 1,263 boxes at 12 1-16 cents per pound, and earlier in the month sold 1,390 boxes at 11 1-2 cents per pound. New hay was selling at $16 to $17 per ton. The Peterborough cheese board sold 4,612 boxes at 12 3-16 cents per pound.

Lumbering.— Lumbering operations had begun in the camps and large numbers of men were employed. The Peterborough Lumber Company received 4,000,000 feet of logs. They made 8,000,000 feet altogether that the company brought to its mills this season. The saw mills were very busy.

Manufacturing.—The Quaker Oats Company was very busy, having added new equipment to handle its growing trade. The G. W. Green foundry works have been very busy, as have also the J. J. Turner Company, the different canoe factories, the carpet works, the cordage factory, the cereal factory, the flour mills and other industries.

Railway Construction.—The Grand Trunk Railway Company has completed a siding, 2,400 feet in length, between Peterborough and Omemee, to facilitate work on the heavy grades at that place. Section labour and other repair work were being carried on on the different railway lines in the district.

Condition of Particular Trades

Building.—Bricklayers, masons, lathers, plasterers, gas and steamfitters and builders' labourers were active. The remaining branches were busy.

Unskilled Labour.—Active conditions prvailed.

District Notes

Oshawa.—The McLaughlin carriage and automobile factory was completed. This is a new industry and will employ additional men.

Lakefield.—The cement works were very busy.

PROMINENT CANADIANS

J. J. KENNY

J. J. Kenny was born in London, England, in 1846. His parents removed to Canada when he was but a youth, and he was educated at Hamilton, Ontario, and began his insurance career as a clerk in a local agency in that city. Subsequently he was employed in the office of the Canada Life Assurance Company, and after two years' service there joined the staff of the Western. He filled successively the positions of inspector, secretary and managing director, to which latter office he was appointed in 1889, and vice-president, to which he was elected in 1895. In 1892 he was also elected vice-president and managing director of the British American Assurance Company, and he has had the general management of the two companies, which do a practically world wide fire and marine insurance business, up to the close of last year, when he withdrew from active work. Mr. Kenny contemplates removing shortly to California, and will assume the management of the Pacific Coast branch of the Western and British America Assurance Companies, which is to be established, with headquarters at San Francisco.

WEDDING BELLS

THORNBURG-BACON

A Pasadena, (Cal.,) paper of recent date has the following report of the wedding of a former Peterborough lady, and daughter of Mr. Wm. Bacon, a well known resident of Peterborough:—

The most important social affair of yesterday was the wedding of Miss Lillian Bacon and Dr. Frank Thornburg, which took place last evening at the Lake Avenue Methodist church.

The church had been beautifully decorated for the happy occasion by the J. O. C. girls of the church, of which the bride was a member. Two large arches had been made of date palm branches and under one of these the bridal party stood during the ceremony. A large white wedding bell was suspended from the centre of the arch. White marguerites were used in the arches and the effect was most charming. The choir rail was entirely covered by graceful branches of pink ivy geraniums and roses.

Promptly at 8.30 o'clock the sweet notes of Lohengrin's wedding march sounded through the church and the bridal party entered. The two clergymen, the Rev. Mr. Thornburg, the father of the groom, and Rev. W. Hunter Brink, the pastor of the Lake avenue Methodist church, the groom and his best man, Mr. Joseph Thornburg, his brother, took their place under the arch. Then from the front door came the maid of honour, Miss Anna Bacon, a sister of the bride, who wore a dainty gown of sheer white Persian lawn elaborately trimmed with filmy lace, and she carried a shower bouquet of pale pink primroses and white rose buds, with maidenhair ferns. Following her were the two pretty little flower girls, little Miss Edith Bacon, a niece of the bride, and Miss Jean McCallum. The little girls both wore white dresses and carried flower baskets, the handles of which were tied with white tulle and they were filled with Shasta daisies. Then came the bride alone. Her gown was a lovely one of white India silk, made with a small train, and trimmed with wide tucks and folds. She wore a tulle veil fastened in her dark hair with a wreath of orange blossoms. She carried a beautiful bouquet of lillies of the valley and maidenhair ferns.

The ushers were Messrs. Ross Sneddical, Clark Phillips, Harry Vail, and Wilbur Smith. A pretty feature of the wedding which was a surprise even to the bridal party, was the aisle formed by the boys of Dr. Thornburg's Sunday School class of the Lincoln avenue Methodist church as the bridal party marched out to Mendelssohn's wedding march.

Following the ceremony a reception was given at the home of the bride's parents on North Lake avenue, to which only the relatives and intimate friends were invited. The house was prettily decorated in Shasta daisies, roses and many handsome ferns. A buffet supper was served, and the bride and groom received the congratulations of their friends. Mr. Joseph Thornburg, who possesses a fine tenor voice, sang "O Promise Me," and the Misses Mabel and Lulu Thornburg, sisters of the groom, sung "O That We Two Were Maying."

The couple left for their wedding trip amid a shower of rice. The bride's going away gown was a handsome one of navy blue voile and she wore a becoming hat to match. They will go to Lake Tahoe and visit other northern places of interest. They will stop off at Berkeley where Miss Lulu Thornburg is taking a post-graduate course at the University.

Many handsome presents were received. The bride and groom are both extremely popular, and are well known in social and church circles. Dr. Thornburg is a well known dentist of the city. On their return Mr. and Mrs. Thornburg will be at home at No. 893 North Orange Grove avenue.

Excelsior Fruit Cleaner Company Receives Inquiries From Firms in Australia and New South Wales

Two inquiries from Australasia from circulars sent out by the Excelsior Fruit Cleaning Company, was reported by Mr. F. J. Jameson today to the Examiner. In July last he sent out a number of circulars to fruit dealers in all parts of the British Empire and the United States, and to-day's mail brought a reply from J. Ireland, Limited, of Newcastle, New South Wales and another from James Long & Co., Ballarat, Australia, both of them of a favourable nature, and it is possible that a considerable trade will be developed in fruit cleaners to the antipodes.

BEER* IS A FOOD

LAGER is a mild appetising product of malt and hops, with less alcohol than sweet cider, which cannot ferment in the stomach. It is specially suited to women as a dinner drink.

ALES as brewed in Ontario are so rich in the food elements of malt that they rank above milk as an item of diet, and are far purer than most milk is when city-dwellers get it.

PORTER differs from ale in that the malt is roasted (like coffee) in the brewing process, and this makes porter so nourishing that it is a real specific for anæmic and run-down people.

STOUT is the richest and most strengthening of malt beers; it contains nearly as much nourishment as eggs, and digests easier. Thin people will find it builds healthy flesh.

BEER*, used with meals and before bedtime, increases digestive power, gets you more good out of the food you eat—and is itself a food.

¶ Beer does not contain enough alcohol to react upon the system — just enough to induce the stomach to do its work better.

¶ Beer is not an intoxicant—it is a beverage with definite value for almost every grown person.

¶ Ask your own doctor whether it wouldn't be good for you and the adults of your household.

*BEER is a term which covers lager, ales, porter, and stout; and in the practice of Ontario brewers, implies beverages brewed under most hygienic conditions from Ontario barley (best in the world) malt, hops, and pure water.

A Thanksgiving ...of the... Ninety and Nine

By HEZEKIAH BUTTERWORTH

Copyright, 1901, by Hezekiah Butterworth

THE house was colonial and stood high on the windy hill. I have ridden past it at night when the dark savins lifted their conical forms on the hillside by the decrepit orchards and the clouds scudded over the moon. It had two chimneys that seemed to stand against the sky, and I saw it once at night when one of those chimneys was on fire, which caused my simple heart to beat fast in those uneventful days. I had heard my grandfather say that the minutemen stopped there on their march from Worcester to Bunker Hill and were fed with bread from out of the great brick oven.

My grandfather told me another thing which greatly awakened my curiosity. When the minutemen stopped there on their march to meet the "regulars" they were in need of lead for bullets. They carried with them molds in which to make bullets, but they could not obtain the lead.

The good woman of the house was named Overfield, Farmer Overfield's wife. She was called Mis' Overfield. She had one daughter, a lithe, diminutive, beautiful girl with large blue eyes and lips winsome and red, of such singular beauty that one's eyes could hardly be diverted from following her. She was the "prettiest girl in all the country around," people used to say. And she was as good as she was pretty.

Her name was Annie—"sweet Annie Overfield" some people named her.

When she saw that the minutemen were perplexed about lead she approached the captain and said:

"Captain, I could tell you where there is lead if I had a mind to. But what would father say if I should?"

Annie's father came stalking in, in a blue blouse, a New England guard, ready for any duty.

"Father, I know where there is lead. May I tell?"

"Yes, girl, and the men shall have it wherever it be. Where is it, Annie? I have no lead, else I would have given it up at once."

"In the clock weights, father."

"Stop the clock!" cried the father. "Oh, Annie, 'tis a marvel you are!"

The old clock, with an oak frame, stood in the corner of the "living room," whose doors faced the parlor and the kitchen. It had stood there for a generation. It was some eight feet high and three broad in its upper part and two in its lower. It had a brass ornament on the top, and it ticked so loud as to be heard in the upper rooms at night. On its face were figures of the sun and moon. Annie's hand had for several years wound the clock.

The great clock was stopped, the heavy weights were removed, and the minutemen carried them to the forge of Baldwin, the blacksmith, where they were speedily melted and poured into the molds.

* * * * * * *

The clock cleaner came to the house on the hill. It was in the fall. He said:

"I cannot regulate the clock now, but I will be around again another year."

He went to Monmouth with the army. He was gone three years. When he came back the sylphlike Annie was gone—where none knew. She had been gone two years.

Why had she gone? It was the old tale. A common sailor from the provinces came to work one summer on the farm. He received his pay in the fall and disappeared, and the day after he went Annie went too.

She had spent her evenings with the sailor after the mowing days by the grindstone under the great maple trees. He had sung to her English sailor songs and told her stories of the Spanish main and of his cottage at St. John's. He was a homely man, but merry hearted, and Annie had listened to him as to one enchanted.

She had said to her mother one day:

"Malone"—the sailor's name—"has a good heart. I find my own in it. I wish we could give him a better chance in life."

"He is an adventurer, thrown upon the world like a hulk of driftwood, hither and thither," said her mother.

"I pity him. His heart deserves better friends than he has found. I want to be his friend. Why may I not?"

"If you were ever to marry a common sailor, Annie, I would strew salt on your grave. I married a common man, but he has been good to me. I have no respect whatever for those who marry beneath them and shame their own names."

The girl turned away and went out to the timothy meadows, where the work people were, and sat down amid the mosses under the wayside trees. It was a fiery day. Her father came to the shade of the trees and sat down.

"Annie," he said, "you have been crying."

"Father, I have something to say to you. Do you object to my being partial to Malone? He is an honest man."

"No, Annie. But your mother—she would take your head off. I am willing to see young people choose their own and make their own way in the world. Such are the happiest. Malone likes you, Annie. I can see that. He is of an honest family. His father was a sea captain. But if your mother were to find it out heaven pity you both."

"I could never live without you, father. My heart would ever return to you. I love you as my life, but I love Malone. We would be true to you. I shall always be Annie."

"Oh, Annie, has it gone that far? I am sorry for you. But I will always be true to you, Annie—always, whatever may come, because you are Annie."

Malone came into the shadow of the trees, a noble looking sailor, full of lusty life. His coming frightened a robin from her nest, and he moved away from the home bough of the quivering mother bird. It was a little thing, but it touched Annie's heart.

The time of decision came. He went away, and one day the question was asked:

"What has become of Annie?"

There was a sudden alarm, then a terror of suspense in the simple home.

They searched for her. They found that she had gone with the sailor. She had been seen on a ship at Castle William with him.

Her father said, "I knew it would be so," and added, "My old heart has lost interest in the ninety and nine."

When Mis' Overfield read the whole history her heart turned into stone and she said:

"Even though it be Annie, heart of my heart, life of my life, as she once was, I will never forgive her—never!"

"Pshaw, woman!" said Farmer Overfield. "I would. I would like to have her back now. A father forgives a girl, whatever she may do, and the mother a boy. You would forgive our son Albert if he were to marry a gypsy girl."

"Yes, but I will never forgive her. Let us never mention her name."

Such was the condition of the family when the old clock cleaner returned from the war.

He heard the story and said:

"I can hardly trust my ears. Annie was such a good girl! But the heart must wed its own. I pity her. She will come back again, for Annie is Annie."

Then he turned to the clock and said:

"Now I'm going to examine it again and see what I can do. I will try to see it going till Annie comes back."

"I shall never take any interest in such things any more," said Mis' Overfield. "It is all the same to me whether the clock goes or stands still or whether life goes or stands still, for that matter. I loved Annie, and that is what makes it so hard. She used to watch over me when I was sick, oh, so faithfully, but I shall never feel the touch of her hand again, Annie's hand. I would weep, but I have no tears to shed. Life is all a blank since this came upon me. The burying lot, as it looks to me, is the pleasantest place of earth. I look out of the pantry window sometimes and say, 'Annie, come back.' Then I shut my heart. Oh, that this should come to me!"

She seemed listening.

"How I used to wait for Annie evenings—conference meeting and candle light meeting nights and singing school evenings! How my heart used to beat hard when she lifted the latch of the porch door in the night! I was happy then. She came home like an angel then. I wonder if Annie's hand will ever again lift the latch in the night. Trouble brings the heart home and sends us back to God. But I wouldn't speak to her—lud, no, no, no!"

THE MINUTEMEN STOPPED THERE.

The tenderness went out of her face, and a strange, foreign light came into her blue gray eyes. Farmer Overfield came in.

"Thinking?" said he.

"I was thinking of how Annie used to lift the latch evenings. I wish it could be so again. But it can't."

"Why not? There can be no true Thanksgiving in any household where it is forbidden to any to lift the latch."

* * * * * * *

It was a changing day, half spring, half winter, of many kinds of weather, when the clock cleaner proposed to take to pieces the clock. He approached the great clock case before breakfast on that day and tried to open the door. He found it locked. He made inquiry for the key.

"Albert must have it," said Mis' Overfield. "He will be back from town in the course of the forenoon. He's gone to market with quinces."

The clock cleaner tanned on the case of the clock, and a queer look came into his face.

"It sounds hollow," said he, "as hollow as an empty chest. None of the family has been meddling with it, I hope. Hear that?"

He struck the bulging part of the great case.

"There don't seem to be any works in there."

He struck the case again and dropped his hand and was silent.

Toward noon Albert returned. The clock cleaner went out to meet him as the team drove into the yard.

"Here," said he, "I have been waiting for you for hours. I cannot find the key to the clock."

The young man turned red and shook the reins nervously.

"Clean the other clock first," said he, "and we will regulate the old one after the folks have gone to bed. There are times when one needs a friend. That is my case now. Trust me now, and I will tell you more tonight when the house is still."

"I heard you."

The voice seemed to come out of the air. The words were spoken by a bent little woman gathering sticks.

"There are times when that clock turns human. I've seen it—my rheumatism all left me then—I flew and landed on my bed in my chamber. There are some things no mortal can stand—snakes and haunts and things. If you are going to clean that clock tonight after the people go to bed I'll go to bed early and shut my eyes under the bedclothes, for there are times when that clock comes to life."

The woman's familiar name was Liddy—"Little Liddy" she was called—a doer of all work. She filled her apron with chips and gave a curious glance at the clock cleaner, who was standing where he had met Albert after the latter had gone to the barn.

"Saints and sinners!" said she. "If you don't see sights tonight to make your hair come off before morning, then Little Liddy is no prophet. Mum is the word. I have never told Mis' Overfield what I have seen—sights that might scare the dead. Some folks think that Liddy doesn't sense things right, and I guess they are not much mistaken."

They smiled at the way she had used the words, when Albert turned to the clock cleaner.

"She is superstitious," said he. He lifted his finger and continued:

"But the clock is hollow. I made it so and keep it so. Don't ask me anything more about it now. I will tell you when you come around next year."

The little old woman approached the clock cleaner.

"See here," said she, "what I have got to tell you. Don't I look peaked? Well, I have good reason for it. Now I am going to give you my candid opinion. I saw a soldier one night. He was dead. He was taking the insides out of that clock. Why was he dead? Because, as I put things together, he was one of those regulars that were shot from the bullets made out of the old lead weights. I can see double.

"And now," she continued, "they are going to have all the folks come home on Thanksgiving evening—all but Annie—and it is my opinion that she has as good a right to come as any, for she was the best heart of all the family. She ran away and married a sailor boy. Well, her mother married Farmer Overfield against her folks. Annie only did what she inherited. But, my eyes, I wouldn't set the table in the room where the clock is. That's where they generally do set the table on Thanksgiving days. They haven't had any Thanksgiving for the last two years. And I do think that the old clock would fall right over on its face for shame and grief to see the people all sit down to eat and Annie not there. What has anybody to be thankful for whose heart is as hard as stone? That's Mis' Overfield's heart now."

The clock cleaner fixed the other clock and regulated it, wondering. He left the place in the afternoon, saying:

"The old clock is locked, and a storm is coming on. I will clean that another year."

"Why don't you do it now and not go away in the storm?" asked Mis' Overfield.

"I will be able to tell you more about the matter when I come again," said the clock cleaner doubtfully.

He pounded the case again.

"It does sound hollow," said Mis' Overfield. "Annie used to wind that clock, and I never meddled with anything that was any part of her belongings. She is dead to me, and my heart is not what it used to be. My confidence in everything is gone. I loved her too much, more than is allowed. But how she used to care for me when I was sick! I sometimes wish I could feel the touch of Annie's hand again—that is, when my heart turns soft—just once more. It may be when I die. But I will never forgive her. If she were to walk in now I would not so much as turn my head. I have two hearts."

The clock cleaner went out and hastened toward the turnpike, over which a stagecoach between Boston and Worcester still ran. As he reached the corners he looked back to the chimneys and said:

"There is some secret about that house that lies deep in the heart of Albert, and the clock is a part of the secret. The works of that timepiece are some—why I cannot tell. He may have sold them for relics. The weights that ran them were melted into bullets, and it may be, if such things are, that some one whose life they ended haunts the old oak case. I could see that Albert felt deeply about something."

He wondered what Albert would have to tell him when a year should bring him around again.

Mis' Overfield liked to look out of the pantry window. She would stand before the window for hours looking up the hill.

When she was suddenly spoken to she would say: "It looks pleasant up there if any place could appear so to me. I sometimes wish that Annie would come back again. But I wouldn't speak to her. There are no uncovenanted mercies in my creed of life. One must harden one's heart against disobedience and 'stand up with the pillars of the universe,' as Deacon Diggs used to say. But it is sometimes hard to be hard. Heaven forgive me!"

ON ITS FACE WERE FIGURES OF THE SUN AND MOON.

Thanksgiving day came. She watched her "folks" as the families came riding down the hill. She seemed to be at work in view of the pantry window, but she was watching, watching.

She turned into the keeping room to receive one by one the folks as they came, but she went back again.

Near 11 o'clock she said to Little Liddy, "Have they all come, Liddy?"

"No, mum; not all."

"Who is there to come?"

"Annie, mum."

"She's dead—dead here. I sometimes wish she would come, Liddy. But I wouldn't speak to her if she were to come—that common sailor's wife! I wouldn't, would you, Liddy?"

"Yes, mum."

"You would? Tell me why now."

"Because she is Annie. You would too."

Mis' Overfield gave a great sob and threw her apron over her head and said in a muffled voice:

"What made you say that, Liddy?"

"There may come a day when Annie cannot come back. The earth binds fast—the grave does. Think what you might have to reflect upon."

"I, Liddy—I?"

"Yes. And there are more folks in some old houses than one can see always. They come back. There's been a dead soldier here already. I saw him. And last night I heard the latch of the back door lift up three times."

"Oh, Liddy! Nothing can ever harm us if we do just right. It was Annie that went wrong, not I. What do you suppose made the latch lift up? Liddy, you go straight to your duties and never answer your mistress back again, not on Thanksgiving day nor on any other day."

The rooms filled. Brothers and sisters, nephews and nieces, came, and some of the guests offered to help the women folks about the house.

The hand of the brass clock was moving around toward 12. A savory odor filled the room. Little Liddy flitted to and fro, handling hot dishes briskly so as not to get "scalded."

There was a jingle in the new brass clock. Then it struck, and the farmer raised his hand, and everybody stood still.

Twelve!

"Now, if you will all be seated at the tables," said Farmer Overfield, "I will supplicate a blessing."

He did. Prayer has a long journey around the world on Thanksgiving day. He arrived at last at "all who have gone astray, but that are still a part of the visible creation"—his mind wavered here—"grant 'em all repentance and make us charitable," he said in lower voice.

There was a sound in the corner of the room. The clock case quivered. Farmer Overfield became nervous in this part of his long prayer, opened his eyes and said:

"Oh! I thought I heard something somewhere. Where was I? Liddy, she says that she heard the latch lift in the night. I didn't know"—

Just here there was a crash of dishes. Little Liddy had seen the clock case shake, which caused her to lose nerve power just as she was very carefully moving some dishes.

"Accidents will happen," said Farmer Overfield. "Now all fall to and help yourselves. It seems like old times to find all the family here again just as it used to be—all except Annie, Annie, Annie. Her name has not been spoken today. I shall keep this plate and seat for her here close by my side. Annie's heart is true to me still. I seem to feel that. I wish she was here today. The true note of Thanksgiving is lacking in a broken family. There can be no true Thanksgiving where there is an empty

WHO SHE WAS

SKETCH OF THE LIFE OF LYDIA E. PINKHAM

And a True Story of How the Vegetable Compound Had Its Birth and How the "Panic of '73" Caused it to be Offered for Public Sale in Drug Stores.

This remarkable woman, whose maiden name was Estes, was born in Lynn, Mass., February 9th, 1819, coming from a good old Quaker family. For some years she taught school, and became known as a woman of an alert and investigating mind, an earnest seeker after knowledge, and above all, possessed of a wonderfully sympathetic nature.

In 1843 she married Isaac Pinkham, a builder and real estate operator, and their early married life was marked by prosperity and happiness. They had four children, three sons and a daughter.

In those good old fashioned days it was common for mothers to make their own home medicines from roots and herbs, nature's own remedies—calling in a physician only in specially urgent cases. By tradition and experience many of them gained a wonderful knowledge of the curative properties of the various roots and herbs.

Mrs. Pinkham took a great interest in the study of roots and herbs, their characteristics and power over disease. She maintained that just as nature so bountifully provides in the harvest-fields and orchards vegetable foods of all kinds; so, if we but take the pains to find them, in the roots and herbs of the field there are remedies expressly designed to cure the various ills and weaknesses of the body, and it was her pleasure to search these out, and prepare simple and effective medicines for her own family and friends.

Chief of these was a rare combination of the choicest medicinal roots and herbs found best adapted for the cure of the ills and weaknesses peculiar to the female sex, and Lydia E. Pinkham's friends and neighbors learned that her compound relieved and cured and it became quite popular among them.

All this so far was done freely, without money and without price as a labor of love.

But in 1873 the financial crisis struck Lynn. Its length and severity were too much for the large real estate interests of the Pinkham family, as this class of business suffered most from fearful depression, so when the Centennial year dawned it found their property swept away. Some other source of income had to be found.

At this point Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was made known to the world.

The three sons and the daughter, with their mother, combined forces to restore the family fortune. They argued that the medicine which was so good for their woman friends and neighbors was equally good for the women of the whole world.

The Pinkhams had no money, and little credit. Their first laboratory was the kitchen, where roots and herbs were steeped on the stove, gradually filling a gross of bottles. Then came the question of selling it, for always before they had given it away freely. They hired a job printer to run off some pamphlets setting forth the merits of the medicine, now called Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and these were distributed by the Pinkham sons in Boston, New York, and Brooklyn.

The wonderful curative properties of the medicine were, to a great extent, self-advertising, for whoever used it recommended it to others, and the demand gradually increased.

In 1877, by combined efforts the family had saved enough money to commence newspaper advertising and from that time the growth and success of the enterprise were assured, until to-day Lydia E. Pinkham and her Vegetable Compound have become household words everywhere, and many tons of roots and herbs are used annually in its manufacture.

Lydia E. Pinkham herself did not live to see the great success of this work. She passed to her reward years ago, but not till she had provided means for continuing her work as effectively as she could have done it herself.

During her long and eventful experience she was ever methodical in her work and she was always careful to preserve a record of every case that came to her attention. The case of every sick woman who applied to her for advice—and there were thousands—received careful study and the details, including symptoms, treatment and results were recorded for future reference, and to-day these records, together with hundreds of thousands made since, are available to sick women the world over, and represent a vast collaboration of information regarding the treatment of woman's ills, which for authenticity and accuracy can hardly be equaled in any library in the world.

With Lydia E. Pinkham worked her daughter-in-law, the present Mrs. Pinkham. She was carefully instructed in all her hard-won knowledge, and for years she assisted her in her vast correspondence.

To her hands naturally fell the direction of the work when its originator passed away. For nearly twenty-five years she has continued it, and nothing in the work shows when the first Lydia E. Pinkham dropped her pen, and the present Mrs. Pinkham, now the mother of a large family, took it up. With woman assistants, some as capable as herself, the present Mrs. Pinkham continues this great work, and probably from the office of no other person have so many women been advised how to regain health. Sick women, this advice is "Yours for Health" freely given if you only write to ask for it.

Such is the history of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound: made from simple roots and herbs; the one great medicine for women's ailments, and the fitting monument to the noble woman whose name it bears.

Ottawa, Ont.—Slavery is not dead. Daily, the traffic in human souls goes on. Only a short time ago, a number of Chinese were arrested as they attempted to smuggle young girls from Canada into the United States. In Eastern countries, the slave trader plies his vocation in the market place. Some go into another kind of slavery—unknowingly—yet make a valiant effort to escape. Ottawa is all agog over the wonderful escape of one of her charming matrons from that physical slavery, Rheumatism. Mrs. R. C. Small says, "I was a constant sufferer from rheumatism for over seven years. I used many treatments—consulted doctors—tried hot baths—used almost every known mineral water—but nothing did me any real good. The pains were in my joints and back, and I had frequent headaches and bad indigestion. About a year ago, I saw 'Fruit-a-tives' advertised and decided to try them. After I had taken two boxes, I was much better. Altogether I took seven boxes. I have had no rheumatism for over six months now and feel that I am quite cured. I have gained over ten pounds in weight."

chair that might be filled. I shall always take Annie's part."

He stood, knife and fork in hand, the tears running down his face.

There was a little shriek in the door leading to the pantry.

"I saw something," said Liddy, with shuttling eyes.

"What did you see, Liddy?"

"The sun and moon moving."

"Massy! Where, Liddy?"

"On the face of the clock. Something is in there. That clock comes to life sometimes," she added, going out.

All eyes were turned toward the clock. Knives, forks and spoons were laid down, clicking on the many dishes.

The top of the clock, which was uncovered, seemed animated. Some said that they could see it move, others that the supposed movement was merely a matter of imagination.

Liddy came into the room again with more dishes.

"I think," said she, "that the clock case is haunted."

"Pshaw, Liddy!" said the farmer. "And what makes you say that? Who is it that would haunt that old eight day clock?"

"One of the Britishers who was shot by a bullet made from the lead weights. That's my way of thinking. I've known about it for a long time."

"Liddy, you're a little bit off—touched in mind—that's what you are, Liddy. You never was quite all there."

The dinner went on, but amid a nervous atmosphere. Farmer Overfield felt the disquiet and said to one of the guests:

"Cousin Lucy, you are waiting for a place at the table. I would give you Annie's if I could, but my heart won't let me do that. She might come back. Sit down there at Annie's melodeon and sing a little song. 'Do They Miss Me at Home?' That used to be one of her songs—heaven knows why. I love to hum that when I am cutting corn. I will get her to sing it to me if she should ever come back, and she will. Her heart is good in the main. And we must all put our arms around her for that reason."

There was a ripple of reed music.

The girl sang to an old time accompaniment on the simple instrument:

"When twilight approaches the season
That ever is sacred to song,
Does some one repeat my name over
And sigh that I tarry so long?
And is there a chord in the music
That's missed when my voice is away
And a chord in each heart that awaketh
Regret at my wearisome stay?

"Do they set me a chair near the table
When evening's home pleasures are nigh,
When the candles are lit in the parlor
And the stars in the calm, azure sky?
And when the 'good nights' are repeated
And all lay them down to their sleep,
Do they think of the absent and waft me
A whispered 'good night' while they weep?

"Do they miss me at home, do they miss me
At morning, at noon or at night,
And lingers one gloomy shade round them
That only my presence can light?
Are joys less invitingly welcome
And pleasures less hale than before
Because one is missed from the circle,
Because I am with them no more?"

Mis' Overfield's lips quivered.

"That is a proper tender song," said Farmer Overfield; "has feeling."

There arose another nervous shriek. Knives and forks dropped.

"What now, Liddy?" asked the farmer. "You set things all into agitation."

The house dog joined Liddy in the new excitement. He ran under the table and to the clock and began to paw the case and to bark. There was a very happy, lively tone in his bark.

"What did you see, Liddy?" asked Mis' Overfield.

"The planets turned. Look there now—now—there—there!"

The sun and moon on the clock face were indeed agitated. The old dog barked more joyously.

"The valley of Ajalon!" said the farmer. "That old timepiece is bewitched. These things are mighty peculiarsome. I'm not inclined to be superstitious. But what am I to think, the planets turning around in that way? They say dogs do see apparitions first and start up. What would Annie say if she were here now? You don't believe in signs, any of you, do you? I'm not superstitious, as I said, and I say it again. But what can be the matter with that there old clock case? I hope that nothing has happened to Annie. She used to wind that clock. What do you suppose is the matter?"

"Let me go and see," said Mis' Overfield.

"Mis' Overfield, be careful how you open that clock door," called Little Liddy.

"Why, Liddy, should I be afraid to open the clock door?"

"Suppose, Mis' Overfield—dare I say it—suppose you should find a dead body there?"

Mis' Overfield leaned on the back of a chair, and Liddy added in an awesome tone:

"A girl's—your own flesh and blood, Mis' Overfield."

The dog gave a quick, sharp bark.

Mis' Overfield stood trembling.

"Heaven forgive me!" she said. "My heart and Annie's are the same. We should be good to our own."

She shook. "If I only knew that Annie was alive I would forgive her everything. I would take her home to my bosom, her sailor husband and all. I never would have one hour of peace if she were to die. I never knew my heart before. Her cradle was hers, and here should be her last rest. Annie was a good girl, and I am blind and hard. Annie, Annie! Oh, I would not have anything befall Annie. Albert, where is the key of the clock?"

The boy gave his mother the key.

"Here, mother, and it is a jolly time we'll have."

"Albert, how can you smile at a time like this? Didn't you hear what she suggested? Don't you sense it? You go with me, now, slowly, for I am all nerves, and my heart is weak."

"That I will, mother."

He gave her his arm and looked back with smiling eyes on the terrified guests.

"Dast that boy, he knows!" cried Liddy in almost profane excitement.

"Be quiet, Liddy," said the farmer. "All be quiet now. We cannot tell what is before us. Be still. It seems as though I can hear the steps of Providence. Something awaits us. I can feel it in my bones."

The guests arose, and all stood silent.

Mis' Overfield stopped before the clock door.

"Annie's hand used to wind the clock," she said. "Oh, what would I give to hear her wind the clock once more! I would be willing to lie down and give up all to know that she was alive. Liddy's words do so chill me."

She knocked on the clock door.

"Mother!"

The guests stood with intent faces.

The clock shook again. The old woman moved back.

"That was Annie's voice. Husband, you go and see. If that is not Annie, then my heart is dead forever, and I hope there may be no hereafter for me."

Farmer Overfield took the keys and slowly opened the clock door.

The guests stood with motionless eyes. The opening door revealed at first a dress, then a hand. The old woman threw up her arms.

"That's Annie's hand. There is no ring on it. Annie was too poor to have a wedding ring. Open it slowly, husband. If she is not living I am dead."

The door was moved slowly by a trembling hand. A form appeared.

"That's Annie," said the old woman.

A face. The lips parted.

"Father, may I come out and sit beside you in the chair at the table?"

The dog whirled around with delight.

"Annie, my own Annie, life of my life, heart of my heart! Annie, how came you here?" exclaimed the farmer.

"I wished to see you, father, and all of my kin on this day and mother—poor mother"—

"Don't say that. I'm not worthy that you should say that, but my hard heart is gone," faltered Mis' Overfield.

"I got Albert to prepare the clock case so I could stand here and move the planets around so that I could see

"DO THEY MISS ME AT HOME—DO THEY MISS ME?"

you through the circles made for the planets. You can never know how I felt here. My heart ached to know if any one today would think of me, and when you talked of me my heart made the old case tremble."

"Annie, come here," said Farmer Overfield.

"But I was not invited, father. I did not intend to make myself known to any one but Albert. I have been here before in the disguise of a soldier."

"Why did you come in that way, Annie?" said Farmer Overfield.

"My heart had to come. This is my home. You will forgive me, mother?"

"Yes; we will forgive you, Annie," said her father. "Why, we couldn't have had any true Thanksgiving without you."

"And, mother, you will forgive him?"

"Is he good to you, Annie?"

"Good! Never was a true heart better to any woman on earth."

"Then I will forgive him, Annie. Now, husband, you say grace for us all—for the whole family—and when Annie comes again she may bring him with her."

The old man lifted his hands:

"Father of all, loving all, forgiving all, for all the family, for the one and the ninety and nine—for all, we praise thy name."

THE LIFELIKE BIRD.

An Amusing Toy That Can Easily Be Made at Home.

You have probably seen some of these well balanced birds in the toy shops. You can make one easily if you follow these directions: The drum is made of two circular pieces of cardboard (as large as the palm of a man's hand), which are joined by a narrow strip of paper passed around the rims. But before the strip is pasted a piece of wire is run through both the circular pieces of cardboard and a small ball of lead is swung from the wire between the two sections. Then the strip of paper is pasted around the rim of both circular pieces, and the ends of the wire extending over the paper are bent over the rim of each circular piece of paper and joined (see cut). A small bird cut from cardboard, which may be colored to make it more lifelike, is fastened to the top of the wire. (The bird, of course, must be lighter than the ball of lead inside of the drum.) When the drum is rolling over the table the little bird will bob and hop as if alive.—Washington Star.

AN INTELLIGENT PIG.

How He Secured a Warm Bed at the Expense of a Dog.

A pig and a dog who were passengers on the same ship used to eat their food from the same plate and but for one thing would have had no trouble—the dog had a kennel and the pig had none. The pig disputed the ownership of the kennel, and every night there was a race for it. If the dog won, the pig had to lie on the softest plank he could find. If the pig got in first, Toby could not drive him out.

One rainy afternoon the pig found it rather unpleasant slipping about on deck and made up his mind to retire early, but when he reached the kennel he found the dog snug and warm inside. Suddenly an idea flashed upon him, and, trudging off to the place where their dinner plate was lying, he carried it to a part of the deck where the dog could see it and began rattling the plate and munching as though he had a feast before him.

This was too much for Toby. A good dinner, and he not there! The pig kept on until Toby had come round in front of him and pushed his nose into the empty plate, then he turned and was safe in the kennel before Toby knew whether there was any dinner on the plate or not.

A Curious Bird.

In the West Indies is found a curious bird, known locally as the trembler. It feeds on the coffee berries, and as it hops from twig to twig it does not forget to stop every few seconds and shake its wings and perk its tail in a most comical manner, says a writer on bird life. A hop, a quiver of the wings and tail, a skip with accompanying shake all over; a jump, with a convulsive shake, quivering and spasmodic twitching of the head, wings and tail, at once proclaim the aptness of its name. When several of them meet the birds go through the most laughable series of bows, quivering of wings and tail vibrations.

Longfellow's School Days.

Henry Wadsworth Longfellow, the poet, received his early education in a school in Portland, Me. He was pronounced by the master to be "one of the best boys in school." He was a studious child and preferred the company of books to lively companions. He passed the entrance examination to Bowdoin college at fourteen. He graduated fourth in his class in 1825.

To Amuse the Baby.

Wind a small embroidery hoop with two yards of half inch ribbon, then cross the ribbon from side to side in two places on the ring. Make four bows and sew each joining of ribbon to the ring. Now sew nine bells on the cross ribbons at even distances apart. Do this on both sides of the ring and it will be complete.

A teacher showed his small pupils a zebra, saying, "Now, what is this?"

"A horse in a bathing suit," was the prompt reply.—Home Magazine.

QUICK WIT IN WAR.

How Mosby Turned a Situation to His Own Advantage.

Much of the success of Colonel Mosby and his partisan rangers in the Shenandoah valley was due to their dash and bravery, but an almost equal amount to the quick wit of their leader, who, says the author of "Mosby's Men," was never at a loss to turn a situation to his own advantage.

One night, while scouting with four or five of his men on the Winchester pike, he saw a squad of cavalry approaching from the direction of town. It was the Federal patrol on its rounds, and Mosby and his men were between them and their camp. When they got within hail they stopped and inquired of the Confederates who they were.

"Friends, with the countersign," replied Colonel Mosby, with his best imitation Yankee twang.

"One of you advance, then, and give the countersign," was the response.

"No," said the colonel sharply, "you are coming from the direction of the enemy. One of you advance."

As this was an entirely correct proposition, one of them rode forward. When he came up the colonel said to him in a low but terribly distinct voice as he leveled his revolver at him:

"Give the alarm and you are a dead man! I am Mosby. Call to the others that it is all right and to come on."

The prisoner did so, and five more of Uncle Sam's gallant defenders marched confidently up to the muzzles of as many revolvers and quietly surrendered.

A Street Incident.

Despite the four inch sole of his left boot the man limped.

"Shine, boss?"

He looked at his feet. Yes, he needed a shine. And, leaning against a lamp post, he put first one foot and then the other on the little arab's box all glittering with bright brass nails.

"How much?" he said at the end.

"A nickel, boss."

But the cripple tapped with his umbrella the thick side of his left boot, and, smiling awkwardly, he said in a constrained voice:

"But you ought to charge extra for a thing like that."

The boy, without looking up, answered in a low tone:

"No, a nickel's enough. I don't want to make no money out of your hard luck."

Fire, Air, Earth and Water.

The doctrine that man is made of the four elements is frequently referred to by Shakespeare. It forms the theme of two connected sonnets, the forty-fourth and forty-fifth, written in absence from the friend to whom his sonnets are addressed. The dull elements of earth and water cannot leap across the distance which separates him from his friend—that is, the theme of the forty-fourth sonnet. The other two elements, air and fire, are gone on embassy to his friend, leaving him mere earth and water:

My life, being made of four, with two alone
Sinks down to death, oppressed with melancholy,
Until life's composition be recured
By those swift messengers returned from thee.

Thus the doctrine is applied to his purposes in the forty-fifth sonnet. "I am fire and air," cries Cleopatra when about to apply the asp to her breast:

My other elements
I give to baser life.

—Edward Dowden in Atlantic.

HEATERS!

Right Time to Buy Them and Special Inducement This Week

You may wait for cold weather to buy a heater if you've a mind to, but if you'll be advised by those who have to deal most with the selling of stoves, you will select a heater now and have it put in place and ready before the rush that invariably comes with a cold snap.

There is absolutely nothing gained in waiting—not even a saving in cost, as the prices will certainly be kept at normal when the demand is at its height, and then you'll be expected to take your turn in having it delivered and set up—a delay of two or three days perhaps.

We recommend these stoves with confidence:—

The race is not always to the swift. Circumstances do have a great deal to do with our position, our salaries, our place in life.

"Luck" does exist, but "pluck" is the surer winner. The greatest thing a man can do is to make the most possible out the stuff that has been given him. This is success.

Disraeli said that man is not the creature of circumstances, but that circumstances are the creatures of men.

Semi-ready Tailoring was conceived—and it was carried out! The men behind it conquered custom and prejudice, and their every difficulty was but an added incentive.

Chance or Luck has never builded on a sound foundation. Behind the initiative, the carrying out of the Semi-ready idea was the inflexible purpose to find the way. There is always room for the men of forceful ideas.

Emperor Francis Joseph.

Interesting Career and Long Reign of the Ruler of Austria and Hungary.

FRANCIS Joseph (Charles) I., emperor of Austria, apostolic king of Hungary, king of Bohemia, king of Jerusalem, grand duke of Tuscany, duke of Lorraine, etc., was born at Schonbrunn, Aug. 18, 1830, the son of the Austrian Archduke Francis Charles and the Archduchess Sophie, his wife, who was a Bavarian princess. His origin was of the highest, for in his veins flowed the blood of the Hapsburgs and Lorraines, who for a thousand years had been makers of history. His grandfather, Francis I. of Austria, was the last holy Roman emperor. Francis Joseph was no Owen Glendower, at whose birth "the front of heaven was full of fiery shapes," but the cannon which heralded his entrance into life had but lately been trained against the great Napoleon, and his cradle was rocked by storms which shook all Europe. The spirit of liberty was abroad, and it was not a propitious hour for princes to be born. Discontent with the government was rife in Austria, the Italian provinces were filled with insurrection, and Hungary was clamoring for freedom. The popular movement grew as Francis Joseph grew. Metternich retreated before the Austrian masses, and finally, when the expulsion of Louis Philippe from France set all the shackled people of the continent to rattling their fetters in the face of royalty, the Emperor Ferdinand abdicated, and his nephew, Francis Joseph, whose father had resigned his imperial rights, climbed upon Austria's tottering throne, an emperor at eighteen. The most optimistic of oracles, the most sanguine soothsayer, would not have predicted that he would remain emperor for almost sixty years and give his people peace.

The young monarch's first step was to promise a free and constitutional government, but in this he was beyond his time. The course of events compelled him to close the national assembly he had called and assume absolute power. He centralized the governments of his heterogeneous nationalities at Vienna and inaugurated important fiscal and commercial reforms, which soon won him the favor of the Austrian middle classes. He effected a concordat with the pope which conciliated his Roman Catholic subjects. He put down the Hungarian revolt.

In 1859 he had to fight France for his Italian possessions, and after the disastrous defeat of Solferino, where he commanded in person with great bravery, he lost Milan and northern Lombardy. The Sleswick-Holstein dispute following the spoliation of Denmark involved him with France again and with Germany. Sadowa cost Austria Venetia and eliminated her from German politics. But these catastrophies ended Francis Joseph's foreign complications for the time and left him free to attend to his domestic difficulties. He succeeded in reconciling the almost irreconcilable interests of Austria and Hungary, consummated the compromise under which the dual kingdom is still governed and about which there has lately been so much talk, promulgated a most liberal constitution and on June 8, 1867, was crowned king of Hungary at Peath-Ofen with great pomp and ceremony. From that time, though constantly the center of a political whirlpool, he ruled his eccentric empire as an animal tamer controls his menagerie, using alternately force and diplomacy, not only keeping his charges from eating each other up, but preserving his own person and adding daily to his prestige.

His youth, so saddened by the losses of territory which his ancestors had owned for ages, was further imbittered by the efforts of his political enemies to cause trouble between him and his beautiful young wife, the Princess Elizabeth of Bavaria. They did succeed finally in effecting a separation of the emperor and empress, but it was only temporary. Throughout his life the "curse of the Hapsburgs" in the form of domestic tragedy pursued the proud emperor of Austria as a hunter stalks his prey. From that terrible day when his brother Maximilian, deserted by Louis Napoleon, who had made him emperor of Mexico, was shot down like a felon by the soldiers of Juarez and the Empress Carlotta came home a maniac Francis Joseph has been a man of sorrows, acquainted with grief. His cousin, the Archduke Salvator, ran off to sea, preferring the life of a common sailor to the exactions of the severest court in Christendom, and never was heard of again. His only son, the Crown Prince Rudolph, committed suicide in 1889 as the result of an unfortunate love affair. Then came the crowning stroke of misfortune. The Empress Elizabeth, adored by high and low as the imperial embodiment of all the virtues, was assassinated by an anarchist during a visit to Switzerland nine years ago this fall. More recently the scandalous elopement of the crown princess of Saxony, who was an Austrian archduchess, reopened the emperor's heart wounds. He has well been called "the modern King Lear."

The tragic death of Maximilian was the one incident in his eventful career that the emperor was unable to forgive. Not long ago a diplomatic sensation was caused in Washington by the thoughtless act of an American official in assigning the Austrian ambassador as dinner escort to the wife of the Mexican minister. Francis Joseph still regarded Mexico as his brother's murderer. His gratitude to those who had showed mercy or pity to the ill starred Maximilian was no less long lived. Every year—the emperor never forgot the date—a Mexican singer named Concha Mendes received a generous birthday gift from his majesty. With it went a note in the emperor's own hand expressing his grateful remembrance of the fact that when such a thing endangered her safety and almost her life she refused to ridicule the dead "emperor of Mexico." It was not long after the execution of Maximilian that Concha Mendes, the popular singer of the day, in the City of Mexico was asked to sing a song vilifying the late emperor and his unhappy spouse. Concha Mendez stopped short, and her black eyes flashed. "No," she said, "I shall not decry the dead and the unhappy," then left the stage before the audience had recovered from the surprise.

The scandal which touched so many members of the Hapsburg house did not spare the emperor himself, and many stories of his alleged indiscretions have been current for years. Some of them perhaps are true, but in so far as his daily doings reveal his character the monarch appears to have been an ascetic rather than a libertine. Even in his old age he rose at 5. Court physicians when he was almost too ill to sit up could not prevent his rising at his usual hour and proceeding immediately to the business of the state.

The head of one of the oldest reigning families and master of the most conventional of continental courts, Francis Joseph, while never relaxing his imperial dignity, was still the most democratic and kindest hearted of kings. Every year on Maundy Thursday the emperor showed his humility by following the example of Christ in washing the feet of the disciples. Twelve old men, paupers all, were brought to the palace on the Thursday before Easter, and the aged emperor personally served them with food and drink, then, attended by high military and church officials, proceeded to each old man in turn, wet his feet, dried them and dismissed the twelve with gifts. Possibly this was too ostentatious humility, but the admiring Austrians did not so consider it.

Stern but kind ruler of a turbulent realm, a king made human by suffering, with all his faults he deserves the eulogy Mark Antony pronounced over the corpse of Brutus, "The elements were so mixed in him that Nature might stand up and say to all the world, This was a man."

THE IRON GRAY FEELING.

A Symptom Which Must Be Attended to to Keep Young.

This does not refer to the hair by any means, although the expression "iron gray hair" is always dreaded by every woman. It refers to the mental wear and tear which all of us feel with advancing years, and it is a symptom which must be attended to promptly if you would keep from contracting a chronic habit of looking at life through the dull gray of a November evening.

"The iron gray feeling." It is not exactly old, but it is tending that way. The blush is off the rose. About the best recipe is to hunt up all the young people you know and enter into their joys and pursuits and endeavor to make them happy, to play their games and sing their songs, to know what they are talking about. Turn about is fair play, and what you gave to their youth their youth must repay to your declining years. As you reap, so you will sow, and it's wonderful how these young people like to have an older person enter into their little games and sympathize with their small woes, which seem very real to their limited experience. Make them love you, trust you; trust them and love them. Why, there is so much you can do for them, and the person never yet tried to help another but he derived more help than he gave from the effort. So if you feel really selfishly inclined think of this, for believe it, before you have gone far you will have forgotten in absorbing interest of the game you are playing to think of yourself at all, and then you will begin to be truly happy. Walk with them, talk with them, make them tell stories, encourage them to talk to you. You will be surprised to learn that you soon will feel "just as young as you used to be."

Indian Waffles.

Take one cupful each of flour and cornmeal, two cupfuls of thick sour milk, one cupful of sour cream, half a teaspoonful of salt, one teaspoonful of soda, two tablespoonfuls of sugar and two eggs beaten separately, the stiffly beaten whites being folded in last. Bake in a very hot, well greased waffle iron and serve very hot.

CARD PARTY PRIZES.

Novelties For Dining Room Acceptable Presents For Housekeepers.

"My turn for the next euchre? What on earth am I going to get for prizes?" is frequently the despairing thought of the card club member when she learns that she is to be the hostess at the next fortnightly meeting. She smiles pleasantly and assumes a shall-be-so-glad-to-see-you-all expression, while her mind skips to maids, dishes, tables, chairs, refreshments, and lingers with horror on—prizes.

In reality it is a simple matter to provide prizes for a simple afternoon euchre or bridge party. There are always so many novelties coming to hand, some expensive, some inexpensive, that it should be an easy task for a card party hostess to select a few little suitable articles that will please her fellow members. If she would only wander through the shops with a view toward choosing some novelties that she herself would like, she would surely succeed in securing a few that would appeal to the taste of her partners.

FOR PLANK FISH

LEAF SHAPE PLATE—SCOTCH MOTTO WARE FOR PLANK FISH.

For the woman who keeps house there is nothing more acceptable than any kind of little novelties for her dining room. The accompanying sketch shows a number of these which would be appreciated for prizes, with the prices ranging from 10 cents to $12.

The holders for a vichy or a pickle bottle are in sterling silver in open-work design and will serve to make commonplace looking bottles of more decorative value. A leaf shaped plate is exceptionally dainty. It is of white china with the five lobes of the maple leaf and a pretty ornamentation of pink rosebuds.

There is a plank for fish, set in a pierced nickel dish, which is not alone useful, but is an ornament for the well fitted out dinner table.

Simple Methods of Cleaning Fur Wraps

Buy a pound of bran. Divide it into two portions and place one in the oven to heat. Spread the fur on paper on the table and rub it well over with the cold bran.

Shake out the bran and brush the fur with a soft hat brush. When the rest of the bran feels hot rub it in evenly in the fur in the same manner as before.

Shake it out and brush it till the fur is quite free from bran and dust.

They require, however, a different treatment from the ordinary furs. Sawdust and plaster of paris should be heated and rubbed into the skins several times. Then the fur should be put out of doors to air.

Are You Strong?

Do You Eat and Sleep Well? —Or Are You Pale, Weak and Miserable?

Has your nerve given out? Have you lost confidence in yourself? Has work become such an awful burden that you look upon it with horror?

There's just one thing left to do, and that is to take Ferrozone and get your system into good shape again.

It's quite impossible for anyone to be weak or nervous that uses Ferrozone. It contains so many strength-giving properties benefit is bound to result from its use.

Ferrozone possesses the power to kindle new vitality and vigor where almost a dying condition of weakness exists.

It is an extraordinary and magical tonic, containing more actual nourishment and strengthening elements than you can get at in any other way. As a blood purifier, nerve strengthener and appetizing tonic there is simply no equal to Ferrozone. Of this we are positively sure.

It is crowned with the success of splendid cures; will restore anyone to health who uses it. The following letters from people who have actually experienced what Ferrozone can do will clearly show you just how beneficially it acts:—

No Medicine Ever Did So Much Lasting Good as Ferrozone.

"It would be difficult to express my thanks for the benefit I have received from Ferrozone," writes Miss Eva Wight, of Florenceville. "I was so weak and miserable that I could scarcely go around the house. My head ached, there was a dragging weakness in my limbs, and I felt as if every spark of life had left me. Ferrozone improved my appetite, toned up my blood, and soon made me well. Nothing I ever used did me half the good I got from Ferrozone."

The Great Tonic, Ferrozone, Brought Back Life.

"I am anxious to speak a good word for such a magnificent tonic as Ferrozone," says E. P. Gerow, of Yorktown. "I was wretchedly worn out. I was apprehensive, and lacked confidence. It was simply due to my very weak state. The only remedy that really did me lasting good was Ferrozone. It rebuilt my strength, has made me as vigorous and happy as a man could be. In the whole range of medicines I never used anything with half the merit I found in Ferrozone."

Though you spend a thousand dollars on doctors, you can't get a more vitalizing, strengthening tonic than Ferrozone. It is the best that money, combined with scientific research, can produce. If anything in this world will make you strong it must be Ferrozone. Others have proved its worth. You can easily do so for yourself. It will send new vital energy and renewed youth singing through your veins. It's nature's own remedy—a true food tonic.

AMERICA'S NEW WOMAN.

The Type as She Is Seen by James Huneker.

Whether it is the climate or the tradition of independence, which rules in forty-eight hours after landing the best servants in the world, or the mental training in our schools, certainly the American woman does not think in the same way as the women of other races. She reads the newspapers more frequently. Mr. James questions her pronunciation, but she continues to discuss every problem of creation with unfailing volubility.

As to her outward appearance, writes James Huneker in Everybody's Magazine, we believe that she will approximate more to the Slavic and the Italian in fifty years than to Anglo-Saxon or Celt. But there is the solid foundational support of Teutonic and Dutch—health, sanity, common sense, thrift. More marvelous still is the racial conquest of the Semitic. In no country have Hebrew physical peculiarities been so profoundly modified as in America. A quarter of a century ago or a half century the German Hebrews were in the majority of emigrants. Today it is the Russian-Polish. Haggard, persecuted, of miserable physique, exploited even now on the east side, nevertheless they struggle toward the light. They educate their children. They develop their artistic gifts. Who knows? They may be the artistic leaven in the huge loaf of prosperous American philistianism. The children of the men who reached our shores poor and ambitious a few decades ago may be seen at the Saturday theater matinees, at piano recitals, Wagner operas and picture galleries. They are dressed like Parisiennes, but their eyes and coloring are of the east. Their children will not be puritanic. America will profit, has profited by this exotic strain; art has been benefited. In this conglomerate we recognize Italian, Semitic, Celt, Slavic, little English or French, much Scandinavian. Where is the American type? Ask a century hence. The original Yankee man and woman, the descendants of those who fought in the Revolution, will soon be as extinct as the dodo. Even the directory is losing its familiar American names.

HOUSEKEEPING NOTES.

Sheets will stay in place on the mattress by sewing three large buttons on the head end and foot end of the bed on the under edge of the mattress. If the same size sheet is to go on either side of bed sew loops of white the same distance apart.

To remove paint from glass wet the window with either cold or warm water and rub a coin over it. A half a dollar would be best and will remove paint without scratching glass.

To remove old putty from window frames pass a redhot poker slowly over it, and it will come off easily.

A newly imported wood used for high class cabinet and piano work is the Tasmanian myrtle. It is of a rich pink color, moderately hard and very close grained.

GREETED WITH GROANS.

Public Opinion Against Von Moltke In German Libel Case.

Berlin, Oct. 28.—The case was closed Saturday in the libel action brought by Gen. Count Kuno von Moltke against Maximilien Harden, editor of Die Zukunft, and the judge announced that the findings of the court would not be made public until to-morrow.

The day was devoted to the pleas of counsel and Herr Harden himself made a speech in his own defence, which was greeted with much applause, although there was some hissing. Herr Harden received a great ovation from the huge crowds on the streets, as he emerged from the court house. Public sympathy seems to be running strong against Gen. Von Moltke, and as he left the court house, under police protection, he was greeted with groans and cat-calls.

Von Moltke also made a short speech before the case closed, in his own behalf. He asserted his complete innocence of the charges hinted at in Harden's articles. His speech made a strong impression on his auditors.

The trial has created a tremendous sensation in Berlin society.

WOULD SHOOT KING EDWARD?

Arrest Man Suspected of Having Designs on Monarch.

Newmarket, Eng., Oct. 28.—The police here Saturday arrested a man suspected of having designs on the life of King Edward or the Prince of Wales. The prisoner, who was a member of the Bechauana and (South Africa) police, named J. H. Pearse, was found wandering in Chippenham Park, where the King had been shooting last week, and in which the prince is going to shoot to-day. Pearse, when taken into custody, said he intended to "shoot the boss who was shooting here." After a preliminary examination in the Police Court he was remanded for further enquiries regarding his past life.

Pearse participated in the Jameson raid in the Transvaal, and is laboring under the impression that he has a grievance against King Edward, who left Newmarket and has now returned to London

LABORERS DROWNED.

Train Plunged Into Lake Through Sinking of Track.

Millinocket, Me., Oct. 28.—A working train of flat cars, on which were 40 or 50 Italian laborers engaged in the construction of an artificial lake for the Great Northern Paper Co. at East Millinocket, tumbled into the lake Saturday through the sinking of the track, and a messenger who said he saw the accident reported that nearly all the workmen had been drowned. The company officials, however, deny that there had been great loss of life. The messenger said that the trainmen escaped to places of safety, but that few of the workmen were rescued.

The curtailment is a precautionary measure, due to the money stringency.

The firemen were called to the store about 7 o'clock last night to attend to a fire among some packing in the cellar. RAN ON BREAKWATER.

Fishing Cruiser Wrecked In Goderich Harbor—No Lives Lost.

Goderich, Oct. 28.—The Canadian Government fishing cruiser Laurine in making the shelter of this harbor Saturday night, about 7 o'clock, ran hard and fast on the submerged breakwater, which is in course of construction at the mouth of the harbor here.

Local tugs tried to get her off Saturday night, but without success. The Reid Wrecking Co.'s tugs were wired for, but were unable to reach here in time to be of any assistance. The furnishings were taken off and the boat abandoned.

The boat, which was recently purchased from Hiram Walker of Walkerville and fitted up for a fishing cruiser, was on the way to Georgian Bay ports. Her captain did not know of the breakwater.

Root Diplomatic.

Washington, Oct. 28.—"No such relations exist between America and Japan as would make it improper to send the American battleship fleet into the Pacific. If there were, then the relations between America and Great Britain and the relations between America and France, which are the same, would forbid the maintenance of battleship fleets in the Atlantic Ocean."

This was the reply returned by Secretary Root to the direct question as to whether Japan had entered any protest against the despatch of Admiral Evans' fleet to the Pacific next December. The statement was made at the conclusion of a long conference between Secretary Root and Ambassador Aokio of Japan at the State Department on Saturday.

Reply to the Pope.

Rome, Oct. 28.—The Modernists, replying to the Pope's encyclical, recently issued, argued that the church always has and should now adapt itself to the exigencies of the age. They insist upon retaining the right to discuss the Bible and other sacred writings, which they hold to be human productions.

Drowned In Drydock.

Kingston, Oct. 28.—Saturday night about 9.30 o'clock George Randall, one of the crew of the steamer Assiniboia, missed his way in the darkness, while going from the boat into the city, and fell into the drydock and was drowned. He was an English youth and 20 years of age.

Elmira, N. Y., Oct. 28.—After burglarizing the Lackawanna station at Big Flats and two houses in the vicinity during Saturday night, a man, supposed to be one Hassand, Pennsylvania lumberman, broke into a toolhouse, stole a railroad tricycle and started toward Elmira. Yesterday morning his mangled remains were found north of the city beside the Lackawanna tracks. The wreck of the tricycle was also found. The remains were brought to the morgue in this city and later identified. It is not known what train struck him. He secured nothing of value from the places entered.

Trusts a Necessary Evil.

Indianapolis, Oct. 28.—Judge P. S. Grosscup of the United States Circuit Court, said in an address Saturday night at the Columbia Club, a Republican organization, that if the Sherman law was intended to exterminate trusts, or to affect wages or prices, the act had failed.

He declared that in the present age industrial combinations were an effective agency to wield the energies of mankind beyond any other form yet discovered.

He said, in his confession, that on July 12 last the uncontrollable desire to see a fire and see the fire engines race through the streets came over him and he set fire to a vacant house. Since then he has burned more than a score of buildings.

Chicago Banks Cautious.

Chicago, Oct. 28.—The Chicago Clearing House Association Saturday night announced, through a committee, that it had decided to issue clearing house certificates. It was also resolved that Chicago savings banks should require from their depositors the time notices provided for in connection with the withdrawal of such accounts.

It was stated that the action was taken to prevent an undue drain on the cash balances of the Chicago banks from outside institutions. No question of the solvency of Chicago banks is involved, according to members of the committee, who say that none of the Chicago banks has asked for or needs assistance.

BUCKING AN ICE FLOE.

An Incident In One of Peary's Arctic Exploration Trips.

One of the most striking passages in Robert E. Peary's "Nearest the Pole" is his description of the action of an ice floe which threatened his ship. He writes: "Its slow, resistless motion was frightful, yet fascinating. Thousands of tons of smaller ice which the big floe drove before it the Roosevelt had easily and gracefully turned under her sloping bilges, but the edge of the big floe rose to the plank sheer, and a few yards back from its edge was an old pressure ridge, which rose higher than the bridge deck. This was the crucial moment. For a minute or so, which seemed an age, the pressure was terrific. The Roosevelt's ribs and interior bracing cracked like the discharge of musketry, the deck amidships bulged up several inches, while the main rigging hung slack and the masts and rigging shook as in a violent gale. Then, with a mighty tremor and a sound which reminded me of an athlete intaking his breath for a supreme effort, the ship shook herself free and jumped upward till her propeller showed above water. The big floe snapped against the edge of the ice foot forward and aft and under us, crumpling up its edge and driving it inshore some yards, then came to rest, and the commotion was transferred to the outer edge of the floe, which crumbled away with a dull roar as other floes smashed against it and tore off great pieces in their onward rush, leaving the Roosevelt stranded, but safe."

On another occasion it required thirty-five and a half hours of incessant strain and struggle to clear a way through the obstructing ice floes to the open water beyond. Mr. Peary says: "The Roosevelt fought like a gladiator, turning, twisting, straining with all her force, smashing her full weight against the heavy floes whenever we could get room for a rush and rearing upon them like a steeplechaser taking a fence. Ah, the thrill and tension of it, the lust of battle, which crowded days of ordinary life into one! The forward rush, the gathering speed and momentum, the crash, the upward heave, the grating snarl of the ice as the steel shod stem split it as a mason's hammer splits granite or trod it under or sent it right and left in whirling fragments, followed by the violent roll, the backward rebound and then the gathering for another rush were glorious."

At such times the physical tension was intense: "Every one on deck hung with breathless interest on our movement, and as Bartlett and I clung in the rigging I heard him whisper through teeth clinched from the purely physical tension of the throbbing ship under us: 'Give it to 'em, Teddy; give it to 'em!' More than once did a fireman come panting on deck for a breath of air, look over the side, mutter to himself, 'By thunder, she's got to go through!' then drop into the stokehold, with the result a moment later of an extra belch of black smoke from the stack and an added turn or two to the propeller."

A Whirlwind Ship.

"Typhonold," a word derived from a Greek term meaning whirlwind, has been applied to a new type of boat invented by a French engineer, who seeks to do away with the present day screw propeller. The new screw is placed at the bow of the boat instead of at the stern, and it is believed that by it the centrifugal displacement and the central void of the present type are converted into benefits, and the limit to the advantageous increase in velocity of rotation of the propeller is removed. The apparatus is designed to work by suction in the manner of a waterspout. The inventor figures that his boat, with a thirty-two and a half inch screw, will go through the water at a rate of more than sixty-two miles an hour.

The Picture Postal Card.

The picture or souvenir postal card is probably doing more to make the world known to the untraveled than all the geographies and gazetteers. There is scarcely a village anywhere in the domain of the postal union that has not had its picture taken for a postal card impression in black or white or in colors, and thus its humble fame has been carried over seas and introduced to the four corners of the Union. All the aliens and prodigal sons cannot return for the old home week celebrations, but, thanks to the man who invented the picture postal card, they may be reminded of the old home scenes at an expenditure of a few cents.—New York Sun.

Tough Remedies.

Tibet's army is to be modernised, and with it probably will be the grand luma's military medical staff corps. The sick Tibetan soldier, it was reported a year ago, was put through a sort of faith healing process. An army physician of the old school chalked a prescription on a board. The martial patient washed off the lettering and drank the rinsings. The plan of the younger doctor was simpler. He scrawled his prescription on a piece of paper and gave it to the invalid to chew and swallow.

Windmills and Electricity.

The use of windmills for generating electric current has given favorable results in the tests for the Danish government made by Professor La Cour. The four wing wheel proves to be the best form. With such a wheel having fifteen square yards of surface he obtained two horsepower from a wind of twenty feet per second and ten horsepower from a wind of thirty-five feet per second. The plant will feed 450 incandescent lamps, with some arc lamps and motors.—Maxwell's Talisman.

Why, laugh instead of frown.
What shall I do at noontime?
Just swallow my passion down.
What shall I be in the evening?
The happiest child in town!

ROLLS OF DOLLARS IN AN AUTO

Scattered on the Ground at Ferry in New York.

CROWD RUSHED TREASURE

Automobile Containing $1,000,000 Heading for Williamsburg Bank—Car Blew Up—Hundreds Rushed to the Spot—Police Reserves and Firemen Called Out to Protect Big Pile of Greenbacks.

New York, Oct. 28.—The breaking down of a big automobile loaded with $1,000,000 drew such a crowd around the entrance to the Grand street ferry yesterday that police reserves had to be called out to keep back the mob and protect the money.

In the automobile were Mr. Rooth, manager of the State Bank of Brooklyn, and a chauffeur. Over the top of the doors of the machine the edges of bales of greenbacks could be seen, and when the front part of the car blew up packages of money were scattered all over the rear seat, a few falling to the ground.

The machine was headed for the Williamsburg Bank. The bank paid off every claim up to the hour of closing, and the funds being hurried that way were not needed.

The sight of the greenbacks started a rush of hundreds to the spot, and when Mr. Rooth announced that the machine carried $1,000,000 the four policemen on duty at the ferry rushed in to protect the treasure. A fireboat was moored nearby, and the firemen aided in the protection.

In a few minutes the chauffeur had the machine so repaired that he could move on. But Manager Rooth, seeing that it would be impossible to reach Williamsburg before the closing hour, turned the car around and took the money back to Wall street.

CORTELYOU GETS PRAISE.

President Roosevelt Eulogizes His Handling of Recent Crisis.

Washington, Oct. 28.—President Roosevelt yesterday congratulated Secretary Cortelyou on his handling of the present financial crisis. The letter of commendation was made public at the White House. It reads:

"I congratulate you upon the admirable way in which you have handled the present crisis. I congratulate also those conservative and substantial business men who, in this crisis, have acted with such wisdom and public spirit. By their action they did invaluable service in checking the panic which, beginning as a matter of speculation, was threatening to destroy the confidence and credit necessary to the conduct of legitimate business. No one who considers calmly can question that the underlying conditions which make up our financial and industrial well-being are essentially sound and honest. Dishonest dealing and speculative enterprise are merely the occasional incidents of our real prosperity. The action taken by you and the business men in question has been of the utmost consequence and has secured opportunity for the calm consideration which must inevitably produce entire confidence in our business conditions."

Murder at Buffalo.

Buffalo, N. Y., Oct. 28.—The body of a woman supposed to be a Mrs. Miller was found in a rooming-house here Saturday, dead in bed, with a small rope twisted about her neck. The woman, accompanied by a man, applied for a room Friday night and registered as Mr. and Mrs. Miller. When they did not appear at noon the door was forced open. The man has disappeared.

Killed by Winnipeg Car.

Winnipeg, Oct. 28.—Leslie Tait was killed on the street railway tracks Saturday evening.

A SERIOUS BLAZE AT HAMILTON

Canadian Co-Operative Society's Premises Entirely Gutted.

OVERCOME BY THE SMOKE

Loss Will Be $15,000—Great Prairie Fire at Swift Current—Settlers Suffer Heavy Losses—Cattle in Danger—Feed for Stock Is Destroyed — Half-Way House Also Suffers From Fire in Stables.

Hamilton, Oct. 28.—The premises of the Canadian Co-operative concern, 32 South MacNab street, were visited by fire early yesterday morning, resulting in a loss of $15,000 on the building and contents. The fire burned fiercely until about 5 o'clock, but it was 7 before the last fireman left. The stables of the G. F. Robinson Co. and the wholesale hardware house of Wilkinson and Kompass caught fire, but without serious results.

Captain Brewster of the John street company was overcome by smoke and had to be taken home. The cause of the fire is unknown. The Co-operative concern had part of its stock out of the building as it was in the middle of moving operations. The loss is covered by insurance.

Swift Current, Oct. 28.—A terrible prairie fire has been raging northwest of this town all day and last night the police turned out gangs to go and fight it, it being apparently within five or six miles of the town.

The whole western sky is a lurid glare, which lights up the country for many miles around almost like day. It is thought by many there will be some stacks of hay or buildings on fire, there being many settlers in that direction. A heavy wind all yesterday forenoon apparently brought the fire down from many miles further west.

It will be a big loss. A lot of stock range in that country, and they will be without any feed whatever.

Half-Way House, Oct. 28.—At a late hour Saturday night fire broke out in the stables of the hotel, with the result that the driving house, stables and all the outbuildings were totally consumed. But for the fact that the wind was in the northeast, blowing the flames from the hotel, this building would have likewise fallen a prey to the flames. A Mr. Champion of Toronto, who had on Friday moved into the premises, which had been for some time vacant, loses a number of articles, among others a buggy. It is said that there was no insurance on either buildings or contents, with an aggregate loss of about $1,000.

Quebec, Oct. 28.—Early Saturday morning a fire broke out in the store and warehouse of F. T. Thomas & Co., china, glassware and earthenware merchants, Dalhousie street, and badly gutted the extensive building. The fire first declared itself in the rear of the building occupied as a packing-room, and had made considerable headway before it was discovered. Notwithstanding the efforts of the firemen, the flames continued to eat their way toward the front of the building and to the wing on Prince of Wales street, which included the warehouse of the firm.

There is a considerable amount of insurance on the building and stock. The building and contents is a total loss. The fire is supposed to have been caused by the furnace.

Waterloo, Oct. 28.—A disastrous fire broke out here Saturday afternoon in the main building of Kreutziger's planing mill. The building is entirely of frame and the fire made rapid headway. It is almost a total loss. The office and outbuildings and the lumber in the yards escaped destruction.

Railroad Kills First Passenger.

Dallas, Tex., Oct. 28.—A wreck on the Missouri, Kansas and Texas Railroad yesterday killed the first passenger in the history of the company. Two are dead, 25 injured and others may die.

VOLCANO IS IN TERRIBLE ERUPTION

Mount Vesuvius Belches Forth Lava and Mud.

PEOPLE PANIC STRICKEN

Terrible Explosion Follow Earthquake—Many Victims Still Alive Buried in Ruins — Surrounding Towns and Railway Damaged — Six Hundred Dead—Living Children in Dead Mothers' Arms.

Naples, Oct. 28.—Great fear has been caused by a terrible explosion of Vesuvius, immediately following the earthquake, which poured forth lava, mud and ashes.

The surrounding towns were damaged to a considerable extent, and the finicular railway was paralyzed.

Ten persons were injured, according to reports received.

New York, Oct. 28.—The Sun has received the following cable despatch from Rome: Exact particulars as to the extent of the earthquake damage and the correct number of victims are as yet unavailable. The reports are contradictory and there is much confusion in the locality of the disaster. The soldiers are making attempts by means of the field telegraph to connect Ferrazzano with Brancaleone, where headquarters have been established, but the work is proceeding slowly owing to the bad weather.

Seventy soldiers who had been for over eight hours on the march succeeded in reaching the village and strong detachment are now hastening thither, since many persons are still alive and buried in the collapsed buildings.

The soldiers recovered alive several children who were locked in the embraces of their dead mothers, who had shielded their offspring with their own bodies. Help is urgently need at Ferrazzano, where, owing to the insufficiency of the rescue parties, corpses are still unburied and decomposition has begun. The soldiers are hurrying the burials and are using lime to prevent the spread of pestilence.

The injured are still unattended to, and many are unsheltered. Doctors, medicines and surgical instruments are lacking. Neither can the transport of the wounded elsewhere be effected, as all available beast of burden are employed in carrying provisions.

Notwithstanding the efforts of the Government to help the sufferers and the work of the soldiers, the effects of the earthquake are bound to last for many years. Calabrians are ignorant of self-help. They are illiterate and fatalists. Loss of energy and action invariably follows any calamity. Even the able-bodied, instead of helping the troops, serve as an incumberance. Their passiveness increases the confusion and their presence add to the number of persons to be fed.

The latest reports are that there are at least 600 dead and over 1,000 injured.

BORDEN IN TRAIN WRECK.

Engine Left Rails and Distinguished Men Were Shaken Up.

Winnipeg, Oct. 28.—R. L. Borden and party, returning from Carman at an early hour Saturday morning, were wrecked a few miles from this city.

In the party were Premier Roblin, R. L. Borden, Dr. Reid, M.P., and J. G. H. Bergeron.

The train left Carman for Winnipeg at midnight, but several miles from the city the engine left the rails, the shock sending the passengers out of their seats across the car floor. The party were stranded until another engine was sent out.

Utica, N. Y., Oct. 28.—The Montreal express on the Adirondack division of the New York Central Railroad, which left Utica at 1.25 o'clock yesterday morning, was wrecked five hours later, near Nehasane, while running at a speed of about 40 miles an hour. The train carried many New York, Boston and Philadelphia people bound for the woods. The train was made up of an engine, mail car, baggage car, two day coaches and four Pullman sleepers. The second day coach left the rails, followed by the two rear Pullmans, which turned over on their sides and were dragged nearly 300 feet. All the passengers were thrown from their berths and tossed about the cars. The most seriously injured was Mrs. L. F. Requa of No. 2 East 83rd street, New York, who had one rib broken and otherwise injured.

Japs Are Pleased.

London, Oct. 28.—A Times' Tokio despatch says the Japanese nation seems profoundly pleased by the attitude of the Canadian authorities in the presence of the anti-Japanese outrages, but public opinion is evidently opposed to the conclusion of any convention restricting the movements of Japanese laborers. It fully recognizes the right of every sovereign power to enact convenient limits to the influx of aliens, but such legislation, it is contended, must be general.

Woman Burned to Death.

Little Falls, N. Y., Oct. 28.—Mrs. Oscar Wock was burned to death here yesterday, and Bert Rapp was terribly injured as a result of attempting to save her life. Rapp was passing the Wock home when he saw Mrs. Wock, her clothing ablaze, rushing through the house. He went to her assistance, but before the blazing clothing could be extinguished the woman was dead. Rapp is in a serious condition.

Bandits Captured.

Spokane, Wash., Oct. 28.—With $14,000 in National Bank notes concealed on their persons, two rough looking men, believed to be the bandits who held up the Great Northern Oriental Limited train near Bond Siding, Mont., Sept. 12, and secured $40,000 in greenbacks, were arrested in a Great Northern car as it entered this city Saturday night.

The suspects gave their names as G. E. McDonald, 43 years old, and Ed. Smith, 32 years.

WEARIED WITH AGE.

General Booth Nearly Collapses After Long Journey.

Pittsburg, Oct. 28.—General William Booth, commander-in-chief of the Salvation Army, is at the Hotel Henry in this city, greatly fatigued following a journey from Columbus, Ohio, yesterday.

While it is stated the general's condition is not grave, it is admitted he is very tired.

No person, even any member of his party, has been allowed to see him since his arrival here.

The party left Columbus, Ohio, shortly before noon and reached this city a few minutes after 6 o'clock last night. It was necessary almost to carry General Booth into the hotel. Immediately a report spread like wildfire about the city that the Salvation Army commander was dying and many persons called at the hotel making enquiries. Accordng to the members of the party, however, the general is merely wearied.

TWO HORSES KILLED.

Train Struck Wagon But Little Boys Escaped.

Welland, Oct. 28.—The express at the air line Saturday night crashed into a team of horses and a wagon. The engineer plainly saw two boys on the wagon, and when the train was stopped the lads could nowhere be found. Both the horses were killed outright and the front part of the wagon was broken to pieces.

The train crew and passengers made an extended search in the vicinity, but could not find the boys. Though thrown 40 feet, they escaped injury, and as soon as they realized what had been done they made off, fearing responsibility for the accident. The boys are Wilford House and A. Morningstar, aged respectively 10 and 12 years. They were returning from taking a load of lumber to Bridgeburg. Each wrapped himself in a blanket and both fell asleep.

HELPLESS IN MID-AIR.

Ladies Have Exciting Adventure on French Aeroplane.

Paris, Oct. 28.—While the Lebaudy airship Patrie was engaged in evolutions over Paris with five officers and two ladies on board, her right propeller dropped off and she drifted helplessly in the wind for an hour, finally descending near Issy without sustaining any damage or any injuries being inflicted on her passengers.

Henry Farman, in the presence of cheering enthusiasts, Saturday afternoon, drove his aeroplane 771 metres in 53 seconds, at the height of about three metres, thus breaking all previous records. Earlier in the day he covered 363 metres in 30 seconds, breaking the record of 220 metres, held by Santos Dumont.

Evangelist In Prison.

St. Catharines, Oct. 28.—Walter Northrope, who was sentenced to six months' imprisonment for forgery by Judge Carman, is a unique personality. He drew a check on the Bank of Hamilton, at Orangeville, in favor of the proprietor of the Village Inn at Grimsby, after basking in the smiles of a tall, fair and refined looking lady from Toronto, whom he represented to the hotel management as his wife, for a period of ten days.

The prisoner is a "local preacher," of considerable power and eloquence, and has frequently occupied the pulpit "with great acceptance" at Brantford and other points. While in jail, awaiting trial, his mother, and mother-in-law, died, and his wife was quite ill.

Northrope insisted on entering the box on his own behalf and swore that the woman from Toronto wore "the white flower of a blameless life."

The judge in passing sentence subjected the prisoner to a terrible arraignment, evidently regarding him as a moral degenerate. The prisoner claimed to have done a lot of evangelistic work amongst the inmates of the jail, during his incarceration. The circumstance that during the short interval between the trial and passing sentence the Bank of Commerce here was successfully worked, perhaps contributed to the length of the sentence (six months) imposed.

Defers Hanlan's Sentence.

Orangeville, Oct. 28.—Forger Hanlan, who was to have received his sentence on Saturday, had the matter postponed until next week to enable him to employ counsel. He will press to have the Guelph charges disposed of here.

Crown Attorney McKay is of opinion that similar and contemporaneous crimes should be expiated by one punishment, so that the prisoner may have some incentive to reform and not look forward to be handed over to police officers on his liberation.

Ton Of Tea Steeped With Fire And Water In Morning Blaze

Loss to W. H. Hamilton of Over $2000—Insurance on Stock And Building

ORIGIN IS NOT KNOWN

Over 600 Dozen Canned Goods In The Blaze—Ceiling And Floors Burned Through

Fire broke out in the store of Mr. W. H. Hamilton, Simcoe street, in the early hours of yesterday morning, destroying between $2,000 and $3,000 worth of stocks, in addition to the damage done to the building, which has not yet been estimated. The origin of the blaze is a mystery. It is supposed to have started either in the ceiling of the second story, or in the floor of the third, to the rear of the store.

The alarm was sounded between 5 and 6 o'clock, and the firemen were quickly on the scene. The blaze was soon extinguished and it was thought that it had been headed off. This morning, however, about 6.30, it again began to burn, and no doubt some of the wood had been smouldering all day and night unnoticed. The brigade was called a second time and the fire effectually extinguished.

The damage done is considerable and, as stated above, will be over $2,000. This morning the rear of the store on both the ground floor and the second story was in a dilapidated condition, but little damage was done to the business portion of the store.

Tea Was Steeped

On the second story, which was used principally as a store room, many cases of tea tumbled off the burned shelves and burst. Mr. Hamilton estimates that a ton of tea has been totally destroyed. A large pile of it lies on the floor knee-deep, and partly steeped, with water and fire. A large quantity of it fell through to the ground floor this morning when the fire broke out a second time, and when the greatest damage was done. Mr. Hamilton has another consignment of tea on the way, so does not expect to have any difficulty in supplying his customers.

Canned Goods Burned

Next to the tea the greatest damage was done to the canned goods. Six hundred dozen cans this morning lay in a heap on the second floor and many fell through the burned hole to the store proper. Many of these were dinged and scorched, but some of them did not appear to have suffered much from the flames. Mr. Hamilton had just received a carload of the canned goods last week, and had them stored away. Many other articles have been destroyed but so far the extent is not known.

Several opinions have been advanced as to the origin, but no definite reason is known. Mr. Hamilton says it could not have been matches as none were kept on that floor. An electric wiring expert of the Peterborough Light and Power Company visited the store, and found all the ceiling blocks intact, so that he did not believe that the wires could have been the cause.

In the third story some wires and pulleys were destroyed but it was a fortunate circumstance that the blaze did not get up into the elevator, as most probably nothing could have saved the store.

Held Insurance

The store as well as the stock belongs to Mr. Hamilton. The loss on the stock is covered by insurance in the Royal Insurance Company. The loss on the building has not been estimated, but it is insured in the Hartford Insurance Company. The chief damage to it is the destroyed joists and floors, which are of the finest quality of timber.

The blaze will not prevent Mr. Hamilton from carrying on his business as the front of the store was not hurt by either fire or water.

THE WEATHER.

During the rain of Sunday there was a total fall of a little over half an inch on the level—.53. The highest temperature was 44 degrees, and the lowest 36 degrees. The barometer has been quite low but is now steadily rising.

RUBBER LOST IN MUD-HOLE, BUT VAULTING POLE NEEDED TO GET IT

Found.—At the corner of Manning avenue and Hensoh street, near Normal School, a gentleman's rubber, in the mud. The owner may have it by diffing it out, but it would be advisable to equip oneself with a vaulting pole in order to ensure a safe return to terra firma, after having made the descent after the missing piece of footwear.

The above advertisement was left at the Examiner office this morning, by a reputable resident of that portion of the city, with the request for its insertion in to-day's issue. It is given, and there is no charge for its publication.

BOVINE WAS IN CONTACT WITH LIVE WIRE AND GOT BAD SHOCK

There was electric current flying around loose in the south end of the city yesterday afternoon, and as a result of the promiscuous distribution of this fluid a cow, to-day, lies at death's door. The bovine got into the way of a live wire which was burned through, and fell sputtering to the ground, between the Carbon works of the C. G. E. Company and the main works, the result of which cross, and the cow came into contact with the wire, made doubly dangerous by reason of the fact that the ground was wet. It is probable that she will recover, but the escape was a narrow one.

Ticket Agents Trip Was a Great Success

Mr. W. McIlroy, Last Year's President Refers to the Annual Outing At Winnipeg — Some Of The Amusements

THE FREEDOM OF THE CITY

Mr. Wm. McIlroy, C.P.R. ticket agent, returned on Saturday night, accompanied by Mrs. McIlroy, from the West, where he attended the 21st annual convention of the Canadian Ticket Agents' Association, held in Winnipeg, October 13, 14, 15 and 16. The outing, he stated to the Examiner, was one of the most successful and enjoyable in the history of the association.

The Ontario delegation gathered in Toronto and went out on a special train, arriving in Winnpeig on Sunday, October 13. The agents were housed in the Royal Alexandra, which Mr. McIlroy states is the finest on the continent.

On Monday morning the freedom of the city was given the railway men at a welcome meeting at the City Hall, which was attended by Acting Mayor Davidson, the members of the City Council, Board of Control and Entertainment Committee.

In the afternoon the visitors spent several hours at the Dominion Vaudeville Theatre and in the evning the ladies of the party attended the Walker Theatre where they saw the play "The Heir to the Hoorah."

On Tuesday the party were taken around the city on trolley cars, visiting many points of interest including Ogilvie's Mill, Od Fort Garry Gate and Silver Heights. In the evening the annual dinner and ball of the convention was held at the Royal Alexandra and was a most enjoyable function.

At the business meeting of the Association which was held in the rotunda of the Royal Alexandra President McIlroy presided and in reply to the address of welcome from the Winnipeg authorities, referred to the hospitality with which the delegates were being received. Mr. McIlroy also delivered the annual address to the convention.

Mr. and Mrs. McIlroy returned by way of St. Paul and Chicago, and had a most enjoyable visit to the west. They speak in terms of the highest praise of the treatment with which the people of the west gave their visitors.

IT'S CLEAN RECORD IS BROKEN

Missouri, Kansas and Texas Railway Records First Fatal Accident in It's History

Examiner Special.

Dallas, Texas, Oct. 28.—The record of the Missouri, Kansas and Texas Railway, which never before in the history of the road, had a passenger killed on its lines, was broken yesterday, when a train carrying one thousand excursionists to the State Fair, ran into an engine nearby, and the engineer was killed, as was Adeline Ray, a negress, while forty others were injured, some of whom may not recover.

324 APPEALS ENTERED AGAINST THE ASSESSMENT; AN INCREASE OF 298 OVER THOSE OF LAST YEAR

Practically three hundred more appeals against the assessment have been entered this year than in 1906—to be exact, the increase is 298—last year the objection against the work of the assessors being represented by 26 appeals, while this year there are 324. The Court of Revision is evidently in for a busy autumn's work.

The first sitting of the Court is called for Wednesday, November 6, when the work of passing judgment on the appeals will be commenced. Those who have entered appeals have been notified to attend the meeting on Wednesday. They will be taken up in alphabetical order, so that those at the foot of the list will have to wait some time before their appeals will be dealt with.

Working Man Has a Real Grievance Against The Church

This is The Opinion of Rev. J. R. Webb, Who Preached on Relation Of Church To Working Man

SOME PERTINENT TRUTHS

The workingman has a real grievance against the Church, according to Rev. J. R. Webb, who preached on this subject last night in the Murray Street Baptist Church, his text being "And he was angry and would not go in."

The home had, he said, been spoiled by the waywardness of a son. His sin and its wages had found him out; in rage he seeks his father's door, and is royally welcomed. Another son was in the field. He was the working man. When he heard the sounds of festivity he inquired what these things meant? The servant said, "Thy brother has come, and thy father hath killed the fatted calf, because he hath received him safe and sound." And the workingman was angry and would not go in.

I think this is a fair illustration of the ways and workings of some workingmen with regard to the churches. I want to be helpful while I ask and seek to answer two questions.

First—Has the workingman any real grievance against the church? Decidedly, Yes.

Secondly—Is there any folly in his anger? This must be answered affirmatively.

HUNTING PARTIES ARE LEAVING

Men Preparing to go to The North in Search of the Exclusive Deer

The first of the deer hunting parties are beginning to leave for the north and the next few days will see most of the hunters on their way to the sylvan haunts of the deer. The advance guard of the Ketchecum Lake party consisting of Messrs. G. W. Bennett, Harold and Archie Morrow and Chef Jackson, will leave tomorrow and the rest of the party go on Wednesday.

To-day Mr. Herb Kendry left for Lindsay, where he will join a party from that town. They will hunt in the Algonquin Park District.

The Wasting Process of Disease

Disease is a tearing down, wasting away and destroying of the tissues of the body and a shrivelling up of the nerve cells and blood corpuscles. Nature demands assistance to overcome this dreadful wasting process, and the need help is best supplied by Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, the great blood builder and nerve restorative.

CITY YOUTH MISSING SINCE LAST THURSDAY

On Thursday last a boy sixteen years of age left his home in this city, and has not been heard of since. The youth had lost a leg, and, of cours, walked with a crutch. When he left home he was dressed in a dark tweed suit, and wore a peak cap. His parents are naturally anxious about him, and would be glad if anyone who has seen the boy since Thursday would communicate with the Examiner. It is supposed that he may have gone to the country, and farmers are particularly asked to be on the look out for the youth.

A FATAL RIOT AT A FESTIVAL

Dispute at Church Function Leads To Fierce Riot and Many Persons Were Killed

Examiner Special.

Rosesangh, Southern Hungary, Oct. 28.—While a church festival was in progress early to-day, a dispute broke out among a number of farmers and villagers. In a short time a fierce riot was in progress. Revolvers and knives were used, and before the police and cooler heads could restore order twelve persons were killed and fully two score wounded, some fatally.

BROOME AND BRYAN STATE CASE

Photographers Defend Their Methods of Doing Business, and say They Are Citizens of Peterboro'

To the Editor of the Examiner.

Regarding the item which appeared on the front page of Saturday's Examiner in reference to our method of advertising of our work of art and letting the public of Peterborough judge us by our works, we think that in justice to ourselves you should know, (1) That we are citizens of Peterborough inasmuch as we have paid taxes (both land and school) since June, 1906. (2) We have a lease of the city studio for five years, beginning June 1, 1907.

Moreover, we are here to stay. We are already doing a large business as you were good enough to tell the public of Peterborough in Saturday's issue. It might be well to state that we are using a legitimate way of getting at the public quickly and proving to them that we are entirely what we claim—photographers in the strict sense of the word. We hope, in justice to ourselves, you will be good enough to publish this. Thanking you in advance, we are,

Yours truly,
BROOME & BRYAN.

RAY BEST WILL ENTER THE EXAMINER ROAD RACE AGAIN

Ray Best, who intended to go to Montreal and participate in the Herald Race on Thanksgiving Day, has decided to run in the Examiner Race. The C.A.A.U. has withheld its sanction to the Herald Race, and Jr. Best will not jeopardize his amateur standing by participating in it. His entry into the Examiner Race materially increases the local interest in this event.

GOOD ENTRY LIST FOR THE THANKSGIVING DAY EXAMINER ROAD RACES

David Hartley to Make Long Walk

David Hartley will to-morrow morning leave for Whitby where, on Wednesday morning he will start on his long walk to Toronto and return to Peterborough. The appeal in the press for support to the proposition to lower Reynolds record for this distance has borne fruit, and Mr. Hartley is hoping that to-day he will have raised sufficient to meet the expenses of the trip. He will be accompanied on the trip by George Stevens, and they will leave here to-morrow morning, driving to Old Whitby, where they will remain over night, starting on the western trip early Wednesday morning. It is understood that considerable money has been bet on the result of the walk, many persons being willing to risk their money that he cannot lower the time made by the Port Hope harper. He should reach Peterborough early Thursday evening, if he makes the distance in the time expected.

February—Rev. H. J. Keith, "Points of contact between Christianity and the religions of India."

The aim of the president in the preparation of this programme is to have the ministers discuss matter of special interest to their work.

KNIGHTS ARE GOING TO BELLEVILLE

The Knights of Columbus at Peterborough and Lindsay go by special train on Thursday morning for Belleville where an assembly of that Order is being held on Thanksgiving Day. Eighteen Starters in the Senior Race From Lakefield to Peterborough And Fourteen in The Junior Five Mile Race

THE LIST OF ENTRIES

There Will be Some Good Ones In Both Events — A Splendid Days' Programme of Long Distance Running

Eighteen entries for the Senior Examiner Road Race on Thanksgiving Day and fourteen for the junior event were received up to Saturday night, when the entries closed. This number assures a good race in each event, and some excitement is promised for Thanksgiving Day, when the two races are run. Saturday brought in some of the best ones, Ray Best, last year's winner; Ernie Wilson, who finished second last year, and Ben Howard, Hiawatha Indian, sending in their entries the last day. The senior entries are:

Harvey Staunton.
Charles Thorpe.
John Sanderson.
E. A. Wilson.
E. Bruce.
J. O'Donell.
R. Hillier.
Ray Best.
William Bennet.
Herbert Cooney.
Matt. Drysdale.
John Doughty.
Charles Knapp.
James J. Neary.
Ben Howard.
Charles Martin.
John Moss.
William Moss.

These men are all bona fide residents of Peterborough county, although a number of them have never been heard of before as runners. The senior runners will go to Lakefield, leaving here on the 8.30 G.T.R. train, and the race will start from the ten-mile post promptly at 10 o'clock. A rig will follow the runners, and any who have to drop out will be conveyed to the city in it, while the clothing of the runners will be looked after in this rig as well.

The Juniors

There are some good ones among the fourteen juniors entered for the five-mile race, and probably deeper interest will be centred in this event than in that for the seniors. Those are the boys who will start in the five-mile race:

Henry Muskrat.
Jimmy O'Brien.
Jimmie McMartin.
Edward Hanwell.
Charles Walsh.
Peter Wallace.
Herbert Farmer.
Gurty Crough.
W. Flowers.
Edgar LeBarre.
Bertram Cross.
Gillespie Stewart.
Rex. Greenland.
Eddie Armstrong.

The race will start from the five-mile post at the same hour as the senior race, 10 o'clock sharp, and both will finish at the Examiner office door.

The officials will be appointed and announced in a few days.

Last year considerable complaint was made against the practice of some persons who persisted in breaking in upon the runners with buggies, and raising dust, which interfered materially with the men who were behind the first few, and it is possible that the result of the race itself may have been affected. This year it is hoped that the public will be more considerate and refrain from driving over the course, to the annoyance of the runners. Of course, everyone sympathises with those who are anxious to see the race, and every reasonable facility will be afforded, but the public is expected to exercise thoughtfulness and consideration for the men who are bringing credit to the city by their athletic performances.

THERE IS NO HEROISM FOR KEEGAN

Mr. Irwin, Trainmaster Tells of The Burning of the Bridge Near Stirling, On Friday

Mr. John Irwin, trainmaster, of the G.T.R., Lindsay, informed the Examiner to-day that the stories of heroism on the part of Willie Keegan, in connection with the burning of the bridge on the Grand Trunk, near Stirling, are exaggerated. The train crew, of the train from Belleville, he stated, knew of the condition of the bridge, and the only train that was in danger was the [illegible] train from Peterborough.

THE OUTLOOK

Mr. W. R. Travers, the general Manager of the Farmers' Bank, of Canada, has just returned from a trip to the Old Country, where he came in contact with the prominent financiers of Great Britain. He thinks the present panic in the United States will not only not injure Canada a bit, but be to her benefit. He says that investors in Great Britain, and Europe, who are looking for favourable opportunities for the investment of surplus capital, cannot avoid noticing the difference in conditions of the two countries — panic and failure in the United States; confidence and stability in Canada. Mr. Travers attributes in large part the differing conditions to the superiority of the Canadian banking system. It is impossible in Canada to bring down a bank here as some of the banks in the United States have failed. The results of the conservative policy upon which Canadian banks are conducted, are significant at the present time. While daily failures are occurring in the United States, there has not been a single financial embarrassment of importance in Canada. Mr. Travers is optimistically inclined in regard to the future. He gives his reasons for his faith, in a continuation of good times. The Canadian Pacific Railway was, he points out, built from nowhere to nowhere. Now, look at the results of the building and operation of that railway. Regard the manner in which it has developed the country. It has founded cities and towns, brought in hundreds of thousands of settlers, and created markets for the farmers and manufacturers of the east. The Grand Trunk Pacific, and Canadian Northern Railways, are duplicating what the Canadian Pacific has done, and is still doing. "No," Mr. Travers concluded an interview, smiling, "you cannot talk hard times to me, for I know better." This is very encouraging, but there are many who think that Mr. Travers, and other general managers of banks, could help keep on good times if they would discontinue sending money—made by Canadians, and deposited in Canadian banks—to the risky investment centres of the United States; especially, as is felt by some, the absence of the Canadian millions now helping the development of the United States, is at this present moment seriously handicapping Canadian enterprises, retarding Canadian development, and contributing to more or less very undesirable monetary stringency. Canadian money should be available to help create and continue prosperous conditions. A pious negro "mammy," at a 'coloured" missionary meeting, sang the hyma, "Fly abroad, thou mighty Gospel," with great earnestness, her eyes turned heavenward, so that she did not see the contribution hat, when the deacon reached her — "Look, a hyar, sister, 'taint no use singing 'Fly abroad dou mighty Gospel,' erless yer gibs sumfin to make her fly." Bank managers could talk more consistently of "good times" if they would do more to make them good.

EDITORIAL NOTES

Mr. Bourassa, through Le Canada, declares that the Conservative party have formed an alliance with him. This may seem incredible; but from their acts, some elements of the Conservative party have formed an alliance with a personage of much less respectability and good character than Mr. Bourassa.

Hon. "Doc." Willoughby, even if he can't vote for the Government candidate in East Northumberland, should be, at least, charitably disposed towards the Government, which he petitioned to build a wharf at Colborne. The Government has awarded the contract to the lowest tenderer.

Campbellford is bound to reap its harvest from the construction of the Trent Canal. The ratepayers, by a majority of nearly 30 to 1, on Friday, carried a bylaw to raise $60,000 to build a power plant at Middle Falls. This power, which will supply the entire wants of the town with a surplus for sale, is made possible by the dam which the Government, in the course of canal construction, will erect. Thus the argument that the Trenton outlet would, on account of the power it would develop, be superior to the Port Hope terminus, receives its first practical justification. And Campbellford is not by any means the only point at which power possibilities will be created by the building of the canal.

DOGMATISM AND DIPLOMACY

It seems that the Scripture is being fulfilled—"There is nothing hid that shall not be revealed." When Rev. Robert Emberson, a returned missionary to Japan in the semi-seclusion of a woman's missionary meeting in the George street Methodist church on Thursday night, drew a contrast between the treatment of Canadians and Japanese by the respective countries, he perhaps had no idea that his apparently innocent remark would engage international attention. But this it may do. It is on the high road to doing. The Globe, which is to Canada what the Times is to Great Britain, has founded a solemn article upon what he said in this regard, which is reproduced as follows:—

Rev. Robert Emberson, a returned missionary, says Canada has not treated Japan as generously as it has treated Canada. He bases his censure of Canadians on the recent uprising against Orientals in British Columbia, and contrasts, unfavourably to Canada, the measures adopted for the protection of the Japanese in Vancouver with the measures taken by the Japanese for the protection of foreigners during the riots that followed the treaty with Russia. In his opinion the Japanese have good reason to question the superiority of Canadians over Japanese civilization and the sense of international obligation.

These remarks are gratuitously unjust to the Canadian Government and the Canadian people. Apart from the question whether the Vancouver riot was not started by American mischief-makers from the other side of Puget Sound, there was nothing wanting in the action taken by the Canadian authorities in the premises. The riot was one of those sudden uprising that could not have been guarded against. The correct thing to do was to apologize to the Japanese Government and offer reparation. This was done, and the apology and the offer were promptly and courteously accepted. As a matter of fact, the damage done to Japanese property during the disturbance is being ascertained on the sworn testimony of the sufferers themselves, and ample compensation will be given.

By implication Mr. Emberson raises the question whether Canadians are acting generously in seeking to keep down to a very low limit the number of Japanese admitted to this country as immigrants. He must be aware that the purpose of these people is to settle down in it, to acquire real property and valuable franchises, to become naturalized for the purpose of enabling them to do so, and to thus put themselves in a position to influence Canadian politics to their own advantage. British Columbia is a sparsely-settled Province with great natural resources. Japan is a country of congested population, able to send across the ocean a million of its forty million people without greatly missing them. Let this stream be once fairly started and it will be found impossible to counteract it even by "pumping in the white people" from Great Britain, as Mr. Kipling has advised us to do. Mr. Emberson evidently has not studied the situation from the Canadian side.

Rev. Mr. Emberson's rather sweeping generalization of the situation is natural. Cranks are apt to take extreme views. The word crank is not here used in an offensive sense, but to mean an extreme enthusiast, such as a man must be who, for conscience sake, puts behind him the allurements and comforts of his native civilization, to devote himself to the perils, privations and toils of missionary work. Such a man becomes, to a large degree, a man of one dominating idea, which excludes as trifles most ordinary considerations. As the Globe hints Rev. Mr. Emberson may not have studied the Canadian side of the question, and that too, is natural. Ministers are largely confined to dealing with truths which do not admit of proof by material or documentary evidence and so, in dealing with mundane matters, are apt to accept, as facts, by perhaps unconscious exercise of faith, things whose acceptance by the ordinary mind involves something in the nature of intelligible evidence. Thus the dogmatic diathesis comes into existence, and the habit of ex-cathedra utterances is formed. Such a course within the spiritual or religious domain is comparatively safe, possibly because proof or disproof is beyond ordinary powers; but when a similar course is travelled in the realm of worldly things, conclusions must be based on existing facts or conditions. The statement of a minister in the pulpit must be accepted by an act of faith. A politician's statements on the stump must, to gain credence or credit, be in line with known, or ascertainable, facts. Some ministers never get out of the pulpit, but in dealing with secular matters, retain the pulpit mind and therefore—in a word—jump at conclusions, accept on faith, as facts, what should come from investigation, acting of course in perfect good faith, but with sometimes a little too much of it. Rev. Mr. Emberson, no doubt felt the truth of what he said but diplomacy is an exact science and facts, not feelings, are the tools to be handled—with due caution and tact.

The farmer's boy who flagged the Grand Junction mail train at Stirling and saved many lives should be substantially rewarded. Remembering Toronto's splendid contribution of $30 to the Longboat education fund, the Keegan lad might be commended to the generosity of the Queen City. It might raise 30 cents, anyway, though the boy only saved a few lives, while Longboat achieved the magnificent "stunt" of saving the wagers of some betting men.

THE MAN WHO WORRIES

It's Influence Upon Health

A well known physician relates the following instance. A patient suffering from some obscure pulmonary trouble called for a consultation and the symptoms were detailed at length.

For many years this man had not only consulted and treated with one physician after another, but he had read every book he could find on the subject of his trouble. His mind had been kept continually upon his ailment and in consequence his life was most miserable.

Had this man employed his mind with other subjects, taken plenty of fresh air, exercise, and built up his general health by taking our cod liver preparation, Vinol, which is made by a scientific, extractive and concentrating process from fresh cods' livers, combining with peptonate-of-iron all the medicinal, healing, body-building elements of cod liver oil, but no oil, he would have been a well and happy man all these years. Vinol purifies and enriches the blood, tones up the digestive organs, and strengthens every organ of the body to do its work as nature intended. We sell Vinol on a guarantee to return money if it fails to give satisfaction. McDermid & Jury, Druggists, Peterborough, also The Market drug store.

CAVENDISH MAN WAS ARRESTED

Constable Cochrane Found Him in The City This Morning

County constable Cochrane arrested William O. Haines, of Cavendish township this morning, in the city, on a charge of theft. The constable went back to Haines' residence last week, but the object of his search had disappeared. He was located by Mr. Cochrane here this morning, and arrested.

The prisoner appeared before County Magistrate Edmison about eleven o'clock, and was remanded until November 20th. He was given his freedom on $200 bail by himself and $100 surety.

Haines is accused of stealing goods from a house he had sold to another party some time ago. The loss includes some 400 feet of lumber, which was on the property before he disposed of it.

PROPER RECEPTACLE FOR THE MAIL

Letters Being Lost on This Account—A Time Saver to Mail Men

The street mail carriers are complaining of the trouble given them in not providing some receptacle for the mail they deliver. This is, of course, only the case in some respects, as many residents have already provided the opening in the door.

One of the letter carriers explained to-day that he visited a house on Saturday, with a letter, three times, which he was not able to get inside the house. The door was locked and the occupants were either absent or sleeping. It would be a great benefit, he states, to the mail men if some means was provided in every house to prevent the wasting of time and loss of letters to the citizens.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. CANADIAN M.D'S IGNORED.

Complaint That They Were Overlooked In Exeter, England.

In our last issue we mentioned the fact that fourteen Canadian physicians attended the meeting recently held in Exeter. We had supposed that those who worked so diligently for a whole year to make the Toronto meeting a success, and entertained the visiting members so handsomely, would have received courteous treatment at Exeter. We have since learned with extreme regret that the majority of them were absolutely ignored during their attendance at the meeting.

We are told that there were certain entertainments, and notices were put up asking the members to send in their names if they wished to attend such functions. In most cases the numbers were limited, and the selected few were chosen from the hungry applicants by ballot. This generous hospitality was not appreciated by the majority of the visitors, who declined to send in their names, and as a consequence they did not appear at the picnics and tea parties.

So far as we can learn they were not pining for buns and tea, but they would have liked a handshake or a friendly greeting of some sort. It would scarcely be fair to expect a small town of 50,000 people to do much in the way of entertaining, but surely the local members might have taken the trouble to show a little civility to prominent visitors from Canada and other countries. If, however, the residents of Exeter did not care to take so much trouble, we think the Council of the Association might have put forth some slight efforts to extend a welcome.—Canadian Practitioner and Review.

ARE JUST MUD-LARKING.

White Race In Canada Will Hold Its Ground Against Asiatics.

That a dependency entering into a treaty with a foreign country otherwise than with the cognizance and by the authority of the Imperial power would be merely mud-larking, is a fact which cannot have escaped the intellect of Sir Wilfrid Laurier. Nor can Sir Wilfrid doubt what would be the answer of the people of Great Britain if they were called upon to go to war with Japan for the purpose of excluding from British Columbia labor which has a treaty right to come in, and which employers in the province itself are wishing to introduce. Out of the diplomatic entanglement there really seems to be no formally available way. Practically, Japan, having been exhausted by the war with Russia, and Russia being pretty well upon her feet again, Korea being restive, and the case of the United States being nearly identical with that of Great Britain, so that the two powers would stand together, Japan will no doubt be reasonable, and for the present some pacific solution will be found.

The ultimate sequel of the course which events are now taking will be the reunion of the English-speaking race upon this continent for the purpose of holding its ground in common against the invading east. Towards that consummation Sir Wilfrid Laurier's claim of diplomatic independence is morally a step in advance. —Goldwin Smith, in The Sun.

The Call of Canada.

Believe me, you cannot over-estimate the riches of Canada. Her forests, her mines, her fisheries, her fruit valleys, and her gigantic wheat fields teem with incalculable wealth. To realize the infinite promise of Canada, her dominions must be seen with the eyes. But, with my hand on my heart, I do verily and faithfully assure you that to every honest and hard-working man in Great Britain, this vast territory, peopled with the population of London, offers friendship, comfort, civilization and prosperity. The days of roughing it—peace to the paint-pot carrier—belong to the past. Here in this established country hard work alone stands between a man and a fortune. He may miss this and that, he may find the winters (unless he go to British Columbia) a test of his mettle, and his wife, if he go to the prairie, may now and then long for closer neighbors, but he will not have to rough it, and fortune is his for the working.

The great-hearted pioneers look down from heaven, and behold the smoke of engines through the Rocky Mountains, the tide of electricity flowing from the loud waterfalls, the haze of many chimneys beside river and lake; they mark the sun-flamed spires and towers of prairie cities, they hear the ceaseless clamor of workshop and factory; they catch the song of children playing in the woods, they listen to the music of the ripening wheat fields, and they smile into each other's eyes in the clear, sweet ether of their paradise at the murmurs of the mournful immigrant. Lord, that men should speak of roughing it in a land still holy with the masculine dust of the great white pathfinders! Lord, that men should shiver and starve in the slums of London with this golden orchard of the West calling them with the melody of freedom! Lord, Lord, that we are all quarrelling over a dog-eared page in economics, while the gates of Eden, through which the dawn streams in unclouded splendor, stand open for our feet!—Harold Begbie in The London Chronicle.

SAVED THE SCENE.

A Case Where Necessity Was the Mother of Invention.

William Faversham once saved himself a dismissal from a company in his early days through his quick wit.

"I had been engaged as 'utility man,'" he says, "with a company that opened with a war play in a western town. I had a difficult part that ran through every act, and it was important even if I had little to say or do. I got along very well, and in spite of the many costume changes I had I met with no difficulty until the last act. I was an 'orderly' in this scene, and I was hurrying to buckle my belt when I heard my cue.

"I hastened to the wings. Some one threw fuller's earth all over me to show that I had been riding hard, and I dashed madly on just as the sound of hoofs died away. When I reached the center of the stage and the applause had subsided my hand went into my tunic for my dispatches, which I was to hand to General Allen. I had forgotten them!

"Now, these dispatches furnished the climax of the play, and something had to be done, and done quickly. I felt my heart rise in my throat and knew that every one on the stage was looking at me. The wait was growing awful, terrible, and I was just about losing courage when a brilliant idea came to me. I threw open my shirt, ripped off a porous plaster I was wearing and thrust it into the general's hand. Then I staggered to a chair and dropped exhausted. There was a round of applause, for the audience thought that I had been shot and had covered the wound with the dispatches."—Bohemian.

Elements of the Universe.

Science declares that up to date the suns and planets all seem to be built up out of identical materials. We are not acquainted with any element in any of the heavenly bodies which is not to be found, for instance, on the earth. Helium, for example, first discovered in the sun, was subsequently found on earth in the rare mineral cleivite. In the handful of earth that you pick up at your feet you may behold the contents of the universe.

DR. CHASE'S OINTMENT

Practical Tailoring

Well dressed men will have observed how timid the "Ready-made" mechanic is of putting on the extreme styles in their garments. Why? Because the fashion of to-day is not likely to be the fashion of next season; and so the left-overs, or "the last year's bird's-nests" would remain on their hands.

The advanced fashions in Suits and Overcoats possess several distinctive features this season, such as real and imitative cuffs to the sleeves, which give a pleasing effect and finish. Besides not every man is possessed of a symmetrical figure, and in the event of disproportion, the skilled tailor gets in his practical work.

WHITE MAN'S NIGHTMARE.

Yellow Peril Was Created by European Aggression.

Speaking recently at the Empire Club, Toronto, Rev. C. S. Eby, secretary for Eastern Asia of the International Reform Bureau, and with twenty years' experience in Japan, spoke on the true inwardness of the yellow peril. Japan, he said, was but one factor in a very much greater whole affecting the fate of the white race in contact with not only the yellow but the brown race. There was a yellow peril on the horizon, but it was a thing very different from the imagination of the trades union. The idea that the yellow man came in to wrest away the supremacy from the white was a pure nightmare. It was the national imagination which made cowards of us all.

As robbers of continents the white man was always afraid other races were going to despoil him. There was a yellow peril, ominous, imminent and entirely of the white men's creating, a crisis which if forced on would cripple the white man, and London would be as Nineveh and Tyre. If ever China was aggressive she had got over it centuries ago. The Chinese were as virile and numerous as ever they were in the long history of peoples. The white man struck upon China when she was having one century of a nap. She believed she was at peace with all the world, and the incoming of the white world was like a thunderbolt out of an absolutely unknown sphere. The Chinaman was the slowest of mortals under compulsion, but when he understood he was the swiftest of mortals in execution of any being in the world. The Chinaman had all the resources for being one of the most terrific soldiers in the world. During the past two years China had been transformed and had adopted western methods more effectually than the Japanese had; in fact. China could supply ten million men capable of bearing arms. What would Europe do if such a horde invaded them? And in China they had all the resources to turn their whole country into a great arsenal.

The thing that would most quicken the hatred of the yellow men was the perpetual nagging of anti-Asiatics. Anything that hinted at the inferiority of the yellow race cut them to the quick and fanned their hatred, while kindness and using them as brothers would get for Europeans all they wanted.

Referring specifically to British Columbia, Mr. Eby said that he could remember the time when the Ontario Chinaman or any outsider had aroused as much bitterness as the Oriental Chinese were arousing now. The Japanese if properly approached would undoubtedly restrict the number of immigrants.

ONTARIO'S INTEREST.

Province Will Appeal to Privy Council Against Dominion Government.

Legal steps will probably be taken shortly to appeal to the Privy Council the judgment handed out last summer by the Supreme Court in the case of the Province of Ontario v. the Dominion of Canada, relative to the trust funds of the Province now held by the Dominion. By the judgment of the Supreme Court the claim of Ontario that the Dominion could not reduce the interest paid on the Upper Canada Grammar School and other funds from 5 to 4 per cent., as was done three years ago, was upheld, while the Dominion won its contention that the whole principal could be repaid to the Province. Correspondence is now taking place between the Province and the Dominion looking to have the case finally settled by an appeal to the Privy Council.

The Sufferings of the Dyspeptic

DUE TO NEGLECTING TO KEEP THE LIVER RIGHT, THE DIGESTION GOOD, THE BOWELS HEALTHY BY USING

DR. CHASE'S KIDNEY-LIVER PILLS

You may shudder to think of yourself as a dyspeptic—as one who, through stomach troubles, has come to look on the dark side of things, and to be ill-tempered and grouchy—but if you neglect treatment for repeated attacks of indigestion you will most assuredly become a chronic dyspeptic.

The great mistake is to put the blame on the stomach, and strive in vain for lasting benefit from tablets and so-called digestives. The real cause of trouble in nine cases out of ten is with the liver.

Thousands of persons are being cured of complicated cases of indigestion by Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, because of their direct action on the liver, thus ensuring a good flow of bile—good digestion and healthful action of the bowels.

Mr. C. D. Bennett, Maple Grove, Megantic Co., Que., writes: "I had dyspepsia very bad. The food would sour, my stomach would swell up. I suffered a great deal and could not sleep. As the result of using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills I am now entirely cured, and can eat any kind of food without feeling any bad effects. They have made a new man and a younger man of me, and I cannot say too much in their praise."

"Dr. Chase's Ointment cured a friend of mine of piles when he was so bad he could not work or even stand up."

Mr. Wm. G. Purdy, Bridgetown, N. S., writes:—"When I wrote to you for Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills I was a sufferer from kidney disease, stomach troubles, and liver and bowel disorders. By using one pill at bedtime every night my health has gradually improved until I can say that I am in better health than I have been for twenty years. All other medicines failed, but Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills have cured me."

This treatment is thorough, far-reaching and of lasting benefit, and cures the most severe cases of chronic and intestinal indigestion, as well as biliousness and constipation; 25 cts. a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

TELLS STRANGE STORY

CANADIAN'S ADVENTURES READ LIKE A DIME NOVEL.

Left Fortune by Woman He Befriended—Was Drugged and Abducted—Shanghaied on Board Ship—Confined in Filthy Hold for Months—Jailed in Mexico But Escaped—Finally Reached Chicago Destitute.

Bequeathed a fortune of $180,000 by a wealthy woman, whom he had befriended in a train wreck, kidnapped, shanghaied aboard a ship, held prisoner in its filthy hold for months, escaped only to be thrown into a Mexican prison, and again held prisoner for months, then to find that he had been robbed of his alleged inheritance, is the story of Fred C. Dorway of Sudbury, Ont., who told it recently at the Palmer House in Chicago. He was there with his wife, whom he said he had not seen since January, 1906, when he was kidnapped in Montreal.

Story of the Rescue.

Dorway is now on his way to New York to take steps to recover the money of which he alleges he was defrauded. "It was left to me by Mrs. J. H. James of Fifth avenue, New York, who died soon after the train wreck," he said. Dorway is a telegraph operator and says he was stationed at Rush Lake, Sask., on the Canadian Pacific Railway, in November, 1905. One bitter night in that month the east-bound Canadian Pacific Limited was cut in two and run in two sections. In the blinding snow the second section crashed into the first near Moose Jaw. He went to the scene of the wreck, and in the last sleeper he found Mrs. J. H. James, who was severely injured. He assisted in carrying her to a section house, put his fur coat about the unconscious woman, and summoned medical assistance. Then he carried her to the nearest house. He paid the attending physician $25, and after Mrs. James had been taken to New York, he sent the bill, stating that he could not spare the money. "In a month," said he, "I received a packet of papers and a letter from her lawyers stating that Mrs. James had died and in her will had bequeathed me $180,000. Through the advice of friends I placed the matter in the hands of J. J. Dunlop of Kansas City. In January, 1906, I received a letter from Dunlop in New York asking me to meet him.

Drugged in Montreal.

"I went from Sudbury by way of Montreal. There I met a man who gave the name of Malcolmson. He had a letter of introduction to me. I refused to drink with him, but in my room he gave me some chocolate candy, which I ate. That is the last I remember until I found myself aboard a ship in a dark, filthy space in the hold. I have an indistinct recollection of riding on a train before I was put on the ship. I had lost all idea of time, my mind simply being held to one purpose, to escape from that dungeon.

"At times a hatchway would be partly opened, and bread and water thrust down to me, and once in a great while a piece of half-cooked meat of some kind. I could hear men talking, and one time I heard one man say: 'We are going ashore tonight, and will leave you and Bill to watch the prisoner. We are going on a spree.' I made up my mind to escape, and when the man opened the hatchway I shoved my suspenders in the open crack. That kept the hatch from closing tight, and later I made my way on deck. In the scuffle that followed I knocked a man overboard and I believe he was drowned.

Escaped to Shore.

"When I escaped ashore I found I was in Vera Cruz, Mexico. I was blind from my long confinement in the ship's hold, was arrested and put in prison. In six weeks I again escaped to Zacatecas, where I boarded the ship Presidio. I told my story to Capt. Jenkins, an American, and he carried me to San Francisco, where I landed on Aug. 14 last. I had been stripped of all marks of identification. I telegraphed my wife. The telegraph strike was on, but I had to have money and was sent to Salt Lake to work. I did Associated Press work and saved my money. The first pay day I telegraphed my wife to meet me in Chicago and she came. I am going to stay here a while and get money to take me to New York, where I expect to begin a legal fight for the $180,000. This story sounds like a dream, but it is no dream to me."

Laying Up Trouble.

Mr. Ramsay Macdonald, the Labor M. P., speaking recently in London, Eng., said Canada had been prodigal with her land; and he felt sure that by her extravagant system of land grants and her wholesale alienation of the land from the crown to private owners she was laying up for herself a fearful store of trouble.

Regarding Japanese immigration he declared that the people here had better make up their minds. British Columbia was not going to tolerate immigration either of Chinese or Japanese, and resistance to yellow immigration must create a serious situation on the Pacific. He believed the real object of the Australian navy was to fight Japan.

Mr. Macdonald also declared that the very worst elements in American political life were showing themselves in Canada, though the Dominion was doing its best to develop a national life. He protested against the emigration of agricultural laborers to Canada. If Canada were not careful the Canadian Pacific would swallow it whole. Labor had to take the Empire from the capitalists who were running it in their own interests, and make it a great engine for the peace of the world.

CHINA HALL'S NEW PREMISES, 394 GEORGE ST.

FOR BIG CITY'S HOSPITAL.

Institutions of Healing in London, England, Have Large Income.

A great source of income to the London hospitals, and which also comes under the head of "voluntary contributions," are the sums raised by what is known as King Edward's hospital fund for London. It is to this fund that Carnegie has just given his $500,000. Last year the total income of this fund was $554,775.

This fund was founded by King Edward ten years ago, and is one of His Majesty's most creditable hobbies. Every member of the royal family is supposed to contribute something to this fund, even down to the little princes and princesses. Of royal subscribers, King Edward gives annually $525; Queen Alexandra, $125; the Prince of Wales, $1,500; Princess Victoria, $25; little Prince Edward, $5.25; while little Prince Albert, Princess Victoria of Wales, Prince Henry and Prince George each give $5.25. The total royal donations amount to about $2,775. Of course, it might have been a trifle more, considering that the royal family of England draws from the British people every year about $2,860,000, but as the King and the Prince of Wales give their personal service to the fund, the generosity of the subscription itself should not, perhaps, be questioned.

One of the largest sources of wealth of the London hospitals are bequests by will. Recently Mrs. Lewis-Hill, wife of the famous London pawnbroker, died and left $1,250,000 to the fund; Alfred Beit left $100,000, while George Herring, previous to his death, had contributed $450,000 to King Edward's fund. In his will he left to the hospital fund a large sum of money which he had loaned the Salvation Army and also his splendid home in Park lane.

ROMANCE LATE IN LIFE.

Man of 90 Who Wanted to Marry His Niece.

An extraordinary incident occurred at Atherstone in connection with a marriage that had been arranged to take place between an old man named Marlow, who is 90 years of age, and his housekeeper, whose name is Gillett, 64. The usual notice had been published at the Registry Office for the specified period, and the wedding was fixed for 12 o'clock. It is understood, however, that the superintendent registrar was informed on credible authority that the would-be bridegroom was uncle to his intended bride. Having satisfied himself that this relationship really existed between the parties he at once intimated to them that he should refuse to marry them. It is said that this action on the part of the registrar greatly disappointed the aged couple, neither of whom had been married before. As Mr. Marlow is possessed of a considerable sum of money and having no other relations he wanted to assure it to his niece. Like many country people, he dreaded the thought of making a will, and considered that the safest plan was to marry his niece, and to allow the money to devolve upon her at his death. Directly the registrar told the parties what the law on the matter was they immediately cancelled the marriage notices. They said that they had heard of a similar case at Nuneaton where a man had married his niece, and they therefore thought that it was a lawful thing to do.

BURNS ON THE TRAMP.

Interested in Physical Endurance of the German Troops.

Mr. John Burns has been paying a visit to Berlin and other German towns. Herr Caspar, who directs the Department for the Social Betterment of the Working Classes, told our correspondent that Mr. Burns showed insatiable interest not only in German working conditions and institutions, but particularly in the types of the workmen themselves. "Everywhere I took him," said Herr Caspar, "it was always the people he studied."

Mr. Burns even attended the manoeuvres of the German Guard du Corps at Wreschen in order to gain an accurate idea of the physical endurance of the average German. Here Mr. Burns participated in long and fatiguing marches with the men, visited them daily in camp, and mixed with them freely. The manoeuvres interested him, he said, not from the military standpoint, but simply from the light they threw on the physique of the nation.

What a Railway Strike Means.

A strike, which may affect the principal railways in the United Kingdom, is under consideration at the present time. Some idea of the enormous magnitude of the interests at stake may be obtained from the fact that the total amount of railway capital returned as raised at the close of the year 1905 was nearly 1,233 million pounds, the length of line open for traffic being 23,694 miles (10,257 single and 12,807 double or more). The seriousness of the dislocation of business and the daily life of the community may be estimated from the following figures: Last year, according to the preliminary official summary, there were carried on the various railways:

35,509,000 first-class passengers.
72,950,000 second-class passengers.
1,162,179,000 third-class passengers.

This does not include about one million holders of season tickets.

In addition, some 488,689,000 tons of mineral and general merchandise were conveyed over the metals last year. The passenger trains traveled 253,608,000 miles, the goods trains 158,877,000 and the mixed trains 1,732,000; the three combined traveling in all 414,217,000 miles. During last year, according to the preliminary figures, the companies received £49,882,000 from passenger traffic; £58,393,000 from goods traffic; £4,785,000 from steamboats, canals, harbors, docks, etc.; and £4,182,000 from miscellaneous sources. In all, their receipts totaled the tremendous sum of £117,242,000—the revenue of a first-class European state.

Home Life Degenerated.

At a recent meeting of the Upper Canada Bible Society the best methods to cope with the vast tide of immigration sweeping into the Dominion were discussed. The president of the society, Mr. N. W. Hoyles, was in the chair. After Rev. Jesse Gibson, the secretary of the society, had stated that as a result of a century's work their organization had increased their production and circulation of the Bible from four to two hundred and four millions he introduced the topic of the meeting. He pointed out that against the 216,000 immigrants of last year there were already 230,000 recorded up to August, and it was computed that in the current year Canada would have at least 300,000 new inhabitants. Rev. Dr. Rankin called attention to the seriousness of the problem in his declaration that never in the history of the United States had immigration reached more than one per cent. of the population, while in the past eight months the stream pouring into the Dominion had equalled four per cent. of the permanent residents of Canada. The question before them was were these people going to remodel them or were they going to be true to their trust and remodel those alien peoples; or were they going to degenerate, as the Americans had degenerated? The home was the principal factor in the national life, and he believed that the home life of Canadians had degenerated. Family worship was neglected, and our public schools, on account of the scarcity of male teachers, could not produce the manly development of character essential for a strong nation.

Dr. Falconer, president of the University of Toronto, said they had no need to go outside their own town to be struck by the number of those who showed distinctly foreign characteristics. Toronto must meet the social problems which were perplexing the old world unless a great undigested mass of people with their old traditions and discontent should find the conditions they had left repeated, and giving up the hope that they would escape from their old narrow life in a new country should become still more discontented. It was a matter of self-defence to see to the welfare of the people in their midst.

Nothing but Mouth.

Two friends, A and B, were very fond of bragging. A said to B, "There is in my village a giant whose head touches the heavens and whose feet reach the earth."

B said: "In my village there is a giant much larger. His upper lip pierces the heavens and his lower lip covers the earth." A, taken back, asked, "Where, then, is his body?" B answered, "He had nothing but mouth."—From the Chinese.

Caught a Tartar.

"So you want my daughter?" said the stern parent.

"Yes, sir," answered the young suitor modestly.

"Huh!" grunted the old man. "Got any money?"

"Yes, sir. How high do you quote her?"

A Dangerous Question.

"Would you marry again, George, if I were to die?"

"No, indeed!"

"You brute! You want the world to believe that I'm such a bad wife you would not want another!"

SEWER CONSTRUCTED RAPIDLY

Mr. Wm. White Superintending Gang of Men Make a Record

One thousand feet of sewer pipe in eight days is the work done by Mr. Wm. White, foreman of one of the city's gangs of day labour men, during the past week and a half. As far as is known, this is a record for the season in the rapid construction of sewers. The work was begun on Park street, where Rink street intersects, and was continued south to Albert street, where a man-hole was made and the sewer extended west on Albert street to Lafayette avenue. Pipes were also placed on Jackson avenue. The sewer is now completed, but the men are engaged in making connections with the residences on these streets. This is certainly fast work and is the best done by Mr. White's men this year.

COMBINE MEETING AT ST. ANDREWS

Prayer Meeting and Christian Endeavor Society Meeting to be Held To-night —Other Meetings of the Week

On account of Thanksgiving Day coming this week there has been a re-arrangement of the meetings at St. Andrew's Church. The Christian Endeavour Society meeting to-night will be combined with the prayer meeting, and on Wednesday night at 8 o'clock the Ladies' Aid Society will meet to complete arrangements for the annual dinner on Thanksgiving Day. The dinner will be served at 5 o'clock, and will be followed by an entertainment.

TO HOLD A MISSIONARY SERVICE

Interesting Meeting of Epworth League Of Mark Street Methodist Church Will Be Held To-night

An interesting meeting of the Epworth League of the Mark Street Methodist Church will be held to-night, when a missionary topic will be taken up, Mrs. E. D. Lewis dealing with it. There will also be a good musical programme. The regular prayer service will be held on Wednesday night, and on Friday the cottage prayer meeting at the residence of Mr. C. Crowe, Sophia street. The regular quarterly communion will be celebrated next Sunday morning.

YOUNG MEN GOING INTO BUSINESS

Third of Series of Special Sermons To Young Men—Lecture on "Evolution Of The Boy" at George Street Methodist Church

To-night at the meeting of the Epworth League of the George Street Methodist Church, Rev. Dr. Langfeldt will give his lecture on "The Evolution of a Boy." In addition to the lecture, which is bound to be an enjoyable feature, there will be musical numbers. Instead of the prayer meeting on Wednesday night there will be a thanksgiving service. On Thanksgiving evening the annual supper will be held, followed by an entertainment. Last night the third in the series of special sermons to young men was preached by the pastor, the subject being, "Going Into Business," and in spite of the disagreeable weather the church was filled. The monthly song service was given, too.

Music and Drama

BONNIE BRIER BUSH

The effective dramatization of Ian McLaren's group of stories under the title of "the Bonnie Briar Bush" was presented three times at the Grand Opera House with good attendances at the first two performances. It was from a standpoint of artistic merit, of heart interest and life like representation splendidly put on. The characters acted as one would expect rational beings to conduct themselves under the circumstances—human beings not mandlin caricatures. Mr. J. Palmer Collins as the stern pietist Lachlan Campbell, gave a splendid presentation of the character. His unbending, if rather puggish piety, his relentless fidelity to his moral standards in battle with his natural love for his daughter, his remorse and his conversion to scarier comprehension of the real elements in religion, were most effectively and naturally worked out. Flora Campbell was well portrayed by Miss Marion McDonald. "Posty" was perfect in his part. W. J. Carey as the slouching, lone-lorn and slow-going shepherd lad was capital and all the supporting characters combined to present a performance quite acceptable to all play-goers with a taste above the ephemeral and sensational froth which so largely holds the boards these days.

"I'M MARRIED NOW"

One of the cleverest comedians who visits Peterborough is George F. Hall, who will be remembered by his past performances in "The American Girl," "An American Hustler," "A Ragged Hero" and "Hello, Bill." Mr. Hall appears under the able management of Mr. Frank W. Nason, whose attractions in the past will be well and favourably remembered. This will be Mr. Hall's first appearance here in this style of character, that of a slick American hobo, Bill Howdy, and Hall gets away with it in a manner that compels laughter. He will doubtless be greeted with a capacity house. Remember the date—Wednesday, October 30.

"THE REAL WIDOW BROWN"

Mr. A. Q. Scammon has been a purveyor of some of the best comedies for years, and in his latest achievement, "The Real Widow Brown," which visits the Grand on Thanksgiving night only, he possesses one of the best drawing attractions on the road. This hilarious play had a long run in New York simply on the strength of its clever situations and interesting complications, but for the road Mr. Scammon has generously and wisely introduced a clever medley of up-to-date songs and dances, enhancing the intrinsic merits of the play insomuch that a famous critic pronounced the comedy to be a veritable "dramatic cocktail." It certainly possesses all its exhilaration and effects without the fatal consequences. If you feel blue and worried with care, go and see "The Real Widow Brown"; if you don't come out a happier man, then your blood is out of order and you should consult an M. D.

A BUSY WEEK AT ALL SAINTS' CHURCH

Thanksgiving Service Will be Held On Thursday Morning—Other Meetings Of The Week

Thanksgiving week will be a busy one in All Saints' Church, in addition to the usual meetings being held, a special service will be conducted on Thursday morning at 10.30. The other meetings of the week will be as follows—Monday, Girls' Guild and Women's Guild; Tuesday Men's Association; Friday afternoon Junior Auxiliary and Boys' Club in the evening. The choir will also practice at 8 o'clock the same evening. Last night the church was filled, when the rector Rev. Wm. Major preached the third of his series of sermons on Heaven, the subject last night being "the Angels."

The funeral was largely attended and many floral offerings testified to the esteem in which the deceased was held by a large number of friends.

Autumn

The following poem is contributed among others by a young Peterborough lady, a girl of fourteen—and though in form it might be improved, gives evidence of considerable poetic insight and closeness of observation.

Oh, thou beautiful, what is comparable to thee,
Bidding thy last farewell, ere thou must flee,
What can I compare thee to? Not to a rose,
But a gentler maiden, saying adieu, before she goes;
Leaving the ball room, with its brilliant light,
To face the deep, dark, dreariness of
night;
So too, dost thou oh Autumn, bid farewell,
Now, the first winter frosts have fell,
So too, doth winter come, as dreary
night,
Putting thy loveliness of shroud to blight;
Yet now, across the waving fields of wheat, look
And I hear the last murmur of the brook;
Above my head the calling of the crows
as they depart;
Does this scene of nature touch thy heart?
Farewell, gentle Autumn, adieu, adieu
Thou art gone, but still a cherish memories sweet of you.
Still once again, down country lanes
I wander,
Stooping o'er the last blue-bell, I linger
Loth to leave this scene to winter's ghost;
Think for a moment, what this scene
has really cost;
But all, at last, must wither and decay,
And sleep content until the Judgment day;
Fair youth is like the bloom of gaudy
flowers,
And age is like the withering of leafy
bowers;
Like Autumn, too, we soon will lie at rest,
For ripening of life is but a final test.

DOROTHY NEILL MACMILLAN

HANDSOME FIXTURES IN HOTEL BAR

Crown Hotel Has Recently Undergone A Number of Improvements

The Crown Hotel of which Mr. Fred A. Clarke is the proprietor, has recently undergone improvements which have made its bar one of the most handsome and best equipped in the country. The fixtures are particularly fine. The work boards underneath the counter are made of solid german silver. They are the only ones in Peterborough equipped in this manner, and there are very few in the province similarly equipped.

One of the most important features of the bar is the ample space behind it afforded for the work of the wine clerks. In the background are two handsome mirrors, and below them glass cases for displayed liquors. Underneath the bar and above the work boards, which are the very pictures of cleanliness, is a row of electric lights, so that plenty of light is assured.

The walls are covered with beautiful Oriental paper, and the brackets below the ceiling are covered with electric light fixtures. The whole general appearance of the interior is of a handsome character, roomy and bright, making it one of the finest bars in the country.

Compressed air pumps in the cellar are used for pumping up the ale and lager. They are worked by merely turning a tap. A hot water furnace has been installed sending heat to all parts of the house.

Mrs. Housekeeper Heeded Our Words

To-day at this store at this writing Mrs. Housekeeper is here and on the most intimate terms with Linens and Domestics, the Blankets and Comfortables, the Floor Coverings and Draperies and the Housefurnishings. She is delighted and fascinated with the prices, and well she may be, for they are beautifully trimmed of one-fourth to one-third of their regular figure. We will be glad to see you here to-morrow, or any day this week, and sell you Linens, Carpets, Draperies, Dress Goods, Hosiery, Underwear, Millinery, Suits and Coats at prices you will be glad to take advantage of.

DUCK SHOOTING AT RICE LAKE

Twenty Eight Birds Bagged by Two Local Lovers of The Sport

Messrs. Ernie Mitchell and Jas. Goselin have returned from a delightful week's duck shooting at Paudash Point, Rice Lake, and were successful in bringing down 28 of the prized birds. The weather was ideal, every day being warm and sunny. In one respect this was a drawback as the ducks are not decoyed so easily as when the weather is cold. Messrs. B. O'Dette, Col. J. Z. Rogers and Milne Hamilton are camped at Sugar Island and are having good sport and meeting with fair results.

Mr. Mitchell says that the ducks are about as plentiful as last year and will be better when the weather changes. The majority of the hunters are found on the south-east side of the lake between Harwood and Grape Island.

A number of the Indians are after the ducks but are not more successful than their white brothers. Fishing in the lake is not very good now but is reported to be better in the river.

There is a fairly large number of hunters this year most of them from various points around the lake and all are having great sport.

Tully's Hair Tonic

and DANDRUFF CURE makes the hair grow July 24th, 1907

About the month of September, 1906, my hair began to come out in large spots, leaving the scalp perfectly bare on the right side of the head, also my beard on the left side. About the 15th of December I showed it to J. D. Tully, Druggist; he said that he had a preparation that would restore the hair. I could scarcely credit his statement, but decided to try it, and in three weeks using the hair commenced to grow. Since that time I have lost nearly all my old hair which has been entirely replaced with new hair, and the beard also. I consider this by all means the best hair grower on the market, as I had previously tried other preparations without any effect. Any one wishing to ask me about it will find me at my home, 265 McDonnel Street, Peterborough, or at R. R. Crossing, G.T.R., Charlotte St.

DIED SUDDENLY IN THE NIGHT

Mr. David Reid in Good Health Last Night Found Dead This Morning

The family of the late Mr. David Reid, 181 1-2 London street, received a severe shock this morning, when after retiring in his usual health last evening, he was found dead in his bed. The deceased had been ailing about four years, but his condition was not considered serious. He was in fairly good health yesterday and gave no evidence at night of any change for the worse. It is supposed that his death was due to heart failure.

The late Mr. Reid was born in Caledon, Ont., 70 years ago. His marriage was celebrated about 38 years ago, and the family had resided in this city since 1898. His wife still survives him, with the following family: Mrs. L. Bowes, of Regina; Wm. Reid, of Bensfort; Daniel Reid, at home, and Mrs. H. Godfrey, Harvey street.

The deceased was a member of the Methodist Church, and a Liberal in politics.

The funeral will be held from the family residence on Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock to the Little Lake Cemetery.

GROVER SIGHTS 7 DEER IN ONE HERD

Mr. Robert Howden Brings Down Interesting Report For Hunters

The deer hunters who are going north this week will be pleased to learn of the report brought down by Mr. Robt. Howden, a cattle buyer who visited Chandos township last week. He says that the deer will be plentiful this year from his experience while north, and predicts good sport for the nimrods.

About sixteen miles to the north-east of Apsley he saw seven deer in one herd only about one hundred yards distant. They stood there while Mr. Howden and his drovers went by, and seemed to take more than an ordinary interest in their passing.

A SMITH DEER HUNTING PARTY

Coon, Bridgenorth and others. The party will go back to Gull Lake, their customary haunt, and expect to get the full complement of the fleet-footed antlered monarchs.

SMITH MAN HAS FREAK POTATO

And Some That Weigh Over 4 Pounds— Big Crop on Half an Acre

Mr. T A Young, of the 4th concession of Smith Township, has a potato freak on his farm against which he challenges competition. When the stalks of the originally planted potato had grown considerably they drooped over and took root 8 inches from the hill. At the bottom of this newly formed root, two potatoes, the size of hen eggs, have grown, which in all his career as a farmer, Mr. Young has never seen duplicated.

Referring to big potatoes Mr. Young believes he has some that cannot be beaten. He found one which weighed 4 lbs. when placed on the scales and would have weighed more had not a piece been cut off by the fork in digging. He has plenty that range around 2 lbs. in weight and from a field containing one-half an acre he has dug 70 bags.

But the freak potato Mr. Young considers unique and he still has the vine at his home to convince the sceptic.

RECORD BREAKING PINE STUMP

Leaves a Hole 10 Feet Deep in Soil and Of Immense Proportions

On the old railroad property on the shore of Chemong Lake and on the 9th concession of Smith, a pine stump was last week extracted which bore testimony to the size the pine trees once grew in these sections and to the great value of them in the years gone by. The stump was situated on the farm of Mrs. Louis Fowler and when the stumping machine laid it on the surface of the ground it was found to be over 30 feet in circumference, 12 feet in diameter and it left a hole in the ground 10 feet in depth.

Mr. Wm. Harrison, of Emily, the owner of the stumping machine, states that he has seldom seen a stump so deep in the soil and was surprised to find it such on Mrs. Fowler's farm as he had heard the soil on top of the rock was only two feet in depth.

The original tree must certainly have been a record breaker in proportions and of the character of those we read about where houses are scooped out of the trunks.

Peterborough Lost a Ragged Game To Toronto Vics

North End Toronto Bunch Won Second Game of The O.R.F.U. Senior Series Saturday---Lou Marsh's Disgraceful Playing May Result in His Suspension---Team Played Under Every Possible Disadvantage

Playing under every possible disadvantage the Peterborough Rugby team was defeated in Toronto on Saturday afternoon, in the second game of the senior O.R.F.U. series by the Victorias, the score at full time being 26—21, in favour of the North Toronto aggregation. Those who saw the first game between the two clubs, when the Vics were beaten 40-6, will hardly credit the score, but if they had been on hand on Saturday they would have been able to form some idea of the situation. The game was a ragged exhibition, and nearly all the points scored were on fumbles and misplays of the opposing side, neither team showing championship form. Peterborough, in particular, slumped badly from their standard of two weeks ago, and did not play nearly the same classic brand of Rugby. The Vics were aided in their victory by the officials. The latter appeared to be trying to do their best, but it must be admitted that their best was too much for Peterborough. On two different occasions they handed the Vics a try and their decisions had a great effect on the final score.

About one hundred enthusiasts accompanied the team to Toronto on the special C. P. R. train, which left here at 9.30 o'clock, and as a large representation of the Peterborough old boys living in Toronto, turned out to see the match the Petes had no lack of rooters.

The game was played in Jesse Ketchum park, and, before saying anything more about the contest, one should stop for a moment to utter a few words of praise for the grounds selected by the Vics. The field is a school ground, as hard as a cement pavement, and about as level as a Peterborough street. There were no touch lines, or any other lines, around the field, nothing save hard lines for the blue and white team. The goal posts seemed to be slowly dying of old age and so feeble were they, that they had to be held up by two or three players when ever an attempt was made to convert a goal. As a Rugby field, Jesse Ketchum Park is a screech. The Peterboroughs were informed by the Vics early in the week that they could not secure any other grounds, but when the team reached Toronto it was learned that they could have obtained Diamond Park, or Rosedale for the battle.

The crowd which turned out for the game was a large one, and a big proportion of the Vics' followers were looking for trouble all the time. They hurled all kinds of remarks at the Peterborough team, and it is stated that if Peterborough had won out there would have been a riot at once. There was no police protection, and the hoodlums would have had lots of opportunity to mix things up if there had been any need of it. Several policemen strolled in and looked at the game for a few moments, but it was stated that the Vics would not pay for police protection, and the guardians of the law did not stay long.

Disgraceful Playing

Lou Marsh lived up to his reputation of being the dirtiest Rugby player in the city of Toronto, and his conduct throughout the game was disgraceful. He spent over 20 minutes on the fence, being ruled off four times for rough playing, and started at least a dozen fights during the afternoon by his dirty tactics, his favourite feat being to punch a man after he had tackled him. It was in the last few minutes of the game that the culmination of an afternoon's brutality occurred. Marsh has been ruled off for the fourth time and came over to the sidelines. The Vics had the ball near Peterborough's line and were trying to back over. Marsh taking advantage of the dusk and the excitement of the moment, sneaked around the scrimmage line and struck Bill Crowley a heavy blow from behind, knocking him down. It was a most cowardly and brutal assault, and had not Marsh been hurried away from the park by his friends he might have received his just deserts at the hands of the Peterborough team. Fortunately the umpire saw the blow struck and will report Marsh to the O.R.F.U. and his suspension it is altogether likely will follow. Such a man should not be allowed to play the game at all, unless he is muzzled, for he is only hurting the reputation of the grand old game. The Star, in referring to the game, said that old scores would be settled, and Marsh had evidently made up his mind to show that this paper knew what it was talking about. He could not have done much dirtier work unless he had used a revolver or a razor.

A number of the Vics have evidently profited by Marsh's example, as they handed it out freely all afternoon. Some of the team were clean, gentlemanly players, and they were heartily ashamed of the work of their team mates, who seemed bound to put Peterborough out of business. That they were unable to do so is due to the fact that the Petes are able to take care of themselves pretty well.

As has been stated the game was not a brilliant exhibition. Both back divisions fumbled badly, but the mistakes of the Peterboroughs proved the more costly. The play was not nearly so open as in the game here, both sides playing a running and bucking game, rather than trying to gain through punting. In adopting these tactics the Petes made a mistake and they would have done much better if they had played the kicking game as they did here. Colledge was able to out-punt the Vics' halves without trouble, and ground was invariably gained when he booted the ball, but this style of play was not followed throughout, and in the line work the Vics seemed to have a shade the best of it. The Vics' back division did not seem at all sure in catching and more punting by Peterborough would have undoubtedly have increased the score for the locals.

The Vics won the game, or, rather, it was given them, inside the first two minutes of play. The kick-off rolled to Colledge who picked the ball up near his own line and started away with it. He was called back, however, and the ball given to the Vics for off-side interference. Marsh immediately backed over, and the Vics had a five point lead, which which they just managed to maintain throughout, the honours for the balance of the game being even.

At the end of the first quarter the Vics lead by 16—6, and the score for the other quarters was as follows: Vics, 21, Peterborough 14; Vics 23, Peterborough 19; and Vics 26, Peterborough 20. The Vics showed good judgment in the last quarter by holding the ball. They kept bucking all through the quarter and only kicked when they had to, and thus Peterborough was given no opportunity to score fast.

Whatever was the reason, the Peterborough team did not play nearly as an effective game as when the two teams met before. There was a lack of ginger and aggressiveness in their work that contrasted sharply with their efforts in the last struggle. This was true of the wing lines as well as the backs. The former did not give the halves the same protection as usual, and when the Vics had the ball seemed unable to stop the bucks although as the game went on they seemed to improve in that respect. The back division seemed disorganized, and had no system about their work, when on the attack, and on the defence they fumbled badly, several misses being decidedly costly. Colledge did not shine as in the other game. The Vics marked him all the way and whenever a kick was called for they were through on him with the result that several kicks were blocked. He was given no time to get his drop kick away and while he made several attempts they were useless. His punting gained ground but was not used as much as it should have been. Quinlan played his usual good game, getting in some of the few good runs that were made during the day, and catching well. Caniff was tried out on the other half position and did good work, although he is new in the position. In the second he went up on the half line, his place on the back division being taken by Crough. The latter was always prominent, both on the wing line and at half back. He tackled well and in the second half got away with a number of pretty dodging runs. Crowley was at the outside wing and did great work on the attack. He was always under the ball and his fast following up brought big gains. George McDonald was back into the game again, and played well at middle wing. Jack O'Brien made his first appearance in the game, and showed up well in the scrimmage. O'Connor and Dickson played their usual good game on the wing line, both following up well and tackling splendidly. Capt. Hurtubise was in his favourite position of inside wing where he was always effective. He scored a try by fast following up, and on another occasion when Ellacott caught the ball a few feet out Gene picked the Vic half up in his arms and carried him ball and all over the line for a safety touch. Dick Evans at full back, seemed a little nervous at first, but in the second half did good work carrying the ball out from behind his line several times in clever fashion.

The star of the Vics' team was Jerry Ellacott, the clever little left half, who played a brilliant game, making some of the prettiest runs of the day. He was hard to stop when he got under way, and his end runs never failed to gain ground. never made a fumble all day, catching punts beautifully. Stanyon played well at centre half, doing some effective punting. Marsh until he let his temper get the best of him put up a fine game, his line plunging always gaining ground for the Vics. Before long however he was too busy fighting to play Rugby, and he was of no use to his team on the wing line. Pratt was the most prominent, his following up being largely instrumental in the Vics' win. Twice he took advantage of fumbles on the part of the Peterborough back division to score tries while his tackling always helped. The two Browns and Hewittson were generally in the limelight.

While the work of the officials had a great effect on the score, several of their decisions resulting in tries for the Vics, it looked as if they were trying to be impartial. It was strange, however, that the decisions against Peterborough always came at a critical moment when possession of the ball meant everything. The referee, Hutchins, is an old Vic. player, and has no love for several members of the Peterborough team. Bert Brown, the professional hockey player, was umpire.

Among the Peterborough old boys who turned out to see the game and rooted lustily for the blue and white were the following: Dr. McFall, and Messrs. T J Wallace, Victor McFadden, Clarke Earles, Max Yelland, Arthur Mann, Ross Dobbin, M. Cameron, Rufus McKnight, Earle Weller, Harry Halpin, J J Dorris, Jack Kehoe, E Scriver, Joe White, J Mulligan, Bert Caniff, and last but not least, Walter Kerr, who is always on hand with a bunch of ribbons when a Peterborough team is playing in Toronto.

The game was a long drawn out affair. There were innumerable delays owing to men being hurt and from other causes, and the street lights were burning before the game was over; in fact, the last quarter was played in the dusk.

The teams lined up as follows:

Victorias	Peterborough
Back
Baird	Evans
Halves
Ellacott	Caniff (Crough)
Stanyon	Colledge
Milligan	Quinlan
Quarter
Marsh	Lundy
Scrimmage
H Brown	Deannard
Thorogood	Clarke
Jaffray	O'Brien
Wings
Ryan	Hurtubise
H Brown	Dickson
Pope (Dickenson)	O'Connor
Pratt	McDonald
Hewittson	Crough (Caniff)
McWhirter	Crowley

First Quarter

The Vics started the scoring early. The kick-off rolled almost to Peterborough's line to Colledge, who picked up the ball and started to run. To the surprise of everyone, the referee called him back and gave the ball to the Vics on Peterborough's line. Marsh was shoved over for a try on the first scrimmage, and the Vics were five points to the good before a minute had elapsed. Stanyon failed to convert. Score, Vics 5, Peterborough 0.

Crough kicked off the ball, going to Ellacott behind the Vics' line. He managed to run outside before being downed by Hurtubise. The referee considered the tackle was too high and Gene was sent to the side. Marsh bucked through centre for a good gain and then Stanyon kicked into touch at Peterborough's forty-yard line. Peterborough lost the ball on an off-side, and the Vics kept up their line-plunging tactics until Marsh backed over again for another try. Stanyon once more failed to convert. Score, Vics 10, Peterborough 0.

Peterborough began to take a hand in the game and the play was in centre field for some time with honours about even. Peterborough gained twenty yards on off-side playing by the Vics, and then Colledge punted high to Milligan who dropped the ball. Hurtubise, who had followed up fast, grabbed the pigskin and carried it over the line for a touch. Crough neatly converted, and the Peterborough spectators began to sit up and take notice. Score, Vics 10, Peterborough 6.

After the kick off, play continued around centre field with neither team having much advantage. Marsh was ruled off for scrapping a little trick that he has down to a science. Quinlan carried the ball into Vics' territory on a long pass from Colledge, but Caniff lost it in the next scrimmage. Peterborough wings got off-side and the Vics gained ten yards. On the next scrimmage it was Vics' turn to get penalized and the ball was turned over to the Petes. Colledge dropped back for a kick, but fumbled Lundy's pass, and the Vics broke through and dribbled the ball down the field. Colledge and Quinlan tried to head them off and failed. Evans could have saved the situation by kicking into touch, but instead he tried to pick the ball up on the run, and lost it altogether, and the Vics dribbled the ball over for a try. Pratt dropping on the ball. Stanyon converted. Score, Vics 16, Peterborough 6.

Time was called for the first quarter immediately afterwards.

Peterborough had a little the best of the play in the second quarter, although they were handicapped by having a number of their men on the fence. McDonald was the first to be sent away, and he was soon followed by Crough. Peterborough pressed and Colledge kicked over the line, O'Connor dropping on the ball for a try, which was not allowed, the referee having called an off-side. Marsh and Dickson had an argument and both were sent to the side line. McWhirter followed a few moments afterwards. Colledge tried to drop a goal, but the ball went wide and rolled to the dead line for a point. Score 16, Peterborough 7.

Peterborough had the Vics backing up at this stage. A couple of long punts by Colledge carried the play into Vics' territory and finally an off-side gave Peterborough possession about five yards out. Two bucks gained but little ground, and then the ball was passed out to Crowley, who made a pretty run around the left end for a try, pulling himself over the line with the aid of one of the goal posts. Hurtubise placed the ball on the ground before Crough was ready, and the attempt at converting was a failure. Score, Vics 16, Peterborough 12.

The Vics again took a hand in the scoring a few minutes after, when a decision by the referee carried the ball into Peterborough's territory. From the twenty-five yard line Stanyon tried to drop a goal, but his attempt was a fooole, the ball going almost straight up in the air. Crowley tried to catch it and the ball bounced from him into Pratt's arms. The Vics' middle wing had nothing to do but go over the line with the ball. Stanyon failed to convert. Score, Vics 21, Peterborough 12.

Peterborough scored again before half-time, getting the ball in Vics' ground on an off-side. Colledge punted to Baird, and Hurtubise carried the latter back over the line for a safety touch. Score, Vics 21, Peterborough 14.

The Last Half

Peterborough had the best of the battle in the third quarter, but could not overcome the Vics' lead. Marsh and Quinlan went off for fighting, the Toronto man being the offender once more, tackling Quinlan when the latter was yards into touch and there was no need of nailing him whatever. Colledge soon after was sent to the side line for talking to the referee. Peterborough continued pressing for a score, and finally got a chance when the Vics lost the ball near their own line on an off-side. Crough bucked over for a try which he failed to convert. Score, Vics 21, Peterborough 19.

The Peterborough supporters were jubilant as their team was only two points behind. The Vics, however, creased their lead by scoring two rouges before the third quarter was up. Time was called with the Vics in possession of the ball on Peterborough's line. Score, Vics 23, Peterborough 19.

The last quarter resolved itself into little more than an effort to hold the ball and kill time on the part of the Vics. They realized that if the play opened up a little, Peterborough had a good chance of winning out. They bucked whenever possible and just when they were about to lose the ball on downs, the officials would come to their assistance and call an off-side on Peterborough, whether fairly or not could not be discerned because of the dusk. Peterborough scored a rouge by fast following up at the beginning of the quarter. A few moments afterwards the Vics nearly scored a try when Colledge's kick from near his own goal was blocked, and Quinlan dropped on the ball right on the line just in time to save a try. Vics were not to be denied and scored three more singles, while Peterborough's best was a rouge. Vics had the ball near Peterborough's line when play was called. Final score, Peterborough 21, Victorias 26.

The following summary shows how the scores were made:

BEN SIMPSON WAS INJURED

Local Boy With The Hamilton Team Had His Collar Bone Broken

Ben Simpson, the old Peterborough boy, who has been playing such brilliant Rugby for the Hamilton Tigers, was badly injured in the Tiger-Montreal game on Saturday, and will be out of the game for the balance of the season. He was hurt towards the end of the contest and had to be carried off the field. Afterwards it was discovered that his collar bone was broken, and he will not be able to play any more this year. His absence will be severely felt by the Tigers as he was about the best of their backs, and was always to be relied upon.

PLAY OFF THE TIE IN LINDSAY

Peterboro' and Vics Meet in Finals on Thanksgiving Day

As a result of the defeat of the Peterborough team on Saturday, the Vics and the locals are tied for the championship of this district, and the difference will be settled on Thursday afternoon — Thanksgiving Day—at Lindsay, according to instructions received by the local management, from Secretary J. B. Hay, to-day. Secretary T. W. McDonough of the locals, is in Lindsay to-day, making arrangements for the game, securing the grounds, etc. Messrs. Hayes and Robins of Hamilton, officials in the O.R.F.U. will referee the contest.

A monster crowd no doubt will accompany the team to Lindsay. Efforts are being made to have a special train leave here at one o'clock, and as holiday rates will prevail the return fare will be very low. The game should be one of the best ever seen in this district. The two teams had a hard battle on Saturday and there is every reason to expect another strenuous battle when they meet in Lindsay.

T. A. S. HOCKEY TEAM MAY BE ENTERED

Will Likely See Old Red and Black at Brock Street Rink Again

St. Peter's T. A. S. will in all probability be represented in the City Hockey League this winter. The matter received some discussion at the regular meeting of that Society yesterday afternoon, and under good management there will likely be a strong team, as there is apparently lots of material. Mr. Jos. Dwyer, who so successfully managed the C. L.S. athletic teams in Lindsay and brought them to two championships, will likely be prominent in the managing body.

Irl Hicks Predicts Stormy Opening For Next Month

What St. Louis Weather Prognosticator Thinks of The Prospects For November—Storm Periods Come With Painful Regularity

WILL DREAM COME TRUE?

According to Irl Hicks, next next month will open with a stormy period, and, if his prognostications are correct the whole month will be more or less characterized by storms of various magnitude. These are his prophecies for the coming month:

A regular storm period, which is central on October 31st, will have its culminating stages on and touching the 2nd and 3rd of November. The storm diagram shows that a Mercury period covers the first week in the month and that a regular Vulcan period blends with the Mercury period up to the 4th. The Mercury influence will dominate the weather conditions up to about the 8th, so that disturbed, cloudy and disagreeable weather will be natural even after the close of the regular Vulcan period. General autumnal rain storms with touches of lightning and thunder to the southward, will enter on the 3rd, possibly touching the 2nd and 4th in their formation and progress from west to east. The barometer will likely remain low, and the temperature high as we pass into the next storm period.

A reactionary storm period is central on the 5th, 6th and 7th, having as an additional cause of storms and other disturbances the conjunction of the Moon with the Earth and Sun on the 5th. We predict that storms will take on decided boreal conditions from about the 5th to the 7th—that rains will turn to sleet and snow, generally, to the northward, with rising barometer, change to colder and very stiff to dangerous gales from the northwest, especially in all the regions of the great northern lakes. Mark this warning. Tendency to seismic perturbations, generally, will be at a maximum for a period of five days, cenntral on the 5th. The moon is at extreme south delination on the 9th, and this fact will cause a continuation of cold atmospheric currents from the north until we come under the influence of the next storm period.

A regular storm period is central on the 12th, extending from the 10th to the 15th. This period will pass its crisis from Tuesday, the 12th, to Friday, the 15th. Change to warmer, falling barometer and cloudiness will appear in western sections by the 10th and 11th, followed promptly by autumnal storms; but these storms will grow in extent and severity as they pass over the country from west to east, reaching their climax in central to eastern sections from the 12th to the 15th. There is little room for doubt that the conjunction of any planet with the earth and sun excites the magnetic and electric strain or bond between the sun and planets, but this is especially true when Venus or Mercury is passing between the earth and the Sun. Hence the inferior conjunction of Mercury at a transit node on the 14th, it is reasonable to surmise, will add to the perturbations of earth and air on and touching Thursday the 14th. The moon being on the celestial equator on the 16th, the probabilities are that storm conditions may be prolonged over that date, with only moderate change of temperature and barometric pressure.

A reactionary storm period falls on the 18th, 19th and 20th, embracing moon in opposition, or full, moon on the 19th. This period will bring falling barometer, with corresponding rise of temperature, followed promptly by cloudiness, rain, and possibly snow. The full moon periods, and those of the new moon as well, are times when seismic shakes are far more frequent. They are also times when gales are more certain and severe on the lakes and North Atlantic. All this is especially true about the month of November. Change to much colder will rush down from the northwest about the 19th to 22nd. All who have observed closely have seen that a maximum of rough and stormy weather over all the great lakes is reached almost invariably in November. Skippers and navigators should never forget this fact.

A regular storm period extends from Friday the 22nd to Tuesday the 26th. It is central on the 23rd, the moon being at the same time at extreme northd eclination. During this period look for marked depression of the barometer, highest temperature and more rain, turning to snow north and west, about the 23rd, 24th and 25th. But for the presence of Jupiter and Saturn periods, this storm period, and, in fact, all the periods in November are comparatively free from combinations of storm causes. Notwithstanding, it will be the part of prudence to anticipate some disagreeable, if not forceful autumnal storms between the 23rd and the 26th. High barometer and change to colder, frost and freezing will follow the disturbances of this period.

A reactionary storm period is central on the last three days in the month. This period will reach its crisis on the 30th, the date upon which the moon crosses the celestial equator, going southward. Atmospheric tides, like ocean tides, follow the moon in its declination north and south. Hence the storm periods in which the moon is moving south of the equator, are much more liable to be followed by change to cold, boreal conditions, as the atmospheric currents tend from north to south, brining the "cold out of the north." As a rule the temperature of storm periods does not change to colder with the moon on the equator. Electrical storms, even in winter, are much more liable in storm periods at such times. Hence November will go out with rain, and possibly lightning and thunder in many places southward, with rising barometer and rapid change to much colder leading down from the northwest with the incoming of December. Upon the whole, November promises to be an average month for all exposed and out-door interests. Much fair and open weather will alternate with storm periods. The rainfall will be light. We repeat our prediction of a minimum of rainfall this season, and November will not be excepted.

FARMER BROWNS SIXTY YOUNG HOGS

Says There is More Money in Selling The Grain

From present indications there will not be many hogs in the country when next spring arrives. A gentleman at the market office to-day told of a farmer down east, who has always been accustomed to feed many hogs, has this year drowned no less than sixty young pigs. His reasons for doing so he gives as the low prices of hogs and the scarcity of food this autumn.

The farmer claims that by selling the grain he has to spare is going to bring more money than by keeping the hogs over winter. In view of the high prices of grain and the comparatively low price of hogs, he expects to be farther ahead by even killing the young swine.

THE INSURANCE MEN'S BANQUET

This will be one of the most important gatherings of life insurance men held in this district for some time.

RECORD YEAR FOR THE HOMES

Over 18,000 Children Have Been Sent To Canada by Barnardo Homes Since Institution of the Society

THE YEAR'S OPERATIONS

"Night and Day" for October, the quarterly issue of the official organ of Dr. Barnardo's Homes, is chiefly devoted to a resume of the annual report and to an illustrated account of the 41st anniversary meeting. The facts and statistics supplied are striking and eloquent. It is clear that the Homes have a great work still to do, seeing that in one year they reclaimed 2,926 boys and girls at their open doors, and that they are admitting nine new cases every day. They have 8,000 children under their care, of whom 1,100 are babies and 1,150 crippled, or incurable or defective. We commend this record to our readers. Small wonder that the King of Denmark is recently reported to have said that Dr. Barnardo's Homes formed the most interesting sight in London!

Commenting on the work of the Homes, Night and Day says:

At the end of 1906, the Homes had emigrated 18,645 boys and girls; 18,172 to Canada, and 473 to Australia, New Zealand and South Africa. We have given the colonies of our best; 'the flower of the flock" are those who have sailed across seas and begun to rebuild the empire in the Colonies. In 1882 Dr. Barnardo sent forth his first organized party, although several years before that date lads and lasses in ones and two, and little groups, had pioneered the way. In 1905 our Homes emigrated to Canada more than, and in 1906 nearly as many as, all other similar agencies put together. For seven years we have maintained an average of nearly 1200 emigrants per annum.

MANAGER ARRIVED IN EDMONTON

Mr. Fred Whitcroft in the Western City Ready to Assume Management Of Hockey Team

The Edmonton Bulletin, in a recent issue, to hand to-day, has the following reference to the arrival of Mr. Fred Whitcroft, who will manage the hockey team in that city this season:

Fred Whitcroft, of Peterborough, arrived in the city last night, to assume command of the hockey situation in Edmonton. In talking to a Bulletin representative this morning, he stated that he is not sure about Jack Winchester of Toronto, goal tender, coming here, but that every effort will be used to induce him to come. As to the other members of the team it is a little too early to speak of them.

MANY CASES HERE OF RHEUMATISM

A Mixture Which Makes The Kidneys Filter Out Poisons And Waste

TRY THE MIXTURE ANYWAY

All medical authorities are agreed that the blood is the great source of disease or of health in the human system. If the blood is pure, the individual is strong and healthy; if the blood is impure or diseased, then there is sickness or decay in the whole system.

Rheumatism is strictly a blood disease. It is caused by excessive uric acid. Sores, pimples, etc., mean bad blood. Catarrhal affections must be treated through the blood to get permanent results. To get well, to feel strong, hearty and vigorous, one must have good clean blood and lots of it. You can't clean the blood thoroughly unless the kidneys are made active. Bad blood means clogged, inactive kidneys and liver, which causes, too, such symptoms as backache, nervousness, bladder and urinary difficulties and other sympathetic troubles.

Here is a simple home remedy and the recipe for making it up is as follows:

Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kargon, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces. Shake well in a bottle and take in teaspoonful doses after each meal and again at bedtime. The ingredients can be obtained at any good prescription pharmacy at small cost.

Here the readers of this paper have a simple yet powerful and effective remedy for all forms of blood, kidney and bladder diseases which should relieve rheumatism and catarrhal affections and replace that weak, worn-out, indifferent feeling with strength, vigour and health.

This prescription is considered a fine system renovator, and, being made of vegetable extracts only, is harmless, and anyone can mix it at home. Try this, anyway, before investing in the secret unknown concoctions of the patent medicine manufacturers.—16.

OBITUARY

MRS. MICHAEL HEFFERNAN

The many friends in Peterborough of Mr. Thos. Hefferman, of Percy township will regret to learn of the death of his mother, a few days ago, making the second death in the same house within two weeks. The Campbellford Despatch says of her death:

The sad messenger of death paid the second visit within two weeks to the home of Mr. Thomas Hefferman of Percy township. The first affliction was the death of his wife on Oct. 6th, which was followed so closely by the death of his mother, Mrs. Michael Hefferman, who passed away on Saturday, Oct., 19. She was 70 years of age and was only ill for a few days before her death. Her husband preceded her in death 7 years ago. She leaves to mourn her death four sons and three daughters: John and James, of Williston, N.D.; Thos. and Michael, of Percy township; Mrs. John Lamy, of Hastings; Mrs. James Drain, of Warkworth, and Mrs. Michael Sullivan, of Warkworth. The funeral was held on Monday morning when service was held in St. Mary's Church, Campbellford, Rev. Father Whibbs officiating.

The pall bearers were her six grandsons; P J Garvey, James and J Lamey, John, Joseph and Vincent Hefferman.

Interment was made in the Roman Catholic cemetery, Campbellford.

MAIDEN VOYAGE OF THE BESSIE BUTLER

Will Probably Be Completed During Next Week

The "Bessie Butler," the fine new Government steamer, which is under construction on the banks of the canal, below the Lift Lock, will it is expected, be completed some time next week. At the present time 25 men are engaged on the construction of the boat, and the work is being pushed rapidly to a conclusion. To-day, for the first time, steam was up in the new boat, and it is rapidly taking on a finished appearance.

From present indications the "Bessie Butler" will make her maiden voyage some time next weekend. It is likely that she will go down to Rice Lake. She will be one of the most modern steamers on the Trent Waterway, when completed, being constructed particularly for inspection purposes, as well as for Government towing operations. She will be fitted up with dining and sleeping apartments, and with electric lights, the plant for which is now being installed.

HOME-MADE MEDICINE

Said to Relieve Kidney Trouble and Rheumatism

One ounce Fluid Extract Dandelion;
One ounce Compound Salatone;
Four ounces Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla;

Mixed and taken in teaspoonful doses after meals and at bedtime, is stated by a prominent physician to give most excellent results in kidney or urinary afflictions, and also in rheumatism and sciatica. The mixture opens the clogged pores of the kidneys, thus assisting them in their work of filtering all waste and poisonous matter from the blood, and expels these in the urine. To allow this poisonous matter to remain means that it will settle in the muscular tissues or joints, and cause the untold misery known as rheumatism.

The mixture is composed of harmless vegetable ingredients which can be purchased at any good drug store, and mixed at home.

Anyone suffering from any of these afflictions will no doubt be pleased to learn of so simple and highly recommended remedy.

How the Mikado Gives Thanks

By K. T. TAKAHASHI.

At 4 o'clock in the dusk of early morning of Oct. 17 in the imperial shrine begin to flicker candlelights, pure and fresh, just snatched from a concussion of flint and iron. This is the place where presently the emperor, holding the sacred scepter of justice over 40,000,000 souls, the mikado of great Nippon, comes to officiate in person at the time honored ceremony of the Japanese thanksgiving.

You are accustomed to associate gorgeousness with all that is oriental, and I am afraid you will hardly believe that in the farthest east a pure simplicity is the emblem of sanctity. Indeed, in this sanctum sanctorum of Japan there is nothing to excite your earthly notion of magnificence. It is only a rectangular room of no extraordinary size under a thatched roof of rice straws, situated off the innermost wing of the imperial palace. After passing through halls and corridors, where the picturesque arts of Japan greet you everywhere, the contrast is strange, as you enter this little shrine, with plain wooden floor and walls and ceilings, shorn of any ornaments.

But stay awhile. There come in the assistant officers of ceremony, in short gowns and broad trousers, both of white, and wearing square pieces of stainless fabric over their noses and mouth that the human breath may not defile the articles of sacrifice. They go about transferring their candlelights to lamps of old, old fashion, which you often see in pictures of ancient Greece, with a few lines of their wicks swimming in a small, plain earthen basin of seed oil, resting on top of an unstained wooden stick perhaps three feet high, which in turn is fitted erect on a more substantial stand. As these become lighted one after another at equal distances along both sides of the room you follow up the narrow strip of reed mattings which cover the center of the bare floor. Toward the rear end there rise one behind and higher than the other some four or five altars of narrow, plain wooden tables. And yonder, high up on the top of the last of these steps, behind some fresh cut branches of evergreens—what, can these be reflecting lights? Ah, it is the traditional mirror!

"Lo," said the Goddess of Sun to her regal representative to the nether world as he was taking leave of the celestial court, "I give thee this mirror, this precious stone and this sword that ye may look up in the evening and morning into this mirror, even as unto me, and see that there is no blemish in the discharge of thy grave duty, and this jewel that," etc. And the divine ancestor of our revered emperor descended to the island of Japan. So says the tradition.

You can well imagine what a hallowing association arises within him as a Japanese stands reverently looking up into a disk of mirror shining forth through green foliages of sakaki, which is the symbol of sanctity. Once, therefore, you enter into the spirit of the place you will feel its very simplicity and plainness become pregnant with air of strange sweetness. Of elaborate candle frames of gold and silver there are none, nor the heavy smokes of incense. slide of joiner's plane until they shine out of their own beauty, more beautiful than hard coats of paints and varnish—how agreeable! And as you watch those ancient lamps burn in serene steadiness you imagine you are standing in the hovering presence of unseen gods.

But here comes the master officer, with strange hat and in strange costume. He proceeds to the altar in measured steps, and there follow after him a train of underofficers holding up to the eye's level wooden trays of strange make, each heavy with a pile of first gatherings of the season. In this tray there is a heap of first grains of rice from the imperial field, where the emperor himself sowed the seed in early summer, and in that pair of earthen bottles the sweet liquor of sake, the first brewed of the harvest of Ise. Tray after tray the master officer receives the first productions of land and water, the feathered traveler of air and finned visitors of sea, and in hushed silence he places them on different steps in due order. The offerings are now on the altar. The officers take their seats in single rows on both sides of the center mattings. Hark the rustling sound! There comes the emperor. Attired in his ancient costume of state, the majestic form advances slowly to the altar. Ho; he stops! Hush; he takes a parchment roll! "Ware Kashi-Komi Kashi-Komi Maosakn"—in dread adoration. Oh, fathers in heaven, we come to pray. An awful stillness falls around, the clear, vibrant voice goes on extolling the virtues and greatness of heaven and heaven made ancestors, and flows on thanking for the unerring return of the joyful season of harvest and plenty, and rises higher, invoking their undiminished aid and protection that the imperial house may reign over the loyal people and rejoice with them in the goodness of divine power into eternity. The end is reached, and with an impressive clap of hand, twice repeated, he seals the prayer, and the imperial figure moves out in the same august stateliness.

The sun is up, and as its first rays strike the royal chrysanthemums, embroidered in gold, against the purple ground flapping over the imperial gateway the whole of Japan awakes in joy. —Montreal Star.

THE FAMILY LOVE FEAST.

It Resulted In Strained Relations and Hysterical Sobs.

"Now," said dear old Grandpa Smithkins, "we are a family that sort ov keeps in touch with our relations, and yit we never seem to really git together. Here we are all alone in this great big homestead. What do you say, mother, to us having a big social like family reunion and love feast Thanksgiving dinner? We'll invite all our relations, old and young. What do you say to that?"

Grandma Smithkins' cheerful face fairly beamed. "It will be the very thing!" she said enthusiastically.

So the big table was set with forty covers. All the male and female Smithkinses, cousins, uncles, aunts and nephews, sent fraternal acceptances of the invitation, and for a week Grandpa and Grandma Smithkins kept their servants working overtime.

Thanksgiving came, and so did the relatives—just in time for dinner. Grandma and Grandpa Smithkins hugged and kissed everybody, and dinner was announced.

Uncle George was placed next to Cousin Charley, who had borrowed $50 of his uncle and had never returned it.

Aunt Emma was placed next to Cousin Fanny. The latter had married into a family Aunt Emma considered beneath her.

Brother-in-law Hardupp Smithkins sat beside Uncle Gottmoney Smithkins, who had foreclosed a mortgage on Hardupp.

Aunt Caroline and Aunt Jane were close together. They always quarreled on woman's rights.

Uncle Abner and Uncle John were respectively tariff revisionist and "stand patter."

Cousin Mary and Cousin Matilda were placed side by side. They had had a property division quarrel ten years before that still existed in a lawsuit.

Uncle Mumford and Nephew Henry were table neighbors. Uncle Mumford had allowed Nephew Henry's note to go to protest.

Even the American boys who regarded face washing as a task rather than a pleasure were sandwiched between Aunt Struckup Smithkins' eight Fauntleroy dressed sons.

Finally Uncle Bill, whom everybody thought was in jail and who had not been invited, came in intoxicated and made fellow remarks apropos of those present and their failings and in about five minutes—

SIXTY DAY THANKSGIVING.

Spectacular Fetes of the Wine Dressers of Vevay.

"Our Thanksgiving day?" said the Frenchman. "We don't call any of our fetes by that name, but we might as well. The finest 'Thanksgiving day' celebration I ever saw took place at Vevay in 1889. It was organized by wine dressers, and the magnificent pageant lasted sixty days. The idea of the fete was to reproduce all the familiar objects and phases of local life and work.

"The festival was opened by a great chorus singing the national hymn. The abbot delivered an impressive speech. Ballets were danced in the great market square—a ballet of the reapers, a ballet of the grape pickers, a ballet of the Fauns and Bacchantes, a ballet of the spring and a dance of Ceres and Pallas. Floats, exquisitely decorated, represented the dairy industry, the miller's work, the grape picking and wine making, spring and autumn. Music, color and grace marked this glorification of agriculture, labor and patriotism. It all meant the same thing as your Thanksgiving day." — New York Times.

COLD BEANS.

Little Jule's Thanksgiving Dinner Wasn't Very Satisfying.

"Well, all I've got to say is that this Thanksgivin' day was better'n the last was," said little Jule. "It couldn't be worse, for last Thanksgivin' day I didn't have any Thanksgivin' at all. I'll tell you how it was.

"You see, my Uncle Depew Green, he invited me an' ma out to his farm to spend Thanksgivin' day,

"Ma, she said she guessed we'd better go, for it would save a lot of fuss an' trouble at home an' she wouldn't have to cook any turkey.

"An' I said I guessed we'd better go, too, for Uncle Deep always had pretty good dinners.

"An' ma she said there was enough cold beans in the house to last me for two or three days.

"I didn't like cold beans much, but every time I'd eat 'em I'd think how good Uncle Deep's dinner was goin' to be, so I didn't say anything about it, but after the fifth or fourth meal it was hard work.

"We were goin' to start for Uncle Deep's Thanksgivin' mornin' an' get back that night, for ma said she could not spare any more time. An' I don't know whether so many cold beans affected ma's head or what was the reason, but when the day before Thanksgivin' came she said that she was sure it was Thanksgivin' day an' we'd made a mistake thinkin' it was the next day an' we'd better start right off or be late for dinner.

"When we come to the station, near Uncle Deep's house, the station master said there wasn't any wagon an' he guessed they expected us tomorrow. An' ma said we had come to Thanksgivin' dinner an' maybe the wagon was goin' for more folks. An' then the station master grinned. An' when we come to Uncle Deep's there was Solon choppin' wood in the front yard. An' Solon he said, 'Why, I thought you was comin' tomorrow.' An' ma she said his pa had invited us to Thanksgivin' dinner. An' Solon he grinned.

"Uncle Deep came to the door, an' he said, 'Why, we thought you an' Jule was comin' tomorrow.' An' ma she said she thought we was comin' to dinner Thanksgivin' day. An' Uncle Deep he said that he was glad to see us today all the same an' that they wasn't cookin' much today, 'cause tomorrow was Thanksgivin', but he guessed there was some cold beans for dinner, an' to come right in an' sit down.

"Ma was so flurried she said she couldn't wait, 'cause she had somethin' particular to do at home. An' Uncle Deep he grinned. So we went right back to the station, an' we had to wait three hours for a train, an' we didn't get home till most night.

"An' ma said she'd had enough goin' to Uncle Deep's an' we could stay at home the next day. An' when I asked her could we have a turkey she got angry an' said not to bother her an' that there was enough cold beans left for dinner tomorrow. But I couldn't eat them."—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Johnny's Afterthought.

There's one thing I'm more thankful for since Thanksgiving is past—
And I expect they's other boys that's just as glad as me—
And that is, though I "gobbled" lots and got "stuffed" full and fast,
'Bout like a turkey, no one cooked or carved or et me. See?

The Thanksgiving Pumpkins

By GEORGE COOPER.

GLOBES of gold on the upland lay
The ripened pumpkins at close of day.
Up the meadows the cows came slow,
With bells a-tinkle and gentle low.
Tommy paused by the old stone wall.
Unromantic was he, and small.
What do they see, those twinkling eyes?
Floating visions of luscious pies,
Flaky crust of the lightest brown!
Smacking his lips and looking down
Over the wall, he saw a sight.
Pumpkins were stirring, left and right!
Legs and arms had begun to sprout!
Tommy is too much amazed to shout.
How they grin at him—how they stare!
Straight on end stands Thomas' hair.

"Hold!" he hears a voice outring.
"Tremble—I'm the pumpkin king!
Bind the culprit, foot and hand;
Let him here before me stand,
Pumpkin subjects, I command!
Cut him up in crescent slices;
Chubby boy—I'm told it nice is!
Oft for him have we been sliced up,
Mashed and delicately spiced up.
Monster of the youthful brow,
Turn about is fair play now!

"Trice him up and slice him up!
Dig straightway an oven!
Roll the crust of watered dust;
Then this pie we'll shove in!"

"TREMBLE—I'M THE PUMPKIN KING!"

They lunged at him, they plunged at him,
They sat on him, fell flat on him,
Surrounded him and pounded him;
They seized him and squeezed him;
They rolled him and told him
What a pie to bake he soon would make
For their Thanksgiving dinner!
How very glad they were they had
A boy that was no thinner!

The early moonlight silvered all the hill;
Then Tommy woke and heard the cricket's shrill.
Those pumpkins lay in singular repose;
Not one of them displayed eye, mouth or nose.

"Ha, ha!" laughed Tommy. "That was droll!"
Then to the farmhouse quietly he stole,
Rejoicing that his chubby self was whole.
But on Thanksgiving day, with curious eyes,
He gazed on grandma's luscious pumpkin pies!

Thanksgiving Days In Hungary.

In Hungary Thanksgiving days or something analogous to them used to be common, but have now passed away except on rare occasions of national rejoicing. Then a horse race of a particularly exciting description takes the place that football occupies in the American observance of the real thing in the way of Thanksgiving celebrations.

Crippled With Rheumatism

CURED BY GIN PILLS

Mr. Derraugh certainly did have a hard time of it, winter before last. Caught cold, and it settled in his kidneys. First thing he knew, he was in bed with Rheumatism. He nearly went mad, the pain was so intense. The doctors gave him the usual treatment—and pretty nearly burnt his legs off with liniments and blisters—but the Rheumatism went right on aching.

Then a friend stepped in and said, "Why don't you try GIN PILLS?" After a great deal of persuasion, Mr. Derraugh did try GIN PILLS. You never such a happy man in your life, after he had taken two boxes. Pain all gone—stiffness and lameness completely left—that ache in back and hips disappeared—and he was well in no time. That was two years ago and he has been in perfect health ever since.

Contracted a severe cold. Rheumatism followed and the sharp pains took me do often and were so severe that I had to take to bed. For several months I could get no relief, until I started to take "Gin Pills." In five days I was up and around the house. My pains are gone and I have not had a return of the old trouble since. I wish also to say that "Gin Pills" gave me the first painless passage of urine I have had in two years.

PANDORA RANGE

The easiest way to remove ashes from a range is with an ash pan—the Pandora method (see illustration).

Such an extra large ash pan is provided with the Pandora that it will contain more ashes than will accumulate in one day.

All the ashes are in the pan, too, because they are guided there by flanges attached to either end of the fire-pot.

Easiest, cleanest, quickest, is the Pandora way.

With the scraper and pan provided with every Pandora it's merely a matter of a minute or so to clean out the dirt in the Pandora flues.

Less dirt accumulates in Pandora flues than in ordinary flues, because they are wider and deeper, with no bolts, projections or crevices to catch the dirt, consequently you need not clean them out so often.

Saves a lot of labor, does the Pandora.

An Imitation Takes for Its Pattern the Real Article

There was never an imitation made of an imitation. Imitators always counterfeit the genuine article. The genuine is what you ask for, because genuine articles are the advertised ones. Imitations are not advertised, but depend for their business on the ability of the dealer to sell you something claimed to be "just as good" when you ask for the genuine, because he makes more profit on the imitation.

Why accept imitations when you can get the genuine by insisting?

HEATERS!

Right Time to Buy Them and Special Inducement This Week

You may wait for cold weather to buy a heater if you've a mind to, but if you'll be advised by those who have to deal most with the selling of stoves, you will select a heater now and have it put in place and ready before the rush that invariably comes with a cold snap.

There is absolutely nothing gained in waiting—not even a saving in cost, as the prices will certainly be kept at normal when the demand is at its height, and then you'll be expected to take your turn in having it delivered and set up—a delay of two or three days perhaps.

We recommend these stoves with confidence:—

YOU CAN EASILY OPERATE THIS TYPEWRITER YOURSELF

Don't worry your correspondent.

Don't write him anything by hand that takes him time to make out—that may leave him in doubt, that he can't easily read.

And don't fill out legal papers or card menus—or make out accounts or hotel menus in your own hand writing.

It looks bad, reflects on your standing, makes people think you can't afford a stenographer, and is sometimes ambiguous.

You can write out your letters—make out an abstract—fill in an insurance policy—enter your card menus—make out your accounts, or hotel menus—or do any kind of writing you need, on any kind, size or thickness of paper, and space any way you want on

The OLIVER Typewriter

The Standard Visible Writer

You can write any of these things yourself if you do not happen to have a stenographer.

For you can easily learn with a little practice to write just as rapidly, and as perfectly as an expert operator on the Oliver. Because the Oliver is the simplified typewriter. And you can see every word you write. About 80% more durable than any other typewriter, because it has about 80% less wearing points than most other typewriters.

80% easier to write with than those other complicated, intricate machines that require "humouring"—technical knowledge—long practice and special skill to operate.

Then machines which cannot be adjusted to any special space with which it is impossible to write abstracts, insurance policies, or odd-size documents except you buy expensive special attachments requiring expert to operate.

You can adjust the Oliver to any reasonable space—you can write on any reasonable size and thickness of paper, right out to the very edge, without the aid of any expensive attachment or special skill, and your work will be neat appearing, legible and clear.

For the Oliver is the typewriter for the doctor the lawyer, the insurance agent, the merchant the hotel proprietor—or any man that does his own writing.

NUNS AS PRINTERS.

Printing Office For Convent Home of Sisters of Holy Child Jesus.

Who would ever suspect that a complete printing and publishing house was contained in the convent home of the Sisters of the Holy Child Jesus, a beautiful retreat at Sharon Hill, Delaware county, Pa.? No ordinary establishment for the cultivation of the art preservative of arts is this convent printery. No commonplace type of type works there. Instead of the familiar ink stained expert of the stick the positions at the frames are occupied by grave looking sisters who deftly pick up the type with fingers that are barely visible because of the enveloping folds of the wide sleeved habit of the order.

The faces of the women who work at the cases are almost hidden beneath the big black veils, and as they bend back and forth in reaching for the type the crucifixes at their waists swing in rhythm to the movement. At the imposing table other black veiled sisters are busy making up forms and correcting mistakes, while in one corner a black robed figure is feeding a press run by a small engine.

There is no typesetting machine in this printing office. There is no need for one. In the gray old building rooted in a quiet park, far from the rush of commercial life, the nuns are serenely indifferent to the demands of the age for time saving devices that cultivate speed at the expense of workmanship. They have plenty of time, and they aim to do work that will be artistic and perfect in appearance.

As in mediæval times, the monks and nuns preserved arts that the indifferent world outside the walls would have permitted to fall into disuse, so these sisters of Sharon Hill will probably be the means of perpetuating the finest features of the art of printing, which are falling more and more into disuse in this hustling age. As the sisters teach school and the artists who have charge of the printery take a pride in imparting their knowledge to the larger girls who come to the convent for educational instruction, it is likely that from this typographical establishment there will come students who will in turn spread the knowledge acquired and so keep alive the most beautiful examples of the art.

The Best Cosmetic.

Water is the most universally employed of all cosmetics, and rightly applied it is the best. Notwithstanding that with the great majority the act of face washing averages more than twice a day, the number who know how to do this correctly is comparatively small. The enemy to a fine complexion is dirt. In no place do complexions suffer so much from it as in the city, especially in those cities where soft coal is burned. In such places it is almost impossible to keep the face clean. Dust, dirt and impurities collecting upon the face choke up the pores of the skin and interfere with the circulation, making the complexion muddy and causing eruptions. The object of face washing is to cleanse the face properly. For this purpose the water must be hot—not warm, but hot. Hot water does not wrinkle the face. On the contrary, it makes the skin soft and pliable. A good soap, generally such as is free from scents and alkalis, should be used. Different soaps agree with different skins, and they should be selected by the experience of the individual. As a general thing men's faces show a clearer, better skin than women's, though naturally it is of a coarser texture. This is due to the fact that men use much soap in lathering for shaving, and the shaving soaps are much finer in quality than most toilet soaps.

Many complexions are ruined by the employment of sponges and face cloths; not that these are pernicious in themselves, but they are not properly cleaned after using. They are carelessly wrung out of the water in which they have been used and hung out to dry by the washstand out of the light. The soap and impurities of the water remain in them, and as they are used time after time the decayed soap and collected matter are applied to the face and will occasion the appearance of blackheads and little pimples, and the skin will become muddy. A sponge is well enough in itself, the wash cloth is well enough in itself, but even after being used once the sponge or the cloth should be washed most carefully and, after being rinsed in boiling water, hung to dry in the sunlight and rain.

To Embroider Flower Stems.

Remember that stems are not merely bits of sticks by which the flowers are connected with the plants, but are integral parts of the plant and full of individuality and character.

Remember that every stem is as unlike every other stem as the flowers and leaves are unlike.

Remember, since the stems are individual in themselves, it is well to observe from nature what the particular characteristics are of each stem.

Remember that all stems are larger at the bases than at the calyx of a flower, and it is a violation of the laws of nature and design to make them otherwise.

Remember to realize the importance of the stems in order not to feel that the work is practically finished with the completion of the flowers and leaves and that all that remains is to get the troublesome things in by some or any means.

Remember a point to consider before deciding upon the method by which any certain stem should be embroidered is whether it is lithe or supple, bearing a nodding flower, or stalky and firm, supporting leaves and blossoms of weight, or rugged and woody.

Remember that the material must be considered, whether it shall be full or solid or "half worked" only.

Scented Waist Hangers.

Shirt waist boxes are all very well, but they cannot accommodate more than two or three waists without crushing, and invariably the waist which one wants is at the bottom of the box.

If one has plenty of closet room it is a much better plan to use waist hangers on a clothes pole extended across the platform.

Every woman delights in dainty toilet belongings and will appreciate prettily covered waist hangers scented with her favorite perfume.

The frame should first be covered with cotton plentifully sprinkled with sachet.

An additional touch of daintiness may be had by suspending six or more tiny sachet bags from the center with baby ribbon.

This is also a very good idea for a hanger for lightweight skirts.

Odd Handkerchief Case.

A pretty handkerchief case can be made of two Japanese paper serviettes, with plain borders. Cut a square of cotton wool the exact size, sprinkle with scent or sachet powder or insert within it a small silk bag of powdered orris root and place the scented wool between the serviettes. Baste firmly but lightly together and then neatly bind with ribbon matching the pattern of the serviettes. Now turn in each of the corners toward the center in envelope style and on one of the points fix a piece of ribbon to tie together in a bow.

A glove sachet may be made the same way, only the serviettes are folded lengthwise, and the corners of the upper part are turned down, a tiny bow of ribbon at each point. The edges are bound same as handkerchief case and lightly tied in the center with bows of ribbon.

Japanese Salad.

Cook a cupful of rice in boiling water, add one small onion chopped, a teaspoonful of salt and one of chopped red pepper. Serve garnished with sardines and sweet red pepper placed on a lettuce leaf with French dressing.

Suede Gloves.

One of the best ways of keeping suede gloves in good condition is to place a piece of rock ammonia in the box or drawer in which they are laid. The ammonia must not, however, be allowed to touch the gloves.

Before using a lemon for flavoring purposes it is a good plan to heat it by placing it on the lower shelf of the oven for a few moments. This has the effect of considerably increasing the amount of juice obtainable.

Eczema Is Baby's Enemy

CAUSING KEEN DISTRESS FROM THE DREADFUL ITCHING—SOMETIMES LASTS FOR YEARS—CURE EFFECTED BY

Dr. Chase's Ointment

The first indication of eczema is a red pimple, or blister-like eruption. The points run together, and make a moistened paten, which "weeps" at first, and then dries into a crust.

The intense itching of eczema of the face and scalp is very hard for the little one to bear, and the result is scratching until free bleeding takes place, and recovery is further retarded. Besides the suffering from the distressing itching, the child is restless and sleepless.

When left to itself, eczema runs on indefinitely, covering the body with sores, but fortunately there is positive cure in the use of Dr. Chase's Ointment, a preparation which by its marvellous soothing and healing powers, brings quick relief from itching and heals up the sores.

Mr. William Crafts, jr., Burk's Falls, Ont., writes: "Our little boy, aged three years, broke out with eczema all over his face, hands and back, and we had a terrible time trying to relieve his sufferings. It was so bad that when he scratched it would almost make the blood flow. The use of Dr. Chase's Ointment quickly brought relief and made a thorough cure, as there has never any return of the disagreeable ailment. We always keep Dr. Chase's medicines in the house and find them very useful."

Mrs. M. McCann, 4 Short street, St. John, N. B., writes: "My little girl, three years old, had her face covered with eczema and it was beginning to spread all over her body. I tried many different ointments, and the doctor could not do her any good. A friend of mine advised me to try Dr. Chase's Ointment and she was completely cured by one box. I cannot praise Dr. Chase's Ointment enough for the good it has done her."

Dr. Chase's Ointment has proven especially successful in the cure of baby eczema, as well as the prevention of this torturing disease, when used for chafing and skin diseases, in which eczema finds its beginnings. Sixty cents a box at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto. 18

A PRETTY ILLUSION.

Interesting Experiment With an Elastic Band and a Pin.

With a bright pin and a bit of elastic cord, aided by the focusing of a few rays of light, you may produce a very pretty illusion. Stick the pin through the elastic and twirl the latter vertically between the thumb and the forefinger of each hand, separating the hands so as to tighten the elastic, and you give the pin a sufficiently swift rotation to make it present the image of a drinking glass.

EFFECT OF LIGHT AND MOTION.

Much depends upon the brightness of the pin, the light it shines in and the darkness of the background. In the illustration the operator is supposed to be in a dark room, with a ray of sunlight falling through the shutter upon the pin.

With a little practice various objects may be imitated. If the pin tends toward a horizontal position it should be tied to the elastic with a bit of white thread, which will not interfere at all with the experiment.

A QUEER BAROMETER.

How a Gingerbread General Foretells the Weather.

There is a man in Paris who has the queerest barometer of which there is record. He has one made at a certain bakery every year, where they know exactly how to fill his order. A barometer made at a bakery, you say? Yes, it is made of gingerbread and is in the form of a general of division of the French army. The figure is suspended from a nail, and it is the duty of the Frenchman's servant to examine it every morning and forecast the weather from it. How can he do it? In this way: Gingerbread is quite susceptible to atmospheric changes. Moist air makes it soft, as you doubtless know, and in very dry air it becomes hard. When the Frenchman rises in the morning, therefore, he calls his servant and asks, "What does the general say?" If the servant has found the general "flabby," he advises his master to take his umbrella as he goes out. If, on the coutrary, he has found him "tough," the master ventures out in his best clothes, silk hat and all.

Game of Numbers.

Each guest draws from a basket on the table a slip of paper bearing a number, and a half minute is allowed to give some old proverb, adage, fact or rhyme containing the number. If the player fails to respond within the time, a forfeit is required and afterward redeemed in some manner to entertain the company. Suppose the number is 10, quickly follows "Ten cents make one dime."

If No. 9, "Of the muses of old there were nine, we are told."

If No. 2, "Two is company; three is none."

If No. 1, "One, two, buckle my shoe."

It seems easy, but one must think quickly to give the required proverb, fact or whatever it may be in the time allowed.

More Blessed to Give.

"Pa," said Willie thoughtfully, "I think I know what the minister meant when he said 'it is more blessed to give than to receive.'"

"Yes?" replied his pa. "Well, what did he mean?"

"Castor oil."—Philadelphia Press.

Mr. Knowitall.

There once was a boy who knew everything
That ever was known by man
(Or at least he did if you believed his word);
He was made on the knowitall plan.

If any one asked a question
Or wondered if thus were so,
He'd tell you at once your thought was wrong.
That he was the one to know.

He knew how to run an engine,
A house or an automobile;
He gave his father and mother advice
At every single meal.

He told his sisters and cousins and aunts,
His uncles and teachers, too,
The very best way to do their tasks—
He'd tell either me or you!

He contradicted his mother;
Said apples were healthier green;
So proceeded to eat a quart or two
With confidence quite serene.

His father summoned the doctor;
His mother nursed him through,
And now the boy works all day long
To pay for what he knew.

GROWTH OF CANADA.

No Limit to Greatness to Which the Dominion May Attain.

At the recent convention of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association at Toronto, Mr. Archibald Blue gave a most interesting paper on "The Growth of Canada in the 20th Century," that showed a surprising record of expansion, and led the speaker to prophesy that there was no limit within sight to the greatness to which Canada might attain before the century was ended.

He showed that the foreign trade had grown from $336,018,000 in 1900 to $518,000,000 last year. The chartered banks had gained $418,800,000 in assets in the same period, while the cash on deposit had increased $300,928,000. The steam railways had in operation 2,617 miles in 1870 and 21,353 miles in 1906, while the train mileage had increased in six years by 20,000,000, passengers carried by 10,867,000, freight by 28,200,000 tons, gross earnings by $15,367,000. Electric railways showed an increase of 116,720,000 passengers in six years and of $2,137,000 in net earnings.

A census of manufactures showed that in factories employing five hands or over, the capital employed showed an increase of $387,060,000, the employes, of 44,747, the salaries, of $48,926,000, and the value of products an increase of $225,393,000. In every group of industries the average of production had increased substantially in five years. The average salary of managers, officers, clerks, etc., in 1905 was $925 for males and $362 for females; for wage-earners, $417 for males and $219 for females. In fourteen cities and towns with increases in the values of product of $2,000,000 and over, Montreal stood first with a production of $99,746,000 and an increase of 28,647,000, and Toronto second with a production of $85,714,000 and an increase of $27,300,000. Hamilton was third, with a production of $24,625,000 and an increase of $7,500,000. But Winnipeg with a production of $18,983,000 showed an increase of $10,367,000, and Peterboro with $11,568,000, an increase of $7,777,000, and as regarded increase each of them exceeded Hamilton at the end of five years. Vancouver and Sault Ste. Marie also exceeded London in the same comparison. In the fourteen cities and towns the increase in the value of manufactures in the five years was $112,419,000 or 58 per cent. Montreal's increase was 40 per cent., and Toronto 47 per cent. Adding to these two cities the value of products for works employing less than five hands in 1905, Montreal's total was $100,426,000 and Toronto's $86,838,000.

POWERFUL ICE-BREAKER.

Winter Communication With Prince Edward Island Assured.

Hon. L. P. Brodeur, Minister of Marine and Fisheries, has recently returned to Ottawa and resumed the work of his department after an absence of five months. Mr. Brodeur states that Canada is to have the largest and most powerful ice-breaker in the world. Mr. Brodeur said he found several firms on the other side who would undertake to build an ice-breaker and to guarantee that it would run regularly between Prince Edward Island and the mainland without getting caught in the ice. Tenders will shortly be called for the construction of a boat of 6,000 horse-power capacity and a guarantee to keep running.

The Minister of Marine states that the Dominion is becoming better known in France. He stated that "Le Committee Republican du Commerce de l'Industre et de l'Agriculture," which is similar to the Chambers of Commerce of Canada, will visit Canada next summer. Last summer the meeting was held in London during the time the Colonial Conference was going on, and there were a hundred and fifty French representatives in London. Mr. Brodeur states that there will be as many representatives visit Canada next summer. They will not only visit Montreal and Toronto, but western Canada as well.

New Railway Projects.

A recent Canada Gazette contained notice that application will be made next session for an act to incorporate "The Western of Canada Railway Co.," which proposes to construct a railway from the United States boundary at a point in Alberta to Calgary, and also from a point on the middle branch at or near its junction with the Livingstone River, thence to a point in the Rocky Mountains west of Gould's Dome; thence southerly down the valley of the Elk River to a junction with the Canadian Pacific Railway at Michael.

The Canadian Pacific Railway will apply to Parliament for authority to construct a branch line from Killam to Strathcona, Alberta.

The Saskatoon, Saskatchewan, Peace River and Dawson Railway will seek incorporation with authority to operate a line of railway and telephone and telegraph lines from Saskatoon northwesterly through the Peace River district, British Columbia and the Yukon to Dawson City.

A clear, dry skin will be the result of three months' constant use of the following solution: Pulverized borax, one ounce; pure glycerin, two ounces; camphor water (not spirits of camphor), two quarts. The skin should be bathed with this lotion two or three times a day.

KNEW HUMAN NATURE.

Logic of the Man Who Fiddled In the Midst of a Flood.

When Davy Crockett was on his way from his Tennessee home to Texas to fight for the new republic he rode overland with some chance friends from Little Rock to Fulton. One day they were startled by hearing the high notes of a distant violin playing a rollicking air. Putting spurs to their horses, the men hastened toward the sound and soon observed several others running through the fields in the same direction. At last they came over the crest of a ridge in view of the river and beheld the fiddler seated in the middle of the flood in an almost submerged buggy playing as fast as he could shake the bow.

"Hello, there! Turn back!" shouted the men who came through the field.

"I can't," replied the fiddler.

"But you've missed the ford. You'll drown!"

"I've known that for half an hour."

"What are you going to do?"

"Sit here till you chaps come out and turn my horse the right way."

The horse was with difficulty keeping his footing and seemed about to be swept away. One of the men who had been attracted by the fiddling waded out and by a precarious way reached the horse's head and led him round to the ford and back to the bank, the passenger fiddling all the way and winding up with a merry jig.

"What do you mean by sitting out there fiddling in the face of death?" demanded Crockett of the rescued stranger.

"Well, colonel," said the fiddler, "I am a student of human nature. When I found I had missed the ford and needed help, I set out to get it. I might have shouted myself hoarse and no one out here would have paid the slightest attention to me. But there isn't a man west of the Mississippi who wouldn't come running at the sound of a fiddle in the woods."

"And he was right," said Davy, "for there we were, the lot of us, our horses all of a lather, for running to satisfy our curiosity about that squeaking fiddle in this out of the way place."

SUNDOWN DOCTORS.

A Class That Is Peculiar to the National Capital.

"Sundown doctors" are an institution peculiar to Washington city. They are an amiable company of medical practitioners who ply their trade only after nightfall. Not that these gentlemen prefer darkness to light if they had their d'ruthers, nor are their deeds of questionable complexion that looks best in the shade. Sundown doctors have no ways that are dark or tricks that are vain. They are as open as the day that they may not utilize. If they practice their profession by candlelight rather than by the sunshine, that's Uncle Sam's fault, not their own. Sundown doctors begin to get busy only after 4:30 in the afternoon. From 9 to that hour, poor souls, they are holding their noses to the grindstones over the government desks, for one must live, don't you know, however soaring one's scientific ambition, and Uncle Sam's wages do come in mighty regular and handy. So that in a pigeonhole is the story of the origin of the struggling fraternity of sundown physicians at the federal capital.

There are thousands of instances. Embryonic young physicians, with their careers yet to carve, secure clerkships in some of the governmental departments of Washington in order to keep the pot bubbling while they are getting their medical education after office hours. Their diplomas thus laboriously achieved, they hang out their shingles tentatively, holding fast, however, to their government positions until securely established professionally. A job in the hand, you know, is worth a whole city directory full of uncaptured patients. Never let go a sure thing till you are sure of a surer.

"Nunny Dummy."

In his "Highways and Byways In Devon and Cornwall" Arthur H. Norway tells of a fragment of antiquity that still "lingers in the neighborhood of Redruth, where the country people when they see a ghost say, 'Nunny dummy!'" and he adds, "I leave the riddle to be solved by any one who is curious enough to undertake a useful piece of practice in unraveling the corruption of language."

The phrase is probably a corruption of "In nomine Domini," the Latin for "In the name of the Lord," a phrase so familiar in the devotion of the middle ages.

A Shave in China.

The barber in China frequently pursues his calling under peculiar conditions. No soap is used, the parts being simply rubbed with water and then scraped with a fearsome iron weapon made locally, which, though it might astonish a Sheffield cutler, yet answers the purpose very well.—Wide World Magazine.

FISHES IN SLEEP.

In Most Species They Experience a Change of Color.

The way fishes sleep is a study which few people have taken up, but which is nevertheless very interesting. They are very light sleepers and frequently assume singular positions, but the most remarkable thing is the change of color which the majority of them undergo while asleep. Usually their spots and stripes become darker and more distinct when they have successfully sought temporary oblivion.

Sometimes the pattern of their coloring is entirely changed. The ordinary porgy, for instance, presents in the daytime beautifully iridescent hues playing over its silvery sides, but at night, on falling asleep, it takes on a dull bronze tint, and six conspicuous black bands make their appearance on its sides.

If it is suddenly awakened by the turning up of the gas in the aquarium it immediately resumes the silvery color that it shows by daylight.

Naturalists ascribe these changes to the principle of "protective coloration" and point out that the appearance of black bands and the deepening of the spots serve to conceal the fish from their enemies when lying amid the seaweeds.

CHASING RAINBOWS.

Folks to Whom Happiness Is Always Just Out of Reach.

How many people go through life deluded with the conviction that if they could only get a little more money, get into a little more comfortable position, own a little better home, or if they could only get over the particular trouble that is annoying them at the time, they would be happy.

I know a man who had a very hard boyhood, suffered great poverty, who is now fifty years old, and he has always honestly believed that if he could only get the particular thing he was after or get over the particular difficulty that was annoying him at the moment he would be perfectly happy, but he is the same anxious, restless, expectant spirit today as when a youth. He has been quite successful and has done some very remarkable things, but he is invariably in hot water. There is always something that nettles him or destroys his happiness, and, although he is a well meaning man, he has made his family, his employees and everybody about him very unhappy because he is always fretting and worrying, always borrowing trouble.—Success.

Literary Tenants of Islington Tower.

Canonbury tower in Islington, now encompassed by London streets, is all that's left of the priory of the canons of St. Bartholomew, which once stood in the midst of a "pleasaunce," as they used to call such private parks. In the days subsequent to its monastic history many persons of literary fame were tenants of the tower, among them Ephraim Chambers, originator of the modern cyclopedia; Speaker Onslow of the Georgian era; Woodfall, the printer of the "Junius" letters; the famous publisher Mr. Newbery (whose children's books are so well known), and also Oliver Goldsmith. Islington was a rural suburb, with pleasant country lanes, in which Charles Lamb dwelt and where he accomplished the feat of tiring out a dog in a persistent walk.—Westminster Gazette.

The Matterhorn.

Many mountains which long enjoyed a reputation of being absolutely unclimbable are now considered as almost ordinary excursions. The Matterhorn for many years repulsed men who were among the foremost mountaineers of the day. Professor Tyndall and Edward Whymper were foiled on more than a dozen occasions. But on July 15, 1865, with Lord Francis Douglas, Hudson and Hadow, Mr. Whymper eventually reached the summit, and it was in descending that the fatal slip occurred which cost the lives of his three English companions as well as of Michel Croz, one of the most competent of Swiss guides. Nowadays the peak is constantly ascended (with the help of guides) by tourists who have no pretensions to be mountaineers at all.—Dundee Advertiser.

A Hindoo Legend.

A Hindoo account of the creation represents the deity as dividing himself in two and making of one half man, the other woman. The legend indicates, as many other things in the sacred books of India do, that the position of woman was once very different there from what it is today. In the laws of Manu it is said, "Where women are honored the gods rejoice, but where they are not honored all rites of worship are unacceptable."

It Pays.

"How do you find things out this way?" asked the stranger.

"By advertising for 'em," was the prompt reply of the native.—Detroit Free Press.

A TRANSPOSITION.

It Mangled the Salutation, but the King Controlled His Face.

An American who years ago served as our minister to Spain was fond of telling the following joke upon himself:

Shortly after he had become settled in his new home he was bidden to a state ceremonial, where he was to be presented to the king. His knowledge of languages was limited to English and French, and being desirous of addressing the sovereign in his own tongue he took pains to "coach" for the occasion. Several phrases were rehearsed until he felt that he had mastered them. When the critical moment arrived, he saluted the king with great dignity, spoke a few words in Spanish and passed on.

"What did you say?" asked an English gentleman.

"I spoke in Spanish," was the rejoinder. "I said, 'I cast myself at your feet,' which, I am told, is the most respectful form of salutation."

"Ah, no," corrected a Spaniard, who had been observed to smile at the ambassador's greeting. "You are mistaken. You transposed your words and quite altered the meaning."

"What did I say?" asked the diplomat.

With a twinkle in his eye the Spaniard made answer, "What you really said was, 'I throw my heels at your head.'"

But the king had not betrayed by so much as the fluttering of an eyelid that anything unusual had occurred.

THE GREEK MYRMEX.

It Was the Deadliest Weapon of the Ancient Pugilist.

The four ounce glove was unknown to the ancient pugilist. When the boxers and fighters came together in the old days of Greece they wore upon their hands the cestus, which was in itself a terrible adjunct to any fighter. But Dr. Daniel G. Brinton discovered that there was sometimes attached to the cestus a deadlier weapon, consisting of a three pronged fork of bronze.

This was known as the myrmex, and Dr. Brinton, who found this specimen gave it to the museum of archaeology in the University of Pennsylvania Classical literature has frequent references to the myrmex, which is described as the deadliest weapon of the ancient pugilist. The right hand was swathed in tough hide, bound in place with thongs and supplemented by small knobs of lead or iron, to which was affixed the myrmex. Dr. Brinton made his discovery in Paris by examining the Greek and Roman marbles in the Louvre. One of these groups represented a fighter bearing on his right fist the cestus and myrmex.

Combats in those days were much more brutal and dangerous than those of the modern prize ring. It is easily seen that a single blow of the myrmex might cause death or permanent injury.

The Gallfly.

By the laws of England and of France legal documents are required to be written in ink made from galls, such ink having proved to be practically indelible. The mixture is of bruised galls with sulphate of iron and gum arabic. This legal ink, at once the best and oldest in existence, entirely depends on a disease to which the oak tree is subject and which is caused by a fly known as the gallfly. The gallfly belongs to the same order as the bees and wasps, and when it is ready to lay its egg it cuts away the outer bark of an oak tree twig and deposits its eggs in the hole. From some unknown cause the tree immediately begins to enlarge about the egg, and a gall, or oak apple, as it is usually called, is formed. It is this gall which contains the tannic acid from which the ink is made.

Practical Tailoring

Well dressed men will have observed how timid the "Ready-made" mechanic is of putting on the extreme styles in their garments. Why? Because the fashion of to-day is not likely to be the fashion of next season; and so the left-overs, or "the last year's bird's-nests" would remain on their hands.

The advanced fashions in Suits and Overcoats possess several distinctive features this season, such as real and imitative cuffs to the sleeves, which give a pleasing effect and finish. Besides not every man is possessed of a symmetrical figure, and in the event of disproportion, the skilled tailor gets in his practical work.

TELL-TALE SNAPSHOTS.

Help Detectives to Land Thamesville Men In Police Court.

Chatham, Oct. 29.—Photographs taken on the scene of action will play an important part in the action which the Grand Trunk Railway will shortly take against men accused of stealing whiskey from the wrecked car near Thamesville.

It appears that a village camera fiend made use of the opportunity to get some good snaps of the wreck and incidentally of the men who were stealing the whiskey from the wrecked car. All of the pictures turned out particularly good, and the photographer for a few days could not make them fast enough for the demand.

One of them depicted a canny old Scotch local optionist holding a pail under one of the leaks in the car with a broad smile.

These pictures were sent broadcast through the country on souvenir postal cards and otherwise till eventually some of the railway detectives who were sent to investigate the whiskey stealing got into possession of a number of them. They also found the boy who was hired by the celebrants to hand the whiskey bottles from the car, and between his evidence and the pictures they secured a pretty good story.

The result is that 18 informations have been laid against prominent Thamesville people, charging them with stealing liquor from the railway premises.

FOUND DEAD IN BED.

Head of Polson's Iron Works Dies Suddenly In Toronto.

Toronto, Oct. 29.—Franklin Bates Polson president and general manager of the Polson Iron Works, was found dead in bed at his residence, 6 Beaumont road, Rosedale, at two o'clock yesterday afternoon. He had complained of feeling unwell on Saturday, but was at business as usual yesterday morning. He was ill, however, and had to return home.

Mr. Polson was one of Toronto's leading citizens and manufacturers. He was born at Port Hope on Feb. 10, 1856, the son of the late Mr. Polson, founder of the iron works, and descendant of the Polsons, a well-known and highly respected family in the north of Scotland. His primary education was at the Collegiate Institute, Cobourg, and afterwards became a mechanical engineer, becoming a fully qualified marine engineer (holding the highest diplomas) of 30 years standing. He was interested in technical education and for some time was chairman of the old techincal school board, while as a representative manufacturer, and chairman of the Employers' Association, he was called upon on several occasions to take part in the negotiations between employers and the labor men.

REFUSED TO SELL.

Ontario Government Turns Down Offer For Million Acres.

Toronto, Oct. 29.—The Ontario Government has turned away another million dollars.

A few days ago Mr. Pritchard of Winnipeg called on Premier Whitney. He said he represented Canadian and British capitalists, and wanted to buy a million acres of agricultural land in northern Ontario at one dollar an acre. Mr. Whitney remarked that a similar offer had been refused a short time ago, but referred him to Hon. Frank Cochrane, Minister of Lands. Mr. Cochrane, of course, did not entertain the offer.

It is thought Mr. Pritchard read a garbled report of the previous rejected offer, and made his offer under the impression that the Government was disposing of large blocks of land.

But they're not.

King Alfonso In Paris.

Paris, Oct. 29.—King Alfonso, Queen Victoria, their son, the Prince of the Asturias, and their suites passed a few hours in Paris yesterday while on their way to England. Although traveling incognito as the Duke and Duchess of Covadonga, they were received with royal honors. During the afternoon President Fallieres and King Alfonso exchanged official visits, and His Majesty last evening dined with the President at the Elysee Palace, after which there was an entertainment. The royal party left Paris at midnight for Cherbourg, where they embarked on the British battleship Renown for England.

Montreal Mystery.

Montreal, Oct. 29.—The fatal shooting of Oscar Lemay, near the Shamrock lacrosse grounds, Saturday night, is almost identical with that of the Toronto boy, Horace Greigg, who just a little over a year ago, was shot by a highwayman, in Montreal West, another suburb of Montreal.

Lemay had $10 on him, too; his father, who was driving on ahead with his wife, having the proceeds of the day's sales at the city markets, and young Lemay, like Greigg, gave up his life rather than give up $10 to a highwayman.

Russian Elections.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 29.—As a result of two days' balloting 327 members of the Lower House of the Russian Parliament have been chosen. They are divided as follows: 159 Conservatives, 98 Octoberists and Moderates, 41 Cadets, and 29 Radicals.

Montreal Live Stock.

MONTREAL, Oct. 28.—(Special.)—At the Montreal Stock Yards' West End Market the receipts of live stock for the week ending Oct. 26 were 4251 cattle, 3505 sheep and lambs, 6097 hogs and 880 calves, while the offerings this morning for local consumption were 1650 cattle, 1500 sheep and lambs, 2000 hogs and 500 calves. A much easier feeling prevailed in the market for cattle, and prices show a decline of 10c to 25c per 100 lbs., as compared with last Monday's.

This was due to supplies being 450 head larger than a week ago, and also to the very unfavorable weather which prevailed, as the attendance of buyers was not as large as usual, and in consequence the demand was somewhat limited and trade slowed up. Cable advices from Liverpool on Saturday reported trade in cattle very slow and noted a decline in prices of ½c to 1c per lb., with Canadian steers quoted at 10c to 11c, and ranchers at 9¼c to 10c per lb.; choice beeves here sold at 4¾c; good at 4¼c to 4½c; fair at 3½c to 4c; common at 2¾c to 3c; canners at 1¼c to 1½c per lb. The market for export sheep was stronger and prices advanced ½c per lb. The offerings were fair, but the demand was quiet, owing to the fact that shippers had no ocean freight for sheep this week; however, sales were made at $4.40 to $4.50 per 100 lbs. Butchers' sheep were fairly plentiful, for which the demand was slow at 3¼c to 3½c per lb. A fair trade was done in lambs, and prices ruled steady at 4c to 4¼c per lb. There continues to be a good demand for calves, of which supplies are coming forward fairly well and sales of choice stock were made at $12 to $15; good at $8 to $10; fair at $5 to $7, and common at $4 each.

In sympathy with the continued strong advices from European sources on Canadian bacon, and the fact that cables on Saturday noted another rise in prices of 3s to 4s in London, 2s in Bristol and 1s in Liverpool, the local market for hogs is stronger, and prices are 10c to 15c per 100 lbs. higher than a week ago, with sales of selected lots at $6.60 to $6.77 per 100 lbs.

YOUNG WOMAN THE ASSASSIN

Confesses to Being Emissary of Revolutionists — Carried Explosives In Her Bosom—Intended to Wreck Whole Building—Tried to Get It When Arrested—Was an Act of Revenge on the Official.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 29.—Gen. Maximoffsky, director of the department of prisons of the Minister of the Interior, was shot and killed yesterday.

The general was the highest responsible official connected with the Russian prisons.

The murderer was a young woman, Mlle Ragozinikova, the daughter of a teacher in the Imperial School of Music. She avowed horself to be an emissary of the northern flying section of the Social Revolutionists, who had been entrusted with the task of punishing Maximoffsky for the stern regime which he had lately introduced in the treatment of important political prisoners, whom he ordered to be treated like ordinary criminals.

The young woman presented herself at the weekly reception of Gen. Maximoffsky and remained quietly in the crowded anteroom until it was her turn to enter the general's private office. When she was in his presence she drew a revolver and fired seven shots point blank at the general. Six of them took effect. The wounded man was hastily taken to the hospital of the Grand Duchess Catherine Pavelovna, but his condition was immediately recognized as hopeless.

The assassination apparently was designed to be only a prelude to a greater act of terrorism—the destruction of the headquarters of the secret police, which has been the object of at least three terrorist plots of recent months.

When the assassin was taken to the police station her agitated attempts to free her bound hands and search her breast led to an investigation, and it was found that she carried inside her corset a case containing thirteen pounds of high explosive, a charge powerful enough to blow the entire building and its occupants to pieces. Her portrait is in that part of the police gallery marked "dangerous suspects." Nevertheless, she remained three hours in the general's reception room before being recognized. She pretended that her mission was to obtain better diet for her brother, who is sick in prison. It is understood that she will be court-martialed this week.

KIDNAPPED IN LONDON.

Daughter of Russian Princess Disappears Mysteriously at Theatre.

London, Oct. 29.—Barbara Paponkhin, daughter of Alex. Paponkhin, ex-governor of Reval, and whose mother is a Russian princess, has mysteriously disappeared.

Miss Barbara, who is 18 years old, was visiting London with her younger sister, in charge of an English governess. The trio went to the Aldwych Theatre Oct. 24, and on coming out Barbara became separated in the crowd from her companions and has not been seen since.

The governess recently received a note, in a handwriting which she recognized at Barbara's, saying that she had been kidnapped and was suffering from a wound. She hinted at suicide.

THE CRISIS IS NOW HAPPILY OVER

New York Banks Assuming Their Normal Condition Again.

NO FURTHER SUSPENSIONS

Rapid Rise of Good Securities—Trust Company's Deposits Exceed Withdrawals—Dollar Bank Closed on Account of Cashier's Suicide—Accounts Being Investigated—Sixty Day Limit Enforced.

New York, Oct. 29.—The principal events in the financial district yesterday indicated that the worst of the crisis was over, and that matters were settling down to comparatively normal conditions. There were no further bank suspensions and conditions were reported as favorable for the resumption of most of the banks which closed temporarily last week.

News of the engagement of $18,750,000 in gold from Europe for importation to New York was followed by the sensational announcement of sales of American copper abroad, which will further increase the tide of foreign money to this country to an aggregate of over $25,000,000. This, with the rapid rise of good securities on the Stock Exchange, in some cases as much as four and five per cent., which was naturally followed by a slight reaction at the close, and the policy of the trust company not to pay out currency for hoarding, contributed to strengthen the feeling in banking quarters and among the public.

So well was the situation in hand that there was no scurrying about of leading financiers and hasty conferences as took place the last of last week. J. Pierpont Morgan was in touch with the situation in his library on 36th street, but did not find it necessary to come down town.

Runs on banks practically ceased, partly because of recognition that they were unnecessary and unjustifiable, and partly because of the policy adopted of paying large checks only in certified checks on depository banks. That system of payment worked no apparent hardship and was the cause of very little protest.

One of the sensational features was the remarkable development in the copper trade. The United States Metals Selling Co. reports a sharp advance in prices.

At the close of business yesterday the Trust Company of America, upon which the run continued, found as the result of the day's business, that they had deposits in excess of withdrawals of $296,000. They also had been able to collect $223,000 of outstanding loans, so that the net outcome of the day's work was an increase in cash of $519,000.

Akron, Ohio, Oct. 29.—The Dollar Savings Bank has been closed by order of the directors until the funeral of Fred A. Boran, its cashier, who committed suicide Saturday afternoon. In the meantime a further investigation of the accounts is going on, and a movement is also on foot to have the other banks of the city take this institution over. The Clearing House Association held a meeting yesterday, and will announce a policy in reference to the savings accounts of the city.

The 30-day time limit has been ordered enforced on all savings accounts in the banks of the city.

Bounty on Rats.

Vancouver, B. C., Oct. 29.—When the City Council approves of a recommendation of the Board of Health yesterday rats will be quoted on the local market at fifty cents a dozen, dead or alive. The bounty is the first step in the precautions against the entrance of the bubonic plague.

Other B. C. ports are likely to adopt a similar measure. Dominion Health Superintendent Montisambert is expected here to-day. Reports that there have been five deaths from outbreak in Seattle are misleading; only one death is known so far to be due to the plague.

WERE WRECKED IN WARSHIP

Kept Prisoners by Talagos—Forced to Drag Plows For Savage Natives—Whipped by Their Masters and Treated Like Beasts — Fed on Scanty Rations of Green Corn —A Sensation In Madrid.

Madrid, Oct. 29.—A thrilling story, related by a Spaniard who recently arrived from Manila, is attracting a good deal of attention in the Madrid papers. This man, who gives his name as Bulguera, declares he was on board the Spanish cruiser Reina Marie Gristina when she was wrecked. He says that when the warship foundered and her crew of 627 men were thrown into the water, though more than 300 were drowned, many were saved.

The survivors, he declares, were captured by Tagalos and taken to the Island of San Juan del Monte, in Bulacan Province. According to Bulguera's story, there are more than 4,000 Spanish prisoners on that island. They are forced, he says, by the natives to drag their plows and are whipped and treated like beasts of burden, and the only reward they get are scanty rations of green corn.

Bulguera has related his story to a correspondent of El Pueblo, and he says that in June last ninety Spanish prisoners tried to escape by swimming. Practically all were drowned, he says, but he succeeded in landing on the opposite bank, and was subsequently able to reach Manila. Then he went to the American authorities, who provided him with passage on board the steamer Baltimore, bound for Cadiz. He reached that port in September, but was only able to proceed to his native town a few days since, where he had long been given up for dead.

One of Bulguera's companions has also just reached his home at Valencia, where he found that not only had he been presumed to be dead, but his wife had married again. This story of 4,000 Spaniards being still alive and in the hands of Tagalos has caused a great sensation, and is made the subject of comments by the press of Madrid.

WAS WRONG MAN.

Deserted Wife Fails to Recognize Missing Hubby at Port Dalhousie.

St. Catharines, Oct. 29.—A peculiar incident occurred at the Maple Leaf Rubber Factory, Port Dalhousie, on Saturday. Some time ago William J. Hennessey came to the village and secured work in the cutting-room. About the same time a William Hennessey left his wife in Chicago, and the description given of the deserter tallied exactly with the man at the factory. Some one sent word to the lonely wife. She appeared at the factory on Saturday, got a look at Hennessey, but found him to be remarkably like her husband, but another man.

DARING ATTEMPTED ROBBERY.

Clerk Gagged and Bound by Burglars In Hudson Bay Co.'s Office.

Fort William, Oct. 29.—The Hudson Bay store was robbed Sunday morning, and the burglars after gagging and binding a young clerk named Wrenn, who sleeps on the premises, prepared to blow the safe. They drilled three holes in the door, but for some unknown reason, probably fear of attracting attention, did not use the explosive, consequently did not obtain the money in the vault. Wrenn managed to get loose from his fastenings and called the police. So far no arrests have been made.

Mimico Station Robbed.

Mimico, Oct. 29.—When Superintendent Skelton arrived at his work yesterday morning a most unpleasant surprise awaited him, he finding that during the night the G. T. R. station had been broken into and about eight dollars in money taken, besides a large quantity of valuable papers of great value to the station-master, but of no value to the thieves. Information was at once given to the G. T. R. police at the Union Station and to County Constable Simpson, though there is no clue at present to the thieves.

Access was gained to the premises by breaking out a pane of glass, then the rest of the work was comparatively easy. The thieves made no effort to cover up their tracks, broken glass lay about in every direction, while the whole place was left in disorder.

Captured Escaped Lunatic.

Orangeville, Oct. 29.—A wild-eyed, black-whiskered man arrived here on Saturday and was shortly afterwards apprehended on the nominal charge of vagrancy, and committed to jail for safe-keeping. Yesterday morning Governor Bowles proceeded to learn the man's identity. He is William Langford, who escaped from Mimico ten days ago. The authorities will send for Langford. It is surprising he was not arrested before, as he is obviously out of his mind.

German-Australian Trade.

London, Oct. 29.—The semi-official Norddeutsche Allgmeine Zeitung says: "It was declared during the preference debate in the Australian Parliament that Germany discriminated against Australian goods and excluded the Australian products as far as possible. The statement is incorrect as all imports from Australia are treated in accordance with notification sent in 1905 on the most favored nation basis."

APPROVES FERRY PROJECT.

British Government Likes New Channel Scheme—Won't Have Tunnel.

London, Oct. 29.—David Lloyd-George, President of the Board of Trade, has stamped with his approval the project to establish a Channel ferry between Dover and Calais for the transportation of trains. Both parties in England, he said, were opposed to the tunneling of the Channel, one objection being that such a passage would be open to an invading army.

Arrested Steamer Norwark.

Welland, Oct. 29.—Sheriff Smith, acting under a warrant issued at the instance of the Montreal Transportation Co. on Saturday night, arrested the steamer Norwark, bound from Quebec to Detroit, laden with pulpwood.

On Oct. 23 the Norwark collided with the steamer Jet of the Montreal Transportation Co., laden with flax seed, in St. Louis Bay, and the Jet went down. The Montreal Transportation Co. claims this was the fault of the Norwalk, and asks damages to the amount of $26,500.

Open Verdict at Stratford.

Stratford, Oct. 29.—Last night an open verdict was returned by the jury investigating the death of the late George Ritz, who was killed near the Stratford Hotel on Oct. 14. The following is the verdict:

"That George Rits came to his death by electric shock, but from the evidence given we cannot say whether from negligence of the Electric Light Co. or the city fire department."

TURPENTINE SATURATED BRUSH IGNITED WITH FLARE IN LADY'S HAND; HAD A NARROW ESCAPE

A little turpentine on a stove brush was almost the cause of a serious accident yesterday. A lady was cleaning a range, in which there was a fresh fire, and, unfortunately, she had forgotten that there was considerable turpentine in the brush. She was soon reminded of it, however, for she had no sooner placed the brush on the stove lid than there was an explosion, and the brush and a paper which she had wrapped around the handle, to hold it with, were instantly in flames, which enveloped the lady, and, but for the prompt action of other members of the family who were there, and who saw the occurrence, the consequences would have been much more serious. As it was, her hands were rather badly burned.

It is dangerous to clean a hot stove with a brush saturated with turpentine.

Famous Arctic Explorer, Capt. Bernier Likely To Give Address In Peterborough This Winter

Will Visit His Friend, Dr. Marsh, And May Address Royal Astronomical Society on His Trip To The Far North

DOCK "ARCTIC" TO-DAY

Captain Bernier, the famous Canadian Arctic explorer, will in all probability be heard in Peterborough during the coming winter. This morning Rev. Dr. Marsh of Springville, president of the local branch of the Royal Astronomical Society, received a letter from the explorer, written on board the steamer "Arctic," in which he acknowledges Dr. Marsh's telegram of congratulation upon his safe return from his trip to the far north. He stated that he expected to dock the "Arctic" to-day, and that he would be in Ottawa during the session, which opens next month. Dr. Marsh is a warm personal friend of Capt. Bernier, and stated that he expected the latter to pay him a visit this winter, in which event he would be probably willing to give an evening to the Astronomical Society, and would give an address before the members on the incidents connected with his interesting trip to the northern regions. The members of the society, therefore, have a treat in store, and it is to be hoped that the anticipated visit will materialize.

MR. M. PAPPAS CALLED TO TERRA HAUTE, IND., BY REPORT THAT COUSIN HAD BEEN MURDERED

This morning Mr. M. Pappas left on a trip to Terre Haute, Ind., where he has been called on a sad mission. He was advised by a firm of solicitors in Chicago that his cousin had been murdered in the Indiana city, and that his presence was desired in connection with the steps which are being taken to apprehend the murderer and to close up the estate of his deceased relative. No particulars had been received by Mr. Pappas, as to the details of the murder of which his cousin is said to have been the victim. Mr. Pappas had been in communication with him up to a short time ago, and it was, of course, a very painful surprise to him to learn of his death under such peculiarly distressing circumstances. He will be away for some little time, it is expected, as the intention is to probe the matter to the bottom.

Company To Erect Big Hotel To Be Registered Next Week

Mr. W. Young Kinleyside of Investment Company Again in City — $25,000 Stock Subscribed

TORONTO MEN INTERESTED

Mr. W. Young Kinleyside, the general manager of the North American Investment Company of Toronto, is again in the city in connection with the proposed big scheme of forming a joint stock company to subscribe $200,000 capital stock for the erection of a new hotel to include the National Hotel building. Mr. Kinleyside, when seen by the Examiner at the National this morning, stated that from present indications the project would probably be carried out.

Two prominent capitalists of Toronto, as well as a number of Peterborough men have already been interested and $25,000 has been subscribed towards the scheme with the prospects that during the next few days more will be added.

Next week Mr. Kinleyside states the comapny will be registered as there appears to be little doubt of the proposition going through. The experience of the general manager of the company extends over Canada, United States, Mexico, South America and Europe, so that he is well acquainted with his business.

Mr. Kinleyside is here also in the interests of the formation of other companies as well, the nature of which will possibly be made known in a few days time.

A SISTER'S SORROW

A Letter From Glasgow, Scotland Makes Inquiries After Henry Kelly, Or William Anderson, Killed Near Birdsall

HIS SISTER WROTE HIM

Wants to Know About Circumstances Connected With Her Brothers Sudden Death In This Country

A sister's anxiety and kindly solicitude for the welfare of her brother, the news of whose sudden death was conveyed in the terse and unsympathetic terms of a press despatch in a Canadian newspaper, are evidenced in a letter received this morning by Mr. George Howson, Dominion Immigration Agent, from Glasgow, Scotland, in which the writer, who states that she is a sister of William Anderson, or as he was known here, Henry Kelly, asked for information concerning his death, which she learned from a copy of the Toronto Globe, sent to Glasgow.

The letter informed the recepient that she had only heard once from her brother since he came to Canada, and that then he had said he was working in the Hastings tannery. She found it hard to reconcile this statement with that in the despatch, which was to the effect that he had only recently arrived in Canada. This, however, is explained by the fact that this was the story he told his foreman at Brampton.

She was most anxious to be informed as to the disposition of her brother's body, and expressed the hope that his burial had been one in keeping with his former respectability. Mr. Howson has replied giving her the information desired, concerning her brother, such as he has been able to obtain.

AN UNKNOWN INTOXICATED MAN IS PULLED FROM FRONT OF AN APPROACHING EXPRESS

Stranger Has Narrow Escape On C.P.R. Track Yesterday Evening Beneath Overhead Bridge

SAVED BY C. ARCHAMBEAULT

Another Drunken Man Found Across Rail of Fuel and Cartage Company's Siding

Lying with his youthful body inclined half way over the rail of the C.P.R. track yesterday afternoon a short distance east of the bridge across the Otonabee, an intoxicated and helpless stranger almost lost his life. Two minutes longer, and the 4.48 C.P.R. express would have crashed over his body, had it not been for the timely arrival of Mr. Chas. Archambeault.

Mr. Archambeault noticed the youth in an unconscious state lying across the track and underneath the overhead bridge to the Peterborough Lumber Company's lumber mill. The young fellow was entirely helpless and oblivious of his surroundings. He slept as soundly as if the noise of the approaching train had been his lullaby. But fortunately a good Samaritan in the person of Mr. Archambeault happened along and saved the stranger from a horrible death in his drunken stupor.

Just in Time

Mr. Archambeault made several attempts to awaken the unknown from his sound slumbers. This he found impossible, and as the sound of the express had then reached his ears he pulled the intoxicated personage off the track and laid him on the carter to the side of the rail and beneath the overhead bridge.

He found in his pockets two flasks of whisky, one of which was partly emptied before he stretched his almost lifeless body across the rail from which position he escaped by only the merest chance of the passer-by happening along.

A Similar Case

Yesterday afternoon a similar case was reported from the Fuel and Cartage Company's siding. An intoxicated individual with a large bottle of whisky in his inside pocket, was found with one leg over the rail, which might have been severed from his body by a shunting car.

INEXPERIENCED G.T.R. BRAKEMAN INSTANTLY KILLED AT WHITBY JCT.

Examiner Special.

Whitby, Oct. 29.—Brakeman W. Leahy, of the Northern Division of the Grand Trunk passenger train from Lindsay to Whitby, was killed here this morning. In switching the train around the "Y" at the junction, he stepped on the main line and the second section of No. 4 from Montreal struck him with such force as to throw his body over forty feet, killing him instantly. Leahy had been at work only a few days. His home was in Lindsay. He was unmarried and about twenty years old. An inquest will be held.

About 65 Hunters Have Secured Them in Peterborough—Some Leaving This Afternoon

MAJORITY GO TO-MORROW

The nimrods have been taking out deer licenses rapidly this week and this afternoon about 65 had purchased the safety slips from Col. Miller, the issuer of the licenses in this city. Many of the hunters leave for the north to-morrow to be prepared to take the watch on Friday morning, the first day of the hunt. Some left this afternoon, while others will wait until Thursday to take their departure, and presently the northern woods will again be populated by representatives from a more southern clime.

In addition to the list published Saturday, those who have taken out licenses in the city are as follows: Geo. Miss C. Stanley-Jones, professional nurse, 283 Simcoe street, Toronto, writes: "In my occupation as nurse I have come across many cases in which Dr. Chase's Ointment has been used with extraordinary success. One case is that of a sixteenth months old child who was cured of scald head and another that of eczema on the face after her doctor had given up."

Y.M.C.A. Secretary To Report Nov. 10

Mr. Horace C. Wright, the new General Secretary of the Peterborough Y.M.C.A., will be in the city to commence his duties on Sunday, November 10. Last night Mr. R. E. Harding, President of the local Association, received a telegram from Mr. Wright from Gowansville, Md., in answer to the invitation to accept the position here, and he signified his willingness to become the next Secretary. Mr. Wright, it will be remembered, was the young Canadian to whom an invitation was extended a short time ago in the belief that he was the best man available for the vacant position here. He has had a varied and successful career in Association work, and comes to Peterborough exceedingly well recommended for the position here. He is 23 years of age, and lived until a few years ago in Western Ontario. It is believed that the choice made by the Board of Directors is a good one, that the Peterborough Association will enter upon a new era of progress.

OTTAWA MOULDER'S DEATH

Was Whirled Around Rapidly Revolving Shaft a Hundred Times—Literally Torn to Pieces

WAS A HORRIBLE ACCIDENT

Examiner Special.

Ottawa, Ont., Oct. 29.—John McCallum, an Ottawa moulder met a fearful death yesterday, details of which just came to light this morning, and an inquest will be conducted by Coroner Baptie. He works at the Caledonia Foundry here, and while around the machinery got caught in the shafting and whirled with fearful velocity upwards of a hundred times around the shafting. As soon as possible the machinery was stopped, but the clothing had to be cut from McCallum's body before he could be taken from the shaft and he was fearfully mangled. He was taken to the Protestant Hospital, but died a few hours later. Aged twenty-five.

The committee of the Charlotte street Methodist church, to which the question of the erection of a new church or an addition to the present building, met last night and went into the matter fully. A report of the committee making certain recommendations respecting the matter under consideration will be presented to the Quarterly Official Board, at its next meeting, probably next week.

GOLD LAKE PARTY HAVE GONE

Left To-day for Two Week's Deer Hunt —Stony Lake Club

Part of the Gold Lake hunting party left the city this afternoon, for their hunting grounds, and the remainder will go to-morrow. This club has been most successful in other seasons and will no doubt bring home their full complement of venison.

Mr. Louis Houdrey left to-day with several other members of the Stony Creek party. They had good luck in that neighbourhood last year and hope to duplicate their success this year.

TRANSFORMATION OF UNSIGHTLY HOLLOW INTO A SPLENDID RESIDENTIAL SECTION OF CITY

Yesterday the last step which marks the complete transformation of what was until about eighteen months ago an unsightly hollow between George and Water streets was taken, when the last remaining lot on the Water street side of the block between Edinburgh and Antrim streets was sold to Mr. George Manning, who will erect a brick residence on it. About a year and a half ago ago Messrs. Middleton and Ruth bought this plot—then a hollow—for $1,000, and inside of that short space of time it has developed into property worth fully $40,000, a ten fold increase.

There are six houses on the George street side all finished except one, and that will be ready for the owner to eat his Christmas dinner in if he desires, and on the Water street side five houses are completed, Mr. George Manning's residence making the sixth there. These twelve houses will average $3,400 each, or a total of $40,800 for the dozen. It will be seen that in addition to improving the appearance of that portion of the city, these gentlemen have contributed largely to the assessment of the city by their progressive action in buying and filling in this section, making it into one of the most attractive residential portions of the city.

SOCIALIST PARTY TO ORGANIZE A BRANCH IN PETERBOROUGH

PETERBOROUGH PLAYER VICTIM OF ASSAULT IN SATURDAY'S GAME

Mr. W. Crowley, in Reference To The Assault on Whom a Letter Appears In To-day's Issue

WEDDING BELLS.

WHITE-McCABE

At St Peter's cathedral this morning at eight o'clock, a quiet wedding was solemnized by Rev. Father McColl, when Miss Nellie McCabe, daughter of the late Mr. Jas. McCabe, East City, was united in marriage to Mr. Augustus White. The ceremony was witnessed by a number of the friends of both parties. The bride was attended by Miss Maud Cahill and Mr. Jos. Lawrence, nephew of the groom, was best man. Miss Maggie McCabe, sister of the bride, played Mendelssohn's wedding march as the bridal party entered the church.

The bride wore a pretty travelling suit of brown cloth, and a picture hat to match. The bridesmaid's dress was a mauve silk, with a black stripe. The wedding breakfast was served at the bride's home, Burnham street, and at 11.45 the happy couple left for Buffalo and other American cities, and on their return will take up their residence in this city.

Mr. A. W. Mance, Provincial Organizer, Toronto, Here For That Purpose—A Meeting To-night

A DOZEN SOCIALISTS HERE

To-night will probably mark the beginning of a new era in connection with Peterborough Socialists, when a meeting will be held to organize a Socialist party in this city. Last night Mr. A. W. Mance of Toronto, the organizer for the party for Ontario, arrived in the city, and to-day communicated with the followers of the Socialistic movement which number no more than a dozen men.

Mr. Mance is staying at the White House, where he is meeting those interested, and where he was seen by an Examiner reporter this morning. He states that he has been sent out by the Executive Committee of the Socialistic party for Ontario, and has been travelling in their interests since August 28. He has visited all the larger western towns and cities, including Toronto, Guelph, Berlin, Galt, Woodstock, Ingersoll, London, Brantford, and Hamilton, and is now on the journey eastward.

The Meeting To-night

Mr. Mance has been interested in Socialistic work for a number of number of years, having been editor of the Chicago Socialist for six years previous to his becoming organizer in Ontario. His chief business is lecturing and organizing Socialist sentiment and crystallizing it into organization for political purposes. The meeting of the men interested here will be held this evening at the White House, when the work necessary to organization will be discussed. It is probable that a secretary will be appointed to look after the proposal to have a public meeting in the near future, when the opinions of the party will be ventilated.

Mr. Mance explained that the headquarters of the party were in British Columbia. It is organized on the plan of the Socialist movement throughout the world, the work being principally looked after by a Dominion secretary and Dominion executive committee. Their work is to organize as many Provincial branches as possible, and now have three, British Columbia, Manitoba and Ontario, having been reaped into the fold.

The Finances

The Socialist party is financed in a peculiar manner. The Dominion secretary issues stamps which cost nothing except the printing. He sells them to the Provincial secretary for five cents each, and the latter, with the executive committee, sells them to local organizations for ten cents each. They are next sold to each of the members for 25 cents, and thus money is provided for the three parts of the party.

Mr. Mance states that the party has now 500 members in Ontario paying dues, and he says that the membership is rapidly increasing. The chief organ of the party is the "Western Clarion," published in Vancouver, B. C.

The local followers of Socialism are not many. They could be almost all counted on one's fingers, but according to the organizer, they will not long remain such. One of the most enthusiastic of Socialists in Peterborough is Mr. Jos. Lundy, who has for many years been interested in the movement in Peterborough.

It will possibly be arranged to-night to hold a public meeting in the course of a few weeks' time.

THE ISSUE IN THE BYE-ELECTIONS

The real issue in the bye-elections now in progress in this Province is the record of the Laurier Ministry for wise legislation and efficient administration. The Premier has now been in office for eleven years, and during the same interval Mr. Fielding has been his Minister of Finance. These two members of the Cabinet are most in the public eye, and they are of themselves sufficient to maintain the identity of the Ministry. A retrospective glance over the record of the Laurier regime is the best way to determine how the electors should vote.

One of the important matters in which marked progress has been made is the definition of Canada's relation to the empire. Sir Wilfrid Laurier has in the capacity of Premier attended two colonial conferences in London, and at each he was able by the force of his personality and the tactfulness of his attitude to secure for his own country the predominating influence. That influence is still accomplishing a useful purpose, for only a few days ago the Australian Government announced its intention to propose a trade preference for British manufactures without asking any preference in return. The negotiation of a commercial treaty with France by two Canadian Ministers was by far the most advanced step so far taken in the recognition of Canada's right to control her own commercial relations with foreign countries. The Premier in a complimentary speech at one of the Kipling receptions the other day, quoted with hearty approbation the poet's remark that Canada is "daughter in her mother's house, but mistress in her own"; only those who have watched the course of events since he came into office know how much Sir Wilfrid's regime has added to the significance of this felicitous definition of Canada's status in the empire.

When the history of Canadian dnance is written the Laurier regime will stand on its pages with exceptional pre-eminance. The long Conservative period that preceded it was one of high taxation and annual deficits; the period of Mr. Fielding's financial administration has been one of lessened fiscal burdens, increasing revenue, and continuous industrial as well as financial prosperity. This state of the public exchequer and of private business has not been the result of a mere accident; it has been the outcome of a wise financial policy intelligently framed, deliberately adopted, persistently maintained, and unflinchingly practised. The Minister of Finance searched carefully for the happy mean of customs taxation, and he was fortunate enough to find it. He induced Parliament to lower materially the tariff on imports. His opponents predicted disaster to manufacturing industries. As time bolied their forecasts they persisted in describing his tariff as "protectionist," and calling on Parliament to make it more protective. The electors will act wisely in accepting the present system of taxation and leaving the present Minister of Finance to manage it for them.

The vast importance of the transportation problem has steadily been recognized by the party now in power, and great advances have been made towards its final solution. When the Laurier Government came into office the St. Lawrence Canals had been for some years in process of enlargement, but the work had progressed at a snail's pace. The new Ministers of Railways and Public Works, respectively, with the full approval of their colleagues, but at greatly increased expense, hastened the work of deepening the St. Lawrence channel to fourteen feet throughout. At once a larger type of vessels appeared on the route, and the Canadian marine has rapidly increased in tonnage and efficiency. Much has been done to improve harbours, and to make channels that were by nature difficult and often dangerous, safe for navigators to traverse by night as well as by day. The Intercolonial Railway, which had been extended to Quebec many years before, was early in the Laurier regime extended to Ste. Hyacinthe on an independent line, and thence into Montreal over the Grand Trunk system. The legislative and financial provision made for construction and operation of the National Transcontinental Railway from ocean to ocean will give Canada a second trunk line across the continent, with numerous branches for the accommodation for the settlements that are even now coming into existence along its route. It has already been authoritatively announced that the Grand Trunk management will have both a trans-Atlantic and a trans-Pacific service of its own as soon as its transcontinental route is in a position to connect them for through traffic purposes.

It is unnecessary to repeat what has often and recently been said about the management of the Postoffice Department, the usefulness of the Labour Bureau, and the importance of increased immigration. Without the immigrants to do the work of construction and settle on neighbouring lands, it would have been impracticable to provide increased railway facilities on an extensive scale, and the development that has taken place would have been indefinitely deferred. As a whole, the record of the Laurier regime shows that it has been progressive without recklessness, efficient without extravagance, and public-spirited without jingoism. No previous regime in the history of the Dominion was so uniformly and deservedly successful.

CATARRH IS CURABLE

Successful Experiments in Abating And Curing This Disease

Catarrh is an entirely unnecessary disease, and should not be tolerated for a single day now that Hyomei is so generally known and has made so many cures in Peterborough and other towns.

Until comparatively recent times catarrh was thought to be a blood disease, and stomach dosing the only treatment. Modern science finally disproved this idea of the cause of catarrh, and found that it was a germ disease, and, after many experiments, the remedy was decided to be Hyomei.

Hyomei medicates the air you breathe; it kills the catarrhal germs; it heals the smarting and raw membranes of the passages in the nose and throat; it cures all catarrhal troubles.

As there is life and health in the air in the mountain-tops where the pine forests give off their fragrant and healing balsams, so there is life and health in breathing Hyomei. There is no need of suffering from catarrh if the simple and natural treatment of Hyomei is used.

So sure is this prescription to cure even the worst cases of catarrh, that Mr. Madill sells it under an absolute guarantee to refund the money if it does not do all that is claimed for it.

RADICAL CHANGES ARE MADE

In the Regulations Respecting Examinations in the Schools and Collegiate Institutes of the Province

AN EXPLANATION IS GIVEN

Radical changes in the regulations regarding examinations in schools in Ontario have been decided upon, and come into effect at once. The Principal of the Peterborough Collegiate Institotute has been supplied with a circular outlining these changes, and in view of their importance he was asked by the Examiner to furnish such information as would enable the public to grasp the situation created by the new regulations. The following letter from Mr. H. R. F. Kenner is, therefore, self-explanatory:—

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir,—I have been requested by Mr. Fessenden, Principal of the Collegiate Institute, to furnish you with the following information concerning the latest changes, made by the Educational Department of Ontario, in the rules and regulations.

So far as these affect the High Schools and the continuation classes, they are intended to reduce the pressure of the Departmental Examinations on the lower and middle schools, of the High Schools and continuation classes, and, as a result of such reduction, to give the teacher greater freedom in his work and to enable him to give more and better attention to subjects of practical and vital importance which have suffered under the system hitherto in operation.

These changes will come into effect at the examinations of 1908.

I shall first deal with what has hitherto been called the junior leaving examinations. It will hereafterth be called the Normal School entrance examination.

The new requirements for entrance into the Normal Schools are as follows:—

1. The obligatory subjects of examination for entrance into the Normal Schools shall be the following subjects of the Middle School course of the High Schools as follows:—English composition, English literature, history, (ancient, British and Canadian,) algebra, geometry, physics and chemistry.

2. The courses in physics and chemistry for this examination shall include those now prescribed for the Lower School, as well as those prescribed for the Middle School.

3. Candidates for entrance into the Normal Schools who take also the papers in the Middle School course in Latin, (the pass matriculation course) at the July departmental examinations of the same year, and who make at least 34 per cent. on each of such Latin papers and 50 per cent. of the aggregate of marks assigned to both papers, shall have the marks so obtained counted as part of the 60 per cent. required on the aggregate of the obligatory subjects.

Now, it may be asked, what are the changes? Will the examination be heavier or lighter? It will be considerably lighter. At the July examinations in 1908 there will be no papers on geography, English grammar or arithmetic for Normal School entrance examination.

Again, it may be asked, are the changes in the right direction? The answer to this is a matter of opinion. If I may be allowed to venture a humble opinion, I should say no, and I would write the word "no" in Italics, underline it, and use red ink in doing so.

It will not be denied that the examination has been, of recent years, too exacting. There has been an inordinate amount of physics and geometry, science has been having a sweet revenge for her comparative neglect in the past. Instead of lessening the amount in these two subjects, three very important subjects viz.—English grammar, geography and arithmetic will not be subjects for examination. Public school teachers will not be required to teach the former, to any great extent, in the Public schools, while it is absolutely necessary that they should be able to teach well the latter three.

If the latter subjects are not to be examined upon, they will, in many schools, to a greater or lesser extent, be neglected, as teachers are like other people, both good and bad, intensely human, and will pay more attention to the examination subjects, and thereby give greater satisfaction to exacting School Boards, to fond parents and to students of tender years who are not striving after truth for thruth's sake alone.

The Board of Examiners for this Normal School entrance examination will in the future be chosen from the staffs of the Normal Schools.

This is a very desirable change, College professors who, as a class, have no knowledge of secondary schools and their programme of studies will no longer be permitted to act as examiners.

I desire to emphasize the fact that no change has been made by the University authorities as regards the junior matriculation examinations, and that arithmetic and English Grammar will as in the past be subjects of examination for 1908.

In a subsequent article, with your permission, I will deal with the reorganized scheme of professional training.

Yours truly,
H. KENNER.

UNNA DEFINES A CAUSE

European Skin Specialist, says Dandruff is Caused by Parasites

Upon that theory, proved beyond a doubt, a cure for dandruff was sought after. Scientists, chemists, druggists and physicians all "took a hand" and the successful issue is the present product known as "Newbro's Herpicide."

This remedy actually kills the parasites that infest the hair bulb, does its work most effectively, and contains not an atom of substance injurious to anything else than the germ alone. Herpicide causes the hair to grow, as nature intended it should, soft and abundant.

Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to the Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. Two sizes—50 cents and $1. McDermid & Jury, Special Agents.

MISSING BOY SEEN BY TWO LADIES ON C.P.R. TRACK WEST OF HERE

A clue to the disappearance of Fred Dickson, the young Bolivar street boy who has been away from his home since Thursday of last week, was received last night. Mrs. Frank Christopher and Mrs. Jos. Denault of Parnell street, while going out the C.P.R. track to visit a friend that day, caught up with the boy when about three miles west of this city. He joined them and accompanied them as far as they went, about four miles from here.

In conversation with these women, he told them that he had not far to go, and would not be tired, and from his general remarks they considered that his destination was Cavanville. Although the boy is a cripple, having lost his left leg, he is a rapid walker, and found no difficulty in walking on the railway. Nothing further has been learned of his whereabouts as yet, and it is not known where the lad is at present.

SUCCESSFUL YEAR IS REPORTED

Annual Meeting of Ladies' Auxiliary of Y.M.C.A. Held On Monday Afternoon

THE YEAR'S OPERATIONS

The reports of the year's work presented at the annual meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Y.M.C.A., held yesterday afternoon in the Association parlours indicate a most successful year, and the ladies as a result are feeling gratified. Mrs. E. F. Mason, the President of the Auxiliary, occupied the chair, and the meeting was opened with prayer by Mrs. Wm. Davidson.

After the regular monthly meeting had been disposed of the annual reports of the secretary and treasurer were presented, and adopted. They showed that the work of the Auxiliary was in a very satisfactory condition.

The following was the report of the Secretary:—

In reviewing the work of the year ending Oct. 28th, 1907, your secretary is pleased to report a satisfactory year's work. Although so much effort was not required on the part of the members as in former years, they have accomplished equally good results and it is pleasing to state that financially a small balance remains on hand with which to begin another year's work.

During the year eight regular meetings and three special meetings were held, having an average attendance of twelve members, the same average attendance as that of the previous year. While the Auxiliary suffered the loss of one active member in the person of Mrs. Jeffries, whose removal from our midst was keenly felt, we are glad to be able to record the names of several new members whose assistance is greatly appreciated. At the last annual meeting it was decided to change the time of meeting from the last Thursday afternoon of the month, to the last Monday evening, hoping that the change would insure a larger attendance at the meetings, but the desired result has not been attained. The first meeting of a social nature was held on the afternoon of November 6th, when an enjoyable tea was given in the association parlours by the members of the Auxiliary, to which all ladies at all interested in the work were invited, through the medium of the press. There was a good attendance, and a number of those present signified their willingness to assist in the work by having their names added to the list of members and paying the membership fee of fifty cents.

On the evening of March 19 an entertainment in the form of a birthday party was held in the Y.M.C.A. building, when an enjoyable musical programme was rendered and refreshments served. Candy was also sold, and the undertaking proved very successful, both socially and financially. This was the only entertainment given to augment the funds during the whole year, and no subscriptions have been solicited by the auxiliary. On Wednesday afternoon, June 12, the members met to sew, when the dormitory comforters were re-covered, and light tea was served. The auxiliary also arranged for the provision and serving of the closing banquet of the recent campaign, made by the members of the Y.M.C.A. previous to the departure of our late General Secretary, Mr. Williamson, for his new field of labour in Fort William.

A number of new furnishings in the way of curtains, rugs, comforters etc., have been purchased during the year, and the cleaning of the building was supervised in the spring. A small donation of money, subscribed by the members, was sent to Kentville, N. S., to aid in the furnishing of a new Y.M.C.A. building at that place.

The president, Mrs. E. F. Mason, and the treasurer, Miss Davidson, attended the Y.M.C.A. convention held in Toronto in February last.

The above report is respectfully submitted by

ESTELLE ACKERMAN,
Secretary Ladies' Auxiliary of Y.M.C.A.

HARD LUCK STORY OF A VAGRANT

Returning From the West on Account of Disease That Has Taken Hold of Him

Augustus Dundas, an old resident of neighborhood, was one of three men in the prisoner's box at the police court this morning. He is going to leave the city in a day or so for the West, the North Monaghan Council having decided to buy him a ticket. He could hardly climb the stairs to the court room. His relatives are in the West, but for some reason he did not go with them, but remained around his old home only to meet with many drawbacks. His Worship told the Chief to hold Mr. Dundas until representatives from Monaghan could see him for final arrangements.

Harry Doyle, a New Brunswick man, was charged with vagrancy. He pleaded guilty and told a hard lucky story which if true is trouble enough without getting into the clutches of the law. He says that his home is 9 miles from St. John, N. B., and he went west some time ago; while there he became afflicted with disease which he says is slowly eating the membranes of the nose down to the roof of his mouth. He said he had worked his way east as far as North Bay where he sold needles and earned money enough to bring him to Peterborough. Mr. Dumble asked him if he were willing to leave town and when he answered, yes, the Magistrate told P. C. Adams to see him off on the 11.15 a.m. C.P.R. express.

Robert Cameron was the third man to answer. He also was charged with having a strong aversion to labour. He claims Toronto as his home. He was also ready to go on the first train and P. C. Adams was told to see him on three first train also.

MRS. WM. BLACKWELL ILL IN ENGLAND

Typhoid Fever Prevents Her From Returning Home to Canada

The friends of Mr. Wm. Blackwell local architect, will regret to learn that his wife, who is visiting her sister at Ely, England, is ill with typhoid fever. Mrs. Blackwell has spent the past year in the Old Country and was to have arrived in Canada on the "Tunisian" last Saturday, but owing to her illness was unable to. Mr. Blackwell received a telegram yesterday stating that his wife was improving.

YONKERS STRIKE ENDED.

Mob Show Sympathy With Demands of Street Car Men.

Yonkers, N. Y., Oct. 29.—Yesterday was expected to see the end of the rioting which has been in progress here as a result of the street railway strike. With two companies of the Tenth regiment held in Mount Vernon and White Plains prepared for prompt response to a call for strike duty, and a conference scheduled between a representative of the strikers and officials of the Street Railway Co., it was hoped that peace might be proclaimed. If not Sheriff Lane was prepared to summon the troops and put on end to the rioting of mobs.

Big crowds of strike sympathizers were gathered about the car barns early yesterday, and declared that no cars would be allowed to go out until the demands of the strikers for a wage increase of five cents an hour had been conceded.

Yonkers, N. Y., Oct. 29.—The Yonkers street car strike is over, and the conductors and motormen returned to work this morning.

The company agrees to recognize the union and to appoint an assistant superintendent from the ranks of the men. The question of wages is to go to an arbitration committee. The men demanded 25 cents an hour, an increase of 2 1-2 cents.

TOOK DOSE OF POISON.

Thomas Healey Feared Arrest For Very Serious Offence.

Toronto, Oct. 29.—Fearing to stand trial upon a charge of assaulting a small girl at Todmorden, Thomas Healey, 73 years of age, and well connected, ended his life in a lodging-house on Jarvis street yesterday. He swallowed two ounces of carbolic acid and died in St. Michael's Hospital soon after.

Healey was to have appeared before Magistrate Ellis last Thursday, but failed to show up. He was out on $600 bail. Yesterday morning he applied for a room at the Commercial Hotel and was referred to 331-2 Jarvis street, where he spent his last quarter for a room. He left word to be called at 2 o'clock, but in a few minutes the proprietor heard sounds of distress, and breaking in the door found Healey on the bed, dying.

Healey had of late years peddled small wares around the city. He had bought the poison some months ago.

FOUGHT THE GENDARMES.

Eleven Killed in Conflict With Hungarian Peasants.

Budapest, Hungary, Oct. 29.—During a church festival in the village of Csarnova Sunday a conflict arose between factions in the congregation, which led to the intervention of the gendarmes. A free fight ensued between the peasants and the gendarmes in which eleven persons were killed and a score of others wounded.

Fast Day For Thanksgiving.

Ottawa, Oct. 29.—The Calendare, a publication issued in the interest of the parishioners of St. Patrick parish, attacks the Government for allowing Thanksgiving Day to be fixed on a day of "fasting and abstinence." "Thanksgiving," the article says, "is a national event, and the appointment, even as a joke, of a day of fasting and abstinence for the celebration thereof is in the worst possible taste. At least that will be the Catholic view of it all over the country."

Chinese Pay $391,000.

Ottawa, Oct. 29.—Though the total Chinese immigration to Canada since 1890 has been 25,441, only 8 and 28 Chinese came to Canada in 1904-05 and 1905-06 respectively, the first two years in which the poll tax of $500 was exacted.

However, for the first nine months of 1907, 782 Chinese have entered Canada, contributing $391,000 to the Dominion Treasury. It is said that many of the Chinese are being brought over by contract.

Assassinated on Street.

Rochester, Oct. 29.—Alex. Caruso, a Sicilian, 23 years old, was struck down by an unknown assassin at Davis and Finey streets Sunday night and died in a few minutes.

Caruso's head was almost severed from the body.

Roofer Dies From Fall.

Fort Erie, Oct. 29.—Osten Stallery, a roofer, aged 27, died on Sunday as a result of a fall from a scaffold on Saturday. His spinal column was fractured.

Floral Scandal.

"You can't paint the lily," declared the rose.

"Maybe not," responded the aster. "But have you noticed?"

"Noticed what?"

"The lily pads!"—Washington Herald.

SPLENDIDLY SUCCESSFUL INAUGURATION CONCERT

Brilliant Dedication of New Conservatory of Music Hall

GLIDDON has "made good." If Mr. Rupert Gliddon, director of the Peterborough Conservatory of Music, knew what he was doing, when he engaged Mr. Henry J. Lautz, Miss Bessie Bonsall, Miss Louis Winlow, and Madame Jessie Alexander Roberts, to present a concert programme, to inaugurate his new Conservatory Music Hall. he deserves to be ranked as a prophet. Never before has a concert been given in Peterborough that so adequately and delightfully presented the potentialities of musical culture, as the programme given at the opening concert of the new hall of the Conservatory of Music last night.

The new hall, which has been elaborately described in these columns, was last night filled with an audience representative of the best elements of musical culture in this musical city. In vain can it hereafter be said that Peterborough is unappreciative of good music; that it cannot rise to the level of enjoyment of a programme of classic calibre, such as they had the pleasure of enjoying last night. From the opening to the closing number, the audience was en rapport with the artists, who represented all that was highest in vocal, instrumental and elocutionart art. If the Peterborough Conservatory of Music, as it is well equipped to do, will in its future, contribute to the achievement of similar artistic results, Peterborough may well e proud of it. As has been stated, the growing requirements of the Conservatory, in its third year of success, demanded an adequate recital hall, and Mr. Gliddon, with commendable enterprise, has provided a music hall with a capacity as to numerical accommodation of patrons, adaptability and perfect acoustics, which, in the hackneyed parlance of the day, "fills a long-felt want."

The seating accommodation of the new Conservatory of Music Hall, is ample, and, as remarked its acoustics are perfect, the merest musical whisper can be heard in the most distant chair from the stage, which is also ample, and last night presented a charming appearance, with its rich background of tapestry, and its adornment of palms, and draping vines and evergreens. The system of lighting is perfect, and altogether, the new hall is in every way adapted to the various uses and demands that may be required and demanded of it.

The Concert

Mr. Gliddon displayed capital judgment in the selection of artists to strike the key-note of the purpose and province of the new hall. A programme of nine set numbers was arranged, to be presented by artists of premier rank in their special field. The programme opened with a 'cello solo, artistically presented by a Canadian artist, Miss Lois Winlow, who performed a largo by Van Goens, with true artistic temperament and artistic skill. Expressive taste and feeling and richness of tone were elements in a very satisfactory production. Her second contribution, a bracketted number,—Schubert's Du bist die Rhu—"Thou are my Peace"—and Popper's Spanish dance were a repetitions of the triumph she achieved in her opening number. Miss Winlow has a large grasp of technical resources and plays with an intelligence, spirit and sentiment that mark her as an artist. In response to an insistent encore, she gave a splendid reading of Rubenstein's tuneful and tender melody in F. Her 'cello obligato to Mrs. Bessie Bonsall's first number was artistically sympathetic and effective.

Mr. Henry J. Lautz, in his vocal work, demonstrated the happy judgment that secured him as a member of the faculty of the Conservatory. He is a tenor of a robust quality of voice, but artistically subordinated to the requirements of his selection, and, if in his capacity of vocal instructor at the Conservatory, he is able to impart to his pupils the splendid voice production, perfection of method, and classical taste that characterize his singing, his success is unquestionable. He has a rich, resonant tenor organ, employed with great skill and splendid effect. He is not only an executive artist of great merit, but a composer. Last night he sang as his first number his composition, "Im Wundersch onen Monat Mai," and the sterling favourite, "My Love Is Like a Red, Red Rose." In response to a hearty recall, he sang with splendid effect, McDowall's "Thy Beaming Eyes." Mr. Lautz, in supplying in a most capable and sympathetic manner not only his own accompaniments, but those of the evening, showed the catholicity of his musical capabilities.

Mrs. Jessie Alexander Roberts, an old-time favourite in Peterborough, seems to have found the elixar of life — she is as fresh, youthful and versatile a reader as ever. Her selections from Shakspere's Henry V., showed both her mastery of dramatic effect, and humour. The wall-breach scene, and the wooing of Katharine, were simply splendid, and the inevitable encore brought a reading of the "Kindergarten Tot," a genre recitation, in which Jessie Alexander excels. Her "Scotch Sermon" was irresistible, and a recall brought out Dr. Drummond's "Ma Leetle Dominique." Her "Hooley's Wan Chick," was charmingly true to Life and brogue, and the encore number, Kipling's "L'Envoi," was timely, and taking.

The star of the evening was Madame Bessie Bonsall. With a contralto voice of wonderful roundness, and richness of quality, she conjoins a splendid execution, and sympathy of expression. These, with a charming personality, make her singing a delight. Her opening number, Massenet's soul-stirring elegie, had to be repeated. Her depth of feeling of the sentiment of "Thou art Like a Flower," by Lautz, formed a pleasing contrast to her piquantly playful production of the "Ould Plaid Shawl." The many difficulties of execution, presented by Donizetti's Brindisi, were play to Madame Bonsall; the rippling roulades were a delight to hear. "Mavourneen," which was substituted for the programme fixture, was a gem of vocal art, and execution. Seldom, if ever, has so satisfying a singer as Bessie Bonsall been heard in Peterborough. The chief charm of her singing is her voice of a quality, like the round, velvety notes of a 'cello, under an artist's touch.

It was a first class concert, every contributor being an artist.

Appreciation

Previous to the last number, Rev. Canon Davidson briefly expressed the appreciation of the audience of the splendid programme presented. The Conservatory of Music had been launched with misgivings but its success had justified its inception. It had progressed and outgrown its quarters and this splendid new hall was an answer to the demands for larger accommodation. One and all heartily congratulated Mr. Gliddon on the success, not only of the Conservatory, but upon the auspicious success of the concert inaugurating the new hall. These remarks, as shown by the applause were heartily endorsed by the audience.

THE EXTENSION OF AYLMER STREET

Work of Clearing the Right of Way is Going Ahead Rapidly

HOUSES BEING MOVED

The work on the extension of Aylmer street is being rapidly carried ahead, and the street will soon be opened through from Lake street to Wescott street. Workmen are now engaged in removing the houses on the right-of-way, which will be placed on other lots to the west of their present location, and when this is completed there will be little left to do but to grade the street. The grocery store occupied by Mr. T. R. Kennedy, which is at present at the end of Aylmer street, will be moved over on to the vacant lot to the west to make room for the new street. The excavation for the cellar is being done now, and as soon as the work is completed the store will be placed on rollers and taken to the new site.

The street will not follow in the same straight line as the remainder of the thoroughfare, but will take a slight jog towards the east at Lake street. On Wescott street a dwelling is being removed from the right-of-way, and the street will soon be cleared there.

GREAT DEMAND FOR TORONTO PAPERS

Mr. S. J. Murphy, the Charlotte street newsdealer, has been given the exclusive agency for the Toronto Daily News and Star, Toronto's two leading newspapers, which have about the largest circulation in the Dominion. There are between eight and nine hundred copies sold here each evening by the newsboys. In order to increase the circulation still more and to accommodate the public, Mr. Murphy will place both these papers on sale in several stores on the outskirts of the city; also organize several routes whereby people may have either one or both of these papers delivered each evening at their homes, for the small sum of 25 cents a month. Sample copies will be distributed from door to door, with circulars, and parties wishing to subscribe may leave their orders at the store, 206 Charlotte street, or give it to the agent when he calls. 1d

WEDDING BELLS

CAVANAGH-CADIGAN

Ennismore, Oct. 29.—This morning a pretty wedding was solemnized in St. Martin's church, when Miss Lillie Cadigan, daughter of the late Michael Cadigan and Mrs. Cadigan, of Ennismore, was married to Mr. Daniel Cavanagh, son of Mr. Michael Cavanagh, of the same township, Rev. Father Fitzpatrick, being the officiating priest. The ceremony took place at 9 o'clock, and the church contained a large number of the friends of the bride and groom. The bride, who was becomingly attired was attended by Miss Maggie Young, of Peterbborough, while Mr. Frank Fitzpatrick, of Emily, acted as groomsman. Following the ceremony the bridal party and guests drove to the residence of the bride's mother, where the usual dejeuner was served, and congratulations extended the happy couple. They will live on a farm adjoining the bride's mother's home.

and DANDRUFF CURE makes the hair grow July 24th, 1907

About the month of September, 1906, my hair began to come out in large spots, leaving the scalp perfectly bare on the right side of the head, also my beard on the left side. About the 15th of December I showed it to J. D. Tully, Druggist; he said that he had a preparation that would restore the hair. I could scarcely credit his statement, but decided to try it, and in three weeks using the hair commenced to grow. Since that time I have lost nearly all my old hair which has been entirely replaced with new hair, and the beard also. I consider this by all means the best hair grower on the market, as I had previously tried other preparations without any effect. Any one wishing to ask me about it will find me at my home, 265 McDonnel Street, Peterborough, or at R. R. Crossing, G.T.R., Charlotte St.

St. Paul's Congregation Give Unanimous Call

Rev. Robert Pogue Chosen Without Dissenting Voice at a Large and Enthusiastic Meeting Last Night —Rev. Dr. Marsh Was Moderator

MAY BE THE NEXT PASTOR

An unanimous call was extended to Rev. Robert Pogue, of Bethany Tabernacle, Philadelphia, Pa., by the congregation of St. Paul's church, at a largely attended meeting in the Sunday school room last evening. The congregation was enthusiastic in its selection, and not one dissenting voice was heard in reference to the choice of Rev. Mr. Pogue.

Rev. Dr. Marsh, Interim Moderator, presided at the meeting and congratulated the congregation upon the harmonious accord that was shown. The remaining duty to be performed is the report of the meeting by Rev. Dr. Marsh to the Presbytery. Sheriff Hall, representing the Session, Mr. W. G. Ferguson, the Managers, and Mr. D. H. Moore, the congregation, will support the call, and with Mr. Pogue's final acceptance he will become the next pastor of St. Paul's.

Opening Address

Rev. Dr. Marsh opened the meeting with devotional exercises and prayer. He stated that when Rev. Dr. Torrance's resignation was received by the Presbytery, he was appointed Moderator and asked by that body to declare the church vacant in July; a committee was appointed by the Session and Managers to look over the situation and the field, with a view to choosing supply ministers for the pulpit.

As convenor of that committee Rev Dr. Marsh paid a high tribute to the members for their diligence, their earnestness in the work, and the religious spirit that moved them. Many applications were received, but the committee considered that the majority were not suitable for the congregation and therefore did not think it advisable that they should preach for a call. About thirty applications were looked into, but with the most of them a little inquiry satisfied the committee that they would not be suitable for St. Paul's.

Mr. R. E. Wood was appointed secretary for the evening.

The report of the committee was received and adopted.

Sheriff Hall gave further information of what had been done, but which it was not considered necessary to put in the report. It was merely details of their investigations into the many applications.

The Pastor's Stipend

It was next moved by Mr. J. C. Shook and seconded by Sheriff Hall, that the congregation was prepared to give a call to a minister. This was adopted without dissent.

The call was then made unanimous, by everyone agreeing to go in with the majority should a difference of opinion be manifested.

Rev. Dr. Marsh then asked what stipend the congregation was prepared to pay. In this regard Mr. J. H. Connal moved, seconded by Sheriff Hall, that the stipend be $2500, with four weeks holidays. This was accepted with one accord.

Choice by Ballot

The most important question was then broached, "Whose name shall be inserted in the call" Having decided on a ballot, on motion of Messrs. R. E. Wood and W. Pringle, Messrs. J. H. Connal, Dr. McCulloch, P. McLean and John Crane, were appointed scrutineers.

The minister to be chosen was either Dr. Tufts or Rev. Mr. Pogue and, as stated above, the latter was chosen, and the choice received with enthusiasm.

While the names of the elders were being added to the call, after Rev. Mr. Pogue's name had been inserted, Sheriff Hall gave in detail the facts as had been learned by the committee of Rev. Mr. Pogue's career. It is firmly believed that he will make a capable minister for St. Paul's church, and is highly recommended by Rev. Dr. Patterson, to whom he is assistant.

THE APPEAL SUSTAINED BEFORE JUDGE

Mr. Pappas Does Not Have to Pay The $25 Fine Imposed by Magistrate

The appeal of Mr. Pappas against the decision of Magistrate Dumble in Police Court some time ago, was sustained yesterday by His Honour Judge Weller at the first Division Court sittings. Mr. Pappas, it will be remembered, was fined $25 for the alleged sale of tobacco to a minor and at the time of the he was found guilty.

The case was appealed and came before the Judge yesterday. A number of witnesses were examined and the judgment reserved. Mr. D. O'Connel of O'Connel & Gordon, acted for Mr. Pappas, and Mr. L. M. Hayes, for the city.

Thursday's Great Game With Vics In Lindsay

One of The Hardest Battles in Recent Years Will be Seen—Hayes And Robbins Are To Officiate

A BIG CROWD IS GOING

The game in Lindsay on Thursday, between the Vics and Peterborough, for the championship of the western senior section of the O.R.F.U., is attracting a great deal of attention in the city, and the probabilities are that a large crowd will accompany the locals to Lindsay, to see the battle which will without a doubt be the hardest fought contest ever seen in this neighbourhood. The game will be played on the Agricultural Grounds in Lindsay, which were secured by Secretary McDonough, who was in Lindsay yesterday, acting for the O. R. F. U. in the matter. Dick Boyle will go to Lindsay to-morrow to see that the grounds are properly marked out and the goal posts are placed in position.

The only sporting attraction in Peterborough on the holiday is the Examiner road race, and as the fans can see that event and still be in Lindsay in time for the game, there is nothing to prevent a large crowd from taking in the contest, which will be worth going much farther than Lindsay to see. The two teams are in the best of shape and the battle will be fought with grim determination, from start to finish. There may be some changes in the Peterborough team that will strengthen the line up, and the Vics will be assisted by Scotty McWhirter, whose ankle it is expected will be in good shape by Thursday. He will prove a great source of strength to the back division.

Hughie Hayes and Frank Robbins, the two Hamilton officials, whose rulings always give satisfaction, will have charge of the game which is a guarantee that both team will play Rugby all the time. It will be the greatest struggle in years, and you cannot affor to miss it.

HARTLEY, THE WALKER, DEPARTS FOR STARTING POINT AT OSHAWA

David Hartley, the walking painter left Peterborough this morning for the town of Oshawa from where he begins his long walk at 7 o'clock to-morrow morning. He took his departure at 7.30 accompanied by George Stevens and his son, of East City, who will look after the pedestrian on his 128 mile walk.

Mr. Stevens has taken his own team along and will in addition to keeping the time, see that he gets fair play along the route. Hartley, on leaving this morning was in the best of condition and is confident of covering this same distance as Jimmie Reynolds in less that 36 hours. He has been training for the event for a long time, and, he says, he is not a bit afraid of his feet playing out on the way.

Hartley has many backers who believe he will finish and in the allotted time too. There are many, however, who believe th walk too far for the pedestrian and therefore some will lose money on the outcome of the affair.

The walker will finish on Thanksgiving night, providing his plans carry, in front of the Munro House at or before 7 o'clock.

SAYS ASSAULT WAS COWARDLY

Writer in Toronto News Refers to Lou Marsh's Disgraceful Work

The sentiments expressed in the following letter which appeared in last night's Toronto News will be echoed by every Peterborough man who saw Saturday's game with the Vics. The player referred to is of course Lou Marsh, who in speaking of the game in the Star last night, says of Crowley "Old Bill Crowley plays the same bing-bang game on his opponents territory as he does at home."

The letter is as follows:—

Sporting Editor The News:

Sir—Knowing your evident desire to be fair-minded and a friend of clean manly sport, I take the liberty of drawing your attention to the ungentlemanly conduct of a Victoria player in Saturday's game between the Victorias and Peterborough, at Jesse Ketchum Park. The game as in most rugby contests, was rough at times, and the players responsible were penalized, and I noticed that the player in question was one of those most frequently sent to the fence. Whether he deserved all he got, I, as a spectator, did and could not exactly see, but that matters little. Crowley, on whom the assault was committed, is at times a rough player, but as long as I have known him, (about twelve years) I have never known him to commit an unprovoked assault on anyone, let alone walk up behind a man, and hit a blow from behind. That was what happened to him, and all who saw it were of the opinion that it was uncalled for and most cowardly.

We often read of this kind of assault being sifted by the right authorities, the police, at Ottawa and Montreal; and one time in Toronto; but when there are police officials on the grounds to protect one and all, and they stand aside and look on, and allow things of this kind to go on, it makes one's nerves shake, and causes one to wonder what kind of men they have on the force. When asked if that was the kind of thing allowable, the policeman referred to answered: "They're having it their own way." I trust you will find space in your valuable paper for this, and thanking you for same in advance, I am,

Peterboro' May Have a Chance at Intercollegiate Champions

If Peterborough wins the O.R.F.U. championship they will have a chance to play off with the Intercollegiate championship for the Dominion honours according to the following from the Toronto News—

All four senior Inter-Provincial Rugby Union teams having been suspended from the amateur ranks, the champions of the new league will not be given an opportunity to play off for the Dominion honours, and the game will be played off between the O.R.F.U. and the Intercollegiate champions on the grounds of the Intercollegiate winners, as called for by the C.R.F.U. rules.

VICS WILL ALSO HAVE ROOTERS

A Number Will Accompany Them to Lindsay Thursday

The Vics will meet Peterborough at Lindsay on Thanksgiving Day, to determine the championship of the western senior district of the O.R.F.U. The Vics will go up in a special car accompanied by a corps of rooters, and a special train will be run from Peterborough. Hayes and Robbins of Hamilton will probably have charge of the game. The winners of the game at Lindsay will play off for the championship of the O.R.F.U. with the winners of the Kingston Limestone - Westmount game scheduled for Saturday. — Toronto Globe.

CLOSING PROGRAMME AT GOLF CLUB

On Thanksgiving Day Field Day Will be Held—Competitions Will be Played In The Morning

On Thursday commencing at 10 a.m. the closing day's programme of the Peterborough Golf Club will be held. In the morning there will be competitions in approaching putting and driving, and in the afternoon foursomes will be played. Refreshments will be served, and a pleasant day's sport is anticipated.

THE RUGBY TEAM WILL PRACTICE

All the Seniors are Expected out To-night at Riverside Park

The rugby team will practice to-night at 7.30 o'clock at Riverside Park in preparation for the game on Thursday with the Victorias in Lindsay. Every member of the team must be out in uniform, as it is highly important that the fourteen be in the best possible shape when they meet the Vics. Last Saturday's battle was a strenuous one, and from all indications the struggle on Thursday will be even more bitter, so that condition will be a big factor in deciding the result. Every player should be on hand early.

RUGBY

The executive of the Peterborough Rugby Club will meet to-night at 9 o'clock at "Mac's" cigar store. A full attendance is expected as business of importance is to come up.

* * * *

Alex. Gillespie, Ross Craig and Bert Cameron, the three Peterborough boys who are playing with the Dundas Intermediate Provincial League team this season, seem to be putting up a sterling article of Rugby. They all figured in the game between Dundas and the Tigers II., on Saturday, and the Hamilton Spectator, in referring to the game, says that Gillespie played a great game, and that Craig was handy in the bucks.

THE YOUNG LADIES IN MASQUERADE

At Hallowe'en Party at Y.W.C.A. Last Night

The Hallowe'en party at the Y.W.C.A. last night, surpassed the expectations of those who arranged it and was altogether an unqualified success. About two hundred young ladies gathered in the "gym," which was tastefully decorated with appropriate lanterns and hollowed pumpkins. The electric lights were not used, but the Japanese lanterns and the goblin-like pumpkins.

The ladies were en masque, and dressed in masquerade costumes. The scene was a pretty one, some of the representations being very realistic. The evening passed most pleasantly, and ended with fire drill in which nearly all the young ladies came down the fire escape from the third story.

The proceeds of the entertainment went towards the Library Fund, and a tidy sum was realized.

PEAT ASSOCIATION FORMED

Mr. E. V. Moore, at Norfolk, Virginia, Attending Convention of Peat Manufacturers of America

SOME INTERESTING PAPERS

Mr. E. V. Moore, Managing Director of the Condensed Peat Fuel Company, of Victoria Road, is in Norfolk, Va., attending the convention of the American Peat Association, recently organized at the Jamestown Exposition.

Dr. Joseph H. Pratt of Chapel Hill, N. C., the director of the Mines and Metallurgy building on the Exposition grounds and state geologist of North Carolina, was elected president.

Entire North America was divided into five districts with the purpose of naming a vice president from each district. For Canada, Dr. J. McWilliams, of London, Ont., was chosen; for the Southern part of the United States Robert Ranson of Jacksonville, Fla., was selected; for the Great Lakes and Mississippi Valley district, Carl Kleinstuck of Kalamazoo, Mich., was named; for the Northwestern States, Marion R. Campbell of the United States Geological Survey, was selected. The California district is to be filled later by the president. Julius Bordello of New York was elected secretary and Henry G. Holloran, of Boston, Mass., treas.

During the afternoon the following papers were read, "Peat Industries and its Possibilities in the United States" Charles A. Davis of Ann Arbor, Mich.

"Drainage of Swamp and Peat Lands by S. M. Woodward, of the Geological Survey.

"Peat as a Steam Fuel" by W. O. Mills, of Paterson, Ont.

"Drying of Peat" by Dr. J. McWilliams of London, Ont.

Saturday the delegates to the convention will visit the Government fuel testing plant, which is under Joseph A. Holmes, chief of the technological branch of the United States Geological Survey, where they will witness the manufacture of peat into briquettes. An excursion to the Dismal Swamp will close the convention.

The association also adopted a constitution and by-laws.

The constitution of the new organization, which embraces interests from every section of the country, provides that the association shall promote investigation of the peat deposits of the country and shall assist in making the peat industry commercially a great one, adding thereby another fuel to the supply of the world. Practically the entire morning was devoted to the election of officers and the discussion of the terms of the constitution, which was adopted before the body adjourned for luncheon.

WEDDING BELLS.

TANNER-JEWELL

Examiner special.

Enniskillen, Oct. 30.—An event of more than ordinary interest took place here this afternoon, when Miss Annie R. Jewell, daughter of Rev. J. A. Jewell, of this place, was married to Mr. Charles S. Tanner, son of the late George Tanner, of Lakefield, and one of the most popular young men of Lakefield village. The ceremony was performed by the bride's father, Rev. J. A. Jewell, in the presence of a large number of the friends of the bride and groom, who were unattended at the parsonage, at one o'clock.

After the ceremony the guests partook of an enjoyable repast spread on handsomely decorated tables. The presents to the young couple were numerous and particularly handsome, showing their popularity among their friends. Among those present from a distance were Miss Tanner and Mrs. E. A. Tanner, of Lakefield; Mrs. A. A. Cox and Mrs. Emma Cox, of Peterborough, and Mr. Fred Tanner, of Toronto.

Later in the afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Tanner left for Toronto, London and other western cities on a honeymoon trip and on their return will go to Lakefield where they will reside.

GAME POACHERS AT WORK

Lindsay Game Warden Bradshaw Made Important Capture at Emily Creek Recently

GOT 48 MUSKRAT PELTS

The Lindsay Post Says—

Fish and Game Warden Archie Bradshaw of this town is not one of those individuals who may be described under the appellation, "all fuss and feathers"—he goes about his business in most unobtrusive fashion, and generally has something to show when he returns from an expedition after lawbreakers.

Saturday morning last acting on a hint received from one of his trustworthy agents "down the line" the Warden secured the services of County Constable Foster and set out for Emily creek. After tramping along its borders for some miles they located a trapper's camp in the edge of the woods, close to the water, part of the outfit of which comprised two canoes, a frog catcher's lantern, and two guns. Close to the camp door lay the carcasses of four mink, from which pelts had evidently been only recently removed, but the owner of the camp and outfit was not to be seen.

This inhospitable reception did not deter the Warden and his assistant from making themselves very much at home. Finally they enlarged the area of their quest, until at last in a clump of trees distant about 40 yards from the camp, they uncovered a pile of muskrat pelts.

"Eureka!" cried the pleased game warden.

"Good shootin'" ejaculated the 15th Batt. man.

The pelts were packed into a bag which the visitors had had the forethought to take along with them on the trip, and for the next hour they sweated and wrestled with their heavy unwieldy and somewhat odoriferous burden. Finally they reached a farm house there they were able to engage a rig to take them to Ansonia Point station, where they boarded the C.P.R. train for Lindsay.

This morning Warden Bradshaw notified the Department at Toronto of his capture, and asked for instructions. He has strong suspicions as to the identity of the trapper who has been doing the illegal work, and the end is not yet. Even if unsuccessful in apprehending the individual, Warden Bradshaw has done a good work in seizing the skins, and depriving the law-breaker of his illicit spoils.

SERGEANT MAJOR FEE IS HOME

Has Been In The Hospital Since June Last

Sergt.-Major C. P. Fee, of the 24th Field Battery, who has been under the care of Dr. Reeves, the well known Toronto eye specialist, for the past four months returned to the city last night looking well after his long illness. It will be remembered that Sergt.-Major Fee was injured on June 16th in an accident on the train carrying the 24th Battery to Petawawa for their two weeks drill at the Instructional Camp. Glass from a broken window cut him very badly around the eyes and he had to be removed to a Toronto hospital where he has been confined ever since. His comrades of the 24th Battery will give him a warm welcome back to Peterborough. He was most popular with men and officers alike and the corps and the citizens generally are delighted to see him so far recovered from the effects of his accident.

CANADIAN WOMEN FIND RELIEF

The Case of Ellen Walby Is One of Thousands of Cures Made by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

How many women realize that it is not the plan of nature that women should suffer so severely?

Ellen Walby

Thousands of Canadian Women, however, have found relief from all monthly suffering by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as it is the most thorough female regulator known to medical science. It cures the condition which causes so much discomfort and robs these periods of their terrors.

Ellen Walby, of Wellington Hotel, Ottawa, Ont. writes:

"Your Vegetable Compound was recommended to me to take for the intense suffering which I endured every month and with which I had been a sufferer for many years getting no relief from the many prescriptions which were prescribed, until, finally becoming discouraged with doctors and their medicines I determined to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I am glad that I did, for within a short time I began to mend and in an incredible short time the flow was regular, natural and without pain. This seems too good to be true and I am indeed a grateful and happy woman."

Women who are troubled with painful or irregular periods, backache, bloating, (or flatulence), displacement of organs, inflammation or ulceration, that "bearing-down" feeling, dizziness, faintness, indigestion, nervous prostration or the blues, should take immediate action to ward off serious consequences, and be restored to perfect health and strength by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and then write to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for further free advice. She is daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham and for twenty-five years has been advising women free of charge. Thousands have been cured by so doing.

Thanksgiving Dinner On an Airship

By AUGUSTUS W. FERRIN.

[Copyright, 1906, by Augustus W. Ferrin.]

"BACK in the fall of 1950," said the skipper of the airship Albatross as he sat puffing his pipe on the roof of the Aerial Navigation company's fifty story building on Broadway, "we was engaged in the arctic-antarctic carrying trade. There being temporarily nothing doing in our line, we had put into Colon to see ex-President Roosevelt, stern and strenuous in spite of his eighty odd years, open the Panama canal. I was standing on the Colon pier watching the 30,000 ton battleship Uncle Sam enter the canal, 'marking the consummation of the most gigantic engineering enterprise in all history,' as the ex-president said in his speech, when a boy in the uniform of the World's Wireless Telegraph company handed me a green envelope labeled 'Rush.' It was a message from our agent at Peary, where the wireless company had an instrument a-top the north pole capable of transmitting without relay any message to a receiving instrument on top of the south pole. The message read:

"'The ice has all melted. It is hotter here than the hinges of hades and the mosquitoes are biting something fierce. This ought to be good market for immediate consignment of summer supplies, but haste is imperative.'

"Well, when there is money to be made you don't find your Uncle Henry loafing around any 'gigantic engineering enterprise,' so without waiting for the unveiling of the colossal statue of Secretary Taft we loaded to the parachute with panama hats and mosquito netting and spread sail for the pole.

"STOPPING FOR AN HOUR OVER A ROOF GARDEN."

"We made New York in twenty-four hours, having good weather and favorable winds all the way and passed over the city some time before midnight, stopping for an hour over a roof garden, where they had the best show I ever see. There was one girl in pink tights—well, as I was saying, we had good weather and favorable winds, and about daylight we sighted the citadel of Quebec. There our trouble begun. Our carburetor was acting cranky, and ten of our thirty-six cylinders went out of commission all at once, and we had to stop the engine for repairs. We drifted to the northwest and hung there in the air all day, monkeying with the machinery and cussing our luck. The first mate pipes up:

"'Skipper, do you realize what day this is?'

"'No,' says I. 'What is it?'

"'It's Thanksgiving day,' says he.

"'Puncture my gas bag, matey, if you ain't right,' says I, taking a hasty look at my pocket calendar. 'What are we going to do about it?'

"'I don't know,' says he. 'We ain't got nothing but hard tack and canned stuff aboard. Of course the canned stuff's all right, now that the whole regular army is on duty at the packing houses, but canned turkey don't seem Thanksgiving-like. Besides, we ain't got any canned turkey, come to think of it—only canned peas and punkin.'

"Well, I tell you, sir, I was stumped. I never in all my life went over a Thanksgiving without turkey, not even that trip when we was captured by the Chinese air junk. Of course the turkey them air pirates give us was really golden pheasant, but we called it turkey, and it tasted all right. And I knew if the crew ever got on to the fact that it was Thanksgiving and we didn't have anything but hard tack and canned peas and punkin to give 'em there would be the worst mutiny since the one on the Pamyat Asova, when the czar tried to make his sailors eat icons. I kept all hands hard at work, so they wouldn't get time to think about the almanac, and we was moseying along slow, me figuring on whether some other skipper would have the pole market for panamas oversold before we got there, when suddenly the mate pipes up again, 'Skipper, I've got an idee.'

"'Spit it out,' says I, but he never answers, but grabs his spyglass and begins rubbering at something way off our port bow. Then he runs below and comes up with one of them durn automobile 'honk-honks' in his hand. We got that 'honk-honk' in a funny way. We was flying low one day, watching two big machines racing along a country road, when all at once one of 'em blows up and the horn lands right in our car. Well, the mate leans over the port rail and begins 'honk-honking' like he was dippy. All at once I hear another 'honk-honk' way off, then nearer, then more 'honks' than all the automobiles in four states could make. And what do you think it was? Wild geese. Dern my dynamo, if there wasn't a million wild geese flying toward us in a long 'V,' 'dragging their harrer over the pale moon,' as the poet says, only there wasn't any moon, it being broad daylight. I call all hands to the main deck, and we man the rail. Closer and closer come the geese until I begin to get scared that they're going to hit our balloon and puncture us. Just as they get up to us I grab the feller that's leading the 'V' and holler. Everybody grabs a goose and hollers. That scares the rest and off they fly, leaving a bird in every man's hand, which was worth two in the ozone, as the saying is.

"I GRAB THE FELLER THAT'S LEADING THE 'V' AND HOLLER."

"We was drifting northwest all this time, and by the time we had skun and dressed the geese we was right over some hot springs up in British Columbia. Every man got out a line and tied it around a goose's neck and dropped him into the water. When the geese was cooked we drew 'em up again, and, by the everlasting Santos-Dumont, that boiled goose was the tenderest, most succulent meat I ever tasted. What with the canned punkin pie, the peas and some wild celery we fished up with our anchor, that Thanksgiving dinner was bang up. Everybody turned in that night full of boiled goose and happier than a Rhode Island clam at high tide. Next morning we got the engine fixed, and two days later we was at the pole. We didn't have any trouble disposing of the panama hats and mosquito netting at fancy prices, for it was hotter than ever in Peary, and inside of two weeks we was back in New York with a cargo of relics of arctic expeditions, which we sold to the Metropolitan museum for enough to give every one of us six months' land leave."

The Pony Smoke.

The Apaches and Cheyennes are in the habit of holding a pony smoke on Thanksgiving day. Often the Osages, too, indulge in this expensive festival. A pony smoke is a friendly meeting of two tribes and is especially appropriate for the occasion. The tribe giving the smoke is supposed to bear all the expenses. They provide the best game and vegetables in the market for their guests, and at the end of the first day's meeting they present a good pony to the head of each family visiting them. As a tribe consists of from 300 to 500 families, the expenses soon mount high. The Osages, being the richest reservation Indians there are today, can better afford to hold pony smokes, and, combined with their feast day, they generally invite several hundred guests from the Pomcas, Tonkawas and surrounding tribes. Those accepting the ponies are supposed to return equally expensive gifts later on.—Buffalo Express.

The Holiday of the Hearthstone.

As the Fourth of July is our national holiday of patriotism, so Thanksgiving is our national holiday of the hearthstone. On the one we seek to express and renew our devotion to the republic and to the liberty it so well guards, on the other we celebrate and cultivate that family unity and affection on which, after all, our institutions rest.—New York World.

Horsetail's Banquet

Impromptu Thanksgiving Dinner and What It Did to His Band.

"Ugh!" grunted the big Navajo chief. "White man's Thanksgive; him eat heap; Injun stay hungry; no big eat for Injun."

Spotted Horsetail was sad and sore. Three hundred braves were in his camp, with many squaws and papooses—all hungry. Those who know anything about Indians know that Indians are always hungry. And now it was the white man's Thanksgiving day, as the railroad agent (the entire population) at Broken Ridge had informed the chief. Excepting Uncle Sam's salt pork and canned beans there was little to eat on the reservation. Spotted Horsetail was disgusted.

"Whoop! Hi-yi-yi!" yelled three young braves, riding in at a wild gallop from the railroad. Their faces were smeared with what an eastern tenderfoot would have called war paint, but in truth it was California raspberry jam, orange marmalade, molasses and other sweets.

"Heap big eat!" yelled the riders. "White man's dinner!"

In three minutes every buck Navajo was mounted and off toward the railroad, followed by the women and children afoot. Near Broken Ridge a loose rail had thrown ten freight cars off the track. Each car was loaded with the delicious fruits, fresh and canned, of southern California, bound for the east. When the cars rolled down the embankment they broke open.

Spotted Horsetail's band gulped down whole cans of strawberry preserves. They fished into big tins of sugary peaches and swallowed the fruit whole, like large raw oysters. They drank the maple sirup as if it were firewater, and the raspberry jam went the way of all sweets. Whole bottles of olive oil added to the turmoil in their stomachs.

By nightfall 267 Indians were stretched upon the Arizona sod, out of commission. They were exceedingly sick at the stomach. An ambulance train from the nearest division town summoned by the Broken Ridge agent by wire brought a score of doctors.

And every day for six weeks thereafter came Spotted Horsetail and a squad of braves, who sat silently alongside the railroad track from dawn to dusk. Finally a freight train slowed up one day, and the head brakeman held council with the chief.

"No use, Spotted," he said. "We give this dinner only once a year—Thanksgiving day."

THE HARVEST HOME.

Thanksgiving In the Old Simple Days of England.

In the old simple days of England the harvest home was such a scene as Horace's friends might have expected to see at his Sabine farm. The grain last cut was brought home in its wagon, called the hock cart—surmounted by a figure formed of sheaf with gay dressings—suggesting a representation of the goddess Ceres, while a pipe and tabor went merrily sounding in front and the reapers tripped around in a hand in hand ring, singing:

"Harvest home, harvest home!
We have plowed, we have sowed,
We have reaped, we have mowed,
We have brought home every load,
Hip, hip, hip, harvest home!"

In the evening of harvest home the supper took place in the barn or some other suitable place, the master and mistress generally presiding. This feast was always composed of substantial food with plenty of good ale.

There is a growing tendency at the present time to abolish these old harvest festivals and to substitute a festival for the whole parish, with services in the forenoon and a dinner afterward, followed by sports and games for the men and tea drinking for the women.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

HOW CHINA CELEBRATES.

Thanksgiving Day In the Celestial Kingdom.

In China at the beginning of winter a thanksgiving festival is held at which the deities are especially thanked for the preservation of life and health during the preceding twelve months. Offerings are presented on the family altar, and the ceremony is brought to a close by a grand dinner at which all members of the family can partake. The feasting and rejoicings are kept up for some days and extend to the last night of the year. On that evening it is a common practice in some parts of the country for boys to cry aloud in the street, "Maisou"—"I sell my folly"—in order that they may be wiser the next year.

Every year on the fifteenth day of the first moon the emperor of China goes in great state to a certain field, accompanied by the chief officers of his household, and prostrates himself, touching the ground nine times with his head in honor of the god Tien, and pronounces a prayer invoking the blessing of the Great Being. Then as high priest of the empire he sacrifices a bullock to heaven as the fountain of all good. While the victim is being offered, a plow drawn by a pair of highly ornamented oxen is brought to the emperor, who throws aside his imperial robe, lays hold of the plow handles and opens several furrows. The principal mandarins follow his example, and the festival, which is really a species of thanks in advance for good harvests, ends with a distribution of clothes and money to the poor.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

THANKSGIVING DAY.

First Proclaimed by Washington at Request of Congress.

The first national Thanksgiving was proclaimed by George Washington on the 3d day of October, 1789, assigning Thursday, the 26th day of November, as the date, says a writer in the Saturday Evening Post. He did this by the request of a joint committee of both houses of congress "to recommend to the people of the United States a day of public thanksgiving and prayer to be observed by acknowledging with grateful hearts the many signal favors of Almighty God, especially by affording them an opportunity peaceably to establish a form of government for their safety and happiness."

Washington bore out admirably the pious tone of its sentiments. In his first sentence he said, "It is the duty of all nations to acknowledge the providence of Almighty God, to obey his will, to be grateful for his benefits and humbly to implore his protection and favor." In his second proclamation for the next Thanksgiving, which occurred on the 19th of February, 1795, he used this phrase: "Sincere and hearty thanks to the Great Ruler of nations for the manifold and signal mercies which distinguish our lot."

The Thankful Mouse.

[A fable.]

It was a hungry pussy cat,
Upon Thanksgiving morn,
As she watched a thankful little mouse
That ate an ear of corn.

"If I eat that thankful little mouse,
How thankful he should be
When he has made a meal himself
To make a meal for me!

"Then with his thanks for having fed
And his thanks for feeding me—
With all his thankfulness inside—
How thankful I shall be!"

Thus "mewsed" the hungry pussy cat
Upon Thanksgiving day,
But the little mouse had overheard
And declined (with thanks) to stay.
—Oliver Herford in Outlook.

GAMES FOR THANKSGIVING.

Games of the Senses.

Many people have enjoyed the Observation Game, where thirty or more articles are placed upon a table or hung upon a clothes-horse, and, at a given signal, exposed to view for sixty seconds, while each person tries to remember the various objects displayed. At the end of the minute the trial of memory begins, by the guests writing upon paper the names of the articles they saw.

This game can be varied by the testing of all the senses; for instance

Feeling.

Place around the edge of the dining table articles of all sorts, sizes and shapes, blindfold the guests and lead them to the table, allow them to walk once, slowly, around it, feeling of each object for a given length of time, then cover the objects, take off the blinders, and write the name of the articles that have been felt.

Tasting.

Take as many saucers as there are to be guests, and fill them with very small pieces of things to taste—as a salted almond, a peanut, a cranberry, a clove, pieces of peppermint, cheese, apple, cake, citron, raisin, orange, olive, pickle, celery, cracker, banana, lemon, fig, cocoanut, date, bit of cinnamon, etc. Your saucers are passed to each one, and at the signal all begin to taste. Allow sixty seconds, then gather the saucers, take off handkerchiefs, and write the names of the different things tasted.

Hearing.

Let the hostess and the host and one or two other persons go into the hall or an adjoining room, close the door and all begin playing upon different instruments—arranged so they can be caught up quickly—borrowed for the occasion, such as clappers, jewsharp, harmonica, comb, bell, tin pan and stick, whistle, banjo, violin, tin horn, drum, toy flute and toy trumpet. The host can whistle a familiar air and the hostess can sing a refrain from some well-known song, while the others can quote from Mother Goose. As soon as the hostess appears the guests can begin writing the names of the different instruments, songs and recitations, if they can.

HEATERS!

Right Time to Buy Them and Special Inducement This Week

You may wait for cold weather to buy a heater if you've a mind to, but if you'll be advised by those who have to deal most with the selling of stoves, you will select a heater now and have it put in place and ready before the rush that invariably comes with a cold snap.

There is absolutely nothing gained in waiting—not even a saving in cost, as the prices will certainly be kept at normal when the demand is at its height, and then you'll be expected to take your turn in having it delivered and set up—a delay of two or three days perhaps.

We recommend these stoves with confidence:—

NASAL CATARRH PRODUCES DEAFNESS RELIEF IN PE-RU-NA.

Mr. R. J. Arless, 401 City Hall Ave., Montreal, Quebec, is an old gentleman of wide acquaintance, having served thirty-eight years in the General Post-office of Montreal, a record which speaks for itself. Concerning his use of Peruna, see letter given below.

MR. R. J. ARLESS.

"I have been afflicted with nasal catarrh to such a degree that it affected my hearing.

"This was contracted some twenty years ago by being exposed to draughts and sudden changes of temperature.

"I have been under the treatment of specialists and have used many drugs recommended as specifics for catarrh in the head and throat—all to no purpose.

"About three years ago I was induced by a confrere in office to try Peruna.

"After some hesitation, as I had doubts as to results after so many failures, I gave Peruna a trial, and am happy to state that after using eight or ten bottles of Peruna I am much improved in hearing, and in breathing through the nostrils."

NOT JUST AS GOOD

Did you ever inquire at a store for certain articles and get for a reply "We have something just as good"? Did it ever occur to you that "Something just as good" is something the dealer has been able to buy much cheaper than the articles you inquire for? This is true in drugs, fabrics, groceries, hardware, and in fact every line, including silver-plated ware. If you inquire for 1847 Rogers Bros.' Knives, Forks or Spoons, don't accept any bogus Rogers' stamp because your dealer tells you it's just as good.

1847 ROGERS BROS. TRADE MARK

The above trade mark has been stamped on every article of the original and genuine Rogers Bros.' goods for over 50 years. Get this and you get the best that is made.

HUDSON BAY ROUTE.

Plans For Development of Immense Region Well Under Way.

By direction of Hon. Frank Oliver, Minister of the Interior, a compilation has been published from the official reports bearing on the proposed Hudson Bay route to Europe.

This new outlet for the grain of the northwest is shown to be feasible, and its adoption in view of the development of the grain producing areas a necessity. Summaries are given of various explorations in the regions through which a direct railway line could be constructed from the wheat regions to the coast and of the country about the coast, which prove the existence of immense deposits of manganiferous iron, important showings of copper and other minerals, and indications of coal. There are vast stretches of pulpwood, and in some sections merchantable timber.

Summing up, it is concluded that Canada has at Churchill on Hudson Bay a safe port open for several months in each year and a site for a city with immense fisheries at its door, and large possibilities in the mineral wealth deposited in its neighborhood.

As to the climate, popularly supposed to be almost unendurable by white people, Mr. Mosher of Halifax, who was at Churchill from Sept. 2 to Jan. 7, superintending the construction of the police barracks, says: "As far as the weather is concerned, I would as soon have spent the months in Churchill as in Halifax." Mackenzie and Mann are building a railroad to connect the plains with the bay which is already constructed half way to the bay coast.

In the meantime indications multiply of early beginnings of the future port and city of Churchill.

The Federal Government has about completed the erection of the police barracks and official buildings and other arrangements for making Churchill the official headquarters of administration and police posts throughout the entire coast region. The Canadian Northern Railway Co. has put in an application for a grant of 4,700 acres of land, giving about five miles fronting on the bay, A. J. Norquay an application for 2,500 acres, with about four miles frontage on the bay, and the Hudson Bay Co. for 762 acres, with 1,300 feet frontage on the bay.

These applications have not yet been dealt with by the Government and no other grants of land or surveys have been made by the Federal authorities pending the final adoption of a definite policy respecting the proposed railway route.

The applicants for grants had their own surveyors on the site of Churchill and the neighboring coast last summer and the year before, and exploring parties have been constantly going over the country between Saskatchewan and the bay and between Winnipeg and the bay in the interests of the different railway and other companies likely to connect with both bays.

Prospecting parties have located numerous mineral claims and brought out samples that appear to confirm the reports of the existence of valuable deposits in different parts of the country over a widespread area.

A thousand miles northeast of Vancouver, in a country which has generally been considered a wilderness of rock and forest, and nine or ten months ice and snow bound, H. M. Beach, an Ottawa man, has engaged in ranching. In a letter just received from him he states that in a trip to look after his cattle he found strawberries, raspberries, gooseberries and blueberries in abundance. All were ripe at the same time and superior to any he had ever found in the settled parts of Canada south or east. Mr. Beach is one of the pioneers in the distant region, enormous stretches of which, situated in the great Mackenzie river basin, never have been explored.

When Your Health Fails--What Then?

BETTER TO GUARD AGAINST SUCH AN EMERGENCY BY KEEPING VITALITY AT HIGH-WATER MARK BY THE USE OF

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food

Good health is the capital of persons who earn their livelihood with brain and muscle.

In these days of strenuous life and keen competition there is no place for tired brains and weak bodies.

Success is for the strong and alert for those whose blood is rich and whose nerve cells are filled with vigour and energy.

It is not pleasant to contemplate what might happen with failing health, and for this reason it is well to heed the first symptoms of nervous exhaustion, such as brain fag, headache, nervous dyspepsia, sleeplessness, failure of memory and loss of power to concentrate the mind.

While Dr. Chase's Nerve Food has succeeded in curing many cases of partial paralysis, locomotor ataxia, and the most severe forms of nervous prostration and exhaustion, it is not well to delay treatment until these stubborn and dangerous diseases set in.

At the slightest indication of waning nerve force, begin the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and with a few weeks' treatment you will be able to restore the vitality of the body to high-water mark, remove the cause of nervous disorders, and prevent serious results.

Miss Mary Leitch, Coulson, Simcoe county, Ont., writes: "When I began the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food my nervous system was all run down, and I suffered terribly with nervous headache and sleeplessness. Sometimes I could not sleep for three or four nights in succession. By the use of several boxes of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food these troubles were entirely overcome, and I consider the preparation an excellent nerve tonic."

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, 50 cents a box, 6 boxes for $2.50; at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

BACK FROM THE NORTH.

Commission Found Plenty of Game and Indications of Minerals.

After a trip that occupied 107 days, in which 2,000 miles of the lakes and streams of Northern Saskatchewan were traversed, the Government Commission recently returned to Duck Lake. It was composed of Mr. T. A. Borthwick, Indian agent; two secretaries, and Dr. H. A. Stewart, of Saskatoon. The object of the trip was to pay Government treaty money, to take evidence regarding the half-breeds entitled to scrip, and to complete the work of the commission sent north last year Du Brochet was the farthest point north visited.

The long journey was made in ten Peterboro boats, 22 boatmen being required for the work. Quite a number of portages were encountered in the journey, but, as the boatmen are quite inured to this work, the delays were not so long as one might expect. The portages were from 300 yards to three miles in length.

Mr. Borthwick had not time to thoroughly examine the country through which the party passed, but, from the boat, after passing Green Lake, the country seemed to be very unfit for cultivation, being for the most part rock, muskeg and scrub. Here and there along the rivers some very good timber was encountered. There was every appearance of mineral here and there, and, indeed, some of the party brought home a few samples with them. These consisted of gold and copper.

The immense chain of lakes and cold, clear rivers teemed with fish, and there was plenty of big game, such as moose and bear. Ducks, geese and chicken were very scarce, in fact very few were seen.

IRELAND TO VANCOUVER.

Marconi's Aim In Wireless Telegraphy Is Comprehensive.

Mr. Marconi will soon be prepared to flash messages across the Atlantic at one-half of the present cable rates, and then the inventor of wireless telegraphy will turn his attention to transmitting aerial messages from Cape Breton to the station he proposes erecting in Vancouver, from which the next step will be sending messages direct from Ireland to the Pacific slope. That this is possible Mr. Marconi is confident, and he is just as confident that eventually he will be able to encircle the globe. However, this is something he has not arrived at yet, and when asked if the story that he had communicated with the Philippine Islands from Cape Breton was correct the inventor laughed. "It is absolutely incorrect," said he. "There is no station in that region with transmission power to send a message here," supplemented Mr. Vivian, manager and engineer of the Marconi Company of Canada.

"I am in daily communication with Clifden," he said when asked when the station would be open for general business, "and our station will be ready to receive commercial messages at Halifax almost immediately. For the first few days we shall send all the business offering, but after that the amount will be restricted to, say, one thousand words a day, for my experiments are not completed yet, and if this station and that at Clifden were continually occupied in sending commercial messages, I would be unable to carry out further experiments."

Lassoed a Wildcat.

A simon-pure royal Bengal, twenty-ringed, bob-tailed wildcat, a bundle of muscle and a veritable fighting machine, has fallen to the bow and spear, otherwise the lasso, of young Sammy Agee. The denizen of the forest came to Dawson City to see the sights. He took a room in a shed back of Sammy's home, on Second avenue, North Dawson. Sam espied the intruder, and, securing a manilla rope, went forth, like Daniel of old, and bearded the beast in his den. Sam was there with the cowboy stunt. He gave chase to that wildcat and ran him into the corner. The cat evidently thought Sam a joker, and joined merrily in the game. Little did the cat suspect the design of the wily Sam.

At any second the young wildcat could have made a run for Sam and have cut him into a string of ribbons or minced him into a sausage. As it turned out, the cat made a bad tactical move for himself in not performing this stunt, but it was great luck for Sam.

"Swish," went the line and the loop settled prettily over the neck of the fighting machine. Sam gave the chafing dish twist to the rope, and the combination four-in-hand-mascot knot was secure on the cat. Instead of making a charge, the cat endeavored to pull away. That only tightened the noose and shut off the captive's wind. Sam's eyes snapped in glee. He dragged the captive forward and made him fast. Sam was the hero. He felt himself the candy kid.

He moored the wildcat to the woodshed and hiked for the police station. Constable Morgan put on his regimentals and took the biggest shooting iron in the barracks, and went over and slew the captive.

Why the West Is Happy.

Mr. Boyle tells in a recent letter from Winnipeg of the growing contentment in the west as the wheat rolls into Winnipeg and is sold at prices almost fifty per cent. better than those of last year. Here are the prices of the chief grades at Winnipeg on a recent occasion and the same day a year ago:

	1906.	1907.
No. 1 hard	$ .77	$1.13⅛
No. 1 northern	.75⅛	1.12⅛
No. 2 northern	.72⅛	1.09⅛

For No. 1 hard the farmer gets 37 3-8c. a bushel more than last year, for No. 1 northern, 37 1-4 cents, and for No. 2 northern 37 3-8 cents. Even wheat that is not of milling grade is worth as much this year as No. 1 hard was last year. It is not always the biggest yield that makes the fattest purse. The world needs wheat more urgently than in any recent season.

THE CHURCH'S DANGER.

Grave Episcopal Warning Against Denationalization.

The Bishop of Carlisle's presidential address at the Carlisle Diocesan Conference at Carlisle, contained many characteristically independent and outspoken observations on absorbing current topics. Regarding the Church of England, he said, of all the dangers which beset the Church to-day none were comparable to its gradual denationalization, by which he did not mean either disestablishment or disendowment, but a process different from both and immeasurably worse. Either disestablishment or disendowment would be evils for both Church and nation, but establishment cannot make a church, neither could disestablishment unmake it. The condition of things to-day in the Church of England would not be tolerated in an unestablished Church. An unestablished church would be autonomous, and with autonomy would cease bureaucratic rule, from which the English Church had for a long period deeply suffered to her enormous loss. He was afraid of neither disestablishment nor disendowment, but the denationalization of the Church meant belittlement.

The majority of members of Parliament were by no means irreligious men, yet they were by no means friendly to the Church of England, which was an object lesson to thinking observers that some strong, firm measure be speedily taken to renationalize the Church and rescue it from ecclesiastical sectarianism. The Parliamentary annals furnished evidence of the deepening gulf between the English Church and the English nation. In forty years the House of Commons had grown less a Church senate and more a Nonconformist assembly. This change marked the beginning of a great war between clericalism and Christianity, because so few Churchmen seemed capable of reading the signs of the times.

The most recent instance of sectarianism was the Deceased Wife's Sister Marriage Act. He was personally against the bill, which was calculated to lead to greater confusion than advantage, but was he, therefore, to discourage the use of the national churches for the benediction of these marriages? He allowed other people to have an opinion as well as himself. Surely the English Church was not going to set up ecclesiastical canons centuries old against the widely-illumined national conscience of the present day? He, though personally against these marriages, could not lay any clergyman either under personal or official censure for celebrating one of these marriages.

"BRAVO, ANGLAIS!"

English Major's Fine Rescue of a Swiss From the Rapids.

Major Herbert Campbell Holman, D.S.O., of the Indian army, recently saved the life of a Swiss by an act of great gallantry.

He and his wife were walking along the banks of the river Aare, at Thun, when they saw a man struggling in the rapids. No one has even been known to escape who has fallen into these waters, and nobody in the excited crowd dared enter to attempt to save the man.

Without a moment's hesitation Major Holman plunged in and reached the drowning man, whom he seized. A great struggle between the two followed as they were swept along by the swift stream, and the excited crowd on the banks saw them both disappear repeatedly beneath the water.

It was thought that they were drowned when Major Holman again appeared on the surface, still holding the Swiss, whom he dragged to the shore. The major, who was completely exhausted, was received by the crowds with loud shouts of "Bravo, Anglais!"

The drowning Swiss afterwards recovered, and Major Holman, who refused to give his name, jumped into a cab, and with his wife drove off to his hotel.

Flogged the Frenchman.

An excruciatingly funny story is told of the way Dr. Busby, known to fame as the flogging master, once mistook a dapper little Frenchman for one of his own school boys, and administered to him a severe birching without finding out his mistake. One hot afternoon, as the headmaster of Westminster School, London, was correcting themes in the school room, there was a great noise of juniors playing in Little Dean's Yard. Busby twice sent down the monitor to stop the riot, but as this had no effect he despatched several boys with orders to bring up the culprits. A lean Frenchman happened to be standing in Dean's Yard enjoying the view of the abbey and smiling at the games of the boys. Him Busby's emissaries seized and dragged, frantically resisting, up the school room steps. "Horse him," said Busby, quietly, when the young rogues had declared that "this was the man who had made the noise," and to the unspeakable delight of the whole school the Frenchman was well whipped, and then hustled out. Boiling with rage, he hastened to the nearest coffee house, and there wrote out a challenge, which he sent to Busby by a street porter. The doctor had no sooner read the paper than he said, "Fetch me a rod, and horse this man," and the porter was forthwith served like his principal. He returned to the coffee house with starting eyes to tell what had happened to him, and this time the Frenchman, fairly vanquished, could only exclaim, "C'est un diable."

"It has always amused me," remarked a botanical expert, "to hear people talking of their preference for black pepper over white and the various explanations they give for the same. Little do they know that both black and white pepper grows upon the same shrub. Over the pepper seed grows a black covering. The seed itself is white, or nearly so. To make black pepper the seed and its external covering are ground up, while the white pepper is the seed alone ground up. White pepper is milder than black, the greater part of the pungency being in the covering. A pepper made of the covering alone would be such, to use a slang term, hot stuff that it would burn the mouth. The black covering of the pepper seed contains the oil."

FRUIT BETTER THAN DRUGS.

MODERN WAY TO CURE DISEASE.

Wonderful Results In Kidney, Liver and Skin Troubles.

Apple juice is the natural liver tonic, and increases the flow of bile. The bile, secreted in the liver, is the only purgative common to the human system. Apple juice also stimulates and strengthens the kidneys. Orange juice beautifies the skin and complexion as nothing else will. Figs and prunes increase the digestive fluids, strengthen the stomach, and build up digestion.

The medicinal part of fruit is much less than one part in a hundred. That is, in one hundred pounds of apples, there would not be a pound of the bitter substance that cures kidney and liver troubles.

An Ottawa physician discovered a method by which he combined the juices of apples, oranges, figs and prunes in such a way that an additional quantity of the bitter principle was added to the new compound. Then he further added rare tonics and internal antiseptics which greatly assist the intensified fruit juices in curing disease.

"Fruit-a-tives" is the name of this new discovery—and thousands of people owe their good health to its virtues. For Constipation, Biliousness, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, and all diseases of the Stomach, Liver, Kidneys, Bowels and Skin, it is a certain and speedy cure.

If your druggist does not handle "Fruit-a-tives," refuse substitutes. Enclose price—50c a box; 6 for $2.50—we will send your order postpaid.

Fruit-a-tives Limited, - Ottawa, Ont.

3c. a day will Cure Rheumatism.

The aim of most "cures" for Rheumatism seems to be to relieve the pain. When they have done that, their usefulness is gone. And the next time you take cold, or your feet get wet, or you over-exert yourself, back comes the pain.

Bu-Ju

is different. It does relieve the pain, as quickly as the best liniment. And it does MORE. IT REMOVES THE CAUSE of Rheumatism, uric acid in the blood.

Every drop of blood passes through the Kidneys. These organs should filter out impurities. When they are weak, inflamed or diseased, the impurities stay in the blood and are carried to the sensitive nerves. Rheumatism is simply this irritation of the nerves, caused by uric acid and other impurities being deposited upon them—their favorite place being the joints and muscles. Make the Kidneys filter the blood properly, keep the blood pure and rich, and there can be no Rheumatism. Bu-Ju does this.

Buy Bu-Ju on an unconditional guarantee that they will cure you or money refunded. At all druggists, 50c. a large box, or sent on receipt of price.

WHAT TO EAT.

Why Fried Foods Are Considered Indigestible.

Why are fried foods considered indigestible? Because the fat in which the frying is done, no matter of how good quality that fat may be, forms a thin coating over each particle of food so fried. Now, neither the digestive fluids of the mouth nor those of the stomach can act upon fat, and so the fat incrusted food cannot be digested. Fats are digested only by a certain agent known as steapsin, which meets the food in the intestines. By the time the stomach gets into contact with the fat enveloped food, it has fermented—and that's indigestion.

Salted and corned meats should be avoided, first, because they are usually taken from an inferior part of an inferior—often diseased—animal, and, second, because the chemicals used to prevent the meat from undergoing chemical change outside the body will act within the body to prevent the chemical change known as digestion.

Meat is often denied to those suffering from rheumatism, because the disorder known as rheumatism is nothing more or less than an effort of the system to get rid of a certain poison which has been deposited at the junction of some of the long bones of the body.

Another question often asked is, "Why should I not drink with my meals?" Well, mainly because dilution of the gastric juice and the saliva with a pint or more of water will weaken their action, perhaps to such a degree that they may fail to do their work, and the consequence is indigestion. Of course fluids other than water, as wine, beer, tea, coffee and so on, not only dilute the digestive fluids, but complicate the problem by adding a poison to the food.

It is advisable to drink freely of pure water at other times than during meals because the body needs every day at least two quarts of water. The body of a man or woman of average size contains about a barrel of water. This is being literally "steamed" out of the body at the rate of six or seven pounds, upward of three quarts, a day, and so, in addition to the water contained in all solid foods (a beefsteak is about three-quarters water), the body needs about two quarts daily.

Why are condiments, mustard, pepper, vinegar, tobacco and similar things condemned by food experts? Because, in a word, they are irritants and excitants.

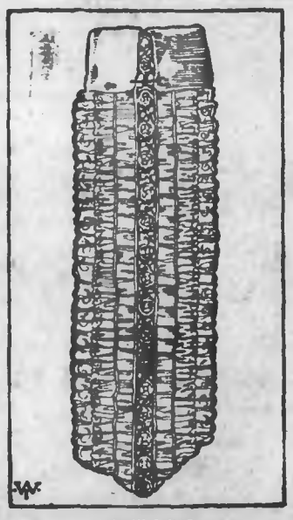
This applies with still more force to those other stimulants, tea, coffee, wine, beer and spirits. All are irritants, all sting the organs to frantic efforts, until the poor body labors like a tired horse spurred up a steep hill.

When it comes to candy and pastry the answer to the "why" is simply, they are bad in every way. "There is no health in them."

LINGERIE NECKWEAR.

Smart Things In Lace and Muslin For Blouses.

A fashion that will remain throughout the winter is that of wearing white linen collars, fronts and other accessories with wash blouses. Most becoming are these things, and not expensive. Hand work and real lace play an important part in their construction, but even then the adjuncts are no more graceful or becoming than when imitation val or plain linen is used.



A LACE JABOT.

Quite the favorite collar is a high standing turnover, and many are elaborately adorned with broderie anglaise and have hemstitched edges. Almost without exception they are held together at the front with a bar pin of gold or silver, and the old safety design is rarely if ever seen now. Any kind may be substituted, but a plain fine bar with a single jewel in the center is more often used.

The variety of linen or muslin tabs of "stuff" fronts worn with these collars is endless, and tiny silk bows of any color are good.

Plain turnover collars with extremely narrow plaited ruffles are pretty and becoming for morning wear. There are cuffs to match.

Covering the entire hem of a blouse down the front are so called jabots to be worn with thin waists. They are not suitable with plain blouses, having stiff cuffs. A woman who is at all clever with her needle can make these front pieces with strips of embroidery or lace left from other work, and there should be one or more ruffles of lace down each side. The jabot is fastened under the collar, and a tiny bow, either of silk or hand work, makes a pretty finish at the throat.

POISON BY MISTAKE.

Bottles to Hold Drugs That Close With Lock and Key.

The other day a man gave his baby by mistake a deadly poison instead of its accustomed medicine. The bottles got mixed, and a father is condemned to lifelong agony of remorse.

The law has done its best to safeguard people in this respect. All poisons must be carefully labeled under severe penalties to the seller. We have become quite hardened to the presence of grewsome skulls and bones in our medicine chest, but somehow those awful mistakes are painfully frequent.

Now there seems a hope of better things—at least if a novelty recently shown at an exhibition of chemists in England should become of general use. This was nothing more nor less than a bottle to hold poisons that closes with a lock and key.

The inventor asserts, and with seeming justice, that such a bottle would practically eliminate the danger of taking poison by mistake.

Certainly it sounds feasible and when put generally on the market should prove a boon to anxious mothers ever fearful lest prying small fingers remove the corks from deadly drugs to their own undoing.

Many a nurse as well would welcome a bottle that would put beyond the range of possibility dire blunders.

It remains to be seen if this invention is practical enough to pay, but it or some similar safeguard is a crying need of the day.

BEAUTY HINTS.

To reduce your flesh increase your troubles.

To develop a bust get on the wrong side of the market.

To remove freckles pry them gently out with a nut pick. Should this fail try blasting.

Brilliancy may be imparted to the complexion by powdering with diamond dust.

Hair on the lips may sometimes be avoided by requiring the young man to shave before calling.

Nails which do not yield readily to the manicure may be driven in with a hammer.

For developing the grace and beauty of the fingers nothing is equal to piano exercises, provided police protection be available.

When "crow's feet" will not yield to massage fill them suddenly with cement and smooth over quickly with a trowel.

Falling hair may be avoided by stepping nimbly aside whenever you see it coming your way.

The "drooping lash," so much affected by some, may be encouraged by sitting up late o' nights.

Cinnamon Cakes.

Cream one-half a cupful of butter, add one cupful of sugar gradually, one-half a cupful of milk alternately with one and one-fourth cupfuls of flour sifted with two and one-half teaspoonfuls of baking powder, two eggs beaten separately and one tablespoonful of cinnamon. Bake in gem pans.

Removal of Warts.

To remove a wart, damp it and rub with a piece of common soda. Do this three or four times a day for a month, and the wart will drop off, leaving no mark on the skin.

OUR STAPLE FOODS.

It Is Astonishing How Comparatively Few They Are.

Certain great food staples have proved themselves within the age long experience of humanity to possess a larger amount of nutritive value, digestibility and other good qualities and a smaller proportion of undesirable properties than any others. These, through an exceedingly slow and gradual process of the survival of the fittest, have come to form the staples of food in common use by the human race all over the world. It is really astonishing how comparatively few there are of them when we come to consider them broadly—the flesh and the milk of three or four domesticated animals, the flesh of three or four and the eggs of one species of domesticated birds, three great grains, wheat, rice and maize, and a half dozen smaller and much less frequent ones, a hundred or so species of fishes and shellfish, two sugars, a dozen or so starch containing roots and tubers, only two of which, the potato and the manioc, are of real international importance, twenty or thirty fruits, forty or fifty vegetables—make up two-thirds of the food supply of the inhabitants of the world.

Instead of wondering at the variety and profuseness of the human food supply the biologist is rather inclined to ejaculate with the London footman immortalized by John Leech, who, when told by the cook that there would be mutton chops for dinner and roast beef for supper, exclaimed: "Nothink but beef, mutton and pork—pork, mutton and beef! Hin my opinion, hit's 'igh time some new hanimal was invented!"—McClure's.

BULLS AND PUNS.

A Batch of Misfit Sayings and Clever Sallies.

It is odd to charge Lord Beaconsfield with a "bull" in proposing in parliament to make suicide a capital offense. "We only punish those who fail," he said, and laughter drowned the conclusion of the sentence.

Sir Colin Campbell when in India wrote in an official report, "A lot of young fellows come out here, and they drink and eat and die and then write home and tell their friends the climate killed them."

It was once the fashion in Paris to wear the hair "a la Capoul," after the famous singer. Capoul himself went to have his hair done and was asked what style. "A la Capoul," he blushingly suggested. His head was examined. "Ah, monsieur, it is not possible. You have not the head for it."

In England Joseph H. Choate became Joseph Choate. "In England," he explained, "I drop the H." The brilliant lawyer Channell, on the other hand, dropped his aspirates in a more usual way. In a trial the judge became confused as to whether the ship involved was the Helen or the Ellen. The lawyer on the other side, Sir Frederic Treaiger, gravely explained that she was christened the Helen, but "lost her 'h' in the chops of the Channell."

At an ecclesiastical luncheon one of the party, apparently given to dietetic theories, observed as they went in, "Now to put a bridle on our appetites." The bishop of Winchester, who had a good digestion, retorted, "Now to put a bit between my teeth."

The Corporal Got a Chill Too.

The captain tells a story which runs something like this: In camp one morning the first sergeant reported that Private B. had a chill. "Is it a serious one?" asked the captain. "Well, sir, I don't know just how serious it is, but it's a big one, for it seems to be all over him, and he weighs 200 pounds." On seeing him the captain found him looking rather blue and instructed the first sergeant to send him to the surgeon in charge of a corporal. Soon after breakfast the captain saw the corporal and asked him how the man was getting on. "Oh, he's all right now!" was the reply. "I took him up to the hospital tent, and when I saw what kind of medicine the doctor gave him I had a chill too."—Army and Navy Life.

True Hospitality.

In a New Hampshire village many stories are told of a former resident who had a warm heart, but a tongue that did not always utter his real meaning. One cold winter day he opened his door to see the minister, looking chill and tired, wading home through the snow after an hour spent with a needy but unpleasant parishioner.

"Come in, parson, come right in!" he called cheerily, waving his arms with hospitable intent. "My wife will make a rousing fire to warm you up. It's well started already, parson. She'll make it so hot you can't stay in the house fifteen minutes!"

His Kick.

A traveler putting up at a small hotel out in California brought the porter up to his room with his angry storming.

"Want your room changed, sir? What is the matter?"

"The room's all right," fumed the guest scorchingly. "It's the fleas I object to, that's all."

"Mrs. Hawkins," shouted the porter in an uninterested sort of a voice, "the gent in No. 7 is satisfied with his room, but he wants the fleas changed!"—Harper's Weekly.

More Than Pleased.

"Weally, I detest slang," said Reggy Borealt.

"Oh, joy!" laughed the pretty girl with the box of fudge.

"There it goes again. If you say 'Oh, joy!' again I shall go straight home. I weally shall."

"Oh, joy! Oh, joy! Oh, joy!"—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

BLACK HAND'S VENGEANCE.

Killed Member Who Failed to Carry Out Murderous Errand.

New York, Oct. 30.—Because he failed to carry out an errand of vengeance, Vito Greinaldi, a member of the Black Hand Society, was stabbed to death by members of his own band early yesterday in Knoll street, Brooklyn. A dynamite bomb was found secreted beneath Greinaldi's coat, which, the police say, would have blown up an entire block had its exploded. A loaded revolver was found in his pocket.

Postmaster Badly Hurt.

Orangeville, Oct. 30.—John Davis, civil engineer and postmaster at Alton, has received terrible and possibly fatal injuries. He was driving from Melville across to Alton in a livery rig driven by Bert McLellan, when the horse became frightened at the headlight of an approaching C. P. R. train for Teeswater. Davis jumped, but fell, his feet not clearing the track. The left leg was cut off below the knee, and the sole of the right foot crushed off. The scene of the accident is known as Kelly's Crossing, and is very dangerous.

Hazers Heavily Fined.

Keown, Ill., Oct. 30.—For hazing Charles Stoner, a student at a Bradford school, five young men of Bradford must pay $14,000, according to a verdict brought in Monday night by a jury. The defendants are William Real, Earl Lappin, Arley Harwood, Earl Howe and Francis Long. They are said to have tied Stoner to a tombstone in a cemetery. Stoner was so severely frightened that in his attempts to get free he pulled the tombstone over on himself, breaking a bone in his leg. He was confined in a hospital for several weeks.

Unionists Choose Lawyer.

London, Oct. 30.—(C.A.P.)—A. S. G. Hammersley, lately a lawyer in Vancouver, has been selected by the Unionists as their candidate in South Molten.

The present member for the constituency is George L. Lember, a Liberal, who was unopposed at the last elections.

HELD ON GRAVE CHARGE.

Serious Allegations Against Well-Known Actor In New York.

New York, Oct. 30.—Raymond Hitchcock, playing in "A Yankee Tourist" at the Astor Theatre, was on complaint of Agent Vincent Pissara of the Children's Society, charged with causing the ruin of Helen Van Hagen, 15-year-old girl, residing with respectable parents at 200 East 57th street. The arrest was made in the district attorney's office by Agents Moore and Pissara of the Children's Society, who have been engaged for several months past in obtaining evidence against the actor. Hitchcock had been summoned to the district attorney's office by Assistant District Attorney Frank Garvan, and was accompanied by his counsel, Herman Fronime, and "Barney" Connelly, a retired policeman.

Hitchcock was taken to the Tombs Police Court and there arraigned before Magistrate Walsh. In arguing the question of bail, Mr. Garvan told the court that there were several girl complainants against Hitchcock in addition to Helen Van Hagen, and that all of them would be sent before the grand jury to testify. Three of his alleged victims, ranging in age from 12 to 15 years, were in the building at the time in the custody of the Children's Society agents.

Hitchcock, pale and nervous, was given a seat within the railed enclosure of the courtroom after the arraignment until the matter of bail was arranged. Magistrate Walsh fixed bail at $3,000.

STUDENT'S ADVENTURE.

Adrift Two Days on Lake In Small Gasoline Launch.

Kingston, Oct. 30.—Two men of Syracuse, one named H. E. Foster—the name of the other not known at present—both medical students of Syracuse University, arrived here yesterday afternoon in a gasoline launch in tow of a steam launch from Amherst Island.

The pair had a thrilling experience on Lake Ontario since Saturday afternoon. They then left Cape Vincent in a gasoline launch for Oswego, intending to take the canal to Syracuse. When about twelve miles east of Oswego night set in, and they anchored and prepared to rest for the night. Soon a storm came and the launch began to drift northward. They awoke and found that their engine would not work, and they were thus helpless in the presence of the storm. On they came before the wind, and by morning were out in the lake, drifting and rolling towards the Canadian shore. On Monday afternoon they came near Amherst Island and finally drifted ashore, cold and hungry, having had nothing to eat for 48 hours. They were taken in charge of farmers, fed and given shelter for the night. Yesterday morning a power launch was secured, and by this aid they reached the city.

British Chancellor's Scheme Adds $50,000,000 to Revenue.

London, Oct. 30.—In his budget speech of April 18, Mr. Asquith, Chancellor of the Exchequer, announced that in future the Government would require every employer to return a full statement, under the income tax schedule, of the salaries paid to all his employes.

The Chancellor's statement was

A WONDERFUL CURE OF RHEUMATISM

THE CAUSE An excess of uric acid and ureates are deposited in the tissues of the body and joints, causing aches and pains which are called rheumatic.

All the various causes of rheumatism, such as the acute, articular, muscular and gout, have the same common cause—Uric Acid.

To effect a satisfactory cure the uric acid must be removed. This can only be done by introducing into the circulation a remedy which will dissolve the uric acid and stimulate the action of the excretory organs.

No Case That Ferrozone Can't Cure

The remarkable success of Ferrozone is due to the fact that it attacks the disease in the blood. It goes right to the root and cause of the trouble.

Ferrozone is a perfect solvent for uric acid and quickly destroys its evil effect. It stimulates and quickens the sluggish circulation and drives every trace of rheumatic poison out of the system.

Rheumatism Can't Last If FERROZONE is Used.

We have conclusive proof of this. The strongest possible endorsements from people who have been cured after all else failed. If you suffer from rheumatism yourself, or in case you have a friend or relative subject to this disease, read the following—they tell their own tale.

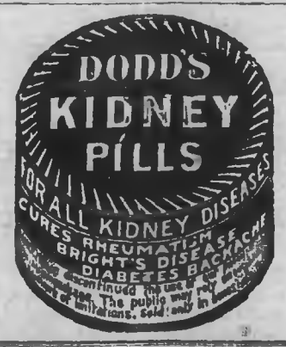
LIFE-LONG CRIPPLE CURED

Mr. Louis Noll, 15 Fulton street, New York, N. Y., writes: "Ever since boyhood I have been a sufferer from rheumatism. My joints were twisted and swollen, and the pain at times was really intense. I used gallons of liniments, vapor baths, and other treatments, but was first noticeably relieved by Ferrozone. It cured me perfectly after taking twelve boxes."

Mr. Henry Heer, Pharmacist, 23 Eldridge Ave., New York, vouches for Mr. Noll's absolute cure. He says: "Mr. Noll has been freed from chronic rheumatism by Ferrozone. For years he has not been so well, and today shows no signs of rheumatic trouble. It is a pleasure to recommend Ferrozone."

The BEST remedy for rheumatism that science has produced is Ferrozone—it is unquestionably the only sure and lasting cure. Sold everywhere by druggists. Price 50c per box or six boxes for $2.50—by mail to any address if price is forwarded to N. C. POLSON & CO., Kingston, Ont., and Hartford, Conn., U.S.A.

FERROZONE, THE ONE SURE CURE.



tedious unimportant at the time and did not attract much attention, but the enforcement of the regulation has, up to the present time, increased the yield of income tax, from sources previously untouched, by approximately $50,000,000 a year.

SALVAGED LEAKING WHISKEY.

Camera Fiend Proves Undoing of Thamesville Citizens.

Chatham, Oct. 30.—Sixteen of the most prominent citizens of the local option town of Thamesville were brought before Justice of the Peace Ingalls of that place yesterday afternoon, charged with trespass and theft by the Grand Trunk Railway.

The case was the outcome of a wreck on the G. T. R. last week, when the thirsty citizens of Thamesville took advantage of the opportunity and filled up with the drippings from a bonded liquor car which was smashed up in the wreck. They were also charged with carrying off a quantity of the bottled goods inside the car. The case was tried behind closed doors, and it was with considerable difficulty that a Chatham reporter gained admission.

From all accounts it appears that the wrecked car in which the liquor was stored had been used to carry cattle previously, and had not been cleaned out before the liquor was stored in it. Added to this disgusting feature was the fact that the drippings consisted of a mixture of part alcohol, part whiskey and part gin. The greatest wonder is that the celebrants survived the spree.

William Cutler, a wealthy retired farmer, who was accused of being the ringleader of the gang, was fined $5 and costs, $15.85 in all. The following were fined $1 and costs on charges of trespass: Alex. Osborne, Pat Miller, Mike Miller, Robert Buchanan, Orval Kelly, Albert O'Neil, Robert Albertson, Frank Coll, James Quelch, Clifford Payne, William Meagher, Thomas Bodkin, Archie McBrane, James Pearkon and William Cosgrave. All pleaded guilty to the charges read against them. Photographs taken on the scene of the wreck were produced in court. These depicted the celebrators in the midst of their jollification.

ROYAL COUPLE IN WRECK.

But Arrive In London Safely—Interest In Spanish Baby.

London, Oct. 30.—The King and Queen of Spain arrived in London last night. It was raining hard, but in spite of the depressing weather Their Majesties were met at the railway station by members of the English royal family and the Spanish ambassador to Great Britain, Senor Villa y Urrutio. The visitors drove at once to Kensington Palace, where they will reside until next Monday. They will then visit King Edward and Queen Alexandra at Sandringham.

The London populace displayed the greatest interest last night in the infant son of the Spanish King and Queen.

Cherbourg, France, Oct. 30.—The King and Queen of Spain had another close escape from injury or death early yesterday.

The journey from Paris was made in safety until just as the train was entering Cherbourg, when it ran off the rails. The royal party escaped injury.

WILL SUIT THE CZAR.

New Russian Parliament to Be Conservative In Nature.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 30.—The first return of the final elections of members of the third Russian Parliament from St. Petersburg has been completed.

The results of the later elections are conceded to be much more favorable to the Constitutional Democrats and other opposition parties, but not enough to alter fundamentally the conservative nature of the third Parliament.

Impressed With Canada.

London, Oct. 30.—(C. A. P.)—The Bishop of London, speaking at Fulham on the subject of "The Church and the Empire," said that what impressed him most on his recent tour was the wonderful loyalty of Canada, the granary of the world. "Think," he said, "of the possibilities of this great new nation, which is bound to us by ties of blood and religion, which nothing ought to be able to break. There is room for a hundred millions in Canada. If we do not take the trouble we will lose our chance, and Canada will be filled by somebody else. We ought to be sending out from this over-crowded land more and more loyal Englishmen. Emigration is largely the cure for our ills, if not the God-given cure, and both the clergy and laity might give their brains to see it properly carried out."

Tied Up Steamer Pollux.

St. Catharines, Oct. 30.—Sheriff Dawson, acting on a writ issued by McKay Bros., Hamilton, has tied up the steamer Pollux at Port Dalhousie. The steamer is a Norwegian boat, manned entirely by Norwegians. She came out some time ago and was chartered by the McKays to take a cargo of wheat to Norway. When loading was begun it was discovered that the vessel's hold was covered with coal oil and the officers refused to clean it. The McKays canceled the charter and are suing the owners of the boat for $4,000 damages.

Australia Wins.

London, Oct 30.—The Empire match was won yesterday by Australia with a score of 2,104 points New Zealand was second with 2,056, and Great Britain a close third with 2,053.

IN THE PHILIPPINES.

Yankee Thanksgiving Customs Have Made a Hit There.

Since Admiral Dewey played the part of a modern Columbus and discovered an archipelago with a greater number of inhabitants than were to be found in all America when Columbus landed there have been great changes in the Philippines, and a good many of the customs brought over by the Yankees have been adopted by the natives. Any form of festive enjoyment always appeals to those childlike people of the south seas, and to the numerous holidays introduced and celebrated by the Spaniards they have been glad to add Thanksgiving. Turkeys are as yet lacking, but they will come in time doubtless, and meanwhile there are plenty of other things suitable to feast upon.

Uncle Sam has now 10,000 soldiers in the Philippines, and every one of them will celebrate Thanksgiving day in some fashion. Though they are scattered over the island in no fewer than 400 different posts, every "mess" will have its special dinner to mark the joyous occasion. For this feast money will be provided out of the "company fund," which is handled by the captain of each company.—Philadelphia Times.

Winnipeg's Power Scheme.

Winnipeg, Oct. 30.—Cecil B. Smith, consulting engineer of the city's municipal power scheme, has recommended in favor of the city's accepting the bulk tender of the Anglo-Canadian Engineering Co. of London, Eng. They have made an offer to accept the city's debentures for payment at 93.

Mayor Ashdown wants the whole project postponed until next year on account of financial stringency. This stand has aroused considerable opposition, and may result in a candidate to oppose him. Controller Garson is spoken of as a probable candidate.

THANKSGIVING.

We thank Thee, O Father, for all that is bright—
The gleam of the day and the stars of the night;
The flowers of youth and the fruits of our prime,
And blessings o'er-marching the pathway of time.

We thank Thee, O Father of all, for the power
Of aiding each other in life's darkest hour;
The generous heart and the bountiful hand,
And all the soul-help that soul souls understand.

We thank Thee, O Father, for the days yet to be—
For hopes that our future will call us to Thee;
That all our eternity may form, through Thy love,
One day of thanksgiving in mansions above.

—Will Carleton.

EDITOR WINS CASE IN COURT

Judge Finds Attabks on Von Moltke Were Justified.

GERMAN COURT SCANDAL

Verdict Cheered by Spectators — Socialist Papers Attacking the Kaiser With Fury — General Not Only Loses His Suit, But Has to Pay the Costs—Trial Will Influence Politics, It Is Thought.

Berlin, Oct. 30.—Maximilien Harden, editor of Die Zukunft, was acquitted yesterday in the suit brought against him for defamation of character by Gen. Count Kuno von Moltke, formerly military governor of Berlin. In addition, Gen. von Moltke was condemned to bear the costs of the trial, which began Oct. 23, and attracted the greatest interest throughout Germany. Counsel for Herr Harden charged that the court clique, of which Von Moltke was a member, was guilty of infamous practices, and also had sought to exercise undue influence over Emperor William. The name of Prince Philip zu Eulenburg, ex-German ambassador to Vienna, and Lieut.-Gen. William von Hohena, one of the Emperor's adjutants, were mentioned by Herr Harden as being members of the clique, referred to as to the "Round Table," and an army officer who had served in the guard corps at Potsdam testified to having taken part in orgies at the house of Major Count Lynar, which had resulted in the dismissal from the service in disgrace of the count and Lieut.-Gen. von Hohena. Von Moltke denied that such a clique as the "Round Table" could exist, and also denied the other charges brought against him. Herr Harden declined to withdraw anything he had written on the subject, but said he did not accuse Von Moltke of crime.

Justice Kern, the presiding judge, made the verdict as easy for Von Moltke as was consistent with the conclusions arrived at. He said Herr Harden was justified in what he had written, but that there was no evidence that Von Moltke had at any time acted upon abnormal inclinations, or that he knew what took place at Major Count Lynar's villa, or of Lieut.-Gen. Hohena's behavior.

Herr Harden, when the verdict was announced, was cheered by the spectators present in court, and by the large crowd of people waiting in the rain outside. Von Moltke heard the verdict with impassiveness.

The trial is already having considerable political influence.

One hundred and forty Socialist daily newspapers are attacking the monarchy with studied fury, mocking, sneering savagely and assailing the exotic conditions which have been declared as "flourishing in the hot-house atmosphere of the court," where the sovereign is surrounded, the Socialists claim, with companions and councillors, the corruption of whose private lives taints their judgment.

The newspapers, regardless of party affiliations, printed full accounts of the proceedings, and some of the influential Liberal papers, like The Frankfurter Zeitung, affirm that it is evident that in the Moroccan controversy with France, Germany followed two policies, that of the Foreign Office and that of the sovereign, the latter being attributed to Prince zu Eulenburg's influence, working independently of his majesty's constitutional advisers.

Pope Disciplines Jesuit.

Rome, Oct. 30.—The Vatican organ yesterday announced that Rev. Father Tyrrell, the noted English Jesuit, whose books on religious subjects were condemned by the holy office, and who severely criticised the Pope's encyclical on modernism, has been deprived of the right to administer the sacraments, pending the final action of the Pontiff in the matter.

KILLED IN COLLAPSE OF BUILDING

Men Buried in Ruins of Port Arthur Warehouse.

TWO DEAD--OTHERS CRUSHED

Mayor Clavet's New Building Gives Way—Several Were Pinned Under the Debris—Employes Have Narrow Escapes—Money Loss Will Be Heavy—Citizens Searching For More of the Victims.

Port Arthur, Oct. 30.—Two foreigners were killed and four men injured by the collapse of a building owned by Mayor Clavet last evening. The building was being completed by Contractor Hamer. At 5 o'clock a large gang of men had left work, and when the accident took place, half an hour later, only six men were in it. Messrs. Haggit and Helberg, tinsmiths, were engaged in putting on cornices. They saw the roof of the block cave in; then there was a trembling of the structure and they were thrown out for some feet. Fortunately they were hurled far enough to escape being buried by tons of brick and debris that was piled up on the street, and escaped with but slight injury.

At the time of the accident there were working in the building several foreigners, engaged in piling flour. Two men named Waltz and Young were electricians. When the accident occurred, Waltz was on the first floor and Young in the basement. Waltz was knocked down and pinned there by heavy timbers. Young was also knocked down, but before the main structure piled on him he was able to crawl to the boiler, and, by squeezing up close to this, was enabled to escape further injury. The foreigners received such injuries that they died. One of the men in attempting to gain freedom was pinned under the heavy material. Every attempt was made to get him out alive, but the heavy stuff settled about him and he was soon dead. On investigation it was found that there were others under the piles of debris.

TWO TRAINMEN KILLED.

Railway Commissioners In Wreck Near Newbury—Engine Exploded.

London, Oct. 30.—By the explosion of Grand Trunk engine 446, near Newbury, last night, Engineer R. Rutherford and Fireman J. Robertson were instantly killed.

This was an accommodation train, bound from Chatham to London (No. 26).

Of the 13 passengers, several are believed to have sustained serious injuries.

The Railway Commission's special car was attached to the train, but none of the commissioners were injured. A special train with six physicians was sent out from London.

The train was running at a fair speed at the time of the explosion. It is believed that the water in the boiler had run low, and that the injection of cold water caused the accident.

The Railway Commissioners arrived at London early this morning, via Glencoe.

Chairman Killam took charge of the work of rescue at the wreck.

Directors Exonerated.

Yarmouth, N. S., Oct. 30.—Judge Townsend yesterday filed his decision in the case of the directors of the defunct Bank of Yarmouth, which was tried here last June at the Supreme Court, giving his decision in favor of the directors.

The action was brought by W. E. Stavert as liquidator, and the bankers as joint plaintiffs against the directors as defendants to recover damages for negligence on their part as directors.

The case was looked upon in legal and banking circles as an important one, as it involved the whole question as to the responsibilities and duties of bank directors.

LABOUR POLLED A GOOD VOTE

But Major Beattie Is Returned in London Election.

MR. MARTIN HAS BIG WIN

Liberal Majority Increased In North Wellington—C. L. Owen For East Northumberland—Thousands Stayed Away From Polls In London—Voters Were Apathetic—Returns Showing Votes Polled.

London, Oct. 30.—Major Thomas Beattie was elected yesterday over J. D. Jacobs, trade unionist, by a majority of 1,036, securing a majority in every ward.

The figures were: Beattie, 3,209; Jacobs, 2,173.

The result was a surprise to all but those on the inside of the major's campaign, and, in consequence, the result to the crowd in front of the newspaper offices was a complete surprise. Victory was expected by Mr. Jacobs' friends, but to citizens in general the major's election was expected, but not with such a great majority.

The total vote shows the little interest taken in the contest.

Arthur, Oct. 30.—The bye-election in North Wellington to fill the vacancy caused by the death of the late member, Thomas Martin, was contested by A. M. Martin, a brother of the deceased member, for the Liberal party, and by Alex. Hamilton for the Conservative party, and resulted in the election of A. M. Martin by a majority of 387. The vote by divisions was as follows:

	Martin. (Lib.) Maj.—	Hamilton (Cons.) Maj.
Arthur Township	93	..
West Arthur Township ..	..	2
West Carafraxan	..	52
Minto 180	..
Peel 100	..
Marysboro (3 polls to hear from).
Bellwood Village 20	..
Arthur Village	..	52
Harriston Town	..	5
Drayton 3	..
Mount Forest 157	..
Palmerston	..	52

Campbellford, Oct. 30.—The election in East Northumberland, to fill the seat left vacant by the death of the late Conservative member, Mr. Edward Cochrane, was held yesterday, and resulted in the election by the majority of 256 of the Conservative candidate, Mr. C. L. Owens.

The Liberal candidate was Major Mulholland. Both candidates are residents of Campbellford. The Town of Campbellford and the adjoining Township of Seymour furnished the bulk of Mr. Owens' majority, Campbellford giving a majority of 84 and Seymour a majority of 93 for the Conservative candidate.

At Campbellford, when the result became known, a large procession was formed, and, headed by the band, marched through the principal streets. On the corner of Front and Bridge streets, the member-elect addressed the large crowd for a few minutes, when he thanked the citizens of Campbellford for their generous support, also his friends throughout the constituency for their noble support. He would represent them to the best of his ability, and would stand only for an honest Government, and would support any good measure that he considered to be for the benefit of the people. After the address the procession returned to his home, where he was carried by his many warm friends and supporters to his house.

Colborne Village gave the Liberal candidate a majority of 23. This village has always gone Conservative heretofore, but, owing to the fact that the Government is building a new dock, the people here took this way of showing their appreciation of the same.

Some of the figures from East Northumberland follow: Brighton Town gave Owens majority of 40; Brighton Township, Owens, 19; Campbellford, Owens, 35; Hastings, Mulholland, 40; Cranake, Mulholland, 7; Seymour, Owens, 81.

German Balloon Success.

Berlin, Oct. 30.—The military dirigible balloon made a trip yesterday and remained aloft for eight hours and ten minutes. The trip was in the nature of an endurance test. No endeavor was made to cover any great distance, but the machine was manoeuvred the entire day over a small area. It landed during a fog, after a most satisfactory and uneventful voyage. The Parseval balloon went up at the same time and stayed in the air for six hours and twenty-five minutes.

Mutiny at Vladivostock.

Vladivostock, Oct. 30.—A mutiny yesterday among a number of the recently arrived army sappers was quickly suppressed by use of machine guns. A battalion of sappers, armed with rifles, tried to capture one of the barracks here, but two companies of a rifle regiment, which were quartered there, brought machine guns into action and routed the attackers. A dozen of the latter were badly wounded.

Escaped Murder Charge.

Barrie, Ont., Oct. 30.—John Jeffries of Midland, who shot Rose Latanville, with whom he was infatuated, in a hotel in that town, on Sept. 3, has been sentenced to two years and a half in Kingston Penitentiary. Sentence was deferred until the present, awaiting results of the wounds, as it was feared that the girl might die. She has, however, recovered, and Jeffries was convicted of manslaughter instead of murder.

Collarbone Broken.

Kingston, Oct. 30.—John McDonald, one of Limestone's players, was badly injured at practice Monday, although he did not fully realize it until yesterday morning. During a scrimmage he had his shoulder injured. Upon rising yesterday morning he was suffering so much that he went to a doctor, who found that the collarbone was broken and the shoulder blade injured.

Indian's Tragic Death.

Maple Creek, Sask., Oct. 30.—An Indian named Sugar, charged with the murder of another Indian, called Shortlegs, has been committed for trial at the next sitting of the Supreme Court at Maple Creek.

The circumstances were: On Sept. 26 there were races in Maple Creek and a lot of Indians and half-breeds were in attendance. The day wound up with a dance in the Indian encampment, in which considerable whiskey was drunk.

The deceased Indian was educated at the Qu'Appelle Industrial School and aspired to being a leader among his people, which was resented by some of them.

During a fight in the camp Shortlegs was struck by someone and his skull fractured, as the result of which he died some days later.

Sophs In Trees All Night.

Rolla, Mo., Oct. 30.—As a result of class rivalry 20 sophomores of the State School of Mines were routed out of bed Monday night, and, half clad, were tied to trees on the campus, where they remained until daylight, shivering in the nipping atmosphere. After they had been released by other sophomores the entire sophomore class captured 25 freshmen, bound their arms with ropes and chains and marched them around town, accompanied by the school band.

School Director Young was forced to declare a holiday yesterday, as the class rooms were vacant. The trouble arose over the refusal of the freshmen to obey the order of the sophomores to wear green caps with yellow buttons.

Utica, N. Y., Oct. 30.—John A. Morgan, a member of the firm of Williams & Morgan, leading furniture dealers of this city, was shot and instantly killed at Kego Camp, Sheriffs Lake, in the Adirondacks, Monday night. Mr. Morgan was mistaken for a deer.

Six Anarchists Hanged.

Odessa, Oct. 30.—Six men, tried by court-martial and sentenced to death on the charge of founding an association of anarchists and communists, were hanged here yesterday.

CHARLOTTE STREET BARBER DISCOVERS A GOLD PIN IN THE GIZZARD OF A TAME DUCK

A peculiar discovery was made recently in that portion of the alimentary canal of a duck known as the gizzard, by Mr. David Hall, the Charlotte street barber. Mr. Hall purchased the bird at the market on Saturday from a farmer's wife and when it was opened a gold pin, the shape and size of an ordinary steel pin was found inside its gizzard.

How the sharp little piece of gold managed to get down the ducks throat, Mr. Hall cannot explain. It seems strange that it did not catch on the lining of the alimentary canal and stranger still that the duck should feel inclined to swallow the small piece of sharp gold.

The presence of the pin did not have any effect upon the taste of the duck and Mr. Hall is now carrying the souvenir as a memento of the peculiar find.

HARTLEY, THE WALKER REACHES TORONTO ON SCHEDULED TIME

Gets His Dinner at The King Edward At 12.26—Thirty Two Miles in 6 Hours, 26 Minutes

HE IS IN GOOD CONDITION

David Hartley, the Peterborough walking painter, is making good time on his lengthy journey from Oshawa to Toronto and return to Peterborough. From telephone messages received at the Munro House from Mr. George Stevens, who is accompanying the pedestrian, Hartley is pounding away on the long grind, and from the latest reports, is appearing in each village and town on schedule time.

He left from a point one mile west of Oshawa at 6 o'clock this morning, the distance to Toronto being 32 miles. The first portion of the journey to Pickering, a distance of 10 miles, was made in 1 hour and 57 minutes. Dunbarton, a couple of miles farther west, was reached in 3 hours and 27 minutes after the start, and Agincourt was welcomed at 9.17 a.m., or in other words Hartley made the 17 miles in 3 hours and 17 minutes. Agincourt is 15 miles from Toronto, and the pedestrian expected to reach the King Edward Hotel about one o'clock.

A letter received at the Munro House from Mr. Stevens, stated that the party drove from Peterborough to Oshawa yesterday, leaving here at 7.30 and arriving at their destination at 5.25 in the evening.

Mr. Lou Bennett, proprietor of the Queen's Hotel at Port Hope, gave them a hearty welcome, providing meals and food for the horses free of charge, and he will also have baths furnished for Mr. Hartley on the home stretch.

Jimmie Reynolds will meet Hartley at Oshawa, and pace him back to Port Hope to-night.

At the King Edward

About one o'clock a telegram was received at the Munro House, from Mr. Stevens, stating that Hartley had arrived at the King Edward Hotel, at 12.26, where he was given an enthusiastic welcome. He was paced through Toronto by a large number of spectators, and made the last few miles in fast time. Hartley was in splendid condition, and apparently he is able to travel quite a few miles further. He made the 15 miles from Agincourt in 3 hours and 9 minutes.

Toronto, October 31. — (Special.)—Hartley left the King Edward at 1.30, arriving at the Half Way House on the Kingston Road, 8 miles distant, at 3.09 p.m. The walker is in the pink of condition, and looks like a winner.

2nd Vice-Pres., Miss Lilian Hall.

Treas., Miss Florence Cameron.

Sec., Mrs. GG. H. Thompson.

Executive Committee, Mrs E V Moore, Mrs. Wightman, Miss Agnes Hall.

Missionary Committee — Mrs. McLean, Miss Lillie Davidson.

It was decided to hold a Thanksgiving meeting on Tuesday, Nov. 12, when Rev .Dr. Talling will give an address. This gathering will be held in the church.

NO EXAMINER ON THANKSGIVING DAY

To-morrow, Thanksgiving Day, there will be no issue of the Examiner, but on Friday a paper of special interest will be published. It will contain full reports of the holiday events, including the Examiner road race, Rugby game in Lindsay, entertainments incidental to the holiday, and Hallowe'en events. To-morrow will be the last holiday before Christmas, and, with the promise of fine weather, it is probable that a large number of citizens will take advantage of it to leave the city.

Get a copy of the Examiner on Friday. It will give you the information concerning the events in which you are interested.

EVERYBODY CAN BUY THESE RINGS

Thirty Cents a Dozen So P. C. Newhall Says

The advice to be taken from P. C. Newhall's evidence this morning is —never buy a ring from a stranger, especially when its quality looks questionable. The ring which Murray, the Toronto man, wanted to sell the officer and brought so much trouble upon his head are valued at 30 cents a dozen. They have a large red stone and apparently are genuine, but after a little wear show only pure brass and red glass. Murray wanted to sell it for $1.50. and laughed to-day when P. C. Newhall said that he had asked and been informed that they are worthless.

YE OLDE TIME CONCERT REHEARSAL

Those Taking Part Met Last Night at Residence of Mrs. McFarlane

A very effective rehearsal of those taking part in the Olde Tyme Concerts to be given by St. Andrew's Church choir on November 15th, was held at the home of Miss Winnie McFarlane, Homewood Avenue, last night. Considerable progress was made and excellent work was done in the choruses. At the conclusion of the rehearsals much appreciated refreshments were served.

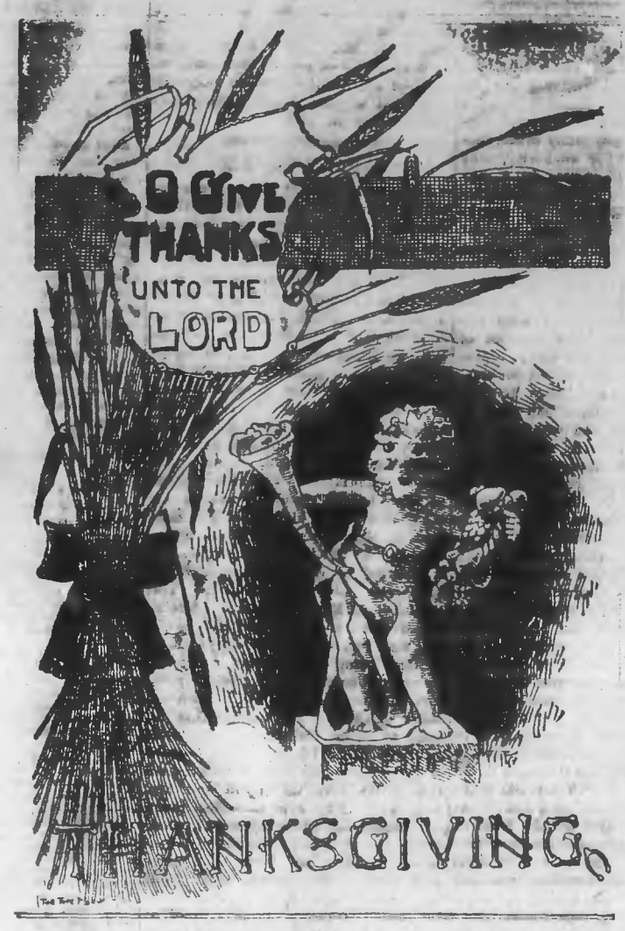
A 12 INCH WATER MAIN BURST

Miniature Flood Was Caused on Water Street This Morning

A miniature flood was caused on Water street north this morning, which made things disagreeable for drivers of vehicles. A 2-inch water main at the corner of Water and Hillier street burst under the pressure and flooded the road for many feet. The car tracks and the Lakefield crossing of the G. T. R. were under water as a result of the accident, but it was not serious enough to interfere with traffic. Repairs are being made this afternoon.

Special Thanksgiving Service

At the Gospel Hall, corner of George and Brock streets, there will be a special Thanksgiving service at 8 o'clock. Mr. W .J. Mapledon, of Buffalo, will speak, his subject being "A Murderer's Thanksgiving Hymn," or "The Triumph of Grace." Mr. Geo W. Mulligan so well known to the citizens of Peterborough, will sing. A hearty invitation is extended to all.



To-morrow, the national day of Thanksgiving, will be celebrated throughout Canada, and, if the present weather outlook is realized, the conditions from that standpoint will be satisfactory. The indications are for weather very similar to that of to-day, clear, and rather sharp, ideal Thanksgiving Day weather. This morning the cheap fares on the two railways commenced, and on all trains a large number of persons left the city to spend the holiday at different points throughout the province. The schools of the city close this afternoon until Monday, the day on which the cheap fares expire.

The special event of interest to-morrow, so far as Peterborough is concerned, will be the Examiner road races, the Senior ten mile race, and the Junior five mile event. They both start sharp at ten o'clock, and will be finished in front of the Examiner office, where provision will be made, contingent upon the kind indulgence of the spectators, for witnessing what promises to be the most exciting finish ever seen to a race in Peterborough.

In the afternoon the Rugby team will play a championship game in Lindsay, to decide the district leadership, and a special train will leave here at 1.45 to enable those who wish, to see the game.

The usual Thanksgiving Day suppers will be given in some of the churches of the city to-morrow, St. Andrew's and George street Ladies' Aid Societies holding their annual events. Teas will also be held at Stewart's Settlement, and at Warsaw to-morrow night, and many who make this an annual outing will visit either of these places.

The spirit of Thanksgiving Day is not being lost sight of either, for in at least two of the churches special services will be held, St. John's and St. Luke's congregations joining in a service at St. John's, while another service will be held in All Saints' church. The usual masses will be celebrated in St Peter's Cathedral.

A feature of Thanksgiving Day this year, unique in the history of the National Thanksgiving Day, is the fact that this holiday and Hallowe'en fall on the same day. In view of this fact the evening will be enlivened by social gatherings appropriate to the last night of October.

Dickson, The Lost Youth Returns To The Family Fireside

Walks on a Crutch to Cavanville And Takes a Freight To Toronto Where He Was Located

ALMOST ONE WEEK AWAY

After walking to Cavanville and going by freight to Toronto, Fred Dickson, the sixteen-year-old youth on crutches, has found his way back to the city, and back again to the family fireside on Bolivar street. He arrived in town some time yesterday and although he had not intended to make his presence known until to-day his father learned of his presence in town and took him home, where he related the story of his travels to pleased parents.

He left his home last Wednesday, and started westward on the C. P. R. track, with but only one of his crutches to bear him. He reached Cavanville on foot and went from there to Toronto by freight, where the greater portion of his week's visit was spent. Toronto Junction was also visited, but where the lad obtained his meals is a mystery, as he has not divulged that part of his trip to his father.

Meeting Arranged

Apparently he believed that home was the best place, and yesterday returned to the city. Meeting some of his youthful friends during the afternoon he made arrangements for an assembly with them last night, as he had not then decided to return to his father's home.

The boys couldn't keep the secret and some of them told their parents. One of their numbers informed Mr. Dickson of the meeting and the boys were followed to their trysting place where the lost boy was found and brought to his home. He was given a welcome by his parents, who were pleased to have him once again at the family fireside.

One of his legs was cut off in a train accident some time ago, and his father cannot account for his fondness for railway trains and tracks which he has recently displayed.

Kidney Disease on the Increase

Recent reports from the New York Board of Health show that kidney disease is greatly on the increase. Bright's Disease as well as the other dreadfully painful forms of kidney disease can always be prevented and usually cured by the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills which have a direct and combined influence on the kidneys and liver.

A Site Wanted For A German Card Board Factory In This City

Peterborough Promoters Considering The Erection of New Building Here

EMPLOY ABOUT 20 HANDS

Peterborough is about to have a new industry, which will employ, when satisfactorily going about 15 or 20 hands. Two citizens of the town are now looking for a site on which to erect a German card board factory similar to that located on the corner of Dublin and Aylmer streets, only on a larger scale.

The promoters are now desirous of obtaining a site suitable to them for the card factory, and if this is secured it is probable that the work of erection will be begun in the near future.

The company will, when working, manufacture all kinds of photo mounts, etc., necessary for the work of photography.

The men who are looking for the site for the new factory are well-known in Peterborough, and if the proposition carries there will be about 20 men employed by the company.

ATHLETIC EVENT OF THE YEAR; EXAMINER RACES ON THANKSGIVING DAY

Details of The Great Events Of To-morrow—Both Races Will Start Promptly at 10 O'Clock—Fine Weather is Promised

THE OFFICIALS NAMED

Those Who Have Entered For The Two Races—Public Asked To Co-operate With Officials

To-morrow morning at ten o'clock two important Road Races will commence under the auspices of the Peterborough Examiner, and these events will constitute the chief features of public interest in Peterborough for the holiday. Last year the Road Race for seniors was inaugurated, and it proved a success beyond the most sanguine expectations of those promoting it. This year its scope has enlarged, in addition to the senior race there will be a five mile event for juniors under eighteen years of age. This will be five miles starting at the five mile post on the Lakefield Road, and both races will finish at the Examiner office.

For the information of those participating in the events and for the public generally, the following details are given:—

A 'bus will leave the Examiner office at 8.30, and in this the juniors will be conveyed to the starting point, at the five mile post. Every participant who wishes to avail himself of this means of conveyance must be at this office promptly at the hour named.

The Peterborough men and those from the east entering the senior race will leave the city on the 8.30 G.T.R. train for Lakefield, and the race will be started promptly at 10 o'clock, from the ten mile post, near the Lakefield Hotel. A 'bus will leave the Examiner office at 8 o'clock and any seniors who desire may take it to Lakefield. It will follow the runners back, bringing the clothing, and picking up those who are forced to drop out of the race.

The juniors should reach the city about 10.30, and the first of the seniors will probably finish before 11 o'clock. The finishing tape will be at the Examiner office, where the judges will be located. The public is asked to afford every facility for the runners to finish, and not to crowd over the course and embarrass the men, who are making an effort to lower a record. Those who are driving on the road are also asked to drive so as to interfere as little as possible with the runners.

The course for each race will be along the Lakefield Road, on the west side of the river, coming down Water street to Smith, along Smith to George and down George to the finishing tape. Runners taking any other course will be subject to disqualification.

The following are the officials:—

Starters for the Senior Race at Lakefield, Messrs. A Poe, Peterborough and F. M. Delia Rome, Lakefield.

Judge of Course, for seniors, Mr. A Poe.

Timer, for senior race, Mr. A. Gibson.

Starter for junior race, and judge of course, Mr. J. D. Craig.

Disease is a tearing down, wasting away and destroying of the tissues of the body and a shrivelling up of the nerve cells and blood corpuscles. Nature demands assistance to overcome this dreadful wasting process, and the need help is best supplied by Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, the great blood builder and nerve restorative.

The business will be continued in future under the firm name of Gunsolus & Co., at the store No. 180 Hunter street. The inspectors of the estate were Mr. John Walsh, tanner, of Hastings, and Mr. R. The affairs in connection with this estate appear to have been managed very expeditiously—only twenty days having elapsed from the date of assignment of the insolvent until it was satisfactorily wound up.

This afternoon the officers of the company were elected at a second meeting.

WILL ONLY TAKE 200 PEOPLE

Special to Lindsay Will Not Accomodate Any More Than That Number

In connection with the excursion to Lindsay to-morrow the public should understand that it has been possible to secure accommodation for only 200 people on the special train, so that all who can get away should leave on the early trains in the morning or on the 11.45 G.T.R. train by way of Millbrook. Those who are intending to go should make it a point to get their tickets to-night. They will be on sale at the up-town ticket office and it will be a case of first come, first served. Of course the fare on any of the regular trains tomorrow will be the same as that on the special, 70c. for the return trip, so that it is just as cheap to leave on the other trains. In order to save time passengers should purchase their tickets at the up town office.

THANKSGIVING

To-morrow is Thanksgiving Day, by royal proclamation. Being a loyal people the day will be observed loyally. But there are many other reasons than regard for authority, why Thanksgiving Day should be a day of high festival. There are in this happy land infinite causes for thankfulness. The general and buoyant material prosperity that has been with us for years is still here. Our national life is robust, in all the elements that contribute to national solidarity and promise of high national achievement. The absence of war pestilance, famine and great calamity are negative causes for gratitude, but we have more positive reasons. While there has been a partial failure of the crops of the country, we have still enough and to spare, and enhanced values of soil products avenage matters for the tillers of the soil. Other countries have suffered industrial disturbances of disastrous proportions, but we in Canada have been, fortunately, spared in this regard. The inevitable differences between capital and labour have been peacefully adjusted and a great deal of loss and suffering averted. The reasons for gratitude briefly and generally adverted to are of the earth, earthy, mere material considerations, touching only our lower natures. In the realm of our higher being we have benefits to be glad of. We often congratulate ourselves that we have been born in a Christian land, with all the privileges and benefits which that condition confers. But do the most of us think of the tremendous import or this condition? Do we reflect upon the obligation this condition confers? Our civilization and all that it stands for rest o a great religious foundation; the structure built on this foundation should conform in character. The spirit of it should be manifest in our daily individual lives, if its full significance is to be realized. The religion of the Saviour of mankind, if it is to be anything more than a mere abstraction, should be a living, vitalising forge, in personal life. It can only receive, and have effective national application, through its individual appropriation, and practice, and the more widespread, and deep, these become, the greater will be the national influence felt. It is only through this medium that the righteousness that exalteth a nation can be attained. We are accustomed to think of these things in a loose, general way, not as matters of personal moment, as in the last analysis, they really are. If we are thankful for material blessings we use them, temperately, or otherwise. But we use them, and thus practically show our gratitude. If we were truly thankful for our higher benefits, for Christianity, and all it confers and means, we should, to be consistently, and really grateful, use our privileges as effectively and thoroughly as we use the material gifts that contribute to the benefit of our lower natures. If Christianity is regarded only as a name, as an impersonal abstraction, with a certain vague, and undefined influence upon personal and national life, the thankfulness to which its existence gives rise, is a mere meaningless formality — a lip service. To-morrow is Thanksgiving Day. How many will observe it in the true spirit? While a few may join in a true recognition of the Great Source from who all our benefits come, the multitude will pass the day in thoughtless, but not necessarily, improper, indulgence in pleasure, forgetful of the deeper significance of their rejoicing. But even this spirit is not to be despised. Who shall decide to what extent even frivolous and worldly-seeming observance of Thanksgiving Day is prompted by some occult, yet effective, impulse of the spiritual influence, which lies behind, and underlies, Thanksgiving Day?

The death rate in Ontario, according to official returns, is 12.9 per thousand. This is a low rate, and is another tribute to the healthfulness of the Ontario climate.

The United States census shows that the value of farm property in New York State has decreased in value one hundred and twenty-six millions during the thirty years ending with 1900. In this country judging by the prices we pay for potatoes, butter et al, farm values seem to have increased a hundred per cent. The farmers seem to own the earth. They own the country now and will soon own the towns if the high prices continue.

THE BYE-ELECTION

The three bye-elections yesterday furnished no surprises. It was no surprise that London should elect Mayor Beattie, the Conservative candidate. He was opposed by a Labour candidate, who was handicapped by the lack of organization and additionally by the fact that Conservative sympathisers with labour, are Conservatives first and Labour men, when the interests of their party are not at stake. East Northumberland by the election of Mr. Owen, has again demonstatrated that it is a dyed-in-the-wool Conservative riding, which has consistently been Conservative in its representation since Confederation. In North Wellington, the Liberal candidate, Mr. A. M. Martin, won by a majority of nearly four hundred —387—a substantial gain in majority over that given the late Liberal representative in 1904.

A PRIZE TO WIN

An opportunity for literary competition, which will make a little wider demand upon literary resources and equipment, than the literary exercise represented by the prevalent and popular Limerick competition, is presented to the boys and girls of Peterborough, connected with our schools. A movement is in operation in England to promote the work of keeping green the memory of Lord Nelson, whose services have conferred a benefit upon the interests involved, in the highest type of not only British, but European and world-wide civilization, which cannot be calculated. The plan proposed to induce young persons to study the naval history of the Empire, is simple, and should be effective and beneficial in proportion to the extent to which the competition suggested becomes general. The British and Foreign Sailors' Society, has decided to give annually to a boy and girl under sixteen years of of age, being members of a school, an artistic copper plaque, suitably inscribed, for the best essay upon a sailor subject. The competition is open to Great Britain and the self-governing colonies.

The subject this year is "What does the nation owe to Nelson and her Sailors?" The essays, which must not exceed one thousand words, must reach the office of the society, Limehouse, London, not later than July 31st next. The prizes will each bear the King's initials, and will be forwarded to the winners by the Ministers of Education in the province in which they live. There is no reason why some of the clever Peterborough school boys and school girls, should not enter this competition and win one of the medals. There is not only glory to gain in the winning, but, win or lose, the research and study necessary to prepare the stipulated essay will be in themselves a distinct benefit to the contestant.

THE WESTERN "TIED VOTE"

The recent bye-election in Prince Albert, Saskatchewan, brings out some features of election procedure new to us in Ontario. It will be remembered that the result of the election was several days in doubt, pending the adjustment and counting of the "tied votes." Under the election laws of Alberta and Saskatchewan, a vote of a man whose qualifications are doubted, is "tied up," that is, instead of being counted in the returns at the close of polling, it is deposited in an envelope pending investigation. The deputy returning officer and a magistrate sit as a court of revision and determine the admissability of the tied-up votes. The following from the Edmonton Bulletin, shows some defects of the system, and some peculiar results of its operation:

This system, itself designed as a safeguard, is itself liable to be be made an abuse, and is not infrequently distorted to this end. Any voter's ballot may be challenged and "tied up" however undoubted his right to vote. In Prince Albert, where two-thirds of the disputed votes were challenged by the Opposition, it is alleged this was done simply to permit the Opposition to claim a brief victory, and to enable them to subsequently cry that the election had been stolen from them, if the challenged votes should decide the contest against them. These tactics were adopted a few months ago in the bye-election in Gleichen, but were frustrated by the fact that Mr. Riley obtained a majority, even without the contested votes.

The election of Mr. Turgeon was confidently expected by the Liberals, despite the vigorous fight put up against him. The Opposition, although parading as provincial rights advocates, threw off their masks, ran their candidate as a Conservative, and secured the assistance of Mr. R. L. Borden, and his funny man, in trying to defeat Mr. Turgeon. The Conservative leader addressed two meetings in Prince Albert on the eve of the election, and refused Mr. Turgeon the privilege of being present to tell his side of the case. Apparently the Prince Albert electors recognized both Mr. Borden's assumption in "butting into" a provincial bye-election, and the wise discretion with which he declined to let a Liberal speaker interfere with his performances. If Mr. Borden and his friends are satisfied with the result, the Liberals should have no fault to find.

Official returns confirm the reports of the good character of the Saskatchewan wheat crop. The total yield for this province is 30,000,000 bushels. The average yield per acre was 15 bushels. The total is some seven or eight million bushels less than last year, but the higher prices will even up conditions.

A Simple Recipe.

Everybody in Cedarby owned that Mrs. Hanson was the queen of cooks, but they were likely to add that when it came to explaining the processes by which she arrived at her excellent results she left a good deal to be desired.

"Your scalloped oysters are the best we ever have at our church suppers or anywhere, and you know it," said a neighbor, endeavoring to win special favor from this culinary goddess. "Most folks get 'em either too wet or too dry. I tell 'em I don't know how you manage it so yours are always just right. I don't suppose you could tell exactly yourself."

"Why, yes, I could," and Mrs. Hanson smiled indulgently at the eager, hopeful face of her neighbor. "All I do is butter the dish, put in a layer of oysters, salted and peppered, then a layer of buttered crumbs, then a layer of milk and back to oysters again. Easy as pie, 'tis.

"A 'layer' of milk?" faltered the neighbor.

"Why, yes," said Mrs. Hanson cheerfully. "That's what makes 'em about right—layer of oysters, layer of crumbs and layer of milk. Leastways that's what I do, and you say you like 'em."—Youth's Companion.

A Welsh Sermon.

The Welsh are noted for their fondness for sermons and music. The annual eisteddfod, the national bardic congress, is attended by thousands, who on the great day of festival "chair" the fortunate bard, the winner of the prize.

A similar enthusiasm greets the Welsh preacher who is eloquent in speech and practical in expounding the Scriptures. The following story of a Welsh preacher, told in the "Journals of Walter White," illustrates the graphic, simple exposition which commanded the attention of the congregation:

"Noe worked at the ark, driving nails, plump, plump, plump. The haythen came and said: 'Noe, there's good hunting in the woods here, hares and foxes. Leave your work and come and hunt.' But Noe kept on hammering, plump, plump, plump.

"The haythen came again: 'Noe, there's good beer at the Red Lion. Leave your work and come and drink.' But Noe kept on hammering, plump, plump, plump. And then the rain came, and the flood lifted up the ark and carried Noe away and left the haythen all screaming and squabbling in the water."

Hats That Improve With Age.

"A silk hat, like wine, improves with age," said a clubman. "The oftener you have it ironed the sleeker and more brilliant it becomes. It costs a good deal at the outset, but in the end it is the cheapest hat to wear. It lasts, you see, so long, and to iron it costs so little. Some folks think the topper very perishable. If it gets soaked with rain, if some one sits on it and crushes it into an accordion, they think it must be thrown away the same as if it were a derby. But not at all. A silk hat can be taken apart and put together again like a watch, and if it gets crushed nothing is easier than to pelt off the silk, straighten out the frame and then put on the silk again. In England, the home of this hat, I have known men to wear the same topper for ten or twelve years. And the oftener the old hat is ironed the lighter and finer it shines. Its luster increases with time and friction like the luster of good antique furniture."—Los Angeles Times.

Ebony is used for the finger board, the tailboard, the nut, the guard for string and tailboard, the pegs and the button.

An English Fling.

"High buildings, sir?" remarked an American contemptuously. "Why, in England you don't know what height is. Last time I was in New York it was a blazing hot day, and I saw a man coming out of a lift wrapped from top to toe in bearskins, and I said to him, 'Why are you muffled up in a broiling day like this?' 'Waal,' he said, 'you see, I live at the top of the buildin', and it's so high that it's covered with snow all the year round!'"—London Mail.

The Innocent.

Talmantin offered in payment of a bill a gold piece which had a suspicious look.

"Here, you've given me one of those fake coins that the counterfeiters have just been arrested for making," said the merchant. "Impossible," answered Talmantin. "It is dated 1907. If it were false surely it would have been found out before this."

Not a Plunger.

"Is his scheme of mine," said the promoter, "will make you rich."

"Maybe," said the plain, easy going man. "But if I had the money necessary to take the chance I'd feel so rich that there would be no need of going any further."—Washington Star.

Malt Beverages Have Real Food Value

Though mistaken zeal sometimes classes beer* with the intoxicants, common sense and medical knowledge will teach you its real worth as an item of daily diet.

For beer is four times as rich in food elements as potatoes, nearly as rich as fresh wheat bread, and its proteids (body-builders) reach the stomach in the form easiest digested.

The very small proportion of alcohol in Ontario beers helps the other food to digest quickly and easily.

Quit thinking of beer as an intoxicant—learn how valuable it is for people with weak stomachs or slack digestions.

*BEER is a term which covers lager, ale, porter, and stout; and, in the case of Ontario brewers, implies brewings made under most hygienic conditions from Ontario barley (the best in the world) malt, hops, and pure water. 201

Simple and Effective Graft Scheme Worked in New York.

Here is the story of a graft so simple and effective to work that some enterprising stranger should patent it. It was practiced by a New York genius and had its try-out on the respectable upper west side of the big city.

The originator set out dressed as a workman, his clothes rusty, but neatly patched. Arriving in the neighborhood he had decided to work, he stepped into an archway and, hauling out a knife, slit the right leg of his trousers from hip to knee.

Next he produced a newspaper, spread it out and held it over the slit in his trousers. Leaving the archway, he hurried along the sidewalk, making apparently a great effort to hold the newspaper in place.

The wind was blowing and whoever cared to look noticed the man's predicament. At the steps of a big house in Seventy-second street he stopped and pretended to tie the paper about his leg. By a perhaps not very strange chance, since the hour was 5:15 p. m., the owner of the house appeared.

The grafter greeted the man briefly, lifted the newspaper and remarked:

"I just had an accident over on Columbus avenue. Truck shoved me against a stake and tore me pants somethin' awful. Wonder if you couldn't lend me some safety pins?"

It was successful. From that house the man carried away not only a readily salable pair of trousers, but a hat and coat as well. A quick trip to a corner saloon to deposit his bundle, and the tale of the torn trousers leg was carried to another house in the block.

An observer with more sheer curiosity than police instinct watched the collection of six bundles from six houses in Seventy-second street before he reluctantly left the window and went in to dinner.—New York Cor. Washington Post.

Order of the Chrysanthemum.

The Order of the Chrysanthemum, which the Japanese emperor is going to send to President Fallieres of France as a memento of the signing of the recent important Franco-Japanese treaty, is the highest distinction which the mikado has at his disposal in the way of orders and honors. Like the English Order of the Garter, it is only conferred outside the Japanese empire on kings, emperors and distinguished heads of states. It cannot, however, compare in length of years and in historical associations with the Garter, having only been founded about thirty-two years ago by the present emperor himself. None the less it is a handsome decoration, the broad band of ribbon over the shoulder being of red silk, with a violet border. The insignia itself is of gold, with much ornamentation in colored enamel, which is made in the shape of the national emblem.

Fires in Coal Mines.

For fighting fire in its anthracite coal mines a chemical fire engine is now being used by a company in Pennsylvania. This engine is built on a truck which can run upon tracks throughout the mine. When an alarm of fire is sounded the engine is attached to an electric mine locomotive and rushed to the scene of trouble at high speed. Water played upon a coal fire is almost instantly converted into steam, which further disintegrates, forming a gas so suffocating that it drives away the men fighting the fire. Blue flames which shoot out when water strikes the hot coal often set ablaze pockets of gas in the ceiling. When a chemical engine plays upon burning coal the heavy gases evolved cling to the floor and smother the blaze by excluding the air. Men are not annoyed by the fumes and can stay close enough to do effective work.

Farewell, English Sparrow.

After long arguments pro and con it has seemed to be pretty well recognized that the English sparrow does much more harm than good and that it is time he was eradicated from this country. Dr. C. Hart Merriam of the department of agriculture has prepared a consensus of reports from many sources containing evidence for and against the sparrow. These reports are 168 in favor of the bird, 837 against and 43 neutral. These reports contain also a list of the native birds that have been more or less molested by the pugnacious little sparrow, and these include the wren, bluebird, martin, kingbird, horned lark, hermit and wood thrushes, mocking bird, purple grackle, meadow lark and many woodpeckers. Steps will be taken to speed the unwelcome guest.—Washington Herald.

BLACK COFFEE RECIPE.

As It Is Used as a Digestant No Cream or Sugar Is Added.

Black or after dinner coffee is usually made exactly like that taken for breakfast, and made by filtering, steaming or boiling, save that double the proportion of the beans is used, two heaping tablespoonfuls of coffee to each cup of water. It should be strong and perfectly clear. Serve in small cups with block sugar.

As after dinner coffee is used as a digestant, neither cream nor milk should be added. There is a growing fancy for making the regular Turkish coffee for the Sunday dessert, but it is extremely "puttery" work, as only small cups are made at a time. The essentials for the Turkish coffee are one of the Turkish coffee mills of brass that grind the bean as fine as powder and one of the tiny Turkish coffeepots that can now be found in any of the house furnishing stores.

To make the coffee in these put a pot containing freshly boiled water on the fire with two or three lumps of sugar. Add two teaspoonfuls of coffee powder to the water, which is just enough for two after dinner cups, stir well and let the pot boil up four times. Between each boil the pot is taken from the stove and tapped gently on the bottom until the froth appears on the top. Then return to the fire until it boils again. It requires very close watching.

After the last boiling pour off the coffee from the sediment, first into one cup, then into another, so as to divide the froth evenly.

Have more boiling water in readiness and repeat the operation until all are served.

TACT IN BUSINESS LIFE.

Never Intrude Your Views Until They Are Asked For.

Tact is a great thing. It should be cultivated by every girl who contemplates entering the business field.

If at first one finds a position not to her liking, she should not leave it in a huff. She may sometimes be glad to use the name of that firm as reference.

Endeavor when possible to merit the good will rather than the ill will of an employer.

The girl entering the business field should strive to make herself valuable in whatever work she is engaged, even if the place is only temporary.

The keynote of success in business is to find out how your employer desires his work done, then to do it as near as possible that way.

Learn first of all not to obtrude your views or ideas unless they are asked for.

If you are a stenographer and find errors in grammar in the dictation which has been given you, correct and rearrange the sentences, but don't be so foolish as to call your employer's attention to his mistakes.

No man likes to be told by a mere slip of a girl that she has changed or corrected a mistake he made here and there in his dictation.

This is a case where silence is indeed golden.

Positions of trust rarely come to those who are content to rest on their oars and wait for something to happen, but rather to those who by constant effort are preparing themselves for something better.

HOUSEHOLD HELPS.

Orange marmalade makes a very tasty accompaniment for boiled ham.

All corks should be washed, thoroughly dried and kept for any future use.

Add grated horse radish to taste to a plain cream sauce and serve with baked fish.

Stew a pound of prunes with pot roast and note the fine flavor imparted to the meat.

Add a teaspoonful of curry powder to the cream sauce in which macaroni is baked.

Take the hook pins out of the heavy curtains when taking them down and thoroughly brush before putting away.

Shabby oak should be brushed over with warm beer and when thoroughly dry polished with beeswax and turpentine.

If in cleaning house one finds grease spots on marble they can be quickly removed by applying powdered magnesia.

Care of Tablecloths.

When not in use a tablecloth should be kept in folded creases and when brought out to be spread should be laid on the table and unfolded its entire length, the width being doubled, with the center crease along the center of the table. Then the half breadth that is folded should be turned back, and the cloth will hang even. Careless servants often gather up a cloth "anyhow," without taking the trouble to fold it up again in its own creases, and thus fresh ones are made. A tablecloth will keep fresh looking as long again if it is always folded up in its own folds and put away until the next meal, says Woman's Life.

The French have a way of making even an inferior quality of table linen look well without the aid of starch. When the napkins are washed and ready to be ironed they are dipped into boiling water and partially wrung out between cloths. They are then rapidly ironed with as hot a flatiron as possible without burning them.

A Kind Word.

Never be niggardly in expressing your gratitude. Cheer your fellow traveler along life's highway with all the pleasant, kindly praise and encouragement that you like to get yourself.

You will reap the reward in many a sweet friendship.

The remedial effects of laughter are really wonderful. Cases have been known where a hearty laugh has banished disease and preserved life by a sudden effort of nature.

Practical Tailoring
Well dressed men will have observed how timid the "Ready-made" mechanic is of putting on the extreme styles in their garments. Why? Because the fashion of to-day is not likely to be the fashion of next season; and so the left-overs, or "the last year's bird's-nests" would remain on their hands.
The advanced fashions in Suits and Overcoats possess several distinctive features this season, such as real and imitative cuffs to the sleeves, which give a pleasing effect and finish. Besides not every man is possessed of a symmetrical figure, and in the event of disproportion, the skilled tailor gets in his practical work.

TRIP ACROSS THE CONTINENT

Enjoyable Entertainment Under Auspices Of Charlotte Street Epworth League, Of An Educational Character

GOOD PROGRAMME ENJOYED

An entertainment unique in its character and pleasant and satisfactory in its results was that given last night under the auspices of the Epworth League of the Charlotte street Methodist church. Entertainment was combined happily with instruction in the evening's programme, which was entitled "A Trip from Halifax to Vancouver." Booths representing the different Provinces of the Dominion were in charge of young ladies, who had posted themselves with respect to the natural characteristics of the particular portion of Canada which they represented, and considerable interesting information was disseminated. Decorations appropriate to the different provinces adorned each booth, at each of which souvenir postal cards were on sale, and for the benefit of those who wished to send them last night a post offfice was established, and mail distributed during the evening.

There was an attendance of about 200, and a thoroughly enjoyable evening was spent. A short, but pleasing programme was given, including a piano solo by Miss Reid, vocal solos by Miss Belleghem and Mr. James Browne, and selections by a male quartette. The chair was occupied by the pastor. The following young ladies were in charge of the booths representing the different Provinces:—Nova Scotia, Miss Sanderson; New Brunswick, Miss Bushnell; Prince Edward Island, Miss Lyle; Quebec, Miss Williams; Ontario, Miss Kate Manning; Manitoba, Miss Huggins; Saskatchewan, Mrs. George; Alberta, Miss Elliott; British Columbia, Miss Collins. Mr. Chas. Harmer filled the onerous duties of Postmaster.

A number of young people from the other churches attended the entertainment.

MACHINE COMPANY BUYS A SITE

For New Building For Central Exchange Office in Lindsay—A Fireproof Structure

The Lindsay Post says:

The Automatic Telephone Co. have purchased the vacant lot adjoining the Post building from the Dohany estate and will proceed at once to put up a building 22 by 70 feet, two stories high, which will be designed so as to be entirely fire proof.

Mr. F. D. MacKay, the company's secretary, was in town yesterday making an inspection of the work already done and in progress, and when here he selected the site for the exchange, and transacted considerable other business of importance. Mr. MacKay has just returned from Winnipeg and remarked that in the course of a couple of years, the Machine 'phone would have the call in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and the new provinces.

It may be news to some that the Automatic Company has a big factory in constant operation in Toronto, wherein is manufactured all the machines and fittings, including a fire alarm system. Mr. MacKay spends much of his time superintending the factory output.

Ninety Per Cent Of The Young Immigrants Prove Satisfactory In Canada

Mr. George Howson, Immigration Agent, Tells of His Work For This Season—150 to 175 New Settlers to This City

HARDSHIPS THIS WINTER

Mr. George Howson, the Dominion Immigration Agent, has handled between 150 and 175 new settlers during this season, the first since his appointment, and he informed the Examiner to-day that the great majority of them had proved satisfactory. The greater number had been placed with farmers, and were, for the most part doing well. It had been his experience that the younger immigrants had given the better satisfaction, those from thirty-five and up to fifty years of age finding difficulty in adapting themselves to the changed conditions encountered in Canada, and they disliked the idea of remaining on the farms, the great majority of them returning to the city after having spent a short time on the farms. Mr. Howson fears that among these there will be hardships this winter, since the prospects are that there will not be sufficient work for them until spring. Many of them have come to Canada with families, and have been unable to earn enough to keep themselves through the winter.

A great many of the younger immigrants ,however, have been sources of pleasure to the immigration agent. They have, for the most part, proved industrious and willing to learn, a quality all too rare among many of those who come here from England, and he believes that among the younger portion of the new comers fully ninety per cent will prove satisfactory and desirable settlers. He referred especially to a number of young men whom he had located on farms on the borders of Otonabee and Douro, and stated that they had proved excellent men, giving satisfaction to their employers and are pleased with the conditions themselves.

Yesterday a family, probably the last that Mr. Howson will receive this year, arrived in the city and was placed by him on a farm. The family includes husband and wife and two children. They came from Lincolnshire.

The result of this year's operations in the Immigration Department, so far as Peterborough is concerned, have been satisfactory, fully eighty per cent of all those brought here making good in their new surroundings, and Mr. Howson believes that the great majority of them will make desirable and creditable citizens.

Mr. P. J. Creedon May Accept A Position In Toronto

Canadian Cutlery Company Which Might Have Been Here To Erect Big Establishment At Weston

HAS CAPITAL OF $125,000

It is stated to-day that Mr. P. J. Creedon, who had been given the management of the works of the Dominion Tool Company, has accepted a position which will necessitate his removal to Toronto. The Canadian Cutlery Company, of Toronto, are now erecting an establishment at Weston, the organization of the company being done by the North America Investment Company, the general manager of which is Mr. W. Young Kinleyside, who is now in the city.

It is understood that Mr. Creedon has been offered the management of the hardware department of the Canadian Cutlery Company and that he either has accepted or will accept the position. As stated above the works of this company are at Weston, the head office being in Toronto.

Mr. Kinleyside was seen at the National in connection with the above mentioned rumour, and, while admitting that the company he represents had change of the organization of the Cutlery Company, declined to give any information to the press regarding the offering of the management to Mr. Creedon.

The company, he said, had been organized with $125,000 capital and in his estimation, the works when completed would work a revolution in connection with the manufacture of cutlery. Scrap iron, which could be purchased at 2 cents per pound is a necessary article. The cost of manufacture, he states, is thereby greatly decreased by not having to pay the customary six or seven cents per pound for iron.

Mr. Kinleyside further informed the Examiner that the investment company had made an offer recently whereby Peterborough had an opportunity to secure the works of the Canadian Cutlery Company for this city.

SOCIALISTS HOLD THEIR FIRST MEETING

Mr. Mance to Address Public Meeting in Near Future

Less than a dozen men of socialistic views assembled at the White House last night, where Mr. A. W. Mance, organizer of the socialistic party in Ontario, addressed them with a view to the formation of a Peterborough branch. Mr. Mance is enthusiastic over the outcome and to the Examiner stated that the nucleus of an organization had been perfected and that in a few weeks he would be back again to lecture at a public meeting on the principles of the party.

A local committee was appointed last night to look after the advertising arrangements and to secure a hall for the lecture. Mr. Mance left this morning for Lindsay, where arrangements have been made for a big public convention and where the organizer will give addresses.

One of the most prominent socialists of the city to-day stated that there were over four hundred men in the city of a socialistic sentiment.

DIRECTORS' PLANS FOR ACTIVE WORK

Important Meeting of Board of Directors Of Y.M.C.A. Was Held Last Night

A meeting of the Board of Directors of the Y.M.C.A. was held last night, when considerable routine business of importance was transacted. The lists were revised, and matters in connection with the recent campaign discussed. Plans for the active resumption of work upon the arrival of the new General Secretary were considered.

A HANDSOME NEW FIRE WAGGON

Turned Out By George Fitzgerald And Company

The equipment of the new firehall has received a notable addition in the shape of a new combination chemical and hose wagon, which was placed in the hall this morning. The vehicle was built by George Fitzgerald & Co., and is a very handsome and useful wagon. It was designed by Mr. H. N. McNeil, and has been constructed on the latest and most approved types, combining the minimum in lightness with the maximum in strength. The body is very substantial, with heavy full panelled frames, the panels being constructed of cyprus wood, boxed into the sill and is very light and strong. The gear is the most approved wagon platform gear used on all the best American fire department wagons. The roller bearings under it will make the action of the front gear very easy. The springs are heavily built on account of the wagon being always standing under a load. The wheels are No. 5 patent wheels, and the best standard of that size.

The wagon is equipped with footboards on each side and at the rear, to carry the firemen and these boards are covered with a good quality of rubber matting, affording a firm footing. There are two tool boxes, one at the rear of the wagon, and the other underneath. The brake is hung from a spring from the body of the wagon. In this way the purchase is multiplied, and there is always a rigid and effective pressure. The. The riser in the front part of the vehicle is made deeper than usual to make room for the chemical tank beneath the seat. Behind this is a footboard with stubs for coiling up the hose from the chemical engine. This does away with the reel, and there is no time lost in coupling. The mounting throughout are of brass, while the wagoon is equipped with a 14 inch gong.

The vehicle is very handsomely painted in two shades of red by Mr. John Gibbs, and his son, A. Gibbs, and is a credit to the painting department of the company. Its handsome appearance is gaining the admiration of all who have seen it.

ST. ANDREW'S LADIES' AID

Music and Drama

CROCKER'S HORSES

Prof. Crocker's equine stars opened last evening an engagement at the Quebec skating rink, which has been transferred into a regular theatre for this most important attraction. On a well-equipped temporary stage, the twenty-five or more horses, ponies, donkeys and mules, which make up Prof. Crocker's clever company of performers, exhibited their many startling qualities as entertainers last evening. Prof. Crocker, however ,needs no introduction to a Quebec audience. With his clever family of equines he has been seen here before, and no one who has enjoyed the really marvellous exhibition given by his highly trained animals should need any urging to again witness one of the most wonderful exhibitions of the remarkable degree to which his horses, ponies and donkies have been trained. The horse show has now become a popular fad with the people of almost every city of any importance in Canada, but it is safe to say no horse show ever supplied more enjoyment and pleasure than Prof. Crocker's animals have done. They are, aside from their individual talents in their different lines, a handsome collection of animals, and a visit simply to see the freedom and ease with which they perform their numerous feats will be found a real pleasure by everyone. The splendid animals reach the acme of perfection of training, and their work is altogether wonderful. They do an endless number of remarkable things, and even appear to be possessed of reasoning powers. The school scene, the pony act, the boxing ponies, the see-saw horses, the bell-ringers, the great four-horse act, the military drill, and the camp scene are only a few of the many wonderful things done by them. A pleasing element of amusing incident is interjected into the performance by the comic mule and donkey, which add to the entertainment quite a lot of its pleasing qualities. Moving pictures are shown in the intervals, and these are of the latest and most enjoyable character. No one should miss seeing Prof. Crocker's horses.—Quebec Telegraph.

"MACBETH"

An announcement of unusual interest is the coming of the famous Ben Greet Players of England, who will present "Macbeth" next Tuesday evening at the Grand Opera House.

This company, noted throughout two continents for their beautiful presentations of Shakspere, comes to Peterborough direct from the big dramatic festival at Massey Hall, Toronto. On Monday evening "The Merchant of Venice" opened the Toronto festival and received universal praise from the press. Here are a few of the appreciations

"The presentation was full of interest, the audience being able to appreciate its intellectual delights without the usual adventitious aid of elaborate scenery."—The Globe.

"Mr. Greet's Company is an excellent one."—The News.

"The crowded house which saw "The Merchant of Venice" last night was pleased with Ben Greet."—The Star.

Mr. Greet is to be congratulated on his choice of a Portia. It is hard to remember, even in the halcyon days of Miss Terry, an actress who would eclipse the interpretation of Miss Irene Rooke."—The Telegram.

"It is sufficient to say in Ben Greet last night this part (Shylock), formed one of the best expositions deep art has seen in this city."—The World.

Mr. Greet will present the great tragedy 'Macbeth' in its entirety at the Grand. No doubt every literary man and woman in the community will rejoice at this opportunity.

A THANKSGIVING "BEE" TO FIX CHURCH

Members of Park Street Baptist Church Will do Some Necessary Work To-morrow

At the meeting of the Building Committee of the Park street Baptist church last night, among other important business the treasurer reported forty dollars to be added to the harvest home thanksgiving, making the total $400—with more to come. The committee are much encouraged to report progress.

A "bee" has been arranged to gather at the church on Thanksgiving Day for general fixing up around the church. It was decided to ask the council to place a walk or bridge across the ditch to make the approach to the church easier for worshippers and prevent trespassing on the adjoining property.

New specifications are being prepared and tenders will be asked for in the near future.

The Ladies Aid of the Park street Baptist church met at the home of Mrs. T. G. Gillespie, Lock street, on Tuesday afternoon. There was a very fair attendance and from the subjects discussed a busy season is evidently before these busy workers.

FOUR CHARGES NOW PREFERRED

James Murray of Toronto Entangled in Network of Serious Charges—In Court To-day

TO BE TRIED NEXT SPRING

James Murray appeared at the police court this morning after his week's remand and now has four charges to answer.

The first is that of vagrancy.

The second is that he carried a concealed weapon contrary to the law.

To these two charges he pleaded guilty last Wednesday, but to-day when he heard other offenses being enumerated he was seemingly sorry for his hasty answer of last week and wanted to withdraw it and plead not guilty. However he failed in this and will be remanded after the spring assizes, when two indictable offences will come before a jury.

New Charges

Mr. R. E. Wood, Crown Attorney, looked after the prosecution to-day. The prisoner was alone in the dock, with the same careless appearance. He said very little at first, but warmed up when he was given a chance to question Officer Newhall.

The first charge perferred against him was that he had attempted to discharge a loaded revolver at this officer.

"On this charge" said his Worship, "you have to elect how you will be tried, by me or by a jury."

"By a jury" was the prisoner's sudden reply.

Mr. Wood then said he would draw up a charge of having resisted arrest. "If I fail on one I will succeed on the other. We might as well have two strings to our bow."

A charge of peddling without a proper license may also be laid at Murray's door, and as a result of his fracas with Officer Newhall he is hemmed in on every side and has truly brought himself all kinds of trouble. He pleaded not guilty to both the new charges and will have to wait about six months until the spring assizes.

The Evidence

P. C. Newhall's evidence was almost the same as that given in the first account of the affair. However, Jas. Hawthorne, night watchman at the Oriental hotel, testified that he witnessed the encounter until one man tore away leaving part of his coat. Witness gave chase but the man got away and when he returned P. C. Newhall was taking Murray away.

The prisoner asked the officer why he did not tell what he had done to him in the waiting room and the officer replied—

"I treated you just as you deserved. You struggled violently and had to be treated in the same way. A traveller who saw you said that if he had the handling of you he would kick your head off."

His Worship committed Murray for trial and refused bail. The prisoner will therefore have to spend the winter in the county goal.

Kidney Disease For Twenty Years

Miss Caswell Reid, Orrville, Muskoka, writes, "For twenty years I was troubled with kidney disease, and have recently been completely cured by using three boxes of Dr. Chase's Kidney Liver Pills. I had tried many remedies but nothing seemed to do me very much good until I used this splendid family remedy."

HOUND WAS KILLED BY HANGING

A Dog Murdered by a Too Short Tie Beneath Waggon—Owner Did Not Know It

In this case the tie that bound was fatal. This morning a man and boy driving south on Aylmer street had two hounds tied to the axle of their vehicle. While passing Downham's Creamery, one of the hounds fell, and was draggged along, the rope being too short to permit him to recover himself. A passing citizen shouted to the driver, but when he stopped and picked up the dog, it was found to be dead.

Tully's Hair Tonic

and DANDRUFF CURE makes the hair grow July 24th, 1907

About the month of September, 1906, my hair began to come out in large spots, leaving the scalp perfectly bare on the right side of the head, also my beard on the left side. About the 15th of December I showed it to J. D. Tully, Druggist; he said that he had a preparation that would restore the hair. I could scarcely credit his statement, but decided to try it, and in three weeks using the hair commenced to grow. Since that time I have lost nearly all my old hair which has been entirely replaced with new hair, and the beard also. I consider this by all means the best hair grower on the market, as I had previously tried other preparations without any effect. Any one wishing to ask me about it will find me at my home, 265 McDonnel Street, Peterborough, or at R. R. Crossing, G.T.R., Charlotte St.

ILLUSTRATED LECTURE ON "ITALY"

Mr. J. W. Bennet Delights Large Audience by Description of his Trip

Mr. J. W. Bennet gave a most interesting and instructive account of his trip through Italy last evening in Knox church to a large and appreciative audience. The chair was taken at 8 o'clock and Miss Choate of the Conservatory of Music pleased her hearers by a violin solo, from Ten Have entitled L'Allegro.

Mr. Bennet being introduced, expressed his keen enjoyment of the trip he had taken as one of a large party. The tour lay through Scotland and England, through Holland to the Rhine—over the mountains of Switzerland touching Interlaken and Lucerne and through St. Gothard Tunnel to Italy. Milan was the first city illustrated and the beautiful cathedral of Milan was shown. Passing to Venice Mr. Bennet pointed out the striking and most interesting features of the Ducal Palace and St. Marks. The famous Campo Santo of Genoa and the statue of Columbus in that city were also exhibited. Passing through Pisa the lecturer passed on to Rome, and gave most interesting details of the Pantheon St. Peters, the Colosseum and the Catacombs, showing different pictures in these wonderful structures.

The audience was also favoured by a solo "The Queen of the Earth" by Mr. D. Campbell. The piano solo by Miss Sisson and the vocal solo by Miss Dawson, "The Little Irish Girl" and its encore "the Slumberboat" were warmly appreciated.

INSURANCE MEN AT BANQUET

They Listen to Interesting Addresses at Lindsay From Prominent Members Of The Profession

THE NEXT MEETING HERE

An Important and enthusiastic meeting of the Life Underwriters' Association, was held in Lindsay last night. This association comprises the counties of Peterborough, Durahm, Northumberland, Victoria and Ontario, with head office at Peterborough. The objects are to promote good will, harmony and co-operation amongst the agents of all the life insurance companies doing business in the district, and to devise and give effect to measures for the protection of their common interests.

In article 17 a of their constitution is found the following. "If the conduct of any member shall in the opinion of the Board of Management be injurious to the character and interests of the association he shall be subject to expulsion by ballot."

It will be seen that the association has the desire to raise the standard of life insurance men in a moral way in addition to helping financially through organization.

The meeting in Lindsay was held in the spacious dining room of the Royal Hotel and representatives were present from Toronto, Uxbridge, Orillia, Millbrook and Peterborough. The Peterborough members were H. P. Lindsay, president; W F Nelson, secretary-treasurer, and S E Sells, chairman of social committee. The members, after completing the routine business, retired to the dinning hall and partook of a sumptuous repast, after which toasts were proposed and responded to by W. S. Milne, General Secretary of Canadian Association; Mr. Fox, member for Victoria, in the Provincial Parliament; Mr. F C. Taylor and several others.

The association was further strengthened by the addition of several new members from Lindsay insurance men. The Association is rapidly growing and stands a good chance of gaining the prize offered for largest increase in membership to be given next year at the Dominion gathering to be held in the City of Quebec. The next regular meeting will be held in Peterborough on 3rd Monday in November.

District Manager Of Canada Life To Reside In Peterborough

Mr. S. E. Sells, Late Of Toronto Has Handsome Offices on George Street—Will be Agent Here

ABOUT THE COMPANY

The District Manager, a Prominent Insurance Man—Has Had Many Appointments

Mr. S. E. Sells, until recently District Manager of the Canada Life Assurance Company for the Midland District, has come to Peterborough to reside and to act as the local agent of the company in addition to being the District Manager. Mr. Sells is a man prominent in life insurance circles having been connected with the Canada Life since the year 1891. He is by no means a stranger to Peterborough as he spent a considerable portion of the past 6 years in the city directing the affairs of the company. It is only, however, during the past few weeks that he has moved here with his family and has taken up residence at 21 Scott street until recently occupied by Mr. D. Hughes Charles.

As mentioned above Mr. Sells entered the insurance arena in 1891 as agent in Toronto. His career as such was so successful that on the following year he was appointed to the Ontario County District as general agent which territory was enlarged from time to time. For a period of 6 or more years he was manager of the Midland District which included the territory east of Toronto as far east as to include Peterborough and Durham counties.

Mr. Sells latest appointment in insurance circles is agent at Peterborough in addition to being manager of this district with his headquarters at 435 George street and his son Mr. E. Guy Sells has been appointed cashier at the Peterborough office also.

Mr. S. E. Sells, Agent at Peterboro and Manager Midland District, Canada Life Assurance Company

A Handsome Office

The office of the Canada Life Assurance Company is one with a history. It is situated at 435 George street in the spot formerly occupied by the Crown Timber Agent and prior to that by the representatives of the old Midland Railway Company in years gone by.

The office now, of course, is of a very different appearance from that time. It is handsomely finished with plate glass, quarter cut oak furniture and is well lighted with electricity.

The central portion of the accompanying cut of the office shows the main business department. The office to the right is the private office of the district manager, Mr. Sells and the office to the left that of the cashier. The cut at the top of the picture represents the apartment intended for the use of the Peterborough manager.

About the Company

The Canada Life Assurance Company is the oldest and largest of Canadian Companies being established in 1847 and having insurance in force at the end of 1906 of over $112,000,000 and with assets of upwards of $32,000,000. The company confines its territory to Canada, a few of the Northern States and Great Britain—the territory where the mortality is probably the very lowest in the world.

It is almost unnecessary to say that Hon. Senator Cox is the president of the Canada Life, and Mr. E. W. Cox is vice-president and general manager. The secretary is Mr. R. Hills, who has acted in that capacity for upwards of 40 years, Mr. W. T. Ramsay, son of Mr. A G Ramsay, being the company's superintendent.

Special information as to the company may be obtained in the general advertising columns of the Examiner from time to time.

Miss Florrie Moynes, Fenelon Falls, is the guest of Miss Lottie Chiles, 226 Perry street.

Special Train To Run To Lindsay To-morrow

Will Leave G.T.R. Station at 1.45 O'Clock Arriving in Lindsay in Time For The Game—Return Fare is 70 Cents

WILL BE A GREAT BATTLE

By a special effort on the part of Mr. W. Burton the G.T.R. city-ticket agent, a special train will be run to Lindsay to-morrow afternoon by the Grand Trunk in connection with the big rugby game between the Vics and Peterboroughs. The train was put on at the request of the Rugby Club for the benefit of the many local people who want to see the game and yet wish to have their Thanksgiving dinner at home. Mr. Burton had to go to a great deal of trouble in getting the train, on account of the scarcity of cars because of the holiday rush and he deserves a great deal of credit for the interest he has taken in the matter.

A special train will leave the G.T.R. station at 1.45 o'clock, arriving in Lindsay in time for the game. The usual holiday rate will prevail and no doubt a very large crowd will take in the game which will be the greatest ever seen in this district. Both teams are in superb condition and both will be strengthened for to morrow with the result that an even harder battle than that of last Saturday should be seen. The Vics will be accompanied by about seventy rooters and excitement throughout the contest will be intense.

The game will be played on the Agricultural grounds, Lindsay, which are in good shape. There is a big grand stand for the accommodation of spectators, so that the crowds will not encroach on the field as in Toronto.

"Your friend, Mrs. ——— is looking very much improved in health." "Yes," replied the lady, "we persuaded her to try Miller's Compound Iron Pills, with the result you observe." Sold by W. Madill.

A HOCKEY TEAM FROM NORWOOD

Are Anxious to Gain Admission to City Hockey League

The City Hockey League is attracting considerable interest in the city this year and a most successful season is expected. One of Norwood's prominent sporting enthusiasts is authority for the statement that the eastern village is anxious to place a team in the league and will apply for admission. He stated that the Norwood club is willing to pay their expenses and will have a team representing the village that should make things interesting in the City League if they are successful in making the necessary arrangements with the officers and other clubs. Norwood has revived the old love for the game and as a result of last years games wants to branch out and into a wider field where more games can be secured. The line up mentioned includes most of last years players with one or two new ones and the team should give a good account of itself in the City League.

VICS TEAM WILL BE STRONG

Getting Ready For To-morrow's Big Game With Peterborough

The O. R. F. U. sub-committee yesterday decided upon Lindsay as the ground upon which Peterboroughs and Toronto Victorias would break their tie in the senior O. R. F. U. Western district. The game will be played on Thanksgiving Day, and both teams will run excursions. Victorias expect to take fifty or sixty loyal supporters down. The Vics are feeling quite cockey over Saturday's victory. The players will turn out to-night at 7.30 at Jesse Ketchum Park for a work-out. Minns, the Vics' left outside wing, and Scotty McWhirter, the half-back, will both be back into the game, and "Rube" Cotton and Wilf Stollery may don suits again to strengthen the Vics' weak back division. The winner of this game Thursday plays the winner of the Kingston-Westmount game on Saturday for the O. R. F. U. senior championship and the privilege of meeting the inter-collegiate champions for the championship of Canada. The placing of the inter-Provincial senior teams under the C. A. A. U. ban bars them from the competition for senior honours.

The two Victoria practices prior to the Peterborough game were attended by six and eight men respectively, and of those who turned out only four were on the team that won Saturday. If the Vics would only get enough ante-game enthusiasm in them to turn out faithfully to practise they would be dangerous factors. They have a grand wing line but are weak behind. President Hamilton says now that Argos are out of the fray for the city championship, he will challenge Varsity on behalf of the Victorias.—Toronto Star.

OUR NATIONAL DANGER

Time To Cry a Halt Before a Panic Comes

The business spirit is crushing out the sweeter element of home life. We are in danger of a great commercial decline, because men, as a whole, think only of getting wealth.

There are thousands, both men and women, who do not take time to eat properly. They rush through life, and as a result we have an age of indigestion, nervousness, irritability, sleepless nights and morose disposition.

With the discovery of Mi-o-na tablets, there is no longer any excuse for one to have ill health from stomach weakness.

Mi-o-na strengthens the walls of the stomach, stimulates secretion of the digestive juices, regulates the liver and restores muscular contraction to the intestines and bowels, so no laxative is needed.

Sick headaches, palpitation, bad taste in the mouth, yellow skin, irritability, coated tongue and melancholy are a few of the many distressing results of indigestion. Mi-o-na never fails to dispell all these troubles.

Mr. Madill sells Mi-o-na in 50-cent boxes, and guarantees to refund the money if the remedy does not give complete satisfaction.

WEDDING BELLS.

McCANNON-BULLER

At eleven o'clock this morning, in the presence of witnesses a quiet wedding was solemnized in the rectory of All Saints' Church, the Rev. Mr. Major officiating. The contracting parties were Miss Lydia May Bullen, daughter of Mr. Wm. Bullen, of Bethune street, and Mr. Herbert Jesson McCannon, son of the late Mr. Benjamin McCannon, of this city. The bride, who was given away by her father wore a charming suit of navy blue cloth with hat to match.

Mrs. McCannon for a number of years has been a most active worker in All Saints' church and in a most efficient way has presided at the organ. Her retirement from that post is keenly regretted by the officers and members of the church.

Mr. McCannon is not only popular among the young men of Peterborough, but has been winning a name for himself as a contractor and during the last few years has erected a number of very fine residences on Reid street.

Both Mr. and Mrs. McCannon have won for themselves a large circle of friends. Many beautiful presents attest the esteem in which they are held.

They start out in life together followed by a host of good wishes and congratulations. They left on the 11.45 train this morning for Toronto and other cities. On their return they will reside at 200 Reid street.

Spoiled the Encore.

The nobility and gentry of Little Plowboro were recently gathered in the village schoolroom to enjoy some tableaux vivants by local performers, says Pearson's Weekly.

The curtain had just fallen on a really creditable picture of the death of Nelson, shown to slow music, when one man, who was known to be a friend of the gentleman representing the greatest naval hero, rose and tried to make his way toward the stage.

"Keep your seats, please," said the stage manager. "We're much obliged for your kind applause, ladies and gentlemen, and we're going to give you the death of Nelson over again."

"Oh, are yer?" came from the hero's friend. "Then if you'll tell Nelson 'is kitchen chimney's afire p'raps 'e won't die so blessed lingerin'."

He Settled It.

An amusing story is told at Stratford-on-Avon. In the smoking room of a hotel there an Englishman and a Scotchman engaged in a heated argument. John Bull was declaring William Shakespeare to be the only poet of the world, and Donald McPherson was standing up for his Robert Burns. Words ran high and blows seemed imminent when a self confident little commercial traveler determined to throw oil on the troubled waters.

"Gentlemen," he said, stepping between the heated disputants, "let me settle this amicably. Who is this Shakespeare-Burns?"—London Telegraph.

Crowded Out.

"I am thirty-five years old," announced a woman of fifty-six at a tea last week.

"And I am twenty-six," said the woman of forty-five. Then, turning to a girl of seventeen who stood near by, she asked, "How old are you, Ethel?"

"Oh," replied Ethel, "according to present reckoning, I'm not born yet!"

"The Smallpox Devil."

The natives of the west coast of Sumatra object to being vaccinated. They still make offerings to the smallpox devil. The heart and liver of fowls and buffaloes are mixed with yellow rice and other ingredients, placed in the model of a full rigged ship, carried in procession and finally launched into the sea.—Singapore Free Press.

Skrappy—When I married you I had no idea you were such a fool. Mrs. Skrappy—The very fact of my consenting to be your wife should have removed any doubts you had on that point.—Illustrated Bits.

With a Little Help.

"Your customs are enough to make any civilized man boil!" exclaimed the missionary indignantly.

"With the help of a little dry wood," assented the cannibals gravely.—Puck.

THE VENEER CUTTER.

A Machine That Slices Wood as Thin as Shavings.

"The veneer cutter is one of the wonders of modern times," says a furniture man. "People who have never seen it work have not the faintest idea what it can do. Of course it is one result of the scarcity and high price of valuable timber, for if mahogany, rosewood, ebony and curled maple were as cheap as yellow pine there would be no need for a veneering machine, but the high prices of these woods compelled economy. The furniture makers were obliged to use them with parsimony; hence the inventions of the veneer cutter.

"A saw cutter will cut twenty-five or thirty slices of veneer from an inch of wood, and most people would think that this is a tolerably economical use even of rosewood. But the knife cutter shaves off the wood in a slice so thin that from 125 to 150 veneers to the inch can be cut, and still every one of these shavings preserves the color and shows the texture of the original wood, and so smoothly is the cutting done that very often no polishing is necessary. The cheapness with which the work is done may be appreciated by the fact that cigar boxes once used, then given away or made into kindling, are often manufactured of poplar or some other cheap wood and veneered with cedar simply because a box that looks like cedar is preferred by the dealers."

A LAKE OF FIRE.

Marvelous Phosphorescence of a Fish Pond in the Bahamas.

The lake of Waterloo is a phosphorescent sheet of water a thousand feet long near Nassau, in the Bahamas. At night it is like a sheet of living fire if any wind is stirring to ruffle its surface.

If the night be calm, says the Rosary Magazine, the water lies dark and still until some object sets it in motion. Little colored boys are ready to swim out into the lake, where they seem to be clothed in garments of flame, leaving a long train of molten splendor behind them.

The oars when rowing are as when dipped in fire, and if one holds up a handful of the water and lets it fall it looks like beads of gold, and the fish that dart here and there, startled by the visitors, leave flashes of mystic glowing splendor behind them. The clumsy turtles that move about look like balls of fire, and when it rains the lake is like a mass of jewels. This marvelous display of phosphorescence has never been accounted for, as the lake is of artificial formation, having been made for the breeding of turtles by a Nassau resident.

The bed of the lake is cut out of solid limestone, and it is filled from the sea, in which there is little of the phosphorescent quality.

"I say your brother is with an opera company now?"

"Yes, ma'am."

"Has he a strong part?"

"Yes, ma'am. Why, he's one of the fellers that hit the anvil in the anvil chorus."

Fatal Honors.

Jimson—What became of that man who had twenty-seven medals for saving people from drowning? Dock Worker—He fell in one day when he had them all on, and the weight of 'em sank him.

GOOD NATURE.

It Is a Very Valuable Asset in This Vale of Tears.

Good nature is one of the best gifts a woman can have. A good natured woman is always welcome, even when she is rather slow witted, and a woman of the opposite class is to be dreaded and shunned, because whatever brightness she possesses is of the personal and cutting kind. Many a woman brilliant and entertaining is feared quite as much as she is admired because even her closest friends are not safe from her wit and satire.

Many a social engagement is broken on account of such women. Good nature, like other desirable attributes, can be cultivated. One can be educated to accept little annoyances with complacency.

The victory over one disagreeable thing gives strength to meet the next two, and when the philosophy that teaches one to remedy ills when a remedy is possible and accept the incurable ones with fortitude and good nature is learned life is comparatively smooth.

Do you sometimes wonder at the unnecessary annoyance human beings court? The woman who has been carried beyond her destination by the carelessness of a car conductor gains nothing by rebuking him. He may not be rude enough to answer her, but he and the other passengers will find visible amusement in her wrath, and she loses in dignity and self respect.

Fault finding does no good, and the best disciplinarians never indulge in it. They find the best remedy for mistakes others make for them and say as little as possible on the matter.

The parents who say the least are the most respected. Men are given to few words, so fathers are regarded with respect and awe by the average child.

Good nature that can be depended upon at every turn is hardly a desirable attribute, but it is not sufficiently common to be a matter of great solicitude. Few of us are tolerant of the acts and speech of others, as tolerant as we should be. When we have the ability to put ourselves in the place of those who annoy us we can call up a supply of good nature that will tide over any feeling of annoyance and allow us to dismiss the matter as trivial.

Protoplasm.

Protoplasm is a living, transparent, viscid substance of proteid character, containing 70 per cent of water. It coagulates with heat at 130 degrees and dies when the body is raised to this temperature. As only dead protoplasm can be subjected to chemical analysis it is difficult to determine its chemical nature. Its nearest allied to be found in the albuminoids, of which the white of an egg is a good example. Of the real nature of protoplasm there is, of course, absolutely nothing known.

The Scholar.

Dr. Evans, a witty member of the parliament at Melbourne, was an old man, and the other members jokingly spoke of him as belonging to the era of Queen Anne.

Once, while making a speech, he referred to Queen Anne and was greeted with cries of "Did you know her?" "What was she like?"

"Yes, sir," retorted the doctor, "I did know her. The scholar is contemporary with all time."

SPECIAL REPORT ON A COUNTY BRIDGE

Read at Recent Session of The County Council By Councillor Brown

At the recent session of the county council, the following report of the special committee appointed to deal with the Wallace Point bridge, was read by Councillor Brown:

I beg to report that in company with Mr. Fife, Reeve of Otonabee and representatives of Durham and Northumberland, we inspected the Wallace Point bridge. One of the piers had sunk to the extent of six inches and we agreed it was advisable to engage a contractor to raise up the bridge and place six inches of oak underneath. I may say we found the contract let by Mr. Fife to Mr. Kelly of Durham county, of refloorling the above bridge to have been done in a satisfactory manner, and of good material.

Signed,

JOHN BROWN,

The report was adopted, and Councillors Brown and Fife were authorized to make any further repairs they may think necessary.

He has met a number of the teachers and members of the Board, and his reception has been most cordial, and he anticipates a pleasant sojourn in Peterborough.

Next Friday night the teachers of the city will hold a social re-union, and at that function the new Inspector will have an opportunity of meeting in a social way the members of the teaching staffs of the city.

OFFICERS OF BIG DIPPER COMPANY

Elected at Annual Meeting on Wednesday —Report an Excellent Future

MR. WALDRON, SECRETARY

The Big Dipper Mining Company held its annual meeting on Wednesday afternoon when the business of the year was resumed, new officers elected, and plans for the future made. The president of the company for the ensuing year is Mr. H. W. Eaton of Bolivar, N.Y., the Democratic nominee for member of the Assembly for the county of Alleghanyy. He is confident of the success of the Big Dipper Mining Company, and in his estimation the territory of the company down east surpasses that of the much-talked-of Cobalt.

In referring to the plans of the company, Mr. Eaton stated that they have organized a reserve fund for the future development of the work at the mine, and also appointed committees to negotiate for a large milling plant to go up on the property in the near future. The property is in fine shape, the stock has advanced ten per cent. recently and it is selling well.

From now on Mr. Eaton stated that the work on the property will be pushed forward with all possible vigour to get it arranged on a paying basis.

The following officers were elected at the annual meeting:

President—Mr. H. W. Eaton, Bolivar, N. Y.

Vice-Pres.—Mr. A. G. Thum, Buffalo, N. Y.

Sec.-Treas.—Mr. J. S. Waldron, Peterborough.

Manager—Mr. J. A. Jamieson, Cloyne, Ont.

Directors—Messrs. Jno. G. Herb, Buffalo; Jno. Baker, Belmont, N.Y.; E. P. Huntington, Shinglehouse, Pa.; Frank Hepp, Buffalo; Jno. M. Fletcher, New York, and the officers.

EXCELLENT PICTURES OF THE RACE

Roy Studio Made Number of Splendid Views of the Examiner Road Race Yesterday

The R. M. Roy studio has a complete set of souvenir post-cards of the Examiner road race yesterday, and they constitute an interesting memento of the event. It will be recognized that with the crowds—it is estimated that there were 5,000 persons between the Examiner office and Murray street—it was almost a physical impossibility to take a picture of any kind, and in view of this fact the success of Mr. Roy is all the more remarkable. The exposures were made in one-one thousandth part of a second. There is now on view at the studio a complete set of views, including the winners in the different events.

METHODISTS' ANNUAL DINNER

Successful Thanksgiving Day Event Under Auspices of George Street Church

The annual Thanksgiving dinner, given by the ladies of the George street Methodist church in the Sunday school room yesterday evening, was one of the few social events of the day, and was a success in every particular. From 5 o'clock until 8 o'clock, the tables were the centre of attraction, and justly so, for the abundance and quality of the good things with which they were laden.

After the supper a musical programme was presented, and was presided over by Rev. E. A. Pearson. The opening exercises were conducted by Rev. H. M. Manning.

The programme was as follows—
Instrumental, Mr. McCann.

EAT WHAT YOU WANT

Science Has Now The True Way to Cure Indigestion

A few years ago, when a sufferer from indigestion went to a stomach specialist, the result was a rigid diet list that almost meant starvation.

But the first thing to do in the case of indigestion or stomach weakness is to strengthen the muscular walls of the stomach and intestines, so that they will care for the food that is eaten. In no other way can this be done as well as by taking a Mi-o-na tablet before each meal. This restores strength to the stomach muscles and stimulates the pouring out of gastric juices, so that the food is digested readily and its nourishment retained in the system to build up energy and vitality.

Do not think the sick headache, heartburn, bad taste in the mouth, coated tongue, spots before the eyes, sleeplessness and the many other symptoms that are the direct result of indigestion will go away of themselves. The stomach must be built up and strengthened by Mi-o-na before you can be well and strong, free from suffering and distress.

The guarantee that W. Madill gives with every 50-cent box of Mi-o-na, to refund the money unless the remedy cures, shows his confidence in the treatment.

The Reason Why

Zutoo

Is Used by Thousands.

It would probably surprise you to know how many thousands of people are using Zutoo Tablets who had never before used a headache cure.

This is due to three facts.
They tried the tablets.
The tablets cured their headache.
The tablets did not hurt them.

Like sensible people, they do not suffer from headache any more. They either let Zutoo ward off the headache—nip it in the bud—or assist nature in stopping it.

Which do you do? Do you suffer from headache or do you take Zutoo?

DAINTY RIBBON KITS.

Novel Offering Is a Miniature Fish Basket.

HINTS FOR XMAS PRESENTS.

Silver Bodkins In Sets With Scissors to Match Are Used In the Kits or Make Pretty Independent Gifts—A Case For Wash Ribbons.

One of the novel offerings in the line of lingerie ribbon kits is a miniature fish basket made of fine wicker and shaped exactly like the spacious receptacle for trout and pickerel. The ribbon basket is just large enough to hold two or three spools of baby ribbon. The cover lifts back, and the inside is padded with silk to match the basket lining. Thrust through a ribbon strap crossing the center of the cover lining are three silver bodkins made in the shape of fish, the heads forming the point and the tails being slit crosswise to admit the various widths of lingerie ribbon.

Flat silver bodkins in sets of four can be bought on fancy silk covered cards, and in the jewelry shops they are sold in leather cases. Some of them have tiny scissors to match. The bodkins range in size from the round one designed to go through the eyelets at the top of a chemise or nightgown to the broad flat one an inch across the opening. If wider ribbon than this is used, as is sometimes seen in fancy muslin petticoats, then a bodkin has to be made to order or else the ribbon must be folded. It is much better to have the bodkin eye the exact size of the width of the ribbon to prevent folding or twisting. That is why the set of four is necessary to any complete ribbon outfit.

These bodkins are plain or engraved with an all over design. It is smart to have one's initials or monogram cut on each one if the bodkins are plain. In selecting a set it is advisable to bear in mind the fact that any decoration or engraving that presents a rough surface is most unsatisfactory. Some of the etched silver bodkins in French gray are odd and pretty.

A pretty case for the wash ribbons is made of a wide piece of flowered ribbon. This is doubled to form a long pocket, through which different sized divisions are made by sewing down from the top of the pocket part to the bottom. Cards to fit each division are wound with ribbons and slipped into their cases. A silk or ribbon bag large enough to hold all the lingerie paraphernalia will add to the convenience of the worker.

A very roomy one is made with a square bottom, having a bag for each of the four sides and all drawn together near the top with a narrow ribbon. While plain silks and ribbons are dainty, the flowered ones are more effective and go better with the wash ribbons used in the lingerie. Even in these trifles a color harmony is observed. For instance, the woman who prefers all white lingerie ribbons has her "kit" made of white ribbon, with pink or yellow flowers in very delicate designs. For the violet devotee cases and bags are made of lilac or violet flowered ribbons, and the pink and blue sets have grounds of the lingerie trimming color, with designs or flowers in contrasting hues.

Russian Food Markets.

There are many curious things sold in the Russian markets, and one can buy eels and snakes and chicken legs. Lambs' feet are sold as a great dainty, and calves' feet are bought for soup.

SCHOOL LUNCHES.

See That the Basket Contains a Tempting, Nourishing Repast.

School days are here again, and as the children start back to study the problem of their lunches unpleasantly confronts many a mother.

In many cases it is almost impossible for the little one to return home for a warm midday meal, and so a lunch must be prepared five mornings each week for at least nine months of the year.

What to put in these baskets distracts most mothers, so they fall back on the unwise expedient of putting up the same thing day after day until the child, sickened by the monotony, either loses its appetite or spends the weekly allowance on cheap sweets and cakes.

In many of the big schools of late there is a place where the scholars may buy nourishing broths, a glass of milk, sandwiches and other inviting and healthful food at a nominal cost. In such cases it will be found much easier as well as fully as cheap to set aside a stated sum each week for the school lunches.

True, the little ones may buy ice cream instead of soup and cake or pie in preference to sandwiches, but this may easily be regulated by parental injunction or even by a few words to the keeper of the refreshments asking her not to sell certain foods to a special child without a note from the mother.

Do not, however, omit to give the small boy or girl permission to indulge in sweets or ice cream at least once a week, as it is a positive grief to children not to be able to eat the things their schoolmates are enjoying.

Where there is not this lunch sold the mother should make it a point to see that the basket is filled with a tempting and well nourishing lunch. It should be also varied.

CLEANING MOIRE BELTS.

Scrub With Nailbrush Dipped In White Soapsuds.

The moire belting in white and light colors which is so much worn just now is not very serviceable if, as many women think it must be, it is thrown away as soon as it is soiled.

No one wants to pay 50 cents a yard for a belt that can be used but a few times. So many girls wear dark belts that break the lines of their figure or use leather or daffia instead, though neither is as pretty nor so fashionable as the white or light tints.

This belting may be so easily cleaned that economy in this respect is scarcely necessary.

After your belt, whether white or colored, has become too soiled for use even by turning, spread it out on a flat marble slab or the top of the stationary washstand and scrub it carefully with a firm nailbrush dipped in a strong white soapsuds. Treat both sides in this way; then, holding the ends very taut, run it under the cold water spigot until every particle of soap is removed.

Dry between a thick clean towel until very little dampness remains and then put on the sides of a porcelain bathtub, patting it well to exclude the air and make absolutely smooth. This prevents the danger of the crinkled look that often results if the belt is just hung up to dry over the back of a chair.

If carefully done these belts may be washed in this way four or five times, greatly prolonging their usefulness.

NEEDLEWORK NOTES.

For pressing all dark materials it is well to keep a cotton cover for that purpose alone, as colored materials are apt to stain.

A lovely skirt is made entirely of white pompadour ribbon about six inches wide. The skirt portion is inset with lace insertion eight inches wide. The circular skirt ruffle is made of the ribbon, lace and very fine nainsook tucks. The skirt is a foundation for a very plain dress of sheer white nainsook.

Huckaback toweling is used now for working Biedermier designs. The cross stitch is used instead of the solid embroidery stitch, yet often the work is done by overlapping each little square with colored floss. Toweling when so worked is nice for stand covers, dresser scarfs and cushions.

Just exactly the shape of a baking powder box are the new powder puff bags. The little affairs are cut from any colored kid and lined with soft colored silk. The bags are notched around the top and tied with little colored cords and tassels, a loop being made in the cord, which does not make it difficult to close or open the bag.

Your Second Best.

It is sad that so many of us are content with our second best. We are always going to do better. We have vague ideas as to the great things we will do, but that is as far as we get.

Before you go to bed tonight think over your day. If you had it to live over again, would you spend it just as you have done?

Most of us would not. Well, we will have tomorrow.

No matter how well you do anything, try to do it better. Don't be satisfied with anything but the very best that you are capable of.

Remember that this is your chance. Don't lose your golden opportunity.

For an Aching Head.

Often an aching head may be quickly relieved by bathing the face and back of the neck with perfumed water as hot as you can stand it. Let hot cloths saturated with a strong cologne water be placed to the forehead and back of the ears.

Murders.

Only 20 per cent of the murders committed yearly in America and Europe are ever found out.

AWKWARD WALKING.

American Women Appear Ungraceful on the Street.

"The American woman is the most awkward of walkers," said a man who recently arrived in this country from a trip around the world. "I was struck with this fact as soon as I landed in New York. It is the exception that one sees a graceful appearing woman on the street. It is not because they wear high heeled shoes, for women in other countries wear them and yet walk gracefully. As for the American women, they are exceedingly awkward on the street. I have seen women with pretty faces and neat figures who spoil their looks, in my eyes, by strutting along as though pursued by a demon. Women should remember that all is not gained when they look well standing still. They must also look well when on the move, else much is lost."

Of course, being a woman, I accused this man of being unfair and asserted that the majority of women walk gracefully. But the next time I went out I looked at them through the medium of his complaint.

In the first place, I found myself chafing at what seemed to me to be the snail-like pace of three women who were walking in front of me on the street and whom I found it difficult to pass.

"Slow pokes," said I to myself. "They act as if there was nothing doing in the whole world." Then at that moment I caught sight of myself in a long mirror in the entrance of a store and laughed at the spectacle that I was making. Had a snapshot been taken of me at that moment the man who had criticised the walk of American women would have needed no further evidence to prove his statements.

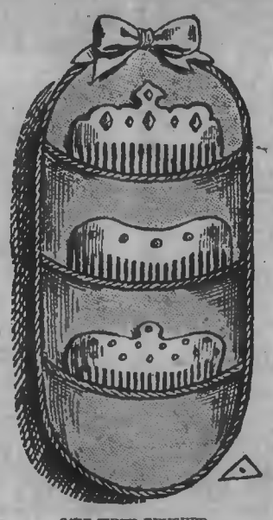
"It is because we hurry so," said I as I dropped back into a comfortable gait. What a feeling of relief came over me as I did so. Muscles relaxed, wrinkles I felt sure were disappearing, and I was filled with the conviction that I was presenting a more agreeable appearance than before.

Yet I was not walking slowly. I watched my sister shoppers rushing along the sidewalk, with each step hitting the pavement with a force that must have jarred them from head to foot, getting red in the face and short of breath, many of them swinging their arms back and forth with ridiculous freedom. They all looked energetic, but attractive? Hardly. Any number would have been very attractive sitting in an easy chair, but when walking the charm was dissipated.

CASE FOR SIDE COMBS.

Made of Silk or Linen and Has Three Pockets.

There is one disadvantage about the wearing of those pretty sets of hair combs which are now so fashionable. If left out upon the dressing table they are very easily mislaid and broken, a serious matter when they happen to be made in real tortoise shell. In our illustration a suggestion is given for a useful case which might hang at some convenient spot, either close at hand to the toilet table or with a longer loop of ribbon it might be suspended from the corner of the looking glass. The case should be made in silk or linen, with three pockets, bound at the edge with silk cord in some contrasting color and finished at the top with a smart little bow, while the outer side might be prettily embroidered with initials or some dainty floral design.



CASE WHEN FINISHED.

Cheap Candles For Dinner Tables.

Candles add so much to the appearance of the dinner table that housekeepers should use them even more generally than is now the custom.

Often the expense proves a drawback, as these charming lights have a way of burning out very quickly.

When wax or prepared candles are used the cost is undoubtedly an item to be considered. The economical woman, however, will not choose these expensive varieties, but will buy instead the ordinary tallow dips. These if kept in a cold place between meals will burn for three nights.

If these tallow dips are used in the porcelain candle holders they not only may be used longer, but none will know whether they are of the finest or poorest quality.

The first expense of the patent candles, while quite inconsiderable in itself, is very soon more than equalized by the saving of being able to use the candle inside up to the tiniest tip.

Candles of any kind should be kept on the ice for at least twenty-four hours before being used. It will not only make them burn longer, but more brilliantly.

Ostrich Eggs.

Ostrich eggs weigh about three and a half pounds each. They are sometimes eaten in Africa.

Social Tragedy

Women Who Brave Death for Social Honors.

In the midst of one of the most brilliant social functions of the season, a noted society woman started suddenly from her chair with a scream of agony and fell insensible to the floor.

A few hours later the distinguished physician told her anxious husband that she was suffering from an acute case of nervous prostration brought on by female trouble, and hinted at an operation. Fortunately a friend advised her to try

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

The result was that she escaped the surgeon's knife and to-day is a well woman.

The derangement of the delicate female organism sets every nerve in the body quivering with pain. Headaches, backaches, torturing bearing down pains and dragging sensations make women nervous and hysterical.

Mrs. T. E. Gillis, of Windsor, N. S., writes:

DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—When I commenced to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I was suffering with weakness and female trouble, headaches, backaches, and that worn-out, tired feeling. I have only taken the Vegetable Compound a few short weeks, and it has made me well, strong and robust. I believe that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is without equal for female troubles.

Mrs. Laura Emmons, President Loyal Home Workers, Walkerville, Ont., writes:

DEAR MRS. PINKHAM,—I am enjoying such good health that I feel it a duty to write and thank you for what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. I suffered for more than five years with functional troubles, causing an unpleasant discharge and weakness which no amount of medicine, diet or exercise seemed to correct. Your Vegetable Compound, however, reached the root of my trouble, cured me and made me strong, healthy and well. I want to say to every suffering woman, don't dally with medicines you know nothing about, but take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Mrs. Pinkham's advice is free to all. Her address is Lynn, Mass.

Baked Ham.

Materials.—One ten pound ham, one quart madeira, brandy, cracker crumbs, black pepper, spices (cloves, allspice, nutmeg, etc.), one tablespoonful brown sugar.

Way of Preparing.—Soak the ham over night in cold water. Drain it, put it in a kettle, cover it with fresh cold water and boil it slowly two hours.

Pour off the water, skin the ham, cover again with boiling water and cook slowly for one more hour.

Drain this water off again and pour over your ham one quart of madeira wine and enough boiling water to barely cover the ham. Boil slowly for one hour. Remove from the fire and allow it to cool in the liquor. When cold drain off the liquor and trim the ham into a nice shape. Keep the liquor.

When you are ready to bake it cover the ham with a combination of cracker crumbs, highly seasoned with spices (of your choice), with black pepper and a tablespoonful of brown sugar and moisten it well with brandy.

Bake slowly for two hours, basting it frequently with the wine and water in which you have boiled it.

This ham will be found at least the equal of the best Westphalian product.—What to Eat.

Cream Salad Dressing.

To three tablespoonfuls of thick sour cream add three of sugar, one-half teaspoonful of salt and three tablespoonfuls of vinegar. Beat and use on lettuce, cucumbers or tomatoes. It should have the consistency of mayonnaise.

Says Irish Potatoes Are Injurious.

"The Irish potato will breed malaria in one's system and will injure digestion to a serious extent," said Charles T. Wilburn of Pittsburg. "For years I suffered from attacks of malaria, indigestion and liver complaint. I visited some of the best physicians in this country. They told me many things. Finally one suggested that I stop eating Irish potatoes in any form. Before then I had always eaten them, for they were my favorite vegetable. I stopped partaking of them, however, and in a little while I was getting better. In six months I was almost well, and today am as healthy as anybody. I never eat Irish potatoes any more and think them most injurious."—Nashville Tennessean.

Locust Trees.

Farmers who are planting locust trees declare that there is no more profitable way of utilizing cheap land. They figure in this way: Two thousand four hundred trees can be planted to an acre. In eight years these trees will be large enough to cut for fence posts, and each tree will yield two posts. At retail these posts will be worth 25 cents each, or 50 cents a tree. That means at retail a crop worth $1,200 per acre at the end of eight years, or an average of $150 an acre a year.—Kansas City Journal.

"You Will Suffer all Your Life."

SAID ALL THE DOCTORS

Half a dozen of the best physicians told Mr. Baker that he had Chronic Rheumatism, and would have it as long as he lived. One day Mr. Baker read in a paper of a man who had Rheumatism just like him—who had been told by doctors that his case was hopeless—and who had been completely cured by GIN PILLS.

The two cases were so much alike that Mr. Baker decided he would invest 50c in a box of GIN PILLS and give them a trial.

It was the best investment he ever made. Before the first box was taken, he felt better all over, so he got another. He took that and bought a third, getting better all the time.

Hinesville, May 8, 1906.

I have been greatly benefitted by your Gin Pills, and all who have used them in this neighborhood speak very highly of them.

One of my neighbors, Mr. X., who suffered for years with Rheumatism and who has spent hundreds of dollars with specialists without receiving the slightest benefit, was entirely cured by two boxes of Gin Pills. He is proclaiming their virtues from the "housetops."

Yours truly, D. L. BAKER.

We don't even ask you to buy Gin Pills—but to try them at our expense. Write us, mentioning this paper, and we will gladly send you a free sample of these wonderful Kidney Pills that cure Rheumatism. The Bole Drug Co., Winnipeg, Man.

LINCOLN THE FATHER.

Memories of the President's Affection For His Youngest Son.

Many stories are told of Tad's mischievous pranks and of his father's close companionship with his favorite boy. Tinker records that on one occasion Lincoln came into the telegraph office chuckling to himself over a fairy story book that some one had given to Tad, who was holding his father's hand as he entered the room. He thereupon repeated the story to the cipher operators. It told how a mother hen tried to raise a brood of chicks, but was much disturbed over the conduct of a sly old fox who ate several of the youngsters while still professing to be an honest fox, so the anxious mother had a serious talk with the old reynard about his wickedness. "Well, what was the result?" asked one of us when it appeared that Lincoln did not intend to continue his narrative. "The fox reformed," said Lincoln, his eyes twinkling, "and became a highly respected paymaster in the army, and now I am wondering which one he is." The significance of this reference is in the fact that about that time there were rumors of fraud in the paymaster's department.

Much has been said about Lincoln being influenced by his dreams. For instance, it has been stated by good authorities, including members of his cabinet, that before each of the great battles of the war and also before the occurrence of some other specially notable event in his life he had a vivid dream which led him to look forward at such a time with great anxiety for the announcement of some disaster or other incident of a particularly important character. It is related that on the night before his assassination he had an unusually exciting dream, which he thought was a portent of impending danger of some sort. That he did have this habit of being deeply affected and influenced by these visions of the night is clearly shown by the following telegram:

Washington, D. C., June 9, 1863.
Mrs. A. Lincoln, Philadelphia:
Think you had better put Tad's pistol away. I had an ugly dream about him.
A. LINCOLN.

Here are two telegrams out of a large number in which Lincoln referred to his children in an affectionate manner:

Aug. 21, 1864.
Mrs. A. Lincoln, Manchester, Vt.:
All reasonably well. Bob not here yet. How is dear Tad?
A. LINCOLN.

Sept. 8, 1864.
Mrs. A. Lincoln, Manchester, Vt.:
All well, including Tad's pony and the goats.
A. LINCOLN.

On another occasion Lincoln wrote to his wife as follows:

"* * * Tell dear Tad poor Nanny goat is lost. * * * The day you left Nanny was found resting herself and chewing her little cud on the middle of Tad's bed, but now she's gone. * * *
A. LINCOLN.

The president's affection for his youngest boy was such that they were together much of the time, even while the father was receiving callers or attending to official business in the White House, and nearly always when visiting the army at the front or in the defenses around Washington. They came to the war department hand in hand many times.

Lincoln went to City Point in March, 1865. As usual Tad went with him and remained with his father after Mrs. Lincoln returned to Washington a week later. Tad became a great pet among the officers and men. Each afternoon during their two weeks' stay the headquarters' band marched up to the open space near the president's tent and played popular airs for an hour or so. Tad enjoyed the music of the brass band very greatly and was on the lookout each afternoon when the appointed hour approached. As soon as he heard the strains of music in the distance he would jump up and down and shout: "There comes our band! There comes our band!"—David Homer Bates in Century.

The Bachelor's Wife.

King, the artist, was a queer character. He was an old bachelor, but he felt the need of companionship, and so, according to his fancy, he imagined he had a wife and had a room fitted up for her special use, as if the fancy was real.

"On a sofa are Mrs. King's shawl, her hat and gloves," said a visitor, "she having just returned from a walk, it is supposed. You know with such a wife he is not troubled by feminine extravagances, such as shopping, for instance. Near her chair stands her embroidery frame, the needle sticking there as if she had just laid down her work, and against the wall leans her guitar."

Indeed, this was a fanciful idea, and the visitor said that as a child he always entered this room with feelings of respect and awe for Mrs. King and readily paid the "coming out fee." a kiss for the lady, which he always exacted from the privileged few who were allowed to enter this sanctum of the imagination.

The Scallop.

The scallop accomplishes locomotion by a series of leaps. When it is alarmed or wishes to change its location it opens and energetically closes its valves, thus expelling the water. The reaction shoots it backward. By this means the creature is able to travel long distances. Sometimes scallops make considerable journeys in large companies. One can scarcely imagine a lovelier sight than that of a flock of these pretty creatures, with shell of every hue from purple and white to black, enlivened with shades of pink, yellow and fawn, darting about in clear water. In their flightlike movements, vertical, horizontal and zigzag, they are more suggestive of a flock of winged animals than of bivalve mollusks.

At Sea on Maskat.

A funny scene occurred many years ago in congress. A present of Arabian horses, a sword, etc., arrived from the imam of Maskat for President Adams. A western member with some heat moved that the gift should be sent back, with a letter from congress informing the ruler of Maskat that the president of the United States was no king, but the servant of the people, and was not permitted to give or receive presents.

Another member rose. "Such a letter, Mr. Speaker," he said, "can easily be written. But where is it to be sent? Where is Maskat?"

There was no response. Apparently not a member of the house was prepared to answer, nor could Maskat then be found in any atlas published in this country. It was found at last on a German map. A civil answer was returned, and the geographers made haste to insert Maskat in the next edition of their maps.

SOCIETY LADY AERONAUT.

Hon. Mrs. Harbord Who Owns Several Large Balloons.

Experimenting with balloons and aeroplanes has become somewhat of a fad in England among those who have time and money to spare on it. Even ladies have taken up the study of aeronautics, and follow the science with courage and skill.

One of the most enthusiastic of lady balloonists is the Hon. Mrs. Assheton Harbord, an Australian lady of means, who some three years ago married Captain Harbord, the younger brother of Lord Suffield. Mrs. Harbord is the owner of several large balloons, and recently added a new monster to her collection, the Valkyrie, of 60,000 cubic feet capacity. Twice Mrs. Harbord has crossed the Channel in a balloon, and on neither occasion were the elements particularly propitious. On one trip the balloon descended and dragged her some distance through the water. Then snow and hail were showered on the intrepid lady voyageur, but failed to baffle her. As she remarked on landing near Calais, "The rising sun compensated for all the discomfort of the journey."

HON. MRS. ASSHETON HARBORD.

SAILOR IN GIRL'S DRESS.

Deserted From English Navy and Masqueraded as Woman.

A young deserter from the navy has had some extraordinary adventures in Dundee in an effort to prevent capture, in which he has so far succeeded.

Disguising himself as a girl, his slight build, smooth face, and high-pitched voice helped him to play the part, and he obtained work in a large jute mill in Lochee, a district in the northwest of Dundee. That he was not what he pretended to be never struck his co-workers for a moment. He was engaged as a shifting lassie, a girl whose duties consist of transferring the raw jute, after it has been spun, from one department of the spinning flat to the other. The man in charge seems to have been struck with the aptitude for work shown by the novice, for rapid promotion was promised.

But if the foreman was attracted to the newcomer by reason of "her" capabilities, the young men of the spinning flat were attracted by "her" charms. "She" was made love to by quite a number of the male operatives, but she favored one in particular, who, now that the deception has become known, is having a sorry time of it with his mates.

On the Saturday of the Dundee floral fete the "shifting lassie" had a gala time, being treated to turns on the switchback, merry-go-rounds, swing boats, etc., by "her" admirers.

Finally, their love-making assumed such a serious character that the young deserter threw up his job at the mill without giving notice to his employers. On the day he disappeared from the district the police visited the mill to effect his arrest.

Racecourse Dodges.

Very ingenious used the "boys" to be to get into the enclosure at new race meetings round London at one time, when most of the officials were as fresh as the meeting.

Sometimes in going through the gate without a brief they would announce themselves as members of the press, and, being further challenged, would ejaculate "Daily Telegraph," "Morning Post," "Sportsman," and so on.

This worked very well for a time, but all the daily newspapers being exhausted, one poor wretch was at his wit's end to invent a newspaper to which he might be attached. The only one he could think of was "Funny Folk," and he, giving this to the janitor, was promptly ejected.

Another time, at Hamilton Park, the "wrong 'uns" to get in without paying, passed themselves off as jockeys. Unfortunately one of them was at least six feet high, and could not call himself Loates or Martin. He was not to be beaten, however, but announced himself to the astonished gateman as the starter.

Seeing Glass or Looking Glass.

The following is an extract from the will of a Lincolnshire farmer, dated Aug. 1, 1798:

"Item I also give to my wife the bed she now lieth on, one oval (sic) table, one Tea table, one Round table, three round backed chairs, one spindle chair, my chiney (sic) and Tea table, Silver spoons, one Baril (sic) warming pan and a Seeing Glass and Tongs."—London Notes and Queries.

GOWN GOSSIP.

Separate coats will be in vogue for misses quite as much as for their elders.

The length of the coat is a much mooted question. All lengths are "in," but the more exclusive of the latest models unquestionably are below hip length.

All of the coats show a waist line slightly raised all around, but barely higher in the back than in the front, and where there is a seam down the back this effect is necessarily more marked.

Costumes of cheviot and serge, like those of broadcloth, are beautifully tailored, machine stitching forming a conspicuous item in their construction, supplemented by buttons covered to match the collar or of the suit material.

Millinery for this season is not at all "a thing apart" from the dress or suit, but one with it—not that it must match in color precisely, but it harmonizes so completely as to show its connection with the rest of the costume unmistakably.—New York Post.

SPORTING NOTES.

John E. Madden has nominated six yearlings of his own breeding for the Grand Prix de Paris of 1909.

Luther Taylor, the champion groceryman of Kansas City and pitcher for the New York Giants, started his baseball career as a catcher.

It is no exaggeration to say that Jesse Lewisohn, the famous race track plunger, lost over $1,000,000 in the betting ring within the last five years.

A western critic says that old heads are needed on big league teams. Cy Young says that the game is now too fast for an old player. You can play either tip.

Jimmy Sheckard says that Rucker of the Dodgers is one of the hardest pitchers in the league for them to beat. Sheckard says that Rucker's whole skill seems to lie in perfect control.

Eustace Miles, the British tennis exchampion, will challenge Jay Gould of New York, the champion, in 1908. If Mr. Gould does not go to England Mr. Miles will cross the Atlantic and try to regain his tennis laurels.

THE WRITERS.

The inmates of the Indiana State Asylum For the Insane have voted Henry James the most popular author.

Gabriele d'Annunzio, the Italian poet and dramatist, has purchased an automobile and proposes trying an eighty mile an hour speed.

Hall Caine, the novelist, is an extensive Manx landowner, possessing several large farms, having successfully reclaimed tracts of bog land in the vicinity of Sulby, which have been brought under profitable cultivation.

A movement is under way to establish a permanent memorial for Thomas Bailey Aldrich at Portsmouth, N. H., where his boyhood days were spent. A committee has formed the Thomas Bailey Aldrich Memorial association, which purposes to acquire the old house in that city which belonged to Mr. Aldrich's grandfather and to preserve it as a memorial museum.

TRAIN AND TRACK.

Heat expansion makes the rails of a 400 mile railway 340 yards longer in summer than in winter.

The railway mileage of the two South African colonies, Orange River and the Transvaal, has doubled since 1898. It is now over 2,500 miles.

Civil Engineer Knorre, one of the largest contractors for public works in Russia, has obtained the concession for building the Polar-Ural railroad, the project that was recently approved by the Russian commission on new railroads.

It is announced that soon a train de luxe will run daily between Tokyo and Europe. The route selected passes through Japan to Simonoseki, thence by large ferries to Fassau, in the south of Korea, through Korea to Mukden and Harbin and thence through Siberia to Europe.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS.

Save time when knife cleaning by previously warming the knife before the fire.

A new wash boiler has a sectional lid which greatly facilitates the laundry work.

To cut cheese smoothly and without breaking fold tissue or paraffin paper over the knife blade.

Housekeepers will quickly recognise the convenience of keeping their spices in glass jars. A glance tells them when more is needed.

Paint stains on floors may be removed by pouring a little drop of benzine on them, letting it dry and then rubbing the stain with emery paper or powdered pumice stone on a damp cloth.

State Lines.

Nevada seems destined to forge to the first place in the production of precious metals.

Colorado, Montana and Utah have, according to recent returns, shown a decided decline in the production of precious metals.

A macadamized road between St. Louis and Kansas City will be completed within two years. Construction work will be begun next spring. The Missouri legislature appropriated $500,000 for the purpose at its last session. The road will be sixty feet wide. On its completion another, extending from north to south through the state, will be undertaken.

POULTRY AND APPLES.

Big Market in Old Country for Canadian Produce.

Canada's commercial agent at Leeds reports to the Department of Trade and Commerce that prospects are unusually bright for high prices and a good market for Canadian turkeys, chickens and apples in England this fall and winter. The English crop of apples is very small this year, and Canadian sources of supply will be the main dependence of the English dealers. He also notes that there is a good opening in Leeds and Sheffield for the Canadian manufacturer to supply wooden handles for cutlery, tools, etc.

Attacked by Wolf.

William Blackwell, a well-known Toronto traveler, while out hunting three miles east of Lansdowne, had an exciting experience with a wolf. Mr. Blackwell was returning to his hotel along the railway track, when something came behind him. On looking around he saw a big wolf about thirty yards behind. He fired his only remaining shot at the animal, but unfortunately missed his mark. This seemed to make the wolf more desperate, and it came towards Mr. Blackwell at a rapid pace. He had to stand still, and when the approaching beast came near enough he used the butt end of his gun on the animal. After a hard struggle, in which the traveler received some very severe wounds from the wolf's claws, he finally succeeded in killing it.

Research Work at Queen's.

Queen's medical faculty has decided to have original research work in the opsonic theory carried on in the college. The appointees are Messrs. N. W. Connolly and James Byers. These students will pursue research work under the direction of Dr. Gibson, who last session spent three months at the Johns Hopkins University in the study of the opsonic method of curing disease. Queen's medical department prides itself on being the first Canadian institution to make provision for the study of what promises to be ere long a most potent factor in the alleviation of suffering.

The Praying Wheel.

A traveler thus describes the praying wheel of Tibet: "A barrel eight inches long holds 1,400 thin leaves, on each side of which the prayer is printed, say, ten times. This gives 28,000 prayers, all of which are put to the worshiper's credit in the world to come if with a touch of his finger he makes the barrel revolve once."

The Tanner's Art.

It is impossible to say when the tanner's art was originated. We know that leather was early known in Egypt, as well as in all the ancient nations. The celebrated "Gordian knot," that Alexander the Great "untied" with his sword, was made of leather.

A Franklin Portrait.

The Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York is in possession of a rare portrait of Benjamin Franklin. It was procured in Paris and represents the great philosopher wearing a cocked hat.

Warts.

Late experiments have suggested that warts are due either to an ultramicroscopic germ or a soluble toxin. Healthy tissue inoculated with blood from a wart has developed a growth of new warts. No cultures have been obtained.

The Russian Artel.

An "artel" is a Russian institution, a kind of syndicate, in fact, among the workingmen of that country. A certain number of mechanics of all descriptions join together, forming gangs, and undertake such work as railway making, dock work, agricultural work and all kinds of skilled and unskilled trades and then share the profits between them.

A frying pan should not be scraped. Instead fill it with cold water to which a little soda has been added and let it stand for several hours.

HEATERS!

Right Time to Buy Them and Special Inducement This Week

You may wait for cold weather to buy a heater if you've a mind to, but if you'll be advised by those who have to deal most with the selling of stoves, you will select a heater now and have it put in place and ready before the rush that invariably comes with a cold snap.

There is absolutely nothing gained in waiting—not even a saving in cost, as the prices will certainly be kept at normal when the demand is at its height, and then you'll be expected to take your turn in having it delivered and set up—a delay of two or three days perhaps.

We recommend these stoves with confidence :—

A feature with our fold collars is, plenty of space for the tie under the fold.

When the collar is buttoned, the tie works back and forth easily.

This is important, as the appearance of the tie depends upon its being easily adjusted.

In most collars, once the tie is placed under the fold, it's almost impossible to move it.

The man who has never worn a

YOUR WORK.

Rob It of Drudgery and Give It Your Whole Ability.

No matter how humble your work may seem, do it in the spirit of an artist, of a master. In this way you lift it out of commonness and rob it of what would otherwise be drudgery.

You will find that learning to thoroughly respect everything you do and not to let it go out of your hands until it has the stamp of your approval upon it as a trademark will have a wonderful effect upon your whole character.

The quality of your work will have a great deal to do with the quality of your life. If your quality is down, your character will be down, your standard down, your ideals down.

The habit of insisting upon the best of which you are capable and of always demanding of yourself the highest, never accepting the lowest, will make all the difference between mediocrity or failure and a successful career.

If you bring to your work the spirit of an artist instead of an artisan; if you bring a burning zeal, an all absorbing enthusiasm; if you determine to put the best there is in you in everything you do, no matter what it is, you will not long be troubled with a sense of drudgery. Everything depends on the spirit we bring to the task. The right spirit makes an artist in the humblest task, while the wrong spirit makes an artisan in any calling, no matter how high.

There is a dignity, an indescribable quality of superiority, in everything we do which we thoroughly and honestly respect. There is nothing belittling or menial which has to be done for the welfare of the race.

You cannot afford to give the mere dregs, the mere leavings of your energies, to your work. The best in you is none too good for it.

It is only when we do our best, when we put joy, energy, enthusiasm and zeal into our work, that we really grow, and this is the only way we can keep our highest self respect.

We cannot think much of ourselves when we are not honest in our work—when we are not doing our level best. There is nothing which will compensate you for a loss of faith in yourself, for the knowledge of your capacity for doing bungling, dishonest work.

You have something infinitely higher in you to satisfy than to make a mere living, to get through your day's work as easily as possible—that is, your sense of the right, the demand in you to do your level best, to call out the best thing in you, to be a man, to do the square thing. This should speak so loudly in you that the mere bread and butter question, the money making question, should be insignificant in comparison.

Slaves in Old Rome.

In Rome, in the golden age, a laborer only cost $100, and sometimes, after a great victory and an influx of captives into the capital, it was possible to buy strong, capable slaves for $5 apiece. Skilled slaves, men with trades, brought higher prices. Cicero paid $1,000 for a scribe. Catiline had a cook that cost him $2,500. A gardener was worth $300, a blacksmith $750, an actor $5,000, a physician $10,000.

A Brace of Metaphors.

"Young man, do you keep your ear to the ground?"

"No, sir; my time is fully occupied in keeping my nose against the grindstone."

And the pompous questioner passed on.

When Making Bubbles.

When preparing soapsuds for a soap bubble party the hostess added a little glycerin to the water, which made the bubbles last longer and grow to a larger size than when soap and water are used alone. One teaspoonful of glycerin to about two cups of water is the right proportion.—What to Eat.

Typesetters In Bull Ring.

The bullfight given by the members of the Gutenberg Typographical union of Chihuahua was highly amusing and was attended by a large crowd that cheered the amateurs again and again. Banderillos were skillfully placed, and one of the bulls was killed in a way that was creditable to the young fighters, although in others they were not always so successful in this part. The professions of typesetter and matadore are far part, but the young men showed versatility in their ability to do such active work after their sedentary life at the case.—Chihuahua Cor. Mexican Herald.

Advertise in Newspapers.

Kansas City has decided to advertise itself, but the promoters of the publicity plan are undecided as to what medium will bring the best results. Our advice to the Kansas City promoters is to select a list of good newspapers, and in order to back our opinion up we refer to Atlantic City, the best advertised city in America.—Newspaperdom.

TOOLED LEATHER.

Some Hints as to How the Designs Are Evolved.

Much is owed to the arts and crafts movement, and one of its most important bequests is the tooled leather articles it has evolved and made possible to the buyer with a limited purse.

A few years ago tooled leather was almost prohibitive because of its limited supply. It requires not only skilled labor, but a certain amount of artistic ability, for, while the work is known as a craft, the most successful pieces are evolved when the manipulator is an artist as well as an artisan.

As for materials, the requirements are more specific than elaborate. The only leather that adapts itself to the work is the best quality of natural calfskin, while the tools are simple in construction, but varied in size. The professional has the full set, while the amateur or aspirant has been known to do most creditable work with blunted nut picks.

The design is first drawn upon the leather; then the leather is dampened and laid over wet clay, and the process of tooling the design in relief is begun. The work is most painstaking and very slow, sometimes hours being given to the bringing out of one wee bud or leaf. The girl who does this kind of work will be interested in the illustration, which shows a pattern to be used on a chatelaine bag. The design of conventional iris is distinctive in style and beautifully worked out either in shades of tan and brown if the iris is yellow or in greens if the iris is blue.

FOR SCHOOL WEAR.

Nothing Is Better Than Sailor Frock With Loose Blouse.

For school wear for little girls too young for shirt waists nothing surpasses the sailor frock with loose blouse and tie. It is always becoming and serviceable. Early in the season such frocks are made of duck or khaki and later of serge or flannel. Here is a pretty model of light gray French flannel finished with bands of blue and machine stitching in coarse saddler's silk. The yoke under the sailor collar is of white crossed with black soutache braid, and the tie is of black and white striped silk.

The other dress is more suitable for afternoon than for school. It is of plain tan veiling, with a plaid of tan, blue and black used for the jacket effect and the box plaits on the skirt. The vest and sash are of blue silk, the vest being edged with black soutache. The buttons are covered with blue taffeta. The slight showing of ecru lace may be omitted if so desired. The girl of twelve or fourteen looks better in a shirt waist suit, with skirt and waist of the same material. A dress on this order may be made up in serge, henrietta or mixed cloth for later in the season.

For cool weather the average child needs two cloth school frocks and one afternoon frock, but the afternoon frock should not be really more elaborate than those worn to school, for a little girl looks better simply gowned. In course of time, then, the afternoon frock can descend to everyday wear when its freshness is lost.

Fall Fashions.

The seven-eighths sleeve, ending just above the wrist, is prophesied.

Hard finished worsteds will be leading favorites.

These come in stripes, plaids, checks and plain colors.

Checks are predicted to enjoy a vogue this fall.

The leading colors will be somber.

Blue will be more worn than ever before.

Navy, royal, nattier and copenhagen are shades of blue that will be rivals in popularity.

Greens and coppery browns are also picked as winners.

You can't make a mistake in getting navy blue.

Bacon—They say that onions make a person breathe harder.

Egbert—Oh, I guess it only seems harder!

SIRES AND SONS.

Secretary Root gained twelve pounds during his stay at Muldoon's repair shop.

Allan A. Ryan, son of Thomas F. Ryan, will, it is said, build a summer home at Suffern, N. Y., to cost $1,000,000.

Lord Rosebery on his Dalmeny farm of 35,000 acres produced exclusively seeds which are sold in nearly every country on the continent.

Paul P. Bird, a steam expert, has been appointed smoke inspector of Chicago at a salary of $4,000 a year. He is a native of Michigan and was educated at Cornell.

Harvey Moore, aged thirteen years, whose leg was cut off by a train, said to the surgeon in a St. Louis hospital, "Let me see my leg once more before you throw it away."

That keeping race horses is expensive is shown by the remark of James R. Keene that, although his horses have earned $250,000 this season, he has not made any money by racing.

M. Lehman, the Swiss engineer who recently received $200,000 in the Milan exhibition lottery, is receiving from 500 to 1,000 begging and matrimonial letters daily, and the postal authorities at Romouth, near Freyburg, have had to triple their staff.

Alexander Finn, who becomes consul general through the raising of Chicago by the British government to that rank, has represented his Britannic majesty in that city since Aug. 18, 1904. He went to Chicago from Malaga, Spain, where he had been consul and where during the Spanish war he had charge of the interests of the United States.

Edward Morris, who succeeds his father, the late Nelson Morris, as the head of the big Morris packing concern, was born in Chicago on Oct. 1, 1866. He received his education in the public schools of the city and embarked in business with his father in 1890. Rapid promotion followed, and at the time of the death of Nelson Morris the son was vice president and treasurer of the company.

THE WRITERS.

George Bernard Shaw says an ideal state of society would be where every man spends $250,000 a year on himself alone and earns it.

Hon. Eric Johnson of Omaha, editor of the Viking, is gathering material which he will use in writing a history of the Swedish settlements and influences in the United States.

Edmund Clarence Stedman is prominent in a movement for reform in the method of selecting names for the American Hall of Fame. The fact that Cooper and Poe are persistently denied recognition is one of the reasons for the movement.

There has just been published in Paris a satirical novel by M. Marcel Roland, the scene of which is placed in the Paris of the year 2200. In this amazing tale there is a Swiss savant who brings to France from Borneo an ape who can not only converse fluently in a tongue of his own, but makes himself understood in French.

GOWN GOSSIP.

Buttons are important in the trimming scheme this fall and are used in all sizes and grades of elegance.

Jet embroideries promise to have popularity, and charming effects are obtained in some of the new materials through the use of jet.

The circular cut prevails in skirts, though cleverly combined with plaiting and paneling in many cases, and if there is any trimming at all round the bottom it is usually flat.

Some of the new velvets are so wonderfully supple and light of weight that they seem hardly more bulky than the heavier crepes de chine, and in luster and colorings they are marvelously beautiful.

Sheer materials are to hold their own throughout the winter and indeed are to be more than ever worn for daytime purposes under the long separate coats which will be one of the most pronounced of the season's modes.—New York Sun.

POINTED PARAGRAPHS.

Better make excuses than throw the blame on some one else.

There are a good many heroes in novels who couldn't hold a job in real life.

How little trouble and quarreling there would be if your enemy were only broad minded like yourself!

Nothing impresses a man more when he looks back into the past than the silliness of the things he once cried for.

The trouble with fools—and we are quite numerous—is that we refuse to learn valuable lessons that are as plain as the nose on a man's face.

When a man is good he travels in a rut, but he never knows how comfortable the rut was and how free from jolts until he has climbed outside.—Atchison Globe.

Flower and Tree.

The cocoanut tree is so elastic as to withstand the fiercest storms, even on the seacoast.

Mrs. Frank Sanborn of Penacook, N. H., set out an elm tree in 1844, which was recently cut down, and its measure was 108 inches in circumference and 36 inches in diameter.

Reports from the department of agriculture show that in preferred flowers the rose heads the list, and the amount expended in the United States for these flowers in a recent year was $6,000,000.

Watch—Eight bells and all's well. Mrs. Peabody (feebly)—I guess, Josiah, he hasn't looked on this side of the boat lately or he'd known better.—Brooklyn Times.

BISHOP GONE—CURATE SAD.

Came Near Starving Because Could Not Draw His Salary.

In consequence of the visit of the Bishop of London to America a young Church of England curate in London has come near starving to death. It was not the good bishop's fault, still less was it the unfortunate curate's fault. It was the fault of the Church of England red tape.

The curate in question was assistant to a vicar in one of the poorer London parishes. Curates in England are paid by their vicars, while the vicars are paid by the church. There are vicars who draw big salaries and pay their curates small salaries, and take life easy while their curates do all the work. A Church of England vicar cannot be deprived of his living for a little thing like that.

When a vicar dies the pay of the curate stops until the bishop of the diocese appoints a new vicar. A few days after the Bishop of London started for America the vicar of the curate this story is about died. Consequently the curate's pay stopped immediately. He had no prospect of getting any more pay until another vicar was appointed. And that appointment could not be made until the bishop returned from America.

The curate's salary was such a small one that it just sufficed to keep him going. He had nothing saved up. In a word, he was dead broke. Starvation stared him in the face. He appealed to the ecclesiastical commissioners; most of them were away on their vacations. He received a formal reply stating that they would surely be back before Christmas and the matter would then be placed before a full board meeting, as was the rule with all such applications. He wrote a more urgent letter. In response he was asked for more particulars. He forwarded the particulars. Then he got another letter demanding proof of his birth, his appointment, and his existence.

The correspondence grew, but the curate's weight steadily decreased. About this time the workhouse began to loom large in his thoughts. Finally, when he had about abandoned hope, the ecclesiastical commissioners woke up and made him a grant. The exact amount of the grant is not known, but it is said to be so small that the young curate spends most of his spare time praying for the return of the Bishop of London.

OLD COTTAGE OF 1621.

Canvey Island May Once More Be Used by Dutch Steamboats.

Dover's action in raising the tax on people landing there from 36 cents to 48 cents, has sorely vexed the Belgian State railway officials, who now are considering a scheme for bringing the Ostend boats to Canvey Island in the Thames. It would be strange indeed if an unpopular poll tax were to bring back that prosperity to this strip of Essex coast which has been so long dormant.

The bold voyage of the Dutch fleet up the Medway in 1667 led the Ministers of Charles II. to convert the old block-house built by Henry VIII. into a regular fortification, standing as Tilbury fort to this day. Higher up the river lies Canvey Island, practically only an island at high tide, which owes something to these same Dutch, but in more legitimate fashion.

COTTAGE OF 16...

It was being gradually washed away by the tide when Joas Croppenburg, about 1620, proposed that if the proprietors of the island would grant him a third of the acreage, he would at his own expense reclaim the submerged portion of Canvey, and build and maintain an effective sea wall. So advantageous a bargain was readily accepted, and the gentleman afterwards knighted as Sir Cornelius Vermuyden undertook the task. Many of those who came from Holland on this undertaking afterwards settled here, and thus there remain at the present time many Dutch relics on the islet. The Dutch cottage of our sketch bears the date 1621.

Of late years there have been fitful attempts to convert Canvey Island into a seaside resort, and being so near London, and pleasantly situated in the shelter of the charmingly wooded heights of Benfleet, it is surprising the scheme has not made greater headway.

Cornish Ghost Story.

Here is a "true ghost story" from Truro, in Cornwall. An old woman residing in a village near there recently died. She had long been looked upon as the possessor of supernatural powers, and she repeatedly intimated to her acquaintances that she would return to earth after her demise. A son of the old lady went to reside in his mother's house following her death. He and his young wife had not occupied the house long, however, before they found their nights were disturbed by strange and apparently unearthly noises. This went on for some time until eventually the young couple decided to give up the house and the small farm adjoining, and remove to a house near at hand. Then a neighbor suggested to them that if a child could be brought into the house the noises would cease. Having no children of their own, they decided to adopt a little girl. Strange to say, from the time of the little girl's adoption the noises have completely ceased, and they have been troubled no further. Many villages can vouch for the truth of the story.

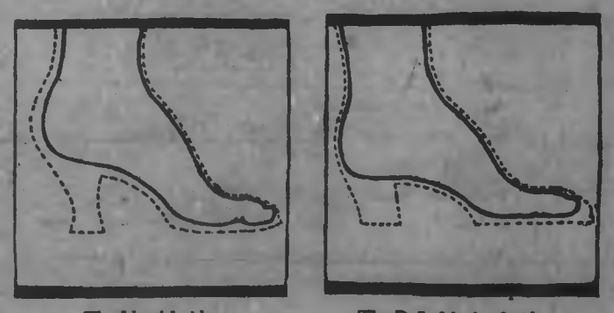
Barefoot Comfort

"One of the 14"



The Usual Inside The Dolly Varden Inside

The claim that a shoe is as comfortable as a barefoot is a pretty strong claim, but we claim it for the Dolly Varden Shoe and our agent in your city is ready to prove our claim. By trying on a few pairs you can soon find out.

Why are they comfortable?

Because they are copies of perfect feminine feet which allow the feet to lie in their natural position.

Because of their Free Flat Tread.

Because of their newly devised, restful steel arch support which relieves the fatigue muscles of the arch and prevents crowding of the toes into the narrow front of the shoe, by holding the heel close to the back.

Because of their Dead Level Ball and Heel Balance.

Because of their Harmless High Heels—as comfortable as moccasins.

And because of their new "velvette kid" leather, which is as soft as cloth.

$4.00 to $5.00 in Canada or the States. Every pair Goodyear welted.

Rogers' attorneys announced that they will carry the case to the Court of Appeals.

Jury Blames Corporation

Pottstown, Pa., Nov. 1.—An unusual verdict was rendered by the coroner's jury Wednesday on the accident in which four persons in an automobile were killed at a Reading railway grade crossing here two weeks ago. The verdict in part says:

"That Chief Burgess Hiram Cotter and the 20 councilmen of the borough are morally guilty of negligence, if not culpably, in allowing trains to run at the rate of 50 miles an hour over grade crossings within the borough, day and night, without compelling adequate safeguards for the traveling public."

The jury also expresses the opinion that the automobile was running at too great speed.

SAVED MANY LIVES.

Heroic School Teachers Rescues Children From Runaway Horses.

Saskatoon, Nov. 1.—A serious accident was narrowly avoided on Wednesday afternoon by the heroic conduct and great presence of mind of Principal Irvine of the King Edward school.

As the children from the school, some three or four hundred in numbers, were about to cross the railway track on 23rd street, on their way to participate in the opening ceremonies at the Alexandra School in Saskatoon West, a team of runaway horses was noticed heading at breakneck speed straight in the direction of the group of school children.

Mr. Irvine at once seized a large Union Jack, which one of the pupils was carrying, and pushing his way towards the horses, vigorously waved it before the animals with such good effect that they swerved around and headed in another direction.

The horses had almost reached the children, and had it not been for the prompt action of the principal there is not the least doubt but that there would have been a dozen or more seriously and perhaps fatally injured, if not killed.

PHYSICIAN SUICIDES.

Married Two Women and Was In Danger of Exposure.

Boston, Nov. 1.—That fear of exposure of the dual life he was leading caused the suicide of Dr. Albert Cushman Day of Brooklyn, N. Y., the young staff physician of the Boston City Hospital, who shot himself in the woods at West Roxbury, Friday, two days after his clandestine marriage to Miss Estelle Maud Callahan of Edgewood, R. I., a trained nurse, was made certain last night by the discovery that the young doctor already had a wife who was about to bring proceedings against him upon the announcement of his recent marriage.

It was learned that Dr. Day was married on March 16, 1904, at Brockton, by a justice of the peace, to Miss Martina Thompson, aged 16, a daughter of William A. Thompson of West Roxbury, where Dr. Day made his home. The marriage was kept secret, as Dr. Day stated he wished to complete his medical course and hospital work before having his marriage made known to his family.

TAKES CORPSE HOME.

Brokenhearted Lover Digs Up His Sweetheart's Body.

Naples, Nov. 1.—A particularly gruesome story has come to light in this city. Elisa Scalisi, a beautiful young woman, was engaged to be married to a young man named Alessandro, but she died a few days before the date set for the ceremony and was buried in a local cemetery.

Alessandro was heartbroken over his bereavement, and one night he dug up the body and carried it to his lodging. He embalmed the corpse of the young woman, dressed it in its bridal clothes and kept it in his rooms for a fortnight.

Neighbors finally grew curious from the fact that the young man never went abroad, and peeping one day through his shuttered window, they say Alessandro seated alongside the dead body of the woman, who was to have been his wife, affectionately holding her hand.

The police were informed and Alessandro was arrested. The body has been buried a second time.

Shocking Elevator Accident.

Poughkeepsie, Nov. 1.—Employes of the wood-working department of the factory of Adrian C. Platt & Co., manufacturers of harvesting machinery, were horrified yesterday at one of their number decapitated in an elevator. The beheaded man was Christian Eckardt, aged 61 years. He started over two folding trap doors as the elevator came up and was caught between the elevator platform and the wall.

While his body lay prostrate on the floor his head was carried up on the elevator. Several workmen who witnessed the accident, fainted.

$30,000 Fire at Hamilton.

Hamilton, Nov. 1.—Fire that caused the loss of $30,000 started in the mills of the Hamilton Facing Mill Co., North Hess street, at 8.30 yesterday morning. The building is frame, covered with corrugated iron, and the whole lower floor was a mass of flames when the firemen arrived. They confined the fire to the one floor. It is not known how the trouble started as the watchman had inspected the building at 8 o'clock and found everything all right.

LONDON, Oct. 31.—London cables are firmer at 10c to 12¼c per lb., dressed weight; refrigerator beef is quoted to 10c per lb.

Toronto Live Stock.

TORONTO, Oct. 31.—Receipts of live stock at the City Market, since Tuesday, as reported by the railways, were 129 carloads, composed of 1546 cattle, 1725 hogs on the market and 1400 hogs to packers direct, 3605 sheep and lambs, and 179 calves.

Exporters.

Only a few export bulls were on sale, and there were quoted at $3.50 to $3.75 per cwt.

Butchers.

One choice pick[illegible] sold was sold by Crawford & Hunnisett to the Harris Abattoir Company at $5.15 per cwt.; loads of good, $4.25 to $4.40; medium, $3.75 to $4.15; common, $3.50 to $3.60; good to choice cows, $3.40 to $4; common cows, canner bulls, $1 to $2.25.

Feeders and Stockers.

H. & W. Murby report a falling off in the receipts of stockers and feeders this week, with prices about holding their own with last week's quotations.

Messrs. Murby bought about 200 head this week at the following quotations: Best feeders, 1050 to 1100 lbs., at $3.25 to $3.60; best stockers, 800 to 900 lbs., at $2.50 to $2.65; best stockers, 600 to 800 lbs., at $2.25 to $2.60; medium stockers, 600 to 800 lbs., at $2 to $2.25; common stockers, 500 to 700 lbs., at $1.50 to $1.75.

Milkers and Springers.

Trade was good all week for choice milkers and forward springers promising to have good milking qualities. These sold from $40 to $55, and one at $67, the bulk of the best sold around $50 each. Medium cows, $30 to $35, and common to inferior at $15 to $25. These were hard to sell and not wanted.

Veal Calves.

Trade was slow for veal calves. Prices ranged from $3.50 to $6.50 per cwt., the bulk selling at $4.75 to $5.75 per cwt.

Sheep and Lambs.

The general quality of sheep and lambs was not good. Trade slow, with prices easier for the bulk. Export ewes, $4.25 to $4.40; rams and culls, $3 to $3.50; lambs, $4 to $5.25 per cwt.

Hogs.

There have been fairly liberal receipts of hogs during the week, and packers report that prices will go lower. Like every other class of live stock, the farmers are not finishing their hogs. There were some hogs on the market to-day that were standard weights, that, when killed, would not have enough fat in them to fry the meat. This class of hogs the packer does not need, nor wont have; they are, to say the least, discreditable to the farmer that raised them, and certainly do not reflect any credit on the drover that buys them. These hogs are being rigorously culled out by the packers, and drovers are being notified not to handle them. Prices were quoted today by Mr. Harris at $6.12½ for properly finished hogs, with a prospect of lower quotations.

Encouragement.

"I'm afraid," said the soubrette, "that I'll not be able to appear tonight. I have a sore throat."

"Don't let that worry you, dear," replied the prima donna. "Nothing could happen to your throat that wouldn't help your singing."—Chicago Record-Herald.

Overloaded.

A United States senator had been inveighing at a dinner against long speeches.

"But, senator," said a congressman, "you can't accuse me of ever having made too long a speech, can you?"

The senator smiled.

"Perhaps not," he said, "and again—but did you ever hear about the temperance lecturer? No?

"Well, you must know that there was a temperance lecturer in Maine who visited Ellsworth and lectured. He hit out pretty hard from the shoulder at these so called moderate drinkers, and at the end of his remarks an Ellsworth man took him aside and said in an aggrieved tone:

"'Look here, Jim, I am a moderate drinker, as all the town knows, and to many people it is going to seem as if a good part of your lecture was pointed straight at me. What did you want to do it for, Jim? You never saw me with more on board than I could carry.'

"'What's that?' said the temperance lecturer.

"'You never saw me with a bigger load than I could carry, did you?'

"The lecturer frowned.

"'Well, no,' he said slowly, 'but I have seen you when I thought you'd done better to go twice for it.'"

Wireless Money Lending.

One of the most interesting types on the American track is the professional money lender. Money lending is absolutely forbidden, and so the entire transaction must be conducted sub rosa, but if a person who is on goes broke and he has some article of jewelry of value with him it is easy for him to realise money on it.

The lender is an irreproachably dressed person who sits on the grandstand with the rest of the crowd and is known in his true colors only to the habitues of the track. A man who wants some capital makes an unobtrusive sign to him and twirls a ring he may be wearing at the time. Shortly afterward both will proceed to a restaurant, where, for the benefit of onlookers, they will greet each other as ordinary acquaintances. The exchange is then made over the drink they order; the loan broker has the ring and the bettor his capital. If the latter cashes in on the next race he will return the money and the agreed upon premium and will receive back his ring.—From "The People and the Ponies," by C. F. Peters, in Bohemian.

Rainy Day Place For the Children.

Rainy days often mean trouble in the household where there are plenty of children, and some one has suggested that the mother of such a brood would do well to provide herself with a rainy day cupboard.

To it will find their way special playthings reserved for state occasions—pictures, scrapbooks, paste pots, scissors, old magazines and paint boxes—anything, in fact, that can provide indoor amusement. When the rainy day comes round the cupboard may be opened and a distribution of its blessings made.

Sewing Hints.

Use double thread for gathering.

Use as fine a thread and needle as the garment will allow.

When threading your needle, make the knot on the end broken from the reel.

The rule for frilling is to allow one and a half the length of the edge to be trimmed.

When sewing on a button, place the knot on the right side of the cloth directly under the button.

Boys For Travelers.

An interesting note on the commercial traveler in South Africa is supplied by the British consul at Pernambuco, in Brazil.

Advocating the extended employment by British firms of properly qualified representatives, he remarks: "It is of great importance that they should be of agreeable manner and presence, which qualifications possess here a value far beyond what is usually attached to them in ordinary matters of business.

"Mere boys come here as travelers and do astonishingly well, principally from the fact that they are cheery, good-humored, and self-confident, while older, more reserved, and experienced men of business have frequently to be content with a far smaller share of the business for which they are competing."

WHOLE TOWN BURIED IN AVALANCHE

Appalling Disaster at Karatagh in Russian Turkestan.

MANY HUNDREDS KILLED

Part of Mountain Slid Down — Had Been Loosened by Earthquake—Majority of Inhabitants Buried Beneath Rock—Loss of Life Not So Great as at First Feared —Town In Out-of-Way Place.

Taakhend, Russian Turkestan, Nov. 1.—The little town of Karatagh, in the Hissar district of Bokhara, has been overwhelmed and completely destroyed by a landslide which followed the earthquake of Oct 21. According to the latest reports of the disaster a majority of the inhabitants of Karatagh lost their lives.

The first reports of the casualties were exaggerated, the death list being placed as high as 15,000. Karatagh has about 2,500 dwellers, and there is reason to believe that about 1,500 were buried alive. Among those who survived the disaster are the Governor of Karatagh and his mother.

Karatagh is remotely situated, and it takes a full week for news to come from there, and according to one courier who arrived, an enormous section of the Karatagh Mountain, which practically hung over the town, broke loose, and thundered down upon the village, which it has almost completely buried from sight.

Efforts are being made to communicate with the survivors and learn the actual state of affairs, and send in such relief as may be required.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 1.—Up to a late hour last night no further news of the Karatagh disaster had been received here. It is thought in St. Petersburg that the magnitude of the disaster had been greatly exaggerated and that the number of victims is more likely fifteen hundred than fifteen thousand, as at first reported. Karatagh is a small town in the Hissar district. It is noted for its manufactures of sabres, cutlery and fine silks, and is used as a summer resort by the people of Hissar, a somewhat larger town and capital of the district of Hissar. Karatagh is situated in a mountainous country at an elevation of 2,500 feet above sea level.

Strike Over at New Orleans.

New Orleans, Nov. 1.—The president of the New Orleans local of the Commercial Telegraph Operators' Union has notified the manager of the Western Union office here that the telegraphers' strike there is over.

Scalped by a Fan.

Pittsburg, Nov. 1.—While seeking warmth and shelter in the basement of the Sherwood School Wednesday afternoon, Patrick McGrath, 88 years old, and said to be homeless, was probably fatally injured. His scalp was torn from his head when he was struck by the blades of a ventilating fan. He had been groping his way along the basement corridor when he stumbled against the revolving fan. Schoolboys found him lying unconscious on the floor. He was taken to St. Bernard's Hospital.

Russian Exiles Coming.

Vancouver, Nov. 1.—Russian agents purchased 4,000 acres in Kootenay Valley, on which to settle 2,000 Russians, mostly prisoners of war and exiles. Many will arrive in Vancouver in December.

The Salvation Army is bringing a special shipmen of 250 girls to Vancouver.

Three Indians Murdered.

Lethbridge, Alta., Nov. 1.—Three Indians, a man, women and a boy, were found dead on the prairie, five miles south of here. The top of the man's head appeared to have been shot off. A cloth covered their faces and they are supposed to have been murdered.

NAVAL FORCES ARE IN MUTINY

Fight in Russian Port With Crew of Torpedo Boat.

SEVERAL PERSONS KILLED

Destroyer Does Much Damage — Engages Four Vessels—Opens Fire on Town and Forts—Mutinous Vessel Riddled With Shots and Beached—Town Declared In State of Siege—Arrested.

Vladivostock, Nov. 1.—The crew of a Russian torpedo-boat destroyer mutinied on Wednesday and bombarded the Admiralty offices and other Government buildings. The soldiers in the fort replied to the fire. The mutineers finally were subdued, but not before a number of men had been killed or wounded.

The mutinous boat is the Skory, and gave fight to the gunboat Mandschur, the destroyers Garsovoz, Smely and Serditza and the garrison of one of the harbor forts, manned by the Twelfth Regiment of Artillery. The Skory soon was overwhelmed, and she had to be beached to save her from sinking. This was not accomplished, however, before her guns had done considerable damage, and several officers and men of the other ships had been killed or wounded.

The crew of the Skory were incited by agitators, including some Jews who had managed to get on board and take charge of the destroyer. She steamed out into the harbor with the red flag flying, and at once opened fire on the town and forts. A gunboat and three destroyers went out to engage her, and with the aid of the forts soon had her riddled and helpless. She then turned and ran through the surf and was beached.

Those of the crew who had not been killed or wounded by the gunfire were arrested by soldiers as they made their way to land. Among the men killed are Capt. Kurosch, commander of the torpedo boat Ravy, and Lieut. Stoer, commander of the Skory; Lieut. Vassilief, commander of the Serditza, was wounded. Several people in Vladivostock were killed by shells from Skory. The town has been declared in a state of siege.

CONTRACTED WITH RAILWAYS.

Deputy Minister Discovers How Japs Are Assisted Here.

Vancouver, B. C., Nov. 1.—W. L. Mackenzie King, Deputy Minister of Labor, who is investigating the claims of Japanese arising out of the recent riots, has secured evidence showing the existence of a system employed by boarding-housekeepers to bring Jap laborers into the country.

Four organizations here, who have contracts with the railway companies and others to supply laborers, deal with similar companies in Japan. The immigrants are taken care of by boarding-housekeepers here who supply them with work, and take about ten per cent. wages as long as they are on the job. The men have also to pay the companies in Japan.

United States Captain Arrested.

Montreal, Nov. 1.—Capt. Sullivan of the United States steamer John Lamber was arrested on a charge of breaking the laws of navigation on the St. Lawrence. Capt. Sullivan was in command of the John Lambert when it collided with the Cassandra of the Donaldson line, and was condemned by the Admiralty Court.

Blaze at Dover Hotel.

Dover, N. H., Nov. 1.—Fire broke out in the American House, the principal hotel in Dover, at 1.35 o'clock yesterday morning and a number of the guests narrowly escaped with their lives. Four of the guests were taken down the ladders by firemen, and a fifth inmate was carried out. None of the five was injured.

FATAL TRAIN WRECK IN THE WEST

Passenger Train Crashes Into Freight Near Regina.

TWO KILLED; MANY INJURED

Express Messenger and Fireman the Victims—Dozens Badly Shaken Up —Local Train Was Running Late —Cars Were Entirely Smashed Up—Engines and Tenders Lifted Clear Off the Rails.

Regina, Nov. 1.—As a result of a head-on collision between the eastbound Moose Jaw local and a westbound freight on the Canadian Pacific Railway, N. J. Robinson, express messenger, of Winnipeg, and Fireman Charles Britt were instantly killed and many were seriously injured, with dozens of people badly shaken up. The wreck occurred four miles east of Regina on the main line on Wednesday. The eastbound local, running a few minutes late, crashed into the westbound freight. The two engines were driven through each other to the piston heads, and the tenders were lifted clear off the rails. Baggage and express cars were badly smashed up, the former being thrown from the rails and the latter completely telescoping the tender of the passenger engine.

The cause of the wreck is not yet apparent, but it is plain that someone has blundered, and Coroner Thomson, who was early on the scene, has made arrangements for holding an inquest over the bodies.

A. E. Emslie of Winnipeg, mail clerk, was seriously hurt. The dead men are Charles Britt, fireman of engine No. 470, pulling the passenger train, and N. J. Robinson of Winnipeg, express messenger. Robinson died before he was removed from the car to be taken to the hospital. He is a married man with two children and well known here and in Winnipeg. Supt. Brownlee, Mr. Price and the railway officials have gone down with the wrecking crew from Moose Jaw. The injured are: A. E. Emslie, mail clerk, of Winnipeg, who may die, and George Hinchey, the engineer, who will recover

Fireman Britt was a young Englishman and had been employed by the C. P. R. since coming to Canada four years ago. Engineer Hinchey, who was terribly scalded and cut, formerly ran out of Ignace, Ont. He was one of the oldest drivers on the road.

GIRL ASSASSIN EXECUTED.

Sentenced and Hanged Day After Killing Russian General.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 1.—Mlle. Ragozinnikova, who, on Oct. 28, killed Gen. Maximoffsky, director of the Department of Prisons of the Ministry of the Interior, was hanged yesterday morning.

The woman was born in the Province of Perm, and was the daughter of a teacher in the Imperial Conservatory of Music.

She was tried by court-martial Oct. 29 in the fortress of St. Peter and St. Paul, was sentenced the same day to death by hanging, and the warrant for her execution was signed on Wednesday by Gen. Hasfkampf, chief of the St. Petersburg military district, in spite of the wishes of Gen. Maximoffsky, who, when he had been taken to the hospital of the Grand Duchess Catherine Pavlone, after being shot, expressed a desire that the woman be not executed.

Letter 15 Years on Way.

Pittsburg, Nov. 1.—Mailed on Dec. 2, 1892, from Hatsville, Germany, a letter arrived Wednesday at the Greenock postoffice for Jacob Diehl. Fourteen years [illegible] months and 25 days were taken up in the transmission of the communication which related to the distribution of the $5,000 estate of Mrs. Diehl's father, and the delay caused Mrs. Diehl to receive a smaller portion of the estate.

The letter was addressed to Emblem, which is across the Yonghiogheny River from Greenock, the latter town being six miles from McKeesport. Formerly Emblem had a postoffice, but years ago is was transferred to Greenock.

Diehl lived within a stone's throw the postoffice and visited it daily. Wednesday the building was torn down and the letter found. The writing could be easily read, although the paper was yellow with age.

Thaw's Defence Insanity.

New York, Nov. 1.—Announcement was made yesterday that insanity is to be the plea in the defence of Harry Kendall Thaw, whose second trial for the slaying of Stanford White will begin on Dec. 2 next.

Martin W. Littleton, chief counsel for Thaw, it is stated, has decided on this course. He is said to be convinced that Thaw is insane. Ever since he took charge of the case, it is said, Mr. Littletop has given the question of Thaw's mentality careful study. He has traced the Thaw family tree, and, it is said, has decided that the insanity of Thaw may have been an inheritance.

Bank Cashier Swallowed Poison.

Desmoines, Ia., Nov. 1.—Frank Croker, cashier of the First National Savings Bank of Chorlton, committed suicide by taking poison early yesterday. The bank is closed, but is believed to be in good shape. An investigation will be made.

Worry over losses from alleged use of Modern Woodmen funds is believed to have been the cause of the suicide. Croker left a note saying: "I can't bear this strain any longer."

Killed Canadian Woman.

Washington, Nov. 1.—The War Department has been notified that the civil authorities at Detroit have decided to drop all proceedings against Pte. Cyrus Gillette, a soldier in the United States army, who accidentally shot and killed a young Canadian woman while firing at a fleeing deserter at Fort Brady several months ago, and that Gillette has been returned to the military authorities.

HITCHCOCK DISAPPEARS.

General Police Alarm Sent Out For Arrest of Comedian.

New York, Nov. 1.—A general police alarm was sent out Wednesday night for the arrest of Raymond Hitchcock, the actor, against whom the grand jury returned six indictments Wednesday night for criminal assault and abduction, after hearing the testimony of three little girls.

The order, which required the officers to watch all outgoing trains and steamers, described the indicted man as about 40 years of age, with light hair and blue eyes.

Hitchcock was recently arrested on a similar charge, and after preliminary examination in the Police Court was released under $3,000 bonds, pending a further hearing.

The girls, Elsie Voecks, Helen Von Hagen and Flora Wishton, aged from 13 to 15 years, who figured in the original case, were taken before the grand jury. It was upon their testimony that the six indictments were returned.

Hitchcock has been playing the leading role at a Broadway theatre, but did not appear at the matinee Wednesday, and it was said that he had been dropped from the cast. The theatre management said that Hitchcock's name would not be on the bills.

Late Wednesday night Hitchcock had not been found. Recently Hitchcock caused the arrest of a brother of the Voecks girl, who, he alleged, had attempted to blackmail him by threatening to cause the publication of matter reflecting upon the actor. Friends of Voecks and others interested in the case then brought the action which resulted in Hitchcock's arrest.

Guns For Brazil.

London, Nov. 1.—It was rumored here recently that the new British battleship of the Dreadnought type, were to have 13.5-inch instead of 12-inch guns. It was known that such guns were being constructed. It now appears, however, that they are for the two Brazilian battleships, the orders for which have been placed with the Armstrongs.

The gigantic guns mark a notable step in naval construction and armament. They will be mounted in special barbettes and so arranged that they will be able to concentrate their fire on either broadside. It is declared that the piercing power of the shells thrown by those great guns will be greater than that of any others now in use.

Starts 28-Day Walk.

Portland, Me., Nov. 1.—Planning to duplicate his feat of forty years ago, of walking 1,230 miles to Chicago in 28 days, Edward Payson Weston started in a driving rainstorm at 5 o'clock last night from the Portland postoffice amid the cheers and good wishes of a thousand spectators. He is 69 years old.

Weston expects to arrive at the Chicago postoffice on Thursday, Nov. 28, at 2 p. m., averaging 50 miles a day. He will go by way of Boston, Troy, Utica, Syracuse, Buffalo, Toledo and Cleveland.

City's Greatest Holiday

Thanksgiving Day Events makes Peterboro famous throughout the Dominion

STRENUOSITY'S STEADY STREAM; STIRRINGLY STRIKING SCENES OF GREATEST HOLIDAY IN HISTORY

Peterborough has never seen such a Thanksgiving Day as yesterday—probably it will never see such a one again. It was a day of enthusiasm; enthusiasm which at intervals, when occasion offered, burst forth spontaneously from the thousands of the city's population, who on the streets.

Athletics held the boards in Peterborough this Thanksgiving Day, and the exploits of its athletes were not confined to the boundaries of the city, either. It is probable that no town or city in Canada is being as much talked of as Peterborough.

The event of local interest was the Examiner road race, described fully in other portions of this paper. It was in every respect a splendid success.

Another event, of more than local interest, was the performance of David Hartley, the Walking Wonder. He broke all records for long-distance walking, doing the 132 miles from Oshawa to Toronto, and return to Peterborough, in 34 hours and 6 minutes, towering Reynolds' record by over two hours. His arrival in the city yesterday afternoon, shortly after four o'clock, was the occasion for a demonstration, the like of which has never been seen before in this city. The route for miles from the finishing point was lined with spectators, and the plucky little walker was cheered to the echo at every step. The enthusiasm increased in volume until the Munro House was reached, where several thousand spectators gathered to witness the finish of the most remarkable walking exploit ever accomplished in Canada, if not in the world.

Hartley's performance furnishes the inspiration for the following Limerisk—

There's a plucky old boy, Davie Hartley,
As fleet as a deer—that is partly,
Here's a hundred to one —
Think before you say "done,"—
He can "shave" Jimmie Reynolds quite smartly!

Fred Simpson, a Hiawatha Indian, and a product of the Examiner road race, was in Hamilton yesterday, winning laurels for his tribe and for Peterborough. A rank outsider, he finished second in the Hamilton Herald road race, the greatest long distance race in America.

In a field of over two hundred starters, Ray Best, winner of last year's Examiner race, finished twenty-fifth, being one of 161 to take the run around the mountain, and per-forming a feat worthy of the city he represented.

Other honours came Peterborough's way yesterday, too. In a final game, to decide the district championship, the Peterborough Rugby team defeated the Victorias, of Toronto, in Lindsay, by a score of 15—6, and will now play Westmount for the Dominion honours.

The Thanksgiving Day services in the two Anglican churches, yesterday, St. John's and All Saints', were largely attended, and the services were appropriate to the spirit of the day.

The usual number of visitors were in the city for the holiday, while a great many went away to spend the day with friends in other places, though, it is stated, that the number of persons travelling from Peterborough this Thanksgiving Day, was not equal to that of last year, and other years, the events of interest in the city being responsible, probably, for this decreased exodus.

Taken altogether, the day in Peterborough, was one of the most remarkable in the history of the town and city. There may not b eanother day like it in the lifetime of this generation.

HARTLEY THE HEEL AND TOE HERO OF THE HOUR; A WALKING WONDER ON THE HIGHWAYS

Smashes Jimmy Reynold's Record by Two Hours And Thirteen Minutes And Establishes a Name For Himself ---Walks 132 Miles in 34 Hours 6 Minutes

HE WAS IN SPLENDID CONDITION AT THE FINISH

One of The Greatest Feats of The Day---Subscription Taken Up For Assistance of Hartley---A Triumphant Entry Into The City

Hartley is a walking wonder!

He made good in his long tramp of 132 miles, and is now the heel and toe hero of the hour. His triumphant entry into the city yesterday afternoon was one of the greatest outbursts of enthusiasm ever seen on the streets of Peterborough, and Davie Hartley, the painter, has made a record that places Jimmy Reynolds, the tonsorial pride of Port Hope, in the background.

Hartley's time from Oshawa to Toronto, and return to Peterborough, was 34 hours and 6 minutes, or just 2 hours and 13 minutes better than Reynolds' time of a few days ago, for four miles less distance. His walk was the chief topic of the day yesterday, and when it was found that the walking wonder would finish inside scheduled time, and make a Canadian record, the excitement was intense. His reception here was just as hearty as that of the Duke of Wellington on his homeward march from Waterloo, and his entry into the city was, figuratively speaking, like the triumph of a Roman general, with Jimmie Reynolds in chains fastened to the triumphant car. Though "Davy," as he is familiarly known to his admirers, is a painter, he does not claim to be an artist, yet he certainly is a great musician, considering the manner in which he has beaten time in his long grind of 132 miles. Jimmie Rynolds, the barber, who is claimed to be one of the greatest walkers of the day, must acknowledge defeat by a Peterborough man not many years younger, but a man who for stamina and grit and go has beaten the best of them.

Greeted Like a King

The finish of the great walk was the feature of the event, so far as Peterborough was concerned. Hundreds of citizens, walked, wheeled or rode out into North Monaghan to see the wonder lessen the distance to his destination, and the steady stream of strenuosity that followed bore testimony to the admiration of those who cheered him on. He walked along for the last few miles at least with a stride that few could follow. He finished strong, and could easily have added another 5 or 10 miles should the occasion have demanded it. His average time, including all stops, was almost four miles per hour. David Hartley is a wonder, and Peterborough should be proud of him.

Arriving at the Munro House, at exactly 4.06 p.m., Hartley walked

A BARBER BROKE THE BY-LAW

Fined $9.10 for Shaving Man Who Entered After Eight O'clock

A breach of the barbers' bylaw was charged against a local barber in the police court to-day, and as a result he was found guilty and fined $5, and costs, amounting to $9.10. He is not a union man, and was not aware of the fact that there is a bylaw prohibiting work after 8 p.m., on ordinary days. The original copy of the bylaw was produced and this man's name was signed to it with the others.

On the 25th, shortly after eight o'clock, a man went into the shop in question and had a hair cut and shave. Interested eyewitnesses reported the matter and it was placed in the authorities' hands.

CLOTHES FOUND NEAR THE RIVER

At the End of Sherbrooke Street, Near Boathouses

A parcel of clothes found by P. C. McGinty yesterday afternoon near the boat houses at the end of Sherbrooke street presents a mystery. There is a pair of man's trousers, two coats, and a pair of boots, all in fair condition. Someone, it is believed, must have stolen these and left the old ones behind, or else it is a bluff. There are no braces, and no suspicious circumstances are presented in connection with the finding.

THE WEATHER.

The thermometer yesterday morning was down to the lowest point it has been this season, namely, 13 degrees. During the day it went up to 49 degrees. The weather yesterday was perfect — an ideal October day, and the barometer was at the highest point it has been for months, 29.86. Last evening however it began to fall and a change is imminent.

Eleven Starters

The Examiner Road Race is producing a type of long-distance runners which cannot be excelled in Canada or the United States. This fact was demonstrated conclusively yesterday, when the second of these annual events was held under most favourable circumstances, and constituted the chief feature of a Thanksgiving Day unique in the history of Peterborough. While the race was being run here, two of the winners of last year, Ray Best, who held the cup for a year, and Fred Simpson, who was third in 1906 were running under Peterborough colours—and brought credit to them—in other long distance events.

That running has taken a strong hold upon the citizens of Peterborough was demonstrated yesterday, when the largest crowd ever seen of George street gathered to witness the finish in the Examiner Race. From Smith street to the Examiner office thousands of persons lined the streets and waited for the finish of the two races, cheering themselves hoarse as the winners in the events passed down the line and crossed the tape.

The races were a success beyond the most sanguine expectations of the most enthusiastic supporters of athletics in [illegible], satisfying fact to the promoters of the event, which during the short time since its inauguration has proved that all that is required is an opportunity to demonstrate that the runners of Peterborough county take second place to none as a class in Canada, if not on the continent.

The time made in the senior ten mile event yesterday pretty nearly constitutes a road record for Canada, 55 minutes and 16 seconds, breaking four minutes and thirty-four seconds off the time made last year by Ray Best. It is a significant fact, too, that the winner of this race, Ernest Wilson was the second man in the race of 1906.

The runners this year were of a uniformly better class than those of 1906, a far greater proportion of the number starting, finishing the race.

One of the facts contributing most largely to the success of the races yesterday was the fact that the weather was ideal, for running, and the roads too were in excellent condition, a combination of circumstances which aided materially to successful culmination of the plans for the day.

The new feature this year was the junior race, and it proved a popular event, hundreds turning out to see the first five mile race for juniors in the history of Peterborough. The youngsters did remarkably well too, the winner covering the distance in less than 30 minutes. The work of the boys in this race gave evidence to the fact that there is being developed a superior class of runners, and in a few years some fast senior men will be recruited from the ranks of the boys who yesterday made such an excellent showing.

The Examiner cannot but feel gratified at the result of the efforts to develop the purest of all sports—running—and at the generous degree of appreciation given evidence to by the citizens of Peterborough.

Ben Howard, the Hiawatha Indian Who Finished Second

Ernest Moss, of Havelock, Third Man In Senior Road Race

Junior Race

The junior road race, run also under the auspices of the Examiner, was by no means an uninteresting event. The youthful runners, all under 17 years of age, travelled by bus to the starting point at the five-mile post above Nassau, and by the roadside made ready for the jaunt into

RETURN FOR THANKSGIVING DINNER WAS TO BREAK CHURCH FENCES

It was a very poor return for a Thanksgiving dinner, such as the excellent one provided by the ladies of St. Andrew's Church last night, when the fence surrounding the church, an ornate and expensive structure, was almost completely pulled down and destroyed. The posts were broken off at the ground, and the iron pipe forming the fence was broken and twisted. The work is probably that of destructively inclined Hallow E'en fiends, and, while it may have provided some little excitement for the moment, it will be an expensive night's work for the church managers, and also for the guilty persons if they are apprehended.

CANADA NOT A BURDEN

The recently published correspondence of Queen Victoria indicates pretty fully how the opinions of herself and the statesmen of her time in regard to the relations of Canada to the Empire had to be revised. The Earl Gray of 1846 and the Earl Gray of 1907, saw and see Canada in her relations to the Empire through a vastly different atmosphere. In both cases they had a view of the future of this country. Earl Gray, of 1846 saw the then present and future of Canada through the haze and fog of recently crushed rebellion provoked by misgovernment and the smoke of battle between a people, new to the experiment of responsible government, with a Metcalfe, aiming in effect, at the reorudescence of the autocratic and irresponsible rule which provoked the uprising of 1837-8. It was a time of stress and uncertainty and doubt, and the Queen's untavourable opinion of these conditions were shared and possibly reflected by the prince consort who in a letter to Earl Gray, Aug. 3rd, 1846 wrote as follows:—

"The subject of the government of Canada is one which the Queen has much at heart. Canada has been for a long time, and may probably still be for the future, a source of great weakness to this empire, and a number of experiments have been tried. It was in a very bad state before the union, continuously embarrassing the home government, and the union has by no means acted as a remedy. But it may be said almost to have increased the difficulties. The only thing that has hitherto proved beneficial was the prudent, consistent and impartial administration of Lord Metcalfe."

While Canadian and royal opinions differ as to the character of Lord Metcalfe's relations to Canada and the development of responsible government, the pessimism that then prevailed in official circles in the old land has long since been discredited and the Earl Gray of 1907 sees Canada in a far different light, present and potential. Canada instead of having been for long "a source of weakness" to the Empire, is in many ways a source of the greatest strength—the granary of the Empire, and all that that relation implies, the home of her crowded out millions. To the Earl Gray of 1846 was shown a Canadian future, with little to light its sombre hues. The Earl Gray of 1907 sees the future of Canada through the rose-tinted atmosphere of robust faith and hope, and nascent realization of national greatness.

LONDON THE LESS

Conservatives are jubilating over the omission of the Liberals of London to put a candidate in the field. Their glee should be tempered by the recollection that in the city of St. Johns, New Brunswick, formerly represented by a Conservative, that party failed to put up a candidate and now St. Johns is represented by a Liberal. The rejoicing over London is perhaps premature. There was a reasonably good reason why a Liberal candidate was not nominated for the bye-election in London. When Mr. Hyman, the late representative, was unanimously placed in nomination, some months ago, there was every expectation that he would be completely restored to health, and able to lead the Liberal forces in person on this occasion. His progress has not been so rapid as hoped for at that time. Since then a long ocean voyage prescribed by medical advisers, and a sojourn in the Orient, have stimulated his improvement, and he is steadily gaining, but he is not yet in a condition to safely undertake the labours of a campaign. The Advertiser explains that the feeling among the Liberals of the city was that Mr. Hyman's claim to the candidature was incontestable, and that so long as there was a prospect that he would return to public life, the door should be open to him. Assurances have been received that he is so far on the road to recovery that if he is spared the rigors of a Canadian winter, his health will, in all probability, be fully recruited in a few months, so that his return may be looked for in the spring. Under these circumstances there could be no disposition to put forward any other name, though there is plenty of good parliamentary material in the Liberal ranks. The problem before the convention, therefore, was whether or not to run Mr. Hyman in his absence. An intimation that Mr. Hyman himself would prefer not to be an absentee candidate clinched the matter, and the Liberals will conserve their energies for the general election.

ADVERTISING PETERBOROUGH

Thanksgiving Day was a great day for Peterborough—in the way of advertisement. Dave Hartley, the walking wonder, the prince of pedestrians, the heel-and-toe hero of the hour, brought the city into the limelight, and has made Peterborough the talk of the time throughout the whole country. In the Hamilton Herald Road Race a Peterborough boy, Fred Simpson, came second over a stretch of twenty miles of, perhaps, the most difficult road race course in the country, beating runners of continental reputation and achievement, in his first trial on the track. In the Montreal Herald Road Race, another Peterborough boy, Ray Best, the winner of last years Examiner Road Race, came in twenty-fifth in a field of 161 finishers. The Peterborough rugby team won from the Victorias, of Toronto, the rubber which made them champions of the district and has put them in the running for the rugby championship of the Province and Dominion. The thousands who witnessed the double header Examiner Road Race were a testimony to, and appreciation of, the enterprise and energy of the Examiner and Peterborough its home city. Peterborough got great advertising yesterday. If the Board of Trade and the City Council will keep up their end, the athletic element of the city will do the rest.

EDITORIAL NOTES

By a regrettable oversight omission was made to credit to the Globe an article printed on this page yesterday, "The Issue in the Bye-Elections."

Kipling should make a note of the fact that while Canada may have snow flurries which do no harm to live stock, New York has financial flurries which are fatal to thousands of shorn lambs.

Before the London bye-election Major Beattie, the Conservative candidate, in his only public address said that his candidature implied no ill will to Mr. Hyman, and that his success could not be construed into a party victory. And Major Beattie should know almost as well as the Review.

The Whitney Government beats the Laurier Government to a stand still in one department at least. While the Whitney Government has established government ownership by setting up a government guillotine for chopping off the heads of "Grit" officials, the Laurier Government has neglected its opportunities. After ten years in office, only five per cent. of the employees on the Intercolonial Railway are Grits; the other ninety-five per cent. are Conservatives, appointees of the late Conservative Government more than eleven years ago.

TRAINED NURSE

Writes a Letter To The People

"To Whom It May Concern: I am a trained nurse of nine years' experience in hospitals and private cases, and for the benefit of the people of Peterborough I wish you would publish my experience with the cod liver preparation, Vinol.

"I was completely prostrated from overwork. I had no appetite, could not sleep, my kidneys, liver and bowels became inactive, and as I grew weaker I could not retain either medicine or food on my stomach, and raised blood. The doctors said my condition was critical, and I would probably die.

"As I had seen Vinol prescribed for my patients with such remarkable results, I decided to try it. After the first bottle I began to improved. I continued its use, and soon began to sleep and eat well; every organ in my body was strengthened and became normal, until it seemed good to be alive, and I was restored to perfect health and strength.

"I advise all my patients who need strength, rich, red blood, and flesh tissue to take Vinol, as it is so far superior to old-fashioned cod liver oil, emulsions, or other tonics." Elisabeth M. Cremond, Trained Nurse, Boston, Mass.

In Peterborough we sell Vinol on a positive guarantee to refund money if it fails. McDermid & Jury, Druggists. Also the Market Drug Store.

THE WELSHERS.

How Absconding Bookmakers Are Treated In England.

One thing that deters people from wagering large sums at the tracks of England is the comparative frequency with which the bookie there departs with the stakes. This is a rascality almost unknown at an American course, and in the very exceptional cases when it does happen the turf association always makes good all losses.

But if the cry of "welsher" goes up on an English track, prepare for trouble. Battle, murder and sudden death generally follow. As everybody knows a gambling debt is illegitimate, so the mob's only recourse is to take its money's worth out of the unfortunate man's person. They knock him off his box, tear his clothes to pieces, beat, kick and trample on him, and unless he is rescued in time by the police they are apt to finish him altogether. The authorities are on the alert to prevent such things, and as soon as there is a sign of trouble the terror stricken bookmaker is surrounded by a group of "bobbies," who fight their way through the dense mass and escort him beyond the reach of the fury of the mob.—From "The People and the Ponies," by C. F. Peters, in Bohemian.

William John Bennett.
Herbert Cooney,
Matt. Drysdale,
John Doughty,
Charles Knapp,
James J .Neary,
Ben Howard,
Charles Martin,
Ernest Moss.

The event aroused great interest in Lakefield, and several hundred persons gathered around the starting point. The runners were given a hearty cheer, as, at the word of command from Mr. DellaFosse, the fourteen young, well-trained athletes started out on their long run of ten miles. At every farm house along the road there were spectators, and there was some word of encouragment for each of the runners. A number of persons on wheels followed the men all the way from the starting point, although their presence did not interfere materially with the progress of the men until the city limits were reached, when it was with some difficulty that the track was kept clear.

The men started out at a good clip, Wilson and Howard taking the lead right from the first, and it was seen in the early stages of the race that it was going to be a fight between these two for the cup. The performance of all the runners, however, was remarkably good, a much greater proportion of the starters finishing than in the race of last year.

The road was in good shape, and there was little dust to bother the runners, a fact which probably accounts largely for the splendid time made.

Wilson and Howard gradually widened the distance between themselves and the other runners, both running easily and with apparently plenty of reserve energy for the finish. They were never more than ten feet apart, after the race started, Howard pacing the young Harrier runner for a considerable portion of the distance. There is little to choose between these two men, both having the same style of motion, and, as events proved yesterday, their abilities in a ten mile race are as nearly equal as possible.

One of the surprises of the race was the work of young Moss of Havelock, who, duplicating Journey's performance of last year, entered the race an unknown man with no racing experience—yesterday's was his first race — and, passing all, except two, finished a good third, his finish being below the time made by the winner in last year's race.

"Longboat" Bennett, the young English runner, who has been winning races, in spite of the judgment of critics that he was not built for a runner, finished shortly after Moss, and his work was another of the surprising incidents of the race, opinion being generally expressed that the would not finish. He claims that if it had not been for a sprained ankle which he has been nursing for some time, he would have been second. Certainly his work of yesterday entitles him to be reckoned with.

Harvey Staunton was yesterday running his first long race and this popular young man demonstrated to his friends that he has stamina, and that with a year's experience he should be up with the leaders.

The Y.M.C.A. Harriers' Club entries all showed up creditably, and the results of the consistent work of this organization in developing the younger runners of the city are apparent in the race of yesterday.

The Finish

Down Water street came the pair running fresh and strong, the fleet Indian slightly in the lead, and his white rival hanging on with grim determination. There was little sign of the long grind of nearly ten miles that the runners had travelled, and the two burned up the ground as if they were starting a mile race. Over a block behind came Ernest Moss, the game Havelock boy, running strong and well ahead of "Longboat," the English lad, who showed little signs of fatigue. Behind them came Thorpe, Sanderson and Staunton in the order named, and out of the race, but still game were Cooney, O'Donnel, Doughty, Neary and Knapp, trailing out in a procession.

As the leading pair swung around the corner of Smith street into George street with the finish only a few blocks away, there was no change in the situation. Wilson had come up slightly, and the white sweater of the Indian and the blue of the Y.M.C.A. boy were side by side. At Dublin street they were still on even terms and the pace was getting hotter all the time. Near the Y.M.C.A. Wilson went ahead, but his lead was only momentary, and when the two reached Brock street and plunged into the enormous crowd that thronged the road from there to the finishing point in front of the Examiner office, the two were still running side by side.

The finish was a magnificent one. From the corner, Howard and Wilson sprinted together like a pair of hundred yard sprinters. Heads thrown back and running on their toes, the spurted for the line only a few yards away. To within a few feet of the finish they kept together, then Howard, evidently thinking he had reached the line, stopped, and Wilson went on and won by a few feet. The crowd was so great that the two game rivals ran the last 100 yards down a human lane, and as Howard reached the line, Wilson's pace-makers, both mounted on wheels, collided, and fell in a heap across the finishing line.

Moss, the third man, had difficulty in getting through the crowds, and when Bennett, the fourth man, appeared, nearly four minutes behind the leader, he found himself confronted with a surging sea of humanity and had to run through beside a street car to get to the line. The others finished in the order in which they entered the city limits.

The races aroused the greatest excitement in the city. At nine o'clock, an hour before the races were billed to start, the crowd had begun to gather in front of the Examiner office, and whiled away the time by following David Hartley's progress by means of the Examiner bulletins. At 10.30 o'clock, when the junior race finished, there were thousands of people on George street. The pavement and street were jammed as far north as the Y.M.C.A. and the three policemen on duty had great difficulty in opening a laneway through the crowd for the winner and those who finished after him.

It was in the senior race that the most interest was centred. Wilson and Howard both had a large following in the crowd while Martin and Bennett were thought by a large number to have a good chance for the cup.

When a bulletin was hung out notifying the crowd that the Indian was ahead at Nassau, with Wilson at his heels there was great excitement, which was increased when another bulletin showed that the two were on even terms at the Auburn power house. From that time until the finish there was the greatest excitement, and when the runers came in sight at Smith street it became impossible to restrain the crowd, and they broke out into the middle of the road. A street car was slowly run down through the multitude, and so excited were the people that the motorman was hailed with such hoots and shouts one would think that a car strike was on, and that he was a "scab" motorman. The police did their best to keep the crowd back, and succeeded in keeping a narrow road open for them. When the two had finished, however, the lane had disappeared, and the road for two blocks was swept out of sight beneath the crowd. Hundreds viewed the finish from the upstairs windows of the adjacent buildings, and those who did so were rewarded by a far better view of the last desperate spurt.

Long after the races were over, the Examiner office remained the headquarters of the crowd who remained outside reading the bulletins, and discussing the races until after noon.

A bulletin announcing that Fred Simpson, the local Indian, had taken second place at Hamilton, added to the enthusiasm of the crowd.

The thanks of the Examiner are due and are hereby tendered to the following officials, to whose efficiency much of the success of the race is due.

Starters at Lakefield, Messrs. F. M. DellaFosse and A. Poe.
Judge of Course, Seniors, Mr. A. Poe.
Timer, Mr. Alex. Gibson.
Starter and Judge of Course, Juniors, Mr. J. D. Craig.
Timer, Mr. F. A. Clarke.
Judge at Finish, Mr. R. M. Roy.

The Roy Studio took a number of excellent photographs of the finish of the races and of the winners afterwards. In one of the pictures the finish is clearly shown, and it demonstrates that the claim that Wilson had a good lead is justified, since both men are seen running, Wilson being about ten feet ahead of the Indian.

the city. The start was witnessed by some half a hundred admirers on wheels, who followed their respective favourites into the city.

Exactly at the stroke of ten Mr. J. D. Craig gave the word "Go" to the dozen lined-up runners, and all started off at an easy gait. The twelve had scarcely gone when it was demonstrated that the race was between Peter Wallace of the Y.M.C.A. and Jimmy McMartin, the Otonabee youth, who attended to his own training.

McMartin went off at a fast clip and led the twelve for the first mile, making it in 6.5. The runners then gradually widened the distance between the first and last and extended themselves over a considerable portion of the road. Wallace, after the first mile, took the lead from young McMartin, who followed him closely for a couple of miles. The leader made the second mile in good time, doing it in exactly 5.55. Cross, who finished third, kept that place all the way down after the runners got nicely going, but was always a few hundred yards behind the winners.

Made Good Time

Wallace made the third mile in 5.55 and gradually increased his lead. He ran a good race, made good time, and finished strong in 29 minutes and 30 seconds amid the cheers of thousands on the street. McMartin crossed the tape in 30.10, and Cross in 31 minutes. Following these the next two finishers were Walsh in 33.26 and Muskrat, the Biawatha Indian, in 33.21. The only runners who entered the junior race and didn't finish were Herbert and Gurty Crough.

The junior Examiner road race was a complete success from every standpoint, and has brought out some runners who will make good in senior events of the future.

The official time keeper for the junior event was Mr. Fred Clarke, who watched the start, and caught the boys as they crossed the line in front of the Examiner office.

Kangaroos Saved a Rothschild.

Walter Rothschild, the richest bachelor in England, had a close call with matrimony when he was a young man. A designing mamma had managed to get the heir to the Rothschild millions interested in her daughter, and the daughter did all she could to lead the interest up to the point of a marriage proposal.

One night at a watering place, after Rothschild had retired to his room, he heard voices under his window which he recognised as those of the young lady and her mamma.

"Has he proposed yet?" asked the old woman.

"Not yet," answered the daughter, "but I'll have him hooked before long if only I can endure his conversation. Tonight he bored me almost to death talking about his kangaroos."

"I am sorry," said Rothschild, putting his head out of the window, "to have bored you with tales of my animals. Forgive me. I shall never do so again." And he never did.—London Echo.

The Name Saratoga.

The original name of Saratoga was "Serachtague." About the middle of the eighteenth century it was "Saraghtoge." During the administration of Governor Leisler it was "Sarachtoga." Isn't this quaint—from 1689:

Upon ye news yt three People should be kild at Bartel Vromans at Sarachtoge by ye Indians,—

Resolved by ye Convention yt Lief Jochim Staets forwith goe with ten men to Sarachtoge to see how ye matter is, & bring us an accompt with ye first, & yt he Cito send a Post hither with ye tidings.

Spelling reformers would be delighted with "kild." And "ye" is shorter than "the," and "yt" is shorter than "that." "Goe" is expansive, but "forwith" for "forthwith" is a contraction. Schoolcraft thinks that Saratoga is derived from the Indian words "Assarat"—sparkling, and "oga"—place.—New York Press.

Dr. Mabie and the Liveryman.

A literary pilgrim, says the Saturday Evening Post, once made his way to Summit, N. J., to pay his respects to Hamilton Wright Mabie. At the station he asked the liveryman who had been in service there for thirty years:

"Can you tell me where Dr. Mabie lives?"

"Never heard of him," replied the liveryman.

"Surely you must," continued the pilgrim. "I mean Hamilton Wright Mabie."

"Shucks!" responded the driver. "He ain't a doctor. He's a reporter for a newspaper."

When told of this incident Mr. Mabie put the seal on it by saying:

"And just to think that I subscribed for a wooden leg for that liveryman!"

Lord Young's Wit.

Looking across the table of a public dinner at the overrubicund and fishy eyes of his neighbor opposite, Lord Young, who was a famous lawyer, inquired who the owner of the vinous countenance might be and was told he was the president of a water trust. "Aye," said Lord Young. "Well, he looks like a man that could be trusted with any amount of water!"

Some one told Lord Young that the house of lords had on appeal affirmed a decision of his. "It may be right, after all," was his lordship's reply.

A Former Peterborough Boy "Exchange Professor" For German University

Prof. Schofield's Appointment Causes Mix-up in Diplomatic Relations — He Will Represent Harvard At Berlin

WAS BORN IN THIS COUNTY

Professor Schofield, a former Peterborough man, has been appointed "Exchange Professor" from Harvard University for Berlin, Germany, this year, and the appointment has raised a storm of protest on both sides of the Atlantic on the ground that an American subject should have been selected instead of a Briton. This appointment is one much sought after, and it is considered a great honour to be chosen. Professor Schofield's subject yesterday, when he delivered his inaugural address in the presence of the German Emperor,

Who Schofield is

Prof. Schofield is the son of a Methodist minister, who was graduated from Victoria and died some years ago at Warsaw, Ont. The professor's mother moved to Lakefield, and the former received his preparatory education in Peterborough Collegiate Institute.

He entered Victoria at 16 years of age and was graduated in 1889, winning the gold medal.

Chancellor Burwash says that Prof. Schofield was a very brilliant student.

He taught in the Hamilton Collegiate for some years and then went to Boston. He got a fellowship at Harvard and travelled in Europe, going to Germany, Denmark, Sweden and also to Paris. He made a specialty of middle English.

He was afterwards appointed a lecturer and ten a professor of Harvard. Last year he was married to a Massachusetts lady.

His mother is at present living in Lakefield, her first husband having died, and she is now Mrs. Sherin. A brother of Prof. Schofield, George, at one time and for several years, conducted a store on George street, between Hunter and Brock streets.

OLDE TYME CONCERTE A SUCCESS

Peterborough People Took Part in the Affair at Springville

Ye Olde Tyme Concerte given in the Presbyterian church, Springville on Wednesday night was a great success. The attendance was large and the programme was most enjoyable. Among those who took part in the musical numbers were Miss E. Chasty and Mr. Kenneth Shook, while Miss Bryce and Miss Harrison, of Keene also contributed. The choir of the Springville church were dressed in old time costumes and gave the story of life from the cradle to the empty chairs in thirteen tableaux. The old methods of agriculture were also illustrated and this part of the programme proved decidedly interesting.

HALLOWE'EN PRANKS BY THE BOYS

Damage Done by Some Youths May Mean Trouble

The boys who were out for fun last night did not all remember that there was a limit to their mischief. Reports from Gilmour street state that two verandah electric lights were cut down and stolen. Another man had a window broken by a stone, and walks and fences were torn up. Two farmers reported the loss of a plow and buggy, and there is likely to be trouble for the guilty parties.

BLACK CLOUD INJURED IN RUNAWAY

Staked Its Breast Against a Tree—Buggy Smashed

"Black Cloud," the fast trotter belonging to Mr. Jas. Kelly, ran away last night on Lake street, smashed the buggy to which it was attached, and almost staked itself against a tree. Mr. Kelly left him in charge of a man while he called at a house, and the horse attempted to get away and succeeded. The driver was thrown out, the top was broken off the buggy, which belonged to Lee and McCollum, and the animal badly injured.

Kidney Disease on the Increase

Recent reports from the New York Board of Health show that kidney disease is greatly on the increase. Bright's Disease as well as the other dreadfully painful forms of kidney disease can always be prevented and usually cured by the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills which have a direct and combined influence on the kidneys and liver.

The First Teacups.

Even after tea was introduced into Europe and had come into general use teacups were scarce. At the same time coffee was introduced; but, apart from Constantinople, the first coffee cups in Europe date back only as far as 1645 in Venice, 1659 in Paris, 1652 in London and 1694 in Leipsic. From the first, however, the conventional oriental coffee cup, without stem or handle, was little used, and in Germany not at all. The Chinese teacup was used for tea, coffee and chocolate as well. Specimens of porcelain were undoubtedly introduced into Europe in the middle ages, yet not till the sixteenth century were cups imported from China in any great quantities, and even then it was as articles of vertu. Most of those found their way back into China again, as collecting porcelain is a lasting fad there, and high prices are paid for good specimens. The collection of Chinese porcelain, if only the genuine specimens are desired, requires immense study and knowledge, as the Chinese are skillful imitators and put numerous falsifications on the market.

Society Music.

Mary will have to be asked to play when she goes out in society. A proud mamma will attend to that. And Mary will play with faithful accuracy something from Chopin or Beethoven or Mendelssohn, and the young people will watch her chubby fingers thoughtfully and wonder when the selection will come to an end. They will applaud, too—when the end is reached—for that is good manners, and everybody likes Mary, anyhow. And then—well, Lucy Smith, who has never taken lessons, will rollick up to the piano and begin a coon song, hands and feet will beat time all over the room, half the listeners will hum the refrain, everybody will see the difference between the piano as a penance and as a pleasure, and only Mary's mamma will make unpleasant side remarks about the degeneracy of popular taste in music.—Cynthia Westover Alden in Success Magazine.

A Misunderstood Jest.

Lord Lytton when viceroy of India was seated one day at dinner next to a lady whose name was Birch and who, though very good looking, was not overintelligent. Said she to his excellency:

"Are you acquainted with any of the Birches?"

"Oh, yes!" replied Lord Lytton. "I knew several of them most intimately while at Eton—indeed, more intimately than I cared to."

"My lord," replied the lady, "you forget the Birches are relatives of mine."

"And they cut me," said the viceroy, "but," and he smiled his wonted smile, "I have never felt more inclined to kiss the rod than I do now."

Sad to say, Mrs. Birch did not see the point and told her husband his excellency had insulted her.

A Dumas Story.

Dumas the elder was rarely spiteful to or about his fellow men, but one day, when he happened to be in that mood, a friend called to tell him a piece of news. "They have just given M. X. the Legion of Honor," he said. Then he added in a significant tone, "Now, can you imagine why they should have given it to him?"

"Yes," answered the great dramatist promptly. "They have given it to him because he was without it."

THE PLAGUE IN INDIA.

Most Appalling Horror That Has Ever Been Recorded.

The greatest calastrophe the world has ever known is in progress at this present moment, and the world recks little or nothing of it.

This is the plague epidemic in India, which has now been raging for more than eleven years and which, so far from showing any tendency to die out, keeps steadily increasing in intensity. Thus during the six weeks ended May 11 last 481,892 persons perished from it, or at the rate of over 80,000 deaths a week.

Nothing approaching the appalling horror represented by these figures has ever been recorded before. The nearest to it was in 1005, when during the last week in March the epidemic was responsible for 57,702 deaths.

No pestilence of ancient or modern times of which we have any knowledge has slain so many millions of people as has this one, and the end of which, mind, is not yet.

The "great plague" of London, for example, about which everybody has heard, killed at the outside some 80,000 people in seven months, or about as many as are dying weekly in India from a disease which is identical with it in every respect.

The "black death" is said to have slain one-third of the then population of England—say 1,500,000 persons—but this is doubtful. Even admitting the correctness of the estimate, however, the mortality of the present epidemic in India has already more than doubled this huge total.

What will be the end no man can foresee or venture to forecast. It may be that all that has gone before and all that is happening now, inexpressibly awful though it is, is but the prelude of worse to follow.—Pearson's Weekly.

Bandless Regiments.

Military music in the French army is getting into a very low condition. The two years' service system hit the regimental bands very hard in taking away from them one-half of their strength every year. Efficient bandmasters, however, and hard work might have counteracted this, but now the supply of bandmasters is threatened. These were provided by means of annual competitions among army bandsmen for positions of master and assistant master, but for two years now these examinations have not been held, and already there are more than fifty regiments which, whatever they may have in the way of a band, have certainly no recognized bandmaster. The annual competitions used, it appears, to be conducted by the Conservatoire, which since 1905 has made one plea or another for neglecting them.—London Globe.

Imported From Paris.

The woman was calling on her friend, who lives in East Thirty-fourth street. It was a ground floor flat. Every little while she would raise her right hand and cross herself. It was on Sunday afternoon.

"What in the world are you doing that for?" asked her friend after she had done it about seven times.

"Funeral processions," explained her friend, "going down the street."

"Are you a Catholic?" asked her friend. "I never knew that."

"No," explained the woman further; "I learned in Paris to cross myself when a funeral procession passed. Everybody does it there. I don't know why unless it is because they haven't any religion."—New York Press.

Waves of Water.

Waves are deceptive things. To look at them one would gather the impression that the whole water traveled. This, however, is not so. The water stays in the same place, but the motion goes on. In great storms waves are sometimes forty feet high, and their crests travel fifty miles an hour. The base of a wave (the distance from valley to valley) is usually considered as being fifteen times the height of the wave. Therefore a wave twenty-five feet high would have a base extending 375 feet. The force of waves breaking on the shore is seventeen tons to the square inch.

He Picked Them.

An English commercial traveler visiting a large Glasgow warehouse made a bet with the manager that he could pick out all the married men among the employees. Accordingly he stationed himself at the door as they came back from dinner and mentioned all those whom he believed to be married, and in almost every case he was right.

"How do you do it?" asked the manager in amazement.

"Oh, it's quite simple," said the traveler, "quite simple. The married men all wipe their feet on the mat; the unmarried ones don't."—Glasgow Times.

Whisky and Typhoid.

It may be interesting for you to know that habitual whisky drinkers never recover when once attacked with typhoid fever or pneumonia. The whisky makes the system unfit to withstand the ravages of the disease, and death is always the result. Eminent physicians all over the world have noted and studied this fact.—E. V. Condon in Nashville Tennessean.

How He Judged.

Crushing the Curate.

One of the first tasks they set the new curate, who was handicapped by youth and inexperience, was to investigate the bona fides of a "widow woman" who had applied to the church for help. He departed nervously on his errand and knocked, as ill luck would have it, at the wrong door.

"How long has your poor husband been dead, my good woman? What number of children have you? Are any of them working? If so, what amount of money are they earning altogether?" were the questions he fired, like shots from a revolver, at the slatternly woman who answered his summons. "I presume I am addressing Mrs. Harriet Smith?" he added, noticing with alarm that she looked angry.

"No, yon ain't," answered the woman snappishly. "My name is Selina Jackson, my bairns go to school and my 'usband's doin' what is necessary to a plateful of steak and onions at this very moment. Would you like to know anything else? Where I was born? When I was baptized? At what age I started courtin'? Perhaps," she concluded sarcastically, rolling her tattered sleeve up above the elbow, "you'd like to see my vaccination mark before you go?"

But the bashful curate was already in full flight.—Liverpool Mercury.

Long Men Wanted.

The records in the war department in Washington are as a rule very dry, but occasionally an entry is found that is humorous.

An officer of engineers in charge of the construction of a road that was to be built through a swamp, being energetic himself and used to surmounting obstacles, was surprised when one of his young lieutenants whom he had ordered to take twenty men and enter the swamp said that he could not do it—the mud was too deep. The colonel ordered him to try. He did so and returned with his men covered with mud.

"Colonel, the mud is over my men's heads. I can't do it."

The colonel insisted and told him to make a requisition for anything that was necessary for a safe passage. The lieutenant made his requisition in writing and on the spot. It was as follows:

"I want twenty men eighteen feet long to cross a swamp fifteen feet deep."—Harper's Weekly.

The "Nagur" and the Fiddle.

Here is a story that Frederick Douglass used to tell about himself: Once when he was in Dublin he felt very lonesome. He was wandering about the streets when he was attracted by two violins in the window of a second-hand dealer. Frederick entered and asked the price of one of the instruments.

"Five shillings, sor," said the Irish dealer.

Fred rick tuned the violin and began to play "Rocky Road to Dublin." Soon the proprietor's wife heard the music and entered the rear door. Then Frederick started in on "The Irish Washerwoman," and the couple began to dance for dear life. When the mush and dancing stopped Frederick tendered the dealer 5 shillings, but his performance on the violin had greatly enhanced its value in the mind of the storekeeper, and as he hurried away to a place of security he exclaimed:

"If a black nagur can git such chunes out of that fiddle I'll never sell it at any price, begorrah!"

The Secret.

From his farm Judge Blank was in the habit of supplying the preachers of all the churches with flour, corn, hay and vegetables free of cost. He also kept the country supplied with venison from the herd of deer which he kept for many years. He built a big smokehouse in the rear of his grounds. One night, unseen himself, he saw a man emerge from the smokehouse with a side of pork on his shoulder. He recognised the intruder, but said nothing. A week afterward the fellow approached him, saying, "Judge, I understand you had some meat stolen from your smokehouse?" The old judge raised his hand deprecatingly and said: "Sh! No one on earth knows anything about that but you and me."—Argonaut.

Where She Got Them.

"But," said the inquisitive bachelor after the baby had been carefully placed in his arms, "where does she get her blue eyes? Yours are dark, and so are her papa's."

"Oh," the fond young mother explained, "she inherits them from my side of the family. My brother Will's wife has just such eyes exactly."—Cleveland Leader.

Jean Richepin's Career.

The story of how he came to adopt a literary career is sufficiently picturesque. For some time he had picked up a precarious livelihood by doing "odd jobs," including such prosaic occupations as that of bootblack and casual porter on the Quai Marseilles. One day he was engaged by a gentleman to carry to the railway station a heavy trunk. Arrived at the station, there was an instant mutual recognition. They were old college chums. "What are you doing here?" asked his friend. "Carrying your trunk, I believe," said Jean. "Why do you do this?" "Because I must." "Where do you live?" "Come and see," replied Richepin.

The future dramatist took his friend to his dwelling—a miserable room in an attic in the poorest quarter of the town. Upon the table lay scattered heaps of manuscripts—Jean's incursions in the realms of poetry when the more prosaic duties of the day were over. Looking through them, his friend was astounded at their quality. "Why do you carry trunks and blacken boots when you can do work like this?" he asked. Richepin had never given the matter a thought. He had never deemed these products of idle hours worthy of publication. Published they were, however, in a very few weeks and created an immense sensation. From that moment Jean Richepin never looked back.—Westminster Gazette.

Aged British Tree.

One of the oldest of British trees is the Cowthorne oak, which has been standing near Wetherby, in Yorkshire, for 500 years, according to veracious chronicle. It is a tree that has been described often and has figured in works of fiction.

It is related of this tree that on one occasion as many as forty persons have been gathered within the hollow of its trunk, although it must be confessed that some of these were children. The most recent measurement showed that its girth of trunk at the ground was 54 feet 3 inches and the cavity was 11 feet by 9 feet.

The tree is not now so very tall, reaching only 37 feet into the air. There are 27 props about the tree to support the falling branches.

The cavity has been noticeable only since the beginning of the nineteenth century. Many of the earlier measurements show that the tree once was much greater in girth than now.

Aged as it is, the tree bore acorns in 1901 and 1905 and always produces a fair amount of foliage. In 1903 an acorn borne by the Cowthorne oak was planted nearby and a tree is growing up slowly as a memorial to the parent.

Britishers Abroad.

Large as were the numbers that traveled to and from the United Kingdom last year, a Board of Trade report just published, of the traveling done during last month shows a still further increase in numbers. No fewer than 41,669 British passengers left this country for places outside Europe during August, as against 36,855 in the same month last year. The number of foreigners who left for ultra-European ports was 25,556, against 25,034 in August, 1906. The inward bound traffic was also heavy. British subjects numbering 13,746, and foreigners numbering 12,365 arrived here in the month, compared with 11,858 and 9,144 respectively in August of last year. The total number of outward passengers for the present year is 437,782, an increase of 58,293 on the corresponding eight months in last year's figures. The total number of arrivals was 191,366, against 161,600 of the preceding year.

Practical Tailoring
Well dressed men will have observed how timid the "Ready-made" mechanic is of putting on the extreme styles in their garments. Why? Because the fashion of to-day is not likely to be the fashion of next season; and so the left-overs, or "the last year's bird's-nests" would remain on their hands.
The advanced fashions in Suits and Overcoats possess several distinctive features this season, such as real and imitative cuffs to the sleeves, which give a pleasing effect and finish. Besides not every man is possessed of a symmetrical figure, and in the event of disproportion, the skilled tailor gets in his practical work.

HALLOWE'EN SUPPER IN OTONABEE

Successful Event at Stewart's Union Hall Last Night

There was a large number in attendance at the annual fowl supper at Stewart's Hall, Otonabee, last night in aid of the building fund of the hall which was recently bricked. The supper was served in the basement of the hall, after which an excellent programme was presented, with Mr. Johnston in the chair.

Almost the entire concert was furnished by the Coleman brothers, their accompanist being Mr. Richard Devey. Mr. Bert Deyell sang a couple of solos.

A Y.M.C.A. MEMBER'S COMPLAINT

A Letter From One Who Has Suffered a Loss—Watch Chain Has Gone

Dear Sir,—I wish to point out, as a member of the Y.M.C.A., what may be keeping others from joining our ranks. It is this, that it has now come to my turn to be robbed of a silver watch chain with compass attached, whilst up in the gymnasium class last Tuesday evening between the hours of 8 and 10 o'clock I am very surprised that such things can take place in a Y.M.C.A., as its name is sufficient alone. As to how it happens, it would be well for the leaders of the Y.M.C.A. to put a stop to such things. There is a notice to the effect that we should leave our valuables with the secretary, but I'm afraid that we should have to leave everything with him to protect. I hope the new secretary will make it his duty to have the stealing practice put down. I find that I am not the only one that has suffered. A suitable reward will be given to anyone who will bring my missing article to light. It was given me before departing from the Old Country, as a keep-sake.

Yours truly,
A NEW MEMBER.

It is regrettable that such things as the correspondent refers to should, as there is reason to believe from other instances, take place. It is not to be thought that the officials of the Association do not take great pains to prevent such acts of theft, but it is incumbent upon them to enlist all their ingenuity in order that an end may be put to what is so self-evidently hostile to the aims and work of the Association.

MANY AT CONCERT IN LAKEFIELD

Hallowe'en Supper in Connection With Methodist Church

A large number from Peterborough attended a Hallow E'en fowl supper in Lakefield last night under the auspices of the Methodist Church. The supper was held in the town hall from 5 to 8 o'clock, followed by an excellent programme in the church, the chairman being Rev. Mr. Bedford. The programme consisted of graphophone selections, violin and vocal solos, recitations, readings and addresses, and was an excellent one in all respects.

FRACAS ON THE LINDSAY TRAIN

Three Peterborough Young Men In Court as Result

As a result of a disturbance on the ten o'clock, Grand Trunk train from Lindsay last night, Edward Donoghue, Edward Pilling and Fremus LePlante appeared before Magistrate Dumble this morning. Mr Walter Mercer, the conductor of the train was present and showed the marks of a fierce encounter having both eyes discoloured and his nose bruised.

LaPlante was charged with having done actual bodily injury to Mr. Mercer, and the other men are connected with it. It Gordon appeared for Pilling, and Mr. Kerr for the others. All three pleaded not guilty.

The G. T. R. Company was not ready to go on and the case was enlarged until Monday. Bail of $200 each was asked, and a friend of the young men put up the required amount.

Music and Drama

I'M MARRIED NOW

Only a small crowd greeted George F. Hall, the well known comedian who appeared at the Grand on Wednesday night in the musical farce, "I'm Married Now," but those who were there saw a very amusing play and were thoroughly pleased with the performance. There is no plot to the play, it being merely a large offering of good musical numbers interspersed with some very funny comedy. Mr. Hall was cast as William Howdy, a gay old sport and in that role proved any amount of amusement. A recitation, one of the late Sol Smith Russell's favourites, was given in a manner that showed that the comedian could forget his funny lines when necessary. Mr. Ben F. Loring exhibited a splendid tenor voice in several solos, and Miss Blanche Parquette made a decided hit in her singing of the song "Some Day When Dreams Come True."

REAL WIDOW BROWN

That funny farce comedy "The Real Widow Brown" under the direction of Mr. Scammon, was the attraction yesterday and kept the audience in a state of hilarity all through. Good houses were present at the two performances and the play seemed to be appreciated by every one. It abounds in funny complications and amusing situations, and the action is so fast at times that the audience almost loses track of the identity of the characters. Many enjoyable musical numbers were interspersed and were well rendered by the company.

HAMILTON GROCERY FIRE LOSS ADJUSTED

Stock Not so Badly Damaged as Expected Injury to Building Not Yet Appraised

Mr. W H Hamilton's grocery store on Simcoe street, has already assumed its usual well-kept appearance, although only five days have elapsed since the destructive fire occurred in his premises. On the ground floor, except for a badly damaged ceiling and a slight odor of smoke little remains to tell of what must have looked at one time, as a very bad fire and a heavy loss for Mr. Hamilton. On Wednesday the insurance appraisers finished their estimates of the loss done to the stock, etc., on the two upper flats. No difficulty was experienced in arriving at a satisfactory adjustment, and Mr. Hamilton is pleased with the fair treatment which he received at their hands. The damage to the building has not yet been ajusted as the appraiser for this loss had not arrived in the city.

Regarding the extent of damage to the stock in the second and third floors, the appraisers were agreeably surprised to find so little real injury done by fire, after the closest scrutiny. Smoke and water had discoloured large quantities of cases and packages, especially of teas and canned goods, but the contents were unimpaired. A large portion of similar goods had, however, been opened, and were of course, a complete loss. The whole of the damaged goods have been gathered together and sent to the dump, six big loads being carted away out of the store yesterday. Mr. Hamilton states that he is making preparations for holding a quick clearance sale of all goods got injured by the fire. Another store will be secured for this purpose, where these goods will be offered at largely reduced prices.

ANNUAL SUPPER WAS A SUCCESS

Ladies of St. Andrew's Church Held a Record-Breaking Supper and Concert

The annual Thanksgiving supper given by the ladies of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church is an annual event and each succeeding year increases its success. The event of yesterday was no exception. There has never been a more thoroughly satisfactory supper and concert held under this auspices. The crowd was large, and the meal represented by the excellent supper, left nothing to be desired. It was characteristic of the ladies of St. Andrew's, who are noted for the thoroughness with which they enter into whatever work of the church in which they engage. Commencing at 5 o'clock, the tea was served. And following it the programme rendered in the church. Rev. J. P. Patter acted as chairman, and in his opening address expressed, on behalf of the ladies, their thanks to those who had by their attendance contributed to the success of the event. The church was crowded to the doors during the entertainment, which was of a superior character, the following being the programme:

Orchestra.
Solo, Miss Titterson.
Instrumental Duet, the Misses Gladman.
Reading, Miss Titterson.
Solo, Mrs. Firth.
Instrumental Solo, Miss Titterson.
Solo, Miss King.
Orchestra Selection.
Solo, Miss King.

The evening was brought to a close with the National Anthem.

The Ladies' Aid Society wishes to express to those who took part in the evening's programme its thanks and sincere appreciation.

HARTLEY, HEEL AND TOE HERO OF THE HOUR

with a firm step to the register, and with a steady hand he wrote his name. He then mounted the stairs, with no assistance, and got ready for a rub down and bath. Before these ablutions were performed, however, Hartley appeared at an upstairs window to greet the cheers of the throng of humanity below.

And he Went.

"They want me, I must go now," he exclaimed, and despite the protestations of his trainer acknowledged the greetings of the multitude, who assembled on the window sills, vehicles, and even on the top of the Munro House sheds, to get a glimpse of the little wonder who sat upon his bed.

Finally, he could stand it no longer, and was soon again inside of his trousers and "Peterborough" sweater, in full dress, to meet the greetings of his friends. He descended the stairway again, and was soon mounted aloft on a temporary platform, from which Mr. Mark Spencely had just addressed one of the biggest audiences he had ever stood before in his life.

Hartley was again lustily cheered, and the band, which had met him at Charlotte street, struck up a popular air. The hat was passed around and enough money collected in addition to previous subscriptions to pay expenses, and to present the walker with a purse of over $60.

His Own Story

In an upper room of the Munro House Hartley told the story of the long walk to an Examiner reporter. David sat on the bed, with apparently as much comfort as if he had never walked a mile and talked in a voice just as strong and clear as when the first sat in the Examiner office to tell of his plans. His face looked a little worn, and his hands were swollen. His feet were in great condition, and nothing but a miniature blister showed that he had been on a long walk. The muscles of his legs seemed just as good as when he left.

"I'm feeling tip-top," he said to the reporter, "and I could have gone ten miles futher. My legs are all right. I wanted to make a record, and I did."

In relating incidents along the road he told of the hospitality accorded him on every hand once the people found out that he could walk. Farmers and their wives greeted him every few miles with hot teapots and bread and butter, and he wanted nothing that was not freely given. Groups of men and boys followed him from town to town, and there was scarcely a mile a ong the whole route except after midnight of Wednesday that he and the Messrs. Stevens were alone.

"Our enemies going were our friends coming back," he said.

At the King Edward in Toronto he was given a great reception and good encouragement. At Port Hope he was used like a king by Mr. Louis Bennett, proprietor of the Queen's Hotel, who provided everything free of charge.

In Lantern Glow

During the night he trudged along, picking his way by the light of a lantern carried by Mr. Chas. Stevens. He walked every step of the road with heel and toe, and never once did he break into a run.

Boots were changed but once along the road, and that was at Bsilleboro, where his leather arcos were exchanged for a light pair with canvas vamps. Reynolds promised to pace him from Oshawa back to Port Hope, but he didn't show up, and Hartley made the journey alone.

"Go it, Peterborough! Go it, Peterborough!" was a frequent expression he heard along the road, and it helped him.

The Trainer's Story

George Stevens and his son, Charles, were two men feeling just as proud as David Hartley when the walk was ended yesterday evening, and the walker was welcomed by Mr. Jno. Jayes at the Munro House. Mr. Stevens was forced to tell the story possibly a hundred times before the crowd would allow him to get away. He had followed the pedestrian 132 miles, and at every telephone or telegraph office between this city and Toronto had flashed the message of Hartley's triumphs to his native home. He was the only man to volunteer to spend his time to bring to light one of Canada's best walkers, and he deserves credit for his undertaking.

He fed Hartley on beef tea and eggs along the route, bathed him and took care of him at every step. He used two horses on the trip. His own made the return journey from Oshawa to Peterborough, and another to Peterborough to Oshawa, and another which, by the way, was troubled with the "blind staggers," went from Oshawa to the King Edward and return.

He will back David Hartley against and walker in Canada, and says that he simply is a wonder.

Credit is Due

A great deal of the credit of the attempt is due to Mr. R. J. Munro, was the first to start the ball a-rolling by heading a subscription list to defray expenses.

Hartley says that Jimmy Reynolds wants to take him on a matched race for $1,000, but the Port Hope man will not start before next May. The walking wonder is ready for the jaunt at any time.

David Hartley resides on Roger street, East City. He is 54 years of age, 5 ft. 5 in. tall, and weighs, when in training, 128 lbs.

To Do His Duty

In relating other incidents of the race, Mr. Geo. Stevens told of the battle cry with which he cheered along the husky walker.

Like Nelson of old, his motto was, "Peterborough this day expects David Hartley to do his duty!" and this clarion call resounded throughout the days and the night during which the walk was made. George Stevens this morning was hoarse from sounding the battle cry which brought victory to Hartley and honour to Peterborough.

The men who assisted in obtaining subscriptions for Hartley were Messrs. Jno. Jayes, Archie Moore, W. Metheral, Andy Graham and others, and they deserve praise for their interest in such an event and in such a victory.

AWARDING PRIZES FOR BANDAGING

Miss Glendenning, of Stouffville Given Prize for Contest in Nicholls Hospital

The Bandaging Contest, in connection with the Nicholls Hospital Training School for Nurses, took place on Wednesday night and was of a most interesting character. Miss Glendenning of Stouffville, was awarded the prize, although the work of all four of the nurses in training, Miss Allen of St. Thomas, and Misses Dockerill and Boswell, of Peterborough, was uniformly good, and the judges, Doctors Greer, Caldwell and Amys had a difficult task deciding the winner. Following the contest tea was served to those taking part in the event, including the young men who acted as subjects.

Great Credit Due Mr. "Dick" Baker

In the athletic performances of yesterday, in which Peterborough men took such a prominent part, it is worthy of note that the winner of the Examiner road race, both senior and junior, Simpson in the Hamilton, and Best, in the Montreal races, were developed largely by Mr. "Dick" Baker formerly caretaker of the Peterborough Y.M.C.A., where he commenced the training which has resulted in producing winning runners. There is no more enthusiastic — nor, as the result shows — more capable manager of a long-distance runner in this province, than Mr. Baker. He has followed running for years—saw Shrubb win his first race in England, when the now great runner was an unknown green youth, and since he has been in Peterborough has devoted his energeis to developing the running talent among the members of the Y.M.C.A. Mr. Baker deserves great credit for his painstaking work — given without reward, other than the consciousness that he has produced runners who are bringing fame to Peterborough.

Vics Lost To Peterborough And Are Out Of Running

Locals Won The Deciding Game in Lindsay Yesterday Beating The Vics Decisively by 15-7---Marsh Afraid To Come To Lindsay---Game Was Fast And Comparatively Clean

Peterborough put the Victorias out of the running for the senior O.R.F.U. championship, by defeating the black, brown and yellow team in the deciding game at Lindsay yesterday afternoon, by a score of 15-7 winning an excellent game of rugby in a manner that left no doubt as to their superiority over the losing team. The two teams had met wice before this season, Peterborough winning here by 40 to 6 and losing to the Vics at home by 20 to 21 making a third game necessary to decide the group winner. Over 1000 people saw the game and both teams had plenty of supporters the majority wearing the blue and white of the Peterborough team.

The game was an exciting exhibition of rugby being fast and comparatively clean throughout. With Lou Marsh the disturbing factor out of the contest the teams played far better rugby and while the game was a little roubh times, there was none of the disgraceful tactics that formed such a prominent feature in the contest at Toronto last Saturday. Marsh, the man who smacked on the field and bit Crowley from behind in the last game got a bad attack of cold feet and failed to put in an appearance. His team mates expected him to come but he was not on hand when they left Toronto. The reason is not hard to find for he evidently got cold thereby losing the respect of the team for whom he played. While the crowd were sorry not to see him on the field his absence had a beneficial result on the game, which would without a doubt have been decidedly rough with the ex-Argonaut on the lineup.

It was the first game of any account ever seen in Lindsay and the play was fast and open enough to give the Scugogites an idea of some of the good points of the grand old fall game. The ball was generally in sight, both teams playing a kicking and running game for the most part with the result that the contest abounded in excellent punting and pretty runs. Peterborough deserved to win the contest. They out played the Vics all the distance, outpunting them and beating them at the bucking game as well. It was in this latter department that the Vics had the Indian sign on Peterborough in the last game, gaining many many yards by plunges through the line. There was nothing doing yesterday, however, and time after time the Vic man with the ball was hurled back for a loss while Peterboro's bucks generally gained. The change in the local wings line was wonderful, the advance guard played like a new lot of men. When on the defence they held like a stone wall and on the attack the Vics found it impossible to hold them. The line followed up well all through the game and the two tries scored by Peterborough were the result of going down fast under the ball.

The backs too put up a much better game than in Toronto. There was none of the fumbling that was such a marked characteristic of the playing of the rear guard last week and the punts were handled cleanly and accurately. The backs worked together well and made few mistakes, either on the attack or defensive.

The game was played on the Agricultural grounds which proved to be a better field than was expected, although it was far from perfect. Owing to the shape of the field it was found necessary to lay the gridiron out at an angle which made it very difficult for the spectators in the stand across the race track to follow the game and there were many complaints on that account. The players too found fault because the field had a decided slope to the west and as what wind there was came from the southeast, the team defending the west goal had two difficulties to contend with.

With the crowd so far away from the field the players had a far better chance, although much of the excitement which usually attends a rugby game was missing with the rooters a hundred yards away. The special train that left Peterborough at 1.45 carried about three hundred enthusiasts while the Vics were accompanied by about fifty supporters, who came down in a special car. They had little opportunity to cheer as the North End bunch were never in the lead. Many Lindsay people turned out for the contest and saw their first rugby game.

The whole Peterborough team played good rugby. Alex. Mulhern who jumped into the game without any practice was at full back and played the position perfectly, never making a mistake during the afternoon. He caught splendidly and ran out at least half a dozen kicks from behind the line when a point at least seemed certain. His dodging runs were very hard to stop and he always managed to get outside before being downed. Colledge played in his old form at centre half his punting being a feature. He got the ball away in good time and his long twisting punts coupled with the fast following up of the Peterborough wings kept the Vics back division guessing all the way. In addition he caught and ran well, getting away with a number of splendid runs while he handled the team well. Quinlan played the game of his life, he never made a fumble all the afternoon, made a number of beautiful runs and tackled magnificently saving a try by a brilliant tackle of Dickenson after the latter had passed every body else on the field and had a clear run to the line. Cappiff was nervous and did not play the game he is capable of on the division, making a couple of fumbles that threatened to be very costly one of them being followed by a drop kick from the field by the Vics. Lundy put up a snappy game at quarter passing accurately and tackling splendidly cutting off several end runs by beautiful low tackles. There was little to choose on the wing line, all playing grand rugby throughout, following up well and giving the backs plenty of protection. What is better still they kept on side and were not being constantly penalized as they were in Toronto. Crowley despite his injury at the hands of Lou Marsh, was in the game playing in a leather head gear that almost masked his face. He put up a splendid game throughout, tackling and following up very effectively. Crough was on the other end of the line and did great work both there and at on the half back line where he played during the last quarter, doing some pretty catching and punting. O'Connor and Dickson the two middle wings played magnificently throughout, following up very fast and proving themselves great ball getters. Dillon played a fine game at inside wing, his following up being responsible for one of the tries made by Peterborough. Hurtubise had the misfortune to come under the notice of the referee several times for high tackles but played a fine game nevertheless. Clarke, Deannard and O'Brien made a husky scrimmage who got the ball out well and did a lot of useful work as well.

For the Vics Scotty McWhirter, Love Mimms, Dickenson and Stanyon were the stars. Mimms and Dickenson both played fine games on the wing line their following being always dangerous while both tackled neatly and effectively. Love did some good punting and kicked a pretty drop over the twenty yard line.

The officials were the old favourites Hughie Hayes and Frank Robbins of Hamilton, who gave the best of satisfaction to both teams. Their decisions were never disputed and the players quickly realizing that rough work was going to be penalized, cooled down and for the most part played clean rugby.

An unfortunate accident to Stanyan the clever centre half of the visitors, resulted in him being taken off the field just before half time with a broken shoulder, the third time that he has been injured in the same way. Colledge was hurt in the last quarter and dropped back to full back, Mulhern going up on the line.

The teams were as follows—

Peterborough		Victorias
Mulhern	fullback	Love
Colledge		J. McWhirter
Quinlan	halves	Stanyon, Thomas
Cappiff, Crough		Ellacott
Lundy	quarter	Scotty McWhirter
Deannard		Therogood
Clarke	scrimmage	H Brown
O'Brien		Jaffray
Dickson		W Brown
Hurtubise	insidewings	Chamberlain
O'Connor		Pratt
Crough, Cappiff		Hewittson
Crough, Cappiff		Howitson
Crowley	outside wings	Dickenson

Referee. Hughie Hayes, Hamilton
Umpire Frank Robbins, Hamilton

Peterborough kicked down hill with the wind in their favour in the first quarter and pressed matters from the start taking the play into Vics territory at once. Colledge's kicking kept the play within the Vics ground and they found it impossible to run the ball back. They held the Peterboro's out for some time but at last Colledge tried a drop from twenty-five yards out. It went wide but Ellacott was nailed for touch. Score Peterborough 1, Vics 0. A moment after Colledge kicked to dead line for another point Score Peterborough 2 Vics 0.

The play was all in favour of Peterborough at this stage, Colledge marked and got a free kick, Dillon followed up fast and picking up the ball near the Vics line dodged a couple of tacklers sauntered over the line for the first try. Crough failed to convert missing by a narrow margin. Score Peterborough 7 Vics 0.

The blue and white with the wind in their favour kept up the attack on the Vics line. Colledge's long punts were proving effective and when the Vics were held for downs near their own line and Peterborough got the ball, it looked almost certain that another try would materialize. A couple of bucks gained ground and the ball was only a few feet out when the visitor blew for quarter time and a golden opportunity was lost.

Second Quarter

The conditions were reversed in the second quarter but there was no scoring. Peterborough managing to hold their own while playing up hill and against the wind. At the beginning of the quarter Hurtubise was ruled off for scragging. Peterborough kept pressing and when they blocked Stanyon's kick and got the ball, the Vics thirty-five yard line it looked as if another score might result. A fumble gave the Vics possession and they kicked out of danger for the time being. The play was of a see saw nature with neither team getting much opportunity to score The Vics punted over Peterborough's line several times but Mulhern caught the ball neatly and dodged the wings until he was outside the line. Colledge was punting as far against the wind as the Vics kicked with the strong with the result that the ball kept travelling up and down. Just before half time Stanyon, the Vics centre half had his shoulder broken and had to retire, his place being filled by Thomas. Hurtubise was ruled off again by the referee before time was called.

Third Quarter

In the third quarter Vics made their first score. Crowley was ruled off at the beginning of the quarter and while he was on the side lines the points were made. Cappiff fumbled a long punt from Love, and Dickenson who had followed up fast picked up the ball and dodging half a dozen tacklers raced for the line. Mulhern failed to stop him but Quinlan came at the man with the ball from an angle, putting him down when a try seemed certain. The ball was down on Peterboro's 40 yard line and on the second scrimmage Love kicked a pretty drop goal. Score Peterborough 7 Vics 4

Peterborough were not long in making up this loss. Crough punted to Ellacott who lost the ball when tackled by O'Connor and Clarke dropped on the pigskin, Mimms however recovered on a fumble a moment after only to have it handed back to Peterborough soon after for offside interference. Colledge tried a drop ball going to Ellacott who fumbled when tackled behind the line by Crowley, and Dickson dropped on the ball for a try which Crough did not convert. Score Peterborough 13 and Vics 4.

An exchange of punts between McWhirter and Crough followed the kick off and Peterborough gained. Hurtubise, Ellacott, Cappiff and Thomas got into an argument and the four were ruled off, together. Colledge attempt at a drop goal from the twenty yard line rolled into touch in goal and the score was Peterborough 14 Vics 4.

A moment after Deannard and Dickson forced McWhirter to rouge on a long punt from Colledge Score Peterborough 14 Vics 4.

Another point was scored before three quarter time was called, another drop kick from Colledge going over the dead line for a single score. Peterborough 15, Vics 4.

Last Quarter

The opening of the last quarter was marked by brilliant runs by Crowley and Crough. Soon after the half opened Colledge was hurt in making a punt and had to play full back Mulhern coming up on the line. Peterborough kept the ball, holding the Vics safe all the way. The Toronto team kicked more frequently than earlier in the game, and finally got a chance to score. Love tried a drop goal but the ball went wide rolling to the dead line for a point. Score Peterborough 15 Vics 5

A few minutes afterwards Love kicked to the dead line once again. Score Peterborough 16 Vics 6

Just before time was up the Vics scored their last point. Hewittson and McWhirter dribbled the ball into touch in goal. Final score Peterborough 15 Vics 7.

FRED SIMPSON, THE MISSISSAUGA INDIAN BRINGS BACK A CUP

Finished Second in Greatest Road Race on The Continent—Runs 19 Miles, 168 Yards in 1.52.27 2/5

IS A SECOND LONGBOAT

Great Work of His Trainer, Dick Baker—Pacemaker Would Have Given Him First Place

Proof that Peterborough county has produced a second Tom Longboat was demonstrated in the Hamilton Herald road race, the greatest long distance event in North America, when Fred Simpson, the Hiawatha brave, sprang into the limelight of long distance running by finishing the 19 miles 168 yards second in 1.52 27 2-5 yesterday morning. The Indian was practically in the first big race of his life and, considering this, performed a remarkable feat in the great event.

Simpson was alone in Hamilton with the exception of his trainer, Dick Baker, to whom the whole credit of the famous feat of the redman is due. He ran under the colours of the Y.M.C.A. Harriers' Club of Peterborough, and has brought honour and fame to that institution by finishing next to Tom Coley, the Irish-Canadian man, who has been training for the race all summer.

Bring the Trophy

Simpson and Baker arrived home this morning on the 11.14 C.P.R. train the proud possessors of a handsome large silver trophy standing 18 inches high and emblematic of second place in the Herald road race of 1907. The Indian is satisfied that if he had had as many pace-makers as Tom Coley he could have easily trimmed him in the jaunt around the mountain. He finished strong, passing four fast men during the last six miles, and if the course had been a mile further he is confident that he could have overcome the lead of Coley.

The Trainer's Story

Dick Baker, who is Simpson's right hand man, was the only person looking after him. The two left Peterborough on Tuesday night, and on Wednesday looked over the last seven miles of the course.

Thanksgiving Day, Simpson was one of the 23 starters. He followed the rest around the bay to within seven of the finishing point.

Baker met him there and at that time he stood fifth in the field.

"Then we went after them," said Baker, in an interview with the Examiner, "and passing them one by one we finished second." The trainer paced the Indian on a wheel.

"We caught and passed Lawson 14 mile from home and finished in good style and in good condition. We were treated in great style by the Y. M. C. A. of Hamilton and after the race were followed everywhere we went by big crowds. We could scarcely get into the football field to see the game," added Baker.

Some Celebrities

Simpson and Baker were introduced to Longboat and Sherring, Tom Coley and Lawson. Sherring thinks the Hiawatha man ran a great race and remarked there was more in him when he finished.

He would liked to have had him in Hamilton for a week before the race, he said, but it is doubtful if he knows any more about training and running than Dick Baker.

At night the winners were given box seats at the Savoy Vaudeville theatre where the prizes were presented and where Simpson occupied the same seat along with the best runners in America. Mayor Stewart of Hamilton made the presentations.

Simpson deserves great credit for his remarkable feat. Last year he finished third in the Examiner Road Race, and to jump in one year to second in the Hamilton Herald Race was considered possible by a very

The Indian has hosts of admirers and it is probable he will be heard from in a few long distance events which will fame to Peterborough and to the Mississauga tribe of red men to which he belongs.

CHARLES STEVENS NOW IN TRAINING

David Hartley's Trainer is Considered to Be Another "Davy"

Charles Stevens, the young trainer of David Hartley will now train for long distance walking and expects that some time in the near future he will, himself, attempt the long walk of 122 miles. During the trip to Toronto and back Stevens paced the walking wonder for over 70 miles and in one stretch went for 17 miles without stopping at a rate of about 4 1-2 miles per hour. He finished with Hartley yesterday afternoon in good shape. There were a few painful blisters on his feet, but his muscles stood the test to perfection.

Young Stevens has often walked to Lindsay and back and will from now on train with Mr. Hartley. He was Hartley's trainer all along the road and answered all questions as to the endurance of the walker and attended to his meals.

Hartley himself has great praise for young Stevens and states that no professional trainer could have handled him better. The East City pedestrain this morning was feeling in good condition and walked across to George street before 10 o'clock.

Construction Work On Canada's New Transcontinental Railway

The Preliminary Work of Locating The Grand Trunk Pacific Railway is Graphically Described

THE WORK OF PIONEERS

Hardships Which Those Locating The Line Have To Endure — Some of the Incidents of The Work

Well I know who'll take the credit—all the clever chaps that followed—Come a dozen men together — never know my desert fears
Tracked me by the camps I'd quitted, used the water holes I'd followed.
They'll go back and do the talking,
They'll be called the pioneers.
—Kipling.

In the first place, do not ask the exact location of our trip—there are reasons, and though it is just possible that the few prints taken at the time may be recognized by certain large-handed, big-hearted men—well, the writer must just trust to his kismet, and if things go wrong he can stand a calling down at long range.

Leaving the C.P.R. main line at somewhere about 5.30 one particularly bright morning, with our "duffle (three meals and two beds), my chum and I swung away at a good four-mile gait, and by noon reached the portage, scaled distance 25 miles on the route map, a fairly good achievement for townbreds. At the portage our fun began, and when my chum located [illegible] waiting, and as we paddled off up stream Scotty began to get the effects of the unaccustomed sun. The skin of his neck and arms turned red, but he was game, and for a man who had never before swung a paddle he certainly accomplished wonders. We worked steadily along through a much varied section of country, where muskeg, rock cliff and high sand banks alternated along the river's channel, till finally as we rounded a sharp point of rock the bow of the canoe almost ran between the legs of a cow moose, which was standing with her head under water grubbing for water lily roots. I tried to swing the canoe clear, but before I could take a stroke, Scotty swung his paddle and struck her a resounding crack on the flank. As she disappeared across a neighbouring muskeg Scotty turned around and drinking at the water's edge, a tap of the axe quickly added the little animal to our provision supply. I started a fire while Scotty removed the hide and quills, a proceeding in which he showed unusual proficiency, due, he claimed, to his practice in dissecting frogs while "working his passage" through Varsity, in Scotland.

Perhaps that meal was not enjoyed. Our duffle bags carried only bannock, pork and tea, so that the addition of broiled "porkie" was a most welcome addition to appetites, primed by an all-morning tramp over rocks, through scrub timber and muskegs. Perhaps the tea was several shades darker than is usually served at home, but it lost nothing from that.

At the portage our canoe was remarked in his droll way, "I guess her an awfu' skelp that shot. Nearly put the paddle out of business." And he had, but fortunately we carried a spare one with us.

A Fish-catching Canine

Continuing out trip, about three miles ahead the creek shallowed somewhat, so we both slipped out over the side, as there was just sufficient water to float the canoe, minus our weight. We tracked it along for about three-quarters of a mile, part of the time in water well over our knees. It was here that our dog showed his ancestry. Wading through the shallows, he began grabbing at the suckers and jackfish, which were there in hundreds. It was very funny to watch how he would feed them off and dive after them into holes three to five feet in depth at the foot of the willows which lined the banks at this point. We could only suppose that he had acquired the accomplishment around the teepees of his youth. He was half-breed and showed most of the Indian strong points, even to dropping his tail and taking to the tall timber if ever we broke a branch in our hands — a common practice of the Ojibways in winter while driving dogs, for the poor brutes generally get the weight of it over the ears or any other portion of their anatomy that comes handy. Well, at any rate, Chikag (skunk) was a first-class partridge dog and seldom barked up the wrong tree.

One more mile of easy going and we struck a portage. It was Scotty's turn to take the canoe, while I looked after the odds and ends. The portage was marked as a quarter of a mile on our route map, but it surely was nearer a mile. When we embarked again Scotty took the stern paddle, as an interchange of position goes a long way toward warding off any tendency to cramps due to working all the time on one side. Almost as soon as we pushed off I could hear the "tail feathers" going, an indication that Scotty wanted to make a pace for a short trip. There certainly was everything in our surroundings which could tend to bring out the snap and fire which could only be subdued by supreme muscular exertion. That intangible tonic effect of the woods, backed by the bracing action of the Canadian forest atmosphere. We were in under a lovely shaded bend in the river, with the water about six feet in depth and dark coloured, a characteristic of the Laurentian streams. The peculiar blended perfumes of the forest, redolent of pine, spruce, balsam, poplar, floated to us from the banks, mingled with the aroma of a dozen varieties of flowers. It seemed as if that mile were far too short.

Docile Baby Moose

Hardly had we won clear of the forest and its overhanging trees, when two beautiful little baby moose showed up on a patch of brule. They did not seem at all frightened, but watched us curiously as we landed from the canoe near them. They posed for their photographs like veterans, but though the mother was probably near at hand she did not show up, so with eight miles still before us we had to leave them in their forest home.

A great deal has been written about the marvellous engineering feats of the Canadian beaver. They may be marvellous, but we would gladly have transferred our acquaintance with them to one who would more fully appreciate their charms. For some distance the stream wandered through a dense growth of birch and poplar, growing in a fine deep sandy loam, broken by occasional rock outcroppings. Here in this natural home we met the beaver's work. The dams may be all right to look at, but when it comes to lifting the canoes over, pushing it ashore, wading through the mud and water, and generally getting scratched and mussed up, it detracts materially from the charm.

Coming to the widening of the stream caused by the beaver damming the waters below, we landed to explore their tote roads, which we could see along the banks. In one place there was a pile of birch sticks from a half to three inches through and from four to five feet long, which had been gathered by the beavers for food. But it was hard to believe that mere animals could pile the wood so orderly. Further on, where there was a grove of large poplars, we measured a few of the stumps. The largest went 23 1-2 in. in diameter, while the others ranged from six to eighteen inches through. The piles of tooth-marked chips at the foot of the stumps was striking evidence of the power these little animals have in their teeth and jaws. Coming across one of their tote roads of skidways we followed it up to a ridge which was at least 100 feet above the stream, and on passing down it we found it about 1,800 feet long. Everything in the shape of fallen logs, projecting limbs, stumps and similar obstructions had been cut away, and it was worn quite smooth. There was abundant evidence about to prove that there must be quite a busy time round there after sunset.

Getting back to the canoe and pushing out, we saw several beaver houses, and just caught a glimpse of something dark disappearing behind one of them, and to hear the noise of a distant flap, which told us that we had been sighted by a member of the colony, who had taken this means of warning the rest of the tribe that danger was near. This sheet of water was a shade over half a mile in length and 1,250 feet in width at its broadest part. When we had again struck the main stream a half a mile of paddling brought us in sight of a fire, glimmering through the woods. It was a welcome sight, but the journey required a full half hour to accomplish, as the creek was very winding and sluggish.

The camp when finally reached was found to be a sort of outpost of the main camp. It was located on a small island in a muskeg, a short distance from the main shore. There were about half a dozen boys in it, and they were minus tents, the only shelter being windbreaks of boughs and mosquito netting shields. The main camp was on the lake which this creek drained.

What a fine bunch of fellows they were. Brown and weather beaten, a week's growth of beard covered their chins, and their arms and chests were as bronzed as an Indians. It would difficult to describe their costumes in detail. Kipling has described a shirt which consisted of a button and and frill. Some of the boys were shy the button, and their whole garb was mostly frill from the feet up. Boots were patched with pieces of raw moose hide, with a piece of tomato tin for toe piece. Pants which once had been overalls, brought back memories of the Indian's gun which "had a new lock, stock and barrel, but was the same old gun." One garb was especially catching. The nether garment consisted entirely of seamless sacking and flour bags. They had seen hard usage, a fact which was brought into most striking evidence by a couple of white patches on the knees, and a white spread of canvas which came into evidence as he left us to get supper.

A Camp Short of Supplies

The cook had "pumped the job" as the boys were taking turns at the work. The few extras we had brought were eagerly seized upon but on the advice of the transit man were merely doled out. The camp was on short rations at the time and the inhabitants were having rice three times a day. Supplies had to be packed in from the nearest cache, which was was reached after passing through ten miles of solid brule, where in places the logs were piled from six to fifteen feet in height. There was no knowing when the packers would arrive but it did not worry the boys who were as cheery as if dining at the best hotel in the land. Some of them had been in the wilds for from

AN AGE OF REASON.

The days of mystery have passed. There must be a reason for everything, and we demand to be shown the whys and the wherefores. Secret or patent medicines must go with the other mysteries. 'King Palmetto Compound is not a secret remedy,—the formula is printed on the label, and you can get expert advice from your physician, who will tell you that it is the most useful prescription ever prepared. Saw Palmetto for the kidneys, Cascara Sagrada for the bowels, Couch Grass, Corn Silk, for the bladder, Golden Seal and Compound Kerunfel,—a perfect combination. The cause of ill-health is not a mystery either, and we know we should apply our reason to our daily habits, but we do not do so. The modern struggle is too much for us. The result is a clogged liver, and a generally disordered condition of the stomach, liver, nerves, and kidneys. These things lead to very serious results, and render the body an easy prey to germ diseases, such as Typhus, Typhoid, and Consumption. The reasonable solution is to begin taking King Palmetto Compound to-day. One dose a day, and the cure begins with the first dose. It will renovate your entire system, cure constipation and indigestion, and purify the blood. Give it a trial. Write for a free sample bottle to the King Palmetto Company, Bridgeburg, Ontario.

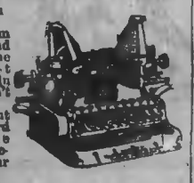
YOU CAN EASILY OPERATE THIS TYPEWRITER YOURSELF



Don't worry your correspondent.

Don't write him anything by hand that takes him time to decipher—that makes him lose interest—that leaves him in doubt that he can't easily read.

And don't fill out legal papers or card memos—or make out accounts or hotel menus in your own handwriting.

It looks bad, reflects on your standing, makes people think you can't afford a stenographer, and is sometimes ambiguous.

You can write out your letters—make out an abstract—fill in an insurance policy—enter your card memos—make out your accounts, or hotel menus—or do any kind of writing you need, on any kind, size or thickness of paper, and space any way you want on

The OLIVER Typewriter

The Standard Visible Writer

You can write any of these things yourself if you do not happen to have a stenographer.

For you can easily learn with a little practice to write just as rapidly, and as perfectly as an expert operator on the Oliver. Because the Oliver is the simplified typewriter. And you can see every word you write. About 50% more durable than any other typewriter, because it has about 50% less wearing points than most other typewriters.

50% easier to write with than these other complicated, intricate machines that require "humoring"—technical knowledge—long practice and special skill to operate.

Than machines which cannot be adjusted to any special space—with which it is impossible to write abstracts, insurance policies, or odd-size documents except you buy expensive special attachments requiring expert to operate.

You can adjust the Oliver to any reasonable space—you can write on any reasonable size and thickness of paper, right out to the very edge, without the aid of any expensive attachment or special skill, and your work will be uniform, appearing, legible and clear.

For the Oliver is the typewriter for the doctor the lawyer, the insurance agent, the merchant the hotel proprietor—or any man that does his own writing.

A STORY OF LOVE AND ADVENTURE

"And they took him off?"

"Truly. They gagged him because he protested so much, and lugged him off."

"To the Bastille?" he demanded, as if he could scarcely realize the event.

"To the Bastille. In a big traveling-coach, between the officer and his men. He may be there by this time."

He looked at me as if he were still not quite able to believe the thing.

"It is true, monsieur. If I were inventing it I could not invent anything better! Nor anything half so good. If ever there was a case of the biter bit" he broke off laughing.

"Monsieur, you know not half how funny it was. Had you seen their faces—the more Lucas swore he was not Comte de Mar the more the officer was sure he was."

"Felix, you have all the luck. I said this morning you should go about no more without me. Then I send you off on a stupid errand, and see what you get into!"

"Monsieur, I put it to you! Had you been there, how could Lucas have been arrested for Comte de Mar?"

"He won't stay arrested long—more's the pity."

"No," I said regretfully; "but they may keep him overnight."

"Aye, he may be out of mischief overnight. I am happy to say that my face is not known at the Bastille."

"Nor his, I take it. I thought from what I heard last night that he had never been in Paris save for a while in the spring, when he lay perdu. At the Bastille they may know nothing of the existence of a Paul de Lorraine. But, monsieur, if Mayenne has broken his word already. If they are arresting you on this trumped-up charge, you must get out of the gates to-night."

"Impossible," he answered, smiling; "I have an engagement in Paris."

"But monsieur may not keep it. He must go to St. Denis."

"I must go nowhere but to the Hotel Lorraine."

"Monsieur!"

"Why, look you, Felix; it is the safest spot for me in all Paris; it is the last place where they will look for me. Besides, now that they think me behind bars, they will not be looking for me at all. I shall be as safe as the hottest Leaguer in the camp."

"But in the hotel"——

"Be comforted; I shall not enter the hotel. There is a limit to my madness. No; I shall go softly around to a window in the side street under which I have often stood in the old days. She used to contrive to be in her chamber after supper."

"But, monsieur, how long is it since you were there last?"

"I think it must be two months. I had little heart for it after my father —— So, you see, no one will be on the lookout for me to-night."

"Neither will mademoiselle," I made my point.

"I hope she may," he answered. "She will know I must see her to-night. And I think she will be at the window."

The reasoning seemed satisfactory to him. And I thought one wet blanket in the house was enough.

"Very well, monsieur. I am ready for anything you propose."

"Then I propose supper."

Afterward we played shovel-board, I risking the pistoles mademoiselle had given me. I won five more, for he paid little heed to what he was about, but was ever fidgeting over to the window to see if it was dark enough to start. At length, when it was still between dog and wolf, he announced that he would delay no longer.

"Very well, monsieur," I said with all alacrity.

"But you are not to come!"

"Monsieur!"

"Certainly not. I must go alone to-night."

"But, monsieur, you will need me. You will need some one to watch the street while you speak with mademoiselle."

"I can have no listener to-night," he replied immovably.

"But I will not listen, monsieur! I shall stand out of earshot. But you must have some one to give you warning should the guard set on you."

"I can manage my own affairs," he retorted haughtily; "I desire neither your advice nor your company."

"Monsieur!" I cried, almost in tears.

"Enough!" he bade sharply. "Go send me Vigo."

I went like one in whose face the doors of heaven had shut.

Vigo came at once from the guard-room at my summons. It was on my tongue to tell him of M. le Comte's mad resolve to fare forth alone, to beg him to stop it. But I remembered how blameworthy I myself had held the equerry for interfering with M. Etienne, and I made up my mind that no word of cavil at my lord should ever pass my lips. I lagged across the court at Vigo's heels, silent.

M. Etienne was standing in the doorway.

"Vigo," he said, without a change of countenance, "get Felix a rapier, which he can use prettily enough. I cannot take him out to-night unarmed."

Vigo hesitated a moment, saluted and went.

"Monsieur," I cried out, "you meant all the time to take me!"

He gazed down on my heated visage and laughed and laughed.

"Felix," he gasped, "you had your sport over there at the inn. But I have seen nothing this summer as funny as your face."

Vigo came back with a sword and baldric for me, and a horse-pistol besides, but M. Etienne would not let me have it.

"Circumstances are such, Vigo, that I want no noisy weapons."

The equerry regarded him with a troubled countenance.

"I wish I knew, monsieur, whether I do right to let you go."

"We will not discuss that, and it please you."

"I do not, monsieur. I have no right to curtail M. le Comte's liberties. But I let you go with a heavy heart."

He looked after us with foreboding eyes as we went out of the great gate alone, with not so much as a linkboy. But if his heart was heavy our hearts were light. We passed along as merrily as though to a feast. M. Etienne hung his lute over his neck and strummed it; and whenever we passed under a window whence leaned a pretty head he sang snatches of love-songs. We were alone in the dark streets of a hostile city, bound for the house of a mighty foe; and one of us was wounded and one a tyro. Yet we laughed as we went; for there was Lucas languishing in prison, and here we were, free as air, steering our course for mademoiselle's window. One of us was in love and the other wore a sword for the first time, and all the power of Mayenne daunted us not.

We came at length within bowshot of the Hotel de Lorraine, where M. Etienne was willing to abate somewhat his swagger. We left the Rue St. Antoine, creeping around behind the house through a narrow and twisting alley—it was pitchblack, but he knew the way well—into a little street dimlighted from the windows of the houses upon it. It was only a few rods long, running from the open square in front of the hotel to the network of unpaved alleys behind. On the further side stood a row of high-gabled houses, their doors opening directly on the pavement; on this side was but one big pile, the Hotel de Lorraine. The wall was broken by few windows, most of them dark; this was not the gay side of the house. The overhanging turret on the low second story, under which M. Etienne halted, was as dark as the rest, nor, though the casement was open wide, could we tell whether any one was in the room. We could hear nothing but the breeze crackling in the silken curtains.

"Take your station at the corner there," he bade, "and shout if they seem to be coming for us. But I think we shall not be molested. My fingers are so stiff they will hardly recognize my hand on the strings."

I went to my post, and he began singing, scarce loud enough for any but his lady above to mark him:

Fairest blossom ever grew
Once she loosened from her breast.
This I say, her eyes are blue.

From her breast the rose she drew,
Dole for me, her servant blest,
Fairest blossom ever grew.

The music paused, and I turned from my watch of the shadowy figures crossing the square, in instant alarm lest something was wrong. But whatever startled him ceased, for in a moment he went on again, and as he sang his voice rang fuller:

Of my love the guerdon true,
'Tis my bosom's only guest.
This I say, her eyes are blue.

Still to me 'tis bright of hue
As when first my kisses prest
Fairest blossom ever grew.

Sweeter than when gathered new
'Twas the sign her love confest.
This I say, her eyes are blue.

He stopped again and stood gazing up into the window, but whether he saw something or heard something I could not tell. Apparently he was not sure himself, for presently, a little tremulous, he added the fourth verse:

Askest thou of me a clue
To that lady I love best?
Fairest blossom ever grew!
This I say, her eyes are blue.

He doffed his hat, pushing back the hair from his brow, and waited, eager, hopeful. There was a little stir in the room that he thought was not the wind.

I had come unconsciously halfway up the street to him in the ardor of my interest; but now I was startled back to my duty by the sound of men running round the corner behind me. One glance was enough; two abreast, swords in hand, they were charging us. I ran before them, drawing blade as I went and shouting to M. Etienne. But even as I called an answering shout came from the alley; two men of the Spanish guards shot out of the darkness and at us.

M. Etienne, with his extraordinary quickness, had got the lute off his neck, and now, for want of a better use of it, flung it at the head of his nearest assailant who received it full in the face, stopped, hesitated a moment and ran back the way he had come. But three foes remained, with the whole Hotel de Lorraine behind them.

We put our backs to the wall and set to. The remaining Spaniard engaged me; M. Etienne, protected somewhat in the embrasure of a doorway, held at bay with his good left arm a pair of attackers. These were in the dress of gentlemen, and wore masks as if their cheeks blushed (well they might) for the deeds of their hands.

A broad window in the Hotel de Lorraine was flung open; a man leaned far out with a torch. The bright glare in our faces bewildered our gloom-accustomed eyes; I could not see what I was about, and rammed my point against my Spaniard's bilt, snapping my blade.

The sudden impact sent him stumbling back a pace, and M. Etienne, who, with the quick eye of the born fencer, saw everything, cried to me, "Here!"

I darted back into the doorway beside him, his two assailants finding that they gained nothing by their joint attack, but rather hampered each other, one dropped back to watch his comrade, the cleverer swordsman. This was decidedly a man of talent, but he was shorter in the arm than my master and had the disadvantage of standing on the ground, whereas M. Etienne was up one step. He could not force home any of his shrewd-planned thrusts; nor could he drive M. Etienne out of his coign to where in the open the two could make short work of him. The rapiers clashed and parted and twisted about each other and flew apart again; and then before I could see who was touched the attacker fell to his knees, with M. Etienne's sword in his breast.

M. Etienne wrenched the blade out; the wounded man sank backward, his mask-string breaking. He was the one whom I had thought him—Francois de Brie.

M. Etienne was ready for the second gentleman, but neither he nor the soldier attacked. The torch-bearer in the window, with a shout, waved his arm toward the square. A mob of armed men hurled itself around the corner, a pikeman with lowered point in the van.

This was not combat; it was butchery. M. Etienne, with a little moan, lifted his eyes for the first time from his assailant to the turret window. In the same instant I felt the door behind us give. Throwing my whole weight upon it I seized M. Etienne and pulled him over the threshold. Some one inside slammed the door to just as the Spaniard hurled himself against it.

CHAPTER XX.

We found ourselves in a narrow panelled passageway, lighted by a flickering oil-lamp pendant from a bracket. Confronting us was the preserver of a little old lady in black velvet, leaning back in chuckling triumph against the shot bolts.

She was very small and very old. Her figure was bent and shrunken, a pitiful little bag of bones in a rich dress; her hair was as white as her ruff; her skin as yellow and dry as parchment, furrowed with a thousand wrinkles; but her black eyes sparkled like a girl's.

"I did not mean to let my nightingale's throat be slit," she cried in a shrill voice quavering like a young child's. "I have listened to your singing many a night, monsieur. I was glad to-night to find the nightingale back again. When I saw that crew rush at you I said I would save you if only you would put your back to my door. Monsieur, you are a young man of intelligence."

"I am a young man of amazing good fortune, madame." M. Etienne replied, with his handsomest bow, sheathing his wet blade. "I owe you a debt of gratitude which is ill repaid in the base coin of bringing trouble to this house."

"Not at all—not at all!" she protested with animation. "No one is likely to molest this house. It is the dwelling of M. Ferou."

"Of the Sixteen?"

"Of the Sixteen," she nodded, her shrewd face agleam with mischief. "In truth, if my son were within you were little likely to find harborage here. But as it is, he and his wife are supping with His Grace of Lyons. And the servants are one and all gone to mass, leaving madame grandmere to shift for herself. No, no, my good friends; you may knock till you drop, but you won't get in."

The attacking party was indeed hammering energetically on the door, shouting to us to open, to deny them at our peril. The eyes of the old lady glittered with new delight at every rap.

"I fancy they will think twice before they batter down M. Ferou's door! Ma foi! I fancy they are a little mystified at finding you sanctuaried in this house. Was it not my Lord Mayenne's jackal, Francois de Brie?"

"Yes; and Marc Latour."

"I thought I knew them," she cried in evident pride at her sharpness. "It was dark, and they were masked, and my eyes are old, but I knew them! And which of the ladies is it?"

He could do no less than answer his savior.

"Ah, well," she said, with a little sigh, "I, too, once—but that is a long time ago." Then her eyes twinkled again; I trow she was not much given to sighing. "That is a long time ago," she repeated briskly, "and now they think I am too old to do aught but tell my beads and wait for death. But I like to have a hand in the game."

"I will come to take a hand with you any time, madame," M. Etienne assured her. "I like the way you play."

She broke into shrill, delighted laughter.

"I'll warrant you do! And I don't mean to do the thing by halves. No; I shall save you hide and hair. Be so kind, my lad, as to lift the lantern from the hook."

I did as she bade me, and we followed her down the passage like spaniels. She was so entirely equal to the situation that we made no protests and asked no questions. At the end of the hall she paused, opening neither the door on the right nor the door on the left, but, passing her hand up one of the panels of the wainscot, suddenly she flung it wide.

"You are not so small as I," she chuckled, "yet I think you can make shift to get through. You, monsieur lantern-bearer, go first."

I doubled myself up and scrambled through. The old lady, gathering her petticoats daintly, followed me without difficulty, but M. Etienne was put to some trouble to bow his tall head low enough. We stood at the top of a flight of stone steps descending into blackness. The old lady unhesitatingly tripped down before us.

At the foot of the stairs was a vaulted stone passageway, slippery with lichen, the dampness hanging in beads on the wall. Turning two corners, we brought up at a narrow, nail-studded door.

"Here I bid you farewell," quoth the little old lady. "You have only to walk on till you get to the end. At the steps pull the rope once and wait. When he opens to you, say, 'For the Cause,' and draw a crown with your finger in the air."

"Madame," M. Etienne cried, "I hope the day may come when I shall make you suitable acknowledgments. My name"——

"I prefer not to know it," she interrupted, glancing up at him. "I will call you M. Yeux-gris; that is enough. As for acknowledgments—pooh! I am overpaid in the sport it has been."

"But, madame, when monsieur your son discovers"——

"Mon dieu! I am not afraid of my son or of any other woman's son!" she cried, with cackling laughter. And I warrant she was not.

"Madame," M. Etienne said, "I trust we shall meet again when I shall have time to tell you what I think of you." He dropped on his knees before her, kissing both her hands.

"Yes, yes, of course you are grateful," she said, somewhat bored apparently by his demonstration. "Naturally one does not like to die at your age. I wish you a pleasant journey, M. Yeux-gris, and you, too, you fresh-faced boy. Give me back my lantern and fare you well."

"You will let us see you safe back in your hall."

"I will do nothing of the sort! I am not so decrepit, thank you, that I cannot get up my own stairs. No, no; no more gallantries, but get on your way! I must be back in my chamber working my altar-cloth when my daughter-in-law comes home."

Crowing her elfin laugh she pulled the door open and fairly hustled us through.

"Good-by—you are fine boys," and she slammed the door upon us. We were in absolute darkness. As we took our first breath of the dark, foul air we heard bolts snap into place.

"Well, since we cannot go back, let us go forward," said M. Etienne, cheerfully. "I am glad she has bolted the door; it is to throw them off the scent should they track us."

I knew very well that he was not at all glad; that the same thought which chilled my blood had come to him. This little beldame, with her beady eyes and her laughter, was the wicked witch of our childhood days, she had shut us up in a charnel-house to die.

I heard him tapping the pavement before him with his scabbard, using it as a blind man's staff. And so we advanced through the fetid gloom, the passage being only wide enough to let us walk shoulder to shoulder. There was a whirring of wings about us and a squeaking; once something swooped square into my face, knocking a cry of terror from me and a laugh from him.

"What was it? a bat? Cheer up, Felix; they don't bite." But I would not go on till I had made sure, as well as I could without seeing, that the cursed thing was not clinging on me somewhere.

We walked on then in silence, the stone walls vibrant with our tread. We went on till it seemed we had traversed the width of Paris; and I wondered who were sleeping and fasting and scheming and loving over our heads. M. Etienne said at length:

"Mordieu. I hope this snake-hole does not empty us into the Seine!" But I thought that as long as it emptied us out somewhere I should not greatly mind the Seine.

At this very moment M. Etienne clutched my arm, jerking me to a halt. I bounded backward, trying in the blackness to discern a precipice yawning at my feet. "Look!" he cried in a low, tense voice. I perceived, far before us in the gloom, a point of light, which, as we watched it, grew bigger and bigger till it became an approaching lantern.

"This is likely to be awkward," murmured M. Etenne.

The man carrying the light came on with firm, heavy tread; naturally he did not see us as soon as we saw him. I thought him alone, but it was hard to tell in this dark, echoey place.

He might easily have approached within touch of my sad clothing without becoming aware of me, but M. Etienne's azure and white caught the lantern rays a rod away. The newcomer stopped short, holding up the light between us and his face. We could make nothing of him, save that he was a large man, soberly clad.

"Who is it?" he demanded, his voice ringing out loud and steady. "Is it you, Ferou?"

M. Etienne hooked his scabbard in place and went forward into the clear circle of light.

"No, M. de Mayenne; it is Etienne de Mar."

"Ventre bleu!" Mayenne ejaculated, changing his lantern with comical alacrity to his left hand, and whipping out his sword. My master came bare, too, at that. They confronted each other in silence, till Mayenne's ever-increasing astonishment forced the cry from him:

BEER* IS GOOD FOR MOST FOLKS
(HARDLY ANOTHER BEVERAGE FEEDS SO WELL)

BEER really excels milk as a food-drink for most grown people. And many, many people cannot digest milk easily, because it is so lacking in solid food-contents. Moreover, milk is so liable to contagion that it is seldom pure when we get it in the cities. But Ontario-brewed beer is really pure,—brewed in cleanliness, of sound materials, in a sanitary way, and brought to the user in the same fit-to-drink state.

Beer Is No Stimulant

Drink beer with meals and at bedtime, as an item of diet that will help the stomach do its work better, and will feed the body besides. Don't choose beer as a stimulant, though,—it does not contain enough alcohol for that. Use it as a food-drink that induces lazy stomachs to do their work well, and so helps them get more good out of all food.

Beer Makes Better Nerves

Ontario beer is not only deliciously appetising and refreshing, because brewed of pure malt and hops only; but, besides, all the power that hops possess to repair nerve wastes is kept in these brews. That is what makes beer so particularly good for women to drink regularly. Ask your own doctor what he thinks of beer for your household.

* BEER is a term which covers lager, ales, porter and stout; and, in the practice of Ontario brewers, implies beverages made under most hygienic conditions from Ontario barley (the best in the world) malt, hops and pure water. 301

THE COUNTY FAIR.

Swing the sledge, see how strong you are!
Only a dime, just walk right in;
In fifteen minutes the show will begin!
This way, ladies, the human seal—
A genuine mermaid; she cannot feel
The icy water; she lives in snow
Way up in the land of the Eskimo.
Here he is—he eats 'em alive!
Try sauerkraut candy to make you thrive.
Ten cents, and you'll get your money's worth—
The largest fat woman on the earth.
The india rubber man is here.

Oh, for the fair, where the fakirs sound
Their drill o'er the tune of the merry-go-round!

Love's Young Dream.

"You used to tell me you would love me always."

"Yes, and we were both young enough to believe it."—Philadelphia Press.

He Said It.

"I always believe," she said, "in speaking right out. If I have anything on my mind I say it."

"There is something," he replied, "that I have wanted for some time to say to you. May I be perfectly free to speak out?"

"Yes," she urged, moving a little closer to him. "Why shouldn't you? We have known each other for a long time, and—and—what was it you wish to say?"

"If I didn't know you so well I wouldn't dare to say it, but I know you—that is, you and I have been friends for so long that I—feel that I may say"—

"Yes, say what?"

"The end of your switch is sticking up so everybody can see that you are wearing hair which is not your own."—Chicago Record-Herald.

A Compromise.

"I'll take this suit," announced the customer in the clothing store, reviewing himself in a looking glass. "As long as I have it on I might just as well wear it. I'll write you out a check."

"I'm afraid I can't accept a check," said the salesman. "I don't like to question your honesty, but your check may not be good."

"Oh, that's all right," replied the customer cheerfully. "As a matter of fact, I'm just a little apprehensive about the suit. We'll compromise. You try the check, and I'll try the suit."—Harper's Weekly.

A Discouraged Digger.

"I see they say that when a diamond passes a certain size it is worth no more than a smaller one."

"How's that?"

"If it's too large it isn't marketable. Nobody wants to wear a diamond as bulky as a glass door knob."

"Is that so? Then it must be awfully discouraging for a man to dig up a sparkler as big as a football."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Ruling Passion.

The wealthy plumber stood on the deck of the big ocean liner watching a distant whale.

"There she blows!" shouted a sailor in stentorian tones.

And the plumber was silent and thoughtful.

"Ah," he mused to himself after a long while, "what a dandy bill I could send in for stopping a leak like that!"—Detroit Tribune.

Not What He Meant.

Rarely has a double meaning turned with more deadly effect upon an innocent perpetrator than in an advertisement lately appearing in a western newspaper. He wrote: "Wanted—A gentleman to undertake the sale of a patent medicine. The advertiser guarantees it will be profitable to the undertaker."—Harper's Weekly.

Chemicals For Fire.

It was not until 1805 that attempts were made to use chemical agency for the production of fire. In that year M. Chanul, assistant to Professor Theard of Paris, discovered that a mixture of chlorate of potash and sugar would ignite if dipped into sulphuric acid.

Flints.

Flints are exceedingly hard substances—so hard that when we wish to be emphatic we sometimes say that a thing is hard as flint, yet all the flints in the world are supposed to have been formed from soft sponges, for by examining small pieces of flint under a microscope the texture of the sponge in a fossil condition is often seen and the spicules peculiar to sponges are discerned.

Laughed Away the Danger.

An old traveler tells of an experience of his in midocean. The day was foggy, and most of the passengers were below listening to two evangelists who were holding a particularly fervid gospel meeting in the saloon. Suddenly and without the slightest warning there was a terrific crash and the engines stopped. Every one rushed on deck. The steamer had run into an iceberg.

Nobody knew what damage had been done, and everybody was ready to fly into a panic. The boats were lowered, and then for the first time the two evangelists, who had been forgotten in the saloon, appeared on deck. They wore their overcoats and their hats, and they carried rugs and handbags. They elbowed their way rudely to the rail, with the evident intent of securing for themselves first places in the boat. It was just at a time when a breath would have sent the passengers panic stricken into the boats.

The sight of the two evangelists was about to undo the work of the [illegible]headed officers when a pert little cockney stepped up to the gentlemen with the rugs and handbags.

"Beg pardon," said he, tipping his cap, "'ave a cab, sir?"

And in the general laugh the danger of panic was averted.

Could Not Risk It.

A dealer in real estate tells this story: A middle aged widow came to his office to try to make arrangements for the purchase of a house and lot. "We can make a small payment down," she said, "and would sign a mortgage running for a period of five years to secure the payment of the rest of the money. My daughters have good positions as bookkeepers in a large mercantile establishment and can save enough out of their salaries to meet the payments as they become due."

The real estate man hesitated.

"I should want to be sure of you paying for the property in the stipulated time," he said. "I should feel like a criminal if I had to foreclose the mortgage at any time—and yet business is business. I shall have to see your daughters."

She brought them to his office the next day.

"Madam," he said, shaking his head, "you will have to give me some additional security. Your daughters are too handsome. They will marry and lose their jobs long before the five years are up."

Indestructible Cat.

While expounding to his wife the alleged fact that men can control their tempers better than women can, Mr. Hinks fell over the cat and nearly broke his nose.

"That settles it!" he hissed. "I've often threatened, but now I'll drown the brute!"

His wife begged him to be merciful, but his mind was made up.

Accordingly he placed the offending feline, along with two large bricks, in an old flour sack and hastened upon his murderous errand. On reaching the canal he threw in the bag with such vigor that he overbalanced and fell into the muddy water. After struggling for half an hour and incidentally drinking half the water in the canal, he returned home wet and weary.

At the door sat the cat.

"Well, of all"— exclaimed Hinks. "Why, I drowned the brute!"

"I don't think so," said his wife as she let him in. "You didn't give me time to tell you that there was a hole in that bag!"—London Answers.

The Right Idea.

"How do you define the phrase 'as black as your hat?'" a father asked his son as the latter had just used the expression.

"Well," replied the youth, "I should define it as darkness that might be felt."—Cassell's Journal.

The Clock and the Watch.

"What pleased me most," said the man who had been abroad, "was the wonderful clock at Strassburg."

"Oh, how I should like to see it!" replied the ignorant youth. "And did you see the watch on the Rhine too?"

Window Made of Stone.

A window made entirely of stone has been presented to a French cathedral. The stone is nephrite, found in Siberia and so beautifully transparent that when placed as it is it catches the sun's rays and reflects them into the interior of the cathedral.

Pewter.

Pewter is an alloy consisting of 80 per cent of tin and 20 per cent of lead.

Blackbirds.

Blackbirds are powerful enemies of wasps. A blackbird will stand coolly by the side of a wasps' nest and deliberately tear it to pieces to get at the larvae, apparently caring not in the least for the swarms of angry insects flying around.

Garnet and Topaz.

The deterioration of the garnet and topaz is much more rapid than that of the ruby, but it takes a different form. While the garnet becomes lighter, the topaz turns cloudy and dull and loses all its brightness.

A Quaint Custom.

The marriage customs of nations are quaint. Here is one which is decidedly barbarous: A Hottentot widow marrying again has to cut off the joint of a finger, which she gives to her new husband on their wedding day. Each time she becomes a widow and marries again she has to sacrifice one finger joint.

THE WAY HE USED TO DO.

Sometimes when I come in at night
And take my shoes off at the stair
I hear my pop turn on the light
And holler, "William, are you there?"
And then he says, "You go to bed;
I knew that stealthy step was you."
And I asked how, and then he said,
"'Cause that's the way I used to do."

Sometimes when I come home at six O'clock and hurry up my chores
And get a big armful of sticks
Of wood and bring it all indoors
My pop he comes and feels my head
And says, "You've been in swimmin'—you!"
When I asked how he knew, he said,
"'Cause that's the way I used to do."

Sometimes before a circus comes,
When I as willing as can be
To do my chores, and all my chums
They all take turns at helping me,
My pop he pats 'em on the head
And says, "You like a circus too?"
When I asked how he knew, he said,
"'Cause that's the way I used to do."

And lots of times when he gets mad
Enough to whip me and declares
He never saw another lad
Like I am—well, at last he spares
Me from a whipping, and he lays
His rawhide down. "I can't whip you
For that, although I should," he says,
"'Cause that's the way I used to do."

Not His Attitude.

It was difficult to hire competent or even incompetent help in Eden Center, and the commuters in that idyllic spot had learned resignation.

"James," said Mrs. Crawford, "I haven't seen anything of that man who was to mow our lawn. Where do you suppose he is? There, I believe that's he now over in Howe's orchard!"

"Is he standing?" inquired Mr. Crawford.

"Yes," said his wife, "he's standing under one of the big trees looking toward our house."

"That can't be the man," said Mr. Crawford. "He'd be sitting or lying down."—Youth's Companion.

"I Told You So."

Aunt Dinah was laboring over the washtub in the side yard near her cabin when suddenly and mysteriously a little negro, as if fallen from the skies, sprawled upon the grass near by, picked himself up slowly and began to whimper.

"Hey, yo', Sam?" cried Aunt Dinah. "Didn't I done severely warn yo' 'bout dat? Didn't I caution yo' elaborately? Ain't I done tole yo' ter quit foolin' eroun' dat mule?"—Judge.

Caricatures.

Caricatures are found among the sculptured monuments of Thebes, Egypt, made 2,300 years before Christ.

The Tongue.

The tongue is divided into three regions of taste, each of which has its own special function. The tip of the tongue is chiefly sensible to pungent and acid tastes, the middle portion to sweets or bitters, while the back is confined entirely to the flavors of roast meats, butter, oils and rich and fatty substances.

Licorice Root.

Licorice root grows wild in the fields of Asia Minor and until fifty years ago was practically unused. Today the annual exports to the United States alone are worth about $550,000.

Recipes For Pears.

We often let pears go to waste when not choice enough of texture and flavor to be eaten raw. They may be made into good pear marmalade heightened with lemon. This is nice for cake filling and little tarts during the winter.

Pears may be dried and used in all sorts of boiled puddings, instead of part of the raisins and currants that such recipes call for, and also they can be used in dark fruit gingerbreads and raised bread cakes.

Pears may be made into dessert fritters. To do this have them cut in quarters, if of moderate size, or else in long slices. Make a batter by beating the yolks of two eggs and diluting them with half a cupful of water, adding gradually. Into this stir by degrees a cupful of flour into which has been sifted a teaspoonful each of salt and fine sugar. Season with a tablespoonful each of brandy and sirup from preserved ginger. Let this stand for two hours and do not cut the pears until nearly the time to use them. When ready to dip the slices and fry, beat the whites of the two eggs very stiff and add to the batter. Cover each quarter and fry in deep frying basket in hot clear fat. The sauce must be made from more ginger sirup, a little brandy and lemon rind and juice thickened with cornstarch. The proportions are two teaspoonfuls of cornstarch wet in cold water, so that it can be poured into a quarter of a cupful of ginger sirup and brandy each, and two tablespoonfuls of lemon juice. Cook this for five minutes before adding to it a tablespoonful of butter, a little of the ginger cut fine—about one-fourth of a cupful—and a little of the lemon rind grated.

PANDORA RANGE

A Strikingly Handsome Range

The owner of a Pandora is always proud of the impression this strikingly handsome range makes upon her neighbors.

The solid, compact appearance of the smoothly finished body, the bold, large pattern of the carving, and the brilliance of the heavy nickel coating, combine to produce an effect that is distinctly pleasing to the eye of the most critical observer.

The Pandora Castings undergo a "special process" to make them easily and quickly take a lustrous shine.

The Nickeling is done with extraordinary care—will not chip and crack like the nickeling on ordinary stoves, but will retain its smoothness and brightness for years.

Because of the absence of any fine, fancy carving, which catches and holds the dust, the Pandora is much more easy to polish and will remain clean longer.

Altogether, the Pandora is a very superior range.

If your local dealer does not sell the Pandora, write direct for free booklet.

"Imported" Does Not Mean "Better"

There is a fascination about the word "imported," that some men can't resist.

They think that because a beer is imported, it must be good.

In the case of lager, "imported" simply means "higher prices," on account of the excessive duty.

Because—you can get a purer, finer lager that is brewed right here in Canada, for about HALF what imported beers cost.

This Canadian brew—on which there is no duty to pay—is An Expensive Rug.

If you are a steady smoker don't throw away your old tobacco bags. By saving them until he had a trunkful a resident of Sixty-second street got busy with a needle and made one of the oddest rugs one would find in a day's walk. Of course this economical genius is an incessant smoker. Often he smoked two bags of tobacco in a day. Then, too, he changed his brand often and in this way got a more highly colored assortment. He told his friends about the rug he had in mind, and they got busy collecting. As a result Mr. Smoker got a big crop each week. In less than six months he had gathered 108 square feet of tobacco bags, which was a nice 9 by 12 rug. He used a piece of thick flannel as a foundation and sewed the bags to it each night on returning from work. On several occasions some of the fellows from the office helped him do the "sewing." It was interesting work. For some unknown reason many of the helpers sewed the bags on backward, but all were finally straightened out, and when the rug was finally laid there was a little celebration in the genius' room. Now as he looks at the rug in silence he prides himself upon his economy. And yet the refreshments that he supplied to keep the workers in good humor and on the night of the "rug laying" cost him $24.50.—Philadelphia Record.

Pack and let stand for a couple of hours before serving.

Perilous Adventure.

A Barry man named George Weed had a weird experience when traveling by the steamer Gwalia, of the Red Funnel line, from Ilfracombe to Barry.

When the steamer was near the Foreland on the other side of Lynmouth he was suddenly missed from the deck. The Gwalia stopped, lowered her boats, and swept the sea with her searchlights. Nothing was seen of the man, and after a time the steamer proceeded on her passage. At Barry the mishap was reported.

The man on falling overboard had, however, struck out for the shore, which was about a mile distant. He succeeded in covering the distance, only to find himself faced by the precipitous cliff of the Foreland.

He started to climb the cliff. When about 60 feet up he found himself in a perilous position and started calling for help. His cries were heard by the lighthouse keeper, who communicated with Lynmouth.

A boat was manned, and the man found on a ledge of the cliff in a semi-conscious state.

Weddings in Church.

The Bishop of Ottawa, in a recent sermon at All Saints' Church, in connection with the dedication of a chime of bells, urged that the marriage ceremony should be celebrated in the church. Too many wanted to be married in their homes. If the ceremony was right, it should be celebrated in God's house. It would almost seem, he said, as if sometimes all was not right. He deplored the present-day tendency of keeping to so large an extent the courtship and engagement of young people a matter of secrecy. This was unbecoming, and did not spring from the purest and highest feelings. He certainly approved of having the marriage bells ring out throughout the whole community, as is was better to have the people crowd to the church of God to witness such a ceremony than to have a marriage in secret.

Danish Wedding Rings.

Girls in Denmark never experience the pleasure of receiving a diamond engagement ring. They are presented with a plain gold band, which is worn on the third finger of the left hand. On the wedding day the bridegroom changes the ring to the right third finger, which is the marriage finger in that country.

Mr. Bones—Ah-ah-ah-ah-ah-ah-ah-ah-ah-ah—

Interlocutor (interrupting)—As we haven't all night to settle this thing, we'll let Mr. Tambo do the talking. Go on, Mr. Tambo, and tell your story.

Not a Hit as an Improviser.

"A year ago I took the grippe. I was as weak as a child. I was no longer able to eat. My blood was thin. My cheeks were white and hollow. Doctors gave me all kinds of medicine, but none of them brought me strength. My friends said I was wasting away with some slow disease, and I bade them good-bye. Then I heard of the wonderful Ferrozone. After three days it gave me an appetite. I gained strength and became cheerful. Under Ferrozone I improved steadily. I am well to-day. SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTH-WEST

HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

Any even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry must be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land is situate. Entry by proxy may, however, be made on certain conditions by the father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of an intending homesteader.

The homesteader is required to perform the conditions connected therewith under one of the following plans:

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year for three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of the homesteader resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for, the requirements as to residence may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

PLAIN TALK FROM THE DOCTOR

A prominent physician, famous for his success in the treatment of kidney and bladder troubles, stated that to the following prescription is due a great deal of his success:

One ounce fluid extract dandelion;
One ounce compound salatone;
Four ounces compound syrup sarsaparilla.

Mix and take a teaspoonful after meals and at bedtime, drinking plenty of water.

This mixture will, he says, positively cure any diseases arising from weak, clogged or inactive kidneys, and will assist these organs to cleanse the blood of the poisonous waste matter and acids, which if allowed to remain, cause lumbago, lame back, rheumatism and sciatica, and at the same time will restore the kidneys to healthy normal action. The ingredients, which are purely vegetable and entirely harmless, can be procured from any good druggist and mixed at home at very little cost.

This advice will undoubtedly be much appreciated by many readers.

Rugged Hiram and Hiram's Giddy Wife.

[Copyright, 1902, 1903, by Robert Howard Russell.]

A TRAILING WORTH GOWN.

Once there was a staid Business Man who was hooked up with a hoop-la Spender. It was often remarked that Hiram's Wife seemed to take it for granted that Treasury Notes grew on Trees. She wore those long, lozenge-shaped Rings that blind the Spectator, and she had a different Sunburst for every Day in the Week and a Diamond Tarara that made the other Women sizzle with Envy. She wore a trailing Worth Gown that kept coming into the Room long after she had entered.

Now and then she would give a Party at which $80 worth of Spinach would be hung on the Chandeliers. The highest-priced Caterer in Town would deal out the sparkling Conversation Water as if Brut and Buttermilk cost about the same.

She was, in very Sooth, among the highest of the Rollers, but Hiram stood for the Bills with nary a Whimper. He was proud to be the Husband of the Lady Ki-Bosh of the Local Knickerbockers.

He never pranced into the Ring himself for Fear that he might Interfere or throw a Shoe, but he sat back in Section A and rooted for the Missus. Every time she was awarded a Blue Ribbon for another Social Triumph, he was pleased beyond Compare.

Hiram was a Child of Nature, and he never had been able to outgrow his Birthright. Even when he was attired in his $135 Evening Clothes, one could tell by looking at him that he knew how to milk a Cow. He had more Hands and Feet than he could dispose of at one Time.

Hiram could not comb his Hair so that it would Stay, and although he had been in the City for 30 years he never contrived to get the Hang of a tie-it-yourself Bow Tie, so he used the kind that fastens behind with a little Buckle. It was even said that Hiram was unable to put the Studs in his Shirt without getting Finger-Marks on the Bosom. Hiram's Wife or daughter Jessie always had to go to his Room and look him over and turn him around a couple of times before they dared to lead him out where the Company could see him.

When there was a Theatre-Party, Hiram always sat back between the Curtains so as to avoid spoiling the Picture, and at the same time keep the Draught away from the other People. At a Dinner-Party he was usually put in between two gabby Girls who had tacit Instructions to keep him elbowed into the Background.

And yet, withal, Hiram was a Man of Sterling Worth and many admirable Qualities. He was the Family Gibraltar, while his Wife and Jessie were supposed to be mere Floral Ornaments. Best of all, Hiram was known to be a Star at getting the Coin. The Fact that the Family put up such a tall Front in the Society Column helped the Public to believe that Hiram was as good as Old Wheat and as prosperous as a Kansas Farmer. And he was supposed to be long on Business Integrity. It was argued that one so Yappy would have to be correspondingly Honest. Hiram was so Severe and Puritanical and had so much cliaging Agricultural Simplicity that no one dreamed the Truth about him. In Reality, his Arteries were surcharged with Sporting Blood. When no one suspected it, he liked to put on a Mask and sneak out and hold up the Stock Market. That is what he did until one sad Day in May the Stock Market up and Did him. He got it right where the Hired Girl wears the Ruching.

IN HIS EVENING CLOTHES.

Hiram came home as Pale as a Ghost and broke the News that he was in the Hole. He hesitated to tell the Wife, for she was a Fragile Being, unaccustomed to the rude Buffets of the Strenuous Life, and he feared that such a cruel Blow might crush her. But he finally divulged the frightful Truth and then flopped to the Settee and began to Bluff about killing himself, so that she could get the Insurance Money. She told him to Behave, and then she went out and made a Cup of Strong Tea for him.

Hiram had been an Imposing Figure so long as he had his Financial Underpinning, but when they yanked away his Supports he did a horrible Collapse. When he got the Swing in the Plexus and toppled over he proved to be a sorry Quitter. He lay on his Back and claimed a Foul, while his Wife and Jessie hustled around to save some of the Wreckage.

They gave up the Servants and soaked the Jewels and moved into a smaller House. It was a rapid Come-Down, but even while they were doing the Parachute they continued to look Pleasant and be Game. Although their Female Friends came around to express Sympathy and stick Pins in them, they forced the Angelic Smile and did not act a bit like Heavy Losers.

They had to take in Boomers and give Lessons in China-Painting in order to save Hiram from the Poor-House, and yet with all their Skimping and Economizing they never pretended to know Poverty.

When a Man loses his Money he goes to his Bedroom to drink himself into a Trance. A Woman lights the House from Cellar to Garret and sends out Invitations for a Party.

On an Income of about $3 a Week, Hiram's Wife and Daughter managed to keep up Appearances and occasionally have some of their Old Friends to Dinner. Hiram never understood how they managed it. When he looked at his empty Bank-Book and then out at the Cold World he was for giving up and disappearing beneath the waves. His Wife braced him and told him to think of Jessie. Hiram wept and said there was no Hope for the Child of a Pauper. Notwithstanding which, Hiram's Wife kept the Family right along in the Swim and married Jessie to a desirable Catch. It is true that she starved the Household for six months in order to give the Young Couple a daisy Send-Off.

HAD TO TAKE IN BOOMERS.

And all this time Hiram, the astute Business Manager, was standing around on one Foot like a Town Simpleton at a Kissing-Bee.

Hiram had learned how to do Things with Money, but he had to turn to his frivolous Wifey to find out how to Manage it when there was no Money.

In other words, Hiram discovered that Cash had been the Essence of his Existence while it had been the mere accidental Adjunct to his Wife's Social Campaigns.

Without a big Reserve he was a Smoke. She, minus her Check-Book, rose to greater heights of Diplomacy. In time she succeeded in resuscitating her groggy Husband and putting him back on the Track, but he had lost his Ginger. He was stoop-shouldered and gray as a Bat.

She turned up at the Club Meetings just as chipper as of Yore, only she came by Trolley instead of Coupe.

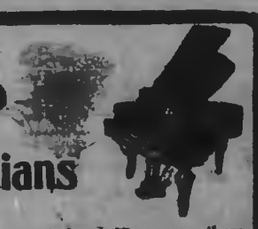
The Piano Loved by Musicians



There are pianos, living on their past reputation. There are others that do not enjoy the same reputation in Canada that they are supposed to hold in other lands.

The New Scale Williams is no such piano. It is loved for itself.

The ravishing tone, in all its glorious sweetness, evenness and volume—the sensitive, sympathetic touch—the power and possibilities of this magnificent instrument—make it the delight of the artist, the proudest possession of the home.

The builders of the New Scale Williams make price the last consideration. It is solely a question of superiority at every stage of the work.

The New Scale Williams Piano

is mechanically and architecturally perfect. Its creation from wood and metal is the work of master hands, directed by the deans of the art of piano building.

It is, beyond question, Canada's finest piano, and one of the world's masterpieces. It is the virtuoso's preference—the singer's greatest assistant—the choice of the teacher—the joy of the amateur.

Fill in the coupon below—take to your local dealer or send to us—and receive, absolutely free, several booklets issued by us—all beautifully illustrated and wonderfully interesting to anyone contemplating the purchase of a piano.

The Lecture Tickets That Were Bought, but Never Used.

[Copyright, 1902, 1903, by Robert Howard Russell.]

IN THE FAMILY ALBUM.

Once there was a Man living in a Big Town and he had a Cousin whom he never had seen. Some people are very lucky as to their Relatives.

The Man who lived in the Wicked Metropolis was named Sanford, and the Cousin who lived out in the Woods was known as Lafe, although his real Name was Lafayette.

Every Christmas Sanford would send Lafe some kind of a stingy Gift, and then Lafe would retaliate by shipping in a fat Turkey for Thanksgiving. There was a formal Exchange of Letters about twice per Year.

Sanford was a good deal Upset one day to receive Word that Cousin Lafayette was coming to spend a Week. Whatever Joy he felt he did not show at all.

The visiting Cousin is liable to be a Fierce Proposition under the most favorable Conditions, but it is more than Hard Luck to be saddled with one who is a Total Stranger. Sanford was hoping that the Train would run off the Track, but he wrote Cousin Lafe to be sure and come right to the House.

Sanford saw a very pink Week ahead of him. He was not very Strong for the Chaperon Game. He could see himself neglecting Business in order to lead Cousin Lafe around and show him the Sky-Scrapers, the Animals in the Park, the Eden Musee, and the big Engine in the Power-House. He had observed that the Excursionist is always keen to see a lot of Sights that are a Sealed Book to the Man who lives right in the City.

Sanford tried to get a Line on Cousin Lafe so as to frame up the right kind of a Programme. He could tell by the Picture in the Family Album that Lafe was a Pure Character and somewhat of a Rube. He wore a White Tie and had his Hair gummed down on his Forehead. He looked as if he would like to be a Preacher but could not quite make it. His open Countenance had that sweet and trusting Expression of the Hubbard Squash who is willing to give two Tons for a Five.

So far as Sanford could learn, Cousin Lafe was a kind of moral Sign-Board and snow-white Object-Lesson in the Jay Town which claimed him as its own. He was a Cemetery Trustee and Chairman of the Committee to solicit Funds for a new Y. M. C. A. building. Also he had been prominent in the Sunday-Closing Movement and the Main Kanoo in the Citizens' Reform League.

Accordingly, Sanford had all the Drinkables removed from the Sideboard, and he warned the Children not to Laugh while Cousin Lafe was saying Grace at the Table. Then he went out and bought some Tickets for a Lecture, and got a written Permit to go through the Car-Shops.

He went to the Station to meet the rural Lamb and protect him against the Cabmen. He saw a Hot Sport with a new Suit of Clothes and a Red Tie come through the Gate, but he did not spot anything that resembled a Cemetery Trustee. While he was still waiting, the Hot Sport came up and walloped him on the Back and introduced himself.

"What do you think?" asked the President of the Ypsville Citizens' Reform League. "I got into a Poker Game with two of them Ikey Drummers on the Train and trimmed them for 87 Samoleons. If the Train had been a half hour late I'd have got their Sample-Cases. I've got a Roll here that would choke a Horse, and I have a Feeling that I am about to Buy. We drank up everything in the Dining-Car except the Catsup before we got to Springfield, and I wouldn't take $7 for my Thirst. By the way, I want to tell you that I've left my Pajamas at Home, and you might as well move the Bed out of my Room, because I won't need it. If you have any Word to send to your Folks before we cut loose, step into the Box and telephone while you're still able to talk."

INTRODUCED HIMSELF.

"What do you wish to see first of all, the Parks or the Power-House?" asked Sanford.

"If it's all the same to you," said the Cemetery Trustee, "I should like to begin my Vacation by putting a tall Crimp in the Guy that spins the little Ivory Ball. Then you can send home for your Low-Neck and we will have a little Dinner-Party. I have engaged the Louis XIV. Room up at the Hotel. I have in my Suit-Case no less than 17 Letters of Introduction to well-known Society Ladies who are always Hungry. This Afternoon I expect to have all the Messenger Boys in Town busy. When we sit down this Evening there will be $8 worth of Violets and four Cocktails at every Plate. I'll show these Tessies that I'm no Piker. After the Eats we are going over and sit in all of the Boxes at that Rough-House Show that I've been reading about. After that we are going to a nice, quiet all-night Restaurant, where they have the Hungarian Orchestra, and any one that passes away before 6 a. m. will be called a Quitter."

"Are you Cousin Lafe or a Ringer?" asked Sanford.

"I am the Cemetery Trustee all right, all right," was the reply. "A Cemetery Trustee breaks over only about once in Three Years, but when he does hit the Track he makes a Mile in 2.00 look like a Funeral Procession. For many Months I have been drinking Milk and posing as an Example for the Young. I live in one of those Towns where every living Soul knows how much I pay for my Clothes and how many Lumps of Sugar I put in my Coffee. If I took a Drink out there everybody would know about it in twenty Minutes. If I smoked a cigarette I would be hanged in Effigy. I might as well go out and kill an Aged Woman with a Hatchet as mix up in any Poker Games. So I do the Straight and Narrow. But now I'm up here among the Electric Lights with no one to keep Cases on me. I am long on Sleep, and I have Money in every Pocket. I'm up here to play a short Engagement as the Village Indian. If you care to follow me, I think I can put you in sight and probably show you a good many Places that you never saw before, even if you do live right in Town."

HAD HIM DOWN AND OUT.

Sanford tried to be Game, but in two Days Cousin Lafe had him Down and Out. He fell back and took the Count. Cousin Lafe took him Home in a Hack and roasted him, and told him he was a Rhinestone Sport and a Mackerel.

"I'm all in," said the Wreck. "I admit everything you say. The Man who lives in Town and thinks he is a Gay Dog isn't a Marker alongside of the Respectable Citizen from down the Road. I am supposed to be a dissolute Clubman, but I take off my Hat to a Cemetery Trustee."

Cousin Lafe went back to the Country and reported that Sanford was a Nice Man but seemed to be a little Wild.

WINTER CONTENT

All the rooms heated evenly under any stress of weather. No gas, dust, or fine ashes circulated through the house—to destroy carpets and furniture and irritate the lungs. A fire easily controlled and maintained at the expense of the smallest amount of fuel.

SOVEREIGN Hot Water Boilers and Radiators

in a variety of styles and sizes to suit every requirement

Made by the most experienced makers of house-heating apparatus in Canada

The first section, over the fire pot, which gets the hottest fire and does the most work, is larger than the other upper sections.

The openings in the water post, through which the water circulates from the first section, are correspondingly larger. This promotes rapidity of circulation.

There is a clinker door over the grate, so that clinkers may be removed without dumping the fire.

There is a sifting grate, under the fire pot, which retains the partially burned coal and allows the ashes only to pass into the ash pit.

HEATERS!

Right Time to Buy Them and Special Inducement This Week

You may wait for cold weather to buy a heater if you've a mind to, but if you'll be advised by those who have to deal most with the selling of stoves, you will select a heater now and have it put in place and ready before the rush that invariably comes with a cold snap.

There is absolutely nothing gained in waiting—not even a saving in cost, as the prices will certainly be kept at normal when the demand is at its height, and then you'll be expected to take your turn in having it delivered and set up—a delay of two or three days perhaps.

We recommend these stoves with confidence:—

Humor of Animals.

Even a toad laughs when he has swallowed a large beetle and it begins to walk about inside. It does tickle so! Ducks laugh most when they come out of water. The ground feels so funny under their feet that they cannot help themselves. But they have much more humor than fowls at any time. A duck is born with a twinkle in his eye and a smile at the end of his tail. Tragedy does not suit him so well—one cannot be very tragic or very dignified with a waddle for a walk.—London Captain.

SUFFERING WOMEN

Made Well and Strong by Dr. Williams Pink Pills

Every dose of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills makes new blood. Every drop of pure blood helps the ill disheartened woman nearer to health and happiness. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have brought the glow of health to thousands of sufferers who gladly bear testimony to that effect. One of these is Mrs. Elizabeth Dunham, of Welland, Ont., who says: "For more than a year I was greatly run down. I had sickening headaches and my heart would palpitate so violently that at times I feared death was near. I was under the care of a doctor, but instead of improving I lost strength and my weight decreased from one hundred and forty to ninety pounds. I was discouraged, but finally decided to give up the doctors treatment and try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I am glad I did so, for after using the Pills a few weeks I could see a marked improvement in my condition. The headaches left me. I regained strength; the distressing heart palpitation ceased and at the end of two months I was fully restored to health and felt better than I had for the past twenty years. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are truly a marvelous medicine and I cannot praise them enough."

Heart palpitation, anaemia, headaches, loss of appetite, general weakness, backaches, weariness and a host of other troubles are all the outcome of bad blood. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills make new, rich red blood—the pure blood does the trick. That is why these pills cure all troubles due to watery blood or weak, shaky nerves. There is not a nook or corner in Canada where you will not find some grateful person who has been cured by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. On the word of your neighbour we ask you to try this medicine if you are weak, ailing or run down. The pills are sold at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 at all medicine dealers or from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont.

The Casserole.

A cook who understands the value of a casserole can prepare almost any dish in this earthenware pan. Bits of meat and game can be used the next day with a sauce covering or with vegetables, and the most appetizing and hearty viand will be the result.

Sweets.

Abroad "dessert" means raw fruit only. Pies and puddings are called sweets.

George Ade Fables

The Sorrows of the Unemployed and the Danger of Changing From Bill to Harold.

[Copyright, 1902, 1903, by Robert Howard Russell.]

SUSSIETY.

In a certain Western Town that started out with the Expectation of hurting Chicago, there was an Early Settler who tried to build a Fence around the Corporation. He cabbaged all the Corner Lots and nailed the Main Street Frontage and then held on like a Summer Cold.

He was a grisly old Badger who wore one Suit the Year round, with a Pair of box-toed Boots, a woollen Hat, and a Moss-Agate Collar-Button. While he was doing Business at 2 per cent. a Month, and holding out on the Assessor and bilking the Grangers for Railway franchises, he was regarded as a Wolf.

After he changed his address to Over There, the Heirs erected something that looked like the Bunker Hill Monument, and then they had him done in Oil by a Celebrated Artist. The Artist fixed his Hair for Him and gave him a neat Stand-Up Collar such as no one could have put on to the Old Man with a Block and Tackle. They named a School after him, and every one in Town who was related to him could butt into Sussiety without a Ticket.

The Large End of all the Scads mentioned in the last Will and Testament went to a Son named William H. Jimpson. On the way back from the Cemetery he took out a Pencil and figured to see what he was worth, and then he changed his Name to W. Harold Jimpson.

W. Harold was [illegible] to fly fairly close to the Ground while the Governor was on Deck, but when there was no one to keep Tab on him he began to find $100 Bills in his Clothes when he was looking for a Card, and it seemed to Vex him a good deal.

A few Years before W. Harold became surrounded by Currency he had taken a Wife, without very much of a Struggle. Leonora was of a very Nice Family, that owed something on the House and kept a Girl part of the Time. After she began to have a Governess for Stuyvesant Jimpson and an Imported Nurse for the little Evelyn Jimpson her Memory seemed to blur in Spots and she couldn't have done up the Dishes to save her life.

When she was out in her Brougham it kept her busy not seeing her Childhood Friends who used to go to Kissing Parties and Taffy Pulls with her. That was why she wanted to Travel. She fairly ached to get to Paris, where True Social Worth is recognised right on the Jump. Her Husband, also, was getting sore on his Birthplace. His Acquaintances would not stand for the W. Harold Gag. They called him "Bill."

POLO WAS A BORE.

Then, on top of it all, the two Cases of Offspring needed the French Language. Leonora was already feeding their Legs to the Mosquitoes because some one had told her that the real Delicatessen always left the Kids partly uncovered, a la Parisienne.

W. Harold closed out all his Interests, and when he got through he had his Bank-Roll in one neat Stack of Bonds. All he had to do for the remainder of his Natural was to clip the Coupons every Six Months. Between times he could enjoy himself. It looked Soft.

W. Harold and Bunch, including a Retinue of Private Secretaries, Hair-Dressers, and Maids, as well as a Keeper, sometimes known as a Valet, set out for Yurrup. As Harold sized up the Caravansary he swelled with Satisfaction and said, "Little would any one Suspect that we have been out of the Hazel Brush less than 3 Months."

Now that he was beyond the Range of the unlettered Rube, he began to do a little Landscape Gardening on the Frontispiece, laying out a very neat Set of Depews. He wore Gloves even at Night, and worked for Hours trying to get a side-hold on the Piccadilly Accent.

The joyful Jimpsons cut a 14-foot Gash right through the centre of the Continent. They saw everything mentioned in the Red Book, and finally struck Paris, with a loud, metallic Sound. There they settled down to remain forever, in the Shade of the sheltering Absinthe Frappe, with the Grisettes singing in the Trees.

But W. Harold had inherited a few restless Microbes from the parental Hustler. After he had seen all the Pictures from every Angle and had worn out two or three Chairs sitting around Cafes, he began to long for the Nasal Twang and something to do. The whole Kit and Tribe moved back to the States.

He learned that the Proper Caper for one who is out of Work and all clogged up with Funds is to build a Cottage overlooking the Sea and work up Features for the Sunday Papers. Accordingly he threw up a Shack with Onyx Foundations and Florida Water piped into every Room. It faced four different Ways. The Excursionists rode in from as far away as Swanzey to look at it and wait for the Real Things to come out and pile into the Blue Assassin and go out hunting Baby Carriages.

After the keen Pleasure of being pointed out had somewhat dulled and the Homicide Wagon had palled on them and Polo was a Bore and Ping-Pong a Misdemeanor and Golf a Crime, poor Harold and Leonora found themselves up against it, strong and plenty. She gave a few Dog Parties and one for a Prince, but even these Gayeties petered out after a while. Sometimes Leonora was afraid that in order to kill Time she would either haze to mingle with her Children or else take to Reading, but she hated to cause Talk.

SHE GAVE DOG PARTIES.

She and W. Harold found themselves in the great Army of the Unemployed. And yet all the Factories were running double Shifts and Harvest Hands getting $3 a day.

At last they became so Desperate and Lonely that they fell in love with each other out of yearning Sympathy, and this gave rise to as much Scandal that they had to go back to the Other Side to live it down.

MORAL: Beware of Government Bonds.

Riding All His Life.

He had a rocking horse when young,
And next he got a pony.
He rode it till he outgrew that,
Then bought a mount more tony.
A thoroughbred he sat this time,
And went a splashing jog,
But ever since those splashing days
Our hero's on the hog.
—Charles C. Mullin in Bohemian.

"Young Age" Pensions.

A labor candidate for a vacant seat in the Australian parliament at Sydney has hit upon a novel and brilliant idea—"young age pensions," on the ground that they are "wise and merciful and would be commercially profitable to the commonwealth." He adds that they would conduce to good citizenship and "enable the struggling parents of large families to bring up their children decently, with credit alike to themselves and the community."

Freezing Water.

In the case of water freezing in an inclosed vessel we have a battle between the expansive force of the water and the cohesive attraction of the particles going to form the vessel, and invariably the former force wins.

A Russian Custom.

Russian families when moving to new homes kindle the fire on the hearth with coals brought from the old residence.

Billiards.

It was in the middle of the seventeenth century that Louis XIV. first brought the game of billiards into fashion, that royal personage having been ordered by his medical advisers to take exercise after meals.

Pepper.

In the time of Henry VII. pepper cost $75 an ounce.

Romance of Holly.

The romance of holly is very old. Pliny tells us how a bough of holly planted near a dwelling house keeps off lightning or cast into water makes it become ice or thrown at any beast causes it to return to the spot where it is required to be.

Religious Dances.

Some commentators maintain that every one of the Psalms had a distinct dance appropriated to it and that it was to his own music that David danced before the ark.

Mother of Pearl.

Calcined seed pearls are considered a medicine of great potency by the Chinese, and beautiful art work in mother-of-pearl has long been executed in China and Japan. In the Philippines windows are made of mother-of-pearl, and in Kashmir it is used for inlaying inscriptions on tombstones.

CONSTRUCTION WORK ON CANADA'S NEW TRANSCONTINENTAL RY.

15 to 18 months, and what a feed they were promising themselves after they again reached civilization! The topographer vowed that if anybody offered him pork and beans, when he was again in civilized raiment there would be a death in that family. One quiet looking fellow remarked that he was going to have the biggest feed of potatoes that any shack could put up. The dessicated rubber chips sent as a substitute, were anything but a success. The impression was that while the company spent enough money to get the best the goods must have become twisted in shipment.

Supper finished a white man's fire and details of progress at the front, were eagerly discussed and pungently criticised. One man with a magazine was the centre of an interested group, and the pictures of the actresses were much admired, one of the boys remarking that so far as drygoods went the girls seemed very little better off than the boys in camp. Time worn jokes were retold and many a prank detailed with vim and gusto, the victim meanwhile taking the recital in the best of spirits.

Time passed quickly and about 10 o'clock in the evening the camp was suddenly hushed by the noise of a dismal howl off to the east. None of the boys knew what animal it came from, but whatever it was it had been following the camp for a couple of weeks, giving a nightly serenade. Lynx or timber wolves were the explanations most generally accepted. However, Chicag was not pleased. He started off into the bush on the run, every bristle on his neck elevated, but we noticed that he did not go far out of the firelight. A hundred yards away he stopped and answered the challenge, doing his best to throw fierceness and determination into his tones. The unearthly duet was kept up for a couple of hours, despite the sticks and stones that we threw, for Chicag simply would not come in and behave.

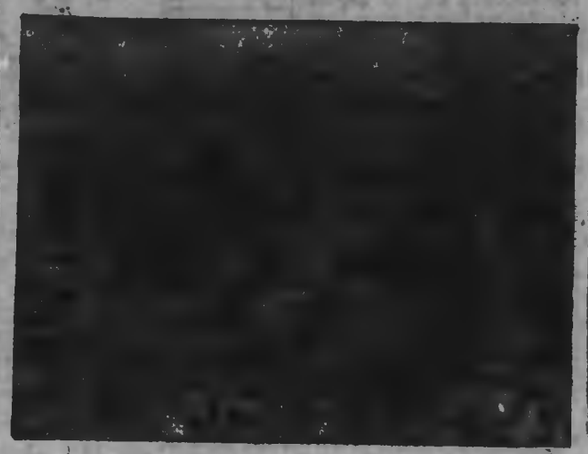
Reinforcements for the Larder

Next morning being Sunday, we were in no hurry to get up, and took the most supreme delight in directing and instructing the interim cook who was bustling his best, to get together material for breakfast. When preparations had advanced considerably we all started for the creek, and with a great amount of splashing and ducking we livened up the day. The call "Dig in and get your name up," uttered by the cook, found a hungry gang ready, and such a meal as we had! It would put to shame an army mule in a mealie patch.

Some of us had been delegated to look after the fresh meat supply, so prepared to go after partridge. Chicag needed no second calling. To him guns meant birds and birds were his long suit. A half mile across the muskeg brought us to a well-timbered ridge where Chicag was already making game. We came up to where he stood barking and there found a fine bunch of partridge huddled in the trees, which were mainly spruce and birch. Eight was our toll from this covey. A couple of miles more of travel brought the bag up to a total of 22, about all that we cared to lug. Shortly after we returned a couple of the boys came in with a large pail of blueberries. What a dinner we made of it!

One of the boys had gone off with a rifle and the two in camp had put in their time with further patching of their already much patched garments and in getting out the weekly wash. It was not of a kind to recommend itself to the careful housewife but it was the best that they could do with the materials at hand. It was well along in the afternoon before the missing hunter returned, but his bad not been a bootless journey for he brought back with him a small caribou, which had been shot on the wrong side of a muskeg. He was very tired from his long tramp, but a swim and the dinner we had cached for him put him right.

That night in camp was given to story telling and when the ice had once been broken it was not a difficult task to get the boys to tell of their experiences in carrying the surveys of the great national transcontinental across that great unknown wilderness. Mostly they centred about tales of hardships encountered, and of difficulties overcome. Contests with the cold of winter in which some of them had come off second best, but in which each had carried through his allotted task, were frequent. One showed a distorted thumb which had been frozen solid to below the first joint. Another told of taking soundings last Christmas when the thermometer was 40 below, and holes had to be cut through solid ice three feet in thickness. The soundings had to be taken with jointed sections of iron pipings and the connections had to be made with the bare hands as the pipe wrench had been lost through a hole in the ice some time before.



A Pair of Baby Moose—These Little Fellows Seemed to Like Having Their Pictures Taken.

The piping carried a shell of mud and ice and mittens froze solid the first time they touched the bare metal. There was nothing for it but the bare hands and the men had worked on though the flesh was broken and bleeding. When the skin had peeled off and the flesh beneath was beginning to turn white, the only remedy was to dip the hands in the sounding hole till they thawed out, when a day's work was done they had to wade back to camp, six miles distant through three feet of uncrusted snow. The munificent sum of $40 per month was what they received.

Through Uncurred Wilds

Some who went out quit after the first few weeks, but the good ones stayed and it is to their undying credit that the work has been carried through. Theirs was the work but another will get the credit. They carried the line through the uncharted wilds, where the constructio parties are now at work. The roads and trails they marked are used for teaming in supplies. Their supplies were drawn from caches, many miles apart and transported to the camps on the backs of the men. The labourers who do the construction work will be housed in well built camps, and will eat the best of food from tables. The engineers slept under a tent, when they had one, but most frequently their shelter was a windbreak of boughs. Pie or cake on their menu would have been a surprise and a treat only to be thought of in half waking moments. And there was no complaining. Taken throughout they cannot help but command the admiration of all who knew what they went through, and there are some who will recognize in the completed railway a monument to their grit and ability. Scott and I said farewell to the boys with the deepest feeling of regret, for they were of the stock which has made the British nation what it is to-day.

The above is the brief story of a trip made to one of the engineering camps on the western section of the National Transcontintal Railway, by a young fellow who was engaged on the work. The accompanying photographs were taken during the trip and gives something of an idea of the country traversed.

CUSTOMS MAKE RICH HAUL.

Find Quantity of Valuable Furs Being Smuggled Across Border.

East Alburg, Vt., Nov. 2.—Deputy Collector of Customs Charles L. Orton went to Burlington yesterday to confer with Collector C. H. Darling regarding seizure of furs made by Deputy Collector H. C. Ladd. The furs, at the lowest estimate, are valued at $2,500.

Deputy Ladd, while passing along the roads between Alburg Springs and East Alburg, last Wednesday night, met two men driving. He became suspicious and asked them if they had anything dutiable. They refused to reply and drove on toward East Alburg. Mr. Ladd overtook them at the home of M. E. McCarger, and found the furs hidden in a bin of oats. He then attempted to arrest the men, but after a short struggle they escaped. Ladd took possession of the furs, which consisted of coats, stoles and an opera cloak, and reported the facts to Collector Darling.

The furs were consigned to New York by a prominent Montreal manufacturer.

The smugglers have not yet been arrested, but it is said that one of them is well known to the authorities.

GIRL TYPIST CHARGED.

Alleged to Have Stolen Important Papers From Law Office.

Chicago, Nov. 2.—Miss Etta McLean, a stenographer in the office of United States District Attorney Simms and Alexander B. Gordee, were held yesterday for the Federal grand jury in bonds of $5,000 each, on the charge of stealing important papers from the office of the district attorney.

The evidence showed that the woman took numerous letters and papers, and that Gordee tried to sell them to John R. Walsh, former president of the Chicago National Bank, now awaiting trial on the charge of misapptiation of funds of the bank, and to his attorneys. They received no encouragement from Mr. Walsh or from his attorneys.

Chauffeur Killed.

Tuxedo Park, Nov. 2.—J. Hartman, chauffeur, employed by William Pierson Hamilton, son-in-law of J. Pierpont Morgan, was killed some time Thursday night while returning from Tuxedo to Sterlington, the Hamilton summer home, in a touring car. His body was found yesterday pinned under the automobile, which turned turtle after veering abruptly into a ditch on the Eagle Valley road.

At 5 o'clock Thursday afternoon Hartman met the Hamilton family at Sterlington station and took them home. He then left the place for a ran to Tuxedo.

Gives Laudanum to Babes.

Rochester, N. Y., Nov. 2.—Mrs. Henry M. Leonard, 23 years of age, the wife of a mason of this city, attempted to kill herself and two small children yesterday afternoon by taking laudanum, giving some of it to the children and then turning on the gas in her room. The return of her husband from work frustrated the woman's attempt, in part at least.

Situation Sound in Canada.

London, Nov. 2.—(C. A. P.)—The Times, in its financial supplement, devotes the first article to the financial situation in Canada. It says the condition in Canada is sound, but business men must be content to mark time for a while. Canadian bankers are better judges of the situation than most of their customers can be.

Fatal Hallowe'en Prank.

New York, Nov. 2.—During a Hallowe'en frolic in Harlem Joseph Barbenaro, aged 14 years, shot dead his playmate, Frank Reynolds, 12 years of age. Barbenaro was making a mock rescue of a little girl from the custody of Reynolds, and drawing a supposedly harmless pistol, sent a bullet in the other's head.

HORSEMAN BADLY BITTEN.

Infuriated Stallion Attacks Owner and Inflicts Serious Wounds.

Cornwall, Ont., Nov. 2.—H. Beckstead of Mariatown, Morrisburg, was exercising a large Clyde stallion in his yard by means of a long halter, when the animal suddenly became fractious and, grasping Mr. Beckstead by the fleshy part of one of his arms, shook him much the same as a dog would a rat, lacerating the muscles and some of the larger veins.

When seen by a man who lives on the farm, the enraged animal was on his knees and had Mr. Beckstead between them and did not let loose his teeth until driven off by the aid of a stick.

A doctor was immediately summoned. Besides the lacerations and injuries to the man'se chest, he is injured internally, but to what extent is not determined as yet.

Early Wednesday morning the Union Bank building, at Dalhousie station, was totally destroyed by fire. The origin is not exactly known, but it is supposed it commenced in the basement. There has been no loss in the bank funds.

Government Grant of $25,000.

Winnipeg, Nov. 2.—Mayor Ashdown has received a letter from Sir Wilfrid, stating that it had been decided to appropriate $25,000 to aid Winnipeg in entertaining the British Association for the Advancement of Science, which meets in convention in this city in 1909.

Railroad Bridge Collapsed.

Manila, Nov. 2.—The new railroad bridge over the Pasig River, near Fort McKinley, collapsed owing to the breaking of the superstructure, and 40 workmen were precipitated into the river. Three Americans and 20 Filipinos were injured. The damage is estimated at $100,000.

Murderer Executed.

Columbus, O., Nov. 2.—Royal Fowler of Dayton, who killed his sweetheart, Mary Hagerty, more than a year ago, was executed by electricity in the Ohio Penitentiary just after midnight. Fowler maintained a stoical indifference to the last.

Falls Into Boiling Water.

Flesherton, Nov. 2.—A serious accident occurred near here Thursday, when a two-year-old child of Mr. and Mrs. John Teeler fell into a pail of boiling water. Its condition is extremely precarious.

FAMOUS 3 DAYS' RACE RECALLED BY HARTLEY'S WONDERFUL EXPLOIT

Mr. Mark Spencely Tells of The Go-as-you-please Contest Held in 1880 Won by Himself With Dave Hartley Second

WALKED THIRTY SIX HOURS

Last Two Days The Contest Was Held in The Drill Shed—Spencely Walked Nearly 157 Miles

The astounding walk made by Hartley this week, brings fresh to the minds of the older inhabitants of the city, the famous go as you please race in which Hartley figured, together with Mark Spencely and other well known walkers of the time, which was won by Mr. Spencely with Mr. Hartley second. The event, which attracted great attention at the time, had been almost forgotten, but the interest created by Hartley's exploit has recalled it.

Some interesting facts about that race were given the Examiner last night by Mr. Spencely, the winner, who, by the way, is as pleased as Hartley over the success of the latter, and who paced him the last three miles on Thursday. The conditions of the contest were, that the participants were to go from 10 o'clock in the morning until 10 o'clock at night for three days, the man travelling the farthest in that time winning the contest. It was a go as you please contest, that is, that the men could run or walk just as they liked and stop when they liked. The event took place in the spring of the year, 1880, and was held on the old Agricultural Grounds, now the Central Park. The whole race was to have taken place out side, but on the second and third days the weather was bad and the contestants moved into the drill shed, where the struggle was finished. Outside it was seven laps to the mile, and inside sixteen laps.

There were eleven starters, including Hartley, Spencely and two other men Cain and Gilbart. Mr. Spencely started out at a very fast clip, running nearly all the first day, and at ten o'clock at night had travelledt 65 3-4 miles and had a commanding lead, being ahead of Cain, the second man, by 6 miles. Next morning there were only three left, Hartley, Spencely and Gilbart, Cain had been forced to quit on account of illness, and Hartley moved up into second place, which he managed to hold until the finish, beating Gilbart out in handy fashion. He succeeded in cutting down Spencely's lead, but the latter had got too far ahead on the beginning and could not be headed off. When the race came to an end on the evening of the third day, Spencely was three miles ahead of Hartley, having travelled 156 miles and 11 laps. Hartley was second with a distance of 153 miles and 11 laps; several miles in advance of Gilbert.

The race caused the greatest excitement in the town, and hundreds of spectators paid an admission fee to get inside the drill shed to see the contestants. Spencely received as his reward for walking, the sum of $100, and as there was nothing left for the other two who finished, he gave $50 to Hartley, who divided it equally between himself and Gilbert.

As the result of accepting the money prize, Mr. Spencely says, that he lost a great deal of fun, inasmuch as he was barred out of several walking matches afterwards, on the ground that he was a professional walker. There was considerable walking being done at that time, and matches were common occurrences, and Mr. Spencely found it hard to be prevented from starting in any of the events.

Mr. Spencely thinks that Hartley's walk was a wonderful performance, and he was thoroughly pleased with the showing made by his old time rival in the walking game.

A LANSDOWNE STREET WALKER

Mr. Harry J. Everett Stated to be Able To Defeat Hartley

A Lansdowne street resident states that he has a pedestrian who will out-walk David Hartley. That man is a Mr. Henry T. Everett, watchmaker, who also resides on Lansdowne street, and who is claimed to be speedier than the "Walking Wonder" which Mr. Geo. Stevens has brought to the front. Not only is the jeweller speedy, but his admirer claims that he has the stamina to carry him through a long walk.

Recently he is said to have gone on a jaunt to Young's Point and return, a distance of over 30 miles. Often he takes a walk out around the country several miles for exercise, and it is probable that he may yet be heard from in walking circles.

PETERBORO' ON THE PROPOSED NEW LINE BETWEEN THE CAPITALS

Grand Trunk Railway Could Get a Short Line, 200 Miles, Between Ottawa And Toronto by Coming Through This City

FROM LAKEFIELD EAST

Toronto Oshawa... ... . 34 miles
Oshawa to Millbrook ... 20 miles
Millbrook to Lakefield ... 22 miles
Lakefield to ttawa ... ..120 miles

196 miles

The construction of a new short line by the G.T.R. to Ottawa from Toronto by way of Peterborough and Lakefield is the proposal made to-day by the Toronto World, and it is given as the best means of solving the problem of connecting these two cities by a line which will cut considerable off the present shortest line. The table of distances above gives the distances from the different divarging points.

The suggestion was to utilize the present main line to Oshawa — 38 miles. From Oshawa, in a direct line, to Millbrook, would not be more than 20 miles; from Millbrook to Lakefield, through Peterborough, by the existing line, is 22 miles; and from Lakefield, as the crow flies, to Ottawa, would be not more than 120 miles. The line would traverse the old mining district of Ontario and the fertile agricultural district beyond. It would prove to be the shortest line to the capital from Toronto, the C.P.R. line being 256 miles.

In addition to placing Peterborough on the main line of two railways running between the two capitals it would shorten the present distance by G.T.R. from Peterborough to Toronto by twenty-nine miles, cutting west from Millbrook to Oshawa, where it would join the the present main line. The existing line between Peterborough and Lakefield would be utilized, but from that town to Ottawa an entirely new line would be built, traversing a mining country of considerable wealth.

ARCHIE GUERIN BARELY ESCAPES HORRIBLE DEATH IN THE OTONABEE RIVER

Suction Draws Him And a Punt Beneath The Dedge — Pulled Aboard by Fellow Workmen

PUNT SMASHED TO PIECES

Dragged by the strong suction of water underneath the dredge Treat yesterday, Archie Guerin, an employee, came within a hair's breadth of losing his life in a horrible manner. Nothing but a sheer accident saved him from being drawn beneath the dredge and being drowned in the cold waters of the Otonabee River.

Accompanied by William Anderson, another employee on the dredge, Guerin was paddling a punt from the block on the shore to the anchored dredge. The latter is situated just below the old dam above the Quaker Oats Company's building and in the midst of a rushing torrent of water. Dredging operations have been going on in the vicinity of this point for some days, but possibly the water never flowed with more force than yesterday.

In Peril

Leaving the shore, Guerin and Anderson paddled towards the dredge. The punt was drawn downwards by suction, and Guerin tumbled out and barely escaped being drawn to death. Anderson, the other man, was more fortunate and was successful in clinging to the side of the dredge until he was pulled up.

Guerin struggled for some minutes, and finally, with the aid of Mr. Armstrong and Mr. Noyes, was pulled aboard, thoroughly drenched, but with few injuries. The eye-witnesses of the accident claim that it was only by a miracle that the man's life was saved.

A Broken Punt.

The punt in which the two men were situated met with serious results. It was bangedagainst the dredge, broken into several pieces, and drawn below by the suction.

It emerged from beneath in an unrecognizable condition and floated down stream with the current.

Mr. Bogue Will Be Held Responsible For Flood

Legal Committee Has Decided To Recommend The Changing Of The Position of The Culvert On Edinburgh Street

IT WILL BE MOVED BACK

If there is a flood in the neighbourhood of Edinburgh street next spring, the Legal Committee of the City Council is of the opinion that the property owners in that district must look to Mr. Jas. Bogue for redress in the matter. It will be remembered that Mr. Bogue, during the summer, filled in the drain running along the G.T.R. tracks between Edinburgh and Aylmer streets. The drain formerly ran through the middle of Mr. Bogue's property, but for his benefit the course was changed, and a culvert on Edinburgh street was altered to meet the new conditions.

Yesterday the committee decided to return this culvert to its original position. Both drains are now filled up and there will in all probability be a flood in the spring. The committee is of the opinion that Mr. Bogue will be responsible in the matter.

TENDERS ARE BEING CALLED FOR NEW CANAL WORK AT ROSEDALE

To-day the Department of Railways and Canals, is calling for tenders for the construction of the works connected with the Rosedale section of the Trent Canal. These works include a new lock and dam, built of concrete. Tenders will be accepted up to November 20th, and they are to be addressed to the Department of Railways and Canals, Ottawa. Plans and specifications for this work, may be seen at any time in the office of the Superintending Engineer, Mr. A. J. Grant, Peterborough. It is understood that the contract will call for a speedy commencement of work, which will be rushed as quickly as possible. The new lock will be of a much deeper draught than that which it supersedes.

THE WEATHER.

After the beautiful days we have had lately a change has occurred. Early this morning rain began to fall and has continued during the day. Highest temperature yesterday was 48; lowest 23 degrees. Barometer at noon had fallen to 28.94, almost an inch since thanksgiving day. High winds will usher in colder conditions.

Fred Simpson In Limelight

Fred Simpson, the Hiawatha Indian, who made such an excellent showing in the Hamilton Herald Race on Thursday is probably the most talked of man among Canadian athletes to-day. His performance of Thursday, when, an entirely new and unknown man, he defeated the favourites at Hamilton has brought him prominently before the Canadian public, as a runner of great promise. The Hamilton Herald, of Yesterday, reporting the race refers in complimentary terms to his work. Speaking of his finish that paper says:—

"Fred Simpson, who came from behind like a streak of lightning, overtook Lawson, and ran down York street like a two-year-old, a broad smile on his face, and looking fresh as a daisy. Until he reached the Herald office Simpson though he had the race won, and was greatly surprised to learn that another man had got in ahead of him. Simpson passed so many men during the latter part of the journey that he thought he had no one left to catch."

A future is predicted for Simpson by the Herald when it says:

"The second prize went to a Chippewa Indian, who shows signs of becoming another Longboat. Fred Simpson, of Peterborough. Simpson showed remarkable speed and stamina during the last part of the journey, having avoided the killing early pace set by George Adams. He is 26 years old, stands 5 feet, 11 inches, and weighs 147 pounds. His first appearance as a distance runner was at Peterborough last fall, when he finished third in the Examiner road race. On Dominion Day last, he won a ten-mile race at Lindsay, covering the distance in about an hour over very muddy roads during a rain storm. He has been training for the Herald race since last July, and many Peterborough people believed that he would win. He covered the last part of the journey faster than Coley, as he was four minutes behind him at the 15-mile post and only 3 minutes and 20 seconds at the finish. Simpson claims that he will beat Longboat the first time the two meet."

No more interesting story has been told in Canadian athletics than that of the inauguration of Fred Simpson's into foot running. Up to a year ago he had done no running, and at that time had anyone suggested that the Rice Lake tribe contained a man who would produce the sensation of the year in this sport he would have been laughed at, as an irresponsible dreamer. Simpson, until the night before the Examiner Road Race in 1906 had no intention of being a starter, though some of his friends had entered him. On the evening preceeding the day of the race, however, he decided to run, and, leaving the plough in the field, like Elijha, of old, he jumped into fame, and a new sphere. His work that day, when, without training, he finished third attracted local attention, and demonstrated the fact that he was a runner of more than ordinary ability. He was taken in hand, and has since been in charge of Mr. "Dick" Baker, who believes that he has one of the best runners Canada has ever produced.

He is a clean liver—does not smoke or drink, and has no habits calculated to detract from his ability as a runner, and it is this fact which gives his friends reason to hope that their expectations will be realized in him.

Simpson is a great grandson of a former chief of the Hiawatha Band of Mississaugas Indians, Pasha-Gog-Zig, and was born at Hiawatha, where his family migrated in 1831 from Grape Island, Bay of Quinte. The young runner has lived all his life in Hiawatha, and is looked upon as one of the most reliable and respected Indians in the band. He was married several years ago to Miss Muskrat, and has two brothers who also live with this band.

WILL CAVAN BLAZERS ORGANIZE AGAINST RECKLESS AUTOMOBILISTS? THEY ARE BECOMING INDIGNANT

Member For Durham in the Legislature Says the Farmers Are Waxing Hot at Indignities Heaped Upon Them

THE CHILDREN ARE UNSAFE

"They are talking of re-organizing the 'Cavan Blazers' up our way," said Mr. J. J. Preston, M.P.P., Durham, to the press at the Parliament Buildings this morning, in reference to the speeding and abuse of the country automobiles.

The "Cavan Blazers" were an organization that in the years past took the law into their own hands, and burned and removed the toll gates in that district.

Mr. Preston reports many mishaps to farmers' wives and daughters. He says that there will be strong agitation for drastic legislation.

The above item appeared in the Toronto News of last night, and will be of interest in this city and county, where the Cavan Blazers were a well known aggregation many years ago. In conversation with a resident of that famous township, who was in the city at the market to-day, it was learned that there is great indignation expressed among the farmers of Cavan over the reckless driving of automobiles along the country roads, and, while they may not go to the lengths indicated above, they should warmly welcome any means by which the nuisance could be abolished. It has become, this gentleman remarked, almost unsafe for a lady or for children to take a horse out on the road, without a mule attendant—or a shot-gun—since it is impossible to tell at what moment an auto may fly past, and the great majority of drivers pay little regard to the rights of those with horse vehicles. A number of narrow escapes have been recorded in Cavan, and it is probable that some steps will be taken along the lines suggested. Should the Cavan Blazers be revived and should their operations be directed against the offending automobilists, there will surely be trouble for the latter.

THE NEW LINE MAY BE CLOSED

Gentleman Says C. P. R. From Toronto To Sudbury May be Closed During The Winter

The new line of the C.P.R. from Toronto to Sudbury will probably be closed in a short time, according to the statements of gentlemen connected with the road. This road is not completed at the northern end, and although the rails are laid about forty miles north of Parry Sound, there is a number of bridges unbuilt, but work on them has been begun. Many miles of the track have yet to be ballasted, and owing to the general condition of the road at present it is said that it will be closed entirely during the winter.

This gentleman also stated that the station agents and operators had been told that they would be removed in a short time, which is a further indication of the company's intentions. The line was purposely begun for the summer tourist traffic, and when finished will be a grain route. At present hunters use the line to get into the wooded districts, but otherwise the business is not brisk. There are few highways to the stations, which is a drawback to a good local traffic. As far as can be learned, an official report has not yet been made, but the general opinion is that the line will not be open this winter.

Kidney Disease For Twenty Years

Miss Caswell Reid, Orrville, Muskoka, writes, "For twenty years I was troubled with kidney disease, and have recently been completely cured by using three boxes of Dr. Chase's Kidney Liver Pills. I had tried many remedies but nothing seemed to do me very much good until I used this splendid family remedy."

Ray Best Tells of The Montreal Herald Race

Winners Mostly All Climbed The Big Hill in Quick Manner—A Peterborough Man Had Good Time

FINISHED 25TH IN RACE

Ray P. Best, winner of last year's Examiner road race, was one of those who ran in the Montreal Herald race around the mountain, on Thanksgiving Day. He arrived home last night and expressed himself as being greatly pleased with the time he had had down east, and with the showing he made against so many crack runners.

Out of 161 finishers, Best came 25th. In speaking of the race, he said that those who finished near the first, were the first to climb the big hill a short distance from the starting point. There was such a number that it was impossible to make much headway until a few miles of the course had been run. When he managed to get some room he passed scores of runners who fought hard to stay in the game. The course is only a few yards short of ten miles, the time made by Wood of the Gordon Harriers, being 59.44, or over 4 minutes behind the great time in the Examiner road race by Wilson.

Best had a good time and speaks well of the Montreal runners.

A witness of the race, who has since been in Peterborough, however, states that some of the men were given a lift in vehicles, when they happened to fall too far behind. He says that Cote, an M.A.A.A. man, rode a couple of times, and he is positive of this having seen him in a buggy. Cote was the man who finished second in the race.

200 DUCKS IN ONE FLOCK AT RICE LAKE THANKSGIVING DAY

A local sportsman, who spent Thanksgiving Day at Rice Lake, saw a flock of ducks which the ordinary hunter sees only in his dreams, or expects to com across in the happy hunting grounds. He said that with several others in a gasoline yacht, they were just turning from the east channel of the Otonabee into the lake when before them, out about half a mile, was as large a flock of ducks as he had ever before hoped to see.

There must have been, this gentleman says, two hundred ducks, and may be more. As soon as the boat appeared around the bend the birds arose from their feeding beds, with a loud whirr of wings, flew rapidly south, and turned suddenly to the east, and continued on down the lake. There actual numbers were more evident as they figured against the sky. He is confident that there were over two hundred ducks, and believes that they would not long remain at Rice Lake. When the launch went farther out into the lake they saw two Indians in canoes heading for the bay, but sheltered by a weed bed. They must have circled around from Hiawatha to the south shore and approached with the weeds as a screen. However, the launch doomed them to disappointment and their feelings can be easily imagined when the host of ducks took to wing.

THE "BESSIE BUTLER" GOES OUT ON HER MAIDEN VOYAGE

The handsome new Government steamer, Bessie Butler, left her moorings this afternoon at 1.30 o'clock, and went on her maiden voyage, and trial run up the canal. She steamed into the Lift Lock pontoon, and out again, at the top, in handsome style. The Bessie Butler went as far north as Nassau before returning.

Among those on board were Superintendent McClellan and Mr. John J. Main, chief engineer of the Polson Iron Works, Toronto. She was in charge of Capt. "Tuff" Morin.

BRITAIN'S PART

Rudyard Kipling, on his recent visit to Canada, advised Canadinas to pump into Canada all the British immigration possible. Now, that Rudyard Kipling is home, let him advise the British authorities to pump all the immigrants possible into this country. In this matter there is no jug-handled question of interest, no divided responsibility. We in Canada, want population. In Great Britain, there is an excess of population. In Canada the want is people; in Britain, there is want of homes and sustenance for the crowded population. The dinner table is too small for those who crowd around it, and as a rule, there is too little on the table. Here we have millions of acres awaiting cultivation, ready to respond, with laughing harvests. It is the duty of Canada to itself, to people its vacant acres; it is the duty of the Motherland to find bread for its children. If Britain wants to strengthen itself, it can do so by weakening itself—numerically — by sending some of its surplus population to Canada, sending the best; that is, the best fitted by habits of industry, from a land where there is neither room, nor work, nor bread enough, to maintain them. A farmer, finding the trees growing too thickly in a plantation, by transplanting them, will create a new forest. Britain finds her population too thick, and would do well to transplant those of her surplus population, most likely to grow and thrive in Canada, to this blessed, and bountiful, and boundless land. They will thus be planting a new Britain on this continent, and the new Britain will develop bread winners for the Mother Britain. The cis-atlantic Britons will be worthy of their homeland. The hundreds of thousands of old country people who have settled in Canada, have done well, if they tried to do so. Others can do the same. The fibre of the population of Canada shows that the race has not deteriorated. It is as much to the interests of Britain, as to Canada, to establish a new Britain on this continent. But it must be a good Britain, not a penal settlement. We do not want the criminals, the weaklings, nor the incompetents. We want the industrious, the thrifty, the ambitious. We can do them good. We have work for all who will work, and put a little brains into their work. Japan spent millions to get a little extra territory wherein to transplant her surplus population. Britain has millions of acres ready to her hand for the taking. Let John Bull think of this, in his solid, sensible way.

TO MUCH LIBERTY

A man riding in a street car in San Francisco, the other day, was not given a transfer by the conductor when he paid his fare and asked for one. When the conductor passed through the car again the passenger told him he wanted a transfer, and if he did not get one he would know the reason why. All over the world, wherever there are street cars, conductors giving and passengers getting transfers, these little tiffs occur. In this case angry words followed, and suddenly the conductor struck the passenger in the face. Others interfered, there was disorder, somebody — for all the world around there is always one fool in every car-load of passengers —pulled the trolley off the wire, leaving the car in darkness. At this juncture the conductor pulled a revolver and began firing into the crowd of passengers, who, trying to escape at the front door were met by bullets from the motorman. In the panic windows were smashed, and men and women pitched themselves out of these openings to escape being shot. The passenger whose growl about the transfer was the original cause of the "unpleasantness," got a bullet through one hand; one man was so badly shot up that he died in a few minutes, five other men and one woman received wounds more or less serious. In the fracas one passenger disarmed another who had whipped out a revolver and proceeded to contribute to the gun play. The car men are in jail charged with murder, but as endless appeals are possible in the criminal courts of California, it is improbable that these armed madmen will suffer any further punishment than a couple of years of law-suiting and the imprisonment incident thereto.

What can be the future of a country where such things are possible, and where such things go so nearly unpunished that no lunatic is deterred from producing his gun when any man offers him offence? In this case the car men were strike-breakers; they were looking for trouble and seemed glad to find it. What a picture this scene gives of a people devoted to liberty and the pursuit of happiness — men in uniform pumping bullets in at either end of a crowded street car, while men, women and children smash windows and tumble out headlong to save their lives!—MACK, in Saturday Night.

A LADY GRAY WANTED

Apart from social reasons, we should be glad to have Lady Gray or a Lady Gray in Peterborough. The wife of the present Governor-General has inaugurated a garden competition in the Dominion capital, which is meeting with great success in attaining its object, and with increasing popularity. The number of competitors is increasing from year to year. There has resulted from these competitions a great deal towards improving the residential portions of the city. And what is perhaps more important, the competitions are proving a stimulus to all classes of property owners to beautify premises for the sake of the improvement without any reference to other reward. Thus it is seen how one improvement begets another, and, in one sense, compels improvement.

Here is where Peterborough might take a lesson. If the City Council would set an example of caring what the streets look like; if it would take even the least pains to improve the appearance of the streets, not to speak of their condition, the results would be great. But it seems that in dealing with the streets, the city authorities take a delight in creating as much ugliness and disfigurement as possible. If, when the city work is done on a street, the workmen would leave their work in a workmanlike shape, instead of leaving it in a shapeless condition of litter, the citizens would not be so discouraged in their attempts to improve their premises. The result is that residence after residence is to be found on some streets, where slovenliness and disorder and untidiness prevail. If the city, as it should do, would, in these cases, tidy up the streets and place them in a neat and cleanly condition, residents would be shamed into doing likewise to their properties. It is in the power of the corporation to create, without appreciable cost, conditions in the streets, which, reacting upon the residents, would revolutionize the appearance of the city in a few years. All over the city, where pavement and crossing work has been done, we find heaps of stone, sand and gravel, unsightly piles of rotting timber from old crossings, and other indications of vicious slovenliness which characterizes the work done by the city. If all this were changed, the citizens would be encouraged to make their premises beautiful, and we should have a generally beautiful city, infinitely superior in attractiveness to what it is now.

We can't have the help of a Lady Gray in Peterborough, but we can have the Woman's Art Association and the Horticultural Society, who might widen the scope of their activities to good effect. The Society does much by its lawn competitions to beautify the city in spots, but we want a more generally applied scheme. We first need to have the city authorities roused from their torpor and subjected to a course of civilization in relation to improving the appearance of our streets. The Woman's Art Association and the Horticultural Society should unite in a crusade against the civic authorities. Let them be taught to respect the beauty of our streets and to respect the rights of citizens; let them be taught that it is their duty to help, instead of hinder, the citizens in the work of maintaining and improving the appearance of our streets. If the bodies mentioned want any help in carrying on a public crusade the sympathy and columns of the Examiner are open to them.

EDITORIAL NOTES

Longboat lost his feet, which is a less calamity to a sprinter than the loss of his head, which so often comes to the successful athlete — swelled feet can be restored, but a swelled head is generally incurable.

A wild cat was killed the the other side of Lindsay. The animal probably was from Peterborough, where it had heard some one read a Review editorial. This, suggests the Orillia News-Letter, would naturally account for its wildness.

The labour men of London may be kindly disposed towards public ownership, but the public showed no burning desire to own Mr. McLean's candidate. Mr. MacLean's eloquent appeals were met by an adverse majority of more than 1,000 votes. The advocate, however, does not affect the merits of the principle at stake.

Canada is increasing in national dignity and importance. She has just concluded a treaty with France, and is now sending an envoy direct to the court of the Emperor of Japan. Thus, under the guidance of an imperially-minded Liberal Government, has the country begun to exercise the functions of a nation. Other countries, who have erstwhile regarded Canada as a mere appendage of Mother Britannia, are realizing that she is becoming a force to be reckoned with, a large figure in the sum of Imperial importance. In all but sentiment, Downey street, as the centre of Canadian gravity, is being transferred to Ottawa.

FARM ADVERTISING PAYS

The farmer is generally regarded as a very conservative business man. His ability to successfully fence over the expenditure of cents has become proverbial. But practice has proven that a more liberal attention to business expenditures that advertise the farmer and his goods has been the means of much money making.

The best advertising is that which presents the goods to the greatest number of people, who will read and be influenced by it. Consequently the publicity gained by a good ad. in the Farming Pages of the World reaches more people than could be gained by the county papers and the bills posted at the four corners. People do not get out of a rig on a cold day to read a bill. They prefer to read all about this sale in their daily business paper. They see there just what is for sale, and when they go across a township to attend, they become a good bidder. One such man coming from such a quarter puts bids enough in to amply repay all advertising that is done. It has been noticed repeatedly that small ordinary farm sales advertised in the World have proven successes, while those of their next neighbour, not so advertised, have proven flat and poorly attended.

To have a good sale you must have a good crowd. You get the crowd by advertising judiciously. The wise farmer will be wise to sink some printers' ink over the pages of a paper that circulates into more Ontario farm houses than any other daily.

SPORTING AND SPECIALTY CLOTHES

Special Order Department of The Semi-ready Tailoring

"We made 24 uniforms for a bandmaster in British Columbia a few days ago.

"We make golf jackets, riding breeches, and exclusive designs and colourings for town, country and sporting wear, in our Special Order Department — specialty clothes which it would hardly pay any store to carry in stock. This is one reason for the maintenance of our Special Order Department, where we make clothes to measure for all our 100 agencies established throughout Canada," said the Superintendent of the Semi-ready tailoring.

Creasman's are showing 100 different cloth patterns in the Semi-ready "specials," and they assure delivery within six days of receipt of order.

Crime is decreasing in the United Kingdom. This highly gratifying state of affairs is strikingly proved by the annual report of the Prisons' Commissioners, published a few days ago. The number of persons received into prisons during the year ending March 31 last was 18,041 fewer than the previous year. There has been a further decrease of 5,202 cases for drunkenness, 682 for breaches of police regulations and local bylaws, 583 for assault, 1,572 for larceny, 678 for offences against Highway Acts, 325 for malicious damage, 1,847 for offences against the poor law, and 2,379 for begging and sleeping out. Juvenile delinquency is decreasing year by year.

A ballot on novel lines has been taken at Glemsford, Surrey, where the workers in a mat factory had all received three months' notice. The employers were approached, and a deputation of the men suggested a ten per cent. reduction in wages to keep the works going. To ascertain if his would be accepted by all, a ballot was taken. Each man was given an original "voting paper" in the form of a bean and a pea, and the voting urn was a plain jar. The bean was a vote for the reduced pay, the pea against. Seventy-five beans were placed in the jar, and only nineteen peas. Work will therefore continue as usual.

The unusual occurrence of the forbidding of the banns of marriage took place in St. Aidan's Church, Bradford, Manchester, recently. When the rector published the banns of a marriage for the third time one Sunday morning, a man rose in the congregation and said in a loud voice, "I forbid the banns." The rector invited him to state his objection in the vestry after the service. The objector explained that the prospective bridegroom was his son and an "infant," who was marrying without his consent. The son, he said, would be of age in a few months, and by the rector's advice, he withdrew his objection.

By the overturning of a tram-car in Birmingham recently one passenger was killed and seventeen others were severely injured. The brakes failed to act and the car rushed down Warstone hill at a terrific rate. On reaching the curve at the bottom of the road it jumped the metals and was hurled with great violence on its side. All the outside passengers were violently thrown, and it was some time before they could be extricated. A peculiar point about the accident is that the same car overturned at almost exactly the same spot twelve months ago.

When a man named Leach was indicted at Middlesex Sessions for highway robbery, he declined to plead, and a rare form of trial was proceeded with, the jury having to determine whether his refusal was through wilful malice or the visitation of God. He was found guilty of malice, and subsequently of taking part in the robbery. The presiding judge, Sir R. Littler, told the jury that in olden times Leach would have been put in a dungeon and been weighted with irons, while his arms and legs were "distressed with cords" until he pleaded.

A strange case of suicide has been reported to the East Sussex Coroner. Robert Ellis of Saughan, grieving at the death of a workmate, told his wife that he should put himself down a well. She called in a doctor, who placed Ellis on the sick list. The man still continued to lament the loss of his mate, and on his wife going upstairs, she found him hanging by his suspenders, which had been attached to a nail on the wall. Ellis, when cut down, was dead.

In distributing the prizes at the annual meeting of the Newchurch Horticultural Society the other day, Mr. Godfrey Baring, M.P., congratulated the members on their record wasp death rate, due to the fact that twopence had been offered by that society for every queen wasp caught in the district. Over 240 queen wasps were produced and paid for, which it is estimated means over two million fewer wasps than there would otherwise have been.

The passing of the act legalizing marriage with a deceased wife's sister has come as a relief to a couple in the little village of Kenibury, Berks, who have just entered the married state. The bridegroom, Hy. Brooks, is 65 years of age, and the bride, Miss Harriet Griffin, is 10 years his junior. At the conclusion of the wedding ceremony the bride remarked that they had decided 30 years ago to marry, and had been waiting for the act to pass.

For the first time for nearly 300 years, Preston, Lancs., will next month be deprived of a mayoral procession owing to the town council electing Alderman John C. Hamilton as the new mayor. Ald. Hamilton who is a Baptist and a Liberal, refuses either to have a mayoral procession or to go to church in state. In appreciation of his eminent services to the town the council sacrificed the Historic procession.

On the tomb of a man named Jones, a former Tottenham, Hotspur, football player, in Tottenham cemetery, there has been placed a wonderfully realistic football, carved in brown stone. The sectioning and lacing of a football have been perfectly imitated.

SCOTLAND

A terrible motor car accident occurred in Strathglass, a wild Highland glen, recently. The upper servants at Guisachan which was some time ago rented by Lord Portsmouth from Lord Tweedmouth, went for a picnic to the wild but beautiful glen of Affario. It so happened that Lord Tweedmouth, who is the shooting tenant of Casnacroc, was paying his first visit to Guisachan since the death of his wife, and he kindly placed his powerful motor at the disposal of the servants. They were driven up the glen in two lots. The road is narrow and steep, with sharp curves, and is perhaps the most tortuous and most dangerous in Britain. The party spent an enjoyable day in the wilds of Affario, and the first lot were conveyed safely back to Guisachan. The second lot set out to walk, and met the returning car about two miles from Affario. As the car could not be turned, the men joined the chauffeur, while the ladies continued to walk ahead. The car was turned at Affario, and the chauffeur negotiated the dangerous road at fair speed, being on the look-out for the ladies who were ahead. In taking a sharp curve, however, the wheel went outside a piece of rock, with the result that the car was sent flying over the embankment and turned on its side, but did not fall into the loch. One of the occupants, the butler, was pinned under it, and was killed instantaneously. The others were thrown clear, and sustained injuries which were not serious.

An interesting item in the programme of the third Pan-Celtic Congress held in Edinburgh recently, was the opening ceremony of the Castle Esplanade. At nine o'clock one morning the Welsh Bards assembled in the Outlook Tower, and proceeded in their robes to the Esplanade, accompanied by the Lord Provost, magistrates, and councillors of Edinburgh, the chief magistrates and councillors of other Scottish cities, official representatives of other Celtic cities, delegates of Celtic societies, and other officials. The ceremony included the blowing of the Corn Gwlad as a token that the Gorsedd of Bards of the Isle of Britain is assembled," the proclamation of the Celtic Peace by the Archdruid, when the Hirlas horn was presented to him, and the building up of the Lia Cineil from its six fragments by a representative of each country. The Pan-Celtic movement for the closer union of the Celtic-speaking people received an impetus through the inauguration of national Celtic festivals in Scotland, Ireland and elsewhere, but the first Pan-Celtic Committee was formed in Belfast only in 1898. Lord Castletown was the president of the Congress, and the Marquis of Bute president of the Scottish Committee.

An estate of 12,000 acres, known as Inverliver, in Argyllshire, has just been purchased by the Government for the purpose of converting it into a State forest station. It is situated on the shores of Loch Awe, in one of the most sparsely populated districts of the Highlands, and surrounded by mountains and moorland. For the most part the land is used for grazing sheep, but these will be taken off in sections as the ground is afforested. The estate will be used for the purpose of planting timber, conducting experiments, and later as a model for instruction in forestry. The seller is Colonel Malcolm of Poltalloch, and it is said that the Government paid £30,000 for the estate. The forest will eventually be what the Dean Forest and other Crown woodlands are to England.

Mr. R. C Knowles, the great comedian, who is leaving shortly for the United States on a lecturing tour, has purchased from the collection of the late Professor Kirkpatrick, of Edinburgh University, the Burns mug. This was inherited by the late professor, whose family came from Glenburn, Dumfries, and it is believed that the mug was Burns favourite drinking vessel. It is made of wood, encircled with three brass bands, and has a wooden handle. It holds about a quart.

An ancient stone of considerable interest has been given to the museum of Hawick Archaeological Society. Until recently it had been used as a pig trough on a farm at Weensland, but antiquarians agree that St. Mary's being not far from Weensland, the stone is of ecclesiastical origin, and that it was in pre-Reformation times a font, or holy water stoup in old St. Mary's Church. It dates probably from the beginning of the 13th century.

IRELAND

A terrible struggle between lifeboat men and the sea for the lives of twenty-five shipwrecked men, has been witnessed at Seafield, near Kilrush, one of the most rocky and dangerous spots known to sailors, on the west coast of Clare. It was during a violent westerly gale that a full-rigged Nantes ship, Leon XIII., which is a steel vessel of 1,946 tons, gross, went ashore early one morning, and soon became almost submerged. Her sails were in ribbons and mountainous seas washed over her. The crew huddled together at the bow, the only portion secure from the water. So furious was the sea and gale, that the determined efforts made throughout the day by the brave coastguardsmen and the lifeboat men, to communicate with the ship failed. As the afternoon wore on there seemed a prospect of the vessel breaking up, and the crew took to the rigging. Their sufferings must have been terrible, lashed, and numbed as they were by the terrible seas. The crowd of onlookers on the beach were powerless to help. Now and then endeavours were made to put out to the ship, but the boats could not live in the tremendous seas. In a direct line the Leon was only 250 yards from the mainland, but a huge rocky barrier ran between her and the shore. Approach by a life saving boat could only be made in a circuitous way through a mile of raging and boiling water. The lifeboat had been brought over from Seafield station, some miles away, Queenstown being wired to send the rocket apparatus. Subsequently the tide to some extent subsided. Nineteen men could be observed on board plainly, having descended from the rigging. Only the forepart of the ship remained above the water. At this time a boat manned by three coastguards and two volunteers, attempted twice to get to the Leon, but the tumultuous waves, running to an enormous height baffled their efforts and at last a return had to be made. The men were finally rescued when the sea went down.

The recent shooting affrays in the Ennis district of County Clare have been followed by a series of mysterious outrages on animals. Mr. Stephen Cunningham of New Hall, is the chief sufferer. A week ago one of his calves was stabbed and otherwise maimed with some sharp instrument. A cow was also shockingly maltreated. Several other animals owned by Mr. Cunningham have been maimed during the past year. It is believed that the outrages are the work of a miscreant whose enmity Mr. Cunningham has aroused in carrying on his duties as bailiff and rent warner on several estates in the locality. Recently a valuable horse, the property of Mr. Jos. Joyce, of Ballyboggan, near New Ross, County Wexford, had its tail almost severed. Several other maiming outrages in the same district are also alleged to have occurred.

The anniversary of the death of Mr. Parnell was marked in the usual way the other Sunda, by a procession to his graveside at Glasnevin cemetery, Dunlin. There were special excursions from all parts of the country, which were largely availed of, but only a comparatively small number of the visitors took part in the procession. The procession formed up at half past one o'clock, on the west side of Rutland square. The route taken up was through Britain square, and around the site of the proposed Parnell monument in Sackville street, and thence up on Cavendish Row and along the east side of Rutland square to the cemetery. A large crowd lined the route of the procession. Several city and a few provincial bands were present.

THE HAIR BRUSH

Breeds Dandruff, Which Causes Falling Hair and Finally Baldness

Prof. Unna, Hamburg, Germany, European authority on skin diseases, says that dandruff is as contagious as any other malevolent disease, and that one common source of the spread of dandruff is the use of the same hair brush by different persons. The way to avoid catching dandruff or any other disease from another's brush, is to insist on the use of Newbro's Herpicide. It not only kills the dandruff germ, but it is also an antiseptic that will prevent the catching of any disease whatever through contagion of another's brush. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to the Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. Two sizes — 50 cents and $1. McDermid & Jury, Special Agents.

The Thanksgiving tea and concert under the auspices of St. Mark's Anglican Church, Warsaw, was an excellent success. THE G.T.R. MEN. PRAISE THE POLICE

For Rapid Capture of Three Youths Supposed to Have Caused Disturbance

The local police again demonstrated their detective powers in the early hours of Thursday morning by capturing the three youths who are alleged to have assaulted the conductor and brakesman on the Lindsay train. P. C.'s Newhall and Meharry were furnished descriptions of the men from the railway authorities, and in a remarkably short time the officers had captured them whilst peacefully slumbering in their beds.

The G.T.R. officials are loud in their praises of the work of the police officers, and consider that much credit is due them for the rapid arrests.

That timid, tired, languid feeling, and indisposition to effort of any sort, will be rapidly removed by the use of Miller's Compound Iron Pills. Pills. Sold by W. Madill.

"NEW MOVEMENT" HAS BEEN FORMED

Social Adult Bible Class At George Street Methodist Church

At the George Street Methodist Church a young men's Bible class has been formed. It is named the Social Adult Bible Class, and it is somewhat under the New Movement Class, which has been under way for some time in Canada and the United States, its working along these lines being of a literary, social and Bible study character.

The Rev. E. A. Pearson is the teacher, with organization in the following manner: President, Vice-President, Secretary-Treasurer, Membership Committee, Reception Committee, Devotional and Lesson Plan Committee, Invitation Lookout Committee, and Social Committee. Its first work, outside of the class, is to supply a substitute teacher for any vacancy that may occur in the school, this being a different person each Sunday. During the quarter this class should prove a mutual help to all, as there is a number of ex-Public School teachers, ex-Sunday school teachers, together with other Bible students who will add much to the interest of the class. The topics of the lesson for Sunday, November 3, will be: "Ideas of Justice," "Conditions of Safety," and, third's, "Impartial Laws." Men of all denominations are welcome to this class.

You'll be delighted with Greig's White Swan Jelly Powder in 15 true fruit and wine flavors. It makes such a delicious dessert so quickly and with so little trouble. Price, 10c.

Think It Over

The men who desire something new, to exactly suit their own personal individuality must have them Tailor-made.

Few men desire clothes after the same model. They want each suit to be different from its predecessor.

There has not been in recent years a season in which the tailor has gone further in advance of the Ready-made manufacturer than he will this season.

Let us show you the styles and what is being worn in Imported Tweed Suits and Overcoats this season.

Open Season For Deer Lures The Hunter To The Chase

The Vanishing Of Deer And Some Of The Causes—Man More To Blame Than Nature—Woods are Being Cleared And Deer Must Go North

PROTECTION IS NECESSARY

Judging from the interest taken in deer hunting this year the season must have been ushered in yesterday with great eclat in the favourite haunts of the local nimrods. The day was an auspicious one, and it is hoped that the hunters will have good weather for the next two weeks. In the northern parts of Peterborough county there are excellent hunting grounds, but they are becoming farther and farther away from the city.

The Cause

The primeval period has long passed away. The march of civilization (progress man calls it) has caused the destruction of the great forests. The lumberman's axe and the farmer's plough have turned the ancient woods into waste or open fields; and the deer has suffered. He has been driven up into the regions of stunted scrub and hills of rock. Here he has made his home for years though death has met him in every shape and at every turn. He has had to battle with forest fires that have robbed him for a time of verdant woods and succulent pastures. Hunters of all kinds and of all moods have been chasing him farther and farther north. Their numbers are increasing every year; their methods of hunting are changing from sport to slaughter through the fact of the greater precision of their guns and the rapidity of their fire.

Not content with the larger growth of the pines the lumbermen are now cutting down the lesser trees, hardwoods and soft alike, and the deer will soon be deprived of his meagre shelter and sustenance. The lumber merchant too, with ever the fear of cost and the glad hand of economy at his purse strings is paying the Indian and the woodsman good prices for his venison. Whether it be in season or out of season matters not to him as long as he can get it for less than store meat, and he gets it for much less, though the price well repays the raider for his pains.

The Result

The blow to the deer is a bitter one. Driven out of his old time habitat he is edging his way into the region of scant woodlands and deep snows, short summers and long winters—where is disaster indeed. And he is losing ground undoubtedly with the wolf, for this terror of the north is a bigger, fiercer, more tireless beast than the creature of the earlier southerly clime.

What man has done in some cases he can undo. It is so with the case of the deer. To man alone is due the cause of depletion, and from man alone can we look for a remedy.

As to the matter of the vanishing of the deer the sportsmen are but a unit in the force that is now waging destruction on our noble game. But it must be conceded that the fault lies with man and not with nature. If man will adjust his actions to suit the balance. Nature has provided the kindred of the wild, there would soon be no fear of the extermination of the deer or any other animal.

As Dr. Murdoch in his article has stated, there are miles and miles of waste districts in Ontario which have proved to be an excellent deer country. If our game were sufficiently protected there is no reason why the healthy sport of deer stalking should not be carried on for generations to come. There is no sense in killing off the wolf. Man cannot improve Nature and as the deer and its chief enemy the wolf have co-existed from time immemorial what reason have we for urging the extermination of the latter?

Let man follow the laws of the kindred of the woods as he would wish to follow the laws of his own kind in the cities and he will soon see that everything works together for a common good.

Music and Drama

THE MAYOR OF LAUGHLAND

"The Mayor of Laughland," which comes to the Grand Thursday, November 7th, promises to be one of the funniest musical comedies of the season. It is under the direction of Messrs. Nixon and Zimmerman, whose name is an earnest of genuine merit, whether in the field of opera, drame or musical farce. Tom Waters is announced as the star, and is well enough known to this part of the country to draw a full house on his name alone. For years he has been climbing the ladder to stardom and has finally achieved this distinction among the happiest surroundings. He has been provided with a brand new vehicle, a sumptuous production and large, efficient company. Particular care was taken in the new piece to provide Mr. Waters with just the kind of a part in which he can do his best work—one of those whole-souled Irishmen with a fund of natural wit and inexhaustable faculty of getting himself into trouble. In fact the entire plot of "The Mayor of Laughland" is constructed about one, "Michael Ignatius O'Flynn (Mr. Waters) and his various adventures, political, martial and otherwise. There are three lively acts with never a dull moment. Numerous catchy musical numbers are introduced, all of which were written by the star. But Waters is by no means the whole show. His aides in the general fun-making are entirely competent to hold the centre of the stage when occasion demands. First on the list, perhaps, is Major Casper Nowak, the diminutive comedian, who has so long been associated with Mr. Waters. The major stands twenty-eight inches high and tips the beam at exactly forty pounds. But his ability to create laughter is not to be gauged by his size—for in comedy he is a veritable giant. Next comes the veteran character artist Otto Koerner, whose clever German impersonations have made millions laugh. Walter V. Milton presents the busted actor to the life, while Charles Fulton looks and acts the part of the heroic lover to perfection. The prima donna part is in the hands of Miss Mayl V. Waterall. Other clever principals are Miss Viola Napp, one of the greatest and most graceful toe dancers. The soubrette role is in the hands of Bessie Merrill. The score or more of pretty chorus girls add colour and action to every scene, their work being one of the strong features of the performance.

CROCKER'S EDUCATED HORSES

Mr. E. K. Crocker's trained horses and mules was the attraction at the Grand last night and attracted a fairly large audience. The performance is a most entertaining one, and as an exhibition of perfectly trained equines, has not been surpassed in Peterborough. The programme is so arranged that interest is never allowed to lag. The animals exhibit an intelligence that is almost human, and in their actions are precise and skilful.

The moving pictures which are also shown are of unusual excellence and are a whole show in themselves. The bill is to be presented again tonight and should draw another good house, for the performance is out of the ordinary at the Grand.

Cordova Mines In Their Bright And Golden Days

May Be Yet Operated By The Spears Mining Company—Repairs Now Being Made

ELECTRIC LIGHT ONCE THERE

Examiner Special.

Havelock, Nov. 1.—The report that the Cordova gold mines, which are situated twelve miles east of Havelock, would commence operations again, which was spread some time ago and which caused considerable interest in Havelock and Cordova may yet come true if the last report is to be depended upon.

It was true that Contractor James Scott, of town, had a large gang of men at work at the falls at Deer River repairing the flume. The work has nearly all been done there and the flume is in good repair now. These repairs were made by the company who own the mine in view of selling the plant and it may yet be done if arrangements can be made to suit the purchasers, the Spear's Mining Company, the same firm that is at present examining the Preneveau copper mines.

It was reported that an electrician was at work repairing the machinery at the mines, but it was only an electrician appointed to find out what it would cost to repair and renovate the machinery. After careful examination and calculating it was found out that it would cost $6,000 to set the mines in operation. This is the only difference between the company who own the mines and the purchasers, and if this difference can be settled there will once more be excitement among property owners in Cordova.

Up to a few years ago Cordova was a prosperous and lively little village and would have continued so if all had gone well. The power to run the machinery was obtained from the large falls at Deer River, about two miles from Cordova. There were about two hundred men employed by the mining company and the number was constantly increasing. The employees began to buy lots and build houses for themselves, and thus there are a large number of men who own houses and land in Cordova, which they cannot sell, as there is no demand for property. The village was lighted by electric lights before Havelock had installed a plant, and many of the houses were fitted with water works. Besides a church and school there were a number of stores and industries.

That there is a good percentage of gold in the rock comprising the company's property is an undisputed fact.

If the Spear's Mining Company purchase the property and power plant they will be able to get power there, to operate the mines at Preneveau.

YOUNG VOCALIST GETS GOOD POSITION

Mr. R. N. Jolliffe Appointed Soloist At Sherburne Street Methodist Church—A Tribute to His Ability

The Toronto Globe, in its music and drama column, to-day has the following reference to an excellent appointment accepted by a former Peterborough vocalist: "Mr. R. Norman Jolliffe has been offered and has accepted the position of baritone soloist at the Sherbourne Street Methodist Church, having resigned from Westminster Church, where he has been soloist for the past two years."

Mr. Jolliffe had the offer of several of the largest churches in Toronto, but decided to accept that of the Sherbourne street church as being the most promising. The choir is one of the best in Toronto, and the church is to be congratulated upon securing the services of a soloist of Mr. Jolliffe's ability.

However, owing to the despatcher's office being at Lindsay, Mr. Pickering's removal is a promotion. He will be missed by many friends in many friends in this city, who unite in wishing him every success. By his genial and obliging manner he won many friends here and will be missed from the G.T.R. station.

HALLOWE'EN PRANKS IN MONAGHAN

A $5 Gate Stolen And Carriage Left Astride a Fence

The boys in North Monaghan appear to have had a mischievous streak on Hallow E'en night as well as some city youths. One gentleman has lost his gate which cost him $5, on Hallow E'en, and he has trouble finding it. The wooden structure disappeared during the night, and has not been heard of since. The owner has complained to County Magistrate Edmison, and if the boys whose pranks led them to run away with the gate do not bring it back, there may be trouble. Mr. Carver, the owner, would be satisfied, if he were even acquainted with the location of his lost property.

Mr. Navin, another North Monaghan resident, found his phaeton carriage several hundred yards from his coach-house astride a rail fence, and slightly damaged during the change of location.

SOCIAL EVENING IN BOYS' CLUB

Young Men Of Knox Church Spent Evening With Games and Hallowe'en Features

An interesting meeting of the Boys Club, of Knox Church, was held last night. It took the form of a social evening, and the programme was in the nature of a Hallowe'en event, games being played, and the inevitable taffy-pull also forming a feature of the evening's programme, which was enlivened with music, and which proved thoroughly enjoyable to the large number of young men who participated in it. The club is making excellent progress, and is interesting the Presbyterian young men of that portion of the city in church work, one of the prime objects of the organization.

The T. A. S. will hold the first of this season's Social Gatherings in their rooms George Street, Thursday evening, November 7th. Refreshments will be served during the evening.

Building Sewers Before Water Mains, Is Censured

Local Citizen Condemns Council's Action On Downie And Union —Streets

MORE FRUGALITY NEEDED

There is a great deal of censure upon the City Council from a number of citizens for the action taken by the Board of Works and ratified by Council, of constructing sewers on streets before water mains are laid. This has been done in the case of two streets, at least—Downie and Union. One prominent professional man who has resided here for many years is particularly hard in his remarks of the value of our Council for doing such a thing.

The sewers have been laid, he says, and are paid for before there is any possibility of getting the water mains, and the sewers are of no use without the latter. The water mains, however, could be very well used without the former, and he charges the Council with unnecessary expense and particularly in a year when frugality would be welcomed by the ratepayers.

Why such a course should have been pursued by the City Council the professional man is at a loss to understand. Taxing the people for something from which they derive no benefit, he claims, is an atrocious act, for which there can be no excuse but foolhardiness.

Tully's Hair Tonic

and DANDRUFF CURE makes the hair grow July 24th, 1907

About the month of September, 1906, my hair began to come out in large spots, leaving the scalp perfectly bare on the right side of the head, also my beard on the left side. About the 15th of December I showed it to J. D. Tully, Druggist; he said that he had a preparation that would restore the hair. I could scarcely credit his statement, but decided to try it, and in three weeks using the hair commenced to grow. Since that time I have lost nearly all my old hair which has been entirely replaced with new hair, and the beard also. I consider this by all means the best hair grower on the market, as I had previously tried other preparations without any effect. Any one wishing to ask me about it will find me at my home, 225 McDonnel Street, Peterborough, or at R. R. Crossing, G.T.R., Charlotte St.

More Important Work In The Christian Church Than Raising Of Money

Parochial Letter From Rector Of St. John's Church Deals With Practical Problems of Church Work And Life

A MEMORABLE YEAR

New Vestry Erection And Rectory Question Among Those To Be Worked Out During The Year

In connection with the celebration of the Dedication Festival of St. John's church this week the rector has issued his annual parochial letter to his parishoners, and in it he deals with many matters of interest to the members of St. John's, and to the public at large. Referring to the increase in the number of communicants in the church the letter states that last year the number of communicants was raised to 3,000. He deplores, however, the fact that "in many cases the act is so seldom done as to have little effect in soul-nourishment or soul-development."

In material matters this promises to be an important year with the church, and the letter, referring to this phase says:—

This year will be rendered memorable in our parochial history by the erection of the handsome Vestry now approaching completion, which will be one of the largest and most complete in Canada. It contains three large rooms and will have all necessary accommodation for Clergy and the different sections of our large choir. A debt of some $1,500 will be incurred by this enterprise, and it will be for the parishoners generally to see that this is speedily wiped out.

Indeed, the whole financial situation of the parish should now receive serious consideration. The interest charge upon the old mortgage debt of $5,000 (incurred in 1832 and reduced to its present figure in 1895) has been increased. Then, next spring it is proposed to build the Rectory at a cost of over $6,000, towards which there is in hand $4,500. A general united and sustained effort is evidently called for to meet our obligations and pay for the permanent improvements under way.

While it is only due to the Congregation to give information about the financial position, be it clearly understood that this letter is not issued to appeal for funds. Money-giving, in a certain way, is a definite part of religious duty and a blessing to the cheerful giver, but there are other and more important things about which we feel more strongly. It is the heart's willing devotion to the glorious service of the Lord Jesus Christ, for which we chiefly plead. Let His House be thronged with adoring worshippers not only on fine but also on stormy Sundays when our religion is tested.

The benevolent enterprises of the church are not being lost sight of in the letter, the following paragraph referring to this branch of the work:—

The King's Daughters can find abundant use for clothing and money. The Rector's Poor Fund has had too slim a balance of late to permit of the usual loans being made.

Havelock Hunter Predicts Coming Of a Mild Winter

Says The Wolf is Coming South And The Woodchucks Frequent The Open Fields

ANIMALS KNOW BY INSTINCT

Examiner Special.

Havelock, Nov. 2.—The working man and perhaps others beside him, will be very glad to hear that there is some hope of the coming winter being a very mild one, since the price of fuel has advanced.

This is the opinion of an old hunter and trapper from the northern limits of Peterborough County, who visited Havelock on Saturday to lay in provisions for the winter. He said that the coming winter would be one of the mildest we have had for years and that the snow also would be very scarce.

This old hunter has spent a large part of his life in the wilds of Peterborough county where at night the hoot of owl and the cry of the wolf can be heard and where a person awakens in the morning to find the tracks of deer around the hut, or a bear lingering in the neighbourhood of his cabin in search of a breakfast; where the animals roam the forest and the fish rule the waters, seldom disturbed by man. Only occasionally do they confront men and are forced to try all their tricks which they are so familiar by instinct in order to escape death at the hands of man.

Wolf Coming South

This old man, who has for so many autumns watched the habits of the animals and then the kind of winter that followed, believes faithfully that by instinct the wild animals can forteil the kind of weather that is to come. He has studied the habits and customs of these animals like a farmer studies his crops to see how they will turn out and knows why each action is taken on the part of the animals.

Starting with the small things, he says that squirrels, chipmonks, muskrats and other small animals are not building their house for the winter as warm as other years.

Another indication of the mildness of the coming winter is the appearance above ground all over the northern part of the county of many ground hogs. He also says that the fur on the fur-bearing animals is not nearly as thick as when the winter that followed was cold. He also explained that the wolf was coming farther south and that this was a sure sign of a mild winter.

The services in the Charlotte Street Methodist Church to-morrow will be of an unusually interesting character. Mr. R. N. Jolliffe, of Toronto, who, is spending a few days in the city, will assist the choir at the morning service and will also sing a solo. In the evening the musical services will be led by a male choir, preparations for which have been in progress for some time. Mr. Jolliffe will also take part in this service in the chorus numbers and will sing a solo. A sermon appropriate to the occasion will be preached by the pastor.

Nurse Tells of Eczema Cure

Miss C. Stanley-Jones, professional nurse, 283 Simcoe street, Toronto, writes: "In my occupation as nurse I have come across many cases in which Dr. Chase's Ointment has been used with extraordinary success. One case is that of a sixteenth months old child, who was cured of scald head and another that of eczema on the face after her doctor had given up."

RECIPE MAY PROVE WHAT PEOPLE NEED

Thousands Will Greatly Benefit if Statement Made is Only Partly True

It may be that some persons will be inclined to doubt the statement made by an excellent authority at a recent meeting, that with a mixture of dandelion, kargon and sarsaparilla, he would give prompt relief to any sufferer from rheumatism or the usual forms of backache, caused by inactive, clogged kidneys; yet many cases of long standing that had been entirely relieved were cited to prove the truth of his assertion. The same authority further stated that many cases which failed to yield to the healing waters of the famous health resorts, or the usual remedies as prescribed: Salicylate of soda, potash, colchicum, etc., were readily relieved by the use of this simple mixture: Fluid Extract of Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kargon, one ounce; Compound Syrup of Sarsaparilla, three ounces. Take a teaspoonful dose after meals and at bedtime.

A well known druggist, when approached upon the subject, stated that while this prescription, as written, is new, the ingredients are continually prescribed by the best physicians, and any good prescription pharmacy has them; they are inexpensive and harmless to use and are mixed by shaking well in a bottle.

If the claims made for this mixture are only partly correct, it would seem that no sufferer here could afford to leave the prescription untried.

BOYS WALKING AND RUNNING

The Result of Thanksgiving Day Events In Athletics

The youth of the city have a walking and running craze. At least the young sports with any imagination at all, are seen in every part of the city emulating the exploits of David Hartley and Fred Simpson. Yesterday being a holiday the boys were out in full force and every road had would be record breakers. Boys in every kind of uniform took to the country roads for their youthful stunts and many amusing incidents are related. With the boys, however, this does not last and in a week it may be expected to have disappeared.

Three steamers—the Water Lily, Monarch and Rainbow—came up to the city from Rice Lake this morning. All carried a number of passengers for the market, but the usual number was lessened on account of the rainy weather. The steamers also brought about 350 bags of potatoes.

FOUND POISON IN BODY.

Thomas Burns In Ottawa Jail on a Charge of Wife-Murder.

Ottawa, Nov. 2.—The inquest was resumed at South Osgoode yesterday into the death of Margaret Burns. Her husband, Thomas Burns, is in jail in Ottawa on a charge of murdering her. Coroner Baptie of Ottawa presided. The most sensational testimony was that in Dr. W. H. Ellis' letter from the School of Practical Science, Toronto.

He said that traces of strychnine were found in the stomach. This was first disclosed in his letter of Oct. 25, and confirmed in another letter received Thursday.

Catherine and Beedie, sisters of the accused man, swore to washing his clothes after the death and finding no stains out of the ordinary.

Dr. Groves, who gave the burial certificate, testified to Burns coming for it at 4 in the morning. Burns was opposed to having an inquest, giving the reason that he wanted to save the expense.

The enquiry is proceeding. More definite information is expected from the Toronto doctor.

Evidence Indicated Suicide.

Ottawa, Nov. 2.—The Burns' inquest at Lattram yesterday afternoon was adjourned until Nov. 12 in order that full reports concerning the presence of strychnine in the dead woman's stomach may be received from Prof. Ellis of Toronto. This is a case in which Thomas Burns, her husband, is held on the charge of murder. The evidence indicated suicide rather than murder, especially in view of the fact that the man made no attempt to decamp.

YOUNG BOY SHOT.

Accident at Barrisfield While Shooting Squirrels.

Kingston, Nov. 2.—A shooting accident occurred at Barrisfield, when a young lad, the son of Charles Bowman, Lower Gordon street, nearly lost his life.

The boys were out squirrel hunting, and kept following up the men who were also out for a day's sport. Mr. John Donoghue had his 22-calibre Winchester loaded, with the muzzle pointed to the ground, and was looking up in a tree to locate the squirrel. Suddenly both boys spied him, and one, in attempting to get in a position to fire, knocked against Mr. Donoghue, and at the same instant young Bowman ran in front of the gun, which, from the jar went off, and the bullet entered the boy's arm above the elbow and lodged on the inside, not an inch from his heart. His escape from death was marvelous. At. Dr. Bell's office the bullet was extracted, and yesterday he was doing nicely.

Campbellton, N. B., Nov. 2.—A fire which it is supposed was started by sparks from an engine completely destroyed the Intercolonial Railway freight shed here Thursday night. Loss about $30,000.

PORT WAS SHELLED BY MUTINEERS

Mutiny on Torpedo Destroyers Proved Serious Affair.

WOMAN WAS A RINGLEADER

Many Buildings Were Damaged and Civilians Killed—Officers on Board Were Overpowered and Made Prisoners—Mutiny Only Quelled After Fight In Which the Skory Was Battered to Pieces.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 2.—According to the official report of the recent mutinous outbreak of sailors at Vladivostock, the crews of the torpedo boat destroyers, the Skory, Serdity and Trevotshny mutinied, hoisted the red flag and shelled the port, doing considerable damage to various buildings and killing some soldiers and civilians. The Skory, on which were three revolutionary agitators, including one woman, took the lead in the mutiny, the crew rising at the instance of the agitators, killing the commander of the boat and wounding the officers, who were overpowered and confined below decks. The fire of the rebellious torpedo boat destroyers was answered by the batteries ashore, and from the gunboat Mandjour and the torpedo boat destroyers Grosovoy, Smely and others. They surrounded the Skory and poured a raking fire into her, which battered her to pieces, exploded her two boilers, and caused fire to break out on board. Nearly all the mutineers of the Skoty were killed on the vessel. The three or four survivors threw themselves into the sea.

The mutiny on board the Trevotshny was quelled by her own crew, after six of the mutineers had been killed and six wounded.

Gen. Count Unterberger, commanding the military district of the Amur, has arrived at Vladivostock, and assumed charge of the situation.

The United States Embassy here yesterday received a despatch from the consul at Vladivostock saying that the American who was wounded during the bombardment of Vladivostock by the mutinous torpedo boat destroyers is Harry Nietert, an employe of the Pacific Commercial Co., whose building was struck by a shell.

TRAINMEN MISSING.

Engine Left Rails — Brakeman Was Injured.

Eastman, Que., Nov. 2.—The engine and eight cars on a freight train left the rails on the bridge near this place yesterday afternoon at 3.30 o'clock. Engineer Draper and Fireman McKenny are missing, and C. Sturgeon, one of the brakesman, was seriously injured. No cause is as yet assigned for the accident. The bridge is not badly damaged, and it is expected that a few hours will suffice for repairs, with but little interruption of traffic.

To Get Low Rate Power.

London, Ont., Nov. 2.—Addressing a special meeting of the City Council last night, when it was decided to submit a bylaw for spending $235,000 for a distribution plant for Niagara power, Hon. Mr. Beck stated that as a result of the negotiations now in progress, London would get power, originally quoted at $23 per horsepower, at $17.50, and perhaps less.

He said that 18 months after the bylaw was passed, power would be delivered and declared that in those places where electric light companies also desired to purchase Niagara power, they would not be quoted as low a rate as the municipality would get, while profits derived from such companies would go to the municipality.

Thaw Judge Indicted.

New York, Nov. 2.—Ex-Justice Thomas Fitzgerald, who was removed from the bench of the appellate division of the Supreme Court after charges had been made against him by the Brooklyn Bar Association, was indicted for grand larceny yesterday by the grand jury of Richmond County. Margaret Slevin of Yonkers alleges that several years ago she gave Fitzgerald $1,000 to invest for her in bonds and mortgages, and that she had never received a cent of the money back.

CHICAGO FLAG INCIDENT.

Hotelkeeper Compelled to Pull Down the Union Jack.

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 2.—A whole Canadian convention and the manager of the Chicago Beach Hotel were brought to a recognition of United States patriotism Thursday night by Miss Emily T. Foster of the hotel, who advised Manager Gray that if he was to fly a British flag over his hostelry he must fly an American flag from the same staff. Gray held out in favor of the Canadian convention until night, when two detectives from Hyde Park police station called to investigate a number of complaints that had been telephoned in about the flag. Then he capitulated, and hauled down the flag.

The Chicago Beach Hotel is at present the headquarters of a big convention of Canadian manufacturers. Out of courtesy to the guests, the Union Jack, with the Canadian emblem, was ordered unfurled.

TAKE DRASTIC STEP IN ENGLAND

British Railway Men Decide to Call General Strike.

100,000 MEN TO QUIT WORK

Amalgamated Society Has Failed to Reach Agreement With the Companies—Strike Will Be National Calamity—Men Want Recognition and Better Scale of Wages—Praise Our Railways.

London, Nov. 2.—The executive committee of the Amalgamated Society of Railway Servants yesterday adopted a resolution to call a general strike.

The British railway employes and the companies have been at loggerheads for some time past on the question whether the Amalgamated Society of Railway Servants would strike to secure recognition of the organization, and a new scale of wages and hours, and finally it was decided by the employes to reach a decision by ballot.

Richard Bell, M. P., general secretary of the Amalgamated Society of Railway Servants, in a recent address to a large body of railway men at Cardiff, said that a strike would be a terrible calamity, and that the society intended to exhaust every means to reach a peaceful solution of the trouble.

London, Nov. 2.—(C. A. P.)—In reference to the threatened railway strike The Chronicle notes the fact that the men of Canada are always able to meet the company. A Canadian, interviewed, stated that the reason the Canadian Pacific never had a big strike is simply that it always kept on good terms with the men, helped by the popularity of the company's officials. He lays stress on the value of the Canadian Government conciliation board, whereto The Morning Post also editorially refers.

100,000 Men Affected.

London, Nov. 2.—Richard Bell, M. P., general secretary of the Amalgamated Society of Railway Servants, discussing the resolution to call a general strike, said yesterday:

"It means all that it says. Not only the members of the society, but every man engaged in the railway service in the United Kingdom, will get notice. We took the opinion of our members, and knowing that, and knowing also that thousands of men outside the society are in sympathy with us, we resolved to call on every one to come out."

It is understood that some 70,000 to 80,000 men voted for a general strike and that at least 100,000 men will stop work.

The railway companies contend that the society by no means represents the entire body of railway employes and say they have had a satisfactory response to the circulars issued by the directors asking for information in regard to their men who can be counted upon to remain loyal to the companies in the event of the declaration of a general strike.

Box Cars Wrecked.

McDougall's Chutes, New Ontario, Nov 2.—The siding at this place was the scene of what might have been a very serious accident.

At 11 o'clock yesterday as the third gravel train for construction work was passing the siding, the first car having partly passed, the back wheels caught the metals leading to the siding and the train followed. There were on the siding at the time five box cars. One was thrown off, the under-carriage torn away and the body thrown on to a heap of lumber at the side. There were no bumpers, so that the remaining four cars ran off about 20 feet at the end of the track.

Several officials were in the cars at the time, and all received a severe shaking up.

Put Ban on Alcohol.

Helsingfors, Finland, Nov. 2.—The Diet yesterday adopted unanimously, without a roll call, the alcohol bill, prohibiting the manufacture of alcohol in Finland or its importation into Finland. As the measure affects Russia's tariff relations with foreign countries, it is not certain that the Emperor will sanction the measure.

In view of the passage of the bill, temperance celebrations are being held in every part of the country.

EIGHT FIREMEN HURT AT A BLAZE

Flames Destroyed Police Headquarters at Buffalo Yesterday.

PRISONERS WERE ALL SAVED

Fire Was Caused by Incendiaries After Two Attempts—Firefighters Injured by Falling Roof and Cupola—Loss Is $100,000 — Historic Documents Destroyed — The Rogues' Gallery Also Burned.

Buffalo, N. Y., Nov. 2.—Police headquarters, at the corner of Franklin street, the Terrace and West Seneca street, burned yesterday afternoon. Police records, the rogues' gallery, and many important documents, including the original copy of Leon Czolgosz's confession of the assassination of President McKinley, were destroyed. The fire was of incendiary origin. Two companies of firemen were caught in the collapse of the roof and cupola and eight men were seriously injured. None will die. The injured men are Capt. Michael Haggerty and Firemen Charles Basil, G. J. Schuenbleim, John C. Malloy, Frank Maloney, Charles Fries, Dennis Ryan and Albert Witte.

At 2.30 yesterday afternoon Police Commissioner Zeller picked up a blazing newspaper in a hallway. Half an hour later a police messenger found a blazing window brush in the storeroom. He had just reached the commissioners' room with the smouldering brush when there was a cry of fire from the street and flames were seen shooting from the cupola over the main entrance and from the windows on the fourth floor.

The 20 prisoners were handcuffed together and marched to the jail. The firemen apparently had the flames under control and were working on the third floor when the cupola toppled over and crashed through the roof and top floor. Two companies of men were caught in the crash. There were released after 20 minutes of hard work, and eight of them taken to the hospital. The building was practically destroyed. The loss is estimated at $100,000.

WILL NOW SUE HARDEN.

German Libel Scandal Takes on New Phase—State Attorney Acts.

Berlin, Nov. 2.—The Harden-Moltke case has entered on a new phase. It appears that the state's attorney has decided to take up the matter and bring suit against Herr Harden, editor of Die Zukunft, before a bench of five judges. This decision apparently is due to the widespread opinion that Gen. Count Kuno Von Moltke was hardly dealt with in last week's trial of the suit for libel against Herr Harden. It also denotes a complete reversal of the attitude of the state's attorney, who originally had refused to bring suit against Herr Harden at Gen. Von Moltke's instance, leaving the latter to take private action on his own account.

Serious Hallowe'en Prank.

Chatham, Nov. 2.—A Hallowe'en prank played here Thursday night came near resulting seriously. Some young lads removed the plank covering from an old, unused well on Centre street. A recently-arrived Englishman, who happened to be crossing the lot later, fell headlong into the hole, from which he was later rescued by friends.

It was a pure piece of luck that the Englishman was not seriously injured. As it was he received several bad bruises and a bad wetting.

Boy Shot In Foot.

Chatham, Nov. 2.—Robert Allen, the 12-year-old son of Frank Allen, a Grand avenue butcher, was shot in the foot while spending Thanksgiving in the woods with another young man named Charles Coleman.

Coleman was carrying a rifle, which went off accidentally while pointed downwards. The ball entered Allen's shoe and passed through two toes and lodged in a third one. The injured lad was attended by Dr. George T. McKeough, who extracted the bullet and dressed the wound.

Canadian Customs Increase.

Ottawa, Nov. 2.—The customs receipts of the Dominion for the month are more than a quarter of a million greater than for October last year. For the seven months of the current fiscal year, the increase is over six millions and a half. The receipts for October were $4,930,031, an increase of $275,000, and for the seven months the receipts were $36,343,766, an increase of $6,691,790. The revenue from all sources for the year will be over the one hundred million mark.

Wine Cellars Destroyed.

Dunkirk, N. Y., Nov. 2.—The C. E. Rickman Wine Co.'s cellars at Brockton, the largest and oldest plant in the Chautauqua grape belt, were totally destroyed by fire last night. There were over three quarters of a million gallons of wine in the cellars, and the loss will reach $350,000. The loss is partly covered by insurance.

Three men were scalded by hot wine mash, while fighting the fire John Roe fell into a vat of the stuff and is in a serious condition.

Gen. Booth Well.

New York, Nov. 2.—Gen. Booth was in high spirits yesterday, and his appearance gave little indication of his recent illness.

It was said by a high official of the army that reports regarding his condition had been greatly exaggerated.

Kingston May Go Dry.

Kingston, Nov. 2.—A deputation of citizens will wait on the council Monday and urge that a local option bylaw be submitted to the electors next January.

French Government Approves.

Paris, Nov. 2.—The French Government has given its approval of the projected ferry boat service on the American plan between Dover and Calais, the object of which is to increase traffic to and from the continent.

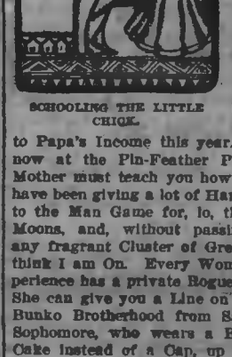
SCHOOLING THE LITTLE CHICK.

"Well, my daughter, we start for the Country next Week," said the elderly Society Bird to her little Chick. "Us to the Summer Hotel for a bang-up Suite at a Per Diem Rate that will put a large, deep Crimp into Papa's Income this year. You are now at the Pin-Feather Period, and Mother must teach you how to Fly. I have been giving a lot of Hard Thought to the Man Game for, lo, these many Moons, and, without passing myself any fragrant Cluster of Green Peas, I think I am On. Every Woman of Experience has a private Rogue's Gallery. She can give you a Line on the whole Bunko Brotherhood from Sammy the Sophomore, who wears a Buckwheat-Cake instead of a Cap, up to the decrepit old Has-Been who wants to hold your Hand because you look so much like his Daughter. Taking the whole Outfit, from Seventeen to Seventy, I may add that they are the grandest Bunch of Shell-Workers that ever operated. You are a Mere Child of 19, with a Baby Stare and a Simple Faith in Mankind, and you are due to be Strung unless you Copper about four-thirds of all that is said to you. There will be enough Hot Air wasted around that Hotel this Summer to keep a Flat Building nice and warm all next Winter. It behooves you to be Foxy, otherwise you will be engaged to so many at one time that you will get twisted in your Book-Keeping and overplay your System."

"No doubt I shall make many Miscues," said Isabelle, "and yet I am willing to Experiment."

"I suppose you understand that in order to be strong with the various Kinds that will be on your Trail you must learn to be a Quick-Change Artist," said Mother. "For instance, there is the Spring Lamb with the Stingy little Coat and Big Shoes. He is just home from College, and when he walks along the Veranda it sounds like a Team going over a Bridge. If one of these Squabs should begin to purse you, what would you do?"

"I am so inexperienced I hardly know what to say," replied little Isabelle. "I think, however, that I would tie a large Can to him, unless there was a horrible Shortage in the Supply and I had to throw in a few Understudies. As a rule, the pink faced Collegian is a little shy on Collateral and more or less of a Dummy on any Topic except Himself. The way to make a Ten-Strike with him is to feel his Muscles and tell him how well his Clothes fit. If you jolly him up for three or four Days you may get a nice Photograph of him, and then he will bone you for one in Return and nail it up in his Den and tell all the other Johnnies that you are crazy about him. The trouble with the Glad College Youth is that he has been plucked a little too soon. Besides, I don't think a Man starts in to be Good Company until he is past 25."



THE CHICK SEEMS WISE.

"And some of them have a few Points to pick up after they pass 55," added Mother. "You seem to be wise to the ways of the Younger Kind. How about the Bachelor with the Tremolo Voice who wants to sit about six inches away from you all the time and look you straight in the Eye and tell you that Life was a Desert until he bumped into you?"

"That's the Time to hang out the Red Light," replied Daughter. "I've been out among 'em only two Seasons, but I've taken that Boy's Measure all right, all right. He's the kind that wants you to lean on his Shoulder and talk all your Troubles to a True Friend after he has known you about 20 Minutes, and if you hang back he is Hurt and seems to think that you do him an Injustice. He has got away with it so often that his Nerve is up, and as for the Huffy-Duffy Talk that he has learned by Heart, it is the Kind calculated to make a Girl ashamed of herself unless she starts right in and loves him with her whole Soul. He is a pretty dangerous Proposition. You can say 'Scat!' to Ferdie the Freshman, or else send him on an Errand, but Mr. Arthur Fresh, who is getting along towards 30, is so accustomed to the Throw-Down that he arises, dusts his Clothes, and comes back with a Genial Smile and treats the whole Incident as a Joke. Then, if you Repent and try to Square yourself, the Chances are that he will wait until you begin to act real Friendly and then he will give you the Toad and hike off after some new Curaldine."

"Merciful Mayonnaise!" exclaimed Mother. "I don't believe I am qualified to sit on the Side-Lines and do any Coaching for you. You seem to be Next. Did they teach you all this at Boarding-School?"

"Don't give it away," said Isabelle, "but I'll tell you on the Q. T. that we have what is known as the Protective Order of Buds. The Trifler who goes up and down the Line springing that Gag at First Sight is spotted and tagged in a Hurry. There are two ways of handling this Party. One is to spring his Record on him and kid him until he lets up. The other is to believe everything and String him along. The Second Method is the one usually employed by all True Artists. The older the Bachelor the bigger the Cinch. Hold on to one of his Coat-Buttons and look up at him and ask him a lot of feeble-minded Questions about the Wicked World and he will talk for Hours at a Time. But the Minute the Sun goes down you want to yell for the Chaperon until you can be heard in the next Township. That will lead him to believe that he is a fascinating and dangerous Person. It is always a terrific Hit. I know two Girls who landed Good Things last Summer merely by sitting out in a Hammock and calling for Chaperons. They used to sit out until Midnight begging somebody to go for a Chaperon, and the Gentlemen had to talk to them for hours in order to calm them and convince them that the Whole Proceeding was according to Hoyle—that is, as long as they were with Nice Fellows."

"YOU DON'T NEED TO ATTEND ANY NIGHT SCHOOL."

"I take off my Bonnet to you," said Mother. "You don't need to attend any Night School. There's just one other Variety. How about the Lonesome Married Man?"

"You mean the kind that wants to tell you how sorry he is that he didn't find you before he hooked up with a Woman who never seems to Understand him. He is a Sad Affair. He is trying to sneak a Return Trip on the Flirtation Route after he has lost his Ticket. As a Study he is fairly interesting, but the Pursuit of him is barred by the Game Laws. The best way to quiet him down is to get friendly with his Wife."

"That settles it," said the elderly Society Bird. "Any time that I want a Hunch I'll hunt up the Young Lady of To-day."

CASE OF SPOONEY INFANTUM.

Once there was a seventeen-year-old Lambkin with long Legs and his Hair parted in the Middle who was taken down with a severe case of Love-Gripes, known in the Books as the Spooney Infantum. He cut off on his Eating and became white around the gills. Most of the Time he sat around looking at the Rugs and feeling sorry for himself.

The Object of this hungering Affection was a 90-pound Gum-Chewer who lived next Door. She was a fresh and merry little Soubrine half-way between Long Dresses and Short Dresses. She was very Lippy, and talked back to her Folks and made Sassy cracks at the Old Ladies who came along, and was a Champion Giggler.

She was just at the Perky Age. She had her first Cart-Wheel Hat and a little Wrist-Bag, and she was experimenting with the Powder-Puff and putting in considerable Time on her Shape.

She thought she was the Works, and so did little Willie. He wanted to marry her, but he had only 90 cents in his Tin Bank and a License cost $2.

So all he could do was worship her with a yearning and hopeless Love and write seven or eight mushy little Notes every day. Although she was shy on Experience, she had the Feminine Instinct, for she would carry on with two or three other grammar-school Tadpoles all the time, just to keep Willie bet up and miserable.

Willie's Mother had seen a good many Children and was familiar with the Symptoms of the Veal Period, so she was treating him gently and trying to nurse him through the Attack. Not so with the Old Gentleman. It made him wrothy to see a Hulk of a Boy make such a Blithering Imbecile of himself. Like nearly all Papas, he believed that Puppy Love should be cured with a Piece of Scantling.

The more he roasted Willie and poked fun at the gabby little Tidbit next door, the more deep-seated and inflammatory became the Fever that Willie mistook for True Love. The poor Kid fell behind in his Classes and moped around the House trying on different Cravats.

PA HANDS OUT ADVICE.

Sarsaparilla did not seem to help him, and when any of the Callers told his Mamma that he was looking Thin and Pale, he put on a wan Smile and felt encouraged, for Willie had it all fixed up that he was to die of a Broken Heart and have a Swell Funeral at the First Presbyterian Church, with his Beloved sitting in the Front Row and weeping copiously. He saw no other Way of getting back at his Cruel Parent.

Willie's Papa, in trying to hammer the Divine Sentiment out of his idiotic Offspring, made a Specialty of the familiar Song-and-Dance beginning, "When I was at your Age."

So far as Willie could gather from the rough Line of Conversation handed to him about three times per Day, Papa had always been cold-blooded and sensible, even in his earliest Youth. Papa never had been so weak and foolish as to fall in Love. Sometimes Willie wanted to ask him if he had married Mamma on a Bet, but he was afraid to start anything.

As for Mamma, she sat back with her Lips closed tightly and listened while the theoretical Head of the Family joshed poor Willie and bragged about himself, and told what a bright, industrious, level-headed Boy he had been along about 1876.

She stood for it a long Time, and then she decided to take charge of Willie's Case and put him Wise. Papa's Scheme for breaking up the Affair with the Bantam next door was to threaten to send Willie to a Military School if he ever spoke to her again. Papa knew a lot about the Insurance Business, but he was a Shine when it came to pulling off a piece of Fine Work in which tender young Affections were all snarled up.

It happened that Papa had to go East for a Month, and no sooner had he jumped the Town than Mamma took Willie into her Room and flashed a Bundle of Letters on him.

"There are a few Samples of the Juju-Paste that your Father used to send to me back in 1880," she said. "I hate to Call him, but I want you to know that no matter what you do, it runs in the Family. Glance over this one, for instance. He calls me Honey seven times in three Lines, with a couple of Sweeties thrown in to make it good and strong. As a Juvenile Gush your Pa was the Human limit. Of course, that was long before the Rheumatism got him and he began to see the Doctor about his Liver. You must always respect your Father, but you needn't believe anything he says. In regard to your deep and steadfast Love for the Beautiful Creature just over the Fence, I will say that I have framed it up with her Mother to have the two of you Married just as soon as you are old enough, which will be in about Five Years. In the mean time you are at liberty to put in all of your Time with her. I suggest that you go over to her House immediately and Converse with her for several Hours concerning Art, Literature, History, or whatever Topic is uppermost in her Mind. When you get tired of calling on her she can come over and see you. It is customary for an Engaged Couple to be Inseparable."

WILLIE MAKES A QUIET SNEAK.

When Papa came back from the East he found that Willie had gained 8 pounds and was very busy organizing a Junior Ball Team to do up the West Side Gang. Every time that little Sweetheart came through the Side Gate to play with him, he gathered up his Mask and the Big Glove and made a quiet sneak for the Alley.

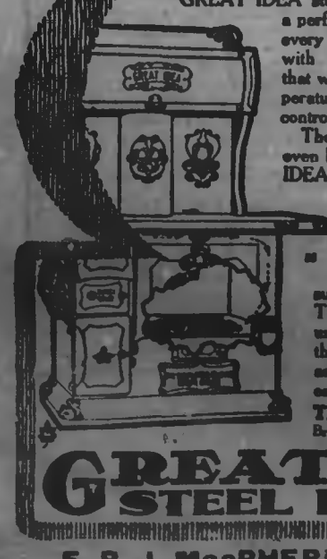
Papa saw that the Affair was busted, and he told his Business Partner that he had reasoned with the Kid and brought him to his Senses.

MORAL: In case of Neighborhood Complications, send Papa on a Business Trip.

Fight With Indians.

Washington, Nov. 2.—Capt. Willard reports a slight engagement with Navajo Indians. He captured ten prisoners. "Chief Bylillie and followers opened fire on Indian police and my men and skirmishes continued for ten minutes, during which three Indians were killed and one seriously wounded. One cavalry horse slightly wounded. No other casualties." The trouble is believed to be over.

THE TEMPERATURE NEVER VARIES



The draft construction of the GREAT IDEA steel range insures a perfect regularity of heat—every GREAT IDEA is fitted with an oven thermometer that will prove this. The temperature is always in exact control.

The baffle plates fitted to all oven bottoms in the GREAT IDEA, and the quarter-inch air space between the cast iron oven top and the steel oven top insures an even distribution of heat. The flues throughout—even the flues under the oven—are protected with three thicknesses, one of asbestos and two of steel, thus preventing escape of heat from the range body.

CARRIED A PAPER TELESCOPE.

One Autumn Afternoon a gray-haired Agriculturist took his youngest Olive Branch by the Hand and led him away to a Varsity. Wilbur was 18 and an Onion. He had outgrown his last year's Tunic, and his Smalls were hardly on speaking terms with his Uppers. He had large, warty Hands, which floated idly at his sides, and his Wrists resembled extra Sets of Knuckles. When he walked, his Legs gave way at the Hinge and he Interfered. On his Head was a little Wideawake with a Buckle at the Side. Mother had bobbed his Hair and rubbed in a little Goose-Grease to make it shine. The Collar that he wore was size 13, and called the Rollo Shape. It rose to a Height of a half-inch above his Neck-Band. For a Cravat he had a Piece of watered Silk Ribbon with Butterflies on it.

Wilbur had his Money tied up in a Handkerchief, and he carried a Paper Telescope loaded down with one Complete Change and a Catalogue of the Institution showing that the Necessary Expenses were not more than $3.40 per Week.

As the Train pulled away from Pewee Junction Wilbur began to Leak. The Salt Tears trickled down through the Archipelago of Freckles. He wanted to Crawfish, but Paw bought him a Box of Crackerjack and told him that if he got an Education and improved his Opportunities some day he might be County Superintendent of Schools and get his $900 a Year just like finding it. So Wilbur spunked up and said he would try to stick it out. He got out the Catalogue and read all of the copper-riveted Rules for the Moral Guidance of Students.

The Curriculum had him scared. He saw that in the next four Years he would have to soak up practically all the Knowledge on the Market. But he was cheered to think that if he persevered and got through he would be entitled to wear an Alpaca Coat and a Lawn Tie and teach in the High-School, so he took Courage and began to notice the Scenery.

Wilbur was planted in a Boarding-House guaranteed to provide Wholesome Food and a Home Influence. Father went back after making a final Discourse on the Importance of learning most everything in all of the Books.

Nine Months later they were down at the Depot to meet Wilbur. He had written several times, saying that he could not find time to come Home, as he was in pursuit of Knowledge every Minute of the Day, and if he left the Track, Knowledge might gain several Laps on him. It looked reasonable, too, for the future Superintendent of Schools had spent $400 for Books, $200 for Scientific Apparatus, and something like $60 for Chemicals to be used in the Laboratory.

When the Train suddenly checked itself, to avoid running past the Town, there came out of the Parlor Car something that looked like Fitz, on account of the Padding in the Shoulders. Just above one Ear he wore a dinky Cap about the size of a Postage Stamp. The Coat reached almost to the Hips and was buttoned below. The Trousers had enough material for a suit. They were reefed to show feverish Socks of a zigzag Pattern. The Shoes were very Bull-Doggy, and each had a wide Terrace running around it. Father held on to a Truck for Support. Never before had he seen a genuine Case of the Inflammatory Rah-Rahs.

LOOKED LIKE FITZ.

Wilbur was smoking a dizzy little Pipe from which the Smoke curled upward, losing itself in a copious Forelock that moved gently in the Breeze. Instead of a Collar, Wilbur was wearing a Turkish Towel. He had the Harvard Walk down pat. With both Hands in his Pockets, the one who had been pursuing Knowledge teetered towards the Author of his Being and said, "How are you, Governor?"

Father was always a Lightning Calculator, and as he stood there trying to grasp and comprehend and mentally close in, as it were, on the Burlap Suit and the Coon Shirt and the sassy Pipe, something told him that Wilbur would have to Switch if he expected to be County Superintendent of Schools.

"Here are my Checks," said Wilbur, handing over the Brasses. "Have my Trunks, my Golf Clubs, my portable Punching-Bag, the Suit-Case and Hat-Boxes sent up to the House right away. Then drive me Home by the Outside Road, because I don't want to meet all these Yaps. They annoy me."

"You'd better git out of that Rig mighty quick if you don't want to be Joshed," said his Parent. "Folks around here won't stand for any such fool Regalia, and if you walk like a frozen-toed Hen you'll get some Hot Shots or I miss my Calkilations."

"Say, Popsy, I've been eating Raw Meat and drinking Blood at the Training-Table, and I'm on Edge," said Wilbur, expanding his Chest until it bulged out like a Thornton Squash. "If any of these local Georgie Glues try to shoot their Pink Conversation at me I'll toss them up into the Trees and let them hang there. I'm the Gazabe that Puts the Shot. Any one who can trim a Policeman and chuck a Hackman right back into his own Hack and drive off with him doesn't ask for any sweeter Tapioca than one of these Gaffer Greens. The Ploughboy who is muscle-bound and full of Pastry will have a Proud Chance any time that he struts across my Pathway. In my Trunks I have eight suits a little warmer than this one and 47 pairs of passionate Hose. I'm out here to give the Cornfields a Touch of High Life. It's about time that your Chaws had a Glimpse of the Great Outside World. Any one who gets Fussy about the Color-Combinations that I spring from Day to Day will be chopped up and served for Lunch. To begin with, I'm going to teach you and Mother to play Golf. If these Mutts come and lean over the Fence and start to get off their Colored-Weekly Jokes we'll fan the Hillside with them."

A MUTT.

"What do they teach up at your School—besides Murder?" inquired Father. "I thought you wanted to be County Superintendent of Schools."

"I've outgrown all those two-by-four Ambitions," was the Reply. "I'm going to be on the Eleven next Fall. What more could you ask?"

That very week Wilbur organized a Ball Team that walloped Hickory Crick, Sand Ridge, and Sozzlesville. He had the whole Township with him. Every Cub at Pewee Junction began to wear a Turkish Towel for a Collar and practise the Harvard Walk.

Want the Natal Act.

Vancouver, Nov. 2.—Gordon Grant, secretary of the Asiatic Exclusion League, has asked John Oliver, M. L. D., president of the Provincial Liberal Association, to recommend the passing of the Natal Act to apply to the whole of the Dominion.

Injured at Fire.

Hamilton, Nov. 2.—Two firemen were seriously injured and several others narrowly escaped death yesterday in a fire at 168 Hess street north, when a staircase caved in and part of the roof fell, burying them beneath.

The men were quickly dug out. Two of them were unconscious.

They were Foreman Gilbert and Fireman Hottrum of the Central Station. They were removed to their homes in the ambulance.

The fire was caused by a lamp being knocked over in a woodshed. Mrs. Wilson, an elderly woman, who was carrying the lamp, was slightly burned.

A Miss Sheehan, who was near, is probably fatally injured. She is reported to be dying at the hospital.

Mrs. Perkins' Libel Suits.

Toronto, Nov. 2.—Forty-two statements of claims in connection with the writs issued on May 23 last by Mattie Perkins of Cayuga, her brother, Ralph Curry, and F. A. McDonald of Canfield, against Toronto, Hamilton and Western Ontario newspapers, claiming libel in the published reports on her recent trial for the murder of her husband, Henry Perkins, were yesterday filed at Osgoode Hall by Johnston, MacKay, Dodds & Grant, solicitors for the plaintiffs.

Mrs. Perkins has suits against 14 papers, F. A. MacDonald 19, and Ralph Curry 9.

Application is made for hearing of the actions at Cayuga.

Hart Sentence Commuted.

London, Nov. 2.—The Berlin correspondent of The Standard says that the Grand Duke of Baden, acting on the advice of the Minister of Justice, has decided to commute the sentence of death passed on Karl Hau, formerly professor of Roman law at George Washington University, Washington, D. C., for the murder of Frau Moliter, his mother-in-law, to penal servitude for life.

Sheriff After Bartles.

Auburn, N. Y., Nov. 2.—Under Sheriff Walker left Thursday night for Welland, Ont., to bring Norman Bartles, the former Syracuse brewer, back here to stand trial for perjury. The charge arises out of his testimony at the time he was convicted of attempted arson. Bartles fled to Canada before he was sentenced.

Carnegie Makes Way.

St. Andrew's, Scotland, Nov. 2.—Andrew Carnegie, having positively refused to contest his election, Lord Avebury yesterday was formally declared to have been elected rector of the University of St. Andrew's. Mr. Carnegie has three times been selected lord rector of the university, the first time in 1901.

Balloon's Long Fly.

Paris, Nov. 2.—A toy balloon, one of many released by the newspaper, The Eclair, has been found in Finland. It traveled a distance of 1,950 kilometers from Paris, thus beating by 25 kilometers the long distance balloon record by Count De La Vaulx.

HAS PLUMB-LINE LEVEL HEEL AND SOLE

Improvement Number Eleven

How unlevel soles stoop the back | How unlevel soles cause bow-legs | How unlevel soles cause knock-knees | Foot-rites make legs straight from hip to toe

A locomotive that bumps along on an unlevel track soon bumps into deformity and loses its power to pace the steel highway with ease, style and fleetness.

A man who treads an unlevel heel and sole is jolting along on a track that's certain to stoop his shoulders, swell his knees and ankles and bend them in or out, producing knock-knees or bow-legs and feeble ankles. (See first three illustrations.)

The uneveness of the heel and sole bends the shoulders forward; stretches the muscles and wears off the knee and ankle bearings until they cause inward or outward inclination of the legs and convert the smooth, careless, athletic gait of youth into a slouchy, awkward, lumbering stumble.

Foot-rites are built with a Plumb-Line Level Heel and Sole—level as a plumb-line from rear of heel to tip of toe and just as level from side to side. Unless hopelessly deformed, the Foot-rite Plumb-Line Level Heel and Sole will keep the back erect and line up the legs as straight as a straight edge from hip to toe, as per fourth illustration above.

There never was a successful runner, long walker, graceful carriage, nor smart hanging pair of trousers without straight legs.

The Foot-rite dealer is a clever shoe man. He'll show you the Foot-rite Plumb-Line Level Heel and Sole which gives erect backs, straight legs, ease of carriage, fleetness of foot and won't tire you.

Anywhere in America, Canada or Great Britain—$4.00 and $5.00. Every pair Goodyear Welt Sewn.

The Ninety-Pound Knight-Errant and His Lady Fair.

[Copyright, 1902, 1903, by Robert Howard Russell.]

Once there was an Estimable Lady named Mrs. Killjoy who used to hunt for Trouble with a Search-Warrant.

She was not happy unless she was being Insulted. Before any one chirped she knew that she was going to have Bricks thrown at her Character.

Mrs. Killjoy held to the obsolete Theory that Man was put into this Mundane Trouble Factory to protect weak and defenceless Woman from all Slurs, Slights, and Insults. That is why she picked out for her True Knight an undeveloped Specimen, about the size of a Philadelphia Squab, with four-inch Biceps.

His steady Assignment was to fight her Battles. Mrs. Killjoy was one of those Sensitive Plants who could not get into a Trolley without having some one rudely Stare at her. She always suspected that the He-Salesmen in the Stores were trying to make love to her, and if any Man happened to be walking behind her on the same side of the Street she knew that she was being Pursued.

DUSTING THE BIN WITH MR. KILLJOY.

"Are you going to sit here and allow your Wife to be Insulted?" That was the Speech she would hand him when they were out together. Then it was up to him to hit some 200-pounder or else be prepared to lie awake half the Night and listen to the Story of her Wrongs.

Sometimes he suspected that she wanted to realise on his Life Insurance.

His usual Play was to promise to be an Avenger. Then he would hunt up the Person who had grossly insulted Mrs. Killjoy and apologise in her behalf and say that she was a trifle Dippy.

What Mrs. Killjoy needed was a Husband in a full Suit of Armor mounted on a White Horse and thirsting for Blood. She had read the wrong kind of Books. Husband knew that she would stack him up against it sooner or later.

Sure enough, one Day he found her in Tears and learned that the Man delivering the Coal had been Impertinent and had failed to remove his Hat while speaking to her. She wanted to know if Mr. Killjoy was a Man or a Mouse, and that settled it. He went out to roast the Teamster and she followed along to Gloat.

The Teamster was a Low-Brow with a 48-inch Chest, and he did not know a thing about the Henry of Navarre Business. He grabbed Mr. Killjoy and dusted the Bin with him.

While the Sufferer was in the Hospital waiting for the Bones to join, Mrs. Killjoy sat beside him and said, "As soon as you are well enough to be around you must hunt him up and shoot him."

"I will," said the brave Knight, "if I can get one of those Sandy Hook Guns that will carry Six Miles."

Manufacturing the Truth.

A gentleman was staying at an English country house, when, hearing a great clatter below one morning, he looked out and saw a couple of grooms holding one of the servant maids on a horse, which they led with difficulty once round the yard. He asked them what it all meant.

"Well, you see, sir," said they, "we're going to take the horse to market to be sold, and we want to be able to say that he has carried a lady."

Buffaloes For Canada.

The second shipment of buffalo from the wilds of Montana has arrived at Lamont. There were in all thirteen carloads of shaggy monsters, the number being in the neighborhood of 200. They are mostly cows and calves, but few bulls being in this shipment. It has taken nearly two months to round up the bunch at the Flathead reserve in Montana. They had the run of an enormous extent of territory, and the numerous deep ravines which exist in the country made it a most difficult undertaking. However, they were finally stored away in the cars at Ravilli, Montana, safely, and the first consignment was forwarded north without delay. The remainder of the herd will come later.

Drove Wife to Suicide.

New York, Nov. 2.—Joseph Wardell, who was convicted of manslaughter in the first degree, in aiding and abetting his wife to commit suicide, and who, when he was arraigned for sentence Thursday, confessed that he had murdered his wife, was sentenced yesterday to imprisonment for not less than eighteen years and eleven months and not more than nineteen years and eleven months.

Clean Skimming

STILL FURTHER IMPROVED

The "Simplex" Link-Blade Cream Separator

Has been still further improved during the past season. Notwithstanding its many brilliant triumphs and successes in both Competitive and Practical Tests, there has been added still another laurel to it's wreath of fame and distinction.

This new distinguishing feature makes the Bowl of the "SIMPLEX" perfectly SELF BALANCING, so that not the slightest wear or misuse can disturb it's balance or impair it's Skimming. The NEW BEARINGS introduced so strengthens the claims of the "SIMPLEX" that it now stands in a new class by itself—unapproached and unrivalled by any other Separator in the following 7 Points:— 1 SMOOTH RUNNING; 2 FREEDOM FROM JAR; 3 NOISELESSNESS; 4 EASY RUNNING; 5 EASY CLEANING; 6 SIMPLICITY; and 7 most valuable of all 7 CLEAN SKIMMING. The evidence on these points are overwhelming. All wabbling and binding is prevented. Besides the bowl and bearings can be taken out and cleaned as easy and as quickly as washing milk pans.

FARMERS! DAIRYMEN! It is too late to look into the construction of a Separator after you have bought it. We invite you to look into the SIMPLEX and, if you need a Separator, you'll soon become the owner of one.

RUGBY GAME AS SEEN IN LINDSAY

Post Has a Lucid Account of Thursday's Contest

The Lindsay Post has the following lucid account of Thursday's rugby game. Isn't the story of the day as clear as print?

The Lindsay public doesn't know very much about the fine points of football, and the intricacies of rugby were as a sealed book to them when they read about yesterday's battle between Peterboroughs of the Otonabee and the Victorias of Toronto Bay. Their interest was aroused, however, and they flocked to the Central Fair Park along with many Peterborough and Toronto rooters, the huge stand being fairly well filled at 2.45, when play began.

From the outset the game went Peterborough's way, the score at the end of the first quarter standing 7-0. In the next quarter both teams put up a strenuous struggle—the Westerners to even up the score, and the Easterners to hold their ground. That they were successful is attested by the score remaining the same when the half ended. Several fierce scrimmages took place, and in one of the crushes a Toronto player had his collar-bone fractured.

In the third and fourth quarters the Westerners continued their good work and rolled up a score of seven. Peterborough playing in the main a defence game.

WILL TRY TO BREAK THE RECORD

Jimmie Reynolds Will Cover Same Ground As Hartley on November 19th For Bet Of $300

The Port Hope Guide of yesterday said: Through the Toronto press, Hartley has challenged Jimmy Reynolds to walk from Port Hope to Peterborough and return twice for $1,000. Jimmy will not accept the challenge this autumn, but will wager $300 that he can make the same trip as that accomplished by Hartley and smash Hartley's record. We think Jimmy would be better off to accept Hartley's challenge, but he is anxious to break Hartley's record; so if some Peterborough sport has $300 to squander, will he kindly speak up. Reynolds will make the trip on November 19, weather permitting.

THE WESTMOUNTS AT KINGSTON

Play To-day To See Who Will Meet PeterBoro' In Finals

Westmount and Kingston are playing to-day in the latter city, and a great deal of interest is being taken in the game locally. Westmount won at home by only one point and it looks very much as if the Limestones would wip out. The locals would rather see the Westmounts win out inasmuch as they have agreed to come west to play the winners of the western section. In the event of Kingston winning it is altogether likely that home and home games will be played with Peterborough.

RUGBY

The rugby team will practice on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday nights of next week in preparation for the first game in the finals with either Kingston or Westmount. Every member of the team is expected to be on hand at all practices next week.

* * * *

Dickson and Dillon were the first to benefit by Secretary Mulloughs offer of a pair of gloves for each man scoring a touch down. Each got a try in Thursday's game against the Vics.

* * * *

Gillespie and Craig played great games for Dundas against the Tiger II on Thanksgiving Day, and both men are mentioned in the despatches.

* * * *

In spite of the disagreeable weather this afternoon the Rugby team turned out at Riverside Park, and had a good practice.

The only big Rugby games to-day are Queen's at McGill and the Intercollegiate and Tigers at Ottawa in the Seniors. On form the Tigers should win, but they will be without Southern, and the Ottawas are improving every game. McGill should beat Queen's with the latter in a crippled condition.

Bargain hunters were out after dinner to-day, with an eye to business, and farmers who had many products for sale were offered low prices for their goods. This was a cinch for those who were on the look out for snaps and some of the farmers should have returned home without selling everything.

SKIM MILK LOSSES ARE PREVENTED

Self-Balancing Separator Does Best Work With Least Loss

From tests made to show the efficiency of different methods of creaming the following results are given of the average per cent. of fat lost in skim milk of four different systems under favourable conditions:

Hand separator, in good balance	.02
Hand separator, out of balance	.17
Deep setting system	.67
Shallow pans	.44
Water dilution separator	.68

The above not only shows the relative value of different systems of creaming, but the great advantage of the Separator over any other. What is also of primary importance is that the test shows the great difference in efficiency between the balanced and the unbalanced separators. The unbalanced separator did not do better work than the deep setting system, that is: the old style cabinet creameries. It shows that the efficiency of any cream separator depends on its staying in balance. The slightest wear or misuse will disturb this balance and immediately decrease the efficiency of the machine as a separator.

The self-balancing feature of a separator, therefore, is of the most vital importance, and it is for that reason that the "Simplex Link Blade" Separator is claimed to be so far ahead of mechanically balanced machines. See "Simplex" announcement in another column.

MAINTENANCE OF THE POOR

Council Will Take Steps to Shelter The Old Men of City

If the City Council decides to follow the recommendation of the Legal Committee, it will have to make arrangements at once for the maintenance of the aged poor men of the city. It is probable that the city will secure a suitable building and engage a man to look after the inmates.

The Legal Committee met yesterday afternoon and discussed the report to make to the Council on Monday night. The committee has had a conference with the ladies of the Protestant Home Board, and also with the County Council in connection with the matter, and the result is that it decided to make a recommendation to the Council to take up the question at once.

The Protestant Home will after this be used as a shelter for the poor women of Peterborough, and the men will be housed by the city.

HEATERS!

Right Time to Buy Them and Special Inducement This Week

You may wait for cold weather to buy a heater if you've a mind to, but if you'll be advised by those who have to deal most with the selling of stoves, you will select a heater now and have it put in place and ready before the rush that invariably comes with a cold snap.

There is absolutely nothing gained in waiting—not even a saving in cost, as the prices will certainly be kept at normal when the demand is at its height, and then you'll be expected to take your turn in having it delivered and set up—a delay of two or three days perhaps.

We recommend these stoves with confidence :—

Dedication Festival Celebrated At St. John's

Twenty-fifth Anniversary Of The Re-opening of the Church Commemorated — Special Sermon Preached by Rev. Dr. Langfeldt

ON GOD'S FAITHFULNESS

Yesterday in St. John's a dedication festival, commemorating the twenty-fifth anniversary of the re-opening of the church and the seventy-second of its erection was celebrated by special services. In the morning, parochial communion, with a very large attendance, was partaken of at 8.30 and 11 o'clock, and in the evening Rev. Dr. Langfeldt of St. Luke's preached a special sermon. There were large congregations at both services, and the occasion was a noteworthy one in the history of the church.

The keynote of Dr. Langfeldt's remarks in the evening was the need of remembering God's faithfulness to His people. And the sermon was was preached from the text, Joshua 23; 14,—"Not one thing has failed of all the good things which the Lord your God spake concerning you; all have come to pass on you, and not one thing has failed thereof." In commencing his sermon, Dr. Langfeldt stated that when he had consented to be present at the dedication festival he had sought to find a text that would do justice to the occasion, and had selected the above passage. There was no one in the congregation, he felt assured, that remembered the erection of the church, but they knew the history of the structure, understood the outstanding factors of the work, knew the men who had been the leaders, and remembered the members of the congregation who had given their talent, and money, and prayers for the progress of the church, and should therefore be thankful for what had been done.

Forgetfulness was, in the ful, as great a gift as memory on some occasions, and there was no attitude more kind than God's forgetfulness. Life would be almost unendurable if every memory preserved its bitterness, but it was a gracious law of nature that people forgot their sorrows more than their joys. They should remember more what God has done for them than what they have done for or against Him.

Dr. Langfeldt passed on to speak of God's great faithfulness. It was true that people would sometimes say that they had failures when they had seemed to have a right to expect success, and had asked for things that had not been given. People were, however, poor judges of failure, and what was a temporal failure might be an adjunct to eternal success. Then the discipline of failure may have been necessary. Life was a book which could never be understood by reading one of its chapters. Only the promised things are to be dealt with, and faith in God had its foundation only in promises. Going outside of them there might be hope, but not faith. The speaker asked if any one distinctly promised thing had not come.

In referring to the proofs of God's faithfulness, Rev. Dr. Langfeldt remarked that throughout all the years notwithstanding that the earth was teeming with evil, the greed everywhere, and the dearest relationships of life, disjointed and abused, still the morning had succeeded the evening, the chain of nature had not dropped a link.

Canadians had cause to be thankful in belonging to a country so highly favoured of God, with its great natural resources and wealth, and its opportunities presented to men of industry and honesty. The crops had filled the farms with plenty. A spirit of peace and contentment filled the land, and no foe molested, while loyalty had never swerved. The hand of God had been on the land. In the church, while there were conflicting opinions, there were great tokens for good, and every section of the church was instinct with life and energy. Means of grace had multiplied, and the church had made great progress.

Looking into the future, the speaker could see Peterborough the see of a new diocese, with St. John's Church as its cathedral. One characteristic of God's dealings with people, said the speaker passing on, has been the system of a beautiful balance, the trial and the strength, the need and the supply, have always been in equipose. Few had passed through the last year without some sorrow. To some it had come with crushing suddenness, to others it was the wear of continual grief, the daily friction of little troubles. Some had been wounded by man, others had been stricken by the hand of God alone. God's presence, however, had been a great reality and a consolation, and the end of it all was humiliation and heaven, for the speaker remarked that he found it impossible to separate the two.

In conclusion, the speaker once more urged upon his hearers the necessity for believing in the amazing faithfulness of God.

The Musical Services

The musical work during the day gave evidence of careful rehearsal, the communion office being fully choral, some of its numbers being given yesterday for the first time, and at the conclusion Rev. Canon Davidson expressed his warm appreciation of the reverent rendering of the service. At the evening service the choir, numbering over 40 voices, entered fully into the Festival and hymns, service and chants were excellently rendered.

The anthem at both services was Barnby's standard anthem, "God shall wipe away all tears," a most difficult composition. The rendering at the evening service was excellent, and Mr. R. J. Devey has good reason to be thankful for the assistance of such a fine body of singers.

The festival was concluded for the day by singing of Hymn 437, "For all the Saints," the congregation joining in most heartily.

The first movement of Beethoven's organ sonata in D minor was finely played as the concluding voluntary.

Norwood Youth Honoured For Conspicuous Bravery

Saves Drowning Girls From The Pond And Gets Humane Society's Medal

JACK ROGERS THE HERO

Examiner Special.

Norwood, Nov. 4.—On Thanksgiving Day there occurred a scene in Norwood which evoked much cheering and enthusiasm. This was the conferring upon Jack Rogers of the Royal Humane Society's medal for "conspicuous courage." Last August two young ladies were upset from a boat on the Norwood pond, and their cries arrested the attention of the young hero. He sprang from his canoe, swam ashore, and to gain further time, ran to a point opposite the place where they had sunk. Diving, he caught hold of them, and swimming on his side, brought them both to land. One of them had lapsed into unconsciousness, and, but for his wonderful presence of mind and skill, both would certainly have been drowned. When the medal was awarded every person thought that it was well deserved, and upon its public presentation by Mr. John Finlay, M.P., the whole assembly rose and cheered in honour of the brave boy. Jack is not yet 17, and is the youngest son of Mr. William Rogers, of this village.

THE WEATHER.

Another change has occurred in weather conditions, this time a more agreeable one, and the moisture laden clouds have dispersed and given place to a cloudless sky and clear, crisp atmosphere. The late rainfall totalled one inch and 32-100. Yesterday's highest temperature, 48 degrees; lowest, 31.

THE LURE OF THE CITY

It needs close watching to keep pace with the progress of the West. Here is Edmonton, which at the last Dominion census boasted about as many souls as a fairly prosperous Ontario village, going and treating itself this year to an Overcrowding Commission—quite seriously, too; something remarkable in a country with unoccupied areas of continental expanse. Medical Health Officer Tarman has been instructed by the Council to look into the conditions of living in parts of the city; and he reports that there are undoubted evidences of overcrowding, but not confined to any one class. The city fathers seem to have laboured under the delusion common in the West, that the Chinese are particularly subject to unsanitary conditions: the officer reports that he found no such conditions, and that all the Chinese premises were fairly clean. The Orientals who are permanently domiciled in the city live upon quite a high standard, and even the transients are by no means badly housed. The official recommends a bylaw requiring 400 cubic feet of air per adult and 200 per child. All this goes to show a condition of mind in mortal man which has not been satisfactorily accounted for. How can it be explained that in a land where there is land for all, where, for the taking, homes may be made and had—where mother earth offers a generous expanse of her broad bosom as a resting place and fountain of nurture for her children—there are few to take advantage of the opportunities presented? We find thousands of persons huddled in the slums of cities, not living, but simply existing, wasting away by a process of slow starvation and physical suffering. Take any of these persons away from their unwholesome and putrid surroundings, place them in the free, open country, provide them with the facilities for making a comfortable livelihood, and in ninety-nine cases out of a hundred they would reject the offer with scorn, or, if some accepted it, they would soon tire of regular lives and drift back to the slums. That a city of yesterday, like Edmonton, a speck in an immensity of surrounding country with areas of subsistence for millions, shou'd have to wrestle with the problem of urban congestion is at least remarkable. The lure of the city is as potent as it is inexplicable, and constitutes a social problem whose successful solution would revo utionize the world.

A CRITICAL PERIOD

INTELLIGENT WOMEN PREPARE

Dangers and Pain of This Critical Period Avoided by the Use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

How many women realize that the most critical period in a woman's existence is the change of life, and that the anxiety felt by women as this time draws near is not without reason?

If her system is in a deranged condition, or she is predisposed to apoplexy of any organ, it is at this time likely to become active and, with a host of nervous irritations, make life a burden.

At this time, also, cancers and tumors are more liable to begin their destructive work. Such warning symptoms as a sense of suffocation, hot flashes, dizziness, headache, dread of impending evil, sounds in the ears, timidity, palpitation of the heart, sparks before the eyes, irregularities, constipation, variable appetite, weakness and inquietude are promptly heeded by intelligent women who are approaching the period of life when woman's great change may be expected.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the world's greatest remedy for women at this trying period.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound invigorates and strengthens the female organism, and builds up the weakened nervous system as no other medicine can.

Madame Louis Belleau of 17 Ramsay St., Quebec, Que., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound assisted me to pass the change of life with but very little sickness and pain, and I am pleased to give it my endorsement, for I feel that it is the medicine which every woman should take. I am the mother of three children, and when I reached the age of fifty naturally my health was none too good, and I feel sure that if I had not taken your Vegetable Compound I should not have passed the climax safely. I took it off and on for two years and now find that I am in splendid health and strength and feel younger and better than I did ten years ago. Much praise to your medicine, and may all suffering women learn of its value."

For special advice regarding this important period, women are invited to write to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass. She is a daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham and for twenty-five years has been advising sick women free of charge. Her advice is free and always helpful in aiding women.

PERILS OF PUBLIC LIFE

The London Morning Post fears that public life in Canada is deteriorating, but hopes that a great issue like Asiatic immigration may tone us up again. Sweet are the uses of adversity; and great issues, although they may involve us in trial and trouble, do undoubtedly sweeten party politics. In Great Britain the difference between the two parties is more sharply defined than in Canada; still, public life there has its temptations, and we find Sydney Brooks, London correspondent of Harper's Weekly, asking the question, "Is public life demoralizing?"

According to Mr. Brooks, Sir Edward Grey has said that every five or ten years members of Parliament ought to examine their hearts. Did they find that the rough and tumble of politics increased their courage and their love of truth? Did their contact with their political allies and opponents, and their experience of great political forces, tend to broaden or narrow their outlook upon life?

Mr. Brooks' opinion is that the British M. P. does not often trouble himself with these questions. He talks about the cooking in the House of Commons restaurant, the accommodation for smokers, the discomfort and burden of parliamentary life. Mr. Brooks quotes Lord Macaulay: "I begin to wonder what the fascination is which attracts men, who could sit over their tea and their book in their own cool, quiet room, to breathe bad air, hear bad speeches, lounge up and down the long gallery, and doze uneasily on the green benches until three in the morning." Some Canadian observers have, says the Toronto Star, been similarly impressed by the dreariness of sessional life at Ottawa and inclined to make a good deal of allowance for those who come under its influence.

EDITORIAL NOTES

Another batch of J. P.'s has been appointed. It is apparently the aim of Premier Whitney to make the J. P. as frequent in Ontario as the LL.D., the ginseng, and the Canada thistle.—Toronto Star.

It is already fairly obvious, says the Montreal Herald, that Mr. Lemieux has his work cut out for him. What he has to do is to secure, in practice, a definite limitation of Japanese immigration and he has to do it without committing the Japanese Government to any admission of racial inequality. Canadian public opinion is quite content to concede the principle of equality, but is not prepared to concede the abandonment of all limitation in regard to numbers. If the Japanese authorities will not become a party to a working accommodation on the question of numbers, Mr. Lemieux's mission must fail. But in that event the treaty with Japan will doubtless prove to be a very short-lived arrangement.

The Montreal Witness is a staid, steady-going, sober journal, and does not often deal with speculative questions, but in the following paragraph it possibly dreams a little:—"It seems that a somewhat delayed justice is about to be done to Manitoba in granting her the obvious extension of her boundaries to Hudson's Bay. Her territory will run as far north as that of thes two new provinces and will, south-easterly, include the coast of the Bay as far as Nelson River. This excludes Saskatchewan from her coveted sea front on the Bay, but on the other hand, leaves an enormous territory to be added to Ontario, which has already a tail four or five times the size of her body. To plan a vast addition to this looks as though there was some expectation of dividing that province at Lake Nipissing. The new province could be called Algoma."

SENATOR EDWARDS ON PULPWOOD

The letter of Senator Edwards upon the pulpwood question, printed in the Montreal Witness, is of especial interest and value because of his wide knowledge of the lumber business in all its branches and because he has for some time past made a special study of the pulpwood question with a view to embarking in the pulp and paper trades. Senator Edwards points out that any restriction upon the exportation of pulpwood would circumscribe the market and place the lumberman or farmer who has pulpwood to sell at the mercy of a limited number of pulp and paper mills. Again, Senator Edwards finds that the United States market is of great advantage to the small limit holder and the farmer who has pulp wood to sell, and he would not consent to have this natural market cut off. The contention of those who say that the prohibition of the exportation of pulpwood would force United States manufacturers of pulp and paper to set up immediately their establishments here. Senator Edwards regards as a fallacy. He also regards as a fallacy the contention of some among us that we could capture the British market if we kept all of our pulpwood and deprived the United States manufacturers of it. As a matter of fact, he has found that we could not sell paper profitably in the markets of Great Britain today, because of cheap and convenient Scandinavian and North of Europe pulpwood being available, and because of the perfection of machinery and cheaper labour in the United Kingdom. In brief, the conclusion of Senator Edwards is that the proper business course would be carefully to husband our timber resources, and that the proper way to manage this is not by the limitation of the sale of our timber limits, or lumber, here or abroad, but by adopting and enforcing rational means both for the cutting and the preserving of our timber.

VALUABLE INFORMATION

Something Every Person in Peterboro' Should Know

Nearly three hundred years have passed since the medicinal, curative elements known to exist in the cod's liver were first discovered and recognized by physicians as a specific in the treatment of pulmonary and wasting diseases, and as a body-builder and strength creator; but how to extract those medicinal elements from the oil in which they were enveloped has been a study of some of the most expert chemists in the world.

Now the process discovered by two eminent French chemists, Messrs. Morgues and Gautier, should interest every person in Peterborough. By an extractive concentrating process they discovered a way to separate the tonic, body-building and curative elements contained in fresh cods' livers from their useless oil. By this process Vinol is made.

Because Vinol contains no oil, but embodies all the medicinal value of cod liver oil, with tonic iron added, it is fast superseding old fashioned cod liver oil and emulsions. As a body builder and strength creator for old people, weak women, delicate children, after sickness, and for all pulmonary troubles, nothing has ever been known to excel Vinol. We ask Peterborough people to try Vinol on our offer to return their money if it does not give satisfaction. McDermid and Jury, druggists, also The Market Drug Store, Ormond and Walsh's old stand.

THE LORIMER SYSTEM INSPECTED

Noted Mechanical Engineer Says Machine Telephone Has Good Future

Mr. Thexton, a mechanical engineer, who has been spending a few days in the city looking over the Machine Telephone Company's system, was seen this morning by the Examiner. Mr. Thexton was very much impressed with the progress being made by the company, not only in this city, but in every place where it was doing business. He believed that the Lorimer system would be the system for western people, who, Mr. Thexton says, look upon the machine telephone as the 'phone of the age.

Party of Six Left For Windover Lodge Saturday Night

Amid a downpour of rain the Gus Cochrane party left on Saturday evening for Windover Lodge. The party is going back for a two weeks' hunt, and as they are all experienced hunters it is likely that they will bring back a little venison. The lodge is situated 35 miles north of Buckhorn and is exceptionally good for deer hunting. Dr. Amys, a member of the party, telephoned yesterday to say that they reached Buckhorn at 3 o'clock on Sunday morning, drenched through their clothing, and were preparing to advance.

The party consists of Gus Cochrane, Dave Johnson, Mr. O'Brien, A. Head, Mr. Wylie, and Dr. Amys. The gentlemen in the party are exceptionally good cooks, and decided to take care of the larder themselves.

The Reorganized Scheme Of Professional Training

The Nature of the Changes Now Being Effected by The Education Department

IN MODEL AND NORMALS

In Tuesday's issue of the Examiner of last week, there appeared an article, supplied by Mr. H. R. H. Kenner, of the Collegiate Institute staff, regarding the reorganized scheme of professional training in connection with our Public and High Schools. Mr. Kenner has kindly supplied the continuation of the changes, which is as follows:

There will be two main classes of training schools: the Normal Schools for the preparation of Second Class Public School teachers, and the Faculty of Education, for the preparation of High School assistants, and first-class public school teachers.

In addition to these a few Model Schools of a new type, conveniently situated and efficiently organized, will be established for the preparation of Third Class teachers for school sections of the districts and counties, whose financial, and other conditions, may prevent them from securing a higher grade of teacher. The new Third Class certificates will correspond to the present professional district certificates, and the Model School Entrance Examination to the old Primary of 1892-1898.

The subjects of examination in 1908 for the Model School Entrance Examination will be the subjects of the lower school of the High Schools, as follows:

Book-keeping and Business Papers, Art, Elementary Science, English Literature, Geography, Spelling, English Compositions. Writing, English Grammar, History, (British and Canadian, Arithmetic and Mensuration, Algebra and Geometry.

The Writing will be judged from the composition answer papers.

The texts for the examination in English Literature, will be presented by the Education Department from year to year. The Geometry for this examination will consist of the practical course prescribed for the Lower School of the High Schools, and of the propositions in Euclid as prescribed for District Certificates in Appendix C. The Elementary Science for this examination will consist of the Botony, Zoology, Physics and Chemistry prescribed for the Lower School, under the regulations of 1904.

This examination will be held only in such counties and districts, and the professional certificates based thereon will be valid only for such schools, as each County Board may designate, and as the Minister of Education may approve.

The three classes of reorganized training schools will differ in some important respects from those they will displace. In particular the Normal Schools will provide a complete course of academic (non-professional) as well as professional training. As far as is practicable, the Faculties of Education and the Model Schools, will make the same provision. In addition the class examinations and the final and other written examinations, will test both the scholarship and the professional competency of those who intend to become teachers.

Normals Schools

There are additional requirements for entrance into the Normal Schools. In addition to the Departmental Examination (outlined in last Tuesday's paper,) a candidate for admission to a Normal School will have to pass at the Normal School, in September, immediately before the session opens, an examination in the following subjects of the Lower School of the High School, unless he holds a certificate from the principal of an approved High School or Continuation Class, that he has completed satisfactorily the courses in said subjects: Reading, Writing, Spelling, Bookkeeping and Business Papers, Art, Biology, Geography, English Grammar, and Arithmetic and Mensuration.

The Biology for this examination will consist of the Botony and Zoology prescribed for the Lower School under the regulations of 1904.

There are no changes of importance as regards the requirements for entrance into the Faculties of Education; the one at Toronto, and the other at Kingston, take the place of the Normal College at Hamilton.

The chief changes in the new regulations may be summarized as follows:

I. The abolition of the Model Schools except in the Districts and financially weak counties.

II. The increase of Normal Schools from 3 to 7.

III. The establishment of two Faculties of Education, the one at Toronto University and the other at Queen's University, Kingston, to replace the Normal College at Hamilton.

IV. The teaching and examination of non-professional, as well as professional subjects, at the Normal Colleges and at the Faculties of Education.

V. A more efficient method of selecting the Boards of Examiners for the different examinations.

VI. The dropping of Arithmetic, English Grammar and Geography, from the Normal School entrance examinations.

EFFORTS TO REVIVE THE BAND

Members of the T.A.S. Intend to Awaken The Interest in the Band

The members of St. Peter's T.A.S. who are interested in the band met at the rooms yesterday afternoon to discuss its rejuvenation. A special effort is being made to get the men together again and on Tuesday night a meeting will be held in the band room when all those who have the intention of joining should be on hand. Some players of considerable experience have expressed their desire to join the band and their presence will be of great assistance. Nearly all the men are experienced players but there are some who are just beginners and any others who wish to learn should attend the meeting on Tuesday night.

Dr. Chase's Ointment

Mrs. Geo. H. Simser, Grant, Russell county, Ont., writes:—"Eleven years ago I began to suffer from piles, and as they caused keen distress, and became worse, I doctored for them, but with little or no avail. They were bleeding, itching and protruding, and oh! the torture suffered at times can never be described. It was with suffering that the bowels moved, and, as nothing brought relief, I could only endure the misery with an aching heart and without hope of cure.

"Finally a lady friend told me about Dr. Chase's Ointment curing piles, and to my surprise I felt relief at once on using this ointment; the little tumors soon disappeared, the ulcers healed, and the bowels became regular. This was five years ago, and I have never been troubled with this terrible ailment since, a thousand thanks to Dr. Chase's Ointment."

Mrs. Capt. Clinansmith, Salvation Army, Essex, Ont., writes: "It is with pleasure that I write to you in praise of Dr. Chase's Ointment. Two years ago I was taken with a severe attack of protruding piles, and became so bad that I had to keep my bed, and could lie in no position except on my stomach. Doctors could give me no help, and the various oils and ointments used proved of no avail.

"One Saturday night, when I was suffering untold agony, my husband went to the drug store, for a box of Dr. Chase's Ointment, which I had heard of as a cure for piles. Although I had almost given up hope, to the wonder of them around me, I was able to be up and on my feet by Monday, and have had no difficulty from piles since. As a treatment for all kinds of sores and burns, Dr. Chase's Ointment works like magic."

To persons who have given up looking for a cure of piles or hemorrhoids, this letter should bring new hope. There is, we believe, no more effective treatment for piles than Dr. Chase's Ointment, 60 cents a box at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

JUVENILE BANQUET IN OTONABEE

Admirers of Jimmy McMartin's Running Give Him a "Time"

Otonabee youths know how to appreciate success of any individua amongst them, judging from the treatment of Jimmy McMartin, the five-mile runner, who finished second in the Examiner road race on Thanksgiving Day. Jimmy is considered a little hero among his youthful friends, who have not yet ceased singing his praises as a runner. With no training but what he was able to secure himself, after working hours, he came in second in the long distance event, and for this showing his friends are grateful.

On Friday evening they arranged a little banquet for Jimmy, which included nice roast turkey, cake and pumpkin pie, and "had a time" for him in honour of the event.

The guests included none but his boy friends, about 15 years of age, and they gave him a royal time.

Speeches, of course, formed the concluding portion of the evening, and many words of praise were spoken for Jimmy, and for the honour conferred upon Otonabee by his landing the second prize of the greatest athletic event in the county.

LEAVES TO ASSUME NEW DUTIES

Mr. P. J. Creedon Secured as Manager For Canadian Cutlery Company

Mr. P. J. Creedon left last night for Toronto, where he assumed his duties as manager of the Canadian Cutlery Company. This company, as mentioned in a previous issue of the Examiner, was organized by the North America Investment Company, of which Mr. W. Young Kinleyside is the general manager.

While in Peterborough last week, Mr. Kinleyside secured the services of Mr. Creedon, and he has now begun his new duties.

The Canadian Cutlery Company has its works situated at Weston, and, if their plans carry, will soon be manufacturing cutlery at one-third the ordinary cost, scrap iron being used for the purpose.

Mr. Creedon was recently appointed manager of the Dominion Tool Company's works, which are now being built here, but he has given up this for the situation at Weston.

PRESENTATION TO PERRY STREET WOMAN

Mrs. Gordon Honoured by Friends on The Occasion of Birthday Anniversary

An enjoyable evening was spent at the residence of Mrs. R. Gordon, 180 Perry street, last Wednesday, it being the occasion of the celebration of Mrs. Gordon's birthday. About thirty couples were in attendance and presented Mrs. Gordon with a handsome silver tea set, accompanied by an address, read by Mrs. Jeannet Laplante, to which Mrs. Gordon replied in a suitable manner. The address was as follows:

Beloved Friend,—

Words fail to express our great joy as we gather around you on this, your birthday anniversary, to offer you our sincere congratulations, and assure you of the true and deep affection which you have won for yourself in our hearts. We cherish the hope of long having you in our midst, and pray that God may grant you many happy returns of the bright, festal day which we are here to celebrate. With this expression of love and congratulation, we ask your acceptance of the accompanying gift.

During the evening vocal selections were rendered by Miss Ray E. Potter of Watertown, N.Y. A piano duet by Miss E. Kelly and Master Cecil MacIntyre was also one of the musical numbers. Refreshments were served at midnight, after which dancing was resumed until 3 o'clock, when the guests departed highly pleased with the good time they had, and all wishing Mrs. Gordon many happy returns.

LABOURER'S WAGES STOPPED

Enquiries Answered About Railway Fares And Railway Time Tables

ABOUT PASSENGER RATES

Under the list of inquiries in the Toronto News of Saturday night appear a couple from Peterborough in connection with a wage dispute and a railway passenger rate which may be of interest to labourers and travellers of this city. The inquiries and answers are:—

Stopping Railwy Fare

"Labourer," Peterborough, writes: Please tell me if this right: A man offered me work and said he would pay the fares, about 70 miles out. The company stopped $7.50 of my first wages, $2.50 for railway fare and $5 agent's fees?

Ans.—If the terms of your engagement to work and to go to the place of work are fully and correctly stated by you, you are entitled to recover from your employers the $7.50 retained by them. However, it does not seem probable that your employers would have ventured to stop $7.50 out of your wages for railway fare and agent's fees unless they had some ground for doing so based upon the terms of your engagement.

Railway Passenger Rates

"Inquirer," Fowler's Corners, Ont., writes: As intimated in a former letter, two stations are 5.15 miles apart, and the fare between them is 35 cents return and 20 cents single. These stations are Reaboro and Lindsay, on the Midland Division of the G.T.R. As an example of the inconsistency of the railway; Reaboro and Omemee are over four miles apart, yet single fare is only ten cents. Kindly send an explanation of this matter through The News Mail Bag.

Ans.—The explanation given by the railway authorities is that when the distance exceeds five miles they estimate it on a six-mile basis, and charge 18 cents. But, as they are allowed to make the amount divisible by five, they increase this to 20 cents, but for the return trip they charge 35 cents, which is as near 3 cents per mile as possible under the circumstances. There has to be, they say, a little give and take in fixing these local rates. Hence, instead of charging 12 plus 3, or fifteen cents in the second case, they make it a round figure by deducting 2 cents and fixing the charge at ten cents. They point out that all rates must be filed with the Railway Commission at Ottawa and receive the sanction of that body before going into effect.

PRESENTATIONS TO CITY EDITOR

Mr. M. J. Hutchinson Leaves To-day To Assume New Duties in Toronto

EDITOR DRY GOODS REVIEW

On Saturday afternoon the proprietor and employees of the Examiner office assembled in the job rooms of the building and presented Mr. M. J. Hutchinson, the retiring city editor, with a pair of fur gauntlets, accompanied by an address. Mr. Hutchinson, who has been associated as city editor of the Examiner for more than four years, to-day takes his new position in Toronto as editor of the Dry Goods Review, one of the McLean Publishing Company's monthly magazines.

The address was read by Hon. J. R. Stratton, proprietor of the Examiner, and the presentation made by Mr. F. R. Yokome, the editor. Mr. Stratton added a few words, referring to Mr. Hutchinson's connection as city editor, and to his efficient services. The address was as follows:—

Mr. M. J. Hutchinson,

Dear Sir and Friend—Your associates in the work of conducting The Daily Examiner and connected enterprises, on the occasion of your retirement from the relations which you have so very creditably sustained for the past fourt and a half years, esteem it a privilege to bear testimony to the excellent work you have done, not only in your capacity as city editor, but in connection with all the interests naturally associated with it. You have exhibited a zeal and energy, indicating that a mere perfunctory performance of routine duty would not satisfy your sense of responsibility to the service in which you were engaged.

Your capacity for work, translated into practice; your nose for news, and your promptitude in making use of them, have marked you as a model newspaper man. Necessarily, our pleasure in recounting these things corresponds to the regret we feel at your departure, but this regret is lightened by the fact that your new sphere of work is a promotion well deserved on the score of your ability and allied qualities.

In your personal relations, in your activities and interest in the field of sport, and, in a word, in all your relations to Peterborough generally, you have proved yourself a loya and public-spirited citizen.

Our warm wishes for your success are amply warranted by the fact of your possession of qualities, of ability and energy that command success.

We, employer and employees alike, greatly regret that you are leaving us, and in token of our sentiments, we ask your acceptance of this little gift as a souvenir of Peterborough, and of the esteem of the entire staff of the Examiner, who, while releasing you with regret, give you God-speed with all the heartiness that words can convey.

Signed on Behalf of the Staff,
J. R. STRATTON.

Mr. Hutchinson replied, expressing his regret at leaving Peterborough and at severing his associations with the Examiner. He thanked the members of the staffs of each department for the many kindnesses shown him during his four-years connection with the paper.

Mr. Yokome added a few words, referring to the abilities of the departing editor in newspaper work, and although pleased to learn of his well-deserved promotion, regretting his departure from Peterborough.

The Press Club

On Saturday evening the Peterborough Press Club said farewell to Mr. M J Hutchinson, ex-city editor of the Examiner, at a an enjoyable little banquet held at Hooper's Palm Parlours. Mr. Hutchinson, who left the city this morning for Toronto, has been one of the most popular and useful members of the club, and was its first president and will be greatly missed by the other members of the organization, nearly all of whom were present to say good-bye on Saturday night.

A dainty repast, served in the approved style of the establishment was partaken of, after which a short toast list was honoured, President F D Craig, acting as toastmaster.

The toast of the King was heartily drunk, after which Hon. J. R. Stratton proposed the toast to the guest of the evening. In doing so he spoke of Mr. Hutchinson's services to the Examiner in terms of the highest praise, referring to his never-ceasing devotion to the work and his constant efforts to improve the paper. He regretted very much that he was leaving Peterborough and the Examiner, and wished him every success in his new field of labour. The toast was drunk amid much enthusiasm, the gathering singing "He's a Jolly, Good Fellow," and giving three cheers for the guest of the evening.

Mr. Hutchinson in reply thanked the proposer of the toast for his kind words, and referred to the pleasant associations which had always existed between himself and the other members of the fourth estate in Peterborough. He regretted very much that the relations were to be severed, and had it not been that his new position offered greater opportunities than he could hope for here, he would not have left the city.

Short speeches were made by Messrs. F R Yokome, G B VanBlaricom, F H Dobbin, D B MacRae, H T Huston, F E Clarry, A C Yokome, P Crane, Harry Theobald, J Hogan and J D Clarke, all of whom referred to the regret which they felt at Mr. Hutchinson's departure from the city.

Before the gathering dispersed with the singing of "Auld Lang Syne" a highly embossed and decorated address was read by Mr. F H Dobbin and presented to Mr. Hutchinson amid great applause.

The B.A.C.

In Friday evening the B.A.C. give a banquet in honour of Mr. Hutchinson when he was presented with a handsome gold ring with his initials engraved on it, by his fellow members. Mr. Hutchinson was one of those interested in the inception of the B.A.C. and is a past president of the Club. The banquet was held in Hooper's Palm Parlours.

Mr. Hutchinson, also on Friday night was made the recipient of a handsome umbrella by the members of the Charlotte street church choir of which he has been a member for some time. Mr. Walter Stocker made a verbal address referring to Mr. Hutchinson's connection with the choir and the presentation was made by Mr. Chas. Hermer. Miss Clarry also spoke in reference to Mr. Hutchinson's departure from Peterborough.

MALE CHOIR LED THE SINGING

Interesting Services in Charlotte Street Methodist Church Yesterday—Mr. Jolliffe Sang at Both Services

Solos by Mr. R N Jolliffe, of Toronto and the male choir were special attractions at the Charlotte street Methodist church last night, when the church was crowded to the doors, extra seating accommodation having to be provided. The music all day was of a special character, Mr. Jolliffe being heard in a Mendelssohn oratorio selection in the morning, and Miss Bellingham sang "O Holy Father," by Teresa del Riego. The anthem was "Oh That I Had Wings." Mr. Jolliffe's solo in the evening service was Kipling's Recessional, with music by DeKoven. The entire musical service was led with a choir of male voices, about twenty-five comprising it, and the innovation proved a most interesting one. The male choir gave evidence of careful training, and the three special numbers sung were given with a precision and vigor characteristic of music rendered under Miss Clarry's direction.

Crops In Some Parts Of The West Are Frozen

Ald. Leary Tells of The Conditions In The West—Crops Are Good Along The Main Line of The C.P.R. And at Saskatoon

HAD A MONTH'S TRIP

According to Ald. R H Leary, who has just returned to the city after spending a month in the Northwest, the conditions there are not as favourable as they were at this season last year. In some sections he states that he found things in an extra good condition with good, average crops while in others there are no crops to speak of. In certain parts of the west conditions were far from being satisfactory, and large tracts of grain had never been cut, while in others wheat that had been cut would never be threshed. This was especially true of the southern part of Manitoba and Saskatchewan.

On the other hand, Ald. Leary states, that in the district from Winnipeg and the mountains and along the main line of the C.P.R. the crops are splendid and the same conditions apply in the Saskatoon district. Wheat was selling at $1.04 per bushel. Ald. Leary as usual met a number of Peterborough boys in the west and most of them are doing well although a few have struck a little hard luck this year in the matter of poor crops. Ald. Leary was as far west as Edmonton and stopped over in a good many of the towns along the way to study the conditions.

SHORT LINE, G.T.R. ROUTE; A PETERBORO' SUGGESTION

On Saturday the Examiner reprinted an article from The Toronto World in reference to a short line route for the G.T.R. from Toronto to Ottawa. Whether or not the company entertains any idea of acting on the suggestion, it seems quite feasible and of interest in these days of rapid transit ambitions. It will be of additional interest to add that the article in question was founded upon a suggestion contained in a letter sent The World by Mr. John Green, barrister, Peterborough.

LOCAL HUNTER LOSES HIS RIFLE

Mr. Hamilton Handicpped by Loss of Rifle on The Buckhorn Road

A mishap has befallen Mr. Hamilto of the Fitzgerald hunting party, which will likey put an end to his hunting for this season.

It appears that as the party was driving along the Buckhorn road several things fell out the back of the 'bus. The hunters had driven quite a distance before this was noticed and they immediately turned back and searched the road.

Blankets, cushions and some wearing apparel were picked up on the road, but Mr. Hamilton's rifle was missing. It is hoped that the gun will be found by some person passing along the road so that Mr. Hamilton will be able to enjoy a few day's hunt as the party is booked to return next Saturday night.

IS A PARASITE ON SOCIETY

Such is Designation Of Professional Athlete by Rev. H. M. Manning

BETTING AND GAMBLING

At the Charlotte street church last night, Rev. H. M. Manning denounced present day athletics as one of the courses of the time, in his sermon last night. Play, which was intended of God to be productive of enjoyment, and a means of healthy recreation had been taken and commercialized, and in many cases brutalized, until it had become actually a curse.

Mr. Manning's sermon had to do with idolatry. The setting up of gods of gold and silver to be worshipped, no longer existed in what are called Christian countries, but there existed to a great extent another form of idolatry, that of setting up things in the human heart that took the attention away from God. With a great many money was an idol, with others it was pleasure, or dress, and, with a large percentage, sports constituted the idol that took them away from God. A person who allowed money-getting, pleasure dress or sports to have the place in the heart that God should occupy, was guilty of idolatry as much as the one who worshipped a god fashioned by the hand of man.

Play was natural, said Mr. Manning. This was evidenced by the fact that Children play, lambs and other creatures of the field and forest play. God meant play to be enjoyment-giving, health-producing recreation, but it had been taken by man and commercialized, and, in many cases, brutalized, until it had become a curse. Present day athletics had promoted the betting, and gambling and drinking habits, and had proved the ruin of many a young man who otherwise would have been a useful servant of God. The speaker had a poor opinion of the man who could not get out and play the game for the love of it. The professional athlete was a failure in life, and in many cases became a parasite on society.

BEAUTIFUL MEMORIAL CROSS CROWNS ST. JOHN'S CHANCEL

Commemorating The Departed Clergy Of The Parish

The dedication festival of St. John's church, falling upon All Saints Day, naturally brings to mind the clergy and members of the congregation who have served the church, and have gone elsewhere, or have departed this life. In respect of the clergy, apart from the commemoration involved in the services of the dayt his year, they are commemorated especially by the erection of a beautiful cross, recently erected upon the apex of the northern gable of the chancel. This cross is the gift of the clergy and their friends, two of the donors having died since sending their subscriptions. Those commemorated are Revs. R. J. C. Taylor, M. Burnham, J. W. R. Beck, V. Clementi, P. Clementi-Smith, T. B. Angell, C. B. Kenrick, W. M. Loucks and E. V. Stevenson.

Holiday Fracas on G. T. R. Brought To Light To-day

Evidence Was Not All In At Time Of Going to Press—Principal Witnesses Were Heard in First Charge

HAD LARGE ATTENDANCE

The fray that occurred on the train from Lindsay on Thanksgiving Day evening was brought to light in the Police Court to-day, when Conductor Walter Mercer and Brakesman Fred Marshall gave a detailed account of what happened. The court rooms was crowded. The three young men, Ed. Pilling, Ed. Donoghue and Fremis LePlante, were in the dock, the former being represented by Mr. G. N. Gordon, and the latter two by Mr. F. D. Kerr. The interests of the G.T.R. were in the hands of Mr. W. H. Moore. Mr. R. F. McWilliams and Mr. R. E. Wood were also present.

Conductor's Story

The charge which was considered to-day was that of having obstructed and impeded Walter Mercer, a conductor of the G.T.R. between Toronto and Peterborough, in the discharge of his duty. The three men pleaded not guilty. Mr. Mercer was the first witness. On the night in question he left Toronto at 7.05 for Peterborough. At Lindsay a coach was dropped. As the train was pulling out of the station witness saw ten or twelve young men trying to push past the porter of the parlour car, evidently for the purpose of reaching the rear platform to give a final cheer for the rugby victory. Witness told them that they would have to be quiet, and had to pay extra for that car.

Train was Stopped

At Best's station the train was stopped. Witness asked the engineer his reason for this, and he stated that he had received the proper signal (one pull of the signal cord) and had responded with two short whistles of the engine. The flyer is not scheduled to stop at Best's. The brakesman had not given the signal, and besides no one got off.

The train started again and the conductor went into the baggage car to count up his tickets for that trip. When a mile or two from Peterborough, Marshall, the brakesman, came into the car and asked witness to go out into the first-class coach, as there was a disturbance among a number of young men.

The Toruble

When witness entered the coach he noticed at the opposite end a number of young men standing on seats watching two others who had caught holds in the aisle. Mr. Mercer said that Pilling was one of the two men. Witness caught him by the coat and said he would have none of that kind of business. Pilling did not answer but tried to get away. The conductor said he would hold Pilling until the train arrived at Peterborough and there have him arrested. The train was then in the neighbourhood of Jackson Park. Witness said that Donoghue then interfered and told him he should not arrest Pilling, and tried to get him away. The gang shoved and Pilling was free, but left his coat in Mercer's hands. Witness said there was general confusion. Bad language was heard, women screamed and children cried and the men were also excited.

Conductor Hit

Witness turned around and saw LePlante and the brakesman struggling with victory pointing towards the former. Witness pulled him away saying "You're another that I'm going to have arrested when we get to Peterborough." LePlante struck out and landed a stiff blow on the conductor's nose between his eyes. Mr. Mercer still shows the marks of that encounter, both eyes being discoloured.

A doctor stated that the membrane in the nose was broken. At the time it bled freely but did not swell up until later.

Witness said that both he and the brakesman had their official uniforms on. After the blow he received, witness said things became quiet and at Peterborough the men disappeared and no one on the train seemed to know their names.

Lawyers Kerr and Gordon then questioned Mr. Mercer, but did not shake his testimony very much. Witness said he was not sure of the exact words he used towards Pilling.

Other witnesses were heard, and at the time of going to press all the evidence had not been received.

GENERAL POLICE COURT NEWS

Damaged Walks Causes Some Trouble—Nationalities Disputed

SOME INTERESTING CASES

The Police Court this morning had a bumper crowd, and standing room was at a premium, some climbing to the windows until the Chief noticed them, when they were peremptorily ordered to return from the gallery to the pit. The case of main interest was that of the three young men, Ed. Donoghue, Ed. Pilling and F. LePlante, who were implicated in the disturbance on the 10.05 p.m. G.T.R. train on Thanksgiving Day, as the express was nearing Peterborough.

A Case of Nationality

The court first dealt with Pat. Coursey, who was charged with being drunk and disorderly on the 30th October. He pleaded not guilty, and P. C. McGinty went into the box. The latter stated that he heard a loud noise and bad language on the night in question, apparently coming from the corner of Sherbrooke and George streets. He saw Pat. hit a man, and then want him arrested. He also heard Pat's voice in the mix-up.

The accused was then given a chance to defend himself. He told the story of how he was going home with two friends, and near Sherbrooke street noticed about ten men in a gang ahead of them. As they came nearer, one man behind the gang turned around and faced Pat, saying, "Are you a Canadian?"

Pat replied that he certainly was, and the stranger replied, "I can 'lick' any —— Canadian any day in the week," and without any notice he struck the defendant, knocking his pipe into the street, and when he stooped to pick it up he received another blow.

Not Looking for Trouble

It was then that P. C. McGinty arrived on the scene. The defendant said that he believed the man who attacked him to be a Canadian. His Worship asked Pat if he got the better of the man, and when the latter answered in the negative, he said he thought he outht to fine him for not upholding the prestige of his country.

His Worship decided to enlarge the case until Tuesday, when Pat will have witnesses to substantiate his side of the story.

A Damaged Walk

T. Hickey, a teamster for Hicks & Company, was dismissed on the charge of having damaged the new pavement on Maitland avenue. He pleaded not guilty, and Mr. T. A. S. Hay gave evidence that the walk was badly injured by heavy loads passing over it. Residents from that vicinity testified that heavy loads had been drawn over it, and as no positive evidence as to Hickey's share could be learned, the case was dismissed.

Discover Deer With Cattle

Young's Point Youth Chases One Into The Woods

Stray deer have already begun to travel southward into the more populated parts of the county. A few days ago a representative of the fleet-footed denizens of the woods was seen in Smith township only a couple of miles below Young's Point. The animal was first noticed by Eric Harvey, son of Mr. Joseph Harvey, while he went out to the pasture field for the cows.

He saw the deer feeding with the cattle and returned to inform other members of the family of the circumstance, but the visitor "got wise" and made a speedy exit into the woods.

REV. J. J. RAE OF PICTON WILL BECOME PRESBYTERIAN PASTOR

Picton, Nov. 4.—Rev. J. J. Rae, last year's president of the Bay of Quinte Conference, and pastor of the First Methodist Church, will fill the pulpit of an influential Presbyterian church in Chicago. He is already settled among his new congregation, and Mrs. Rae and her daughter will leave town in a month's time to make their home in the Windy City. It may be stated that Mr. Rae, in again associating himself with the Presbyterian church, is but reverting to the faith of his fathers. He has a brother in the Presbyterian ministry.

Westmount Likely Here For Game On Saturday

Will Meet Peterborough in The Finals of The O.R.F.U. Senior Series---Great Game is Promised For The Week End---The Easterners Have a Fast Well Balanced Team

The O.R.F.U. senior championship hangs in the balance between Peterborough and Westmount. The Easterners defeated Kingston on Saturday, thereby winning the eastern section, and are now billed to meet the locals in the finals. Although the arrangements have not yet been definitely arranged, it is altogether likely that Westmount will play the final game here on Saturday. The agreement when they were taken into the O.R.F.U. was that they should play the final game on the grounds of the western winners, and it is not likely that there will be any departure from this agreement. The game should be one of the best ever seen here, and will doubtless attract an enormous crowd. The memorable game when Westmount played here eight years ago is still fresh in the minds of the older enthusiasts in the game. The Easterners were defeated by 4 to 1 after one of the hardest games every played in Peterborough. The score at half time was a tie, neither team having scored. Just after half time the Easterners scored a rouge and held their one-point lead until a few minutes before time was called, when Arthur McClelan blocked a kick and went over for the only try of the game, Peterborough winning by four points to one. The meeting of the two teams again this year should be equally as great a struggle as in 1899. Westmount has a big, fast team, with a fine back division, including Baillie, the well-known Eastern half-back. They are in the best of shape, and will put up a hard fight for the championship.

The game will in all probability be played at Riverside Park on Saturday afternoon next.

Montreal And Toronto Want Fred Simpson Now

Both Cities Wish Him to Race There Next Saturday — Coley Wants an Indoor Match For Five Miles

WILL NOT BE ACCEPTED

Fred Simpson's great showing in Hamilton on Thursday last has brought him into prominence, and he has already had two offers for races on Saturday next. One is from the Irish-Canadians, who want him to meet Tom Coley, the winner at Hamilton, in a five-mile race at the C.A.A.U. indoor meet in the Toronto Armouries on Saturday night. The Independent Harriers expect to have the Indian on Saturday at Montreal along with a team of long distance men from Peterborough to take part in the long distance team race in the Mountain City. Simpson will not take part in any of these events. His managers here do not want him to meet Coley yet. He is only a green runner. Thursday's was his first big race, and so he will not go up against the Irish-Canadians' crack five-miler on Saturday night. As for the Montreal trip, it has been found impossible to get a team of five men together who are good enough for fifteen miles to make a good showing at Montreal. They have the men, but most of them are ten-milers, who have not trained for the longer distance, and it is impossible to get them into shape so that they would be able to run the fifteen miles in good shape on Saturday.

HARTLEY TO WALK WITH REYNOLDS

May be Matched For a Mile Walk in Toronto on Saturday Night

The Toronto Globe states to-day that Jimmy Reynolds of Port Hope and David Hartley of Peterborough will be given a chance to meet in a one-mile walk at the Garrison games in the Toronto Armouries on Saturday night. Nothing has been heard of the contest here yet, and it is not known whether Hartley will take part or not. It is, however, practically certain that if the two meet the Peterborough pedestrian will walk away from the Port Hope barber.

TO MATCH COLEY WITH SIMPSON

Irish Canadians Want to Bring The Two Together in Five Mile Race

Now that the Irish-Canadians have decided to withhold Tom Coley from the Montreal 15-mile team, an attempt is being made to bring the doughty Englishman and Fred Simpson, the Peterborough Indian, who ran second to Coley in the Herald road race at Hamilton, together at five miles at the C.A.A.U. meet at the Armouries next Saturday night, the winner to meet Tom Longboat later on at 10 miles. Coley is willing, and all that is necessary for Simpson to do to get a crack at Longboat is to beat Coley here. Coley is dead anxious to get a crack at his red skin team mate, and hails with joy any chance to lead up to such a race —Toronto Star.

WATCH THE STOMACH.

HAVE YOU ANY OF THESE SYMPTOMS?

If you have either variable appetite, a faint gnawing feeling at the pit of the stomach, unsatisfied hunger, a loathing of food, rising and soaring of food, a painful load at the pit of the stomach, choking sensations in the throat, headache and dullness of spirits, constipated bowels with alternate diarrhoea, are you gloomy and miserable?

THEN YOU ARE A DYSPEPTIC.

The cure is careful diet, slow eating, thoroughly chewing the food; avoid drinking at meals.

Keep regular habits, shun stimulants, tone the digestive powers and regulate the stomach and bowels with Burdock Blood Bitters. It has cured the worst forms of dyspepsia, even of twenty-five years duration. Mrs. Geo. Parks, Cooper, Ont., was cured; she writes: "I have used Burdock Blood Bitters and find that few medicines can give such great relief in dyspepsia and stomach troubles. I was troubled for a number of years with dyspepsia and could get no relief until I tried B.B.B. It helped me right away and I think it a wonderful remedy. I would recommend it to all sufferers from dyspepsia.

A RUGBY PRACTICE TO-NIGHT

Every Member of the Team is Expected To be on Hand For The Game

There will be a practice of the Rugby Team to-night at 7.30 o'clock at Riverside Park, and every member of the team is expected to be on hand for the work out, and also at every practice this week. When they go up against Westmount on Saturday the team will have to be in the best of condition to have a chance against the easterners, who are a fast, well-balanced and well-coached team, who will take all kinds of beating. The locals have new signals and new plays to study this week, as well as to keep in condition and no member of the team can afford to miss a single practice on this account.

SIMPSON LOOKS LIKE COMING WONDER

Hamilton Herald Says He Looks Like And Runs Like Longboat

Simpson, the Mississauga Indian from Hiawatha, certainly made a great impression in Hamilton last week by finishing second in the big Herald road race. The Hamilton Herald says:—

Lo, the poor Indian is coming to the front as fast as his legs can carry him. Simpson, a red-skinned gent. from Peterborough, ran second at Hamilton yesterday, and as he looked like and runs like Longboat he is sure to be touted as the coming wonder. And all these years we have been wondering what the Indians were good for anyway.

NO MEET FOR WALKERS THIS SEASON

Port Hope Man States That Reynolds Will Not Attempt It

Mr. W. L. Mitchell of Port Hope, is in the city, and he states that it is not probable that Jimmy Reynolds will match Hartley in a walk this year. He was speaking to Mr. Henderson, who is Reynolds' trainer, and and was informed by him that the Port Hope barber would not walk Hartley this autumn, at least.

WESTMOUNT BEAT AT KINGSTON

Defeated The Limestoners on Saturday By 9 Points To 4

Westmount beat Kingston in the second game of the eastern series of the O.R.F.U. senior series, in the Penitentiary City on Saturday, the score being 9-4 in favour of the easterners. The game was played in the rain and was a hard fought exhibition. Kingston complained that the ball was dead when the Westmount team scored the only touch-down of the game, but the referee, Cadet Carson, of the Royal Military College, refused to see it that way.

SPORTING NEWS AND VIEWS

If Peterborough beat Westmount on Saturday and there is no reason why they shouldn't, if they play the rugby they have been playing, they will have a chance to play for the Dominion championship, and their opponents will be the winners of the Intercollegiate honours, undoubtedly Ottawa College. The finances of the club are not in the best of shape and with the prospect of a trip to Ottawa a week from Saturday there should be a big crowd at the game against Westmount. Not only is the club in a poor position to pay the transportation and other expenses of the trip, but the players are also badly equipped in the matter of uniform. No two suits are alike, and although they have managed to get together enough blue and white stockings for the team they are of various shades and designs and there is no uniformity about them. It some one could devise a scheme to earn enough money to provide the team with new stockings and sweaters they would earn the heart-felt gratitude of the management and players.

• • • •

Dundas trimmed London badly in the Interprovincial Intermediate series on Saturday, beating the Londonites by 20—0. Tigers II were just as unkind to Argos II, beating them by 28—3.

• • • •

As was expected McGill had no difficulty in winning from Queen's in their Intercollegiate game played in Montreal on Saturday, the easterners winning by 16—0.

• • • •

Westmounts defeat of Kingston on Saturday has caused some surprise in this section. The Montreal team were only able to beat the Limestones by one point at home and now they have beaten them on their own grounds, thereby earning the right to meet Peterborough.

HEATERS!

Right Time to Buy Them and Special Inducement This Week

You may wait for cold weather to buy a heater if you've a mind to, but if you'll be advised by those who have to deal most with the selling of stoves, you will select a heater now and have it put in place and ready before the rush that invariably comes with a cold snap.

There is absolutely nothing gained in waiting—not even a saving in cost, as the prices will certainly be kept at normal when the demand is at its height, and then you'll be expected to take your turn in having it delivered and set up—a delay of two or three days perhaps.

We recommend these stoves with confidence:—

Oxypathy

The vital principle of the blood, and indirectly of life, is oxygen. It is natural, therefore, that, oxygen in some of its many forms should be regarded as playing an important part in creating and perpetuating the condition that means prolongation of life—health. Attention is directed to an advertisement dealing with the Duplex Oxygenator, to be applied to the cure of disease, on page 2.

BEER* HELPS DIGESTION

WHAT little alcohol there is in Ontario-brewed beer greatly aids the stomach to digest its food, — ask your own doctor if beer with meals wouldn't be good for you.

Beer increases the flow of gastric juices, and so helps much to cure dyspepsia. The right use of beer tones the whole digestive tract,—makes the system get all the good of food instead of but part of that good.

* BEER is a term which covers lager, ales, porter, and stouts and, in the practice of Ontario brewers, implies beverages made under most hygienic conditions, from Ontario barley (the best in the world) malt, hops, and pure water. 705

A BOVINE WITH PECULIAR AND PIEOUS PROCLIVITIES

It is not very often that one hears of a cow being handed a lemon. Human beings are usually considered when this particular action is mentioned, but there are always exceptions to every rule. The latest is the cow. Just a few days ago some ladies in the suburbs of the city were preparing for a tea to be held at their church, and among the dainties to be gotten ready were several lemon pies.

As every manufacturer in the pastry line knows, "filling" is necessary for lemon pies made from lemons, and other ingredients, to please the palate. On this occasion enough of the mixture to fill the hollows of twenty-five pie crusts was composed and left outdoors to cool. The cow happened to be in the vicinity and soon espied the tinware containing the lemon filling, with the result that the contents were quickly consumed by the representative of the bovine race. Needless to say the loss was repaired, but there was still the satisfaction that the cow had been "handed a lemon."

JEWELLER RECEIVES CONTRACT

Mr. Clark Receives Many Orders For His New King Edward Clock

The King Edward Clock made by Mr. Clark, the local jeweller for the new King Edward School is becoming very popular for use in big buildings. This clock has the picture of His Majesty painted on the glass of the pendulam box and is nicely finished. It was designed by Mr. Clark especially for the school, but since that time he has been receiving many orders for his clock. To-day he placed two of these time pieces in St. Peter's Cathedral and two others in the school.

Severe Loss In Big Fire

Uxbridge Mill Owners Have Relatives In Peterborough

Uxbridge, Ont., Nov. 3. — about 2 o'clock this morning Gould Bros.' upper flour mill was discovered to be on fire. Mr. Saunders, the miller in charge, who lives quite near the mill, was the first to notice the it, and promptly gave the alarm, but the flames had gained great headway and the mill, being a frame structure, was completely destroyed, with all the contents. Cause of the fire was unknown. Loss partly covered by insurance.

One of the Gould Bros. referred to in the above despatch, is the father of Mrs. J. S. Knapman of Peterborough.

This year the trio, who go out every fall, camped in the vicinity of Fenelon Falls, and report a delightful outing in the north. The shooting was especially good this season and the three knights of the gun had little difficulty in securing a good bag, killing fifty-four ducks on the trip. All are more than satisfied with the trip and with the sport met with.

WIND DRIVES YACHT ON THE SHORE

Hattie Bell's Anchor Dragged With Boat Upon The Beach

The high wind of yesterday played havoc with the "Hattie Bell" the steam yacht belonging to Mr. Geo. N. Bell, of Bridgenorth. It was anchored out in Lake Chemong, but was driven up on shore by the hurricane that swept over the lake.

The Kelly Bros. came to the rescue with the "Lady of the Lake" and towed the yacht back to its moorings.

WEATHER CONDITIONS OF ALL SAINTS' DAY, 1862

Yesterday was the annual dedication festival of St. John's, the twenty-fifth anniversary of the opening of the restored Church on All Saints' Day, 1862, and the seventieth year since its erection in 1835. It will be interesting to note that on the occasion of the re-opening dedication festival on November 1, 1862, the weather presented a sharp contrast to the weather conditions of this year. In that year, All Saints' Day was as warm and genial—much more so than many August days this year—as a summer day. The ladies came to the services without wraps and carrying parasols to protect them against the intense heat of the sun.

WHAT THE CLERGYMAN SAID.

Hanover, Ont.—No other class of men have the opportunity to do as much good, and be such helpful influences, as the clergy. Not only in their sermons, but in their daily life, they can teach us the better way of living. The example of the Rev. Mr. Braud, of Hanover, is one to be followed in every home in Canada. Owing to his arduous duties, incidently to his pariah, the reverend gentleman suffered severely with liver trouble accompanied with constipation and indigestion. But he quickly found relief, and in a letter, tells how. "I can say I like Fruit-a-tives very much, as I am troubled with Liver Trouble—and shall continue to use them."

"Fruit-a-tives" are made of fruit juices and valuable tonics—and form the ideal combination for the treatment of Biliousness, Constipation, Headache and all Stomach, Bowel, Kidney and Skin Troubles. 50c a box.

The Indians are said to have insulted Chief Whetung, who was presiding at a council meeting on Saturday night.

Tully's Hair Tonic
and DANDRUFF CURE makes the hair grow July 24th, 1907

About the month of September, 1906, my hair began to come out in large spots, leaving the scalp perfectly bare on the right side of the head, also my beard on the left side. About the 15th of December I showed it to J. D. Tully, Druggist; he said that he had a preparation that would restore the hair. I could scarcely credit his statement, but decided to try it, and in three weeks using the hair commenced to grow. Since that time I have lost nearly all my old hair which has been entirely replaced with new hair, and the beard also. I consider this by all means the best hair grower on the market, as I had previously tried other preparations without any effect. Any one wishing to ask me about it will find me at my home, 265 McDonnel Street, Peterborough, or at R. R. Crossing, G.T.R., Charlotte St.

ATTEMPT TO DRAIN THE LAND

Galway Council To Try And Provide For Spring Freshets Which Cause Trouble

NEWS FROM THE NORTH

The Galway Council met on Tuesday, October 29, 1907. The members present were Chas. Coben, Reeve, and Councillors John Jackson and John Clark.

On motion of John Clark, seconded by John Jackson, the minutes of the previous meeting were read and confirmed.

Moved by John Jackson, seconded by John Clark, that it is the opinion of this council that if a grant could be obtained from the Dominion Government through our esteemed representative, Mr. R. R. Hall, M.P., to clean out the creek between Jacob's Lake and White Lake, it would prevent the water during the spring freshets from causing serious damage to the road known as Jackson's road, as well as draining several hundred acres of land which is entirely without agricultural value on account of conditions as they exist at present, and also that the clerk should forward a copy of this resolution to Mr. Hall, M.P.

Moved by John Clark, seconded by John Jackson, that the applications for collecting the taxes of 1907 are esteemed to be rather high. We do not consider that we would be justified in accepting the tenders now before this council, and that this meeting be adjourned until call of the reeve, when more favourable applications will be considered.

The following accounts were ordered to be paid:

S. Switzer, repairing Monk road, $6; C. Coben, attending tax sale, $3; C. Coben, selecting jurors, $1.50; P. Collins, selecting jurors, $1.50; D. Sheehan, selecting jurors, $1.50.

PLEA FOR BETTER SNOW PLOUGHING

Correspondent Believes There is Too Much Lottery About Contracts

Sir, As the season for letting the snow-ploughing contracts by the city council will soon be here, if it has not already arrived, and as corporate bodies are proverbially slow in their motions, would it not be advisable for our council to endeavour to give us a better service in this respect than we have had in the past? As a ratepayer, I would make a couple of suggestions: One is do away with the tendering principle for the whole season; there is too much of a lottery about it. The snowfall may be very light, and the tenderer be ahead on his contract; or it may be heavy, and, being only human, he will naturally endeavour to shirk the work, and will only turn out when there is an extra heavy fall. I would suggest that the men be paid according to the number of days they turn out. Then, again, as at present, the divisions are much too large. It is a physical impossibility for a man and a plough to cover the ground that is now allotted to each, and do half-decent work. Then, as to the ploughs themselves. There are several all-steel ones used in the centre of the city, that are capable of doing good work; they actually scrape the bulk of the snow off the pavement, and leave but little thereon. The wooden affairs used in the outlying districts, however, are practically useless. Instead of going through the snow, and taking off the "hog's back" in the centre formed by early pedestrians, they simply slide along the top, leaving a small furrow of snow on each side. These old wooden ploughs should be consigned to the corporation "junk" heap. Yours, etc.,

SHANK'S MARE.

Fixed Assessment Asked For By Manufacturers

Peter Hamilton Company Wants To Be Treated As Others---Finance Committee Reports---Many By-laws Passed ---The Routine Business

Following the Committee of the Whole Council meeting last night, which lasted for more than two hours, the council went into regular session. Most of the discussion fell upon the report of the Legal Committee to remove the culvert of the Aylmer street drain to its former position. A communication was received from the Peter Hamilton Manufacturing Company for fixed assessment but the matter was left over until a future date. The usual reports of Committees and bylaws were passed, and it was after the midnight hour when the aldermen wended their way homeward.

Sewer Wanted

A communication was received from residents on Dickson street for a sewer on that thoroughfare. Mr Davidson was present in reference to the matter, stating that he himself was in a position to connect with the manhole on McDonel street, but that others living on Dickson street were not able to connect.

Ald. Wilson believed that a sewer should be constructed and moved, seconded by Ald. Elliott, that if the petition be sufficiently signed that it be granted.—Carried.

Sheriff Hall, auditor, reported that he had audited the books of the city officials, and found them correct, and in good order.

Fixed Assessment.

A communication was received from the Peter Hamilton Manufacturing Company, asking for a fixed assessment of $10,000 for a period of 20 years. The communication referred to the long standing of the company in Peterborough, having done business here for 60 years. The assessment had been increased from year to year until now it was over $52,000, an increase of $1700 having been made from last year.

Mr. Jas. Hamilton was present and added that the company wanted to be treated on the same basis as the other manufacturers, with respect to fixed assessment, and again referred to the great increase in their assessment.

Committee Reports

Ald. Johnston read the report of the Fire, Water and Light Committee, to a part of which Ald. Wilson took exception stated he noticed that lights were granted on streets which were requested, after he had asked for more lights on Stewart street. The report was adopted as well as that of the Committee of the Whole.

Finance Committee

Ald Tovey read the report of the Finance Committee as follows:

1. That no action be taken on the application of M. Pappas for a refund of part of the fee paid by him for a shooting gallery license.
2. That the city treasurer continue to pay interest on the overdraft on the Bank of Toronto at 4 1-2 per cent in accordance with the agreement made.
3. That the payment in accordance with the city engineer"s pay lists for work done on street extensions be approved.

LONDON STUDENTS COMING HERE

Their Proposed Trip From England Takes Them Through Peterborough

WILL STUDY CONDITIONS

The proposed trip to Canada next summer of the party of engineering students is favourably received by the university authorities, who have considered the report made by Mr. Nugent Clougher, who lately returned from his journey of inquiry. It is now but a matter of counting the cost, which it is believed will not exceed £70 or £80 per man. For the poorer students this outlay will be impossible, but no doubt one or two hundred, made up from London and the other universities, will join the party. The idea is to sail for Quebec in July, inspect the engineering works there, proceed to Montreal, Ottawa, Peterborough, Hamilton, Brantford, St. Catharines, Niagara, Cobalt, Sault Ste. Marie, Duluth, Winnipeg, Calgary, Edmonton, Vancouver, Victoria, and back to Toronto in time for the National Exhibition. The journey as planned by Mr. Clougher will occupy ten weeks, of which eight weeks will be spent in Canada, and every place of interest to engineers, either for its machinery, electric power works, engineering structures, such as bridges and canals, etc., will be visited, and every technical college will receive the visitors, whilst mining will be studied on every spot noted for its mineral wealth throughout the route.

THE CHANT NATIONAL SUNG AT ST. ANDREW'S

The original was written in French and has been translated by Mr. Jas. Acton, of Toronto, who is well known in connection with religious services at Stony Lake during the summer season.

BIG HOTEL WAS BADLY SCORCHED

Five Hundred Guests Nearly Suffocated by Smoke.

ESCAPED WITH DIFFICULTY

Fire Broke Out In Basement—Forty Women Were Overcome — Carried Down Ladders by Firemen—Many Jumped From Second Floor Landings — Several Severely Bruised—Bell Boys' Bravery.

Chicago, Nov. 4.—More than 500 guests of the Plaza Hotel fled from their rooms early Saturday when fire broke out in the basement. The building was quickly filled with smoke and many of the guests had difficulty in reaching the street.

The guests, most of them thinly clad, sought refuge in stores near-by. Some of them had been slightly affected by the smoke. About forty women, becoming exhausted, were carried down ladders and fire escapes by firemen.

Arthur Hart, the night clerk, and two bell boys, who nearly lost their lives in warning the guests of their danger, assisted many in reaching the street.

When the firemen reached the building the fire escapes were crowded with frightened men and women. Some of them jumped from the second floor landings, without waiting to be taken down. Several were severely bruised.

The fire was soon extinguished, with small property loss.

FRENCH TARIFF REVISION.

Franco-Canadian Treaty Will Have Bearing on Result.

Paris, Nov. 4.—The tariff commissions of the Senate and the Chamber of Deputies, which have begun drafting a bill for the revision of the tariff of 1892, at a conference with Premier Clemenceau and Foreign Minister Pichon and other members of the Cabinet, Saturday formally requested the Government to agree not to conclude further commercial treaties with foreign powers until Parliament acts upon the bill which the commissions have drafted. The Cabinet practically gave the promise demanded, providing that the recent negotiated Canadian-French treaty be ratified.

The promise of the Government is regarded as being important, as it constitutes a virtual decision to suspend tariff negotiations with all countries pending a revision of the tariff, which is not expected to be accomplished during the present session.

The bases of the proposed revision of the tariff are an extension of the double system of rates to all schedules, making the lowest maximum rates 50 per cent. higher than the minimum rates, and specifically restricting the grant of minimum rates to countries offering equal concessions to France. Moreover, as the proposed revision is being engineered by high tariff advocates, the minimum rates in the case of many schedules will probably be raised. If the high tariff people have their way, the proposed law will compel France to begin tariff wars against all countries refusing to conclude reciprocity treaties. The United States will be the principal sufferer under the proposed revision, unless she concludes a reciprocity treaty with France, as the projected rates for many classes of goods now extensively imported will become prohibitive.

ATTACKED OPERATOR.

Burglars Attempt to Rob Berlin Station—Carried Loaded Revolvers.

Berlin, Nov. 4.—At 3 o'clock Saturday morning two men attempted to hold-up Night Operator Hofferds at the G. T. R. station. Two big stones were thrown through the window, and one of the desperadoes fired a revolver at the operator, who responded by producing his own shooting-piece, whereupon the would-be robbers decamped and succeeded in eluding three policemen who answered Hofferds' call.

THE POLICE ARE NOW ON THE TRAIL

Exciting Chase After Montreal Man Who Skipped Bail.

WORKS IMPUDENT SWINDLE

Advertised For Collectors to Carry on Building Society—Said to Have Cleared $50,000—Victims Numbered by Hundreds—Fooled Detectives by Jumping on Freight Train—Crossed River In Small Boat.

Montreal, Nov. 4.—The operations of Oscar Frederick Spate, who was chased Saturday night by the police from Montreal to Watertown, N. Y., were unearthed on Sunday morning, when hundreds of young Englishmen, who had been victimized by him, swarmed into Chief Detective Carpenter's office and told their tale of woe.

Spate operated in Montreal under the name of Frederick Sterling. He fitted up handsome offices in the Ottawa Bank building, St. James street, and started what he called the Dominion Building Society. He had also a dozen or more side lines. It is thought that he must have carried away about $50,000 belonging to men who could ill-afford to hand over their hard-earned savings.

Spate's plan was to advertise extensively for young men to act as collectors for the Dominion Building Society. Upon application the young men would have to put up a cash guarantee of from $300 to $500 each, and if they proved satisfactory they would be paid from $15 to $20 a week. With the money his collectors put up he skipped.

Spate was arrested a few days ago on a charge of fraud and Saturday night jumped his bail. He has been traced to Watertown, N. Y., and the police feel sure of securing him.

WHAT SLEUTH FOUND.

Gold Ring In Waste Silent Evidence Against Two Men.

Barrie, Nov. 4.—The evidence on which John McDonald and William Craddock of Fesserton were recently committed for trial by Magistrate Radenhurst would form the basis for an excellent Sherlock Holmes story in real life.

On the night of Oct. 15, W. W. Carter's mill at Fesserton was destroyed by fire, evidently of incendiary origin.

Provincial Detective Reburn was despatched to the scene on Oct. 16. His first clue was some waste taken from the axle box of a car. In the waste a gold ring was found. A footprint was also discovered, and on the strength of these and other considerations John McDonald and William Craddock were arrested.

The ring had evidently been rubbed off the finger while wiping oil off the hands.

Detective Reburn has returned after submitting his case at the preliminary hearing at Sarnia.

WAS COSTLY FROLIC.

Hunt Has High Time at Hotel and Gets Four Months.

Guelph, Nov. 4.—A husky-looking young fellow named Hunt, of Palmerston, an ex-brakeman and fireman of the Grand Trunk, came down to Castle McNab, in charge of a constable, Saturday morning, to spend the winter.

Hunt, it appears, while a very quiet fellow when sober, goes out on a toot occasionally. On Monday last he tackled the fluid extract of hops and got into a peck of trouble. He was out with the boys and had imbibed rather freely, when—so he says—he was given some morphine pills. He then started out to paint the town.

By the time Hunt struck the Queen's Hotel he was going like a whirlwind and soon made the house look as if a cyclone had passed. He was arrested, and the mills of justice did not delay in turning him out on a four months' sentence.

CRASHED INTO FREIGHT.

Two Killed and Many Injured In Head-On Collision.

Birmingham, Ala., Nov. 4.—A fast passenger train on the Queen and Crescent route, going at a high rate of speed, collided head-on, with a freight train, a mile south of Morganville, Ga., yesterday, killing Engineer Spencer and a negro brakeman and seriously injuring six trainmen and 20 passengers.

FIVE SHIPS MISSING ON THE PACIFIC

May Have Been Caught In Northern Ice Floes.

SAILED TO ARCTIC YEAR AGO

Ventured Too Far North Hunting Whales—Two Hundred and Twenty-Five Men on Board—Winter Closed In Early—One Ship Forced Her Way Out by the Use of Gunpowder to Break the Ice.

San Francisco, Nov. 4.—Venturing too far to the westward in the Arctic Ocean in quest of whales, five vessels of the whaling fleet sailing from San Francisco more than a year ago, with 225 men, have been caught by the sudden closing in of the northern winter, according to Capt. Hoffman of the whaler Jeanette, which arrived Saturday. The missing vessels are the Herman, the Beluga, the Belvidere, the Thrasher and the William Bayles. None of these whalers was seen by the men of the Jeanette, which once had to make a path through the pack ice with gunpowder before the open sea was reached. All of the whalers went further to the northwest this season than usual, the Jeanette plainly sighting Prince William's Land. Only one other vessel of the fleet, the Bowhead, reached the open sea after the Jeanette escaped. The Bowhead was sighted off this port yesterday.

VISIT TO KING EDWARD.

Emperor William to Be Accompanied by German Chancellor.

London, Nov. 4.—England is to be invaded by royalty during the month of November. The German Emperor and Empress, who it is expected will be accompanied by the Imperial Chancellor, Prince Von Buelow, and to whose visit some political significance is therefore attached, will arrive here on Nov. 11, and will spend a week as guests of King Edward and Queen Alexandra at Windsor Castle, which has been considerably altered and improved for their reception. A staff of several hundred workmen are busy in and around the historic riverside home of the British sovereign, and have already greatly altered the appearance of the grounds and building.

A series of the most elaborate entertainments has been arranged, including theatrical performances and a great banquet, at which the German Emperor will meet many of the leaders of Great Britain's social and political worlds. The banquet, if plans do not miscarry, will surpass in splendor anything of the kind before attempted here for in this, as in all other respects, King Edward is desirous of showing the greatest honor to his nephew.

RIDDLED WITH BULLETS.

Outrage Perpetrated on Caretaker of Evicted Farm In Ireland.

London, Nov. 4.—With his right shoulder, right side of his back, and right arm riddled with bullets, a young man named Fred Pierce lay for three hours on a road before he was able to get to a house, after a shooting outrage had been perpetrated on him at Durra. This is the residence of R. W. Greene, sub-commoner, about four miles from Ennis, County Clare, and the victim of the outrage was employed as caretaker of an evicted farm at Sunnagh, on the Butler estate.

Pierce was returning from Ennis races. The shots were fired from over the Durra demesne wall at close range, some of the pellets going deeply into the flesh and some penetrating the lung.

FREIGHT CARS LEAVE RAILS.

Calamity Narrowly Averted at Niagara Bridge.

Niagara Falls, Nov. 4.—A serious accident was averted Saturday while a freight train was crossing the Niagara River. The story is that when about ten feet from the Canada side a break beam dropped to the ground and piled up three cars. The cars fell clear of the rails when they toppled over and traffic was not delayed. A railroad man who witnessed the mishap said if the accident had occurred a few seconds earlier 15 cars would have dropped into the Niagara River and carried with them the brakemen who were on the top of the train.

FLOOD IN CALIFORNIA.

Sixteen Drowned and Fifty Houses Washed Away.

San Francisco, Nov. 4.—Sixteen persons are said to have been drowned by a torrential downpour and more than fifty houses washed away at St. Jose del Cabo, Lower California, on Oct. 14. As the deluge struck the town the people were caught, and many had no chance to escape, being carried out to sea. Some who escaped the flood were killed by being crushed by flying portions of buildings.

Notorious Bandit Pardoned.

Topeka, Kan., Nov. 4.—Emmet Dalton, once a notorious bandit, Saturday night was pardoned by Governor Hoch. Dalton was sentenced to the penitentiary for life for taking part in the Coffeyville bank robbery in 1892. Several weeks ago he was pardoned to undergo a surgical operation in Kansas City.

He returned to prison on Saturday, but was not admitted pending the decision of the governor on ultimate pardon.

Indian Suicides.

MacLeod, Nov. 4.—A Peigan Indian, anxious to go to the happy hunting grounds, loaded a shotgun Saturday, laid himself down on his bed, and after pointing the gun toward his head, tried to pull the trigger with his moccasined feet. Failing to catch the trigger he got up, cut away the point of the moccasin, so that his big toe protruded, lay down again, and this time succeeded in his purpose. When found the top of his head was completely shot off, death having been instantaneous.

Stanfield's Underwear

(Chapter 1)

A Talk by the Maker to the Wearer.

The Wool

Stanfield's Underwear is made of the best wool that grows on the best wool-bearing sheep in the world—the long, silky-fibred Nova Scotia wool.

The founder of the Stanfield mills did more than anyone else to develop the wool industry throughout the Maritime Provinces. For half a century, the farmers of New Brunswick, Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island have saved their best wool for the Stanfields—first for C. E. Stanfield—and now for his sons, John and Frank, the President and Treasurer of Stanfields Limited.

The wear of a garment depends on the quality of wool from which it is made. Underwear may be PURE WOOL, and ALL WOOL—and still shrink, ravel and wear out in a single season. Because the underwear is not made of good wool in the first place.

There are seven grades of wool in the fleece when clipped from Nova Scotia sheep. Only the first three grades of this best wool are used in making Stanfield's Unshrinkable Underwear for men and women.

There are no weak spots in the fibre to break in the garments.

There can be no unraveling, because every stitch is locked.

Garments can't shrink, because of our perfected process of treating the wool BEFORE garments are woven, thus insuring absolutely Unshrinkable Underwear.

In all sizes from 22 to 70 inch chest measure. In three winter weights—RED label for light weight—BLUE label for medium weight—BLACK label for heavy weight.

Your dealer probably has all sizes and weights in stock. If not, he can easily get whatever you wish.

VALET NOW DISAPPEARS.

Runaway Actor Still Evades Police—Has Many Doubles.

New York, Nov. 4.—Persons closely resembling Raymond Hitchcock, fugitive from justice, were seen by the score Saturday in various parts of the country; but with many promising clues there was no definite information as to his whereabouts. The police are anxiously awaiting a reply to the message sent by wireless to the captain of the White Star liner Majestic, which sailed an hour after Hitchcock was last seen here, and upon which there is reason to believe he may have taken passage.

If Hitchcock is on the Majestic he will be placed under arrest and turned over to the police of Scotland Yard as soon as the steamer reaches the other side.

A surprising development Saturday was the reported disappearance of Herman Ranke, who has been Hitchcock's valet, and who has been playing a minor part in "The Yankee Tourist" at the Astor Theatre. He was one of the witnesses summoned to the district attorney's office, in connection with the charges made by little girls against Hitchcock, and, according to the actor, was present at his country home in Great Neck, and also at the house in Forty-First street when two little girls visited those places.

Flora Kabelle, wife of Raymond Hitchcock, continues to play her part at the Astor Theatre. The press agent gave out to the newspapers Saturday night what purported to be an interview with her, in which she declares that she places no credence in the report that her husband has run away with Bella McKenzie, adding that she still believes he is innocent of the charges made against him.

Big Fire at Kingston, N. Y.

Kingston, N. Y., Nov. 4.—Fire yesterday destroyed the tugboat John H. The loss will reach $150,000.

HEATERS!

Right Time to Buy Them and Special Inducement This Week

You may wait for cold weather to buy a heater if you've a mind to, but if you'll be advised by those who have to deal most with the selling of stoves, you will select a heater now and have it put in place and ready before the rush that invariably comes with a cold snap.

There is absolutely nothing gained in waiting—not even a saving in cost, as the prices will certainly be kept at normal when the demand is at its height, and then you'll be expected to take your turn in having it delivered and set up—a delay of two or three days perhaps.

We recommend these stoves with confidence:—

DOES THIS INTEREST YOU?

A prominent physician, famous for his success in the treatment of kidney and bladder diseases, attributes a great deal of his success to the following simple vegetable prescription:—

One ounce Fluid Extract Dandelion;

One ounce Compound Salsatone;

Four ounces Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla.

Mix, shake well, and take in teaspoonful doses after each meal and again at bedtime.

Your druggist can supply the ingredients, and the mixture can be prepared at home at very little expense.

This, the doctor says, acts directly on the kidneys, assisting them to filter the poisons from the blood and expel same in the urine, at the same time restoring the kidneys to healthy, normal action.

We feel that a great many readers will be pleased to learn of this simple prescription, and knowing the ability of the physician whose formula it is, we do not hesitate to recommend it to any sufferer.

SOCIALISTS DEFEATED.

London Municipal Elections Result in Victory for Conservatives.

London, Nov. 4.—Municipal elections were held on Saturday in England and Wales. They were noteworthy for the almost general defeat of the Socialists and other candidates of advanced views and for an equally pronounced triumph for the Conservatives. Formerly municipal contests here were invariably fought out on political lines, but have been less so in recent years. On this occasion, however, they seem to have reverted to the earlier conditions, mainly owing to the energetic appeal of the Socialists to the electors.

There were probably a thousand Socialist and advanced Labor candidates seeking election in the various constituencies, but only a mere handful were successful, their defeat in most instances, being crushing. The strong organized opposition to the Socialists was probably answerable for a large proportion of the Conservative gains, which completely overwhelm those of the Liberals and all other parties, but the results can also be taken as an indication of the continued dissatisfaction with the present Liberal Government.

Another feature of the campaign was that women were eligible for the first time to seek election in the municipal council. Seventeen entered the field, a majority of whom advocated an advanced program. Only three of them were elected.

Receives Philippine Prince.

Washington, Nov. 4.—Prince San Fulana, a Moro, diminutive, swarthy aged 17, presented himself at the executive offices of the White House Saturday and was received cordially by President Roosevelt.

The prince presented the President with a double-edged kris, which had been in the family of the prince for 280 years and was the property of his father, Damo Ali, who was killed by American soldiers two years ago.

The prince traces his ancestry to Mohammed, 77 generations back.

Promissory Notes Stolen.

Emerson, Man., Nov. 4.—On Wednesday night last the office of George Chester, financial agent of this town, was broken into and the vault, which was not locked, opened, and promissory notes to the value of $40,000 stolen. The thief or thieves obtained entrance by means of the back door, where they smashed one of the panels, and so were enabled to reach in and turn the key. The vault had been damaged some time before in a fire, and it was impossible to lock it.

Many Small Shocks.

Shide, Isle of Wight, Nov. 4.—A number of serious small earthquakes were recorded at the observatory Saturday. These shocks evidently represent the settlement of broken strata in some distant country, probably Turkestan.

"Don't Neglect a Cough or Cold."

It can have but one result. It leaves the throat or lungs, or both, affected. Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup is the medicine you need. It is without an equal as a remedy for Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Sore Throat, Pain in the Chest, Asthma, Whooping Cough, Quinsy and all affections of the Throat and Lungs.

A single dose of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup will stop the cough, soothe the throat, and if the cough or cold has become settled on the lungs, the healing properties of the Norway Pine Tree will proclaim its great virtue by promptly eradicating the bad effects, and a persistent use of the remedy cannot fail to bring about a complete cure.

Do not be humbugged into buying so-called Norway Pine Syrups, but be sure and insist on having Dr. Wood's. It is put up in a yellow wrapper, three pine trees the trade mark, and price 25 cents.

CHRONIC BRONCHITIS

Mr. Wm. O'Hara, Souris, Man., writes: "Having suffered for a long time with a severe attack of Chronic Bronchitis, which I could not get cured, I eventually tried your Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup and I am glad to state it has given me a complete cure."

CONGRESS TO EASE STRAIN.

Roosevelt May Order Extra Session to Relieve Situation.

Washington, Nov. 4.—President Roosevelt is being urged to call an extra session of Congress to deal with the financial situation.

The request comes, and represents, the judgment of conservative leaders in the financial world, who have represented the present situation as one that compels action of a character which will affirmatively eradicate all ground for suspicion of American industrial methods.

The President has been assured from reliable sources that there will be no opposition on the part of the great industries of the country to the enactment of laws necessary to carry out his ideas of Federal control to the extent to which he has expounded them in his recent utterances.

These assurances are given to avert what is represented as the most dangerous situation which has confronted the country during a long historical period—that is the seemingly growing lack of confidence backed on known irregularities in business methods in some quarters, and no sure and speedy means of separating the good from the unsound.

To this end it is suggested that the President shall set Congress to the task of making such amendments to the financial laws as will result in the maximum of flexibility with the minimum of basic changes in the United States system.

Next, and perhaps most important, that the President embody his suggestions on corporate control into succinct recommendations for enactment into law.

RESULT OF BALLOT.

Nearly Seventy-Seven Thousand Railway Men Favor Strike.

London, Nov. 4.—At a great meeting of railroad men, held last night in Albert Hall, attended by deputations from all parts of the United Kingdom, Richard Bell, M. P., general secretary of the Amalgamated Society of Railway Servants, and leader of the strike movement, announced the result of the ballot taken among the members of the society on the question of a strike.

Mr. Bell said the society had 97,631 members at the end of September and that many men had joined recently, but did not ballot. He announced that 88,134 papers had been returned, of which 76,925 were for striking and 8,773 were opposed to it. The remainder of the ballots were spoiled, but a majority of these were for striking.

Mr. Bell declared that the executive committee of the society was well satisfied with this result, but it had resolved that no further reference should be made to the situation pending the interview Nov. 6 between Mr. Lloyd-George, President of the Board of Trade, and representatives of the society. He said that he hoped the mandate would not be put into force, but he was satisfied that if it became necessary to take this step the men would stand by their colors.

The meeting adopted a resolution heartily pledging its support to any action the executive committee might deem necessary.

DEFIED DEPUTY SHERIFF.

Gananoque Cattle Buyer Objected to Seizure of Stock.

Brockville, Nov. 4.—On Friday A. J. Traill, the deputy sheriff, swore out a warrant for the arrest of Thomas Dempster, a Gananoque cattle buyer, on a charge of interfering with him (the deputy sheriff) while in the discharge of his official duties.

Mr. Traill was in the act of executing a writ on the premises of Patrick Sullivan, a farmer residing between Lansdowne and Gananoque, and was taking possession of the cattle when Dempster came along and, claiming he had purchased two of the cattle, took possession of them against Traill's remonstrations.

Chief Burke was despatched to execute the warrants, and leaving here on the 6 o'clock train, arrived in Gananoque in time to locate Dempster and return with him at 9. The chief and Dempster were accompanied here by W. B. Carroll, his solicitor, and W. B. Dempster, who immediately arranged for bail, which was granted, the prisoner in $1,000 and the two sureties of $500 each, to appear for examination in the Police Court here at 10.30 Tuesday morning. Dempster and his bondsmen returned to Gananoque at midnight.

Bartels Over the Border.

Syracuse, N. Y., Nov. 4.—Herman Bartels, the former Syracuse brewer, was brought back to Auburn Saturday night from Welland, Ont., and locked up in the county jail, to await trial upon a perjury charge growing out of evidence he gave in his trial for attempted arson at Auburn two years ago.

After his conviction, Bartels jumped his bail and fled to Canada. Upon his arrival in Auburn Bartels was taken immediately to jail, where his son, Herman, Jr., talked with him.

The trial will take place in January, and sensational disclosures are promised.

Husband Killed Wife.

New York, Nov. 4.—On the eve of their planned separation, William Frederick John, a contracting stonecutter, shot and killed his wife, Grace, and mortally injured himself at their home in Brooklyn last night. He was 30 years of age and his wife 26. They had been married seven years and had two daughters, one of two years and the other four years.

The Johns, who were well-to-do, had no trouble except that directly due to incompatibility of temper.

Jersey City Flyer Wrecked.

Scranton, Pa., Nov. 4.—The Jersey Central flyer, which left Philadelphia at 6 o'clock last night for this city, was wrecked at 10.30 near Pittston. The engine and four cars tumbled over an embankment, killing Engineer Johnson and seriously injuring the fireman. None of the passengers were seriously injured. There was a settling of the tracks, due to a mine cave-in.

Fund For Monument.

Berlin, Nov. 4.—The fund being raised for the Queen Victoria monument to be erected in Victoria Park has reached £2,274.

A NAVAL LESSON.

French Admiral's View of New English Battleships.

Admiral Germinet, in an interview with a representative of The Journal, has given an interesting criticism of the new Dreadnought class of English battleship. He said he considered the Dreadnought as a great mistake in British naval construction. What he had in view was her armament of ten 12-in. guns. The Dreadnought was constructed according to the false ideas, which were entertained some months ago, regarding the causes of the successes of the Japanese, which were attributed to Admiral Togo's tactics and to the heavy guns of his ships. This, said Admiral Germinet, was a mistake. He did not disparage Admiral Togo, but declared that his heavy guns did not give the results expected from them. At the beginning of the war the Japanese used 12-in. shells, charged with only a small quantity of explosives.

They soon saw, however, that the results obtained were not worth the expense, and they immediately proceeded to manufacture shells of high explosive capacity, with which, at the battle of Tsushima, all their ships were furnished. It was to this that their victory was due. The new shells, exploding with the least contact, produced enormous heat, which melted the hardest metals and produced an immense volume of deleterious gases, which asphyxiated all who breathed them. Profiting by this knowledge, continued Admiral Germinet, France should arm her ships with a gun-firing projectiles of high explosive capacity. This gun could not be the 12-in. gun with which the Dreadnought was armed. What was wanted was a large quantity of explosives in guns of a smaller calibre which could be fired rapidly. The number of guns on warships must be increased, but they must be capable of being easily handled, and the ammunition must not be costly.

MARRIED AT SIXTY.

Some Wedding Statistics Culled From London Registrars.

At the age of 60 five spinsters succeeded in "getting off" in the Metropolis last year. This is one of those interesting facts about the life of London which the patient statistical officers of the London County Council dig out, and present once a year in a bulky volume entitled "London Statistics." It will bring joy to many a fluttering heart, and the light of hope to faces framed in mob caps and ringlets. Boy and girl marriages are not so common in London as among the industrial populations of the north. Still, four girls of 15 were married last year. One joined a bachelor of 25, another a man of 30, and two others wed husbands 55 years of age. At the age of 16 thirteen girls and two boys entered into the state of matrimony, a statement which must not be taken to mean that the two boys shared the thirteen girls between them. Who those fifteen young persons married history does not record. At the age of 17 one hundred and twenty-two girls became wives, but only six boys took on the responsibility of the head of a household. The most popular age for men to marry in London is 25. The number who wed at that age totalled 12,956, at 21 there were 12,735; 15,848 women married at 21, and at 25 9,508 Two bachelors at 60 and two at 65 got married. Altogether there were 34,931 marriages between spinsters and bachelors.

The advice, "Sammy, beware of the widders," went unheeded by 1,477 bachelors and 1,151 widowers. Adding to the foregoing figures the 2,099 marriages between widowers and spinsters we get 30,658 as the grand total of the weddings in London last year. There were only seven Quaker weddings, more than two-thirds of the marriages taking place in the Church of England and 8,371 in register offices. Only 1,687 couples were married in Nonconformist chapels.

King Goes Deer-Stalking.

There is a very good story just to hand concerning the large "Royal" stag that the King shot in Balmoral Forest. It appears that this "Monarch of the Glen" had been stalked most assiduously by the King and his party for over two hours, and each gun was anxious to bring him down. At length one of the members of the party crouched down behind a boulder, got a good sight of him, and fired. Simultaneously the King's gun rang out from another part of the forest, and the stag was seen to drop instantly. The delicate question then arose, who really shot the stag? The King walked up to the gentleman in question and said: "We fired together; which of us shot him?" With ready wit, the other bowed and remarked, "As your Majesty knows, I am only an indifferent shot, so that honor must need be yours." The King laughed and remarked, "Well, we will call it a drawn game." It is stated to be his Majesty's intention to have the head of this stag, a remarkably fine specimen, mounted and hung either at Balmoral or Sandringham, more probably the latter.

Fire Destroys Flour Mill.

Uxbridge, Ont., Nov. 4.—About 2 o'clock yesterday morning Gould Bros.' upper flour mill was discovered to be on fire. Mr. Saunders, the miller in charge, who lives quite near the mill, was the first to notice it, and promptly gave the alarm, but the flames had gained great headway, and the mill, being a frame structure, was completely destroyed, with all the contents. Cause of fire unknown. Loss partly covered by insurance.

Lover Arrested,—Girl Suicides.

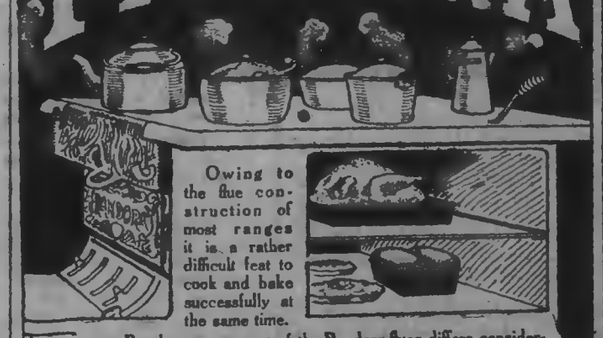
Philadelphia, Nov. 4.—When her lover was arrested Saturday night upon a warrant sworn out by his wife in Newark, N. J., 16-year-old Juliana Pott, who was posing for two years as the wife of Adell Pott and living with him in this city, committed suicide by drinking a large quantity of carbolic acid.

The girl was a foster daughter of Pott and two years ago he left his wife and two small children.

Holy War Declared.

Paris, Nov. 3.—A special to The Matin from Morocco says that Mulai Hafid, brother of Sultan Abd el Aziz, despairing of French support, has declared a holy war.

PANDORA



Owing to the flue construction of most ranges it is a rather difficult feat to cook and bake successfully at the same time.

But the arrangement of the Pandora flues differs considerably from others. They are so constructed that the draft for baking is also the best for cooking, the heat circulating around the oven twice and under every pot hole before passing up the chimney.

The Pandora bakes and cooks perfectly at the same time.

Do you know of another range that does?

WANT TIMBER LICENSES

WEALTH OF LUMBER IN FORESTS OF BRITISH COLUMBIA.

Correspondent Tells of the Mighty Trees of Vancouver — American Capital Securing the Best of Berths —Toothpicks of the Woods—Professional Timber Cruisers — Fire the Great Destroyer.

From the East Kootenay to Peace River, and from Vancouver Island to beyond the Skeena, they come in hundreds to the office of the Commissioner of Public Works at Victoria—applications for timber licenses. The Victoria official newspaper has columns in the stereotyped form, re "permission to cut and carry away timber," till one wonders at the apparently inexhaustible forest which contains such myriad limits in its area.

Of all parts of the province, probably Vancouver Island is the scene of most activity in the business of securing timber lands. Many a day this summer, fast going autos can be seen whirring along the splendid roads that stretch from Victoria up to the north and interior of the island. In these high-priced cars sit keen-faced millmen from the republic to the south. They want saw-logs, of which their native states of Washington, Oregon, etc., are getting pretty well depleted.

In Timber Lands.

As the chauffeur sits with eyes rivetted on the road, where some dexterity is required to manoeuvre the fast-going machine among the great tree trunks, stumps and windfalls that abut upon the highway, his patrons are busy, sizing up the timber with envious eyes. Frequently the roadway skirts swampy country (the roadbed ever the same, sandy soil and gravel, an ideal one for all weathers), where dense thickets would obscure a deer twenty yards away. These are the bottoms where great cedars predominate, towering above the jungle of brush and alders which grow with tropical luxuriance in the damp, black loam, rich from ages of decayed vegetable matter. Away from road or trail, traveling through such woods is a wearisome process, what with clambering over huge, wind-fallen giants, and gingerly walking along prone trunks that have been arrested in their fall, criss-crossed many feet from the ground. These swamps are the favorite haunts of bear, and the venerable cedars growing therein are the joy of the shingle-bolt man, who, by the way, is too busy to be interested in the flora, fauna and natural history of the woods.

The Big Trees.

Timber varies with the soil. On the edge of a big beaver meadow one finds cedar, spruce, balsam, and a small, stray white pine occasionally, to say nothing of alder and soft maple; while further on, when the road rises to the dry ridges, the great, staple timber of the coast is seen—Douglas fir. And what trees! "British Columbia toothpicks"—irreverent epithet, originating doubtless with some jealous visitor. Big trees! Why they are all big, only some are colossal—that is the only word to do justice to those straight, towering shafts of timber. One famous limit, far above tide water, at the foot of the interior mountains, is traversed by the stage road, which winds through hundreds of acres of superb firs, whose giant trunks, in places, almost scrape the hubs of passing vehicles. A cool twilight pervades this place, even in the brightest of days, for mountains at the sides and the vast canopy of boughs one hundred feet overhead, permit only stray shafts of sunshine to penetrate the shadowy aisles of the wood. Through this grand, park-like forest, the traveler can see far back, for no underbrush grows there—nothing but a vista of smooth, grey trunks, whose green tops are sometimes two hundred feet above the soft floor of the woods, where thick mosses spread like a velvet carpet, set off by ferns, banks of tall bracken smothering old logs and beds of delicate maidenhair.

Fire the Destroyer.

And this glorious forest must all go some day. The large lumber interests which own it know the value of each acre, and as soon as railway communication is established with salt water, the hum of a sawmill will echo through the woods, and trainloads of lumber will roll down grade to the coast.

With all the activity of the lumbermen, and the inroads they are making on accessible timber, fire is the greatest destroyer of forests. In spite of laws against, and watchfulness to prevent it, large areas are yearly swept over by the devouring element. Not that the trees are actually burnd up in many cases, for the fire runs through the underbrush and dead stuff, settling on old logs and dried out rampikes, which usually contain considerable pitch. In the case of the green timber, the flames skim up the trunk, licking up moss and trickles of gum, and apparently, beyond blackening the trunk, doing no harm. But a severe scorching is nevertheless very injurious, and the lumber sawn from such trees is inferior.

In Winter Seasons.

To strangers who have beheld the British Columbia woods during the rainy season, the idea of fire running riot amongst such vegetation seems almost impossible. Well! A winter with many days of leaden skies, when the moisture-laden clouds drop earthward in a steady, hopeless drizzle; a time when the evergreen and ever-present "salal" bush sheds showers on the hardy venturer into the sylvan depths, and when the whole woods are soaking and dripping. But a little fine weather and the forest is soon dried out, till when August is reached, nearly everything is combustible and a prey to the carelessly smothered fire which camper and prospector too often leave smoldering behind them, and which frequently terminate in a brown cloud of smoke, with its aftermath of blackened country.

Licenses Cost Little.

But to refer to the first part of this effusion, anent the timber licenses.

All unoccupied Government timber lands are subject to lease by any individual, though not by corporations directly. The annual fee payable for logging privileges on 640 acres—that is the right to cut all the timber on a section being the relatively modest sum of $140. Given every access to tide water, combined with a fair average berth of timber, and the fortunate securer of such a license stands to make a good thing, either by "hand logging" on his own account or by disposing of his lease to one of the large milling concerns, who are always ready to buy up such propositions. Needless to say, the timber lease that has up till now, escaped the eagle eye of the cruisers, is rara avis.

Timber Cruisers.

Of professional timber cruisers in British Columbia there are a plenty—lean, tough-muscled men who read the forest like a book, and who would smile at the idea of getting lost in the sea of trackless timber. With forty pounds hanging from the pack straps on their shoulders, and a compass in their pocket, they are ready to hike anywhere—through swamp, along broken coast line, over the crags and rock bluffs of the numerous mountain divides, crawling through mazes of logs and up-turned roots, following deer trails where cougars crouch for their prey, they plod along, scanning the ground for corner stakes and boundaries, the while they swiftly estimate the fir and cedar.

Sometimes the cruisers go on their own account, frequently in the interests of the big milling companies, who are adding daily to their vast holdings in British Columbia. In the latter case the cruisers go to inspect leases for sale, for, with the snapping up of limits everywhere, much indiscriminate staking is done, and many a Government lease is found to embrace an area far up a mountain side, where the fir, sparse, wind-shaken and stunted, is anything but desirable. Such leases are frequently taken up on the chance—nowadays when almost anything is saleable — of "catching a sucker" before next year's payment becomes due.

"Getting Scarce."

"Timber is getting scarce!" It seems incredible to the traveler, who sees bush, bush and more bush reaching out everywhere. Nevertheless, the "big sticks," right handy to the water are getting exhausted, and stuff that would have been culled a very few years ago is now skidded out for the boom.

But to an easterner there still seems to be a prodigal disregard for wood all along the coast, and many an Ontarion sighs when he thinks of the hard cash he could realize were it only possible to magically transfer those same left-over and cast-aside logs "back east," where sawlogs are sawlogs, and in a similar case to the well-known one of the (pardon the chestnut) Saxon and Hibernian. The former, seeing Pat driving a fat steer to Limerick market, enquired how much he would get for the animal. "Fifteen pounds," was the answer.

"Why!" said the Englishman, "if you had him in Liverpool you would get twenty pounds for him."

"Yes," exclaimed Pat, "and if I had the lakes of Killarney at the gates of hell, I could get a shilling a glass for them."

Coals to Newcastle.

Imagine any lumber dealer from a foreign country endeavoring to find in British Columbia a market for his goods! This actually happened a short time ago at Victoria, where a Russian had come for the purpose of enquiring into the chances of selling Siberian timber out here. We think he abandoned the idea, although his firm makes extensive shipments of telegraph poles, etc., to Mexico. Anyway, the Russian may have been only one hundred and fifty years or so too early, for Rudyard Kipling, in a fantastic "glimpse into the future" story reckons on Siberia as the lumber producer for the brotherhood of nations that will then be living on the Utopian globe. But those times are apparently a long way off, and the Pacific coast holds the palm yet.

With British Columbia timber limits it is much the same story as it was in regard to Northwest lands. The Americans are getting in on the ground floor, and while English capital lags behind in the time-honored, conservative way, the shrewd Yankee is getting a huge slice of what is today the finest timber country in the world.

Editor's Weird Story.

J. A. Osborne, editor of The Fort Francis Times, who has just completed a trip of exploration in Northeastern Canada, brings back tales of wholesale murder, cannibalism, terrible privation, and deadly feuds among the natives along the shores of James Bay and Labrador.

A young man who flew in terror to Moose Factory while Mr. Osborne was there, said that he feared his uncle, who had killed and eaten eight human beings. A woman also, who was at the settlement, had, in desperate straits of famine, killed and eaten her two children.

As these occurrences did not seem to have caused any great stir in that region, Mr. Osborne has come to the conclusion that cannibalism is practiced openly on many occasions among the Indians and half-breeds.

The great snowfall of last winter, combined with intense cold and the scarcity of small game, produced the famine conditions which caused such suffering, and in one case practically wiped out a Cree village, on Main River.

Having no provisions stored up, and with streams frozen solid, the Indians starved to death, with the exception of a party of young men and women, who decided to try to make Hudson Bay Fort, 150 miles down the stream. After a journey marked by untold privation they reached the fort more dead than alive.

A relief expedition sent back to the village found nothing except thirteen bodies in the rude huts.

Mr. Osborne says the Indian and Eskimo population of the region is diminishing rapidly, due partly to emigration to the coast of Labrador and partly to the prevalence of disease and frequent scarcity of food. He says many of the natives are falling prey to tuberculosis.

AN OLD TIME DRINK.

Refreshing Switchel and the Way It Used to Be Made.

They don't make it nowadays—not mostly. But they used to make it years ago, and how good it was! The corn lot had to be cultivated, and it was a long way from the house, and it was very hot up there on the hillside. When they loaded the cultivator and the hoes and spades on the stone boat and hitched the two horses to that dry ground vessel, they stowed away as part of the cargo a big stone jug. And when the corn lot was reached the jug was stowed away in a shady fence corner under the butternut tree and covered over with grass to keep it cool. What was in the jug? Switchel. It was made of vinegar, molasses, ginger and water. The water was drawn from the spring beside the kitchen and was as cold as ice could have made it. And the stone jug kept it cold. The vinegar gave it a pleasant acidity, the ginger a little "tang"—that's what they called it up in "the country"—and the molasses just sweetened it a bit. And how good it was to go over into the fence corner and take a few swallows out of that jug of switchel!

Come on, let's go and get a glass of ice cream soda. It will be somewhere about the hundredth part as good as a draft of switchel out of that stone jug in the fence corner in the corn lot up in the country.

She Was a Stayer.

One of the longest visits on record is one that was made by a woman in the south. Perhaps such a thing could not have happened in a less hospitable part of the country. The visitor was one of those most unfortunate waifs and strays of the country—a refined woman with no home of her own. That was in the days when women were expected to be cared for and not go out into the world to look out for themselves. This woman went one day to spend the day with a friend, and she remained for twenty-five years. She outlived the father and mother of the family, took their places to some extent in the hearts of the children, and for all those years she lived there happy and beloved and giving in return for her home those services which cannot be hired.—Exchange.

Sam Houston on Education.

One of the provisions in the will of General Sam Houston read:

"My will is that my sons should receive solid and useful education and that no portion of their time may be devoted to the study of abstract science. I greatly desire that they may possess a thorough knowledge of the English language, with a good knowledge of the Latin language. I request that they be instructed in the Holy Scriptures and next to these that they be rendered thorough in a knowledge of geography and history. I wish my sons early taught an entire contempt for novels and light reading."—Fort Worth Telegram.

CLAIM BIG ESTATE.

Two Gagnon Cousins of Montreal May Divide Four Millions.

Montreal, Nov. 5.—Four million dollars is a lot of money. Two Montreal men in comparatively humble circumstances hope to divide this sum between them in due time. They are Jules Gagnon of 240 Sanguinet street, and his cousin, Honore Gagnon. Mr. Jules Gagnon himself explained it yesterday.

Eight years ago, in 1899, his cousin Francois Gagnon, an old man of 81 years died in San Luis Obispo, Cal., Francois Gagnon was a wealthy man, and Jules and Honore Gagnon, as his nearest of kin, claim to be his heirs. The old man certainly left no will, and his property ought to be under the administration of his lawyers, with whom Mr. Jules Gagnon is trying to come to an arrangement.

It is now three years since Mr. Gagnon of Sanguinet street heard of the death of his aged relative, with whom, unfortunately, he had not kept in touch. He employed a notary to establish his claim, but made no progress, and now he has written direct to Judge Coffey of San Francisco, asking for definite information regarding the four-million-dollar estate, of which the judge declares himself to be ignorant.

WAS AFRAID OF CORPSE.

Farmer Dragged Housekeeper's Body Out Into the Storm.

Woburn, Mass., Nov. 5.—Medical Examiner Harrison S. Blake of this city went to Burlington Sunday to investigate the death of Mrs. Sarah Higgins, aged 60 years, whose body was found at the home of George Stubbs, a farmer, for whom she acted as housekeeper.

Stubbs told the medical examiner that Mrs. Higgins had been missing for several days, and that Saturday night he went into the cellar to get some potatoes, when he stumbled over her body. Not liking the idea of remaining in the house with the body during the night, Stubbs says he opened the bulkhead leading from the cellar and drew the body out into the backyard, where he covered it with some pieces of burlap. There the body remained through Saturday night's storm.

Early Sunday Stubbs went to the home of a constable at Burlington Centre and notified him of the case. Bruises were found on the face and side of the head.

AGENT-GENERAL FOR ONTARIO.

May Be Appointed to Represent Province In London.

Toronto, Nov. 5.—As a result of a call upon the Premier by Hon. J. H. Turner, formerly a member of the British Columbia Government, but for some time agent-general of that province in England, the local Government will consider the question of appointing such a representative for Ontario. Mr. Turner spoke very glowingly to the Premier as to the wisdom of such a course, "but," said Mr. Whitney, "while there is no doubt, however, that, considered by itself alone, good results would come from it, yet on the other hand the question has to be considered with especial reference to the authority and power of the High Commissioner of the Dominion, and accordingly it can easily be seen that it would require on our part a good deal of consideration before a decision in favor of such a policy could be arrived at.

"Australia, I may say, has no agent-general, but each of its states has its own representative."

Plural Marriages In Canada.

Winnipeg, Man., Nov. 5.—"There are as many plural marriages in Canada to-day as there are in the United States." This statement, although seeming incredible, was made yesterday by Rev. George T. Webb, general secretary of the Baptist Young People's Association of America.

"The people of Canada are not awake to the design the Mormons have in Canada." Mr. Webb has just returned from a trip to the Mormon settlements.

Couldn't Pray, So Hanged.

New York, Nov. 5.—Moody because he could not find sufficient time during each 24 hours to offer up as many prayers as he desired, John Durowits, a Russian, hanged himself Sunday from a rafter in the barn in which he lived, at Amityville, L. I.

His religious exaltation and devotion to prayer had been noticed by the men who worked with him, and they had censured him for quitting his toil many times a day to go and pray.

Burglars at Windsor.

Windsor, Nov. 5.—Burglars entered three homes on Victoria avenue, the fashionable residence district of the city. In the house of George Nairn they took three dollars and had the nerve to eat a meal. In the residence of Capt. Dewson, across the road, they stole a roast of beef, and from Druggist D'Avignon they took a pair of shoes.

Victim of Black Hand.

Passaic, N. J., Nov. 5.—Raffale Ruffano and wife, Antoinette, were murdered in Carfield, N.J., Sunday night. They had been compelled to leave Italy very suddenly two years ago, but gave no reason for their hasty departure. Mrs. Ruffano always carried a revolver.

Suicides With Old Glory.

Baltimore, Nov. 5.—Mrs. Cornelie McKelvie twisted an American flag into a rope, and with it committed suicide, by hanging herself to a closet door.

Melancholia is supposed to have prompted the act.

Record of Crimes.

Ottawa, Nov. 5.—The Chief Constables' Association decided to make W. P. Archibald's office a headquarters of criminal records, so that these may readily be obtained by the Department of Justice when applications for pardons are received.

It is claimed that counsel for prisoners frequently obtain pardons for their clients by misrepresentations.

SOCIALISTS THREATEN.

Adopt Hostile Attitude Towards Kaiser In England.

London, Nov. 5.—The coming visit of the German Emperor and Empress to this city is the cause of apprehension, for a section of the English Socialists have declared their intention of making hostile demonstrations along the line of the procession from Paddington station to the Guildhall.

The police having been forewarned, will make every effort to prevent the carrying out of their intentions, but it may prove a matter of some difficulty.

The general public may, however, be relied upon to give the grandson of Queen Victoria a hearty welcome.

The Anarchists are never active in England, but to make it doubly sure the Soho quarter of the city, their refuge in England, is being closely watched by English and foreign detectives, and the whereabouts of all dangerous persons is already known to Scotland Yard and their movements will be followed.

As is the usual course on the arrival of foreign sovereigns, the Emperor and Empress will land at Portsmouth, where they will be welcomed by the Prince of Wales and the Duke of Connaught. The approach to the landing stage will be through lines of British men-of-war, Admiral Lord Charles Beresford having been ordered to take the Channel fleet to Spithead to greet them.

PINNED DOWN BY TANK.

Mail Clerk Has Miraculous Escape In Train Wreck.

Bracebridge, Nov. 5.—A short siding at Falkenburg, five miles north of this place, caused the Soo express to crash into a freight train The engines of both trains, a mail car and a freight car, were completely wrecked and while no one was badly hurt, Thomas Mason, mail clerk, of Toronto, had a narrow escape. The mail car was lifted right on to the top of the engine and Mason went through the floor.

The car was lighted by gas contained in a tank under the car. When the smash came he was pinned by this tank to the side wall. Shortly the tank fell away and freed him. The escaping gas nearly suffocated him. The tender was driven right into the mail car, and the boiler on top of that. He clambered around until he got his head out and breathed fresh air and afterwards groped around until he was able to get outside.

GALE WORKS HAVOC.

Several Ships Missing on Newfoundland Coast—Many Lives Lost.

St. John's, Nfld., Nov. 5.—It is feared that many lives were lost in the last heavy gale. Three Newfoundland fishing schooners are missing and four French vessels belonging to the St. Pierre banking fleet have not reported. Wreckage washed ashore on the southern coast of Newfoundland indicates that the schooner Orion was lost.

She carried a crew of 18 men, all of whom are missing. The Orion was on her way home from a fishing trip on the grand banks and she encountered the storm ten days ago.

MASSACRED THE PERSIANS.

Turcoman Disorders Have Again Broken Out In Many Places.

Teheran, Nov. 5.—According to advices received here the Turcomans have wrought havoc in the City of Astrabad, capital of the Persian province of that name, where they massacred the inhabitants and then looted their property.

The disorders at various other places have increased, and punitive expeditions have been sent out.

Oxford Editor Dead.

Ingersoll, Nov. 5.—Harry Rowland, founder of The Oxford Tribune, and for over 40 years a resident of this town, died Sunday night after a lingering illness, in his 71st year.

The deceased was a native of England, and at the age of six years came to Canada with his parents, who settled in Middlesex County. He learned the printing trade in London, and in 1863 came to Ingersoll. He retired from journalism and active work several years ago owing to failing health.

Lynching In Texas.

Montreal Live Stock.

MONTREAL, Nov. 4.—(Special.)—Exports for October were 12,330 cattle, 2286 sheep, making the total for the season to date 85,311 cattle and 7251 sheep, as compared with 111,972 cattle and 9391 sheep for the corresponding period last year.

At the Montreal Stocks Yards' West End Market the receipts of live stock for the week ending Nov. 2 were 4165 cattle, 3949 sheep and lambs, 5341 hogs and 786 calves. Supplies for the local market to-day consisted of 1600 cattle, 3000 sheep and lambs, 2200 hogs and 300 calves.

Choice beeves were quoted at 4¾c, while good stock sold at 4¼c to 4½c; fair at 3½c to 4c; common at 2½c to 3c, and canners at 1¼c to 1½c per lb.

An easier feeling has developed in the market for sheep, and prices since this day week have declined 15c to 25c per 100 lbs., which has been due to the weaker cable advices and the fact that supplies are coming forward more freely. At the above reduction the demand for export account was fair, and sales were made at 4¼c per lb., but the trade in butchers' sheep was slow at 3¼c to 3½c, and holders of culls are finding it difficult to make sales, even at 2c per lb., as a lot of them have now been on the market for the past two weeks without meeting with a buyer, which to some extent is due to the tight money situation. The tone of the market for lambs was also easier, and prices were ¼c per lb. lower than a week ago, on account of the more liberal supplies; the demand was good, and an active trade was done at 5¾c to 6c per lb.

A good trade was done in calves, and, as supplies were not in excess of the requirements, prices show no change. Choice stock sold at $12 to $15; good at $8 to $10; fair at $5 to $7, and common at $3 to $4 each. The condition of the market for hogs continues weak, and prices since last Wednesday have scored another decline of 5c to 15c per 100 lbs., which is due principally to the large receipts, there being over 5800 head received last week, and the offerings this morning were over 2000. The demand was fairly good, and sales of selected lots were made at $6.25 to $6.35 per 100 lbs., weighed off cars.

He Had Them All.

Sir Frederick Treves is a man who hates pretense and deception. No matter how wealthy a prospective patient may be, if there is nothing ailing him he will be told so frankly, perhaps bluntly.

The other day a wealthy London magnate called on Sir Frederick and poured into his ear a tale of woe. When he had graphically described one particular ache the famous surgeon muttered, "First rate!" Then came some harrowing details as to another pain, and Sir Frederick remarked, "Splendid!" At the recital of yet another symptom Treves slapped him on the back.

"Sir," he said, "you are indeed fortunate. You have all the diseases known to present day medical science and one that we believed to be extinct."

Then it dawned upon the magnate that there was, after all, nothing wrong with him, and he departed, uncertain whether he ought to feel grateful or resentful.

Stands Still.

"Your friend, Miss Passay, has become quite chummy with Miss Newcombe. I don't suppose there's much difference in their ages."

"I can't answer for Miss Newcombe, but there isn't any difference in Miss Passay's age. She has been twenty-one for the past ten years to my knowledge."

Sweet Joy.

"I was just going to ask you to subscribe to this purse for Jibbies' widow when I happened to remember that he was your worst enemy."

"I'll be delighted to subscribe. Just think how it will grind him wherever he is."

Different Viewpoints.

"One woman," remarked the mere man, "is just as good as another—if not better."

"And one man," rejoined the fair widow, "is just as bad as another—if not worse."

Plenty of Them.

PAROLE SYSTEM WORKS WELL

But Canada's Jail Population Is Increasing In Numbers.

PRISON INJURIOUS TO YOUTHS

No Benefit to Young Criminal to Be Sent to Jail—Minister of Justice Reports Less Crime — Only One Escape In Twelve Months—Question of Employment After Prisoners Are Released.

Ottawa, Nov. 5.—The annual report of the Department of Justice for the last fiscal year issued yesterday shows that the average daily population of the several penitentiaries of the Dominion was 1,433, as compared with 1,407 in 1906, and 1,359 in 1905.

This gradual increase, the report says, corresponds with the increasing population of the country, and is not such as to indicate any alarming advance in criminality. The number of criminals who accompany the rush of immigration is evidently offset, or counter-balanced by the existing facilities for employment at remunerative rates, as illness and consequent poverty are the principal inducements to crime. The ability to earn an honest living is an effective preventive except in the case of wilful criminals only.

The operation of the parole law continues to be satisfactory. The paroles in the nine months ending March 31, 1907, numbered 157, the pardons 29, and the escapes one.

The number of absolutely illiterate convicts is equal to about 17 per cent., while not more than 10 per cent. have had the advantage of a good common school education.

Lads under 20 years of age constitute 11 per cent. of the total, notwithstanding the unsuitability of penitentiaries for immature criminals.

It is safe to assume that not more than one in a thousand of this class are benefited by penitentiary experience.

The percentage of Canadian-born convicts is 61, as compared with 17 per cent. ten years ago.

Fourteen per cent. of the penitentiary population are classed as total abstainers, 44 per cent. as temperate and 42 per cent. as intemperate.

CAUGHT IN SHAFTING.

Workman at St. Catharines Meets a Shocking Death.

St. Catharines, Nov. 5.—A fatal accident occurred yesterday at Whitman & Barnes knife works, the victim being Edward Liptrott, millwright, who had been in the employ of the company but a few weeks. Deceased was engaged on a machine, and his clothing became caught on the shafting. One arm was torn from the body, death resulting almost instantly. Liptrott was born in England, but had been in America for years, having come to St. Catharines from Buffalo in May last, and having worked for some time at the Packard electric works before going to the knife factory.

May Lose Right Eye.

St. Catharines, Nov. 5.—Two 13-year-old boys, one of them St. Clair Wright, son of Baker Wright, were playing with a toy pistol. The weapon refused to discharge and young Wright looked into the barrel to find out what was wrong. The blank cartridge in exploding damaged the boy's right eye to such an extent that the sight can hardly be saved.

Paper Mills Close.

Bangor, Me., Nov. 5.—Notices posted in the mills of the Great Northern Paper Co. at Millinocket announce that the mills will be closed for an indefinite time, as the result of the demands made by the machine-tenders for international brotherhood.

About 1,500 men are idle on account of the shut-down.

HON. ADELARD TURGEON IS VICTOR

Crushing Defeat For Mr. Bourassa in Bellechasse.

OTHER ELECTION RESULTS

Size of Majority a Surprise to Both Parties—Devlin Has Good Lead In Nicolet — Not Much Disappointment to Quebec City—Regarded as Liberal Fight — Many Abstained From Voting.

Quebec, Nov. 5.—The provincial bye-elections in Quebec yesterday resulted in a victory for the Government candidates. The greatest interest probably centered in Bellechasse, where Hon. Mr. Turgeon and Henri Bourassa were the principals in a spectacular battle. Bourassa was overwhelmed.

In Montmorency, Asschereau won by a majority of 870. Bernier was his opponent.

In Rimouski, Danjous won by 348.

Devlin, recently elevated from the House of Commons to the Quebec Cabinet, had a closer fight, relatively, but won by 364.

The Result In Bellechasse.

Mr. Turgeon's majority in Bellechasse is now given at about 760, the return from one small poll being doubtful.

This unexpected large majority for the Minister is explained by the general abstention from voting of the Conservative electors. Many of them regarded the fight as one between two Liberals. Others refused to take the part of a stranger who was not a Conservative against a son of the county.

There is not much disappointment in Quebec City over the result. Everything passed off very quietly in the county yesterday, and neither side has much to say in the way of comment.

ROBBED THE EXPRESS.

Packages Properly Labelled Were Sent to the Wrong Addresses.

New York, Nov. 5.—Six men were arraigned in the Police Court yesterday, charged with robberies from the Adams' Express Co., which, it is alleged, will aggregate between $30,000 and $60,000. The prisoners were Charles McCarthy and Max Pope, employee of the company, and Jacob Levy, Wolf Levy, James Zuckerman and Henry Moskowitz.

It is charged that when McCarthy or Pope came in possession of packages addressed to persons outside of New York City they pasted another address over the one on the package, sending it to one of the four who are accused of receiving the goods.

MISCARRIAGE OF JUSTICE.

Innocent Man Kept Five Years In Prison For Another's Crime.

Pittsbrg, Pa., Nov. 5.—After having served half of a ten years' sentence in the western Pennsylvania penitentiary, for a crime committed by another, Robert Simpson, who was convicted of engaging in a safe robbery in the Irwin, Pa., postoffice, in Westmoreland County, about six years ago, will be given his freedom by the state pardon board.

It has been discovered that the robbery was committed by two men, both of whom are now dead.

SOCIALISTS ARE SWAMPED.

Complete Municipal Returns Show Only Four Elected In England.

London, Nov. 5.—The complete results from the municipal elections held in England and Wales last week augment the already enormous Conservative gains and emphasizes the defeat of the Socialists. The returns from 145 boroughs show the following gains.

Conservatives 126, Liberals 21, Laborites 23, Socialists 4, and Independents 4.

BELLEVILLE GIRL BADLY BURNED

Flames Bring Death and Destruction In Many Places.

FATAL PLAY WITH MATCHES

Invalid Girl Set on Fire by Baby Brother—Other Children Burned to Death — Big Fire at Forest—Catholic Church Destroyed—Orillia Suffers Much Damage—Lumber Yard Ablaze.

Paris, Nov. 5.—Yesterday morning the invalid daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Ross, aged 17 years, of Paris Junction, was nearly burned to death while asleep, and will likely die.

Her little brother had gotten hold of some matches, and set fire to the curtains upstairs in the room where the young woman lay helpless to even call out an alarm or move from the bed.

The flames spread to the cot and were making fast headway when the mother, aroused by the calls of the little boy, rushed into the room, and with great difficulty and presence of mind succeeded in smothering the fire.

Medical aid was immediately summoned, but could do but little for the suffering child, and no great hopes are held out for her recovery.

The young girl in question has been confined to her bed ever since she was six months old.

Children Played With Fire.

Belleville, Nov. 5.—Mrs. Ben Simpson, of this city, went out into the yard Sunday after a pail of water, leaving her two children, aged 5 and 3, in the kitchen.

When she returned, a few minuter later, the youngest, Mabel, was on fire. She had played with fire in the stove. Her little brother, trying to put the fire out, had thrown a dipper of water on her, but without avail. The little girl died shortly afterwards. The mother is nearly crazed with grief.

Three Fires at Orillia.

Orillia, Nov. 5.—At 4 o'clock yesterday morning, fire gutted the frame dwelling at the foot of Mathcedesh street, occupied by Samuel McPherson. Loss on the building and contents is about $800.

At 5.30 the brigade were called out for a blaze in the Tudhope Carriage Co.'s lumber yard. Spontaneous combustion had ignited a coal-pile, and flames spread to the lumber. The damage was slight.

The World Furnishing Co.'s factory was found to be on fire at 11.30, and at one time it looked as if the whole massive structure would be consumed. The firemen, after a hard fight, were able to confine the fire to the drying-kiln, where it originated probably from becoming over-heated. Loss about $2,500; partially insured.

New Church In Ruins.

Fort William, Nov. 5.—The Catholic Church, in course of erection here, was burned Sunday night. Loss $15,000.

Blaze at Forest.

Forest, Nov. 5.—About 4 o'clock on Sunday morning the Stave and Heading Mill, owned by J. Greenlees and M. Kennedy, Forest and Sutherland and the Innes Co., of Chatham, was discovered in flames.

When the firemen arrived nothing could be done but protect the surrounding buildings. The loss is $6,000, insurance, $3,000; $1,500 in London Mutual, and $1,500 in Economical Berlin. Origin unknown.

Big Fire In Lockport.

Lockport, N. Y., Nov. 5.—Fire which broke out in the Olmstead Excelsior works early yesterday resulted in the destruction of that building, the five-storey mills of the Franklin Milling Co. across the street, Hevey's coal trestle in the rear of the Franklin mills, and the New York Central's signal tower. Loss $200,000.

Oakville Unspotted.

Oakville, Nov. 5.—The slight epidemic of smallpox prevalent for the past six weeks has been entirely overcome, here have been no new cases for nearly three weeks; all the suspects under quarantine have been released, and the few remaining patients at the isolation camp are all doing well and having a good time.

The churches were all crowded on Sunday, for the first time in many weeks, and the public schools were re-opened yesterday with a good attendance.

John D. a Foreigner.

Findlay, Ohio, Nov. 5.—Judge Duncan in Common Pleas Court yesterday quashed the summons served upon John D. Rockefeller in Cleveland last summer.

His opinion is that Mr. Rockefeller represents a foreign corporation that is not doing business in Ohio, and that Mr. Rockefeller's visit to this state was purely a personal one.

Sunk In Boston Harbor.

Boston, Nov. 5.—The steamer City of Birmingham of the Ocean Steamship Co., struck a ledge in the harbor early yesterday while bound out to Savannah and sank in ten fathoms of water, about two miles below her dock.

The crew escaped.

Negro Murderer Suicides.

Knoxville, Tenn., Nov. 5.—In view of 300 persons, Jim Davis, a negro who had shot two negro women, leaped from the railing of the Tennessee River bridge to the water, 100 feet below, and was drowned.

Davis yelled that he had killed 28 persons.

Missing Vessel Reported.

Seattle, Wash., Nov. 5.—The four masted ship Arthur Sewall, which left Philadelphia in March for Seattle with coal, was reported off Cape Flattery yesterday, and is expected to enter the straits within a few hours.

Five Dead In Wreck.

Little Rock, Ark., Nov. 5.—Five persons were killed and a score more injured in a head-on collision between a northbound passenger train and a southbound freight, near Riggins' switch.

HAD CUTE SCHEME.

Canadian Arrested In Cincinnati For Running Lottery Game.

Cincinnati, Nov. 5.—Herman Croll, who claims that his home is in Toronto, Ont., was heavily fined here on a charge of obtaining money under false pretences. The police say he was introducing a Canadian lottery here. He sold tickets got up in the form of a bond. The headquarters of the company are in Montreal, and it is known as the Montreal Bond Co.

Croll, it is said, did a lucrative business in Cincinnati and surrounding towns. Croll maintains that his business is perfectly legitimate, and that the Bond Co. will do all it agrees to do.

TURNED OUT THE JAP.

United States Again Draws Color Line on Mikado's Subject.

Savannah, Ga., Nov. 5.—The Board of Education has decided to dismiss George Yugoma, a Japanese boy, who was admitted to the night school two weeks ago.

Yugoma was admitted during the absence from the city of Superintendent Ashmore. When the latter returned and learned of it he pointed out that it was a breaking of the racial lines, which could not be done in the south.

To Purify Yukon.

Ottawa, Nov. 5.—A strong deputation representing the Presbyterian, Methodist and Baptist churches of Canada will wait upon Sir Wilfrid Laurier this morning to ask that the laws in the Yukon regarding morality be more strictly enforced.

Hon. Dr. McInnes Dead.

Winnipeg, Nov. 5.—Dr. S. W. McInnes, Minister of Education, and member for Brandon in the Local Legislature, died in Brandon yesterday morning, after an operation for appendicitis.

He was 40 years of age.

Park Scheme Was Favoured By Board Of Education

Aldermen Waited Upon The Board Last Night in Reference To The Matter—Park in South is Badly Needed

THE COMMITTEE NAMED

A deputation from the City Council consisting of Ald. Duncan and Tovey waited upon the Board of Education at its regular meeting last night, in connection with the proposal to make a park of the lots owned by the Board on the east side of Romaine street. The scheme was brought up at the meeting of the Council on Monday night and was very favourablytreated by that body. When it was discussed by the Board last night the same conditions applied, and it seemed to be the unanimous opinion that a park in the south end of the city was a necessity, and that the lots in question were the best suited for the purpose. Accordingly, the Property Committee was named as a committee to meet a committee from the Council in reference to the matter.

When the deputation was introduced, Ald. Tovey said that the matter was broached at the Council meeting on Monday night and that it had been intimated that the ground in question would make a very desirable park. The Council was of the opinion that it would be a good thing not only for the city as a whole, but it would benefit the school.

Ald. Duncan said that a park was very badly needed in the south end of the city. He suggested that the Board should select a committee to confer with the committee of the Council in the matter.

Chairman Fair remarked that he agreed with Ald. Duncan that a park in the south end would be appreciated.

Mr. Dumble remarked that he was glad that the Council had thought of the park scheme. "It's getting near election time," he said with a smile. Speaking of the proposal, he said that he was heartily in favour of it. When the Board had bought the property many people complained that they were purchasing too much ground, but events had proved that no mistake had been made. He hoped that the Council would see that the lot was kept in as good condition as the school grounds would be. In conclusion he moved that the Property Committee be a committee to deal with representatives of the City Council in reference to the matter.

Mr. Robinson seconded the motion, remarking that the park proposal was a very good thing. There was no plot of ground there upon which the children were free to play. The onus of keeping up the park would be on the City Council, and at the same time the children of the King Edward School would be in a position to freely use the park.

Mr. Hill said that if the property was disposed of he would like to see it go as a park. He thought that the Board should, however, get a fair price for the property. It was a case of the whole city buying from a part, and the latter should be treated fairly.

THE NEW INSPECTOR WELCOMED

Mr. Mowat Addressed The Board Of Education at it's Meeting Last Night

MADE A GOOD IMPRESSION

Mr. A. Mowat, the new Inspector of Public Schools for Peterborough, was present at the meting of the Board of Education last night, and was given a hearty welcome to Peterborough by that body. Mr. Dumble, on behalf of the board, welcomed Mr. Mowat to Peterborough, and expressed the hope that his connection with the schools of this city would be profitable to the schools and pleasant to himself. He had no doubt that in view of Mr. Mowat's excellent reputation he would succeed in the position, and he wished him every success.

The new inspector in reply thanked the Board for its welcome, and said that he would do his best to give it satisfaction. What success he had in the past, and he was proud that he had had some, was not from any particular brilliancy on his part, but but had been the result of perseverance and the exercise of common sense. In other places he stated that it had always been his advantage or disadvantage to follow weak men in the position, but it was different in this case, as his predecessor, Mr. Walker, was a very strong man. He would follow and study his methods, and was sure that he would meet with success.

Mr. Mowat made a very favourable impression upon the Board by his plain, straightforward speech.

THE OMEMEE HUNTERS LEAVE

A Number of Marksmen From That Village Are In The Woods

Examiner special.

Omemee, Nov. 5.—The wet, cold weather has proved very favourable for hard ploughing. Farmers in this section are well on with it.

The Bible Society meeting held in the Methodist Church proved a great success in every respect. Two excellent addresses were delivered by the local clergymen, Rev. Mr Teeney and Rev. Mr. Peakover.

Rev. Mr. Teeney, accompanied by Mr. Davis and others, left Monday morning for their deer hunt in Muskoka. The reverend gentleman is confident of capturing one or two, being an excellent and careful sportsman.

Mr. Oke of Peterborough shipped a carload of No. 1 apples from here to-day. Jack Frost has been giving a lively chase to the pickers and packers.

There were the usual Hallow E'en tricks here, but no serious damage, the boys being cautioned by the county constable.

Mr. W. G. English, after leaving here three years ago to accept the position of chief painter and decoration in the Canadian General Electric Company's works, Peterborough, returned for a well-earned holiday to accompany his father on a deer hunt. This being his first outing since taking that position, we wish him the usual complement of sport.

Miss Florence Irene McPherson, only daughter of Mr. T. A. McPherson, and Mr. W. G. Stephenson, of Stephenson Bros., millers and grain dealers, were united in matrimony on Thanksgiving Day at the home of the bride's parents. The wedding was a very quiet but pretty one, being confined to the immediate friends and relatives.

The anniversary services and fowl supper in connection with the Lakevale Presbyterian Church, Smith, will be largely attended on November 17 and 19. A good programme is in store, and no one should miss it.

NOVEMBER ROD AND GUN NEWS

Stories of the Hunt and the Vanishing Of The Deer—Outdoor Life in General

VERY INTERESTING STORIES

November is the month of the big game hunter, a month to which he has long looked forward, and an outing which will well repay him for the grind of the other part of the year. This outing will be robbed of much of its interest if a copy of the November issue of "Rod and Gun and Motor Sports in Canada," published by W. J. Taylor at Woodstock, Ont., is not included amongst the articles taken to the camp. Although the October number was devoted to hunting, the same topic is kept well to the front in the November issue, other subjects being allowed a place, and the variety which appeals so strongly to all lovers of out of doors sports being kept well in evidence. There are several articles in this number which no sportsman ought to miss, and included in that category may be mentioned those entitled "How One Settler Treats the Deer," and "The Story of the Game Warden." The particular settler named saves the lives of many deer which get caught in the ice in spring, and if all settlers followed the fine example thus set there would not be such a need as there is at present for the further article on "The Tragedy of the Deer." The story of the rise of the game warden and the importance of his work so closely concerns the future of our big game that sportsmen may well consider and discuss the various points to which this article gives rise. Included in the number are many other stories dealing with different phases of out-door life within the Dominion, and it is this variety and the manner in which the whole country is covered that enables the magazine to appeal so successfully to all who are interested in out-door life in any of its many forms.

Hunting and hunting topics at present occupy the major portion of the thoughts of those who indulge in the pursuit of big game. From all reports, the season promises to be one of the best of recent years, and hunters, full of high anticipations have their preparations well in hand. Included in these arrangements for the perfect enjoyment of the open season must be the possession of the November number of "Rod and Gun and Motor Sports in Canada," published by W. J. Taylor, Woodstock, Ont. Although the October number was filled with hunting stories, the supply was far, indeed, from being exhausted, as the November issue shows, and mingled amongst pleasant fishing articles will be found much to interest those who are now on hunting thoughts intent. "How One Settler Treats the Deer" should be read by every sportsman. It is short, but effective, and if the example thus set were followed by settlers in general we would hear less about the vanishing of our deer and the parts played by the settlers in that vanishing. "The Story of the Game Warden" is full of interest to sportsmen, and the many questions it raises may well be discussed around the camp-fires. There are numerous other matters raised in the articles dealing with the part taken by dogs in deer hunting, and one dog man goes so far as to want still hunting prohibited by law. The whole Dominion is laid under contribution in these articles, and from Newfoundland to British Columbia come stories to complete a number which should form a valued companion not only of every hunter, but likewise of every lover of out-door life.

Saved Her Friend.

Ottawa, Ont.—Acquaintances of Mrs. M. E. Dewar, of this city, are showering her with congratulations on being rescued from what promised to be hopeless invalidism. Mrs. Dewar had not been herself for years. Physicians treated her for various complaints, but none of them did any permanent good. Finally, a friend determined that something must be done and that quickly. So she insisted on Mrs. Dewar trying "Fruit-a-tives"—those wonderful Fruit Liver Tablets that are curing so many people. Here is what Mrs. Dewar says about "Fruit-a-tives." "I have much pleasure in stating that I have found 'Fruit-a-tives' the best medicine I ever used for Constipation and Biliousness. I suffered from headaches of a severe kind for a long time, but, after taking 'Fruit-a-tives,' I have become entirely well. I can, with every confidence, recommend 'Fruit-a-tives' to anyone suffering from Constipation, Biliousness or Headaches."

Calomel, salts, oil and other violent cathartics act simply on the bowels. "Fruit-a-tives" are a liver tonic and stimulant. They act directly on the liver — reducing inflammation and increasing the flow of bile. Besides insuring complete digestion, bile makes the bowels move. That is why "Fruit-a-tives" also cure Constipation. They are made of fruit and tonics. 50c a box; 6 for $2.50. At all druggists, or sent on receipt of price. Fruit-a-tives, Limited, Ottawa, Ont.

TRACES MISSING YOUTHS.

Occultist In Regina Gives Display of His Powers.

John M. Lacey of Regina, Sask., who claims to possess occult powers, recently sent written instructions to Mrs. W. F. Graham in connection with Carl Thornton and Roy Graham who are reported lost on Lake Manitoba, as to where they could be found. He says there are indications of an accident but he does not care to discuss its nature. At all events, he is sure the boys wandered far into the interior and have there become separated and by this time perished. When first communicated with from Winnipeg, Lacey requested that no particulars be sent so that he would not be embarrassed in the case. In his letter he gave a description of the boys themselves, their boat and the articles found in it, in addition to describing what has transpired. If his description does not lead to the recovery of the boys, he will himself go to Winnipeg. Further details he prefers to keep secret until the case is further advanced. Lacey came to Canada from England about twelve years ago and during that time he has traveled much in the United States and speaks with an American accent. He is very quiet and reserved, but speaks with conviction, although not boastfully, of his mysterious gift. Last winter he had a very important case which compelled him to travel all over the middle States and down into Florida. He refuses to discuss this case as it was in connection with important Government matters and must be kept secret. Lacey has been conscious of this power for four or five years and can now exercise it at will. He does not know what scientific name could be given to it. He has never met any person in this country with similar powers, but by means of telepathy, he has come into contact with persons similarly endowed with this gift in India and Japan, the homes of occultism.

He claims to be able to describe all sorts of past events and foretell the future. His favorite work is giving horoscopes. At various times he has appeared before eminent American scientists who wished to investigate his powers. He does not make use of his gifts for commercial ends and hopes he will not have to go to Winnipeg. He has resided in Regina for three months and is an electrician by trade.

"DEVILISH" CRUELTY.

Indians In Keewatin District Confess to Horrible Crimes.

News of wholesale strangling and burning by Indians reached Winnipeg recently when Commissioner A. Bowen Perry, R. N. W. M. P., and his party arrived from Norway House.

In one instance a victim was only partly strangled and was then burned and finally shot. Getting rid of sick and useless friends appears to have been the principal object of the crimes, and the interested parties are believed to have paid the executioners.

The scene of these crimes is in the region of Keewatin district, just above the northeast corner of Manitoba.

Commissioner Bowen held court at the Hudson Bay Co.'s fort at Norway House on Oct. 7. Chief Jack of the Sucker band of Salteaux Indians, had strangled and throttled himself to death shortly before that date, but his brother Joseph Fiddler, another chief, was tried and shown to have had a hand in several atrocious murders, he having strangled his kinswomen, Mrs. Thomas Fiddler, and helped to strangle a man named Menewasacum.

Eyelids and Angus Rae, brothers, told of five stranglings and burnings in which they had had a hand. The brothers buried the bodies in two of these cases, but in the other three the victims were thrown on a huge fire.

In one case the victim had been only partly strangled, and the thongs by which he was bound on a platform over the fire were burst by the heat. All in flames this poor wretch ran shrieking through the woods, friends then killing him by the use of shotguns.

Joseph Fiddler was sentenced to be hanged on Jan. 7 and Angus Rae is still at the Fort and will likely be arraigned on the murder charge. Another culprit, David Meekis, had been strangled and burned by his brothers and other people.

The police will go to Sandy Lake to bring back the Rae and Meekis families, who are implicated in the crimes, and Eyelids will be sent to the far north to tell the fate that stranglers meet.

Hairbrushes.

Hairbrushes need a weekly cleansing. For this purpose add one tablespoonful of soda to a quart of hot water, dip the bristles—not the back—into this and shake well until perfectly clean. Rinse and stand on edge to dry.

Licorice Root.

Licorice root grows wild in the fields of Asia Minor and until fifty years ago was practically unused. Today the annual exports to the United States alone are worth about $350,000.

Plants and Minerals.

Some minerals, such as phosphoric acid, potash, lime and magnesia, are essential to the nourishment of plants, but plants have also a general appetite for mineral substances, eating freely in addition to the quantity necessary to their proper nutrition.

CHINESE FOOTBALL.

It Is More Like a Prolonged Riot Than a Pastime.

"The first game of football I witnessed upon my arrival in China," one of our consular representatives at home for a visit remarked recently, "I mistook for a very serious riot, and you wouldn't have blamed me either.

"In the first place, I was not aware that the Chinese had any such game, but later found that it is very popular in north China. It is not played as is the American game, and instead of eleven players to the side there are fifty. These northern Chinese are almost giants, and every man on the team will be six feet or over in height and weigh on the average 200 pounds. There are no goals, side lines or halves. The game lasts until one side is the winner, and frequently this is not accomplished before two or three days.

"The idea of the game is to force a small wicker basket, which takes the place of our ball, into the territory of the other side—this territory being one-half of the town—and up and down the streets the fight rages. Each man is equipped with a whistle with which to summon assistance when too hard pressed.

"Stealth as well as main force may be used in getting the 'ball' into the enemy's country, and I know of one clever player who did so by passing over the roofs of the houses. As you may imagine, a hundred giants yelling and fighting in the streets create some excitement."

SOUL HOUSES.

One of the Queer Customs of the Ancient Egyptians.

Egyptian "soul" houses were curious edifices made probably between the tenth and twelfth dynasties—that is, about 3600 and 3300 B. C. The same principle that caused the warrior's steed to be slain on his grave seems to have actuated the early Egyptians when they built a house for the dead man's soul.

The beginning of the custom was that a mat was laid on the grave, with a pan of food upon it. Afterward this offering was carved in stone as a table of offerings to give permanent satisfaction for the soul. Then to the table was added a shelter copied from an Arab tent, and this gradually was elaborated. The shelter was placed on columns, a hut was put into this portico, chambers were copied, and finally appeared complete two story houses furnished with pottery models of couch, chair, stool, fireplace and the figure of a woman making bread.

The soul was conceived of as ascending from the grave through the ground and requiring shelter while feeding on its everlasting provision, and yet, though it ascended through the earth, it needed a staircase to go up to the upper floor, and the soul had a donkey, for which a manger was required.

Ventilate Well.

An old writer says, "When men lived in houses of reed they had constitutions of oak; when they lived in houses of oak they had constitutions of reeds." This is a picturesque description of the injury which may come to us from fine houses too closely confined to keep out the fresh air and too heavily curtained, preventing the entrance of sunshine, which is almost if not quite as important as air. But it is not at all necessary to have our fine houses unhealthy, and it requires only intelligence and thoughtfulness to render a brick house as good a promoter of healthas a cabin. Fresh air will come into well ventilated modern houses as well as through the open cracks of a house of reeds and sunlight through a window in a palace as well as a hovel.

The Discovery of Iron.

The stone age, bronze age and iron age so overlap one another it is impossible to say just when one begins or ends. Men began to use both bronze and iron long before stone had ceased to be used. In fact, America was in the stone age so late as its discovery by Columbus 400 years ago. It is safe to say that history proper and the iron age were born together anywhere from 8,000 to 10,000 years ago. It is more than likely that men gained their first information concerning the properties of iron through experiments with the pieces of it that had fallen from the sky in the shape of meteors.

OUR NATIONAL SONG.

Canadian Courier Thinks "Maple Leaf" Isn't Literary.

The Canadian Courier is a "literary" journal. It doesn't like Old Aleck Muir's Maple Leaf song. Aleck wasn't literary. The literary man in Canada must be a Francomaniac. And what does The Courier find in Muir's song? It finds "in the very first verse a boastful allusion to British victory over the French, which is hardly desirable in a national song." If the Courier is right there are few national patriotic songs in this world properly built, from The Courier's literary point of view. A patriotic song without boast, without allusion to the nation's success at arms, would be about as appropriate as a limerick contest for the purpose of advertising tea.

The Courier would abolish Muir's blood-thirsty and British lines, and would substitute for them "a song worthy of the Dominion," made by a French-Canadian gentleman a couple of decades ago, and called the "Chant National." The Courier quotes from an English version of this French song, and a glance at it shows that Canada is a "beloved Fatherland," whose arm hath wielded the sword.

"Militarism" Is There

In the second verse this male and masculine Canada is possessed of "her stalwart sons," and thereafter the fatherland seems to be a motherland. In the third verse—perhaps to show that there is no "militarism" in the song, the "flag" is made to float "by day and night," contrary to the military rule, which pulls it down every evening and hoists it every morning. Here is a sample of the verse:

Favored of God, by mighty flood and tide,
Constant in hope, her stalwart sons abide;
With the surging blood of our restless sires.
Our cradles rocked in peace,
With the smile of heaven on our glistening spires
In blessing that ne'er shall cease.

Stalwarts Not All French.

Recited dramatically to an audience of people who know not the English language, that might make quite an effective noise — it might be even grand. But what does it mean? Does it mean that stalwart sons, worked up by surging blood, proceed to rock cradles in a peaceful manner while the sun shines a blessing upon the tin on yonder spire, and at no other time? We suppose that the "restless sires" alluded to must have been French, for the Briton is not usually said to be that way, and we venture to record the fact that there are several stalwart sons of Canada who are not of French stock.

Mr. Muir's song may lack literary merit; but we think that, long after this Chant National is forgotten outside of Quebec we shall continue to hear about "the May-pole Ref f'rever.—Hamilton Spectator.

CAPT. BERNIER RETURNS.

Flag Proudly Waves Over Far Northern Islands.

The Department of Marine received word recently that Capt. Bernier, on the steamer Arctic, had passed Father Point on the way to Montreal, after a cruise of over a year in Arctic waters. Capt. Bernier on reaching Ottawa will report to the Minister of Marine the details of his long trip in the north. All his crew are reported well, and only one death occurred during the whole voyage, Frederick Berkinhauser, an oiler, who died from natural causes.

The Arctic sailed from Quebec on July 6, 1906, in command of Capt. Bernier, whose life's ambition it has been to discover the north pole. Although the Arctic's cruise was not undertaken with that object, reports received from the commander last year indicated that she had done some notable Arctic navigation. According to those reports, the Arctic in the summer of 1906 proceeded up Baffin's Bay as far north as Smith's Sound, then turned south, and, passing westward through Lancaster Sound, Barrow Strait and Melville Sound, touched Bank's Land and wintered in Lancaster Sound. This would mean that the expedition had all but made the "northwest passage." During the summer of 1907 the Arctic has been cruising among the northern islands and coasts, planting the British flag at several headlands to prove the sovereignty of the Dominion over those frozen regions.

Branded Sockless Freshies.

At the recent opening Queen's science freshmen were handled by the sophomores in a way amusing to student spectators.

The sophs trapped the freshmen, caught them, and tied them in a row against the wall in the old gymnasium.

Then each freshman was branded on the forehead with a cross in indelible ink.

Further indignity was put upon the unlucky freshies by the sophs taking off the boots and socks of the former, and throwing them in a pile in front of the arts building.

Barefooted, and in full view of hundreds of other amused students, the poor freshies hunted about for an hour before the boots and socks got back to their owners.

Signs of a Hard Winter.

When the steamer Cassiar arrived recently she brought down from the north a number of Toba Inlet Indians, who are distinguished above all other Indians for their wisdom in weather lore. One of the red men, in conversation with another passenger, said the Indians up coast expected a very severe winter, and had already begun to make preparations to secure themselves against cold. Forest animals, particularly the common wolf, they say, are growing longer hair than usual. This fact may reasonably enough be construed as pointing to a severe winter, but in the estimation of the Indians the testimony of wild animals is as nothing compared with the signs and warnings vouchsafed by the moon.—Vancouver World.

The Copper Age.

That copper preceded the bronze age is proved by the fact that articles unearthed at Abydos and Negadah, Egypt, have been pronounced pure copper.

WHY IS IT?

When your stocks are daily slumping
And your finances are slim,
All the magazines have stories
With a poorhouse ending grim?

When your skeleton is stalking
From its closest home so neat,
All the magazines have stories
Which the selfsame problem treat?

When the ills that flesh is heir to Rob you of your joy and ease,
All the characters are dying
Of the very same disease?

When, in short, you turn to reading
As an inner world of bliss
When you search for stuff to cheer you,
You will read a wail like this?

The Boy.

"I suppose I am past what my mother calls 'the first flush of youth,'" said the bachelor girl, "but I think I shall never feel older than I did one summer evening five years ago. And now the girl I was in those days seems absurdly young to the woman I am now," and she sighed and was silent a moment under the burden of her years.

"It was that summer at Lake George," she went on presently, "and we were at the Greenes' cottage for a couple of weeks. Jack Greene was home from college, of course, and as he was the only man and I the only girl we naturally were thrown together constantly. He was just at the age to feel himself vastly superior, somewhere about nineteen. He had been growing sentimental in a patronizing sort of way, and one evening after a semitender passage or two he abruptly asked my age. I told him twenty-three. He seemed stunned for a moment, and, looking up, he studied me carefully in the lamplight, then, shaking his head sadly, pronounced his verdict:

"'My, but you are well preserved!'"

Not Purse Proud.

"They accuse us of being purse proud," said Mr. Cumrox.

"How very unjust," replied his wife. "Anybody knows that the amount which could be put into a purse or even into a suit case would cut no figure with us whatever."—Washington Star.

Suggestive.

"Every once in awhile," said Jiggins, "I noticed my wife cutting wedding notices out of the papers. I wonder what she does with them?"

"Probably," suggested Henpeck, "she pastes them in a 'scrapbook.'"—Philadelphia Press.

For Three Reasons.

"Teeth," groaned the man with the aching molar, "are like money."

"What's the answer?" queried the drug clerk.

"Hard to get, hard to keep and hard to lose," answered the sufferer.—Pueblo Chieftain.

Substitution.

Clifford had prayed heartily for a little sister, and now a brother was born.

That night he knelt by the bedside and said kindly, but firmly, "No, thank you, God; I want what I asked for."
—Puck.

One Who Had Found It.

"Where shall the weary find rest?" exclaimed the Rev. Dr. Fourthly, with dramatic emphasis.

A soft snore from the pew occupied by Deacon Hardesty was the only response.—Minneapolis Journal.

HEATERS!

Right Time to Buy Them and Special Inducement This Week

You may wait for cold weather to buy a heater if you've a mind to, but if you'll be advised by those who have to deal most with the selling of stoves, you will select a heater now and have it put in place and ready before the rush that invariably comes with a cold snap.

There is absolutely nothing gained in waiting—not even a saving in cost, as the prices will certainly be kept at normal when the demand is at its height, and then you'll be expected to take your turn in having it delivered and set up—a delay of two or three days perhaps.

We recommend these stoves with confidence:—

EXPECTS 83,000,000 BUSHELS.

Estimated Crop After Making Every Allowance for Damage.

Mr. John Byrnes, head of the general inspection branch of the Department of Trade and Commerce, has returned from an official trip to the West. As an indication of the effect of late threshing this year, he mentions that in September, 1906, wheat was received at Port William and Port Arthur to the amount of 4,104,776 bushels, whereas for the same month this year only 669,778 bushels reached the terminals.

Dealing with the crop estimate, Mr. Byrnes figures it out that, making every possible allowance for damage, taking into consideration the increased acreage there must be 83,000,000 bushels.

He adds: "Northwestern Manitoba, Northern Alberta and Saskatchewan to a larger extent have been attacked by frost. The worst feature about the result is that some individuals have lost their entire crops. On the other hand there are large crops grading high. I was informed by one farmer living 45 miles southwest of Saskatoon that he had 1,000 acres that would grade No. 1 Northern. Threshing only started about Oct. 8th in Saskatchewan, and owing to the wet weather has been much delayed in Manitoba, so that it is difficult to form a close estimate at this date.

"Up to Oct. 9, eighty per cent. of the new wheat inspected graded high, but there is no doubt that a great quantity will only grade feed, for which there will be, however, an increasing demand in Ontario throughout the whole winter, and as this grade will fetch as high a price as No. 1 Northern did last year, the majority of the producers will still receive good money.

"The largely increased acreage under coarse grain," says Mr. Byrnes, "will become a boon to the farmers owing to the high prices ruling. The pure food laws in the United States having made it necessary for the maltsters to use a superior grade of barley, the higher qualities of this grain are commanding excellent prices."

Bishop Kingdon Dead.

Right Rev. Hollingsworth Tully Kingdon, D.D., D.C.L., bishop of the diocese of Fredericton, N. B., died at his home last week in his 72nd year. At the time of his death the bishop was, next to Archbishop Sweatman, the oldest bishop in point of years of service in the Canadian church. Since June, 1906, his lordship had been in failing health, and Canon Richardson, of St. John, was appointed his assistant. The bells of the cathedral tolled for half an hour after the bishop's death.

Bishop Kingdon was the son of William Kingdon, F.R.C.S., and was born in London, Eng., in 1835. He was ordained by Bishop Wilberforce, of Oxford, in 1859. Previous to 1881, when he became coadjutor in the See of Fredericton, he filled important offices in England, both in church and college. Eleven years later he succeeded Dr. Medley as bishop. In 1893 he received the degree of D.C.L. from Trinity College, Toronto.

ON HIS BACK AT ONE TIME.

TWO BOTTLES OF BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS CURED HIM.

Boils are simply evidence of the bad blood within coming to the surface.

Just when you think you are cured of one, another seems ready to take its place and prolong your misery.

The only way to rid yourself of boils, pimples, and all skin blotches and blemishes, so that they will never return to bother you again, is to have the blood thoroughly cleansed of all of its impurities.

For this purpose there is no other blood medicine to equal Burdock Blood Bitters.

It has been on the market for over thirty years, and in that time we have received thousands of testimonials stating positively that it will cure the worst known cases of boils.

Mr. James Combe, Eden, Ont., writes: "I think Burdock Blood Bitters a great medicine for boils. I had them so bad I could not work. I had thirty-two on my back at one time. I used only two bottles of B.B.B. and they completely cured me. I cannot recommend it too highly.

BRITISH LION ROARS.

English Writer Resents Patronizing Attitude to Old Country.

In certain parts of middle Canada you fancy yourself in America, writes Harold Begbie in The Daily Chronicle. The nose usurps the function of the mouth's roof. Cities are planned on American models. Newspapers are run on American lines. Spittoons are like the sands of the sea. Conversation turns only on dollars and wheat. There is a militant display of offensiveness on the part of a democracy persuaded that equality consists in telling other people to go to Avernus. "So live your life," runs a text, "that rising every morning from sleep you may go forth, look any man whatsoever in the eyes, and tell him to go to hell."

"Say," continued Canadian young gentleman, who had been giving me the benefit of his patronage, "I heard Keir Hardie at Shearman's Auditorium last night. My, but he's a dandy. Sure thing! 'The man,' he said, 'who asks you to waive a Union Jack in each hand and to sing Rule Britannia is picking both your pockets all the time.' Say, but that's dandy!"

"No considerable proportion of the British nation, so far as I am aware," I made answer, "is engaged in requesting people, either separately or simultaneously, to wave a Union Jack in each hand and to sing Rule Britannia."

"How?"

"Believe me we are ill at ease in England, and we are not emotional."

"Anyway we hear to much in our papers about the Old Country."

"My dear young gentleman," said I, taking him up, "I have heard ever since I set foot on Canadian soil too many pitying and patronizing references to the 'Old Country.' I am not a fighting man, and I carry no more dangerous weapon than an ivory nail cleaner "ex ungue leonem"—let me recommend the invention for importation—but if you will maintain a peaceable frame of mind and endeavor yourself not to foam at the mouth or draw a gun on me, I should like to tell you that my country, far from being old and outworn, is in the very flush and dawn of its manhood, that it is the greatest country in the world, that it has the pleasantest customs, the most agreeable manners, and infinitely the strongest arm of any other nation under the firmament.

"Further, I should like to tell you that without my country, the 'Old Country,' as you obligingly call it, your country could not exist for three agitations of a gopher's tail; and further, that if you were to cut the painter to-morrow it would not interrupt a single cricket match in England or cool a single bowl of porridge on the western slopes of our Scottish Highlands. If you will journey to British Columbia and engage yourself in conversation with the old-timers, you will find that what I have told you is their own settled and well-reasoned conclusion. No, young gentleman, be calm and receptive. I will not brook an interruption. The Old Country is on its legs. The lion is roaring. Be so good as to chew gum, spitting as little as is possible to your convenience, until I have finished this exordium.

"Now, young gentleman, I wish you particularly to bear in mind the following considerations whenever you hear your simple people talking hot air about the Old Country. It is from our islands that we send every year, out of our schools and universities, young and healthy boys, who rule vast provinces, and bless with justice millions of alien people. They ask no one to wave flags, but they maintain peace throughout India. They ask no one to sing Rule Britannia, but they sow with corn the desert of Egypt. Consider the miracle of Egypt. That miracle is the work of the Old Country—the work of her boys. From the same Old Country we draw boys who crowd the ships of Britain and protect on every sea the commerce of people kind enough to fly the Union Jack, and unkind enough to speak amusedly of the 'Old Country.' From the same country is directed the Consular Service of which a noble use is made, without fee, by our hard-headed Britons beyond the seas.

"Listen, I pray you. This Great Britain of ours, young gentleman, is hopeful about its Colonies, and is proud of its Colonies; but a hen, even when her chickens have learned to peck for themselves, can still lay eggs. Pray do not think that Britannia is doddering. Britannia is no fool. Britannia is quite well, I thank you. If you prefer American customs and manners, if you would desire the American spirit and not the British spirit to inspire your politics, your home life, literature, and your art—go before your audience of old-timers and propose an application to Washington for painless absorption. But whatever line you follow, be so good as to remember when you speak of the 'Old Country' that Great Britain protects you, that Great Britain is flourishing in the van of the nations, and whenever you hear the name of Great Britain, if you cannot go so far as to take off your hat, at least refrain from——. The spittoon, I observe, is prolific in your country."

Sunday Law In Montreal.

By a new edict of Chief of Police Campeau, the Sunday observance wave has struck the French section of Montreal in a manner which has not been experienced for years. The city has always in the past been under a sort of dual system, by which English Sunday ideas have obtained in the west end, while in the more purely French section things have been much more wide open. For a long time past in the east end, where the population is almost purely French, the moving picture shows and other mechanical vaudeville affairs have made a specialty of Sunday matinees and evening performances, which have been largely patronized. Now this must stop, according to an order issued by Chief of Police Campeau, who has stated that under an old city bylaw he will issue orders that the Sunday performances must cease.

Don't sleep on your back, for this method of getting rest is bad for the nervous system.

ROMANCE IN REAL LIFE.

Father Sees Daughter For First Time After Twenty-Five Years.

A case has just come to light where a father and a daughter know one another for the first time.

It seems J. F. Stellerington, now of Vancouver, B. C., was a member of the battery station at Kingston some 25 years ago. He left and went sailing. He was shipwrecked, rescued and cared for by Indians, when word reached him that his young wife had died in the meantime in giving life to his first-born, which had also died. With nothing but sad recollections he turned his back upon his former home surroundings at Kingston, left to seek gold in the Rockies, endured great hardship, meets with no success, and finally seeks new fields of adventure in Alaska.

Here he meets with such success that he bags $20,000 worth of gold, but in the twinkling of an eye his gains, his hopes and his reward for the many privations which he had endured were lost by the upsetting of his canoe in making one of the rapids. After this he seeks the less venturesome life in Vancouver, where he settled down, got a position, did well and married again. Years roll on, until Pat Gallagher, also an old member of the battery, and who knew Mr. Stellerington then and now, came to Kingston a few weeks ago, and in conversation with Samuel Jordan, of that city, mentioned Stellerington's name. Mr. Jordan then let Mrs. Charles Hebert of Kingston know of what he had heard, and she, believing him to be her father, wrote and received a letter from him which confirmed her hopes. Mrs. Hebert, upon the death of her mother, when she was but a few days old, was adopted by her uncle, John Tisdale of Barriefield, who never knew whether Stellerington was dead or alive.

FLAWS IN FAMILY LIFE.

Anglican Clergyman Criticizes Canadian Shortcomings.

The present moral character of Canadian life was somewhat severely criticised at the recent Peterboro' Archidiaconal Conference. Addressing the gathering on that subject, Rev. Mr. Langfeldt noted in domestic life the absence of family prayer or of any serious conversation, little obedience of children to parents, ignorance on the part of parents of their children's doings, too great freedom of the sexes in social intercourse, the speculation in business life and prevalent habit of gain at any cost, the self-aggrandizement and absence of public spirit among public men even in church life. Mr. Comber, addressing the meeting on the same subject, said some people expected the minister to baptize, marry and bury them, and sent their children to Sunday school to get rid of them, and that was all. They were practically heathen. How could they be reached? The day of the home was not yet over. Referring to public life, he said there was indifference to public service amounting to positive selfishness. It needed money, time and thought to be devoted to it. The prospect of rapid fortunes was no doubt alluring, but as the country steadied down men would give themselves to public life.

PATRIOTISM IS IMPERIAL.

Norman Chamberlain Finds No Loyalty to England in the Colonies.

Norman Chamberlain, writing in The Morning Post, gives an account of the growth of nationalism in the colonies. He says that in the latter the ideal of loyalty to England as such is quite unfamiliar, its place being taken by an intense loyalty to crown and a growing patriotism towards the British Empire. Glancing in his story at the Canadian boundary disputes and the South Pacific troubles, he says it is hardly strange that Canada and Australia have learnt to rely on themselves and to distrust that omniscence and beneficence of England which is the basis of her views of empire.

Japan's Formal Reply.

In reply to the Dominion Government's communication expressing regrets to Japan, Sir Wilfrid has received the following reply from the British ambassador to Japan:

"I have conveyed your message of Oct. 12 same day to Secretary of State for transmission to His Majesty the Emperor of Japan. Just received the following answer: 'His Majesty received message from Governor-General of Canada and Government of Canada with greatest gratification and notes with much satisfaction earnest intention of Governor-General and Government of Canada to promote cordial and friendly relations which exist between British Empire and Japan. Count Hayashie adds that Japanese Government deeply regrets unfortunate occurrence at Vancouver, but they have full confidence in the sincere action which Canadian authorities are taking in devising measure for future, and they have much satisfaction in hearing expression of regret conveyed by the Premier of Canada in the name of the Governor-General of Canada and Canadian Government, and assurances given that Canadian authorities will use all efforts to prevent recurrence of such regrettable events.'"

Rather Broad.

"You are lucky, kid," said the big boy enviously. "I wish I had a dad who was a baseball catcher."

"Do you?" replied the little boy, with a lugubrious sigh. "Well, you wouldn't wish it long after he had spanked you with his catcher's mitt."—Detroit Tribune.

MOTHER TROD ON RUSTY NAIL
BLOOD POISON AVERTED!

A punctured wound, properly treated, will heal quickly if Zam-Buk is applied according to directions, but if carelessly treated may result in death through blood poisoning.

Mrs. Hammond (the mother of the children cured of Mumps) was wise in applying Zam-Buk when she trod on a rusty nail. She says: "I trod on a rusty nail, which caused a very painful sore. Two applications of Zam-Buk ended the pain and removed the inflammation." No wonder she decided to do what thousands are doing, viz.: "Keep Zam-Buk handy, as the household remedy."

THE FRIGATE PELICAN.

It Is a Small Bird With an Enormous Stretch of Wing.

The frigate pelican, or man-of-war bird, is usually found between the tropics. Although when stripped of its feathers it is hardly larger than a pigeon, yet no man can touch at the same time the tips of its extended wings. The long wing bones are exceedingly light, and the whole apparatus of air cells is extremely developed, so that its real weight is very trifling. It flies at a great height above the water and from that elevation pounces down on fish, especially preferring the poor, persecuted flying fish for its prey.

Under the throat of the frigate pelican is a large pouch of a deep red color, which can be distended with air at the pleasure of the bird. The pouch is larger and of a more brilliant red in the male than in his consort, and the general plumage of the female is not so bright as that of the male.

Although its swiftness of wing and general activity enable it to snatch a fish from the surface of the water or to pounce upon the flying fish before it can again seek the protection of its native element, yet it too often uses its powers in robbing other birds of their lawful prey. It is enabled in some mysterious way to find its way home by night, even though it may be 400 or 500 miles from land. The length of the male bird is three feet and the expanse of wing eight feet.

Ironclads.

The first ironclad warship was the Gloire of France, antedating the Monitor and Merrimac by nearly four years.

Icebergs.

The icebergs of the two hemispheres are entirely different in shape. The arctic bergs are irregular in form, with lofty pinnacles and glittering domes, while the antarctic bergs are flat topped and solid looking.

Volcanoes.

There are 270 active volcanoes in the world, many of them being comparatively small.

Think It Over

The men who desire something new, to exactly suit their own personal individuality must have them Tailor-made.

Few men desire clothes after the same model. They want each suit to be different from its predecessor.

There has not been in recent years a season in which the tailor has gone further in advance of the Ready-made manufacturer than he will this season.

Let us show you the styles and what is being worn in Imported Tweed Suits and Overcoats this season.

The Escape of Arthur and the Salvation of Herbert.

[Copyright, 1902, 1903, by Robert Howard Russell.]

HER PRIVATE CLINICS.

Once there was a lonely Man who Married, thinking that he would find a Home, but instead of that he ran into an Experiment Station.

The other end of the Team was the original Recipe Shark and Family Doctor.

She was a bright, eagle-eyed Party with a high, throbbing Forehead, and she was always on the lookout for New Wrinkles. Any Time that she picked up the Lady's Household Friend and read about a Cure for Chilblains she would cut out the Article with the Button-Hole Scissors, and then for Days afterward she would be snooping around for a Case of Chilblains so that she could work on it.

She had about 3000 of these Home Remedies up her Sleeve, and any time that Arthur complained of the slightest Ache or Pain she lit on him like a Bee on a Flower and started in with one of her famous Treatments.

She loved these private Clinics, with Arthur strapped to the Operating-Table. He had been blistered in so many different Places and handed so many kinds of Dope that he became Leery, in time, and always claimed to be feeling Immense, even though he did not think he would live through the Day.

She had some awful Things ribbed up for him any time that he showed up with a Bad Cold. She would give him Vinegar Tea and a Lump of Sugar soaked in Kerosene. Then she would parboil his Feet and hand him a few Onion Poultices, and put him to Bed with all the Covers over him and let him lie there and Sozzle.

Sometimes she almost drove him to Drink, but he did not dare to drink very much for fear that she would give him some Secret Cure in his Coffee and thereby rob him of a Thirst which he prized very highly.

The Missus was a firm Believer in all these How-To Flim-Flams that run in the Monthly Magazines:

How to Beautify the Home without spending a Cent.

How to live on 78 Cents a Week.

How to become a Lady Sandow by exercising 3 Minutes every Day.

How to lift a $2,000 Mortgage on a Salary of $10 per Week.

Usually, when he came Home he found her draping an old Mother Hubbard over a Shoe-Box so as to make a Hall Seat, or else she had a Hot Poker and was burning a High-Art Design on a Wooden Platter. Not one of the Fads got past Experimental Lizzie. She took a Fall out of every One.

Sometimes when Arthur would come down to Breakfast, ready to punish a few Links of Farm Sausage, he would find in front of him a Bowl full of what looked a good deal like Asbestos Packing.

"Is it to eat?" he asked, backing off.

"The surest thing you know," was the Reply. "It is Hokopoko, the new tasteless Breakfastine, and it is recommended by all Dyspeptics and Physical Wrecks."

THE NEW TASTELESS BREAKFASTINE.

"I don't want to get my dietary Hunches from the Death Chamber," said Arthur. "I should prefer to take my Tips from a good, husky Farm-Hand."

"But this has 62 per cent of Nitro-Glutine, and one Tablespoonful contains the same Nourishment that may be found in 18 Pounds of Sirloin Steak."

"Say, why don't you buy a good, strong Dog and try these Things on him?" asked Arthur. "I refuse to take any more of this Chop-Feed. If you want to get it into me you'll have to give me Gas and then inject it into my Arm."

So she said she would Compromise by letting him have some Cereal Sausage. It looked just the same as Sausage, and you could not tell the difference until you started to Eat it.

What with the Health Underwear, the Electric Belts, the Pillows stuffed with Pine-Cones, etc., etc., Arthur was constantly reminded of the Fact that he was being used for experimental Purposes.

He did not enjoy a real Let-Up until little Herbert arrived. When Herbert was 3 Days old Mamma began to read Books on the Child Mind. Within a Month she had little Herby propped up in the Crib doing Kindergarten Stunts, with two or three Old Maids off on the Side Lines coaching to beat the Band.

Arthur would butt in occasionally and try to protect his helpless Offspring, and then he would get a hard Call-Down. The Missus had a large Scrap-Book full of Helpful Hints to Amateur Mothers.

She started in at Page 1 and gave Herbert the whole Works. Whenever any one who knew all about the Care of Children brought her a new Preparation, she either fed it to little Herby or else rubbed it on his Back.

Arthur had the old fashioned Notion that all a Kid needed was a Milk Diet and something Rubber on which to chew, but the Chief of the Experiment Station had a lot of Club Theories to be tested, and she was working on little Herbert every Minute.

This made it Fine for Father, because he could shake his Electric Belt and get some real Food by fixing it with the Hired girl, but it was a fierce Lay-Out for little Herbert. Herbert never had a Chance to sneak out to the Club and tell his Troubles and get a lot of Sympathy.

LITTLE HERBY'S FATE.

Herbert had to stay right there in the House and let the Mothers' Club practise on him.

"He's a Wonder," said Arthur to his Friends at the Club. "If he lives through it he'll make a grand Foot-Ball Player some Day."

When Herbert was 6 years of Age the Scientific Mother had him reading Bliss Carman. Father tried to slip him Mother Goose on the quiet, but was headed off.

Still, Arthur was not discouraged.

"There is always one Hope for the Boy who is brought up according to League Rules," said the Father. "Wait until he gets into the Public School, and he will get wise to a Few Things and probably flash a few unexpected Developments on Mother Dear."

Sure enough, when Teacher wrote a Note and said that Angel had shied a Brick at a Teamster, and, furthermore, had licked the inoffensive Son of a Poor Hod-Carrier, the Experimental Mother threw a Back-Twister and wondered why the Club System had failed to work out.

MORAL: As the Father is Bent the Child is Inclined.

A British View.

The question of Asiatic immigration into the Dominion is a serious question which deserves the fullest attention of Canadian statesmen and of Canadian citizens, but it cannot be solved at the dictation of any single class of the community or of any single part of the country, and its solution can only be impeded by recourse to riot and and to outrage. Canada is as free as any country in the globe. Her people possess ample constitutional means for making known their considered wishes on political questions and for giving them effect. It is for her people to see that those wishes are not misrepresented by the efforts of groups and organizations, and that her laws are everywhere and always enforced, so long as they remain her laws.—London Times.

A Chinese Custom.

It is the Chinese custom to inaugurate a business venture with a display of fireworks.

BEER MAKES BLOOD

MALT has certain food-elements which the body can transform into healthy blood quickly and with the least digestive effort.

HOPS contain a medical principle which tones the nerves without reaction, and so supplies nervous energy and saves it as well.

BEER* as brewed in Ontario is made from choicest Ontario barley malt, selected hops, and the purest of water, dealt with under conditions which insure purity and quality.

THE better the blood the sounder the health, and the surer the body to combat disease effectively. Beer, by some counted an intoxicant, is not so—it is a blood-maker, with barely enough alcohol in it to help the stomach do its work far better.

Beer with meals is good for 997 people out of every thousand—and is specially good for women. Ask your own doctor about it—beer is probably good for you.

*BEER is a term which covers lager, ale, porter, and stout; and in the practice of Ontario brewers, implies beverages made under most hygienic conditions from Ontario barley (the best in the world) malt, hops, and pure water.

SIMON LEGREE.

Once there was an employe who was getting the Nub End of the Deal. He kicked on the long Hours and the small Salary, and helped to organise a Clerks' Protective Association. He was for the Toiler as against the Main Squeeze.

In order to keep him simmered down the Owners gave him an Interest. After that he began to perspire when he looked at the Pay-Roll, and it did seem to him that a lot of big, lazy Lummixes were standing around the Shop doing the Soldier Act. He learned to snap his Fingers every time the Office Boy giggled. As for the faithful old Book-Keeper who wanted an increase to $9 and a week's Vacation in the Summer, the best he got was a little Talk about Contentment being a Jewel.

The Associate Partner played Simon Legree, all except the make-up. The saddest moment of the Day for him was when the whole Bunch knocked off at 6 o'clock in the Evening. It seemed a Shame to call 10 Hours a Full Day. As for the Saturday Half-Holiday Movement, that was little better than Highway Robbery. Those who formerly slaved alongside of him in the Galleys had to address him as Mister, and he had them numbered the same as Convicts.

One Day an Underling ventured to remind the Shave-Driver that once he had been the Friend of the Salaried Minion.

"Right you are," said the Boss. "But when I plugged for the lowly Wage-Earner I never had been in the Directors' Office to see that beautiful Tableau entitled 'Virtue copping out the Annual Dividend.' I don't know that I can make the Situation clear to you, so I will merely remark that all those who get on our side of the Fence are enabled to catch a new Angle on this Salary Question."

MORAL: For Educational Purposes, every Employe should be taken into the Firm.

DISASTER WAS AVOIDABLE.

Expert Says $100 Would Have Saved Quebec Bridge.

"If prompt action had been taken to protect chord 9, west, from further deflection, when the bend was discovered, the Quebec bridge would not have gone down.

"This would have been only about three hours' work, and the expense would only have been about $100 in timber and bolts."

Such is the opinion of Mr. Theodore Cooper, the consulting engineer of the Quebec bridge, given to the Government Commission of enquiry into the disaster, which has been at work in New York.

Furthermore, Mr. Cooper to a certain extent, emphatically blames both companies, the Quebec Bridge Co. and the Phoenix Co., for the collapse, inasmuch as he is of the opinion that neither had proper officials at the work, men with sufficient technical knowledge to superintend a construction of such magnitude.

The consulting engineer states positively that, in his opinion, prompt and intelligent action on the part of the officials at the bridge would have prevented the failure.

This action should have been taken by the officials of either company at the bridge, and the contracting company should have had at the works an engineer of sufficient intelligence to have appreciated the necessity of prompt action, while the executive of the Quebec Bridge Co. should not have hesitated, in the absence of prompt action of the contractors, to have given the necessary orders.

"It was not the best bridge, but the best bridge that could be built with the money," declared Mr. Cooper.

"The amount to build it with was limited to a certain extent, and the bridge had to be planned to meet this amount."

That Mr. Cooper has not the best opinion of either the methods used or the officials on the work, is evidenced by his testimony.

Book Bindings.

Artificial heat of all kinds is damaging to book bindings. It not only cracks the leather, but the paste. A large bowl of water placed in a room containing books will moisten the air sufficiently to prevent the drying of the leather.

DEMOCRATS LEAD.

Vote In New York Elections Was Unusually Light.

New York, Nov. 6.—Sufficiently complete returns to make certain the ultimate results show that the Republican and Independence League fusion in New York County was defeated yesterday by straight Democratic ticket; that the Independence League ticket for associate justices of the Court of Appeals was overwhelmingly beaten by the identical tickets of the Republicans and Democrats, and that there will be a slight change in the make-up of the state assembly.

In the city the Independence League Court of Appeal's ticket was defeated four to one, and the league vote up-state was light. In this city interest centred in the county fight, in which the Republican and Independence League forces opposed the Tammany ticket. James W. Gerard was elected to the Supreme Court with a wide margin over M. Linn Bruce. Thomas F. Foley defeated for the sheriff's office the fusion candidate. Maximilian F. Ihmsen, who is also prominent in the Independence League. Early returns gave Foley a big lead, but this was later scaled down till 700 of the 833 of the election districts in the county showed a margin for the Democratic candidate of 25,000.

Edward T. Bartlett and Williard Bartlett, nominated by both Republicans and Democrats for the Court of Appeals, were chosen.

The election was unusually quiet and the vote light.

SHERIFF ARRESTED.

Charged With Opening Letters Addressed to Prisoners.

Chicago, Nov. 6.—Fred F. Carter, sheriff of Lake County, Indiana, was arrested Monday by U. S. Marshal Rankin, of Indianapolis, charged with having opened the mail of Alexander Poleski, a former prisoner.

If the Government establishes its contention, it is declared sheriffs, deputy sheriffs, wardens and other officials in penitentiaries, jails and similar institutions throughout the country are in danger of a like experience.

On the other hand friends of Carter point out that if officials in jails and prisons are forbidden to open the mail of the prisoners, plots for escape may be hatched with impunity and forbidden articles, ranging from cigarettes to the deadliest poisons, may be sent through the mail to prisoners.

Sheriff Carter freely admitted that he opened the mail of Poleski, but asserted that he believed he was acting clearly in conformance with his duty to see that no forbidden articles were smuggled into the jail or schemes arranged for a jail delivery.

SHOOTING AT ELECTION.

Fatal Riot Follows Protest Against Fraudulent Voting.

Lexington, Ky., Nov. 6.—Following an election day riot here yesterday afternoon, Clyde Campbell was killed. Patrolman Michael Murphy probably fatally wounded, and Patrolman Marion Smith and W. R. Campbell, Clyde's father, severely wounded. The elder Campbell, who was a Republican candidate for councilman, was arrested after he had protested against what he termed election frauds. His son came to his assistance, and was shot by Murphy. W. R. Campbell then shot Murphy, who returned the fire, severely wounding his man, although himself probably fatally hurt.

Man Got Broken Nose.

Brampton, Ont., Nov. 6.—A disturbance was created in the C. P. R. station here yesterday following a trial before Police Magistrate Crawford, who committed Neil McCollum for trial on a charge of obtaining a promissory note from one John McBride of Caledon on false pretences. McCollum sold a brood mare to George Hand of Mulmur, who gave him a note for $470 in payment. The horse not being up to the guarantee, it is said, Hand demanded the return of the note which in the meantime had passed into McBride's possession. McCollum obtained the note again, and McBride began a suit against him for the manner in which the former secured it from him. All parties concerned met at the station, and a general row occurred, in which McCollum and his son were roughly handled, the latter having his nose broken and the father being since confined to bed from the injuries received.

The C. P. R. authorities have issued a number of summonses, and the matter will be threshed out before the police magistrate here to-morrow.

Released on Suspended Sentence.

Brockville, Nov. 6.—Thomas Dempster was let off easy yesterday before Police Magistrate Deacon for interfering with Deputy Sheriff Traill, while the latter was making a seizure of cattle in Lansdowne.

Through his solicitor he pleaded guilty and, recognizing his mistake, was willing to apologize. In view of this he was discharged on suspended sentence. He paid the costs of the court, some $19.

Sold Liquor, Goes to Jail.

Chatham, Nov. 6.—Charles Palmer of Moilin was sentenced to four months' hard labor in the County Jail for having been convicted of selling liquor without a license on Oct. 26. This is his second offence. Moilin is a local option town.

EMMERSON LIBEL SUIT.

Not on Supreme Court Docket and May Never Be Heard.

Moncton, N. B., Nov. 6.—The Michaelmas term of the Supreme Court opened yesterday morning with Chief Justice Tuck and a full bench presiding.

Argument was scheduled to be made on the point which Judge Landry had served for the decision of the full bench in the Emmerson case against James H. Crocket, managing editor of The Gleaner. The case, however, was not on the docket, and there will be no argument. Many legal men believe that the last has been heard in the courts of the famous suit for defamatory libel.

Even Auditor Had Overdrawn.

St. John, N. B., Nov. 6.—The treasury board at a meeting last night, discovered that even one of the regular civic auditors had overdrawn his account with Chamberlain Sandall for $300. The board took no action.

The steamer Alcides arrived here yesterday, after a fierce battle with wind and waves on the Atlantic Ocean, which made her ten days overdue.

Vigilant In Collision.

Port Stanley, Nov. 6.—The Government cruiser Vigilant collided with a tug in the harbor yesterday. The tug was badly damaged and the stem of the Vigilant dinged.

Two Brothers Cremated.

Quebec, Nov. 6.—A tugboat at Murray Bay was completely destroyed by fire Saturday night, and two boys, brothers, named Bergeron, who were asleep on board, were burned to death.

FISHING VESSEL MISSING.

Orion Thought to Have Foundered In Gale With All Hands.

St. John's, Nfld., Nov. 6.—A dory stamped "Orion" has been picked up at Grangamelle. It is believed the schooner passed through the straits and was wrecked on Twin Islands or Port aux Choix, near Point Riche. The Government steamer Fiona is now searching for wreckage.

The schooner was from Grand Banks and Fortune Bay. Of the crew of 16, eleven were married.

Steamer Springfield Burned.

St. John, N. B., Nov. 6.—It has just been learned that the Belle Isle steamer Springfield was burned to the water's edge at Hatfield's Point early yesterday morning. The crew had a narrow escape. The origin of the fire is unknown. By the time the alarm was given the boat was one mass of flames.

The crew cut the burning vessel's ropes and let her drift away. She continued to burn for some time afterwards and finally filled and sank. All the boat's furnishings and a good deal of clothing, etc., belonging to the crew, were destroyed.

The stewardess, Mrs. Mott, was rescued when half suffocated. She was revived with difficulty. The steamer was one of the oldest boats on the St. John River, and was insured for $4,000.

Will Investigate Charges.

Ottawa, Nov. 6.—Hon. Frank Oliver, yesterday informed the delegation of ministers representing the Lord's Day Alliance and other ministerial bodies that an investigation had been ordered by the Government into the charges preferred by Rev. Mr. Pringle against certain Government officials in the Yukon, but so far Mr. Pringle had not gone ahead with his charges. As soon as he was ready they would be thoroughly investigated.

The Premier and the Government would do all it could to enforce the law and see that the Government officials did their duty.

Thousand Dollars For Life.

St. Catharines, Nov. 6.—George L. Steele has accepted $1,000 in full for his claim for damages from the Ontario Power Co. for injuries which will eventually cost him his life. Steele was working in the company's transformer-house. A hole had been left in the second floor, through which to bring material up, and the building being very dark Steele accidentally fell through.

Rioters at Woodstock.

Woodstock, Nov. 6.—The close of the drill season was marked last night by riotous scenes on the market, in which many young members of the Oxford Rifles participated. A big bonfire was lit, and the fire brigade was called out for safety. A number of windows were broken and for those the officers of the regiment have voluntarily offered to pay.

Tows Ship 25 Miles.

Victoria, Nov. 6.—The whaling steamer St. Lawrence put into port yesterday, with a record of 45 whales to her credit for the season. This catch will net $500,000 to the owners.

On one occasion a monster sulphur bottom towed the 110-ton steamer a distance of 25 miles, taking 300 fathoms of line, and with the engines half-speed astern to tire the monster out. At times the vessel tore through the water at a speed of 20 miles an hour, and in all it took seven solid hours and a couple of bombs to end the struggles of the whale.

Again an 80-foot long mammal on being struck dived beneath the vessel, the bomb exploded, and the craft rose out of the water with the tremendous shock occasioned by the explosion and lashing of the wounded giant.

Empress Augusta Cancels Visit.

Berlin, Nov. 6.—Empress Augusta Victoria is not going to England because her daughter, Princess Victoria Louise, is likely to suffer from chickenpox, having been in the company of Princess Alexandra of Schleswig-Holstein-Sonderburg-Slucksburg, who was attacked by the malady Monday. Princess Alexandra is the fiance of Prince Frederick August, third son of Her Majesty.

The Empress is extremely disappointed, and messages expressing her deep regret have been sent to King Edward and Queen Alexandra by the German Emperor, as well as by the Empress. The latter, who is a devoted mother, regards it as her duty to remain and take care of her little daughter, who is already showing the first symptoms of the complaint from which Princess Alexandra is suffering.

Restore the Guillotine.

Paris, Nov. 6.—The increase in crime in France has aroused a popular demand for the restoration of the death penalty, which has been practically abolished by the systematic commutation of the sentences of criminals condemned to death.

The Government desires to formally abolish capital punishment, and has been commuting death sentences to imprisonment at hard labor for life. During the present session of Parliament it was the intention of the Ministry to secure the adoption of a measure formally doing away with the executions of criminals, but recently juries throughout the country have recommended having recourse to the guillotine as being the only means of stopping the atrocious murders which are of daily occurrence in Paris and in the provinces.

A popular vote taken by a local newspaper, has resulted in 1,083,855 persons pronouncing themselves in favor of restoring capital punishment, while 328,692 announced themselves as being opposed to it.

Found Naked Body In Bush.

North Bay, Nov. 6.—Arthur Russell of 133 Coursol street, Montreal, was found dead in the bush near Moose Lake, on the T. & N. O. Railway, in a naked condition.

From papers found in the clothes discarded by the unfortunate man, it appears that he was on his way to Cobalt. He was seen in the vicinity of Moose Lake several times, and his actions indicated insanity. The body was brought to North Bay and buried under instructions from Coroner McMurchy in the Catholic cemetery. Deceased's mother lives at Margate, England.

GRIP VICTIMS RELIEVED

PE-RU-NA Is a Reliable Remedy for the After-Effects of Grip, Such as Indigestion, Prostration and Poor Circulation.

La Grippe Leaves Systemic Catarrh.

Judge Horatio J. Goss, Hartwell, Ga., writes:

"Some five or six years ago I had a very severe spell of grip which left me with systemic catarrh.

"A friend advised me to try your Peruna, which I did, and was immediately benefited.

"The third bottle completed the cure."

The Right Medicine.

Mrs. Henrietta A. S. Marsh, 2128 Reservoir St., Los Angeles, Cal., President Woman's Benevolent Ass'n, writes:

"I suffered with la grippe for seven weeks, and nothing I could do or take helped me until I tried Peruna.

"I felt at once that I had at last secured the right medicine and I kept steadily improving. Within three weeks I was fully restored, and I am glad that I gave that truly great remedy a trial I will never be without it again."

In a letter dated August 31, 1904, Mrs. Marsh says: "I have never yet heard the efficacy of Peruna questioned. We still use it."

Peruna Recommended by Friends.

Mr. N. Beauchamp, 126 rue Notre Dame, Lachine, P. Q., writes:

"I tried the famous remedy, Peruna, which was recommended to me by one of my friends, R. Pilon.

"I have not been without this valuable remedy for seven months, and now I see that I am entirely cured.

"Formerly on lying down I was unable to breathe through my nose and I never passed a day without headache.

"To-day I experience none of these symptoms and this is due to Peruna."

Head and Stomach Were Affected.

Miss Olivine Perrault, 335 Davidson St., Montreal, Can., writes:

"I write you a word to congratulate you on your famous remedy, Peruna. I tried other remedies, but my cold did not get any better, and I feared I was becoming consumptive.

"The condition of my head and stomach was very annoying. I had coughed day and night for three months as the result of a cold which I had contracted from sudden change of temperature.

"My brother advised me to try Peruna and I did so, for he was cured by Peruna. I took it regularly and improved steadily. I have now taken three bottles of it and am completely cured."

Mr. J. A. Goyer, president La Pharmacie Latouinse, 1039 Berri St., Montreal, Can., writes:

"I can highly recommend your valuable preparation, Peruna, to all those who suffer from the bad after-effects of la grippe.

"Two bottles of Peruna have brought to me a complete cure of that sickness, and it has acted as the best tonic for the system that I have ever experienced."

MR. J. A. GOYER.

PERUNA is a remedy for the after-effects of la grippe.

Nearly every person who has had the grip during the past winter finds himself left with some chronic catarrhal condition more or less intolerable.

It may be a hacking cough, or a tired, all-worn-out feeling.

Sometimes indigestion appears and hangs on in spite of all remedies.

A short course of Peruna removes all these symptoms and puts the patient right again. We have a multitude of testimonials along this line.

Mr. Frank H. Fielder, 213 Pleasant Ave., Montgomery, Ala., formerly principal of Haynesville High School, writes:

"I can truthfully say that Peruna is a splendid remedy for la grippe, and a good tonic for building up the system."

Masked Burglars Make Daring Attempt to Rob Brewery.

BOILERS NEARLY EXPLODED

Night Engineer Was Secured With Ropes and Left Helpless—Waited Expecting to Be Blown Up Every Minute—The Police Arrived In the Nick of Time to Avert a Awful Disaster at Vancouver.

Vancouver, B. C., Nov. 6.—With his hands pinioned behind his back and burglars with drawn revolvers over him, Walter Wittmeyer, night engineer of the Vancouver Breweries, expected at any moment early yesterday morning to be blown into kingdom come by an explosion of the boilers of the big plant.

Wittmeyer was just turning water into the boilers after luncheon hour, when he suddenly found himself looking into the muzzles of four revolvers. Their masked owners knocked him down, bound him with ropes and carried him to the main office of the brewery.

There he was thrown under a desk. While he watched the robbers prepare to blow up the safe, Wittmeyer mentally calculated at what instant the boilers would run out of water, and the entire works, burglars and all, would be blown to atoms. The first charge of nitro-glycerine brought the policeman on the run. He opened fire and they ran. The engineer, bound hand and foot, rolled over to the boiler. The policeman freed him and he rushed to the engine-room just in time to save all.

FAMOUS TRIAL IN ITALY.

Nuncio Nasi Accused of Misappropriating Public Funds.

Rome, Nov. 6.—Much interest is taken throughout Italy in the trial of Signor Nuncio Nasi, former Minister of Public Instruction, which began here yesterday.

Signor Nasi is accused of the misappropriation of public funds while in office, and is being tried by the Senate, sitting as a High Court of Justice. This unusual procedure adds to the importance of the occasion and also to the curious interest of the people.

The Government has taken every precaution to preserve order, for it is certain that there will be serious demonstrations in favor of the accused man.

With Signor Nasi, Signor Lombardi, formerly Nasi's secretary, is under indictment. Though he is suffering from pneumonia, he will appear before the High Court, and he declares he will fight with his last breath to prove his innocence and that of his friend and one-time master.

Slept on the Track.

Kenora, Nov. 6.—J. C. Copping, who was hit by a locomotive on the C.P.R. last Friday, died yesterday. Copping had gone to flag No. 1 to protect the rear end of his train, and presumably fell asleep after placing torpedoes on the rails, which No. 1's engineer says woke him up, but he did not have time to avoid the blow.

Not Responsible.

St. Catharines, Nov. 6.—The owners of the steamer Norwalk which is held in the Welland Canal will make a fight against paying the Montreal Navigation Co. damages of $36,500 for the sinking of the Jet in St. Louis Bay last week. The officers put the blame on the other vessel.

Killed Under Locomotive.

Charlottetown, P. E. I., Nov. 6.—Alexander McLure, aged 54, a brakeman on the Boston & Maine Railway, and a native of Pleasant Valley, P. E. I., was crushed to death under a big freight engine that turned turtle near Somerville Station, Mass.

CAUGHT IN VORTEX AT NIAGARA

Godfrey Thiebert's Terrible Experience at Niagara Falls.

HUNG OVER BIG TURBINES

Was Diving to Examine Screens at Electric Intake—Life-Line Caught In, Iron Gate — Rushing Water Nearly Battered Him to Death —Escape Was Miraculous—Unconscious When Rescued.

Niagara Falls, Ont., Nov. 6.—A thrilling and miraculous escape from instant death occurred at the Electrical Development Co.'s intake yesterday morning. A diver named Godfrey Thiebert was lowered down in the fore bay in 30 feet of water from a float to examine the screens and intake pipes.

Thiebert, who had on his heavy diving apparatus, with the awful suction of water, was suddenly drawn into the vortex of waters leading to the immense turbines below and was unable to free himself, the life-line having caught in the iron work of the seven-ton iron gate and the man hung over the top of the 150-foot penstock with the rushing water battering his breath out of his body.

The eight men on the float were pulling for all their worth on the life-line in answer to emergency signals from Thiebert, but their combined strength was not able to extricate him. To cut off the water by closing the immense gates to penstock meant instant death.

At this critical moment, Mr. Sims, the mechanical superintendent, gave orders to the men to keep up their pressure steadily and ran into the building and switched off the power, and closed the valves and the rope freed and the men pulled Thiebert out of his perilious position unconscious. Dr. McGarry was called and revived Thiebert, who was badly bruised about the shoulders. He had given up all hope of being rescued, being in his perilious position over half an hour, fearing that he would be crushed by the pressure of the water, or that the rope would break and he would be torn to shreds on the turbine wheel.

GUATEMALA SHAKEN UP.

Earthquake Shocks Do Considerable Damage—Many Injured.

New Orleans, Nov. 6.—An earthquake at Guatemala City and covering a wide territory in Guatemala on Oct. 16 and 17 is reported by passengers arriving on the steamer Bluefields from Port Barrios. Several persons were hurt in Guatemala City by falling objects during the shocks. The Bluefields passengers said that a large number of the buildings in the city showed ragged cracks after the quake, but that they did not hear of any fatalities.

Too Free With Gun.

Belleville, Nov. 6.—Ephraim Cooper of Marmora was charged before Judge Deroche yesterday with attempting to shoot his brother-in-law, William Walker.

There was bad blood between the parties, and Cooper, in the course of a quarrel, drew a loaded revolver and snapped it at Walker. The weapon did not go off and was taken from Cooper. Judge Deroche sent the prisoner to the Central Prison for a year.

Must Pay For Ghost Story.

Ottawa, Nov. 6.—The appeal of The Winnipeg Free Press Co. against Nagy, arising out of a libel proceeding against that paper for the publication of an article regarding an alleged haunted house in Winnipeg, was dismissed by the Supreme Court yesterday with costs. The judgment of the lower court held the paper liable for $1,000 damages, and this decision stands.

STORY ABOUT THE JAP EXCLUSION

But J. Martin, Talks Straight to Vancouver League.

CANNOT ANNUL TREATY

Manufacturers Would Oppose Sir Wilfrid Doing So — Says People Have Themselves to Blame For Influx of Japs—Attacks Liberal Administration — Raps Labor Council—Intense Surprise.

Vancouver, Nov. 6.—Joseph Martin, K. C., on Monday night threw a bomb into the Asiatic League at their own meeting, opposing practically all their views as to the methods of excluding Orientals and agreeing only with their demand for that exclusion.

He justified Laurier in his course upon the question, declaring that Sir Wilfrid had only promised to carry out the views of the British Columbia Federal representatives, and these men had supported him in the face of his repeated disallowance of the Natal Act, even voting to a man for the treaty.

In the same breath Martin denounced the Premier upon other phases of Federal administration for betraying every true principle of Liberalism since coming into power, violating every principle he had advocated in opposition, corrupting the people with their own money, forgetting all his pledges when in opposition.

Laurier could not be expected to annul the treaty for the Manufacturers' Association would not let him. That association governed Canada, supplying election funds, just as they did for Sir John A. Macdonald. Laurier would bend the knee to the manufacturers for the sake of a few paltry thousand dollars in trade with the Orient, with the danger, even the certainty in view, of not only British Columbia, but other provinces of Canada becoming overrun with Asiatics.

"The solution of the question," continued Mr. Martin, "will begin only when we in British Columbia get right ourselves and stop voting for men who talk one way and in Ottawa vote another. That is what the Eastern Provinces will say when we ask for their sympathetic aid."

He then rapped the B. C. Conservative Government for being as insincere as the Federal Liberals, McBride allowing the Lieutenant-Governor to rule. If McBride was sincere he could pass and enforce the Natal Act, and continue re-enacting it as often as disallowed by Ottawa.

He concluded with a rap at the Trades and Labor Council, who largely composed the league, for opposing the immigration of white labor in an effort to keep up the excessive price of labor in British Columbia, though the province is in need of that labor.

The speech fairly paralyzed the league.

LEAPED INTO THE OCEAN.

Steward on Liner Attempts to Assault Lady Passenger.

Brest, France, Nov. 6.—A local paper yesterday printed a story to the effect that on Oct. 28, during a voyage of the Hamburg-American line steamer Kron Prinz, Essen Cecilie, from Vera Cruz, Mexico, to Brest, a steward broke into one of the cabins and attempted to assault Mlle. Dasane, daughter of the late Field Marshal Dasane and goddaughter of the ex-Empress Eugene.

The screams of the young woman, it is added brought passengers to her rescue, and the steward leaped overboard and was drowned.

Four Drowned at Dalhousie.

Dalhousie, N. B., Nov. 6.—Andrew Carr, James Neilson, of Dalhousie, N. B.; Willie Wafer and James Dickie of Florence Point, Que., started for Florence Point Monday night in an eight-foot boat with the wind blowing a gale and seas running high.

The boat was found yesterday morning with Neilson's lifeless body in it. The boat had evidently swamped shortly after leaving here. The other bodies have not been recovered.

Edward Wafer, brother of Willie Wafer, was drowned in almost the same place seven years ago. Ernest Neilson's brother Jack was drowned near here five years ago. Two years ago William Carr, a brother of Andrew, was drowned in the same place under similar circumstances. Neilson was to leave for Ontario to-day.

Two Injured In Runaway.

Stratford, Nov. 6—Alexander Horne, a farmer living a few miles from the city, was badly injured in a runaway accident. His horse was standing near the G. T. R. shops when the whistle started it off. Horne was thrown on the road and severely cut about the face and head. The runaway horse collided with another one being driven by Mrs. Thomas Cartledge, who was also pitched from her buggy and rendered insensible. Both rigs were smashed.

Logging Train Ran Away.

Vancouver, B. C., Nov. 6.—Two men were killed near Chemainus at noon yesterday, when a logging train operated by the Chemainus Lumber Co. ran down a steep mountain grade.

Locomotive Engineer L. White of Vancouver dashed his head against a tall stump, when in the act of jumping from the runaway train. He was instantly killed.

Acting Minister of Justice.

Ottawa, Nov. 6.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier will be acting Minister of Justice during Hon. A. B. Aylesworth's absence in Clifton Springs, N. Y. Mr. Aylesworth expects to return shortly before the opening of Parliament in good physical condition for the labors of the session.

Evaporator Destroyed.

Belleville, Nov. 6.—Monday evening fire broke out in Funnell's evaporator at Trenton, and despite all efforts of the firemen the building, with its contents, was destroyed. It was a large frame building, situated in the rear of the postoffice, and contained a considerable quantity of evaporated fruit. The loss to Mr. Funnell will be considerable.

SMART THIEF ARRESTED.

Was Boarding Train to Escape After Robbing Chinese.

Kingston, Nov. 6.—A sensational arrest was made yesterday morning, when Dan A. Wilcox, a sporty young man from Watertown, was arrested just as he was trying to beat his way out of town on the Kingston & Pembroke 12.20 train.

The young man is charged with the theft of $30 or $35 from the two Chinese restaurants in the city. About ten days ago he got into the till of the King street restaurant for about $14. On Tuesday he again got away with some dollars and again on Friday he stole a larger amount.

Yesterday morning at 9.30 he tried to force the till of the Princess street restaurant, but was surprised in the act by a waiter. The young man, however, was not caught napping and got out of the door in quick style with the Chinese at his heels. Not only did he get clear away from the Chinese, but he managed to conceal himself so well that the police, who were called in, were stuck for some time.

Quickly men were stationed at every place where a getaway could be accomplished. At 12.30 he made a determined attempt to get away by beating it out of the K. & P. Railway. This was doomed to failure and P.C.'s Mullinger and Arinel had him inside the cells a moment later.

BLACK HAND OUTRAGE.

Father and Mother Killed Before Their Infant Child's Eyes.

New York, Nov. 6.—Mother and father murdered before their two-year-old baby's eyes is the story of another Black Hand plot. Raffael and Antoinette Rossano, who kept a store here were threatened by mysterious letters from the Black Hand. Terrified they fled to Garfield, N. J., where they started a business.

But midnight, Saturday ended the struggle, when the mother was found on the front steps, dead, and the father sitting in a chair in the kitchen, also shot dead. The child has not been able to tell what she saw yet.

The murderers evidently had come into the store about the time it was to close, had shot both the man and his wife, obtained all the money there was, save the twenty-dollar bill, which they dropped, overlooked, or refused to take after it fell where it did, and had then left. The woman had been shot in the head while standing near the counter. She undoubtedly had a moment of consciousness after the shooting, and attempted to drag herself outside. She reached the doorway and had died there. The course of the bullet, which had entered her cheek and ranged back through the throat, had prevented her screaming.

Mr. Owen's Majority.

"HE'S A CLEAN-CUT LOOKING FELLOW"

THIS remark is often made concerning the young man wearing one of our HANDSOME SUITS.
The young man of to-day demands the very newest fashion—the very latest innovations. No stubby Coats, no narrow lapels, no bag-hanging Garments for him this season. We select certain lines of Suits from Tailoring Houses that are specialists in Young Men's Clothes, whose styles are patterned after what one sees on the College campus—dashingly daring but not too extreme.
Suits at $12, $15 and $18
OUR OVERCOATS too, are extremely stylish and yet moderately priced. Don't fail to see what we can do for you. We have many new customers daily. Why? Because we have the Best Goods at the price.

Burglar Flashes Revolver In Faces Of Two Young Women

Robber Performs Daring Feat in a Buckhorn Store—Steals Money in Sight of Clerks

GETS AWAY WITH CASH

Ladies Attempt to Delay The Thief But The Six Shooter Meets Them In The Face

Examiner Special.

Buckhorn, Nov. 6.—One of the most daring and nervy robberies ever perpetrated in this vicinity was committed on Monday night when two young women were held up at the point of the revolver, and over $25 in money stolen. The robbery occurred in the store of Mr. J. C. Purser, general merchant and postmaster in Buckhorn and since the occurrence the residents have been wildly excited and afraid almost to leave their homes after darkness falls.

The nervy stranger entered the store about 8.15 o'clock when there were only the two young ladies there, Miss Higgins and Miss Purser. He walked up to the counter demanding a plug of tobacco for which he laid down a dollar bill. Receiving his change he noticed that there was considerable cash in the till and quickly formed his plans. As he walked towards the door the young women left the store for the house, believing he had gone and entertaining no suspicions.

A Bold Attempt.

The stranger had scarcely gone when he again entered the store and walked directly behind the counter to the cash register. Opening it he grabbed the handful of the contents but Miss Higgins heard the step and returned to catch him in the act. She seized his arm but the burglar had no thoughts of giving up his precious prize and instantly drew a revolver on the woman clinging to his arm. His threats gained for him a release and he walked quickly towards the door.

His Second Attempt.

At the door he was again delayed by Miss Purser who caught hold of his arm. The revolver was quickly flashed in her eyes also, and looking into the six-shooter she was forced to release her hold on the vanishing stranger, whom she had pluckily attempted to delay until the money was handed back.

The unknown made a rapid exit and wended his way southward down the hill towards Lakefield. He has not since been seen to be identified and his whereabouts are a mystery.

His Appearance

The ladies who had the unpleasant experience with the bold robber were unable to get a very close description of the highwayman on account of his rapid disappearance and the scare they were given by the sudden appearance of the gun in their faces.

From their recollection, the stranger who caused the excitement was well dressed, wearing a long black overcoat. His face was of a red complexion, but they noticed nothing further about his make-up. They are naturally excited over the unexpected hold-up in such a peaceful community, and all Buckhorn is indignant over the circumstances. The local police have been notified of the robbery.

There was between $25 and $30 stolen from the till of the store, the postoffice till being overlooked.

Turner & Sons, the proprietors of the Grand Opera House. In addition to the contestants in the Examiner road races, as before mentioned, David Hartley, Ray Best, Fred Simpson and his trainer, "Dick" Baker, have also been invited to occupy the box seats. "The Mayor of Laughland" is worth while hearing, too.

Rudder of Barge Sweeps Off a Dredge Employee

Wm. O'Shea Almost Drowned in Otonabee This Morning From The Scow

UNHURT BY THE BLOW

Another narrow escape from drowning in the Otonabee River occurred this morning when William O'Shea, an employee on the scow working in connection with the dredge "Trent" above the Hunter street bridge, accidentally fell into the water. His fellow companions for a few moments despaired of his safety, and had he not been able to swim they were in such a position as to be totally unable to lend their assistance.

Mr. O'Shea is employed on the scow that carries the material dug up by the dredge down to the dumping grounds below the bridge. The current there is rather swift and the barge travels along at a rapid rate beneath the bridge. The victim of the accident was standing to the rear when the rudder gave a quick lurch to one side and swept him off his feet and into the river.

Disappearing from view, for some moments his fellow employees despaired of seeing him again, but he rose to the surface and struck out for the shore before his companions could collect their thoughts. He arrived safely on dry land, but narrowly escaped being injured by the force of the pole attached to the rudder.

Needless to say Mr. O'Shea was drenched with the cold waters of the Otonabee, and does not care to have a repetition of such an experience before the summer season at least.

CASH KEPT IN SOCKS AND TOY BANKS

Stories About The New York Money Markets

New York, Nov. 6.—Currency of all denominations in varying stages of crispness poured into the offices of several brokerage houses in Wall street yesterday from all the nooks and crannies of New York.

Hearing that 3 1-4 and 3 1-2 per cent. premium was being paid for ready money, men, women and boys brought their savings to the financial district and exchanged them for certified cheques with the premium increase, which they deposited forthwith in their banks.

Coin in a Derby Hat.

In the offices of Mann, Bill & Ware, No. 31 Wall street, one of the firms that led in the premium paying, there was a never-ending line of assorted personalities throughout the day. They came from the East side principally, and they carried their savings, which ranged all the way from one or three hundred dollars to five or six thousand dollars, in pasteboard shoe boxes, in toy banks, in old socks tied with a bit of cord, in their pockets, and, in one case, in a derby hat.

In one of the brokerage offices a lad appeared with $200, his savings from the sale of newspapers and periodicals for three years. This, too, he exchanged for a certified cheque, including the premium.

WANT HARRIERS AT MONTREAL

Easterners Would Pay All The Expenses Of The Trip

That the work of the Y.M.C.A. Harriers on Thanksgiving Day has brought them into prominence is shown by the eagerness of the Independent Harriers of Montreal to secure them for the big meet in Montreal on Saturday. This morning the Montreal management was informed that it would be impossible to send a team down to represent the Harriers. At noon a telegram was received by the sporting editor of the Examiner from the Montreal Star, which controls the meet, to the effect that the Montreal people would meet all the expenses of the trip and to assist on the Harriers coming to save the disappointment of the Montrealers. For reasons which have already been stated in these columns it was found impossible to send a team and the Star was informed by telegraph to that effect this afternoon. Wilson is the only member of the club who will be running on Saturday, and he will go up against Tom Coley in the five mile event at the Toronto Garrison games.

SIGNAL CORPS CLASS READY FOR INSPECTION

Last night the Signal Corps class, under the leadership of Lieut. Higgins, O. C. S. C., held an excellent practice in preparation for the inspection on Friday. The class will meet again to-morrow night, when all are expected to be present again. It is expected that Sergt.-Major McGowan, of Kingston, signalling officer for the Dominion, will be here to inspect the corps.

THE CITY CLOCKS ARE NOT ON GOOD STRIKING TERMS WITH EACH OTHER

The two city clocks—one in the tower over the market hall and the other over the post office—are not very good mates. For the past week or more one is either correct or fast, or the other correct or slow. They evidently believe in originality as whenever the post office clock tolls out the hour of the day or night, the other remains silent until the sound has been carried for many miles upon the waves of ether. One of the time pieces strikes about a minute before the other. Complaints have been registered concerning the difference and one man missed his train just because the clock was slow. The man didn't say many words he shouldn't have, but he thought a great deal. The big city clocks should at least be correct, or at any rate they should run together to make people believe they are correct.

EAST CITY GIRL HELD UP AND CHOKED BY HIGHWAY ROBBER LAST EVENING

Another Stopped on The Street And Money Demanded—Robbers Seeks Safety in Flight

LOST HIS HAT IN THE RUN

East City was wild with excitement last night when two young women were held up by a would-be robber, and badly treated. One of the girls was choked in the melee; and nothing has since been seen of the vagabond but his hat. It is safely in storage at the police station and if the robber is not hung up, the hat is.

The hold up was attempted by a young man who is said to have inquired at the Maple Leaf Hotel for a night's lodgings. On being asked for the money he is reported to have gone out to obtain some to pay for a bed.

One of the girls was accosted and her money demanded, but she succeeded in eluding him, and obtaining freedom from his grasp made her escape.

A few minutes later another young woman was attacked, and although she struggled hard to get away she was grasped about the throat and choked.

Some east city youths were notified of the occurrence and the highwayman put to flight up the G. T. R. tracks. In his eagerness to escape he lost his hat. While two of the boys carried the hat to the police station, the others followed the fast-disappearing man until he had vanished into the darkness, and was lost to view.

The girls were badly frightened and will be no doubt for some time. The hold up occurred about 9.30 o'clock.

Chinaman Returning Home To Visit His Aged Mother

Charley Mark After An Absence Of Five Years Is to Visit His Native Canton And The Scenes of His Early Life

ACCOMPANIED BY NEPHEW

On the 18th of this month Charley Mark, who has conducted the Chinese laundry on Simcoe street, will leave for his home in China after an absence of five years. He is going home to visit his mother, who is 80 years old, and Charley intends to remain there for a year, as she is becoming feeble, and he has promised to go back to see her once more. His father is dead, and Charley is, moreover, anxious to re-visit his native land.

His home is in Chung Lou in the Province of Canton. It is not a very large town, but it is Charley's birthplace, and as such is dear to him. When he departs he will be accompanied by his nephew, Mark Sing, a younger man, who has been working with him for some time.

Charley Mark has conducted a laundry in this city for the past four years. He has been successful in his business, and can afford a holiday, even if it is of a year's duration.

While he is away the laundry will be in the hands of Tom Hung, who has lately come from Ottawa, where he had been in business. Tom has been absent from China six years and speaks English quite fluently. He says he is a first cousin to Geo. Thomas of the Dominion Cafe, George street.

Charley Mark ought to have a good time when he returns to his native land, for from general report living is much cheaper there than in Canada, and money will go further in the Orient. One can understand that he must be anxious to get back home after his long absence in a land of strangers, and will welcome the first glimpse of the horizon of his native province.

Gas Generator Blows Up In a Kinmount Hotel

Proprietor And Others Burned—Windows and Dishes Shattered To Pieces

HOLE IN THE FLOOR

Examiner Special

Kinmount, Nov. 6.—The gas generator in the basement of the Northern Hotel, owned by Mr. B. Simpson, blew up last night, the explosion tearing a large hole in the floor of the hall and bar room and shattering several panes of glass in the window and breaking some of the dishes in the dining room. No one was seriously injured though the proprietor, Mr. Simpson, W. Watson and R. Allan received severe burns on the face and hands, and a number of guests had narrow escapes. The accident was apparently due to employees filling the machine with carbide while it was working, using a lantern near the machine.

SPECIAL MEETING TO BE HELD

Carpenters and Joiners Will Meet Friday Night Next

A special meeting of the Amalgamated Society of Carpenters and Joiners will be held in the Orange Hall, Simcoe street, on Friday night at 8 o'clock, when some important business, including the revision of the rules will be taken up.

There seems to be some misunderstanding on the part of labour men in Peterborough concerning the society, which not only stands for the rights of the labour man, but also gives its members a sick benefit. The fees for initiation in Peterborough have been placed at $5. All information in regard to the society can be obtained from the branch secretary, Mr. A. Hope, 205 King street.

MR. H.R.H. KENNER WILL BE THE PRINCIPAL OF THE NEW COLLEGIATE

His Appointment Was Made By The Board of Education Last Night—Starts Sept. 1st, 1908

MINIMUM SALARY $1600

Mr. Fessenden is Retained As Senior Mathemathical Master In Collegiate — Resigned On Account of Ill Health

Mr. H. R. H. Kenner will be the new principal of the Peterborough Collegiate Institute succeeding Mr. Cortez Fessenden, whose resignation has been accepted by the Board of Education. Mr. Kenner has been a member of the teaching staff of the Collegiate for the past fourteen years and should make a most satisfactory principal as he seems in every way qualified for the position. He has always been most popular with the pupils of the institution and with his fellow teachers and educationally is well equipped for the duties of the office.

The appointment was made last night when the report of the Committe on Appointments was passed at a meeting of the School Board. Mr. Fessenden, who asked to be relieved of the duties of principal on account of ill health will still be kept on the teaching staff of the school as senior Mathemathical Master. Mr. Kenner's appointment comes into force in September, 1908, when the new Collegiate will be ready for use.

The report of the committee was as follows:—

Your Committee on Appointments beg leave to report and recommend as follows:—

1. That Miss Burns be allowed leave of absence until the 1st. of September, 1908, without salary. That her salary be paid to the 1st. of November, 1907, and that her standing as a member of the staff shall not be impaired on account of her absence.

2. That Miss Hall be allowed one month's further leave of absence and that she be paid her salary for the month of September.

3. That Mr. Kerr be reinstated as a member of the Public School staff as per his request.

4. Your Committee recommend that Mr. Fessenden's resignation as Principal of the Collegiate Institute, to take effect June 30th, 1908, be accepted, and that he be appointed Senior Mathmatical Master at a salary of $1,600.00 per annum to date from the 1st September, 1908.

5. That Mr. H. R. H. Kenner, who has been a member of the Collegiate Institute staff for the last fourteen years, be appointed Principal of the Collegiate Institute in succession to Mr. Fessenden at the minimum salary of $1,600.00 a year as per schedule, such appointment to take effect from the 1st September, 1908.

Your Committee gave instructions that Friday following Thanksgiving should be observed as a holiday in the Public Schools.

Respectfully submitted,

W. H. HALL,

Chairman.

On motion of Dr. Morrison, seconded by Mr. Hall it was decided to prepare a suitable testimonial to the valuable services rendered by Mr. Fessenden during his long term of eighteen years as principal of the Collegiate Institute. Both gentlemen referred in terms of the highest praise to Mr. Fessenden's work on the behalf of the school and stated that he had been untiring in his efforts to see that the institution made progress. The motion was carried unanimously.

LOST WATCH COMES BACK QUICKLY

Examiner want ads. bring results. This is true in the case of "lost" watches, as well as "stoves for sale." Yesterday an ad. was ordered for three days, referring to the loss of a lady's gold watch. One day served the purpose. This morning the owner informed the Examiner by 'phone message that the time-piece had been returned, and ordered the ad. to be taken out. It is just another instance of the value of an ad. in the classified columns of the Examiner.

Kingscote and the affair in every respect was an enjoyable one.

Rev. Mr. Major occupied the chair, in the place of the President, Mr. Andrew Graham. Mr. Major referred to the object of the concert, which was in aid of the Building Fund of the new church and asked for new members of the association.

The programme was as follows:—

Selection—Mandolin Club.
Recitation—Miss Helen Metheral.
Vocal solo—Miss Emily Featherstone.

The recitations of Mr. John were especially well received and he had to respond to several encores. Mr. Featherstone and Miss Metheral were also encored.

MR. TAYLOR RECEIVES PRESENTATION

Employees of the Lock Works Present Him With Dinner Set and Clock

Mr. Geo. E. Taylor, the popular foreman of the brass foundry of the Peterborough Lock Works, received a pleasant surprise last night upon his return from New York. The employees of this firm presented Mr. Taylor with a beautiful china dinner set and a handsome grandfather clock. The presentation was made by Mr. H. Archambault on behalf of the staff, and in a brief address congratulated Taylor on the step he had taken. Mr. Houston on behalf of the office staff also added a few words. Mr. Taylor then rose and in a suitable address thanked the men for their beautiful presents.

BIBLE CLASS FORMED AT ST. ANDREWS

Organized Last Night at Home of Mr. Stewart Ferguson

The members of Mr. Stewart Ferguson's Sunday School Class were entertained by their teacher at his home on Pearl avenue last evening, when a very enjoyable time was spent. The first part of the evening was devoted to discussion, the outcome of which was the organization of the boys under the name of "St. Andrew's Young Men's Bible Class," with Mr. Ferguson as their leader.

The officers were then elected and the work laid out for the coming winter, after which refreshments were served. After an hour's time being spent in a social manner and after the tendering of a hearty vote of thanks Mr. and Mrs. Ferguson for their hospitality the boys dispersed feeling confident of the success of the undertaking.

THOROUGHNESS

Thoroughness pays in everything, even in the care necessary to keep or make milk wholesome. In Peterborough we merely skim the surface of the pure milk problem, as some milk dealers are charged with skimming their milk. We aim in a way to determine the amount of butter fat or creeam offered us for home consumption, but we neglect "the weightier matters of the law"—precautions to insure pure, sanitary milk. We don't know what disease-producing conditions may lie in wait for victims in even milk with a high percentage of butter fat or cream—a very low standard it other more important conditions are absent. The experience of the city of Rochester, about a hundred miles south of Peterborough, indicates what an important bearing purity of milk has had upon the mortality of that city, and of course upon the general health of the citizens. Though complete figures are not avavaable, the [illegible] of the city undertaking the milk supply for the months of July and August are striking. It has been shown that the infant death rate has been reduced at least forty per cent.; that is, where formerly a hundred infants fell victims to disease, the number is now only sixty. This was not accomplished by grappling for butter fat in milkmen's tins; it was not done by pasteurization or sterlization of milk alone, but by thoroughly guarding the milk, from cow to consumer, to prevent dirt or the creation of conditions which would render the milk uncleanly or unwholesome—in a word, by thoroughness of supervision, by preventing the milk from coming into contact with anything unsterilized. The sterdization was thoroughly performed by being effectively and actually applied to every milk containing vessel and everything with which the milk came in contact. This seems to be a great deal of trouble and fuss to take over the supply of milk. But a human life is worth taking a good deal of trouble for.

A SOUTH WARD PARK

The proposal of Alderman Morrow, that the city purchase the eastern part of the property, in the southern portion of the city, bought by the School Board, as part of a site for the King Edward School, is, in the abstract, and without reference to detail, a commendable one. It will remedy a grave injustice, or, at least, inequality, under which number one ward rests in the matter of public parks. Almost every other ward in the city has its fine park, number two having a double share, while the south ward is destitute in this respect. Not only for this reason, should the city council consider the proposition with an open and generous mind. Number one ward has been made the object of an extraordinary rise in assessment values, and, consequent, increase of taxation; and, if the Court of Revision provides no remedy, for this one-sided treatment, the park is due as a measure of compensation. The only park in this portion of the city is the little triangular spice at the intersection of Park, Charlotte and Downie streets, for which, such as it is, the citizens of the vicinity have had to fight for years, against the dead-weight of aldermanic apathy. The proposed park purchase need not form a serious financial problem. The purchase of a School Board property by the city, will be merely putting money from one pocket into another, since the ratepayers themselves furnish the money for school expenditures, and the question, at the most difficult, will be only a question of the transfer of title. If the city pays the Board whatever price may be agreed upon, it will only be an anticipation. Money for school purposes will have to be voted from time to time, and the expenditure for the purchase of the proposed park will obviate the necessity of a demand, which, sooner or later, will have to be met by the ratepayers. At present the money is tied up in unproductive property. Without reference to the scheme, in its details, it seems a matter of justice to provide the most highly taxed ward of the city with a park similar to those possessed by the other wards. The city can afford to be generous. Its present parks, the most numerous, extensive and beautiful of any city of the size of Peterborough, in Canada, have, in the way of purchase, cost the city practically nothing, and in so far as any incidental expense in connection with them is concerned, the south ward has paid its share, without the direct benefit received by the wards in which the parks are situated.

PILES CURED IN 6 TO 14 DAYS

PAZO OINTMENT is guaranteed to cure any case of Itching, Blind, Bleeding or Protruding Piles in 6 to 14 days, or money refunded, 50c.

CITY HOUSE OF REFUGE

The action of the City Council in deciding to consider the question of a city House of Refuge is a belated concession to the call of duty. If the Council had done its duty and had decided to co-operate with the county at the time of the erection of the county House of Refuge, arrangements satisfactory to all parties concerned might have been made and the city saved a large expense, which it must now incur, if the indigent poor of the city are properly cared for. By contributing a share of the expense of the erection and maintenance of the county House of Refuge, or adopting some means of establishing a municipal copartnership, the city would have received the benefit of such action at a minimum of expense. The additional cost of a building sufficient to provide accommodation for county purposes, as well as the extra accommodation which the city might require, would be relatively small, while the same expense of management and maintenance would decrease the relative cost of these services to both municipalities. Not only in these ways would the city have been a gainer, but the building would have been placed conveniently to the city, its proper place, and, in effect, while county interests would not have been adversely affected, but financially promoted, the city would have been a great gainer. But the opportunity is past and gone, and we have a situation of present embarrassment created, an example of the evil of municipal delay and failure to grasp the occasion. The City Council failed to deal promptly with the Isolation Hospital matter, which might by this time have been disposed of, instead of being added to the House of Refuge burden. A council that can't deal satisfactorily with one problem will not be in any better position with two on its hands.

THE DUTY OF THE BANKS

The following article from The Globe, dealing with the relation of the chartered banks of the country to present financial and commercial conditions, will be read with interest:—

It is reported from the West that the crops cannot be moved, not on account of a shortage of cars, a lack of elevator accommodation, or, a scarcity of lake vessel capacity, but because the banks are unable to advance the usual and necessary funds to the grain dealers. It is as yet too soon to discuss a situation which may be but transient and momentary, but if it lasts even for a few days it will entail a serious loss on the farmers of the West, a loss from an entirely unexpected quarter. It was thought that the good prices of the present year would largely atone for the crop shortage, but if the grain must be held over or shipped later by train at winter rates the loss will be heavy. It will certainly come as a surprise to our complacent and heretofore well-grounded faith in the elasticity of the Canadian banking system. The real test of any system is a time of stress, not a time of easy confidence, when any system would work satisfactorily. We have always felt that our banks and our banking system were capable of furnishing all the accommodation for which legitimate business enterprises could furnish unimpeachable security. If a crop of grain needed for consumption within the next few months, and furnishing perfectly safe security, cannot be marketed for want of the necessary accommodation, there will be a tendency to question a system that has heretofore stood every test.

That our system is stable and our banks are safe are facts that should occasion general satisfaction. But the present trouble seems to have arisen through an abnormal determination to more than meet the demands of safety. It is as if a man were so eager to build his house strong and safe that he thickened the walls until he had insufficient room. Our banks have been so eager to build up their reserves and increase their holdings of gold that they have been denying needed accommodation to the general business community. It is known that bankers of late have not been trying to do business, but to avoid doing business, and that loans have been refused which would have been made eagerly a year ago. All this, so far as absolute safety is concerned, may be satisfactory from the standpoint of the banker, but the public will not regard it as properly serving the purposes for which the banks have been chartered.

There are grounds for believing that our banks, in an abnormal regard for safety, have helped to bring on the stringency they feared. They have taken pride in piling up reserves. The effect of that was not felt till the demand for circulating notes began to crowd the limit fixed by their paid-up capital. Under such circumstances our leading banks might, without in the least impairing their safety, have increased their capital, and consequently their legal note issue, by giving stock dividends. This could have been arranged under the existing law. It might easily be accomplished by concerted action, but will be difficult so long as our leading banks stand aloof and regard one another with feelings akin to jealousy. The bank statement for September last compared with that for the same month last year, shows that the reserves have been stiffened from $65,221,000 to $69,798,000, and specie and Dominion notes on hand have from $60,360,000 to $72,811,000. The paid-up capital has increased from $93,656,000 to $95,737,000, and the note circulation from $77209,000 to $79,455,000. A good regard for the claims of Canadian business is shown in the reduction of current loans abroad from $35,776,000 to $25,794,000. Call loans abroad showed a slight shrinkage from $63,771,000 to $63,158,000. Caution is shown in the reduction of call loans in Canada from $59,495,000 to $47,298,000. Current loans in Canada, the most important business of our banks, increased from $515,213,000 to $578,207,000, a growth which shows capacity for meeting the country's needs. Since September closed there has been an air of panic abroad, and our banks, with needless timidity, have been contracting loans and stiffening reserves. The situation is perfectly safe, and now that excessive caution has put the system on its trial our leading bankers should come together and adopt a policy that will afford the needed relief. On occasions like the present the claims of the public are entitled to consideration, and our leading bankers, though naturally aloof and somewhat antagonistic, should unbend sufficiently to insure a more liberal and less cautious policy. This can be done without approaching the lines of perfect safety, which must be kept sacredly inviolate.

The Examiner

Another Boy won a Two Dollar Cash Prize Saturday by hustling with the Daily Examiner and increasing his number of customers in a week's time by 15.

Dominique Barnett had 3 customers on Monday, and on Saturday had 18, getting the prize.

Newsboys

do not find it hard to sell THE EXAMINER, and have entered the Competition in earnest. Five or six boys are in the running this week for the Prize to be given Saturday, and the boy that wins will not have many ahead of the next one, so all should hustle a little harder.

A number of the boys are quietly securing two and three new customers each week, which, when totalled at the end of the competition, will be sure to get them one of the Prizes; of which there are 18, ranging from $25.00 for First Prize down to One Dollar, and 18 different boys will have to win. The amount you win depends entirely upon yourself.

Make up your mind that if you now sell the DAILY EXAMINER, you will sell more of them, and that if you do not now, that you will commence at once.

The selling of the Examiner alone is a good money maker for a boy, and the Competition is an opportunity for rewarding your industry.

The Clan "McLean" Hold Re-union In Mount Pleasant

Capt. McLean of Peterborough Has Control of the Proceedings—Twenty-four Representatives Present

SCOTCH DAY AT MOUNT

Examiner Special.

Mount Pleasant, November 5th.—A reunion of the Clan McLean was held at Mount Pleasant on Thanksgiving Day, October 30th, at the house at home, when 24 members were present. Pembina in North Dakota, Richmond Hill, the city of Toronto and the city of Peterborough were all represented while the absent members numbered 24. The day was one of the best and the party enjoyed a pleasant time with the old folks at home. The proceedings of the day were under the control of Captain McLean of Peterborough, did his duty in making it a day long to be remembered by all who were present.

Mrs. J. Gill of Pembina, Mrs. Wm. Marsh of Richmond Hill, are enjoying life at the parental home.

The farmers are complaining of the shortness of the hay and a few crop in this section and are unwilling to sell to those in need. Those who live in this locality have reason to be thankful to the Giver of all good for the bountiful harvest of 1907.

Mr. McIndoo, the cheese maker, finished his last make of cheese on the first of November. No complaints have been heard as to the quality of the cheese made by him during the season, so that it is hoped he may be engaged for the season of 1908.

Mr. Joseph Bland has purchased the residence recently occupied by Mr. Findlay and will move into it in a short time.

Price Of Cheese Took a Drop At To-day's Meeting

12 3-16c Was The Highest Price Paid—Mr. Whitton Succeeded In Securing Most Of The Cheese

FACTORIES WERE NOT SOLD

The last meeting of the Peterborough Cheese Board this morning was a rather remarkable one in many ways. In the first place, one buyer secured all the cheese, and in the second a higher price was paid for second selections than for first, and then there was a long argument before the actual business of the Board got under way. Mr. Whitton was successful in securing all the cheese sold, getting some at 12 1-16c and the rest at 12 3-16c. He called all the factories on the Board on the first figure, and nineteen refused. Then when the price was raised he succeeded in buying most of the factories that had refused previously. There were 2840 boxes of cheese on hand, the factories boarding as follows:

Keene	75
Warminster	75
Shearer	110
Central Smith	104
Selwyn	248
Villiers	52
Warsaw	85
Westwood	21
Oakdale	65
Daisy D	40

Cavanville	85
Crown
Mount Pleasant	95
Norwood	80
Fleetwood	24
Oak Leaf
South Burleigh
Brickley	130
Shamrock
Killarney	100

Mr. Whitton bid 11 9-16c, Mr. Cook 11 5-8c, Mr. Wrighton raised to 11 3-4c, Mr. Whitton 11 13-16c, Mr. Gillespie 11 7-8c, Mr. Cook 12c, and Mr. Whilton 12 1-16c, getting the call at the latter figure, and taking Ormonde, Norwood, Brickley, Bonafort, Fleetwood, and Myrtle. He called every other factory on the Board, nineteen factories refusing.

Mr. Cook bid 12 1-8c, and Mr. Whitton raised to 12 3-16c, getting Central Smith, Selwyn, Lakefield, Pine Grove, Maple Leaf, Young's Point, Trewarn, and Cavanville. Shearer, Keene, and East Emily refused.

Mr. Whitton then offered 12 3-16c for the balance of the Board, taking Lang, North Dummer and Indian River.

Before the Board adjourned for the season hearty votes of thanks were passed to the Manager of the Bank of Montreal for the use of the bank room for meeting purposes, and to President Riddell and the press.

EAT WHAT YOU WANT

Science Has Now The True Way to Cure Indigestion

A few years ago, when a sufferer from indigestion went to a stomach specialist, the result was a rigid diet list that almost meant starvation.

But the first thing to do in the case of indigestion or stomach weakness is to strengthen the muscular walls of the stomach and intestines, so that they will care for the food that is eaten. In no other way can this be done as well as by taking a Mi-o-na tablet before each meal. This restores strength to the stomach muscles and stimulates the pouring out of gastric juices, so that the food is digested readily and its nourishment retained in the system to build up energy and vitality.

Do not think the sick headache, heartburn, bad taste in the mouth, coated tongue, spots before the eyes, sleeplessness and the many other symptoms that are the direct result of indigestion will go away of themselves. The stomach must be built up and strengthened by Mi-o-na before you can be well and strong, free from suffering and distress.

The guarantee that W. Madill gives with every 50-cent box of Mi-o-na, to refund the money unless the remedy cures, shows his confidence in the treatment.

POOR MARKET AGAIN THIS MORNING

Heavy Rain Keeps Farmers Away—Butter Selling Much Cheaper

There were big chances for bargain hunters on the market this morning. The heavy rain kept both buyers and sellers away. There were only two vehicles on the outside market, containing potatoes and pork, which sold at the usual prices. Butter and eggs and a little fowl were all that was offered for sale in the inside market. Eggs held their standard price, while those who had butter to sell offered it for 23c. and 27c. a pound. Fowl held their usual prices and very little was sold.

Uric Acid Stones In the Kidneys

CAUSED EXCRUCIATING PAIN—CURE EFFECTED SIX YEARS AGO BY

The passing of stones or gravel, as the uric acid formation is called, from the kidneys through the ureters to the bladder probably produces the most terrible pain that human being was ever called upon to bear.

Mrs. Walter Hornbrook, Oddy's, Queen's county, N.B., writes:—

"I was a great sufferer from kidney disease, which the doctor described as the uric acid stones passing from the kidneys to the bladder, I heard of similar cases being cured by Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills and sent for some. Altogether I used seven boxes and was completely cured. That was six years ago and I have never had a pain in my kidneys since. We are never without Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills in the house."

Mr. Daniel Brown, English River, Ont., writes:—"For three years I suffered with urinary troubles, particularly of the nature of stones in the bladder or gravel, and the pain which I endured can scarcely be described. I was unable to do any work, and frequently discharged blood. Though I spent hundreds of dollars in doctors' bills I received no relief, and at last decided that I would never be able to work again.

"While in this condition I was advised to try Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and though I had no faith in them or in anything else, I decided to give them a fair trial. After using one box I felt a decided change for the better, and after taking five boxes I feel like a new man. I am entirely out of pain, and have no more discharges of blood. I can honestly recommend Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills to any fellow-sufferer, and will cheerfully verify this statement to anyone writing me."

There could scarcely be a more severe test of any treatment for the Kidneys and when Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills prove successful in such cases as this they can surely be depended upon in less severe kidney ailments. One pill a dose, 25 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

TEAMS DISAGREE ABOUT OFFICIALS

Westmount Team Want Eastern Men To Handle Game

Secretary McDonough had a long telephone talk with the manager of the Westmount team last night in regard to Saturday's game. The Easterners would have liked very much to have got out of coming here for the game, but they had agreed to travel west and the O.R.F.U. had ordered the game to be played here, so that there was no alternative. The Westmount man made a suggestion that the game be played in Kingston, but Peterborough would not hear of it. There was also a disagreement in regard to officials. The locals were quite willing to leave the question of officials in the hands of the O.R.F.U., but Westmount was opposed to this. They suggested Cadet Carson of the Royal Military College, Kingston, as referee. Secretary McDonough said that Peterborough was quite willing to accept one eastern official, suggesting Christmas or McKenzie of Montreal, if Westmount were agreeable to Hayes of Hamilton for the other. The matter was left in abeyance until this morning.

CITY HOCKEY LEAGUE NOTES

Preparations For Annual Meeting — Norwood Rink in Readiness

A meeting of last year's executive of the City Hockey League will be held in the Y.M.C.A. on Friday evening at 8 o'clock. All the teams that intend to have a seven in the league should send their applications to Mr. I. D. Moore, secretary, or to Mr. F. D. Clarke, president. Prospects are pointing to a successful season for the league, and the various teams should not delay in making application.

Arrangements for the annual meeting, which will be held on Tuesday, November 12, will be made at the executive meeting, and members of this body, should all be present.

A number of members of the Norwood team were in the city last night, and stated that Mr. Fleming has everything in readiness for the cold weather. The ground has been rolled and smoothed, and the boards are in place, and when ice can be made the rink will be ready for the team, the members of which are anxious to play in the City League.

The committee which was appointed to revise the constitution met last night. It will present the result of its deliberations at the annual meeting.

It is generally rumoured that Mr. Fred A. Clarke will continue as president of the league, and as in previous seasons it should be attended with success.

SPORTING NEWS AND VIEWS

Hilton Green, Ray Price and Tom Longboat, of the Irish-Canadians, in a training stunt yesterday, left the Grand Central Hotel, at Simcoe and Wellington streets, ran together, via Wellington street and Strachan avenue, to the Exhibition grounds, and did five miles on the track, and returned in fifty minutes. They reached the track in a bunch, but on the track Longboat almost lapped the other pair. Coming home, however, Green and Price slogged along at a terrific clip. At Memorial Park they were climbing up Longboat's back, and from there home there was the keenest sort of a battle. Longboat just barely nosing Green out, with Price near enough to take the Mohawk's mud. Less than five yards separated the trio. The distance is easily nine and one-half miles. W. F. Cumming is taking light work, and Percy Sellen is doing his training at night.—Toronto Star.

Max Behnke, a Hamilton barber, has challenged Jimmy Reynolds of Port Hope to a race from 50 to 100 miles for a side bet of $500 to $1,000, and Jimmy offers to bet any Peterborough man $300 that on November 19 he can lower Dave Hartley's record.—Toronto Star. It is a cinch that if Reynolds throws $300 in the direction of Peterborough on a bet that he can beat Hartley's time, it will be quickly snapped up.

The following from the Toronto Star is apt to be misleading. That Howard stopped some distance from the tape is true, but the statement that he was jostled by spectators is foundationless:

Ernest A. Wilson of the Peterborough Y.M.C.A., won the Peterborough Examiner road race often miles at Peterborough on Thursday, but later reports say that Ben Howard, the Sunderland I.C.A.C. Indian, ran a dead heat with Wilson, and might have won but for the fact that he stopped 12 feet from the tape, believing that the race had been completed when he passed the [illegible]. He also says that he was jostled and interfered with by spectators. Howard and Wilson ran shoulder to shoulder from Nassau.

Hamilton's defeat at the hands of the Ottawas, Saturday, has given the Toronto sporting writers a chance to say saucy things about the Ambitious City, and it must be admitted that they are making the most of it. It looks from here rather like a case of sour grapes, however, for a city as big as Toronto, who can't get a rugby team fast enough to win the Hamilton City League, to make fun of a team which has won more Dominion and Ontario championships in the last few years than the Toronto teams have won games. After the way the Argus first and second teams and the Victorias, have been trimmed all season, it would sound better if the Toronto press would devote its attention to fostering rugby players instead of hammering at the best bunch of players that ever were got together. Toronto, as a sporting town, is the worst ever. When they can't win games themselves, they devote their time to yelping at those who are far above them on the rugby ladder.

Hockey prospects in Peterborough are not dazzling enough to compel one to wear goggles to look at them with. At present it looks as if nothing better can be looked for but a city league. That organization will be stronger than ever this season and some splendid hockey should be seen.

A lot of wise ones in Toronto brought out a cattle butcher named Ferguson, to beat Day, the Scottish champion, in the heavy weight bout in the Toronto city boxing tournament. A killing had been planned and Ferguson was expected to make the Scotchman look like a door mat. Something went wrong, however, and the cattle butcher lost the fight in one round, while the knowing people who backed him were separated from a considerable roll. Toronto people must be getting reckless with their money. They will be betting that the Argus will win a game yet.

Wilson To Meet Coley In Toronto On Saturday

Winner of Examiner 10 Mile Race Will Go Up Against First Man in Hamilton Herald Race---5 Miles In Doors

Peterborough will be represented in the five mile race in the Toronto Armouries, but not by Fred Simpson. The management of the Harriers have decided to send Ernie Wilson, the winner of the Examiner's race on Thanksgiving day, to meet Tom Coley, the winner of the Hamilton Herald race; Adams, the Hamilton crack, and other good runners in the event, which will be one of the most important short distance races of the season, inasmuch as the winner will have the option of meeting Tom Longboat, in a ten mile race. Coley is very anxious to get up against Longboat and will win the race if possible, but he will have strong opposition. The local boy is in good shape and in view of the fast time that he made in the Examiner race should make a good showing against the five milers on Saturday.

Westmount Team Will Be Strong For The Game

Will Be Here Saturday And Expect To Beat The Locals---Great Game Is Assured When Two Meet

All arrangements for the game with Westmount on Saturday with the exception of the officials have been made. It was feared at first that there might be some hitch in the game, but is has been smoothed out. The locals are willing to accept Montreal officials, likely McKenzie and Christmas, although they would have preferred Hayes and Robbins of Hamilton.

Westmount has a very strong team and expect to make things interesting for Peterborough Saturday. The locals are not taking any chances, but are practising faithfully and will be in the best condition of the season when they go up against the speedy Easterners. Both are big, fast teams, playing much the same style of rugby, and the result should be a fast, open game, in which there will be much for spectators to enthuse over. The gate should be one of the biggest ever known in Peterborough under the circumstances. A large crowd would be appreciated by the management, as in the event of beating Westmount, the locals will go up against Ottawa College for the championship of the Dominion, and as the game would have to be played in Ottawa the expenses of the trip would naturally be heavy. The finances of the club are not in a particularly healthy condition, and without a good gate on Saturday it would be impossible to finance the deal.

BRITISH READING NOW.

Enormous Increase In Mails Received From England.

The Postoffice Department has completed its statistics of British mails coming into Canada by Canadian steamers for the months of July and August, and the figures fully bear out the conclusions which were drawn from the figures of the two preceding months, that the increase in the British newspapers and magazines coming into Canada as a result of the reduction of postage is altogether phenomenal. The total increase in the number of mailbags coming into Canada from Great Britain during the months of July and August, as compared with the corresponding figures of 1906, is 163 per cent., the number of July and August, 1906, being 2,130 bags, while for the same months in 1907 there were 5,569 bags. But the full measure of the increase can best be seen by a reference to the statistics for the leading centres of population. In Toronto there were 379 bags received during the months of July and August, 1906; during the same months of 1907 the number was 1,068, an increase of 689 bags, or 171 per cent. The increase in Montreal was from 442 to 1,094, that is of 652 bags or 135 per cent. The figures for Winnipeg, however, are nothing less than amazing. During July, 1906, there were received at the office 481 bags of British mails by the Canadian steamers. For the corresponding months of 1907 the number has risen to 1,736. The increase is 1,255 bags, that is 261 per cent. of the number received in July, 1906. The "intellectual preference" is evidently proving an even greater success than was anticipated.

Canals Beat Railways.

The annual bluebook containing the canal statistics of the Dominion for the season of 1906 has just been issued. The figures show a large increase in the business between Canadian ports during the past twenty years, particularly with regard to western traffic. The growth has been considerable from Canadian to United States ports.

The up-bound traffic has been in larger volume than that moving eastward. Since 1867 the trade between United States by Canadian canals has grown largely. In this instance, however, the movement downward has been greater than upward. There has been an actual shrinkage in the up traffic between United States and Canadian ports. The eastbound business however, has practically doubled.

The expansion of business with canals is relatively larger than that shown by Canadian railways.

The traffic moving up and down has increased 287 per cent. during the past twenty years. The westward business shows a gain of 368 per cent., while the eastward grew to the extent of 257 per cent.

While 57,906,715 tons of freight were carried by Canadian railways in 1906, as compared with 16,356,837 in 1867, the betterment was 254 per cent., as against 287 per cent. on the canals.

It Was Coming.

Lord Chief Justice Cockburn when at the bar defended a Scotchman for murder. A long and eloquent fight was in vain; sentence of death was passed. Then began the condemned Scotchman to abuse his counsel.

"I ha' nae got justice the day," he declared.

"Possibly not, but you'll get it in a fortnight," was the crushing reply.

PRETTY HOUSE WEDDING

Nuptials of Sidney Taylor Medd and Estelle Lnmsden Ackerman

A interesting ceremony was performed this afternoon at 3 o'clock, at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Ackerman, Dalhousie street, when their eldest daughter, Miss Estelle Lumsden, was united in marriage to Mr. Sydney Taylor Medd, barrister-at-law, of Osgoode Hall, and a member of the law firm of Hall, Medd & Davidson, Peterborough, and son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Medd, of Meddholme, Millbrook. The marriage took place in the presence of the immediate relatives of the contracting parties, and was performed in the alcove of the drawing room, the Rev. J. P. Wilson, of Belleville, an intimate friend of the bride's family, officiating. The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a princess gown of ivory duchess satin, made perfectly plain, finished with a deep hem, caught up with seed pearls, and finished about the neck with a tiny yoke of tucked tulle and a berthe of duchess pointe lace, with seed pearls. She also wore a tulle veil, caught up with orange blossoms, and finished in the lower left hand corner with a monogram of pearls. She carried a bouquet of orchids, tied with white ribbon and for her only ornament a diamond brooch, the gift of the groom.

The bridesmaid was Miss Edna Ackerman, sister of the bride, who wore blue silk eolienne, with tiny lace yoke, and Empire sash, and a pale blue hat wreathed with violets and touched with cream lace, her ornaments being an amethyst cross, the gift of the bride, and a Nethersole bracelet, the gift of the groom. The groomsman was Mr. Alfred W. Medd, of Montreal, brother of the groom. The colour scheme was beautiful and effective. The drawing room was banked with palms, and ferns, the room being decorated with white chrysanthemums. Yellow chrysanthemums adorned the living room, while the hall, stairway, and the den, where the presents were displayed, from which the cards were removed, looked pretty with pink chrysanthemums. In the dining-room the decorations were bridal roses and smilax. The wedding march, the bridal chorus, "Lohengrin," was played by Mr. Chas. Ackerman, brother of the bride.

After the ceremony a buffet luncheon was served in the beautifully decorated dining room, the table being artistically decked with roses and smilax. The bride and groom were the recipients of numerous handsome and costly gifts, consisting of silverware, cut glass ware in profusion, pictures, china and curios, and also several cheques. They also included a silver tea service from the employees of the B. F. Ackerman & Son's establishment, and were all displayed in the "den" on handsomely decorated tables. The groom's gift to the best man was an opal pin, and to the pianist a pair of gold cuff links. Mr. and Mrs. Medd left on the afternoon train on a honeymoon trip, the bride being attired in a pale green velvet tailored suit, with large velvet hat to match, wreathed with asters and wearing a stole and Empire muff of cub bear.

Among the out-of-town guests present for the interesting occasion were Mrs. Medd, Millbrook, mother of the groom, and Mrs. W. A. Coulthard, of Saskatoon, a cousin of the groom, who travelled eastward especially for the occasion.

Music and Drama

BEN GREET'S "MACBETH"

At the Grand Opera House last night, "Ben Greet's English Players" presented "Macbeth." The attendance was large, and its size and character are a decided tribute to the culture of Peterborough, which can furnish so large a hearing for a play presented under conditions of comparative crudity of effects. It was a decided novelty to those who have seen "Macbeth" given with elaborate accessories, in the way of stage settings, which were almost entirely absetn last night. The audience had to depend upon the sublime text of the tragedy, as written by Shakspere, and as interpreted by the players chosen to represent the characters. Dependent upon the point of view and taste, as to salient characteristics, "Macbeth" is regarded as the greatest tragedy ever written, and, necessarily the greatest of any written by the greatest dramatist of any age or time. Its interpretation last night was pretty well in line with the conception of students, scholars and lovers of Shaspere. "Macbeth" was developed as the man of great abilities, (but with the superstition of the age,) warped by ambition and the push of fate into a being whose career carried a trail of tragic consequences. This central character was in general well taken, but was hardly up to the Lady Macbeth of the cast, whose portrayal of the strong minded woman whose love for her husband, aided by her ambition, transformed her nature temporarily, for she was unable to bear up under the dreadful burden of guilt, into which she and her partner in crime were swept. Her acting was superb throughout, and especially strong at the close of the banquet scene. The climax of splendid interpretative acting was reached in the sleep-walking scene. Ben Greet professes to produce Shakspere's plays as they were given in his days, but he allows himself to depart from the custom of the time by not employing boys to take female parts. If the lady who impersonated Lady Macbeth last night had appeared with as much success in the Globe Theatre, three centuries ago, the Elizabethan audiences would have seen the character portrayed as it could not have been done by any boy in female attire. The part of Macduff was a very strong presentation, especially in the scene where the sacking of his castle and the murder of its inmates is communicated. Mention should be made of the Porter, who presented a fine conception of Shakesperian humour. The subordinate characters were fairly well taken. There were some variations from the accepted text. Why "swayward" sisters was substituted for weird sisters is difficult to see, and the presence of Lady Macbeth at Macbeth's conference with Banquo's murderers made heavy demands on the capacity of the stage "aside," and rather broke the force of the reception by Lady Macbeth of the knowledge of Banquo's fate, revealed to her later in the action. Altogether, however, the play was a revelation and was appreciated by the audience present, which is indebted to the management of the opera house for having selected a play with such large capacity for giving the pleasure coming from a highly intellectual entertainment.

A BROKEN HEART

H. W. Young and his company will be at the Grand for four nights commencing Monday, November 11, p.m., in the comedy drama, "A Broken Heart." Of this performance, the Kingston British Whig of October 25, said: "The H. Wilmot Young Stock Company made its first appearance at the Grand Opera House last evening before a very large audience. The company is a talented one, and made a decided impression. The piece presented was "A Broken Heart," one of pathetic interest, depicting the sorrow and sufferings of a woman who has been deserted by him who has vowed to cherish and protect her. The ground work of the play is based in New York, and at the home of the American embassy in Paris. Marjorie Adams Young, as the deserted wife, proved herself in the portrayal of her character to be an artist of no mean ability. H. Wilmot Young won sympathy in his efforts to win back the affection of his deserted wife and child. His interpretation of his character was an artistic piece of work. Baby Marguerite, a pretty child of three years, was quite an attraction.

"The specialties were very fine and greatly appreciated. The De Mateos, the handcuff experts, were clever and performed some wonderful feats. Verona, the electrical expert, gave a beautiful exhibition, and was loudly applauded. The costumes were rich and costly, and the scenery was appropriate to the play presented."

ORIENTAL QUESTION ON PACIFIC COAST

A Former Peterborough Resident Gives His Views On One Side of The Subject

The following letter written by a former resident of Peterborough gives one side of the eastern immigration question. No doubt there is a strong feeling in some quarters of British Columbia, but there are two sides to every question of this kind. The popular idea is often a reflex of surface indications, more a matter of sentiment than fact, and the proneness to exaggeration becomes a factor in estimating the conditions at their true character. The letter follows:—

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir.—The large immigration of Japanese and Hindus coming to Vancouver is a serious problem at present. A Vancouver daily paper prints a reference to a lecture given by the Rev. Robert Embleson, a missionary from Japan, speaking at a Woman's Convention at Peterborough about the treatment of the Japanese in British Columbia. If the reverend gentlemen lived in Vancouver he would change his opinion. As for the riot that happened in September; we are sorry for the occurrence and only a few boys and some hard-hearted cases of men took any part in it. But there would be no such trouble if the Government would stop the immigration in British Columbia of Japanese and Hindus as the country is overrun with them, especially on the coast, most of all the Orientals saving their earnings and take the labour from the white men and then send their money to the Orient. It is a poor look out for British Columbia in the future if it not checked very soon, as the white labouring men will stand a poor chance when he has to work for the same wages as the Orientals. The white men opened up this country and don't feel like being crowded out by Orientals, as they can live cheaper than the white man, and can afford to work for smaller wages; and as the majority come her with little or no money they do not help the country any, and what money they do save they send back to their own country or go back themselves when they get a few hundred dollars and live retired the rest of their lives on our Canadian money. In this country they only go where the country is opened and industries are in operation, and most all of them stay in British Columbia on account of the warm climate. I hope people in Eastern Canada will aid us in putting a stop to the immigration of Japanaese and Hindus in Canada soon as possible.

Since the first of January, 1907, there has immigrated to British Columbia 7,700 Japanese, 1,900 Hindus and 300 Chinese, being 9,900 Asiatices arrived in British Columbia up to date. As for Oriental and cheap labourers there are lots here of that class as there are hundreds of them walking around out of work, destitute, especially Hindus. As for British Columbia it a fine country, good timber and mineral, fishing and large amount of farm and fruit lands, and good chances for white men and women of all kinds of trades. Skilled workmen and business men are in demand as the country is progressing very fast. We have good shipping to all parts of the world by shipping vessels and by rail to all parts of Canada and the United States.

Yours truly
JOSEPH DOXSEE,
Vancouver, B. C.

Heated Debate Feature Of Cheese Board Meeting

Salesmen Complained That They Had Not Been Treated Fairly By Buyers

MR. COOK WAS ANGRY

The last meeting of the Peterborough cheese board, held this morning, was not attended with the calm and friendly spirit that usually attends the meetings of that body, in fact there was rather a stormy session for some minutes owing to a dispute between some of the salesmen on one hand, and a number of buyers, Mr. Cook being the principal figure, on the other, and the reparatee that was hurled around the board in some cases was rather heated. One of the salesmen introduced the matter by asking if the Board was going to countenance the action of one of the buyers who had purchased cheese from his factory at the last meeting, and had left the cheese there. It had never been called for, according to the statement of the speaker. Several others made the same statement, including the salesman for the Oakdale factory.

Buyer Cook jumped to his feet, and said that he had written the factory from Hastings on Monday of last week, to send the cheese into Peterborough on Friday, and he had waited here all afternoon for the cheese which did not arrive.

The salesman replied that he had never received such a letter.

Mr. Harrison of the Westwood and Villiers factories asked if it was fair to treat the salesmen as some of them had been treated when they had been told at Hastings to give Mr. Cook an allowance of two pounds on each box or else take the cheese off the cars. He did not think that this was just treatment. Cheese buying should be on the same footing as buying grain or hogs and when the price fell after the sale he did not think that the transaction should be changed accordingly for the benefit of the buyer. Mr. Harrison's remarks were punctuated with much applause from the salesmen present.

Mr. Cook said that this action had been done to make up for the drop in exchange and was done by other buyers than himself, and on other boards. He had not gone around and refused to take the cheese on the ground that it was off-colour, or not properly cured, as did some of the buyers.

President Riddell said that principles of fairness and equality should regulate the Board, which could not be dominated by a buyer. The action of some of the buyers had not been fair or according to the rules of the Board, but he did not think that this morning's session was a proper place to discuss the matter. He was rather in favour of leaving it over until the annual meeting.

One of the salesmen, Mr. Fairbairn, moved that the latter course be taken, but did not get a seconder to the motion.

"I move that it be threshed out here," said Mr. Cook jumping to his feet again; "there are nothing but a lot of soreheads and kickers at the annual meeting, and the good ones are not there." He intimated that President Riddell was against him on account of a transaction with the Bensfort factory.

The president remarked that he was acting not in the interests of his own factory, but in the interests of every factory connected with the board, and of every buyer that sat around the board, which statement was received with applause.

No action was taken in the matter and it will likely be brought up at the annual meeting.

Mr. Dan Derbyshire of Brockville and Messrs. Publow and Barr, who addressed the dairy meeting in the court house this afternoon, were present at this morning's session.
